

All R. Artist 651

Chapter 651: Is this something I can watch without spending money?

Inside this quiet BBQ shop.

No one brought up the topic of switching channels again.

The customer who was previously clamoring to watch The Primordial Chaos at table two had sobered up considerably and had returned to his seat without anyone noticing, he called out gruffly, "Boss, bring another pound of lamb, I want it insanely spicy!"

"Let's have some pork over here."

"Add some lettuce to mine."

"Two more grilled lamb kidneys."

The BBQ shop returned to its lively state, it seemed everyone's appetite had greatly increased. At this time, Jack sat frozen like the stone monkey in the first scene of the TV series.

Meanwhile!

Online!

As if cold water had been poured into a hot boiling pot of oil, with the start of "The Music of the Cloud Palace," all the major forums exploded. Numerous posts directly overwhelmed the forums with comments!

"Watch Journey to the West!"

"The start has already blown my mind!"

"The song 'The Music of the Cloud Palace' stunned me, combined with the visuals it was mind-blowing. Just two minutes ago, my parents were indecisive about whether to watch Journey to the West or The Primordial Chaos tonight, but they reached a consensus after two minutes!"

"I'm floored!"

"Xian Yu's work is phenomenal."

"How did he come up with the idea of composing the theme song for Journey to the West using electronic music? It's extremely pleasing to the ears and perfectly complements the visuals, making it explosive!"

"The Primordial Chaos, danger!!"

"I thought I was at a concert just now, I didn't expect that the combination of electronic music, folk music, and an orchestra could produce such a wonderful chemistry. Just for this theme song, I must follow this TV series!"

"..."

Netizens enthusiastically shared their posts while watching the TV series, whereas those preparing to compete in the April Season rankings were collectively dumbfounded and hopeless. Their reactions were identical to Jack's at the BBQ shop.

"What the heck is this!"

Experience more tales on My Virtual Library Empire

"What's the point of playing anymore!"

"I'm having a 'Fear of Fish' outburst."

"I don't know whether The Primordial Chaos is in danger or not, but I know that we've already lost the Season rankings for April. This song will definitely join the competition. We're all just ordinary people amidst unparalleled talent!"

"I'm cracking up."

"Didn't we agree not to release songs in April?"

"Does electronic music not count as a song?"

"What's key is that the song's lineup is outrageous. Let's put Xian Yu, the composer, aside for now. The guzheng was played by Wang Li, The pipa was played by Zhang Xie, the orchestra was overseen by Liu Ran, the bell part was wielded by Li Keqi. The soprano was the Queen of China, Ning Meimei. Harp by Han Han, violin by Lala, trumpet by Xiao Gang, harp by Zhou Li, guitar by Ping Dahai.

How can we compete when these talents come together!"

"..."

It's not just that Xian Yu's song is amazing; all the different instrumentalists are top-tier powerhouses within the industry. With this kind of lineup, even the King of Singing has to bow down. None of the people on the April Season ranking can dare to have a stroke of luck!

Everybody was dumbfounded!

The Primordial Chaos team was dumbfounded!

The simultaneous broadcast of Journey to the West and The Primordial Chaos meant that the The Primordial Chaos team was naturally attentive to the start of Journey to the West. As a result, all the main creators of The Primordial Chaos were caught off guard by the opening theme of Journey to the West.

The drama hadn't even started yet and Journey to the West had already delivered a heavy blow to The Primordial Chaos!

"As the old saying goes!"

The main creators of The Primordial Chaos clenched their teeth, encouraging each other: "Maybe Journey to the West is also poorly produced, so the theme song is so impressive. After all, everyone knows that a crappy film is notorious for having a brilliant song!"

A crappy film producing excellent music?

Although they were just encouraging each other, everyone had not only heard the music but also seen the opening of Journey to the West. Judging from the quality of the visuals, there's something off about this show!

...

This show was indeed off. When people gradually emerged from the shock of "The Music of the Cloud Palace" and turned their attention to the storyline of the TV series, they experienced an even greater shock!

Mountain of Flowers and Fruit!

Magnificent!

The entire Mountain of Flowers and Fruit was shrouded in mist, like a land of immortality in the human realm. This was shot in a top-rated scenic spot in Qin Continent, employing multiple helicopters, which achieved stunning results.

Sun Wukong goes airborne!

The Heavenly Court trembles violently at the emergence of the stone monkey. This scene was shot with a long wide-angle lens that encompasses the whole Heavenly Court, showing a tracking shot from the Southern Heavenly Gate to the front of the Jade Emperor's throne, making all viewers feel immersed.

Glorious!

Majestic!

Impressive!

The stone columns carved with dragons, the coiling bodies of the dragons seem to be alive. The immortals of the Heavenly Court each have unique looks, from their costumes to the special effects, everything is movie-quality. The Jade Emperor looks down upon all living beings from a high position!

The Primordial Chaos fans were bewildered.

Is this a TV show?

Is this damn thing really a TV show?

Are you belittling us for not having seen a movie?

All the audience widened their eyes, the visuals in this series were too beautiful. It seemed that any frame could be directly screenshot and used as a screensaver. From the texture to the special effects, everything was movie-level!

"What kind of play is this!"

Eventually, the main creators of The Primordial Chaos couldn't stand it anymore. How much money did the Journey to the West crew put into it? Was it worth it to invest so much in just making a TV series? Weren't they afraid of losing everything in the end?

In all the major forums.

The audience of Journey to the West also realized that the special effects and scenes of Journey to the West were exaggerated beyond the scope of a TV show, even qualifying as a movie. For a moment, everyone was dumbfounded!

"I'm about to cry!"

"How was it filmed so well!"

"This series perfectly recreates my imagination of the Heavenly Palace and the immortals. From the Jade Emperor to the immortals of the Heavenly Palace, all are experienced veterans. How much money does it take to get this effect!"

"A TV series with conscience!"

"Is this the same Xian Yu who was notorious for cutting corners on special effects? Even though it's just a TV series, Xian Yu has shot it according to movie standards. Is this really something I can watch without spending money?"

"I'm not worthy!"

"I'm begging for it to be paid!"

"Is there a big shot who can estimate the cost of this episode? For the first time in my life, I'm seeing a TV series with such elaborate production. Can Xian Yu recoup the cost with this move?"

"I estimate it's at least 50 million!"

"It's definitely more than 50 million, just the fees for these actors alone is a scary number. The Jade Emperor is just a supporting role, but Xian Yu directly hired a Best Actor to play it. Can any other series on Blue Star dare to be this extravagant!"

"I'm losing my mind!"

"How can there be such a considerate TV series? I really love Xian Yu to death! If anyone says Xian Yu likes to use small tricks to achieve big gains, I will lose it. Is this what you call using small tricks to achieve big gains?"

"..."

Everyone was shocked!

Even people who don't know about TV production could tell the production level of Journey to the West. This is definitely the highest standard in the history of Blue Star TV series. Never has a TV series been able to achieve this level of effect, and the shock is even more terrifying than the theme song!

The most apt summary is:

Is this something I can watch without spending money?

Chapter 652: The Highest Record in TV Drama Investment History

With Sun Wukong setting out to sea in search of immortality, the first episode of "Journey to the West" finally comes to a close. This episode lasted a staggering one hour and twenty-three minutes, equivalent to the length of two episodes of other TV series, so the rest of the series will be broadcast daily.

With the end of the first episode...

The internet has set off a Journey to the West frenzy sweeping across the five continents. Eight of the top ten trending topics were related to the series!

Of all the topics, the two most heated ones were the TV series theme song "The Music of the Cloud Palace" and everyone's curiosity about the production cost of this series.

In the first topic...

Countless musicians are expressing their thoughts on "The Music of the Cloud Palace" on different platforms, offering their critiques from various angles.

Among them, some accomplished maestros even praised the song!

"Undoubtedly, 'The Music of the Cloud Palace' pioneers blending electronic music with traditional folk and orchestral music in a television series. Its innovative musical composition, beautiful melody, and perfect melding of plot and music are unbeatable in the history of television series music."

— Yin Dong

"I was probably one of the first lucky ones to hear this piece. I was deeply shocked when I first heard it. But after watching the Journey to the West series today, I think awe-inspiring would be a better description."

— Zheng Jing

"For those who missed Journey to the West tonight, as a TV series enthusiast, I believe it's a television feast not to be missed for Blue Star's audience. As for the theme song 'The Music of the Cloud Palace,' I think it would be a classic piece that many proficient electronic musicians should dissect and learn from."

— Ye Zhi Qiu

Even Yang Zhongming expressed his thoughts on the platform:

"I'm not surprised that Xian Yu has such a profound understanding of electronic music. What surprises me is that electronic music can blend so perfectly with a mythological story like Journey to the West. Such an out-of-box idea probably would have been beyond my capabilities."

Some people think this is Yang Zhongming's modesty.

But with so many maestros praising 'The Music of the Cloud Palace,' it indeed gives people a deeper understanding of the level of this piece.

There were many musicians analyzing various aspects of "The Music of the Cloud Palace" during this process.

In their analysis, every instrument in 'The Music of the Cloud Palace' seems to have its own unique emotional expression.

The notes are actually a depiction of Journey to the West in a form of artistic language.

In contrast to the first topic...

The second topic has an even broader reach!

Countless people are asking under Starlight's official Weibo:

What is the actual cost of Journey to the West TV series?

When people praise a TV series as good, they often describe it as having a "movie-like quality."

But when it comes to "Journey to the West," even this praise seems insufficient.

This series can be described as "surpassing movie quality!"

Even compared to movies, the first episode of "Journey to the West" is not a bit inferior!

At that moment...

Starlight suddenly released an interview, titled:

[Exclusive Interview with Zhou Ruiming, the Producer of Journey to the West: The Production Cost of Journey to the West Sets a New Record for Blue Star's TV Series Investment!]

Holy crap!

A new record!

Even though everyone already anticipated it, this still shocked everyone, and they all immediately clicked on the interview.

