Chapter 711: Impossible Task

At a club. Read exclusive content at My Virtual Library Empire

Two men are having dinner together.

One of the men, after taking a bite, murmurs, "Tianmen, is this really okay for us to do?"

"I don't want to do it either."

The man across the table speaks, "But the offer from Tribe is simply too good, a condition we can't reject..."

Yes.

These two are none other than the two GOAT cartoonists invited by the New Website Alliance, Tianmen and Yeshenchen.

These are, of course, their pen names.

And they prefer to use their pen names when communicating privately.

"Our reputation might be seriously damaged if we proceed with this, we'll be seen like corporate spies. The Alliance will be severely damaged and Han Jimei, who has trusted us wholeheartedly, will be blamed for this mess."

Their moral restraint is indeed there.

However, Yeshenchen is more concerned about the damage to their reputations.

Tianmen replied calmly, "For cartoonists, the quality of their work is the foundation of their career. If our works are good, our reputation won't be greatly affected; if our works are poor, even a good reputation can't keep us fed. As for Han Jimei, she's too sentimental in her work and has a soft approach. It's inevitable for her to suffer defeat against ruthless competitors like Ling Kong.

If this incident becomes a lesson for her and can help her avoid future losses, it might not be completely bad for her."

Yeshenchen nods.

It seems to make sense.

They indeed betrayed Han Jimei's trust.

But it would be too much to say their reputation could ruin their careers. Cartoonists work behind the scenes, they are not celebrities, and there are many creators who have bad behavior.

After some cursing, it will pass.

As long as the work is good, the readers won't care too much about the nasty side of business competition.

"What I'm afraid of is Ling Kong breaching his promise..."

"The penalty specified in the new contract that Ling Kong gave us is sky-high, and he has also promised in the contract to help us pay the penalty on the Alliance's side. So, he wouldn't breach, since if he were to tear our agreement apart at such cost, no one would trust him when he tries to persuade people from other companies in the future."

Tianmen isn't worried about it.

Ling Kong knows the basic rules of business competition.

The reason he and Yeshenchen joined the Alliance was to have a stronger hand to negotiate with Tribe.

And now, his objective has been achieved.

Now, all they are doing is choosing the best tree to perch on, sacrificing a bit of their reputation for a great reward.

He just made the decision he thought was right.

Yeshenchen earnestly nodded, "Then we can only apologize to Shadow and the Alliance. 'A man will do anything for money, and a bird will do anything for food'; we don't need to refuse Tribe's generous offer just for the sake of the Alliance. After all, the reason we left Tribe and joined the Alliance in the first place was because Tribe gave us too harsh contract terms.

Now, even though our method isn't very honorable, at least we have obtained the contract from Tribe that we have long yearned for..."

As he was speaking,

Yeshenchen abruptly asked, "Tianmen, do you think the Alliance has any hope of fighting against Tribe after such a heavy blow?"

"Heh."

Tianmen let out a laugh with an ambiguous meaning.

Several seconds later, Yeshenchen also started laughing.

The two of them casually raised their glasses, gently clinked them together, and each took a small sip.

Everything was left unspoken.

Even if the three of them, including Shadow, had worked together, they could never have been a match for Tribe.

If the Alliance had truly been a website where they could establish themselves and secure their future, why would they damage their own reputation and return to Tribe?

Everyone has their own morality.

The difference lies only in the extent.

The newly opened Alliance.

Readers are repeatedly searching, but can't find any new works by Yeshenchen and Tianmen.

At first, everyone thought it was a technical issue and it didn't cause much disturbance.

But when everyone finished reading the explosive new chapter of Detective Chu Yu and still saw no new works by the two, people finally realized something was wrong.

"Why haven't Tianmen and Yeshenchen made any moves?"

"It's been about half an hour since the new website was launched!"

"Did they run away?"

"Are they standing us readers up?"

"If they've really run away, then it's not us readers they are standing up, it's the Alliance!"

"It must be a glitch, it's a new website after all, it's unavoidable."

"I don't think the problem is that serious. Maybe we are overthinking. Let's just wait and see."

"..."

Online users are becoming suspicious.

Right at this moment.

A comment suddenly appeared online!

"Damn, something big happened! Everyone, go look at Tribe's announcement!!"

Tribe?

The users paused for a moment, then quickly opened Tribe's website.

And then, a promotional announcement popped up for everyone:

[Tianmen's and Yeshenchen's new works to premiere exclusively on Tribe Comics! Welcome home, gentlemen!!]

What the-!

Everyone was stunned!

What's going on?

Did these two return to Tribe?

"Had my hopes up for nothing."

"I might as well continue reading comics on Tribe."

"Don't these two have any professional ethics? Didn't they say they went to the Alliance because they couldn't reach an agreement with Tribe? The Alliance is going to be screwed by these two!"

"What kind of people are these two!"

Everyone was startled by the news!

Shadow's fans directly cursed at them!

"It's just a normal job change."

Some of Tianmen's and Yeshenchen's fans defended them.

Shadow's fans were even angrier:

"Changing jobs is definitely not a problem, but it is a different case if you play out this act just when the Alliance is getting started. The Alliance has no grudges against these two so why such ill-intent?"

Tianmen's and Yeshenchen's fans retorted:

"Stop criticizing others from a moral high ground. It's Tianmen and Yeshenchen's choice to go wherever they want. The two teachers must have paid the breach of contract penalty; they have already paid the money they should have, what more do you want from them!"

Compensation?

The fans of Shadow fought back:

"This isn't a matter of breaching contract penalties, it's clearly a matter of character. These two have black hearts, they want to uproot the Alliance!"

"Stop exaggerating!"

The fans from both sides instantly started an online brawl!

Online bystanders collectively sighed:

"Now the Alliance is done for, there was hardly any chance of winning in the fight against Tribe Comics to start with, let alone now, with these two key figures gone."

The clash between the Alliance and Tribe had far-reaching consequences.

Netizens had been following it from start to finish.

Now with this sudden turn of events, who wouldn't understand what's going on?

It was definitely the Tribe poaching!

This is a deadly plot, so ruthless!

Can you believe it?

There are so few manga artists in the alliance who can make a significant contribution!

Counting them all, there are only Shadow, Tianmen and Yeshenchen!

Now, two powerful teammates have switched sides, leaving Shadow to fight alone!

Is the entire alliance going to survive solely on the comic "Detective Chu Yu" in the future?

Amid the shock of the entire web.

The newly established official microblog of the alliance also issued a new post:

[Tianmen and Yeshenchen have betrayed us and broken their contracts with the alliance, causing serious damage to the website's interests. From today, we officially declare: we will never work with these two again. Hereby notify everyone!]

There's no doubt now!

Tianmen and Yeshenchen have really stabbed the alliance in the back!

...

What the hell is the point of this!

Shadow's fans are falling apart!

The question now isn't about working with those two in the future!

The question is whether this new site can continue to operate!

Relying solely on Shadow's work won't be enough!

Is he supposed to fight all alone in the future?

No matter how popular Grim Reaper Elementary Student is, he can't take on the whole Tribe by himself!

And when it came to this situation, top influencers Xian Yu and Chu Kuang couldn't help much!

They were willing but unable!

It's all about manga tactics.

The competition among manga artists.

Xian Yu and Chu Kuang couldn't get involved!

The opponent was clearly targeting Shadow!

Even if the alliance won't collapse because of this, relying on a single comic by Shadow can only maintain a dying struggle at most.

The Tribe's capital is too strong!

This is another ruthless crush on a new website by a large capital force!

Just like how the Tribe had blocked Shadow before.

It was so powerless!

In the face of such wealthy and ruthless capital, Shadow and the newly formed alliance were utterly powerless!

Even the name "alliance" becomes ironic.

Alliance?

The people who allied with you have switched sides!

Have you ever seen an alliance with only one person?

At this moment!

Shadow's fans were completely desperate!

The casual netizens who supported the alliance also sighed helplessly.

A new manga website that originally had great potential, has just suddenly cooled down.

The story hasn't even started yet, and the curtain has already fallen prematurely.

But just at this moment.

Shadow's personal blog, surprisingly, updated its status again:

"Give me a week, and the alliance will have two more outstanding new works to replace Tianmen and Yeshenchen!"

A blast!

At this moment!

Everyone who saw this post froze!

?????

Has Shadow gone crazy with anger?

He actually said there would be two works to replace Tianmen and Yeshenchen in a week?

Where did he get the confidence?

Or rather, where did he get the works?

And there are two of them?

Could it be that the Alliance can poach two manga artists from the Tribe who are not weaker than Tianmen and Yeshenchen, and even better?

How is this possible?

Would the Tribe give this chance?

The same tricks, the Tribe can use, how could they not be prepared?

Besides, there's no reason for Tribe's manga artists to join the Alliance!

In the current state of the Alliance, who dares to go?

But if they don't poach from the Tribe, they won't be able to find any more powerful manga artists from other websites than Tianmen and Yeshenchen!

Let alone more powerful...

It's impossible even if they want to find two manga artists of the same level as these two!

Tribe Comics has monopolized the entire industry!

Could it be that Shadow plans to draw two comics himself and fill these huge gap?

Wait a minute...

Could Shadow really be planning to draw them himself?

This terrifying guess emerged in everyone's mind!

