

Read Revenge On Love Rats After Rebirth (Selena) novel chapter 24 online free

Chapter 24

Especially when Selena was nominally Dominic's fiancée.

Even if he doesn't like her, he should at least have some regard for the fact they grew up together.

Furthermore, Selena's sincerity towards him was well known to all. Even those who hate Selena cannot deny how good she was to Dominic.

To such a girl who loves him wholeheartedly, Dominic actually humiliated her on Cyril's birthday.

Such a cold heartedness is truly disgusting and chilling.

Dominic felt the disgusted stares coming from all sides, falling on him like needles, making his eyes more and more gloomy.

He could not even deny it if he wanted to, since Luke had heard it.

Dominic had a hint of regret, but he had been caught by Luke in a moment of inattentiveness!

The lady who had just accused Selena had a moment of embarrassment on her face and spoke out, "Sorry, Selena, I shouldn't have accused you just now, you were right to beat him!"

Selena glanced at her without speaking and turned her head to nod to Luke, "Mr. Jordan."

Luke brought a glass of red wine to her, "Selena, calm down, someone will be heartache if you get angry."

Selena accepted the glass and took an elegant sip, her brow spreading at the thought of the man waiting outside to take her home with him. Luke looked at her with interest in his eyes.

In the face of all the malice and vilification, her demeanour remained cool and proud, without losing any of her calmness.

She stood there arrogantly, even her body smelling of nobility.

The woman picked by Osvaldo is indeed extraordinary.

Luke gave a “tsk” and a clear laugh.

It was abrupt, but his aura is powerful.

For a moment, all whispers were silenced.

The crowd’s attention was subconsciously focused.

“Mr. Jordan, what do you want Dominic to explain just now?” Someone asked solicitously.

Luke’s lips hooked into a shallow smile, his gaze icy cold, “Mr. Walson, what happened before Selena was kicked out of the house, I don’t have a comment, just that you said that Selena went out of her way to keep a man outside in order to pester you. I wondered where you heard this from.”

Dominic’s face was cold, his eyes fell on Selena, full of disgust and grimness, “She dares to do it, but still dare not admit it? What, Mr. Jordan, you want to meddle in the matter?”

Luke’s eyes were flrid and compelling as he said playfully, “Selena is now a shareholder of Olympus Group, how can me defending her be considered meddling?”

In other words, he had come here today specifically to back up Selena!

At these words, Dominic’s face turned steeply white.

The others were even more astonished.

Selena and Luke, a notorious orphan girl, actually got involved with the most famous rich man in Creephia?!

It was only at this moment that it dawned on a group of people that the diamond had been bought for Selena by Luke.

However, many of those who went to the auction, especially women, were still doubtful.

The man the other night didn't seem to be Luke.

Selena gave Luke a grateful look.

In this isolated situation, there was someone standing behind her, a kindness she would never forget.

She was, of course, grateful to Osvaldo.

Mrs. Walson was holding her heart, so angry that her heart hurt. It was okay that Selena did not like Dominic, but the shares about to come to hand were lost to Dominic.