In the interview,

The host laughed and said,

"Tonight, the first episode of 'Journey to the West' was broadcasted, and its popularity has reached a terrifying peak. Perhaps the TV king of this year has been born ahead of schedule. Now, we've invited Zhou Ruiming, the producer of Starlight's Journey to the West, for an interview. First of all, I would like to ask a question that everyone is curious about, how much does this series cost?"

"The first season of Journey to the West, a total of ten episodes, was invested with seven hundred million, which averages to seventy million per episode."

Zhou Ruiming started off seriously.

The host drew in a cold breath: "This must be the highest record of Blue Star's TV series production, right?"

Zhou Ruiming responded proudly: "Yes, for example, the upcoming episode of Sun Wukong wreaking havoc in the heavenly palace could even be screened in cinemas without any problem."

The host asked, "Starlight has invested so much money, are you confident about getting a return on your investment?"

Ol' Zhou burst into laughter: "A TV series with an investment of seven hundred million, you're asking me about return on investment?"

The host: "..."

Ol' Zhou paused his laughter: "The series is going to lose money, big time. If it hadn't been for Xian Yu's insistence, our planned budget for the series would have been around one hundred million."

The host wore a strange expression: "Didn't anyone try to dissuade Teacher Admirable Fish?"

Ol' Zhou, as if recalling something, suddenly got excited, with his spit flying all over, and his arms waving:

"Who says there weren't any objections? I objected! For half a month, more than a dozen high-level executives at Starlight took turns persuading him not to take such a big risk. In the end, even the chairman of the company personally stepped in, but could not persuade him. Instead, Xian Yu added another one hundred million to the investment."

The host was stupefied.

That information was pretty heavy-duty.

Looking at Zhou Ruiming's expression, the host could almost imagine the sense of despair the Starlight executives must have felt at the time.

"Teacher Admirable Fish has a lot of sway in Starlight," the host said, trying to keep her voice steady.

Ol' Zhou's voice was mixed with complex emotions, "He's the crown prince of Starlight."

At first listen, this comment seemed to voice dissatisfaction with Xian Yu. But upon closer inspection, the host could clearly hear a note of pride and satisfaction?

This was the first time the outside world got a glimpse of Xian Yu's position in Starlight.

"So, Starlight knew they wouldn't be able to recoup the cost, but still went ahead with the production? Simply because of Teacher Admirable Fish's insistence?"

"Yes, but it's not just that."

Ol' Zhou said, "Xian Yu mentioned that the future development of 'Journey to the West' might not just be limited to a TV series. In the future, there may be animations and even movies related to Journey to the West. This is a grand scheme. Maybe one day in the future, we would be able to recoup the cost of this TV series.

Anyway, that's how Xian Yu explained it—we dare not say anything, we dare not ask."

"That's so exciting!"

The host looked forward to it, then said, "Any interesting experiences during filming?"

Ol' Zhou looked a little blank: "Very desperate. Every day when I woke up, I was greeted with the smell of burning money."

The host: "..."

Ol' Zhou twitched the corner of his mouth: "Just kidding, even though it's true. As for interesting experiences, I guess Xian Yu insisting on casting a newcomer as Sun Wukong counts?"

The host nodded, "That decision was very adventurous and crazy."

Ol' Zhou shared the sentiment deeply, "It truly is madness, which is why Xian Yu's choice to cast a newcomer in a seven-billion-dollar TV drama lead role also drew opposition from the company. But judging by today's results, it seems we were wrong, the charm of Sun Wukong is not whether the actor is a star, because Sun Wukong can easily make one a star."

"..."

The interview lasted for half an hour.

Ol' Zhou revealed a lot of behind-the-scenes stories from "Journey to the West".

After the interview ended.

Discussion went wild on each continent!

"Damn it, seven billion!"

"Is it okay to wake up every day smelling the scent of burning money?"

"Seventy million per episode on average!"

"They even dare to shoot a TV show that is bound to lose money!"

"Typical of Xian Yu!"

"With an average cost of seventy million per episode, if it was early on, Xian Yu could have used that much to shoot several films!"

"Is Xian Yu the Crown Prince of Starlight?"

"Fish Papa is badass!"

"Hahahaha, this director looks fun, he must have been tormented a lot by Fish Papa."

"We dare not say, we dare not ask - please, you're a senior executive at Starlight, why are you so humble in front of Fish Papa?"

"What do you mean, senior executive? Didn't she say that even the chairman courteously discusses investment matters with Xian Yu, and in the end, she had to add another hundred million. It's just too much."

"You call it the Crown Prince?"

"This is clearly the Supreme Emperor of Starlight!"

"Fish Papa is the company's favorite, this director might be complaining about Fish Papa, but he cares a lot."

"You guys think he's complaining about Xian Yu, but actually, he's just indirectly praising him, playing with words."

"Just look at how much Zheng Jing and Yang Zhongming spoil Xian Yu to guess the company's attitude."

"..."

Netizens were in a heated discussion.

When the production team of The Primordial Chaos saw this interview, they almost couldn't catch their breath.

A total investment of seven billion?

Ten episodes in total, you guys burn seventy million per episode?

Are you guys doing charity!

Is that necessary!

This is a behavior that breaks industry rules!

It seriously messes up the market atmosphere!

You guys wouldn't be trying to ruin us regardless of the cost, would you?

What a huge grievance!

The Primordial Chaos is really about to get ruined...

Actually, the investment in The Primordial Chaos is not low, close to two billion.

But The Primordial Chaos shot a full fifty episodes!

There must be some watering down, it's an industry norm for TV dramas and the audience is used to it.

If Journey to the West didn't exist, everyone would feel that watching The Primordial Chaos was a good value.

But...

Being broadcast at the same time as Journey to the West, the comparisons present themselves.

After watching Journey to the West and then watching The Primordial Chaos, they always had the feeling that their props had a plastic feel, fifty-cent special effects, very cheap.

Ironically, this was a choice made by The Primordial Chaos itself!

If The Primordial Chaos had evaded Journey to the West, not insisted on challenging Journey to the West, they might have had a good harvest.

In fact.

The shock this interview brought was not only to the team of The Primordial Chaos and netizens, but also to the whole film and television circle!

Investing seven billion in a TV drama is truly madness!

Even a movie wouldn't dare to gamble that much!

If it were on Earth.

The investment level of Journey to the West is slightly more than the later seasons of "Game of Thrones".

In fact.

When Lin Yuan shot "Journey to the West", he was aiming for that kind of blockbuster.

But will "Journey to the West" really lose money?

Ol' Zhou is not stupid.

His words were purely to win the favor of the audience.

As long as the drama is popular enough, it won't lose much, because if this drama maintains its heat, there would be an extension of a series of interest chains.

Like games, like movies, like animations, like merchandise, like...

At the time, the company was not happy with Xian Yu gambling so much, purely because they lacked confidence in the show's success.

Note, super hit!

If it doesn't reach the super hit level, only a normal hit, it's definitely not okay.

The standard of a super hit is everyone following the drama!

Neighboring Earth's "Game of Thrones" recouped its cost and earned a lot of money because it was a super hit.

The only difference is that the money-making cycle of Journey to the West is longer.

But at the same time, the money that Journey to the West will earn is definitely more than Earth's Game of Thrones.

Regarding this, Lin Yuan had full confidence!

Chapter 653: Progress of Twelve Consecutive Championships 1/3

During an interview, Ol' Zhou revealed lots of interesting inside scoop.

Like how Starlight specifically set up a TV department to film "Journey to the West".

Before this, Starlight only had a film department, without any layout in the TV drama industry.

Regarding many Xian Yu-related matters, even a fragment of information is enough to set people's imaginations wild.

Like why Xian Yu wants to stage such a grand production for Journey to the West...

"Talking about subsequent development, I believe, but it's definitely not all the reason. There's another critical reason that he didn't tell everyone, that is, the author of 'Journey to the West' is Chu Kuang!"

Yes.

A lot of spectators think this is a testament to the friendship between Xian Yu and Chu Kuang.

The rationale behind him investing so much, from getting a film emperor to act, to personally making the top-level soundtrack, has a lot to do with the fact that the author of Journey to the West is Chu Kuang.

The relationship between these two is too good!

It can be described as a bromance-made match in heaven!

After all, Xian Yu has never been so generous with his own scripts. Everyone in and out of the circle knows that Xian Yu's approach to filming movies is to save wherever he can.

"Isn't this exactly how I treat my girlfriend?"

Someone resonated, saying: "I would rather eat instant ramen myself and let my girlfriend eat her favorite Chu Continent cuisine; Xian Yu would rather cut his own movie investment costs to make Chu Kuang's novel become the best TV series on Blue Star!"

This theory is quite popular.

Xian Yu and Chu Kuang's mutual fans have started to rave about it.

In the words of another netizen: "It's another day of fun without Shadow."

In the final analysis.

This is a carnival for Journey to the West fans!

'Journey to the West' filmed by Xian Yu perfectly fits everyone's imagination of this novel!

Even over-delivered!

But for The Primordial Chaos fans, it's a night of torment.

People of discerning eyes know it.

Once again, The Primordial Chaos was crushed by Journey to the West.

Journey to the West fans didn't even bother making fun of The Primordial Chaos, because it's no longer necessary. The TV series from both sides are simply not in the same league.

This is the ultimate crushing victory!

The mythological Paradigm of Blue Star has changed.

From now on, Journey to the West holds the title of Blue Star's number one myth!

The Primordial Chaos can only step aside!

A diehard fan of The Primordial Chaos lamented: "The excitement is theirs, we have nothing..."
Enjoy exclusive content from My Virtual Library Empire

"Who said that!"

Some fans of The Primordial Chaos quickly chimed in: "We can join the excitement too!"

This part of The Primordial Chaos fans demonstrated to everyone:

What it means to have unyielding mettle!

What it means to have unswerving loyalty!

Hand in hand, they cheerfully switched sides.