Considering the current predicament.

This seems to be the only possibility?

Is he preparing to produce two comics that are more brilliant than the new works of Tianmen and Yeshenchen in a week's time?

Three in a row?

Impossible!

This was everyone's first reaction!

Creating one is believable, "Detective Chu Yu" can explain everything!

As talented as Tianmen and Yeshenchen are, their new comics are unlikely to surpass this classic!

But the problem is...

Shadow already has "Detective Chu Yu"!

Where would he get the energy and ability to create two more works of the same level as "Detective Chu Yu"?

Impossible!

Not just the first reaction, no matter how everyone analyzed this post, they all came up with this conclusion - the task that Shadow set, is simply impossible to complete!

Maybe he was provoked too much?

Shadow has truly gone mad this time!!!

Chapter 712: We are Invincible in the World

"Have you lost your mind!?"

At Shadow Studio, Jin Mu looked at Lin Yuan with disbelief!

Today, when Han Jimei called to tell him that Tianmen and Yeshenchen had betrayed the alliance, Lin Yuan had said he would fill these two gaps himself.

But under the circumstances at the time, neither Jin Mu nor Han Jimei took him seriously.

Because both of them knew that Lin Yuan was angry at the moment!

When people are angry, they tend to make rash statements, even nonsense.

While uttering such angry words or nonsense, the person doesn't take into account the reality.

They only realize the impossibility of fulfilling their words after they have cooled down.

Jin Mu thought Lin Yuan should have cooled down by now.

Out of respect for Lin Yuan's feelings, he didn't bring up those rash statements and nonsense again.

But what Jin Mu didn't expect was that Lin Yuan posted something akin to a declaration on his blog without telling anyone ——

In one week, two more exciting new comics will replace Yeshenchen and Tianmen?

Impossible!

Jin Mu's reaction was identical to the netizens'.

Even though Jin Mu understood Lin Yuan's terror more than anyone else!

"Anything is possible."

Lin Yuan played two jokes that Jin Mu would never understand, "You can always believe in the light."

At this time?!

You still have time for jokes?

Wearing a mask of pain, Jin Mu said, "I can force myself to trust you, that you might indeed have the ability to have three works simultaneously reach the quality of Grim Reaper Elementary Student, but certainly not within a week!"

"Where there's a will, there's a way."

This time Lin Yuan didn't joke anymore. He called Luo Wei and the assistants in.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

Everyone's eyes were fixed on Lin Yuan.

Everyone was aware of the declaration that Teacher Shadow posted on his blog.

For a moment, everyone had mixed feelings.

Comics were their profession, so everyone knew that what Teacher Shadow had said was impossible to achieve.

Perhaps Teacher Shadow himself hadn't realized...

He had lost his sanity.

"Do you want to try with me?"

Lin Yuan calmly met everyone's gaze, "To create a miracle."

"You're my teacher."

Luo Wei spoke with a smile, then looked at the other assistants.

"Let's do it!"

"Ms. Luo Wei lacks interest."

"Teacher Shadow is our teacher too!"

"Stop acting like we weren't taught by Teacher Shadow."

"Exactly!"

"The debt of gratitude to the teacher is hard to pay, we'll accompany you even at the risk of our lives!"

Lin Yuan is Luo Wei's teacher, and their teacher too.

They would support any decision made by their teacher, even if they knew it was impossible.

"There's no need to risk your lives."

Lin Yuan spoke, a mysterious spark in his eyes.

Of course, he knew the words he posted were a bit insane.

Insanity!

Even Lin Yuan himself thought it was a bit insane!

Starting a new comic and expecting it to quickly catch on like Grim Reaper Elementary Student, based solely on a few chapter updates, is very unrealistic.

You need a lot of content!

Grim Reaper Elementary Student became a hit by releasing a string of stored drafts all at once. You can't just throw out a few chapters and expect to be bombarded with praise by internet users, right?

It's unrealistic.

If you want the new comics to be equally popular, everyone must provide a large volume of updates!

How quickly can a comic be updated?

Besides, this is three!

But Lin Yuan wanted to give it a try!

Indulging once!

Going insane once!

This time, he not only wanted to fiercely counterattack Tribe's insidious tactics!

In the future

He would also make Tribe Comics pay a much heavier price!

Such as...

Taking their place!

When was the last time he was this angry?

It seems like it was when he was participating in The Masked Singer wearing a mask.

The truth he realized back then was indeed correct, the world is ruled by the strong!

Why does Xian Yu remain unscathed?

Why didn't anything happen to Chu Kuang?

Why did something happen to Shadow, the one acknowledged as the weakest among the three bros?

Because he's weak.

In their eyes, Shadow is very weak.

In that case, I'll prove Shadow's strength in the most magnificent way.

Lin Yuan wants to push to the extreme!

With only three series, within a week, he would surprise everyone with the speed at which the next two comics would blow up!

"Let's get to work!"

Lin Yuan walked into the drawing studio.

Luo Wei and others followed him immediately.

Jin Mu stared blankly as the crowd entered, his phone ringing off the hook.

There were calls from Starlight, Han Jimei, even from bloggers...

All of them were asking what happened to Shadow.

"He said, have faith in light!"

Jin Mu was finally overwhelmed by this group of people, and this meaningless phrase was his response to all their questions.

"Uncle Jin."

Luo Wei suddenly poked her head out of the drawing room: "Could you go get some elixir?"

Elixir?

Jin Mu's expression twisted.

Had these people gone mad?

Luo Wei cleared her throat: "Coffee, Carabao, and some little blue pills!"

"The little blue pill isn't..."

The corner of Jin Mu's mouth twitched slightly.

"Alright, in short, coffee and some functional drinks, I want everyone to stay energetic, we're likely going to be up for a week!"

Luo Wei clenched her fists.

Jin Mu: "..."

Four words flashed through his mind:

[Fiery, fierce and formidable]

He had no choice but to comply.

If this doesn't work, nothing else will.

When Luo Wei watched Jin Mu leave and turned her head, she saw Lin Yuan writing the names of two new comics on blank paper.

They were named:

One Piece!!!

Naruto!!!

These were the two new series Teacher Shadow was planning for the triple series?

Could these two new comics really replace Tianmen and Yeshenchen, even overtake their new works?

Luo Wei appeared lost.

Her doubts disappeared completely an hour later.

When everyone saw the plot of the story...

Continue your journey with My Virtual Library Empire

When they witnessed each amazing storyboard script...

When everyone...

At some point, their faces began glowing with enthusiasm – their voices were trembling:

"This is..."

"King's Path comics!"

"Teacher Shadow can actually do a battle-oriented King's Path comic!"

"This is the topic Yeshenchen and Tianmen are best at!"

"Yeshenchen and Tianmen are nothing compared to this!"

"Compared to these two works, their new works are shit!"

"..."

The way they were looking at Lin Yuan was entirely different – it was no longer just a student's respect for their teacher!

It was more like...

Reverence as if to a god!!!

Even Luo Wei was breathing fast, her whole body was trembling!

Her skills were higher than the rest of the assistants!

That's why, after seeing these two comics, she was even more shocked than everyone else!

Regardless whether there were gods in the world!

Once these two comics were published, Teacher Shadow would become a god, receiving the utmost respect from all the comic artists in the industry!

["Uzumaki Naruto, here I am!"]

As Lin Yuan wrote this line in the first comic, he looked at Uzumaki Naruto created by his pen and spoke:

"What you all said is correct..."

Without raising his head, Lin Yuan wrote another line on the second comic beside Luffy's smiling face:

["I'm set on becoming the king of pirates!"]

At the same time, Lin Yuan's voice continued to echo with an irresistible meaning:

"We are invincible."

Chapter 713 Fiery, Fierce and Formidable

That's right!

It's One Piece!

It's Naruto!

They say a serious illness needs a strong remedy!

These two works, they are the very definition of strong remedies!

The well-known Dead Sea of Fire, the so-called legendary trio of popular manga...

If time permits, if energy is sufficient, Lin Yuan doesn't mind bringing out "Death God" and a series of top-tier manga works all at once!

Because...

He is very angry!

But time and energy are just not enough at the moment.

So, for now, using these two works, combined with "Detective Chu Yu", let's turn the world of manga upside down, which is already Lin Yuan's limit!

But this wave will uphold the title of the manga world's unparalleled supremacy!

Grim Reaper Elementary Student plus One Piece and Naruto, aren't they deserving of the title 'Matchless Under the Heavens'?

If this is not enough, there will still be more in the future!

There will be bread and milk!

No more laziness!

Really, no more laziness!

I can achieve whatever the readers want!

"Thump."

Lin Yuan suddenly heard a noise.

Turning his head, he saw Luo Wei next to him abruptly go weak in the knees...

She was kneeling.

"Teacher, please accept my salute!"

And then the other assistants, following her example, knelt down.

A man's knees are filled with gold.

Kneeling to heaven and earth, the ruler, parents and teachers!

Kneeling to your teacher!

There's no shame in that!

Ms. Luo Wei?

We respect her as an absolute bro!

Lin Yuan: "You guys..."

Everyone: "Teacher, I want to learn..."

Lin Yuan: "Play basketball?"

Everyone: "Ah?"

Just at that moment.

Jin Mu returned.

