Chapter 1071: The Talent Stands Out in the “Forest Mount Lu.

The scene.

The air was terrifyingly silent, as if the drop of a needle could be heard.

The literati were as if mourning their ancestors, spiritless and disconcerted, all captured unreservedly by the camera.

They were not simply slapped by Xian Yu, they were struck by the weight of a thunderbolt, each doubting their own existence!

In a daze.

Someone’s voice stuttered intermittently, “So he didn’t want to compete with us because he wasn’t afraid but because he truly felt we weren’t worthy...”

Two hundred poems!

Picked at random!

One after another!

Each a classic!

How could such a peerless talent deign to compare with the common folk?

What of “I do not sing of spring first, which insect dares to chirp?”

What of “You may all perish, names and bodies alike, but the rivers flow eternal!”

This was the wrath of Thunderbolt Xian Yu, with poems that almost seemed to scold the literati to their faces, and yet that unparalleled talent left no room for rebuttal!

Chapter 1072: The Splendid Tree in the Forest_2 “As for Teacher Admirable Fish...”

Ms. Huang suddenly laughed, a somewhat abrupt laugh. It seemed to contain a myriad of unusual emotions, yet ultimately all that surfaced was, “He’s already not of this world; consider him an exiled immortal from the heavens, conducting a clandestine visit to our mortal realm.”

The so-called poetry contest had become child’s play.

Admirable Fish withdrew from the poetry contest, and it likely held this significance: it wasn’t just because the literati were unworthy to compete with him, but also because he intended to conquer this literary event in his own way. Once he stopped competing, did the contest hold any meaning for the others?

They were merely completing a task, after all.

Ms. Huang saw through this clearly, and so did the other literati, yet they could only go on with it stubbornly, even though their minds had long since drifted far away.

Live streaming room.

The stunned audience gradually came to their senses, and the barrage of comments exploded, even denser than the raindrops beneath the pavilions at the foot of Mount Lu!

On the internet.

Audiences from all continents were going insane!

A frenzy emerged across the six continents of Qin, Qi, Chu, Yan, Han, and Zhao!

“Ah!”

“I kneel!”

Starlight Entertainment.

Chairman’s office.

Li Songhua, who had been watching the live broadcast, fell silent for a long time.

Of course, he knew that those literati would not fare well after pulling Xian Yu off the stage, but the ultimate direction of events had still shocked him!

Shock!

An unprecedented shock!

This shock was no less intense than when Li Songhua had learned that Chu Kuang, Shadow, and Xian Yu were all actually the same person—Lin Yuan!

“Has he ascended to heaven?”

Chapter 1074: The Enemy of Millions of Students The next day.

September arrived.

This was the first day after the conclusion of the Poetry Competition.

The literary world, since Teacher Admirable Fish and the Poetry Competition began, had stirred up a hurricane!

The account of Admirable Fish on blogs gained a massive following, attracting innumerable poetry enthusiasts!

Each continent.

Media were summarizing and categorizing the poems Admirable Fish presented at the Poetry Competition;

Countless literati were discussing these poems of Admirable Fish on various occasions;

Online, there were numerous netizens savoring these fine works with great interest;

Discussion!

Discussion!

Endless discussions!

Chapter 1075: Enemy of Millions of Students_2 In fact,

The Literature and Art Association had just released the news, countless students from the Blue Star's continents couldn't help but feel a sense of dread!

It's over!

They knew it was over!

Especially after they found out just how much content Xian Yu's collection contained, their mentality utterly collapsed!

At a certain elementary school.

"How am I supposed to memorize this!"

“So many poems, so many lyrics, and even classical Chinese!”

“I’m still a child!”

“My mom said, memorize five poems a day, or I won’t be allowed to go out and play on weekends...”

“My dad said, memorize one and get a dollar for pocket money, but I still have no motivation, there’s just too much content!”

...

At a certain middle school.

September 6.

Lin Yuan arrived at the company and could distinctly feel that the employees’ attitude towards him had become very respectful.

It had been like that before.

But this time, it was more pronounced.

Chairman Li Songhua personally came to the ninth floor to see him, holding a packet of tea leaves in his hands and smiling warmly,

“September is the time for some jasmine tea.”

Lin Yuan expressed his thanks, accepted the tea, and then Li Songhua’s smile paused, “We’ve found out.”

“What?”

Chapter 1077: Celestial Dragon Villa.

When Lin Yuan's family heard the news that he was invited to the Spring Festival Gala, they immediately said,

"Of course you must participate in the Spring Festival Gala. Why wouldn't you, with such a great stage? Don't worry about us regarding work; it's just one night, and you're not working away all year. If possible, we'll come to the venue and support you. Transportation between continents is so developed now, it only takes a few hours to get to Zhong Continent."

Lin Yuan goes to the Spring Festival Gala.

His family is very supportive.

And when evening came.

Lin Yuan made some preparations and went to Sun Yaohuo's hot pot restaurant for dinner with the members of Yu Dynasty.

Everyone in the Yu Dynasty had received news of the Spring Festival Gala invitation through their agency and manager, and they were all extremely excited!

Chen Zhiyu spoke excitedly, "I never thought we would receive an invitation to the Spring Festival Gala!"

Xia Fan said with a smile, "Getting on the stage of the Spring Festival Gala, a platform where even the King of Singing and the top singers would fight tooth and nail for, is something frontline singers wouldn't normally stand a chance at getting."

"It's the merit of variety shows, and it represents achievement!"

Sun Yaohuo chimed in, revealing the reason. The Yu Dynasty had participated in the show "Fish Walking with You," which had already released three episodes, each hotter than the last!