The turncoats came in droves, and it started with just a few fans of The Primordial Chaos braving internal pressure and criticism, mildly praising the TV series 'Journey to the West' for its efforts...

Later on, it developed to countless fans of The Primordial Chaos sneakily watching the Journey to the West TV series.

The straw that broke the camel's back was when some fans of The Primordial Chaos clipped a few snippets from the opening song of the 'Journey to the West', where Sun Wukong and Erlang Shen were fighting:

"This is the Erlang Shen in my heart!"

In the video snippet, there was a sky-shattering battle between Sun Wukong and Erlang Shen, with eerie screams and off-the-chart special effects!

The insolence of the monkey!

And courageous Erlang Shen!

Both characters were irresistibly charismatic in this battle!

How ironic.

The image of Erlang Shen in The Primordial Chaos TV series was obliterated by Erlang Shen from 'Journey to the West'. The fans of The Primordial Chaos even thought Erlang Shen in Journey to the West is more handsome?

A diehard fan of The Primordial Chaos who was an assistant to a certain screenwriter almost cried:

"What's the difference between this and my wife asking me to put on a Spiderman mask and applauding for our love together!"

Oh boy!

This is outright humiliation!

When the time transitioned to twelve o'clock, and April finally arrived.

Netizens unexpectedly saw 'The Music of the Cloud Palace' on major players.

With a surge!

The download volume of this song shot up!

The inevitable had happened — what those musicians eyeing the April chart had feared the most.

On the fourth month, Xian Yu did not drop out!

Through the TV series theme song, he released his April new work!

Plus, not just one!

Besides 'The Music of the Cloud Palace', the ending song of Journey to the West also seized the second place on the season chart!

The song is called, "Where is The Way"!

As the ending song of Journey to the West, "Where Is The Way" can hardly be considered a song suitable for the chart.

Speaking of music...

After watching the TV series Journey to the West, the song that left the deepest impression on everyone was "The Music of the Cloud Palace".

This is evident from the discussions about it.

Because Journey to the West spawned so many topics, it caught countless people's attention.

Comparatively, not as many people discussed "Dare to Ask Where the Road Is".

But there's no defying the popularity of "Journey to the West"!

With the cost of the first episode exceeding expectations, many people felt like they were watching a movie, not a TV series. Therefore, when the end credits song started, everyone couldn't bear to leave so they sat through it all.

In combination with the storyline, the flavor of this ending song came out.

"You carry the shoulder pole, I lead the horse, greeting the sunrise and bidding farewell to the sunset, paving the bumpy road into a great thoroughfare, again we set off after fighting the dangers, la la la la la la la la la, seasons come and go, a mixture of sweet and sour. Dare to ask where the road is? The road is beneath your feet."

The simple lyrics directly depicted the footprints of the master and the three apprentices.

Especially for fans of Journey to the West, they found this song to be to their taste.

That's why...

This song came in second on the seasonal download chart, only second to "The Music of the Cloud Palace"!

This is the case for many songs.

When singled out, they aren't that special.

But when it's part of the original soundtrack for a TV series, the lyrics combined with the storyline make for a big hit!

This was a heavy blow for musicians targeting the April seasonal chart!

"After Xian Yu finished eating, he didn't even leave us any soup!"

Actually, upon hearing "The Music of the Cloud Palace", everyone already knew who would take home the crown song for the April seasonal chart.

Despite a wave of disappointment, many still entertained the idea of striving for second place.

Until "Dare to Ask Where the Road Is" appeared.

Also an original soundtrack from Journey to the West, there wasn't anything special when listened to alone, but thanks to the popularity of the Journey to the West TV series, it firmly grasped second place!

Just great.

The other musicians on the April seasonal chart could only compete for third place now.

Suddenly.

Someone in the music industry screamed: "Xian Yu has already won the seasonal championship for four consecutive months, is he going for a twelve-win streak?"

A twelve-win streak?!

Everyone was stunned.

No one had considered this before.

Because it's been too long since anyone in Blue Star attempted a twelve-win streak.

Although this is a way to become a maestro, among the three paths to becoming a maestro, this is the most difficult one!

Yet, with Xian Yu reaching the top for four consecutive months, everyone can't help but think in that direction!

"Could it be?"

"It's only been four months, if he really wants to strive for a twelve-win streak, he still has to continuously win the seasonal championship for eight months."

"Who can handle that?"

"Especially the Battle of the Gods in December..."

"Besides, now Qin, Qi, Chu, Yan, Han, five continents are competing for a spot on the seasonal chart. Could the other maestros just stand by if Xian Yu wants to become one?"

"True."

"Xian Yu probably isn't planning this."

"If he wanted to become a maestro, the easiest and fastest method would be to produce a hit song, after all, he's good at promoting others."

"It's just that the current situation is rather startling."

"Let's observe for another month, if Xian Yu still wants to be number one in May, he might genuinely have this plan."

"..."

For the first time, the music industry had considered that Xian Yu might be aiming for a twelve-win streak on the seasonal chart, but at the same time, they didn't really want to believe it.

As the various continents of Blue Star were continually merging.

The competition on the seasonal chart was becoming increasingly fierce.

It's been too many years since anyone's taken this path.

The difficulties that one would face while aiming to top the list with a twelve-win streak to become a maestro were too numerous.

Not only the ominous Battle of the Gods at the end of the year.

There would also be targeted attacks from other maestros halfway through.

This is an unspoken rule of Blue Star.

Any composer who wants to go for a twelve-win streak would face all sorts of attacks in the end.

The music industry wanted to observe for another month.

Meanwhile, Lin Yuan didn't bother about the online trends anymore.

He successfully took the fourth season.

The progress of the twelve-win streak was already one-third of the way through.

He began to seriously prepare for his concert this month.

The songs were basically set.

He also prepared many backup songs.

He was about to start the stage rehearsals before the concert.

Chapter 654 Dance at a Forty-Five Degree Tilt

The secret rehearsals for the concert were underway, with the specifics of the performances not revealed in advance.

During this process, Lin Yuan did not only rehearse the songs, but also customised some special shoes for his dance performance...

He would perform Michael Jackson's dances like the Moonwalk at the concert.

No further explanation is required here for Michael Jackson's status in the world of Earth entertainment.

He is a top-tier entertainer of the Earth's entertainment industry.

The Moonwalk, one of the dances of this top-tier entertainer, is familiar to countless people.

Among them.

Michael Jackson has one dance move that's out of this world!

He is able to perform a dance move tilted at a forty-five-degree angle!

When this dance move first appeared, it shocked the world with countless people asking:

How did he do it?

Surely even Newton is spinning in his grave!

The answer is:

Even though he was a world-class superstar, it was impossible for a normal human being to achieve a forty-five-degree tilt without external support and defy gravity.

To explain humorously:

Yes, Michael Jackson cheated sometimes.

The secret lay in the shoes.

It was a pair of special shoes.

The heel of the shoe had a recess, specifically designed to latch onto a fixed point on the floor.

Once latched on, the performer could lean forward forty-five degrees without falling.

However, at a concert's stage performance, it takes time to locate the exact spot and quickly connect, so when Michael Jackson was looking for the spot, he would use some light and shadow effects and intersperse other performances to divert the audience's attention, allowing the performer to make other operations under these disguises.

Of course, he could directly adjust his position and design scenarios that make his behavior appear reasonable.

These setups all require backstage control to create a smooth scene transition for the best results.

For this, Michael Jackson even applied for a patent.

If anyone thinks that they can perform this move with just these shoes, they are naive.

Having the shoes alone is far from enough.

When the body's center of gravity leans forward, the waist supports all the force!

The performer needs strong back muscles.

In addition, the strength of the legs is highly demanded.

So without training, it can't be imitated. Even Michael Jackson has made mistakes during his concert performances.

Lin Yuan, thanks to System, could perform this move which would be impossible for him to do without it.

Even if he knew the principle of it, it would still be impossible.

For Lin Yuan, this was like a magic trick for the audience.

After solving the mystery of the magic, it may not seem special, but the first time everyone witnesses this magic trick, they will definitely experience the shock of their perceptions being overturned!

It's hard for ordinary people to figure out the principle in an instant.

Of course.

This was just one of the little surprises Lin Yuan prepared for the concert.

The appearance of the Moonwalk was more lethal than the forty-five-degree tilt, as the tilt relied on props, whereas the Moonwalk purely relied on skill.

On Blue Star, a similar dance style has not yet appeared.

Not to mention, for this dance, Lin Yuan even prepared a new song, an original piece by Michael Jackson himself!

...

Meanwhile, while Lin Yuan was secretly preparing for the concert.

The TV drama "Journey to the West" was also airing at a pace of one episode per day.

By the third episode, as Monkey Sun wreaks havoc in the Heavenly Court, the internet completely blew up!

The special effects were off the charts!

In every frame, viewers could practically hear the sound of money being burned!

There were scenes of the earth shattering!

The sun and the moon lost their light!

Every combat scene was so extravagant to the point of absurdity!

Even for supporting roles, the production team did not skimp at all, reaching the peak with electrifying and stunning effects!

People who read "Journey to the West" have countless times imagined the scene of the Heavenly Court battle, and in this TV show, it has been perfectly restored and presented!

The popularity of this show completely spread across the five continents!

Streets and alleys were filled with countless people discussing.

Even the vendors in the market couldn't help but bring up the latest episode of the Journey to the West television drama that was broadcast the previous night as they opened their stalls in the morning!

"I am Sun Wukong!"

"Take this blow from yours truly!"

Even the children playing house in school have transitioned from narratives like Snow White to Journey to the West.

Every day, there were a bunch of rambunctious kids quarrelling over who gets to play the role of Sun Wukong.

They delightedly imitated Sun Wukong's movements, not finding it embarrassing at all.

"Heh!"

Some boys growled from their throats and energetically scratched their faces, as if they were home to a tuft of peach-shaped monkey hair.

Other boys had their right hands perched near their left ears, striking a looking-out-into-the-distance pose.