As he pushed the door open, he saw what was going on in front of him, scratched his head, closed the door, and reopened it.

Hmm?

Was it not opened correctly?

"What are you guys doing?"

Jin Mu's brain was a bit laggy.

He had no idea what had happened in the studio while he was away, the scene was to some extent, bizarre.

Had these people really lost their minds?

"Get up and draw."

Lin Yuan spoke helplessly.

This round of applause was not accepted in vain.

But going forward, each person was going to work on a manga.

Everyone got up, chuckling weirdly, their laughter leaving Jin Mu somewhat shaken.

"These are the elixirs you asked for..."

He took out a bunch of functional drinks and some supposedly insanely effective brands of coffee.

"Get it brewing!"

Luo Wei yelled out: "Grab your tools, bros!"

Jin Mu: ???

Were they planning a midnight raid on a tribe?

That's not even close!

He was stunned by this fantastical atmosphere and stepped out of the room, dutifully brewing the elixir for everyone.

The work began.

Everyone was working tirelessly!

Working as if their lives depended on it!

But in the end, they were only human.

No matter how insane, hysterical, or energized by the elixir, people couldn't go on indefinitely.

The group had been drawing non-stop till late in the night and began to falter.

Dark circles appeared under the assistants' eyes.

Even if they could hold on, their hands, used for drawing, were somewhat out of control.

"Go sleep if you can't cope."

Jin Mu too was staying up all night with everyone else.

Even if he couldn't fully understand the situation, he knew that everyone was giving it their all.

It wasn't just for the two new manga.

The ongoing "Grim Reaper Elementary Student" also needed updates.

Even though in his heart he doubted the feasibility, at that moment, even he was influenced by Lin Yuan, Luo Wei and the crazy assistants.

His only regret was his inability to draw manga.

If he had known how to draw, he would have certainly joined the others.

In the end, he still couldn't forget the real reason Lin Yuan broke up with the Tribe...

Wasn't it just about enduring an insulting tirade?

I could bear such an insult.

That was Jin Mu's thought, but while he could tolerate the insult, he couldn't stand the affection and protection.

Therefore, even when he knew it would be futile, Jin Mu still wanted to join them!

The night was somewhat cool.

But his heart was warm.

Luo Wei yawned, and then poured herself a strong coffee, "I'm fine, Uncle Jin, go to sleep. You don't need to stay with us all night, and anyone who can't hold on should first take a rest. I, as a seasoned night owl, am okay with it."

"Who among us isn't a night owl!"

An assistant named Zhao Chengming retorted on the side, he was responsible for "Grim Reaper Elementary Student".

Only God knows how much he wants to be in charge of Naruto or One Piece!

When someone else fails to keep up, maybe he could take over!

"Teacher, you go rest first. Your workload is the largest, and the energy you consumed is also the most."

Another assistant spoke up, looking towards the hardworking Lin Yuan.

The appellations had already changed.

Before, everyone called him Teacher Shadow, now it was just "Teacher."

[Cunning boy]

The others were also very cooperative:

"Teacher, you should rest first!"

"Yes! Leave it to us!"

"You have explained your storyboard and plot clearly!"

"We are young, we can handle it!"

Lin Yuan looked at them, showing a contemplative expression.

In terms of age, including Luo Wei, all the assistants were older than Lin Yuan.

Some were a few years older.

Some were over ten years older.

Because when Jin Mu was hiring people, he said older people have more experience.

Right.

[About my apprentices thinking they are younger than their master.]

Actually, Lin Yuan was also a bit tired.

But even if tired, there was no time for rest.

A week's time was really too short!

The bragging he had done himself, even if it means shedding tears, has to be fulfilled!

In reality.

Lin Yuan was already regretting it a bit.

He shouldn't have been so hasty.

At the time when he posted that announcement, he was indeed overexcited.

Now seeing everyone's state after pulling an all-nighter, Lin Yuan realized how difficult this task really was.

Because everyone was already struggling to hold on.

Following this pace, he really wouldn't be able to achieve his goal within a week!

You should know, after system modification, Lin Yuan's physical fitness was actually higher than an average person's.

He was already tired so you can imagine the state of others.

The real key here was himself!

Moreover, he has things like the Energy Potion from the System...

Hold on!

Energy Potion?

How did he forget about that?

Lin Yuan felt like he had outdone himself in stupidity!

Couldn't he just buy some Energy Potions from the System and continue working?

Lin Yuan had tested before that the Energy Potion had no side effects and could be used freely!

If there was any side effect, it was probably that once he stopped using it, he would feel sleepy.

Once Lin Yuan used the Energy Potion to stay up all night, he stayed awake without sleeping.

After a night, when the effect of the medicine wore off, tiredness surfaced.

He made up for all the sleep he had lost in one fell swoop.

Apart from that, this stuff was harmless to the body.

"Worst case scenario, I will sleep for two or three days after seven days."

After having such a thought, Lin Yuan immediately exchanged some Energy Potions with the System.

Though it was somewhat expensive, once his manga is published, it would pay for itself and even make a profit!

"Hm?"

After exchanging some Energy Potions, a sudden inspiration struck Lin Yuan, and he came up with another idea:

"System, can this potion work on others?"

"That would be for others... extra charges apply!"

The System's response left Lin Yuan torn between satisfaction and dissatisfaction.

"Alright!"

Lin Yuan looked at everyone: "Is anyone busy with anything important after seven days?"

Everyone was puzzled.

Why are we talking about this now?

"No."

"Me neither."

"Not really."

"It would be great if our teacher could give us a break."

"Does wanting to spend money on games count?"

"I want to have a good meal!"

So, you don't have anything important to do!

Lin Yuan nodded, "So if anything comes up, just have your family contact our studio directly. Uncle Jin will help you out."

As he spoke, Lin Yuan exchanged some more Energy Potions with the System until he had enough.

"Also."

Looking at the fatigued team, he added, "From now on, everyone's salary will increase tenfold. Uncle Jin, take note."

Everyone's eyes widened!

Salary increase by ten times?

Jin Mu was dumbfounded for a while, but he still nodded: "No problem."

Even though it was the middle of the night.

Explosive cheers suddenly filled the whole studio!

"I am full of energy!"

"I suddenly feel power surging in me!"

"Help me up, I can still draw!"

"I am not tired at all, I can still work for Three Days and Three Nights, no, Seven Days and Seven Nights!"

"Teacher, now you've gotten me all pumped up!"

"..."

Seeing everyone suddenly full of vigor, as if they had been injected with a shot of adrenaline, now it was Lin Yuan's turn to be startled.

You might not believe it.

But he hasn't used the Energy Potion on them yet!

"Keep it down in the middle of the night. I can't make it. Seriously, I can't. I'm going to sleep in the living room for a while, you all don't push yourselves too hard!"

Jin Mu, yawning incessantly, walked out the door, thinking:

Everyone's pay increase tenfold?

You mean I'm included in that, right?

Yeah!

I most definitely am!

Suddenly, Jin Mu didn't feel that tired.

Alright.

He was still tired.

He needed to get some sleep.

Cultivation was no ordinary human's job.

Jin Mu lay down on the sofa, closed his eyes, and immediately fell asleep.

And Lin Yuan finally used the Energy Potion on everyone, constantly apologizing in his heart:

I'm sorry, I'm sorry, I'm sorry...

[Selfish]

The Energy Potion took effect quickly.

Luo Wei, who didn't even want to drink coffee and had bags under her eyes, shouted: "Long live Cultivation!"

Everyone shouted in chorus: "Long live Cultivation!"

No one found it strange.

Our salaries increased tenfold!

Under such a large stimulus, doesn't it seem normal for us to suddenly feel energetic?

Very normal!

They resumed work!

Lin Yuan also took the Energy Potion, immediately feeling refreshed and awake, and led everyone to work until dawn!

The coffee and Blackbull drinks and such on the side were long discarded.

The real elixir is from the System!

[All-nighters King for All]

Jin Mu didn't know how long he slept.

When he opened his eyes and looked at his phone, he realized it was already ten in the morning!

The sun was shining outside!

Those crazy kids should be fast asleep by now, right?

He had no idea how late they stayed up until last night.

He felt a pang of sympathy in his heart.

Jin Mu tiptoed into the studio's painting room.

Huh?

The moment he entered, Jin Mu closed the door again.

Taking a step back, he took a deep breath and reopened the door.

"Uncle Jin, good morning."

Lin Yuan greeted him with a smile and continued drawing.

Next to Lin Yuan.

The assistants were discussing the plot vigorously while eating breakfast.

It seemed that they were discussing the climax of a certain manga.

Confusion was written all over Jin Mu's face: "When did you guys wake up?"

Is the power of money so great?

Everyone looked at Jin Mu, their expressions sympathetic.

Wake up?

We didn't sleep.

Luo Wei laughed, "You're getting old, Uncle Jin, it's not the same as us young people. We are used to staying up all night playing games."

Jin Mu: ?

Am I really that old?

"Actually, it's strange, I don't feel tired at all. I was falling asleep at three o'clock last night, but after the teacher mentioned the salary increase, I haven't felt sleepy since."

The assistant named Zhao Chengming began to speak.

The other assistants nodded one after another: "Maybe this is the power of money!"

"I'll sleep tonight."

