Chapter 6

As a woman, an honourable Young Madam, Selena was raised from her childhood in such a way that she was not allowed to use foul language, but now that she was Selena of Creephia, she can do so.

It's quite great of swearing!

Dominic's face stiffened abruptly.

Leah's face became even whiter and her body shook as if she was about to faint. She fell mournfully into Dominic's arms and sobbed, "Sis, I didn't mean to do it. I'm sorry, I really didn't mean to expose those photos."

At the mention of the photos, Dominic's face turned unpleasant, and the look in Selena's eyes once again took on disgust, "Leah, you don't have to blame yourself, a woman like her is entirely to blame for what happened to her today"

The corners of Selena's lips curled, and no expression of heartfelt guilt could be seen on her face at all.

She looked down at Dominic in a condescending manner and smiled coldly, "As a man, how can you be scum to this extent?"

Dominic can no longer be described as completely lame.

Before, Selena, so fond of him, treated him as the salvation of her life.

But this is the man who joined forces with the mistress' daughter who killed her mother, destroyed her home and took over her status, and caused her more than just her reputation to fall apart, he also cost her her life.

For Dominic and Leah, she was bound and determined to screw the scum and the bitch!

Dominic's face instantly twisted up in violent anger, 'Selena, you are simply shameless!*

“I am shameless, but I was born beautiful, much better looking than Leah that you are holding in your arms.” Selena swept a glance at Leah and smiled brightly, her eyes full of arrogance, “Whether it’s her birth, or her looks, compared to me, Leah is a piece of trash on the ground.”

The soft expression on Leah’s face was so close to being untenable.

She looked warily and unexpectedly at Selena in front of her, always feeling that this sister, today, had become different.

Leah scrutinised her for a long time, and although she had changed her clothes and removed all that unsightly make-up, she was indeed Selena. If this bitch’s face hadn’t been so beautiful, how could she have joined forces with Angie to set her up?

She just didn’t expect that a failed wedding feast would make her no longer as stupid as before.

Selena naturally saw what Leah was thinking and just gave a disdainful laugh.

Selena was not stupid at all.

She was a very smart girl.

The reason why she was set up by Leah and Angie was simply because, she really liked Dominic too much.

She would do whatever the man liked, no matter how unconventional.

It’s a pity that this scum failed such a good girl.

Selena patted her heart, soothing her somewhat sad heart, not bothering to look at these three people one more time, she lifted her steps and walked upstairs.

The three people watched Selena walk away, as if she had no regard for them at all, so they collectively contorted their faces.

Selena walked back into her room.

Ever since the death of the last Mrs. Riddle, Selena has not had the slightest warmth in the Riddle family.

Her room, with its cold and lonely style, has no hint of warmth at all.

Selena sighed slightly, a trace of pity rising in her heart.

She hung the curtains up and opened the window, letting the sunlight in and dispelling the coldness.

Then, after looking around, Selena walked over to the desk and pulled open the drawer.

She had no attachment to the Riddle family, and the reason she made this trip was because the previous Selena had been left something very important behind.

Selena searched carefully in the drawer, but found nothing.

A cold light flashed in her eyes, and without wasting any extra effort, she strode out on her heels.

Downstairs in the living room.

Mrs. Riddle was helping Leah's hands with medicine.

Both mother and daughter looked very unpleasant.

Dominic sat on one side, his brow knitted, and although he was talking to Leah, his eyes always unconsciously looked upstairs.

At Dominic's distracted look, Leah bit her lip and lowered her head, "Dominic, I am so sad."

Dominic asked in a soft voice, "What's wrong?"

"I know it's my mother and I who are bad for destroying my sister's home, but..." Leah sadly lowered her head and snuggled into his arms, sobbing sadly, "Things like birth are not something one can choose, and if it were possible, I wouldn't want to hurt anyone, but my sister just called me a child born of a mistress in public."

Dominic hugged her and grunted coldly, "Don't take what she says to heart"

Leah looked at Selena who was walking down the stairs, and her lips curled into a smile

Usually, when Selena saw the way Dominic pampered her, her expression was both painful and sad, but she had to force a smile, lest Dominic would dislike her even more.

As long as she holds Dominic in her hand, then Selena cannot escape her grasp.

She was always able to use Dominic to hurt Selena.

Leah was confident, waiting to see Selena reveal a painful and stoic expression, but this time, she was disappointed.

Selena came down the stairs, not to mention sad, and didn't even look at Dominic.

Her dark eyes, staring coldly at her, carried a shocking anger.

Leah inexplicably cringed, what the hell was wrong with this bitch today?

Not only is she a lot bolder, it's surprising that she even completely disgusted Dominic

When Dominic heard the sound of footsteps, he subconsciously pushed Leah away and turned his head to look.

Just then, he saw that Selena had already walked closer, her eyes were coldly staring at Leah, her tone was full of coldness, "Hand over the script in the drawer of my room!"

A hint of something flashed under Leah's eyes and her face was soft as she asked, "Sis, what are you talking about? What script? I haven't seen the script at all"

As she spoke, she turned her head to ask Mrs. Riddle on the sofa, her voice puzzled, "Mom, did you see the script in my sister's room? Did the nanny lose it when she cleaned the room?"

Mrs. Riddle said angrily, "What script? She's just a fool, she's always bottom at every exam, saying she can write a script, does anyone believe her? She's missing her stuff, yet she comes to you to ask for it, clearly she's deliberately slandering you!"

Selena took a deep breath and suppressed the anger in her heart.

This mother and daughter, who killed Selena's mother, stole Selena's home and her fiancé, even wanted to steal her last dream.

Leah said in a panic, "Mom, don't say that, Sis, what kind of script do you have? I will help you find it right away."

Leah stood up and walked towards Selena, saying comforting words, but in an angle that Dominic couldn't see, she smiled petulantly and said to Selena with her mouth shape, "Bitch, I took your script, what can you do about it?"

Selena raised her hand and slapped Leah hard across the face.

With all the strength she could muster, there was a resounding slap.