Moreover, some boys picked up branches pretending they were golden cudgels and flailed them about, only to end up being spanked by their parents...

The children were all imitating the classic postures of Sun Wukong.

Every household on Blue Star contained a computer.

Many people have the ability to follow dramas online.

If there is no internet, and one is forced to watch it on television, perhaps then the broadcast of this drama would recreate a scenario seen on Earth where everyone is glued to their screens.

Worth mentioning is...

The distinction between Lin Yuan's version of "Journey to the West" and that of the CCTV lies in its more systematic nature.

The original's strength level was rather all over the place.

Sun Wukong's performance of strength seemed to fluctuate inconsistently.

After all, the emphasis of that drama wasn't on how powerful Sun Wukong was.

Lin Yuan strives for meticulousness when setting the performance levels for the Journey to the West, therefore he created an invisible chart for the characters, dictating who was stronger and who was weaker based on their initially set corresponding performance level.

Even if Sun Wukong encounters demons that he couldn't defeat, Lin Yuan would come up with an excuse to get himself out of the dilemma.

Of course.

In the early stages, Sun Wukong basically had no competitors. Although Sun Wukong wreaked havoc in the Heavenly Court, Lin Yuan didn't script the Jade Emperor being afraid and hiding under a table.

This doesn't comply with the original.

In the original, it wasn't as if Sun Wukong threw the entire Heavenly Court into terror, it can only be said that a great majority of the gods felt apprehensive at the sight of this monkey.

Punching through the Heavenly Court?

Even with Erlang Shen, Sun Wukong couldn't do it.

In Lin Yuan's design, the Jade Emperor is simply the Jade Emperor, with his reputation off the charts.

Even if the gods couldn't restrain Monkey Sun, the Jade Emperor losing composure wouldn't appear.

Speaking of the Grand Supreme Elderly Lord...

Lin Yuan also designs him to be more mysterious and inscrutable.

In the scene where Sun Wukong is refined in the Eight Trigrams Furnace, Lin Yuan implies through some shots that the Grand Supreme Elderly Lord has profound intentions and his goal is not to kill Sun Wukong.

Additionally.

When Sun Wukong confronts the Heavenly Court, Lin Yuan also arranges for Bodhi to secretly assist Sun Wukong.

This leads to the Buddha taking action.

In the CCTV version without Bodhi's help, it was indeed in the CCTV's animated version of "Journey to the West" where Bodhi secretly assisted Sun Wukong.

Lin Yuan thought this point in the animated version was well-designed, so he adopted it.

In summary:

This is a television drama that both children would love and adults would not find childish, and it even provokes thought.

Lin Yuan filmed various metaphors without any explicit explanation, trusting that the audience would understand, since the world's viewers are indeed very good at reading between the lines.

And indeed it is.

During the broadcast of this drama, while everyone is admiring the special effects and smooth plot, there are also countless people discussing the underlying metaphors in some of the shots and getting goosebumps.

The Journey to the West television drama has become a phenomenal success!

At this moment.

People haven't forgotten...

Xian Yu's concert is set to begin in a few days!

On the internet.

While countless people are discussing Journey to the West, more and more people have started discussing Xian Yu's upcoming concert happening in a few days.

Chapter 655: Chu Kuang and Shadow Also Come to the Concert

"The Xian Yu concert is about to start!"

"Just five more days!"

"Sadly, I didn't manage to get a ticket."

"I wonder what songs Xian Yu will sing at the concert."

"Maybe there will be new songs released at the concert. That's what I'm most looking forward to!"

"Will Xian Yu dance on stage?"

"Hahaha, give Fish Papa a break. He's talented but I doubt dancing is his forte."

"Looking at Fish Papa's past performances, there were some dances like when he sang 'Drala banga', but he just moved a bit. It's more like he was shaking about on stage, not really dancing."

"..."

Fans have been constantly fantasizing about Xian Yu's upcoming concert.

The basis of their fantasies stems from Xian Yu's performances on 'The Masked Singer'.

Of course, there were also a few performances during his time on 'Our Song'.

In any case, everyone was exceptionally focussed on Xian Yu's concert.

Even those who couldn't get tickets were enthusiastically discussing it.

As for those who did manage to get tickets, they were beside themselves with excitement.

The hearts of these people wished they could already be at the concert venue several days from now.

Ten thousand fans have bought tickets for the Xian Yu concert!

Of these ten thousand fans, only a small portion reside in Su City.

The vast majority of the audience will rush to Su City on the day of the concert after pre-booking hotel accommodations.

This particularly applies to fans from Qi, Chu, Yan, and Han.

To watch the concert, they must necessarily leave their continents.

So a few days before the concert, some fans had already started heading towards Su City in Qin Continent.

In the vicinity of Grand Stadium in Qin.

The prices for hotel rooms have multiplied many times over, yet they still remain fully booked!

Many people have no choice but to stay even further away from Grand Stadium, planning to set off early when the concert begins.

Meanwhile.

Lin Yuan was also constantly adjusting his physical and mental state.

His concert will start at seven o'clock on the evening of April the tenth.

It's estimated to run for just over three hours.

A continuous three- to four-hour performance is a great test of stamina and vocal strength.

So in preparation.

Lin Yuan did nothing else in the ensuing days and simply participated in some rehearsals.

The rest of the time, he surfed the internet alone.

The topics he recently browsed were all related to him.

A few days ago, it was mostly discussions around 'Journey to the West'. Now it's primarily about the upcoming concert.

As he was browsing.

Lin Yuan suddenly saw a trending topic on the hot search!

The topic was boldly titled #FindShadowAndChuKuang#

Shadow?

Chu Kuang?

Lin Yuan was taken aback, immediately clicking on the topic.

"Attention all fans heading to Xian Yu's concert, it's highly possible that this will be your closest encounter with Shadow and Chu Kuang, they will certainly be sitting in the audience watching the concert with you!"

The initiator of the topic seemed to have channeled both Poirot and Holmes:

"I believe many of you have guessed why I said this. Do you think that given the deep camaraderie between Xian Yu, Chu Kuang, and Shadow, would these two be absent from Xian Yu's concert?"

That was the entire content of the topic.

The topic successfully sparked enthusiasm in many people who hadn't even considered this before:

"Holy cow!"

"That makes so much sense!"

"I almost forgot about the relationship between old rascal Chu Kuang, Shadow, and Xian Yu. While I can't say with 100% certainty for Shadow, I'm sure Chu Kuang will definitely attend Xian Yu's concert!"

"Barring any unforeseen circumstances, Shadow will definitely be there too!"

"With the Three Bros being so close, there's no reason for them to miss Xian Yu's concert!"

"So, does that mean Chu Kuang and Shadow might be seated right beside me?"

"No, no, no, those in the back row can forget about it. Chu Kuang and Shadow could definitely get VIP tickets from Xian Yu."

"If you want to find Chu Kuang and Shadow, just look towards the VIP seats."

"Right, you just need to look for two men attending the concert together."

"Sounds like they shouldn't be too hard to find."

"It would be so interesting if they were actually found by everyone!"

"..."

Both Chu Kuang and Shadow are very mysterious people who have never appeared in public or had any personal information leaked online.

Yet, they are extremely famous!

Especially Chu Kuang, his fame and popularity rival even that of Xian Yu!

So, everyone was extremely curious about these two.

For a moment, many people had the idea of trying to spot Chu Kuang and Shadow among the audience.

This was also the reason for the topic trending.

For fans, even if they couldn't find Chu Kuang and Shadow, just the thought of them sitting among everyone in Grand Stadium to watch Xian Yu's concert filled them with a strange sense of joy.

"..."

Lin Yuan was somewhat dumbfounded.

The fans had indeed guessed it right.

Chu Kuang and Shadow would indeed be present at the concert. Find exclusive stories on My Virtual Library Empire

However, the way these "two" would appear was bound to be something no one would have expected.

In the company.

Gu Dong also couldn't resist gossiping with Lin Yuan: "Will Chu Kuang and Teacher Shadow really come?"

Lin Yuan smiled: "Yes."

Gu Dong, even though he had anticipated the answer, couldn't help but become more excited:

"So, we might actually encounter Chu Kuang and Shadow at Grand Stadium..."

"Yes."

Lin Yuan also felt a playful mood coming over him.

Although this certainly won't cause any harm to him, he still had a rather peculiar feeling.

"Are there chances of these two being found by everyone?"

"Possibly."

Lin Yuan blinked.

Gu Dong was instantly more excited.

Because of Chu Kuang and Shadow, the concert felt like it had an easter egg hidden within.

Those who hadn't managed to get tickets were even more heartbroken.

Chu Kuang and Shadow are also going to watch Xian Yu's concert?

This is a total loss!

Everyone missed the chance to encounter Chu Kuang and Shadow at close quarters!

For a moment.

The resale price for Xian Yu's concert tickets rose even further!

Many people still hadn't given up on the possibility of obtaining scalped tickets at high prices.

According to media reports, the VIP tickets for Xian Yu's concert, have been reported to have been sold for as high as four hundred thousand, with actual transactions taking place...

Four hundred thousand!

This is unimaginable for ordinary people. Someone was actually willing to pay hundreds of thousands to hear Xian Yu sing for just two to three hours at a live concert!

With money, one truly can do anything!

This price also managed to claim the record for the most expensive ticket in Blue Star concert history, breaking the highest record for concert ticket prices!

A genuinely sky-high price for a ticket!

There were also people regretting. If they had initially got Xian Yu's VIP concert tickets, wouldn't this be an opportunity to strike it rich?

It's like looting a bank!

All the news combined furthered the anticipation of the audience who had managed to buy tickets.

And amidst everyone's anticipation.

Time finally arrived on April the tenth.

On this day.

Xian Yu's concert was finally about to start...

Chapter 656: An Epic Start with the Siren's Song

In the afternoon.

At six o'clock.

The Qin Continent Grand Stadium.

The huge crowd began to enter the venue.

Several separated lanes had been pulled open, stretching for thousands of meters.