An assistant triumphantly declared: "Don't push yourselves too hard if you can't hold on. I think I have a knack for staying up all night. I don't feel pressured at all to work through the day!"

"I'm the man who parties till the wee hours!"

The other assistants were not to be outdone.

Everyone felt like they had awakened some sort of talent for staying up all night. Everyone thought they were extraordinary. Everyone thought the others were just saving face.

"No more talking, let's continue drawing. I don't feel like sleeping."

After devouring six buns at one go, Luo Wei shouted:

"I'm the woman who parties till the wee hours!"

Damn!

This group of youngsters!

These are truly spirited and fierce!

Jin Mu shook his head, when one gets to a certain age, one has to accept getting old.

Chapter 714: He Will Be Crowned as King

"Do you believe in..."

"I will always believe in light!"

"Miraclem..."

"Miracles will definitely happen!"

If anyone had a conversation like this with Jin Mu, his answer would be as above without any hesitation!

Why would he say that?

Because he has witnessed miracles with his own eyes!

Lin Yuan and his team are like liver emperors!

For others, drawing manga might be a job, but when they do it, it's like they are staking their lives!

Jin Mu swore:

This is definitely not a matter of age!

When he was young, the maximum number of times in a night, seemed to be seven times?

But even that can't compete with what he has witnessed these past few days!

One day!

Two days!

Three days!

Apart from eating and sleeping Lin Yuan and his assistants...

Sleeping my ass!

They've never slept at all!

A pig spends its day eating and sleeping.

What they do every day is eat and draw, then repeat this cycle over and over again!

Beyond eating, the only thing left in their eyes is manga!

The third day.

Jin Mu is scared!

He really started feeling scared!

Is there something wrong with these people?

One person staying up for three days, while hard, is understandable.

Scientific research suggests that humans can indeed stay awake for many days without sleep.

However, a group of people staying awake for three days isn't normal at all!

They must be checked in a hospital!

Jin Mu made a suggestion, but was mercilessly rejected. Everyone felt great, patting their chests and asserting that they're healthy and in good spirits!

However....

Everyone also felt something was off.

This constant alertness wasn't normal.

They indeed needed to sleep.

They can't risk any accidents.

So, everyone started trying to sleep.

It's magical.

Everyone fell asleep as soon as they laid down.

This is the magic of the Energy Potion.

It keeps you energized, but won't make you too excited to sleep. If you want to sleep, you can sleep.

You can wake up after sleeping for a few hours if you want to.

However, doing so wastes the effect of the Energy Potion.

"It looks like there's no problem."

People were relieved and continued toiling.

Lin Yuan didn't dare let everyone stay awake for seven days, so he wasted a bit of the Energy Potion's effect.

He would even force everyone to sleep for a bit.

Once he felt that their energy was restored, he'd wake them up to continue drawing.

Everyone took turns sleeping, usually starting to switch out from midnight.

Even though the Energy Potion has no side effects, if a bunch of people stay awake for seven days then perform as vigorously as ever, it feels like magic.

It's unknown whether it's due to the passion from the new manga or not, but everyone is very energized now.

They espouse aggressive slogans at every turn.

It's either "Long live Cultivation".

Or "Sleep your ass off and get up to party".

Or "I am the man/woman who parties the latest".

Some are philosophical, such as "Why sleep too much while living, long sleep will come after death".

There's only one point in these words:

Which decent person needs to sleep?

One third of a person's life is spent sleeping.

That's quite enough.

Lin Yuan also symbolically slept for a bit.

Assuming that work can be done, he doesn't want to end up sleeping for three days and three nights straight when he looks back.

...

During the days when everyone in the studio was working hard on the manga, Jin Mu was still constantly harassed from all sides.

Still people from Starlight or the website or even bloggers.

The reason is simple.

As the date draws nearer, everyone wants to know how Teacher Shadow will conclude the boast he made on his blog.

...

Until the fourth day.

The harassment finally decreased.

Let it be whatever it will be.

There is already no way to conclude it.

Anyway, no one believed it.

Only if ghosts believe it!

Netizens think that Teacher Shadow has gone crazy.

At the same time, they all express understanding.

Under such a huge stimulus, it's understandable that Teacher Shadow is talking nonsense.

Netizens sympathize with Teacher Shadow and show remarkable restraint and tolerance.

No one mocks Teacher Shadow for talking big.

No one says, "Wait for Teacher Shadow's face to be slapped"...

The matter destined to be slapped in the face, there's no need to keep rambling about it. Compared to the harm caused by being slapped in the face, the closure of the Tribe Comics website is really killing!

The cost has already appeared.

The traffic of the alliance's website is decreasing day by day, and the decline is very obvious.

Only when Grim Reaper Elementary Student is updated, does the traffic jump up a bit.

This further proves that the entire site relies on Grim Reaper Elementary Student.

It's as if everyone on the site was leeching off Grim Reaper Elementary Student.

...

Day Five.

No one was bothering Jin Mu anymore.

The site had truly given up.

Let it be destroyed.

They were tired.

Perhaps only Han Jimei was still fighting hard.

Every day, Han Jimei tried to encourage the editors, serving them motivational speeches like, "We can definitely find some powerful newcomers."

Although unrealistic...

What if, among these low-level artists in the alliance, a genius like Shadow emerged?

Unfortunately, everyone knew this was a long shot.

Even if this "long shot" did happen, given the current traffic to the alliance, could they really hold on to such a genius?

But when it came to the sixth day.

A genius didn't appear, while some of the comic creators the alliance had attracted began to give up.

In simple terms, they abandoned their own works.

The site traffic was too low!

No one was looking at their works!

Netizens basically just opened the website to check the updates of "Detective Chu Yu", then closed the page.

Turning their heads.

Everyone went to Tribe Comics to read the popular comics there.

With so few readers, the comic creators of the alliance had no motivation to update.

A slow death.

But it wouldn't really die.

Because as long as Grim Reaper Elementary Student doesn't end, there will always be people updating on this site.

A more accurate description would be "to struggle", Grim Reaper Elementary Student was keeping the site hanging on by a thread.

...

Day seven.

Even Han Jimei no longer encouraged her editors.

Because she knew that hoping the editors could find newcomers was unrealistic.

But she still didn't give up! Continue your journey with My Virtual Library Empire

She was desperately contacting the comic artists she knew from her time working at Tribe Comics.

She tried hard to persuade them to serialize new works in the alliance!

She yearned for two...

No.

Two were too luxurious.

One person would be enough.

She hoped for a GOAT-level comic artist to extend a helping hand, that would at least help the alliance to fill one gap!

Such behavior was a severe violation of her personal work ethics.

Before this, she didn't want to poach from her former employer, she even opposed such actions from the bottom of her heart.

But now she didn't care about all these!

All she wanted to do was to save the site's losses, then submit a resignation letter and leave this circle forever.

Han Jimei had a strong sense of self-esteem.

She no longer had the face to stay in the alliance.

The betrayals of Yeshenchen and Tianmen were her professional failures, if she had been more alert when signing contracts before, perhaps this wouldn't have happened.

It was a fatal error!

Driven into the abyss by Ling Kong's unscrupulous business methods, Han Jimei's views on work and attitude have undergone a tremendous change.

Unfortunately, the change seemed too late.

She didn't succeed.

Even though Han Jimei had a good relationship with these authors, she didn't manage to convince anybody to join the alliance.

It was alright if they just politely refused.

Some people just hang up when they receive her call.

Some people did not even want to take the call, as if they were afraid of having any connection with Han Jimei and the alliance.

She was at her wit's end.

She had tried everything she could think of.

It was of no use.

It was of no use at all.

...

By the evening of the seventh day.

Han Jimei called Jin Mu with a bitter smile, her professional career had reached its end.

However.

To Han Jimei's surprise, the one who answered the call was not Jin Mu, it was a woman.

"He's asleep, I am Luo Wei."

Even as desperate as Han Jimei, emotion welled up in her heart upon hearing this.

Seemingly familiar scenario?

"Sorry, you guys..."

"Ah!"

Luo Wei was shocked, then exclaimed, before soon getting a little annoyed:

"In these days, we've all been staying up late to work at the studio, Uncle Jin has been accompanying us through the night, his elder body can't take it!"

What does this woman want to say!

Han Jimei quickly apologized, "Sorry, that, you guys have been staying up late recently?"

Han Jimei was stunned.

Luo Wei didn't mind, and sighed: "Yes, we've been staying up late, and the results of that are now out!"

"New comics... two?"

Han Jimei felt a short circuit in her brain, she'd even forgotten the purpose of her call.

"Yes!"

The corners of Luo Wei's mouth curled up slightly: "Teacher Shadow tripled his workload!"

"Triple workload?"

"Inform the site's technical department to prepare for an event tomorrow, at least it's just in time."

"What ..."

"I know you are more curious about the quality of the comics, but don't be anxious, just wait and see!"

She cut off the other party.

Luo Wei's smile fully blossomed: "Tomorrow at eight o'clock, the crowning ceremony of our master needs a witness, we will make the entire comic world come and pay homage!"

He will...

Be crowned as the king!!!

Chapter 715: Three Starts

During the past seven days when everyone at Shadow Studio worked themselves to exhaustion, the online discussions about Tribe, Shadow, the Alliance, and even the backstabbing of Tianmen and Yeshenchen, never ceased.