Just about every few steps, there was a uniformed security officer maintaining order on the periphery of the barriers.

One hundred thousand spectators were arriving.

The streets surrounding the Grand Stadium were already heavily congested.

Groups of traffic police were maintaining order on the streets, everyone communicating road conditions in real time via walkie-talkie.

And not just traffic police.

The police were also deployed in large numbers.

City surveillance was heavily concentrated in the Grand Stadium area.

In the security check area of the concert, countless security personnel and police officers shared the responsibility.

Inside the Grand Stadium.

Tong Shuwen was also coordinating the work of various departments nervously.

Tong Shuwen was the director-in-chief of Xian Yu's concert.

As the chief director of music variety shows like "The Masked Singer" and the "Our Song" series, Tong Shuwen was top-notch when it came to stage coordination.

Starlight had asked him to take charge of Xian Yu's concert to bring out the maximum brilliance of the stage!

At this moment.

Tong Shuwen was both nervous and excited!

When he initially received the invitation to be the director-in-chief for Xian Yu's concert, Tong Shuwen had instantly agreed without much thought, considering it as a payback for Xian Yu's participation in his two shows.

Normally, Tong Shuwen would not accept offers to manage concerts.

His position in the world of show directing was quite high, concert directing was not on par. Only Xian Yu could have the prestige to invite him.

But at that time, Tong Shuwen considered this to be a regular job.

Just acting as a chief-in-charge for a concert.

The job was not too challenging.

Far less challenging than "Our Song".

But after Tong Shuwen finished the first rehearsal, his body and mind were greatly shocked!

This concert!

It was unbelievably incredible!

A four-sided stage, welcoming one hundred thousand spectators!

Maybe this was destined to be a crazy concert!

This concert would also be a huge test for his professional career!

If successful, it would be a bright highlight in his career!

Therefore, Tong Shuwen was placing extra emphasis on this concert now!

His level of seriousness and commitment was comparable to when he directed the finale of "The Masked Singer!"

His gaze turned to the backstage of the directing room.

Tong Shuwen saw that Xian Yu had already started his make-up.

A few of the industry's top make-up and stylist artists were working for Xian Yu.

"Many reporters outside are live broadcasting the interview..."

The assistant director of the concert informed Tong Shuwen nervously, "The heads of the traffic police team and public security department will come to communicate with you."

"There's no problem with security outside, right?"

"No issues have arisen at present, small traffic disputes have also been resolved by the traffic police team."

"OK, when will all the spectators enter the venue?"

"In about half an hour. Many people are now buying support props and posters. The time schedule won't have any problems."

"OK, keep paying attention, report to me immediately if there's any situation."

"..."

Tong Shuwen's gaze swept over the monitors in the directing room.

Each department was doing its job, the preparations related to the concert were progressing in an orderly manner.

And when the time reached six fifty.

All of the one hundred thousand spectators finally entered the venue, and all departments were in position!

"Get ready to start!"

At this moment, Tong Shuwen's voice was tinged with a hint of fanaticism.

...

On the scene.

While waiting for the start of the concert, the audience was engaging in heated discussions.

"It's about to start!"

In the third row of the east side grandstand.

Zhou Meng glanced at the time on her phone, her face filled with anticipation, "Just a few more minutes!"

Zhou Meng was a hardcore fan of Xian Yu.

She came with her boyfriend, Wang Yu.

For this, the young couple had both taken leave from their respective companies.

Wang Yu, her boyfriend, laughed and said, "I wonder what song Fish Daddy will sing first, I want to hear him sing 'Exaggeration' again!"

Zhou Meng laughed along, "I'm most looking forward to 'A Chuckle Across the Sea'."

A nearby spectator joined in the topic, "Will the ending song be 'The Ordinary Road'?"

Another spectator joined in, "I won't beat around the bush, I want to see Fish Daddy dance."

"Hahaha, come on, it's good enough just to listen."

"..."

Everyone burst into laughter.

They were all fans of Xian Yu.

The atmosphere at the venue was lively. Unfamiliar audiences communicated with each other, seemingly not feeling awkward at all. This might have had to do with everyone being there for the same person.

Amidst the laughter of the crowd...

An unanticipated sound, akin to the onslaught of a tidal wave, echoed through the venue.

The audience instinctively raised their heads.

The stage's giant screen featured an enormous fish circling high in the sky, eclipsing sun and earth!

Shortly thereafter...

A beam of light descended.

With a thud, an ocean formed on the stage floor with multicolored fish swimming freely.

In the midst of these stunning special effects...

Your next journey awaits at My Virtual Library Empire

A distant voice started to hum softly:

"The silent waves bury the nightfall deep, flooding all corners beyond the sky ends..."

The song echoed from afar, drawing closer.

Jiang Kui gradually appeared on the stage lift at the center.

Applause poured from the audience.

It wasn't surprising to see Jiang Kui on stage.

Concerts typically start with a warm-up act by a guest performer.

Mainly to avoid the audience having to wait aimlessly, which is why there is always such an arrangement before the official start of the concert.

The selection of the song "Big Fish" was in fact an original composition by Xian Yu, popular amongst the fans.

Everyone enjoyed the familiar melody and lyrics flowing from Jiang Kui's lips, "Each and every tear is flowing towards you, returning to the seabed in the sky...."

Amidst the applause, the audience started discussing:

"What beautiful effects!"

"Based on the various concerts I've attended, Xian Yu's special effects are by far the best!"

"These effects alone are worth the ticket price!"

"Jiang Kui warming up the crowd seems fitting."

"I never get sick of the song 'Big Fish'."

"Many singers have covered this song, but I must admit, Jiang Kui's version is definitely the most beautiful!"

"Jiang Kui's version is indeed unsurpassable."

"..."

Moments after everyone started their discussion...

The music at the concert suddenly stopped.

This was a specially designed break in the music arrangement to catch the audience's attention.

The crowd instinctively paused their discussions.

One by one, they raised their heads to watch Jiang Kui gently step forward on stage.

"Hmm hmm hmm."

Jiang Kui's deep humming.

The colossal fish soars over the sea.

At that moment, a heart-stopping voice unexpectedly emerged, its haunting harmony touching even the most somber hearts—

"Ah~ ah~"

"Ahhh ahhh ahh~"

"Aah aah~ aah aah~"

"Aaaahh aaaaahhh~"

Mist twirled around the stage lift as the voice emerged from the midst of the fog.

Once the fog cleared...

A familiar slim figure was now revealed to everyone through the stage and the giant screen.

It was none other than Xian Yu!

The mesmerizing entrance of Xian Yu caused Zhou Meng to feel a buzzing at the top of her head. Goosebumps covered her entire body in an instant!

Almost unconsciously, she let out a scream at the top of her lungs!

Wang Yu was screaming too!

But no matter how loud their screams, they were merely part of a tidal wave of ecstatic screams from the crowd, culminating in a collective euphoria!

"I'm in awe the moment he opens his mouth!"

"This is what divine singing sounds like!"

"My ears are pregnant!"

"How can it sound this good!"

"My whole body is numb with excitement!"

"This isn't Big Fish, this is a marine siren!"

"This is the most explosive entrance I've ever seen!"

"If there's a version that can surpass Jiang Kui's 'Big Fish', it can only be a duet by Xian Yu and Jiang Kui!"

"Xian Yu is the greatest backup vocalist!"

"What a grand opening!"

"If I were the richest person in the world, I would pay a billion just to hear Xian Yu sing 'Ah' for me all day!"

"..."

Right at seven o'clock sharp, the personal concert of Xian Yu officially began with the enchanting song of a marine siren!

Chapter 657: Hundred Thousand Audiences Sing for Xian Yu

Everyone thought it was Jiang Kui warming up the stage, but the sudden appearance of Xian Yu gave the audience a huge surprise —

This stage entrance was brilliantly executed!

The greater surprise was Xian Yu's siren serenade.

It was like the sound of heaven!

The unexpected excitement on site, instantly created a memorable scene at the opening concert!

"Perfection!"

Backstage in the director's room.

The chief director Tong Shuwen slapped his thigh forcefully!

Originally, Xian Yu planned to appear on stage with Jiang Kui.

The idea of making an entrance in the middle of the music beat was Tong Shuwen's. He thought it would be more dazzling this way.

And indeed, Tong Shuwen pulled it off!

But the basis for such an explosive effect was that Xian Yu's entrance had to be impressive, capturing the ears of everyone instantly!

And Xian Yu did it too!

By the time "Big Fish" was over, the venue went into a complete frenzy!

Jiang Kui bowed and exited the stage, her eyes sparkling...

This was her first time singing on a stage of a hundred thousand people!

This opportunity was given to her by teacher Xian Yu!

Lin Yuan did not leave the stage.

He picked up the microphone and smiled, "Thank you everyone for coming to my concert, I see many familiar faces..."

"Cut to the celebrity shots!"

Backstage, Tong Shuwen immediately called out, this was the instinct of a concert director.

Whoosh whoosh whoosh!

As Lin Yuan started speaking, the camera quickly panned towards the audience, showing one familiar face after another!

Xia Fan, Zhao Ying Ge, Wei Haoyun, Chen Zhiyu, Sun Yaohuo...

And Jiang Kui who had just warmed up the crowd with Lin Yuan, all the members of the Yu Dynasty were present!

Even Fei Yang and the white swan Shu Yu were there!

Quite a few people from the film and television industry also attended.

For instance, Lin Yuan's good friend, "Spiderman" Jian Yi;

Also the comedian He Sheng who just starred in "The Truman Show";

The extremely popular budding actor Ren Yan who played the main character Sun Wukong in "Journey to the West";

The movie emperor of Starlight, Zhang Xiuming, who played the male lead in "Hachiko";

There were even some celebrities whom Lin Yuan did not recognize.

This group seemed to all be Xian Yu fans, they were actually holding glow sticks in their hands!

Besides,

Several big shots from the composer circle also attended, all of whom had decent relationships with Lin Yuan, or had crossed paths with him before. Your adventure continues at My Virtual Library Empire

Yin Dong, Ye Zhi Qiu, Zheng Jing, and Yang Zhongming!

The camera even gave Yang Zhongming a close-up shot, and Yang Zhongming cheekily raised his eyebrows at the camera.

The entire audience screamed!

With a hundred thousand people on site, everyone didn't know who all were seated in the front rows, until the camera panned to them —

"Father Yang is here!"

"A lot of top stars from the film, TV, and music industries are here! Is this still a concert? It's clearly a star-studded gathering!"

"I see King Fei!"

"Film Emperor, King of Singing, Queen of Singing, Maestro, and I think I saw a movie queen just now... this lineup is insane..."

"Fish Papa's powerful influence!"

"How many celebrities are actually fans of Fish Papa!"

"Seems like Fish Papa has become an idol to many celebrities now!"

"Was Shadow given a shot, or did I miss it?"

"Where is the old rascal Chu Kuang! Show yourself!"

"So many big shots are here with me, watching Fish Papa's concert!"

"..."

A galaxy of stars!

Even if they couldn't find the people everyone was anticipating, Shadow and Chu Kuang, seeing so many top stars at Xian Yu's concert was enough to stir up excitement!

In the midst of countless excited screams,

Lin Yuan suddenly placed his hand over his mouth.

In an instant.

The entire audience went silent.

The hustle and bustle, was as if it never existed.

"Splendid!"

In the director's room, Tong Shuwen slapped his thigh forcefully!

This was a crowd control technique that some top stars employed, but most people wouldn't dare to try, as the chances of it going awry were too high.

Just imagine.

If the audience is enjoying themselves, and a star suddenly makes a silencing gesture, but the crowd continues to chat as if they didn't see it...

Wouldn't that be extremely awkward?

The audience would probably feel awkward as well.

Only when a star's prestige reaches a certain level, can the audience show such cooperation!

And as the venue quieted down,

A piece of music suddenly started playing.

"Dong, dong, dong!"

Three consecutive notes, the mixture of the synthesizer and electric guitar together brought the silent venue back to life!

"It's 'Exaggerated'!"

Admirable Fish had written many songs, all of which were widely discussed.

But if you were to gauge his most popular song, 'Exaggeration' would certainly be at the top!

So, when this song sounded, the audience was thrilled!

Everyone seemed to be transported back to the stage of 'The Masked Singer', once again witnessing Admirable Fish's hysteria.

"In the evening starry sky..."

Lin Yuan picked up the microphone and started to sing.

As he started singing, the same song erupted from the audience:

"In the evening starry sky... you only spot the brightest star..."

Lin Yuan laughed.

He stopped singing.

He pointed the microphone towards the audience.

This was suggested by the director Tong Shuwen.

During the concert, if it's a song that everyone is very familiar with, you might consider giving the audience a chance to sing along.

And the audience indeed complied.

The average Admirable Fish fan could sing this song:

"Among the crowd, you admire the one who is most often talked about..."

Maybe only a few thousand people were singing at first, but as the chorus progressed, more and more people joined:

"Those prying eyes, those gossiping mouths, entertain themselves after each meal..."

The climax had arrived!

This part must be sung by himself!

Lin Yuan tried to take back the microphone, aiming to sing it himself.

But before he could take it back, nearly a hundred thousand audiences were singing in unison, deliberately stretching their voices to the highest pitch:

"Must we exaggerate, meaningless right and wrong, true and false..."

Watching the audience sing with all their might, Lin Yuan was stunned for a moment.

Is it not over yet?

Am I going to sing or are you?

His expression was twisted, looking like a microphone dominator in a KTV who had his microphone taken.

Seeing everyone sing so passionately, Lin Yuan didn't have the heart to take back the microphone, and could only listen to everyone continue to sing...

One of the most annoying things in KTV is when you snatch the microphone or switch the songs when others are happily singing.

Lin Yuan was too embarrassed to do such a thing.

"Hahahaha!"

Noticing Lin Yuan's distorted expression, Zheng Jing bent over laughing:

"Little Fish is too cute!"

The stars around him also couldn't hold back their laughter.

"I am going to die of laughter!"

"A hundred thousand people are singing for Admirable Fish!"

"He can't even sing now even if he wanted to!"

"The audience only wants to sing their own song; they don't want to listen to him sing!"

"This scene will definitely make headlines when the concert is released!"

"Earlier one, he had the audience under his control successfully, but he couldn't maintain his charm even for three seconds!"

"..."

The audience began to laugh too.

Zhou Meng smirked and said: "We are not here to spend money to listen to a concert, but to sing songs to Admirable Fish... Subjectively, objectively, there are too many obstacles... good and bad, you have to bear it yourself..."

Alas.

They started to sing again.

A true mass choir of a hundred thousand people!

While everyone was singing, they were having the time of their lives!

Inside the broadcast room.

Tong Shuwen was left in tears of laughter.

I told you to lead the audience to sing along, not to make a hundred thousand audience members your fans, hey!

"Does this count as a performance accident?"

The assistant director, repressing his laughter, coughed before speaking.

"Even if it is a performance accident, it is the most spectacular one. Immediately capture the close-ups of Admirable Fish's facial expression. We have our second highlight!"

Tong Shuwen commanded excitedly.

Admirable Fish's expression appeared on the big screen in an instant.

At that moment!

The whole audience burst into laughter!

Innocently bewildered, Admirable Fish's expression was the hit of the evening!

Amidst the background singing, the audience was laughing their heads off!

The on-site singing mixed with laughter created a loud noise, continuing till the end of the song!

Throughout the song 'Exaggeration', Lin Yuan, from beginning to end, sang just the first line...well, half of it, he didn't even finish a sentence.

In the ending notes of the song,

Lin Yuan stood on the stage, the microphone was pointed towards the audience, and for a moment he looked rather confused.

Who am I?

Where am I?

What am I supposed to do?

Who's performing the concert?

Chapter 658: Sing 'Exaggeration' Again

Xian Yu's confusion...

Xian Yu's indecisiveness...

Lin Yuan's cluelessness...

All these misunderstood expressions appeared in close-up on the stage's large screen, causing the audience's laughter to continue far after the end of the song "Exaggeration." The atmosphere was even more lively than when Xian Yu started his siren's song!

"Poor Fish Papa is having a hard time!"

"In the last song, Jiang Kui was the main performer. He chanted a bit, there were no lyrics. And then at the start of the second song, the audience finished singing the whole song before he could!"

"He didn't get a chance to sing, really now?"

"Fish Papa must be afraid to pass the microphone now."

"Fish Papa's expressions are too funny. I feel like we could make a bunch of memes when the show airs. How did the style become so hilarious? I, myself, was singing and laughing so hard that my stomach hurts!"

"..."

Everyone was excitedly engaging in discussions.

Just as the audience was eagerly discussing, the stage lights suddenly dimmed.

The music that played next left everyone stunned:

"Deng——Deng——Deng!"

The sound of electric guitar accompanied by the effects of a synthesizer.

That prelude, is unmistakably from the song "Exaggeration" again!

Pfft!

In an instant!

The entire venue burst into laughter again!

Zhou Meng was laughing so hard that she squeezed her boyfriend's thigh:

"Fish Papa is so shameless, he's actually going to perform 'Exaggeration' again!"

Her boyfriend, Wang Yu, grimaced:

"After all, he didn't get to sing it earlier, the audience sang it all..."

"Hahaha, Fish Papa is awesome!"

"Who let you guys sing first, Fish Papa won't admit defeat!"

"Xian Yu declares: This is my concert, you all have to listen to me sing it again!"

"..."

The audience is laughing hysterically!

Look at what Xian Yu has been driven to?

The same song is going to be performed twice!

The celebrities in the front rows were quite taken aback.

Is this necessary?

Because the audience sang earlier, and he didn't get to, is Xian Yu planning to perform "Exaggeration" again?

Backstage, in the director's room.

Tong Shuwen looked sly yet secretive, saying mysteriously:

"An accidental happening produced an unexpected result."

Don't forget.

Xian Yu is very adept at playing two different tunes with the same prelude!

The same prelude had everyone believing Xian Yu would perform "Exaggeration" again.

No one felt dissatisfied.

Everyone found this whole situation hilariously entertaining!

The cameras panned over the audience.

The faces across all four sides of the stage were beaming with smiles.

Some were even prepared to sing along with Xian Yu again.

At that moment.

Xian Yu began to sing:

"Some ask and I will respond, but what if there is no one

I am longing yet helpless, I have things to say yet no accepting ears

My feelings like a bottle waiting to be uncorked

But my mouth is cultivating moss

In the crowd, the more reserved I am, the more I am ignored

I have to stir up some surprise

..."

The audience's laughter instantly froze.

Some wanted to sing along, but found that the lyrics didn't match at all.

Everyone glanced at each other, the scene went quiet.

A few seconds later.

The entire venue went wild!

Especially the audience from Qi Continent!

It was "Exaggeration"!

But this wasn't the Mandarin version of "Exaggeration"!

Xian Yu had prepared a Qi language version of "Exaggeration"!

And he could actually sing in the Qi language!

The same melody, but a different style, instantly captivated everyone's ears!

Onstage.

Lin Yuan's voice was magnetic:

"Like suddenly singing"

"Anywhere could be a four-sided stage"

"Wearing the shiniest shirt"

"Acting so emotional"

"If someone takes a picture, remember to pose with a pocket..."

Lin Yuan belted out the song, while the high overhead camera swiftly moved across the stage, projecting images on the large screen, capturing the audience on all sides!

At the same time.

Lin Yuan's voice suddenly deepened, potently striking everyone's heartstrings:

"You may think I'm exaggerating"

"Exaggeration just because I am really afraid"

"Does speaking as woodenly or stone-facedly"

"Get any attention"

"I fear being forgotten so I play it up"

"I am uneasy can't be elegant"

"Does the world still praise silence"

"Not making enough of a blast"

"Why won't you let me exaggerate"

"To be a great entertainer?"