This mega-scandal involving various capitals, magnates, and even the entire comic industry provided countless people with something to talk about over tea or dinner...

The eighth day arrived.

8 AM!

On an online forum.

"Speaking of which, it's the eighth day today. The Alliance remains the same, and the idea of Shadow replacing the new works of Tianmen and Yeshenchen with two comics is unrealistic as expected."

"Pfft!"

"Still concerned about that?"

"Are there really people foolish enough to wait around for that?"

"Obviously, this was never going to happen. This round truly goes to Tribe Comics. Shadow simply doesn't want to accept the reality yet. But it's understandable. Such a huge setback would cause anyone to crumble. Let's just pray that Shadow updates 'Detective Chu Yu'.

This comic is no worse than Tribe's popular works. If it weren't for the traffic issues of the Alliance, the popularity of this comic might be even higher!"

"By the way!"

"Have you guys checked out the works of Tianmen and Yeshenchen? Setting aside their character, the quality of their new works is quite good. Plus, with Tribe Comics pouring resources into their promotion, their popularity is quite high."

"I checked them out too. They are indeed good!"

"If these two had released their new works through the Alliance, it certainly would have helped the Alliance handle a lot of traffic. It's a pity that in the end, they chose to use the Alliance as a stepping stone to rise in the ranks of Tribe."

"..."

Everyone doubted this affair from the beginning, and whenever it was brought up recently, there were always expressions of regret.

As the netizens have pointed out:

The new works of Yeshenchen and Tianmen are very popular now.

This is due to both the quality of their work and the allocation of site resources.

Tribe's promotion of these two also carries the intention of annoying Shadow and the Alliance.

Everyone could see that.

Just as the forum was getting lively, suddenly, a post appeared:

"Hurry up and check out the Alliance site, Shadow has released three new works!"

Thump!

All the netizens who saw the post felt their heartbeats spike.

Then.

They instinctively opened the Alliance site...

Whoosh!

The Alliance Comics Website!

Two banners, each nearly covering half of the website, appeared before everyone's eyes!

In an instant!

Everyone's eyes widened!

Two banners, neatly arranged.

The first banner was dominated by an orange background!

The Nine-Tailed Fox established the style of the entire picture with its most elegant posture, and in front of it stood numerous figures!

Naruto... Sasuke... Sakura... Kakashi...

Of course, netizens who have not started reading the comics would not recognize these characters, but that does not stop them from being stunned by the promotional image.

Shadow's drawing skills are so amazing!

The impact that seems to break out of the picture is too powerful!

In bold, breath-taking letters:

[Shadow's new work: "Naruto"!!!!!!]

"..."

With great difficulty, everyone's gaze moved to the second banner!

A blue ocean formed the backdrop of the entire picture, making a stark contrast with the orange hues of "Naruto".

In the center of the picture.

Luffy held his straw hat, revealing only half of his face; next to him was Zoro with green seaweed-colored hair, his tough face accompanied by a sword hilt in his mouth, presenting a cool classic three-sword style; there was also Nami's grand navigator image and her perfect figure...

These were also characters that the netizens did not recognize yet.

But they had an equally stunning and beautiful style!

Shadow's drawing skills were thoroughly demonstrated in these two promotional images!

Below that.

There were these tangible words:

[Shadow's new work: "One Piece"!!!!!!]

Sharp-eyed netizens even noticed a semi-transparent figure connecting the two images!

That was Chu Yu's figure from "Grim Reaper Elementary Student"!

On his left was Naruto, on his right was One Piece, linking the three comics into a joint promo!

Orange hue, flames leaping!

Blue hue, waves crashing!

Everyone was stunned at this moment!

Innumerable eyes darted back and forth between the two shocking and glorious banners!

Coming to their senses!

Astonishment suddenly covered everyone's expression!

Triple release!?

Shadow really did a triple release!

He hasn't given up!

One Piece?

Naruto?

Are these the two works he said will replace Yeschenchen and Tianmen?

How is that possible!

What could he draw in seven days!?

"My God!"

In tremendous shock, someone suddenly discovered an even more terrifying fact: "Take a look at the style of these two manga covers, don't tell me they are both King's Path mangas!"

Everyone was stunned, followed by scalp tingling!

Goosebumps appeared all over!

From the style of the covers alone, it seems like it is really the case!

The same King's Path route as Tianmen and Yeshenchen?

This is absolutely insane!

Not only did he draw two new manga in seven days, but he also chose the battle-oriented King's Path route, the same as Tianmen's and Yeshenchen's!

Shadow never drew any battle-focused manga before, right? Stay connected via My Virtual Library Empire

"Is this going to work???"

"When would one add difficulty to oneself like this at such a time!?"

"As comparable as Fish Papa using the Sherlock Holmes theme song on the charts!"

"But Shadow is not a freak like Xian Yu. Even if it wasn't a battle-style manga, I think he wouldn't succeed, not to mention him stepping into a genre he never touched before!"

"These two works are clearly targeted at Tianmen and Yeshenchen!"

"To surpass Tianmen and Yeshenchen with new works, the popularity of these two pieces must reach the level of the Grim Reaper Elementary Student!"

"..."

No manga artist can achieve this!

Crafting a piece like the Grim Reaper Elementary Student is enough to laugh at the entire manga world!

But three of such works?

The entire manga industry must kneel!

Wait...

Dammit!

What are you dragging out for!

Why not just see if he can do it!

No more debates!

No more judging!

Everyone hurriedly moved their mouses!

Based on the first impression of the covers.

Some people clicked on 'One Piece'!

Some people clicked on 'Naruto'!

There were slightly more people who clicked on 'Naruto'.

Because the art style of 'One Piece' gave a bizarre feeling.

As a proportion of netizens began to read these two manga separately.

The news of Shadow's triple release in the Alliance, like a showers of blossoms from a heavenly woman, quickly spread throughout the entire web!

Flick flick flick!

The entire web was stunned!

All gazes were simultaneously drawn over, and the servers of the Alliance started to become unstable for a time!

At the same time!

The Tribe also received news!

Tribe Comics.

CEO's office.

Ling Kong summoned all the most experienced editors in the department to the meeting room in one breath.

It also included the unimpressive-looking man from last time:

"You should know your tasks!"

As he said these words, Ling Kong's eyelids twitched uncontrollably. Even he didn't know what was going on...

Chapter 716: Look Down Upon Who

They met at the same club as before.

Yeshenchen and Tianmen sat across from each other.

He didn't expect Shadow to actually plan to replace his and Tianmen's gap with two new works!

Across from Yeshenchen.

Tianmen sneered, "Not only will this not save the alliance, but it will also impact the quality of Grim Reaper Elementary Student due to the dispersion of his creative energy. If Shadow's two new works truly surpass us, I will eat this table on the spot!"

Three at once!

And he targeted King's Path?

How low does he think his own level is?

Yeshenchen also started to sneer, "If these two new works he came up with in seven days really can reach the level of Grim Reaper Elementary Student, make sure to give me half of the table when you eat it."

He also felt belittled!

What makes you so special, Shadow, to do something that no one else in the manga industry can do?

Tianmen smirked, "In that case, why don't we just sit back and enjoy his two great new works drawn in seven days."

"Alright."

The two started reading their respective mangas.

But it was surprising how many updates these two manga had in just seven days.

Tianmen was reading One Piece.

'What kind of art style is that?'

He had only taken a few glances when his expression started to become strange.

[Subway · Old Man · Mobile Phone]

Is this a desperate move?

With this thought crossing his mind, Tianmen continued reading.

Huh?

As he read,

His expression changed again.

Pirates?

Treasure?

For some reason,

His heart skipped a beat.

Frowning,

Tianmen continued to read.

...

Yeshenchen was reading Naruto.

As a professional manga artist, he was very good at catching important details and read manga faster than the average reader.

And the early pace of Naruto was by no means slow.

In no time, Yeshenchen had read several panels worth of content.

Chakra...

The Nine-Tails Seal...

Uzumaki Naruto...

The plot and setting were all laid out.

The hand with which he held his phone suddenly began to tremble.

In his heart, there rose a sense of foreboding.

That was the instinct of a professional manga artist.

'It's only just begun; it's nothing.'

He calmed himself, adjusted his somewhat labored breaths, and continued reading.

...

At the same time,

The netizens were reading the manga.

The editors were also reading the manga.

Time passed slowly.

Three minutes.

Ten minutes.

Half an hour...

More and more manga content gradually unfolded in front of the readers.

The story of Naruto unfolded slowly.

The story of One Piece unfolded slowly.

The grand worlds of two manga had quietly opened!

In the online world,

Because everyone was reading the manga, the forums related to this event were unusually quiet.

...

Forty minutes later,

The corpulent Tianmen picked up a tissue from the table to wipe his sweat.

"It's so hot today."

He suddenly spoke in a low voice.

Yeshenchen subconsciously said, "Why do I feel a bit cold?"

At this moment.

Both of them had read about two-thirds of the comics in their hands.

Their simple conversation did not continue.

Until they each finished the comics in their hands.

About an hour or so.

The two of them finally finished the comics they were reading.

"What about that Naruto, how was it?"