The Qi language lyrics appeared on the large screen, each word and each sentence piercing the heart, as if there were a thunderous explosion on the scene!

Boom!

Amidst the wild screams, countless audience members held up their cheering signs!

"This is the Qi language version of 'Exaggeration'!"

Zheng Jing was astonished: "Why does it sound so good!"

Yang Zhongming took a deep breath, serious expression on his face: "It's even more complete than the Mandarin version!"

Next to him.

Ye Zhi Qiu was tearing at his hair!

Yin Dong remained as expressionless as always, but his mouth was now wide open, seemingly unable to close.

One song in two languages!

Everyone knew that "Extravagance" was one of Xian Yu's representative works, hence why people could happily sing along.

Yet, no one expected that.

Today, Xian Yu had brought a brand-new version of "Extravagance," artfully demonstrating a single song in two languages!

And....

The impact was even more explosive!

Is Qi language, perhaps, the correct way to sing this song?

No one knew if this assessment was correct, but they felt a tinge of goosebumps on their scalp!

They couldn't sing along!

Even if they knew the melody by heart!

Everyone had even forgotten the Mandarin lyrics, with only the Qi language lyrics displayed on the big screen intensely captivating their gaze:

"That year as a nobody at the school dance at the age of eighteen,

With tears, I swore that all of you must notice me.

There are too many paths of mundanity in life,

Which of these houses in the village do you live in?

The neglect I've suffered in work and love is too much,

My dignity has suffered greatly.

Appreciation can quell hunger, having never received it, you'll know why

I make such grand gestures, committing these mistakes.

Do people think my desire to be seen is a disease...."

This was Lin Yuan's first time singing a song in Qi language, but even Zhou Meng, who was from Qi Continent, had to admit at this moment:

Xian Yu's Qi language was even more authentic than the natives!

What was scarier was that....

After singing this song in Qi language, it seemed to transform and take on a new form!

The lyrics were too good!

It was even more explosive than the Mandarin version!

Not just Zhou Meng felt this way.

Zhou Meng's boyfriend also agreed. He had to shout to make his girlfriend hear him: "Why do I feel like it sounds better than the Mandarin version...."

At this moment.

No one noticed.

Sun Yaohuo's eyes were slightly red.

It seemed like the lyrics of this song had entered his heart.

In fact, not only Sun Yaohuo.

Several singers' expressions more or less blushed with emotion.

Who hasn't experienced moments of insignificance and humility?

Who hasn't sworn in their hearts to make a name in the entertainment industry?

Perhaps we were all once underage or not, but many of us had indeed been the overlooked "nobodies" in the lyrics.

"There are not many fortunate people

If you've never been one, you'll understand why I

Exert ten times the effort to be outstanding

Is it enough for me to be rich for your discussions

...."

The familiar instrumental interludes arrived.

Then the third chorus shocked the entire venue again, everyone was drenched in sweat:

"Call me extravagant if you wish

A few more boos won't scare me

If I make a mess on stage, will you still watch my performance

Is it outrageous enough

To water the flowers with my tears

All I wish for is to surprise you

Is my past as if it never existed

Increase the stakes

Even my veins are showing through

Say, do you acknowledge my existence now

...."

The same lyrics!

Different impacts!

People felt as if they were listening to a brand-new song, crazily spreading to every corner of the venue!

Lin Yuan was not singing about himself.

But a song in itself was a performance.

He had his character positioning.

Without deliberate effort, his voice echoed the core of the lyrics. His current voice had a grainy character with a hint of huskiness:

"Stare at me, don't just look at the ceiling,

I may not be your cup of tea

But you can still drink freely

Don't forget someone's wasting his voice for you

...."

At this moment, who dares to say that humans don't share the same emotions?

These so-called big shots in the front row seemed to have heard their own stories in the song.

Their personal stories might vary, but one by one, their eyes turned red.

The camera panned over their faces!

Their emotions infected every single viewer!

In the Mandarin version of "Extravagance," Lin Yuan sang about his own experiences.

But for the Qi language version of "Extravagance," Lin Yuan seemed to have created it for the ups and downs of everyone in the entertainment circle.

The entertainment circle entertains people and makes fools of itself. The harsh reality of the industry was vividly pierced by the ruthless lyrics!

"Ah!!!"

When the song ended, the hysteric screams marked the nearly perfect performance!

Lin Yuan's voice resonated in everyone's eardrums!

"Xian Yu!"

"Xian Yu!!"

"Xian Yu!!!"

The four sides of the stage filled with wild screams!

After claiming his victory in The Masked Singer, Xian Yu once again stunned the crowd with "Extravagance," winning over a hundred thousand people!

The original version of "Extravagance" was sung true to its roots!

It shook the world during Xian Yu's concert!

The audience then realized:

Turns out "Big Fish" can be even better to hear!

Turns out "Extravagance", can be even more shocking!

Chapter 659 Pleading Fish Papa to write a Song in Chu Language

Bang!

Watching the surging atmosphere on the spot, Tong Shuwen fiercely slapped his thigh for the third time, then grimaced—

Ouch.

Can't slap it anymore, or else my thigh will go numb. Tong Shuwen rubbed his leg and drew in a cold breath, then laughed like a 180-pound child.

Come on!

Sing it again!

Here's your microphone!

Join me in the chorus!

At this moment, Tong Shuwen was full of devilish delight, amidst the bustling voices on the spot, screams accompanied the waves of discussion:

"This version is astonishing!"

"I feel like it's even better than the original!"

"Daddy Fish sings so well!"

"Mainly, the feeling this song gives is so compelling. Daddy Fish is truly a musical genius, using the same melody but playing it differently like early versions of "Red Rose" and "White Rose," which were in Mandarin and Qi language.

Then there was the song for Sun Yaohuo, "Ten Years," which also had a Qi language version called "Next Year, Today." Not to mention the English version of "Farewell Kiss," which was made to slam the Han people's face. Truly, no one knows how to two-time a song better than Daddy Fish!"

"What a blessing for the Qi people!"

"Even us Qi people can't find anything wrong with Daddy Fish's level of Qi language. If I didn't know Daddy Fish's identity, I would almost think he is a Qi person. No wonder Daddy Fish's Qi language lyrics are so good!"

"..."

The atmosphere was truly lit!

In this boiling milieu, Lin Yuan sang several familiar songs in succession, like "Red Rose" that a viewer just mentioned. These songs were all written by Lin Yuan for other singers, and he hadn't previously sung them in public, so this continuous singing whipped the crowd into a frenzy!

"The next song is 'Rooftop'."

Lin Yuan introduced the next song, which is a duet type song. Lin Yuan can sing in both the male and female vocal ranges, which is his specialty.

This vocal technique is terrific onstage!

The moment Lin Yuan switched voices, it immediately triggered countless screams from the audience. And when Lin Yuan sang to the climactic part of the second chorus, he was already moving towards the edge of the stage, ready to interact with the audience!

But Lin Yuan has wisened up!

He can't just hand over the microphone to the audience, otherwise, he'd be taken out of his own performance. Instead, he should just hand it to one audience member. He couldn't mess up if he tried. Lin Yuan praised himself for his cleverness!

"Admirable Fish!"

When Lin Yuan walked to the east edge of the stage and gestured to hand over the microphone, the audience in that area started screaming. A short, chubby male audience member was keen to stand up and walk towards Lin Yuan.

Security on standby.

Ready to protect our Admirable Fish at any time.

The male spectator was intensely excited, and as soon as he got near the microphone, he started passionately singing along, "I quietly close the door and carry my hopes upstairs, ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha isn't that person me in my dream ha ha ha ha ha ha..."

Pff!

What was that!

Is this a car crash scene?

The audience all around was laughing their heads off!

The male audience member was singing the lyrics perfectly, but he sang every word off-key. Toward the end, he even broke into donkey-like laughter and quickly returned to his seat.

"..."

Lin Yuan was stunned.

The close-up shot on the big screen showed his face filled with confusion, seemingly unable to understand how this audience member managed to sing every word off-key. As a result, when he took back the microphone, he didn't know how to continue singing. Not only was the tune off, but he also mis-sang several lyrics. He finished the song pinching his thigh.

"Hahaha!"

"Daddy Fish looks so dumb!"

"How hilarious!"

"That guy is such a badass!"

"He's even made Daddy Fish sing off-key!"

"Daddy Fish should never try to interact with the audience again, he never knows what kind of oddballs there could be in the audience. Both times he's tried to interact it's ended up being a complete gaffe, this second attempt was actually more outrageous compared to the first one!"

"Why is Daddy Fish's concert so hilarious!"

"It's so damn funny, when the concert video becomes public, I'm going to watch this part again for sure. I have a feeling that guy might go viral!"

"..."

Lin Yuan readjusted himself.

The concert had to go on. The audience wasn't laughing anymore. The failed interaction was just an amusing interlude, for the audience was more curious about what song Admirable Fish would sing next.

"Next up, 'Farewell Kiss'?"

As the new music started, some in the audience already knew what song it was. The audience was predominately hardcore fans who were very familiar with Admirable Fish's songs. The moment the prelude sounded, they could immediately follow along.

However.

When Lin Yuan sang the first line of the lyrics, the audience below the stage was somewhat stunned!

Nobody expected that Lin Yuan was going to sing the English version of "Farewell Kiss"!

Which means... "Take Me To Your Heart"!

"Hiding from the rain and snow, Trying to forget but I won't let go, Looking at a crowded street..."

Next moment!

The whole venue cheers!

Especially the Han Continent spectators at the venue, they were extremely excited!

Not everyone could sing English songs, especially for someone from the Qin Continent like Xian Yu.

Everyone originally thought that Lin Yuan would sing the Mandarin version of 'Farewell Kiss'!

After all, before this concert, Lin Yuan never sung any Qi language songs, let alone English which is relatively unfamiliar to everyone!

"Fish Papa is a newbie!"

"Not only can he sing in Qi language, but his English is so good!"

"Don't forget that the lyrics to 'Take Me To Your Heart' were written by Fish Papa himself, since he could write English song lyrics, him being able to speak English is pretty normal!"

"The problem isn't that Fish Papa knows English!"

"The most terrifying thing is that Fish Papa's English is too fluent - there's no difference between his and ours as Han people!"

"Fish Papa is respectful!"

"This language talent is really amazing!"

"..."

Everyone on Blue Star can speak Mandarin.

But only the Qi people can speak Qi language!

And English, among the five continents that have united so far, only Han people can speak!

But Xian Yu can sing both Qi language and English songs, and both sound great!

For many, this is really impressive!

Even on Earth, how many people can speak English, Qi language, and Mandarin all at once?

Front row.

Zheng Jing was unexpectedly stunned, "He can sing in English? I thought the English lyrics of 'Farewell Kiss' were composed from a reference book."

Yang Zhongming said, "He's a genius, his language talent is excellent."

Sun Yaohuo sighed, "It turns out my junior's English is so good. The English version of 'Farewell Kiss' could actually be sung by him."

Aside.

Chen Zhiyu nodded seriously, feeling a little embarrassed and lost for a moment, "Teacher Admirable Fish sings better than I do..."

Chen Zhiyu's English is already quite good compared to ordinary people.

But when compared to Xian Yu's, it lacks some of the authentic accent.

In this case, it was really kind of Lin Yuan to let him sing the song.

"Not just you."

Jiang Kui looked in the direction of the stage, her eyes sparkling,

"Teacher Admirable Fish could also sing 'Big Fish' and other songs. If we talk about singing abilities, we singers from the Yu Dynasty are not as good as him, but he has always been selflessly helping us. We owe him a lot..."

Most composers give their songs to singers to perform because they can't sing their own songs.

Xian Yu is different.

The songs he has written for many others, he could actually sing himself, and even better than the chosen singers!

Sun Yaohuo nodded. "Red Rose," which Lin Yuan just sang, was really good.

"This is Teacher Admirable Fish."

Zhao Ying Ge's eyes were firmly attracted by the stage as she murmured.

"This is Lin Yuan."

Xia Fan also spoke, her smile was warm.

"What about my song?"

Wei Haoyun asked curiously.

Everyone: "..."

Your song, he really can't sing it.

He only knows "Stay" and "Dance Party."

At this time.

On stage.

Lin Yuan had finished singing "Take Me To Your Heart."

Amid applause,

Suddenly a spectator in the audience shouted:

"I beg Fish Papa to write a song in Chu language!!!"

Chapter 660 lemon

"Fish Papa, please write a song in Chu language——"

No one knows who first shouted these words in the venue.

But without a doubt:

This shout spoke for the countless fans from Chu Continent!

Countless Chu Continent spectators in the arena joined in:

"Chu language!"

"Chu language!"

"Chu language!"

"..."

Fans from other continents in the same venue laughed.

Is the citrus too sour?

Why is the atmosphere in the venue so tart?

Listening to Xian Yu sing in the Qi language, then English, these Chu people finally become sour!

But these Chu people did not go too far.

They only asked Xian Yu to write a song in the Chu language, not to perform a song in the Chu language on the spot.

After all, it is a universally recognized fact that Xian Yu has never composed a song in the Chu language.

On the stage.

Lin Yuan heard the plea of the Chu Continent audience.

"Alright."

Lin Yuan agreed.

Upon hearing this, many Chu Continent audience members were so excited that their veins almost burst:

"Brilliant, Fish Papa!"

Many Chu people shout, merely to join in the fun.

But they did not expect that Xian Yu would agree so readily!

Lin Yuan said: "Up next, let's invite our guest singer, Zhao Yingge to the stage..."

The guest was ready to go on stage.

An important role of a guest at a concert is to help the singer transition.

Lin Yuan had sung ten songs in a row. He needed to go backstage to rest briefly and change his costume.

Zhao Yingge, who was already prepared, came to the stage.

The song she was going to sing was her hit song "Easy to Ignite and Explode".

Lin Yuan went backstage to quickly change his clothes.

"Teacher Admirable Fish!"

Tong Shuwen rushed over:

"Since the call of the Chu Continent audience is so strong, why not move the sixteenth song to the next round of singing and the eleventh song to the sixteenth position?"

Lin Yuan asked: "Will it affect the rhythm?"

Tong Shuwen shook his head with a smile: "We are just swapping the order of two songs, leave the stage arrangement to me." Stay connected via My Virtual Library Empire

"Okay."

Lin Yuan nodded.

The sixteenth song of this concert is a new song from Lin Yuan, which has not been released yet.

Naturally.

The new song is not the focal point.

The real centerpiece is that...

It's a classic Chu language song!

Which means a song in Japanese on Earth!

Yes.

Actually, without the suggestions of the Chu Continent audience,

Lin Yuan had already prepared a song in Chu language in the concert.

He wants to host a concert that will impress everyone and naturally won't neglect the fans from Chu Continent.

In Tong Shuwen's words, this is called "Even distribution of rewards".

Now that Tong Shuwen wants to adjust the order of the songs, it should be to give a surprise to Chu Continent and other audiences on site.

Lin Yuan is certainly willing to cooperate.

Regardless of the music genre or language, the music style of this concert is extremely rich. He also believes that this new Chu language song will not disappoint the audience on-site!

A few minutes later.

Zhao Yingge's performance was over.

Lin Yuan had also changed his clothes.

With a series of screams from the audience, Lin Yuan got on the lifting platform to take over the stage from Zhao Yingge. He appeared in front of the audience again!

"I just went down for a drink."

Lin Yuan's opening remarks amused many people in the audience.

Amid the laughter, Lin Yuan spoke again: "Next is a new song."

The laughter immediately turned into cheers!

"There really is a new song!"

In the audience.

Zhou Meng's voice was almost gone from the continuous screaming, but her excitement was undiminished:

"I knew it! How could Fish Papa, with such extensive creative energy, not prepare one or two new songs for the concert!"

Before the concert started.

Many people speculated that Xian Yu might prepare some new songs for the audience to enjoy.

Although the Qi language version of "Exaggeration" was a surprise, it technically did not count as a new song.

After all, the melody of the Qi language version is quite similar to the Mandarin version, with only a difference in arrangement.

The next song should be a bona fide new song!

"What will this song be like?"

Zhou Meng's boyfriend, Wang Yu, looked forward with anticipation.

All the audience are anticipating.

Under everyone's expectant gaze, a string of information suddenly appeared on the big screen:

"Song Name:"lemon""

"Lyrics: Xian Yu"

"Composer: Xian Yu"

"Singer: Xian Yu"

Seeing this song's title, the audience from Han Continent almost jumped out of their seats!

"It's an English song!"

"Another English song!"

"Kudos to Fish Papa!"

"Who would have thought Fish Papa wrote another English song!"

"He's been so considerate to us fans from Han Continent!"

"Fish Papa is so thoughtful!"

"He must be compensating us Han people!"

"After all, our Han music had been heavily 'militarized' by Fish Papa before."

"Hahaha, no matter the militarization, as long as Fish Papa keeps releasing good English songs!"

"Wait a minute!"

"This song is called 'lemon', which translated is a lemon, is Fish Papa sure it's not intentional?"

"Now the Chu people are going to sour to death!"

"..."

The Han people are delighted to the point of madness!

Audiences outside of Chu Continent are all laughing hysterically!

Because the song title is in English, everyone instinctively thought it was another English song.

"Ya Meadie!"

Wang Yu held his forehead: "I'm so jealous of the Han people!"

Wang Yu is a Chu native, he also joined when the spectators from Han Continent just called out to Xian Yu, hoping that he could write a song in Chu language.

"Didn't Fish Papa promise you Chu people that he'd write songs in Chu language in the future?"

His girlfriend Zhou Meng comforted.

Wang Yu had a grimace on his face: "That's what he said, but I still want to hear Fish Papa singing our Chu language songs at the concert..."

"Fish Papa is not omnipotent."

Zhou Meng laughed: "You have to give Fish Papa some time to learn your Chu language."

Wang Yu: "..."

I understand all that, but why is this song called "lemon"?

Wang Yu knows some simple English words and knows that "lemon" means "lemon".

It's sour enough already.

Are we Chu people expected to graciously continue to eat lemons?

We had enough of lemons!

Wang Yu and Zhou Meng are in a long-distance relationship.

Zhou Meng is a Qi native and wouldn't understand Wang Yu's feelings.

In fact, Wang Yu's feelings are also the feelings of the other Chu spectators.

Seeing Xian Yu sing several Qi songs in a row and wanting to sing several English songs in a row, the Chu people are really envious and hateful!

Especially when they saw the song title directly translated as "lemon", the emotions of Chu people became even more complicated!

At this moment.

The news that the song "lemon" translates as "lemon" has begun to circulate at the scene.

The laughter on the spot is getting louder and louder.

Xian Yu actually sang an English song called "lemon" at the most sour moment of the Chu people...

Of course, everyone knows it's just a coincidence.

But this coincidence is just too hilarious!

It's like a piece of dark humor!

However.

Just as the Chu people were preparing to forget the regret of language and focus on enjoying the new song from Xian Yu with these complicated emotions,

A song with a touch of confusion and sadness suddenly rang out:

"梦ならばどれほどよかったでしょう

(How wonderful it would be if all of this was just a dream)

未だにあなたのことを夢にみる

(I still encounter you in my dreams)

忘れた物を取りに帰るように

(As if to retrieve forgotten things)

古びた思い出の埃を払う

(Sweep away the dust that covers the old memories)

..."

Without any familiar instrumental prelude, within breaths, the melody mixed with the singing was already captivating!

Instantly!

The entire audience was dumbfounded!

With the deepening cultural exchange among continents, no one would not be able to recognize the language used in this song sung by Xian Yu.

Yes.

Although the song title "lemon" is in English, looking at the lyrics, this freaking song is decidedly a

Chu language song!!!