It was only when Tianmen spoke that he found that his throat was inexplicably dry.

Seemed to be even hotter.

Subconsciously, he reached for a tissue to wipe his sweat.

The moment he looked up, he saw Yeshenchen tighten his clothes.

Yeshenchen also looked up to see Tianmen's forehead and nose sweat.

Both of their gazes met

"How was it?"

Tianmen asked again trying to make his voice sound more natural, but instead he sounded even drier, with a slight tremble even.

"It was just like that..."

Yeshenchen avoided Tianmen's gaze.

Tianmen suddenly grew angry: "What do you mean just like that!"

"It was okay..."

Yeshenchen tweaked his wording slightly.

Tianmen's voice suddenly escalated: "Can you be more specific!"

"Everything about the plot and drawing style was great, ten times better than that lousy comic of yours, satisfied now!"

Yeshenchen was startled by Tianmen's sudden raise in voice, then also became furious, as if venting, he stood up and yelled back at Tianmen!

Tianmen did not expect the other's response to be bigger than his own, he opened his mouth, but found himself speechless.

"What about yours?"

Yeshenchen sat back down, looked at Tianmen, and lowered his voice slightly, "I mean One Piece..."

"Anyway, there's nothing wrong with it."

This time, it was Tianmen's turn to avoid Yeshenchen's gaze.

"Be more specific!"

Yeshenchen's tone elevated again: "Didn't you just tell me to be more specific, how come when it's your turn you don't even dare to make a sound!"

"How can I be more specific!"

Tianmen could no longer hold back his rage and stood up, his hands waving in the air:

"I don't understand what the hell he's drawing at all, I've never seen this style in my many years of drawing comics, yet this comic is so damn unique, and it's exciting and shocking, don't you understand? It's a hundred times more exciting than your lousy comic!"

"What the hell does that mean!" Yeshenchen slammed the table.

Tianmen fought back: "I'm saying your lousy comic doesn't even deserve to carry other people's shoes, you'll never be able to create a comic like One Piece in your lifetime!"

"The hell with you, can you?!"

Yeshenchen stood up as well: "You can't even draw Naruto in two lifetimes!"

Tianmen sneered: "At least my drawing skills are better than yours. Shadow's drawing skills are enough for you to chase for three generations!"

Yeshenchen showed no mercy: "So that's all you have left, your drawing skills. Don't think I don't know, some of your story scripts are co-created with help from the company, you are clearly just an illustrator but you still pretend to be original!"

"Y-y-y-you... you're despicable! Don't you think I don't know, I despise you!"

"Sorry, I am the manager of this place, could the two of you please keep your voices down? You are disturbing others, if you can't cooperate, please take your argument outside."

The manager showed up.

The two of them glanced at the manager, then at each other, and suddenly stopped arguing.

They just sat back down dejectedly, and then simultaneously looked down at the table in front of them.

Manager: ???

Are these two sick?

Why do they have the look in their eyes like they're going to eat the table?

...

Explore more at My Virtual Library Empire

Of course, Tianmen and Yeshenchen didn't really eat the table.

After the manager left.

The two of them were quiet for a long time, neither of them spoke.

One grew colder, the other hotter.

Finally, it was Yeshenchen who broke the silence, four words filled with complex emotions:

"He's become a god."

Tianmen expressionlessly said: "The comic industry has never had a so-called first person before, now it probably has."

No need for further confirmation.

They believed each other's judgments.

Each other's reactions had said it all.

Either One Piece or Naruto, both are formidable works.

If we add in Grim Reaper Elementary Student...

That Shadow who declared war on the entire Tribe Comics single-handedly, has won a miraculous victory with the grandeur of a trilogy -

By stepping on their corpses.

Chapter 717 One Person is an Alliance

With the conclusions from Yeshenchen and Tianmen, the rest of the readers from outside have finally finished reading the comics in their hands.

The mysteries of Naruto and One Piece have finally been unveiled!

It's roughly nine o'clock now.

The related forums inside and outside the circle are still terribly quiet.

All the gossip posts born before and after this incident are still stuck in the previous phase of Shadow's three-in-one.

All kinds of comments seem to be still on their way.

And in this gap.

The top-notch comic artist of Chu Continent, who'd already laid down his pen, "Looking through Autumn Water", suddenly broke the silence with a lengthy post!

The post reads:

"I read through Naruto and One Piece as fast as I could, and I have three things to say: firstly, the comic genre that Shadow is best at was not brought out before his three-in-one; secondly, Shadow is destined to become a god in this battle; thirdly, the dominance of Tribe Comics in the industry will be shattered by his three comics, he doesn't need anyone's help, Shadow alone is the Alliance!"

Looking Through Autumn Water.

A top-tier comic artist on Chu Continent.

Once hailed as the godfather of the comic industry, closest to godliness.

Several of his comics during his career have led the trends in Chu Continent's comic scene.

After he put down his pen, he was still recognized as the top veteran in the industry, and the words from him naturally carry significant weight.

As soon as the post came out!

Boom!

Winds rise and clouds surge!

Madness starts to sweep across!

Earthquake in the comic world!

Shadow alone is the Alliance, as if echoing this post from afar, a storm of unprecedented comic reviews started!

...

The comment section of the comic "One Piece".

"This comic is so freaking amazing!"

"Thrilling, hot-blooded, and very touching!"

"I thought the art style was a bit strange at first. But the more I read, the more I couldn't escape it. I really like the trio Luffy, Zoro, and Nami. Looking forward to the following plot. Although the current update rate is already very generous, I can hardly believe these are new works created by Shadow in just seven days!"

"I surrender!"

"Absolutely a masterpiece!"

"As a fan of King's Path hot-blooded comics, I bow down in total admiration. Why didn't Shadow draw combat comics earlier? He was born to create this genre. He is even more suitable than Yeshenchen and Tianmen, who are both rebellious. They are not even worthy to carry his shoes!"

"Shadow is truly badass!"

"Based on my decade-long experience of reading comics, if the length of 'One Piece' is long enough, it would definitely be a dominating piece in the future for several years. Shadow didn't even need to go three-in-one, even going double with Grim Reaper Elementary Student was enough. This single comic equals the works of both Tianmen and Yeshenchen!"

"The theme of pirates is so creative!"

"I can't think of any other comic that would be better than this one during the same period. Naruto next door definitely won't make it, but I have to go and read that Naruto too!"

One Piece, a stunning debut!

The comment section is already conquered!

...

At the same time when One Piece's comment section is conquered.

The comment section of the comic "Naruto" also exploded!

"Absolutely a masterpiece!"

"What Shadow drew is too good!"

"My mom asked me why I was reading comics on my knees. As a citizen of Chu Continent, I'm almost moved to tears by the plot. The ninjas are just too cool, aren't these exactly the best assassins in our Chu Continent's ancient times? Who dares to criticize Shadow, I'll fight him! From now on, he is my only faith!"

"I submit!"

"Who says you can't draw immortal characters on your first try with King's Path combat comics? Who dares to talk nonsense about Shadow's work now? This directly dominates without any explanation, even if you add up the works of both Tianmen and Yeshenchen, it can't match up to this level. Isn't this better than whatever story Tianmen wrote?"

"Tribe, kneel down!"

"Crawl away for me!"

"Uzumaki Naruto is so awesome, but my favorite character is Kakashi, his character setting is just too appealing, and isn't this comic about two male leads? It seems the weight of Sasuke's story is no less than Naruto's. I'll go see 'One Piece' in a moment, according to the reviews from teacher Looking Through Autumn Water, it also seems to be an extraordinary work!"

...

Comments from both sides turned out to be strikingly similar.

Stay connected through My Virtual Library Empire

Aside from the plot-related stuff, everyone's comments seem to be of the same nature!

Cool theme!

Awesome plot!

Badass artwork!

The same comments can be perfectly applied to both comics at the same time!

And as everyone opens another comic with a shocked mindset, an even bigger shock takes hold of everyone's hearts!

Comic World!

Change is coming!

...

On the other hand,

Tribe Comics.

The senior editors summoned by Ling Kong all lowered their heads. The entire conference room fell into a deathly silence. Clearly, they had also finished reading the two comics.

They were too professional!

And the more professional they were, the more they could appreciate what it meant for Naruto, One Piece, and even Grim Reaper Elementary Student, to all be from the same person's hand.

At this moment, everyone had a surreal feeling!

Unbelievable!

How could there be such a messed up comic artist in this world?

Publishing three comics in seven days, and bringing every one of them to a quality that leaves other comic artists in the dust!

As if his creativity was limitless!

As if his energy could be used indefinitely!

Like a building collapse.

Everyone's mood fell into a deep valley!

They didn't understand:

How could Tribe Comics, as the monopolistic behemoth of the entire industry, end up with such a monster of a competitor.

"How about it?"

Ling Kong's voice was somewhat low.

In fact, Ling Kong could already know the result from everyone's expressions.

Even without the analysis of the editors, he had seen the result online himself.

But he still couldn't resist asking.

No one answered.

If the end it was the man with the unremarkable looks who spoke. He's played this role before:

"These two new comics plus Grim Reaper Elementary Student..."

"Don't say it."

Ling Kong abruptly interrupted the man and waved his hand weakly.

"You guys can go."

The editors looked at each other.

"Ling..."

"Get out!"

Ling Kong suddenly roared.

His handsome face was somewhat twisted!

The editors felt a tremor in their hearts, silently stood up, and left the conference room.

...

The comic world is really going to change!

This has almost become everyone's consensus!

Shadow's three comics could easily hold up an alliance, though it couldn't directly let the alliance's popularity surpass Tribe Comics' traffic, but the monopoly of Tribe Comics was indeed going to be broken by him!

Regrettably...

Such a monster should have belonged to Tribe Comics. He should have been the core guarantee of Tribe Comics' monopoly in this industry!

Yet because of some trivial differences, Shadow left.

Yes.

Compared to the value that Shadow exhibits now, those differences indeed can be described as trivial.

"Our future isn't going to be good."

An editor from Tribe Comics spoke with a bitter smile.

After being online for seven days, a miracle. The Alliance has already become Tribe's formidable enemy!

This time there's no help from Chu Kuang, no aid from Xian Yu.

Shadow, single-handedly shaking the world!

Chapter 718: Why to C when you can blend?

"Shadow has become a God!

The alliance's comments are just the tip of the iceberg of this critique storm!

And soon!

Forums across all continents started discussing!

"The opening of 'Dead Sea of Fire' is a milestone for the entire manga world, Shadow's achievements will be recorded in the history of manga!"

"Forget Shadow, call him Shadow God from now on!"

"I thought 'One Piece' was the zenith of Shadow God's career until I opened 'Naruto'!"

"I'm the opposite of you, I thought 'Naruto' was Shadow God's most invincible work until I watched 'One Piece'!"

"'Grim Reaper Elementary Student' is awesome too, anyways, they're all created by Shadow, all I can say is 'Dead Sea of Fire' is unbeatable!"

"Who dares to call Shadow an unknown figure in the future?"

"Xian Yu in the south, Chu Kuang in the north, Shadow God is in the center!!!"

"..."

Shadow has become the number one person in the manga world in everyone's eyes!

Comic fans around the five continents are celebrating!

This time, no one really makes fun of Shadow being the unknown figure among the three bros!

Because this time, Shadow didn't rely on Chu Kuang and Xian Yu, but made a comeback single-handedly!

But Tribe, on the other hand, is being ridiculed by countless netizens!

Everyone hasn't forgotten that Shadow was kicked out by Tribe!

Slap after slap!

The Dead Sea of Fire trilogy slapped so loud!

Amidst the exclamation and praise, someone suddenly said:

"Why did this wave seem a bit like a forced counter-kill?"

A forced counter-kill?

Everyone was stunned, and then they quickly reacted and laughed out loud!

It seems to be exactly like that!

Think carefully about what happened!

Which step did Shadow not take as a forced counter-fight?

"If Tribe had not forced Shadow to the point of angering him, we wouldn't have seen Shadow become a God and bring out a masterpiece like the 'Dead Sea of Fire' trilogy!"

"The Tribe is also unjust!"

"Shadow disguises too well!"

"Who the hell knew that he could create Shonen battle manga, and to such an extreme?"

"Despite the fact that this kind of Shonen battle manga has the broadest audience, Shadow is reluctant to draw one and insists on drawing some niche and even unusual things. It wasn't until he had no choice but to show his truly terrifying side!"

"First of all, you have to push him, if you don't, you won't see the extent of his ability!"

"Wasn't it also the case last time? If he hadn't been ridiculed by the Chu Continent manga artists, he wouldn't have brought out his peak skills in 'Death Note' that he had kept for a long time."

"Why can there be such a lazy genius in the world?"

"He obviously has such incredible talent, but he insists on being a couch potato. He should be called Xian Yu (salted fish) instead!"

"Shadow really proved that he's the kind of guy who, if he can slack off, he will. If he can lie down, why even bother?"

"Despite having unbeatable carry ability, he chose to slack off. It wasn't until his teammates turned their backs on him that he realized his downfall was near and decided to save the world all by himself!"

"No one else could be as lazy as him!"

"If you had taken out any of the 'Dead Sea of Fire' trilogy earlier, any trilogy like 'Grim Reaper Elementary Student', the Tribe wouldn't have kicked you out!"

"Instead of calling him Shadow God, we should call him Lazy God!"

Shadow, being so slack, does Chu Kuang and Xian Yu from your family know?

Netizens analyzed Shadow's past career and found out the truth.

Continue your journey on My Virtual Library Empire

While laughing, they also felt a bit frustrated in their hearts!

This person is fucking awesome!

So lazy and so slack!

No wonder he wasn't active for nearly a year!

No one knows what he was up to.

Everyone would believe it if you said he had gone off to play Mahjong for a year!

Obviously, in the world of manga, he's an invincible genius no less than Chu Kuang and Xian Yu, his skills could suppress the contemporary manga world. Yet, he disguised himself as an unknown figure, unmoved no matter how much people made fun of him!

Your true colors are completely exposed now!

Don't think you can keep pretending!

We won't give you a chance to rely on Xian Yu and Chu Kuang anymore, you have to fight the opposing side yourself!

As soon as this statement came out, it spread instantly across the internet!

In the Tribe Comic's office.

Ling Kong is scrolling through the comments on the internet with a blank face.

He needs to assess the harm this incident has done to Tribe Comics through public opinion.

But then.

Ling Kong saw the netizen's summary of Shadow.

How annoyed the netizens were when they laughed, Ling Kong didn't know.

But he knows he couldn't laugh at all, he almost had a cerebral hemorrhage and had to be hospitalized!

Lazy?

Slack off?

Lay down?

It turned out that Shadow had been playing the deceptive game with him all along!

Which era are we in?

Still playing this face-slapping routine!

Is it fun?

Ling Kong was discouraged!

When Conan was born, Ling Kong was not discouraged;

He was not even discouraged when they were besieged by Headquarters;

Even in the huge explosion of 'Dead Sea of Fire,' he managed to maintain his status;

Only when he learned the reason justifying why Shadow burst through, Ling Kong couldn't maintain his composure anymore. He got frustrated beyond compare!

How could there be such a person in the world!

Ling Kong couldn't understand!

Since he was a child, if he was nine parts capable, he wanted to achieve ten parts result, fearing others would underestimate him!

And what about Shadow?

Despite being so strong!

Refused to draw the most famous Shonen battle manga, but chose to nest in the Tribe as a minor manga artist?

Are you fucking kidding me!

Ling Kong initially thought to clean up the mess of Shadow first, and then settle accounts with Xian Yu and Chu Kuang.

After all, Shadow was always a little figure in Ling Kong's heart.

In reality, who he really cared for were Xian Yu and Chu Kuang behind Shadow.

But forget about Xian Yu and Chu Kuang.

Just Shadow alone was enough to completely defeat Ling Kong!

Now, Ling Kong's hatred for Shadow, completely surpasses his anger towards Xian Yu and Chu Kuang!

He was actually defeated by a couch potato!

What he hates the most are the people who, despite having enough ability, don't make the effort to shine!

Yes.

The summary of the netizens, Ling Kong just took one look and knew it was all true!

It's not difficult to prove this at all.

Just pull out Shadow's previous records and you can see it all clearly!

Indeed, this person does possess tremendous creative ability, yet all he wants to do is draw some low-key manga to lazily pass the time.

If he didn't have such an extraordinary ability, he wouldn't have been able to create a miracle in just seven days that shocked the entire manga world and turned the tide!

"Just you wait!"

Just wait and see!

Ling Kong swore secretly with a livid face.

He won't admit defeat.

With this in mind, he dialed a number.

"Dad..."

As soon as he opens his mouth, he softens his voice like a wronged child, not showing the cold decisiveness he had a second ago.

On the other end of the phone.

The man's voice is very cold.

"This time, I can't protect you either."

"Dad..."

Ling Kong called again.

The man sighed lightly, "I have to consider the thoughts of other senior management."

"Dad..."

Ling Kong's voice came again for the third time.

The man's heart softened, and his voice is no longer cold, "Come home for dinner tonight."

"Okay."

Ling Kong hung up the phone and breathed a sigh of relief.

He knew that this time, he would still be safe.

Chapter 719: Dead Sea of Fire

After the release of the Dead Sea of Fire, Shadow Studio took a whole week off!

Over the next few days.

The update frequency of the Dead Sea of Fire would drop significantly.

But there was no other choice, everyone had been working tirelessly for seven days, and they were all exhausted.

As the effects of the Energy Potion wore off, Luo Wei passed out on the couch.

She was even snoring!

Lin Yuan could only arrange for someone to wake Luo Wei and take her home.

Lin Yuan didn't immediately go to sleep. He used an Energy Potion to keep himself going and got some more work done.

He had to ensure a basic update of Dead Sea of Fire.

Okay.

Even Lin Yuan now uses "Dead Sea of Fire" to refer to all three comics.

Who knows how bizarre he felt when he first heard netizens call it that.

Well, well.

This could also be called "Dead Sea of Fire"?

Why not call it "Chu's Sea of Fire"?

The three great proletarian comics of his previous life have forcibly resurfaced on Blue Star in a different form.

Just that the meaning of the word "dead" has completely changed now.

Perhaps this is the will of the universe.

Speaking of all this stuff about Shadow, the most baffling thing for Lin Yuan was the netizens' analysis of Shadow.

Lazy?

Capable of carrying but prefer to slack off?

As if Shadow was nothing more than a slacker waiting for death.

Forget it.

They're talking about Shadow, what does that have to do with me, Lin Yuan?

Lin Yuan has to admit, he lacks the motivation to draw comics and often neglects this pseudonym.

From the reader's perspective, their analysis is not wrong.

But that's just how it is.

Drawing comics is really a time-consuming task.

He earns way more money in the realms of literature and music than he does from drawing comics.

The reason he keeps drawing comics is purely for the Prestige Value of painting.

But now, Lin Yuan feels that he can't continue this way.

Not just because Tribe has ticked him off this time, but also because he has realized that Shadow has accumulated a sizeable fanbase.

Even for the sake of these supporters, he has to keep Shadow working hard.

And moreover...

Lin Yuan doesn't want his retaliation against the Tribe to end so easily!

His anger hasn't subsided.

Not just the Dead Sea of Fire.

In the future, he wants to completely replace the Tribe with the Alliance!

That's a small goal he has set for himself, a minor goal of superseding.

Next to him.

Jin Mu carefully pours tea for Lin Yuan: "Boss, have some!"

"Uncle Jin."

Lin Yuan looks a bit helpless.

Jin Mu giggles.

He personally witnessed a miracle, the impact of which was so dramatic on him that he felt slightly uneasy every time he saw Lin Yuan now, almost as if he was serving a god.

A single man saves the Alliance, takes down the Tribe all by himself...

Is this something a human can do?

Suddenly.

Jin Mu's cellphone rings.

Looking at the caller ID, Jin Mu's eyelids twitch: "I always get anxious when I see Han Jimei calling now."

Lin Yuan: "..."

The call was indeed from Han Jimei.

"Please say hello to Teacher Shadow for me!"

Han Jimei's greeting was about Shadow.

Jin Mu was utterly shocked by the triple release of the Dead Sea of Fire, and so was she.

This kind of feeling, falling from heaven to hell in an instant, is something Han Jimei will never forget for the rest of her life.

"I deeply know how much loss my negligence has caused to the website. The money in my bank account is the savings of my past years, and I plan to compensate the website with it..."

The words Han Jimei said next change Jin Mu's expression.

"I have handed in my resignation letter."

Finally, Han Jimei spoke in a desolate voice.

The Alliance is a subsidiary of Starlight, and her resignation letter must have already been submitted to Starlight.

She was calling Jin Mu to thank Shadow for making up for her mistake, and also to say a polite goodbye.

Jin Mu went silent.

Then he looked up at Lin Yuan and suppressed the phone:

"She wants to quit."

"Quit..."

Lin Yuan frowned.

According to the rules of the marketplace, Han Jimei should indeed resign.

The mistake she made this time was too big.

But Lin Yuan didn't really want things to end this way, after all, the problem has been solved now.

This is precisely why Lin Yuan can't run a company.

He doesn't have the determination of a capital holder or the bottom line of a qualified entrepreneur.

"Let it be."

Lin Yuan finally spoke.

Jin Mu was stunned for a moment, then nodded, telling Han Jimei: "Teacher Shadow said you don't have to quit. You can continue to manage the website, but we won't make exceptions in the future."

"Jin..."

"This is Teacher Shadow's decision."

"But..."

"Teacher Shadow will communicate with Starlight."

"I..."

"That's it, I'll hang up now."

Jin Mu hung up the phone, then curiously looked at Lin Yuan: "Why didn't you just fire her?"

"Although I don't understand business, I know that if she quits, she will have to leave this industry completely. If we don't use her, no other peers will use her in the future either. "

Lin Yuan explained.

Jin Mu laughed: "But she did make a mistake."

Lin Yuan shook his head: "She's just too human, too trusting."

Although he did not know exactly what has happened, he knew that it was probably because the breach of contract clauses in the contracts with Tianmen and Yeshenchen were too lax, and the cost of betrayal was not high enough.

When he thought about it, his contract with the company was similar.

Starlight even gifted shares to Lin Yuan.

If Lin Yuan betrayed them, Starlight would suffer a tremendous loss.

Only, Lin Yuan wouldn't leave, but Tianmen and Yeshenchen didn't have this integrity.

Who could say for certain that Han Jimei was wrong?

Ling Kong was intimidating enough, and his one move defeated the Alliance's momentum.

But when Han Jimei was managing Tribe Comics before, everything was in order.

Lin Yuan cooperated with her and it had always been friendly. He had never thought about leaving Tribe Comics.

Unfortunately, Lin Yuan simply couldn't get along with Ling Kong.

How can you explain this?

But in general, there should be stricter regulations and restrictions, which are the king's path to corporate management.

Even if Han Jimei didn't understand this before, she surely does now.

"Alright."

Although Jin Mu seemed to question it, in his heart, he didn't think Lin Yuan's decision was inappropriate. Perhaps, he was also a somewhat emotional person.

"Let me tell you some good news..."

"What good news?"

"The several comics of yours that had been held back have now been released. We won the lawsuit and got the copyright for the comics back. Tribe had no reason to keep holding onto our work, so they had to obediently hand it over. Of course, we did pay a tiny price for this, but nothing we can't afford."

At this point.

Jin Mu smiles: "Of course, that also includes the previously banned 'The Kindaichi Case Files' by the Tribe."

Lin Yuan: "..."

You call this good news?

I'm already struggling with the triple release!

If we get back 'The Kindaichi Case Files', that would mean I'm working on four projects!

Chapter 720: Shadow in the Center

The studio had a week off, but to Lin Yuan's surprise, the assistants reported to the studio three days later...

Lin Yuan curiously asked, "Aren't you guys tired?"

Luo Wei laughed, "I've been sleeping practically three days and three nights. Each time I had to eat, my mother had to wake me. In her words, if she didn't make a racket, I probably wouldn't wake up."

"What does a racket matter!?"

An assistant named Qian Duoduo excitedly added, "To wake me up for food, my dad put headphones over my ears and set off a suona. Do you guys understand what a suona is? That sound is unbearable..."

"Yours are still mild."

Another assistant called Sun ZhiXiang chimed in, "To wake me up, my sister sprayed water on my face from the showerhead!"

Everyone was excited.

They were discussing what had happened over the past three days.

It seemed that their marathon sleep session had frightened their families. To wake them, a lot of effort was made.

The only one who was okay was Lin Yuan.

Lin Yuan was awoken by an alarm from the system.

He wasn't expecting that the system could do that, but the alarm sounded directly in his mind making ignoring it impossible.

The lively conversation went on for a while.

Lin Yuan spoke with a smile, "Thank you all for your hard work over the past few days. Since we are all here today, I will assign future work."

"Okay!"

Everyone spoke in unison.

Lin Yuan turned to Luo Wei, "Your drawing style is most suitable for 'Naruto'. From now on, you will be fully responsible for Naruto."

"Me?"

Luo Wei was stunned.

Lin Yuan nodded, "Leave the panel storyline to me, all you have to do is draw."

"Okay!"

Luo Wei excitedly agreed, among all the manga in the studio, her favorite was 'Naruto'!

Based on the reader's response, this manga was extraordinary!

The other assistants cast envious looks at Luo Wei, their eyes turning red!

Previously, although Luo Wei's status was higher than other manga assistants, she was still mainly responsible for assistant work. But now, she had suddenly become a real manga artist, solely responsible for a piece of work, moreover, a top-tier work like 'Naruto'!

"Then, Zhao Chengming..."

Lin Yuan turned to another assistant and made another groundbreaking decision: "'One Piece' is up to you."

All the authors were stunned!

Zhao Chengming was shocked, "Me? 'One Piece'?"

Lin Yuan nodded, among the manga assistants, Zhao Chengming's skills were very outstanding, not inferior to Luo Wei.

With his help, Zhao Chengming could handle 'One Piece'.

"Thank you, teacher!"

Zhao Chengming's heart pounded as he nodded strenuously, he did not want to miss such an opportunity!

Among the manga in the studio, the popularity of 'One Piece' was not lesser than 'Naruto'!

"Then there's Qian Duoduo."

Lin Yuan didn't give everyone much time to react, looking at the assistant called Qian Duoduo, "You'll be responsible for 'Grim Reaper Elementary Student'."

No way!

Qian Duoduo's eyes widened, then he jumped out of sheer joy, "Please rest assured, teacher, I will do my best!"

It's the 'Dead Sea of Fire'!

Just naming the three manga together indicated that 'Grim Reaper Elementary Student' has an influence comparable to 'Naruto' and 'One Piece'!

Lin Yuan smiled.

Everyone had different styles they excelled at. Qian Duoduo's art style matched 'Detective Chu Yu' very well. He was more suited than anyone else to take over this manga.

The remaining two assistants stared blankly at Luo Wei, Qian Duoduo, and Zhao Chengming. Their faces had turned blank.

Their feelings couldn't be fully expressed with the word "envy."

"Sun ZhiXiang."

Lin Yuan looked at the fourth assistant, "'The Kindaichi Case Files' is available, you'll be in charge."

"Okay!"

Sun ZhiXiang hadn't expected this manga to be available!

While this manga couldn't compete with 'Dead Sea of Fire' in popularity, he knew his own weight. To be able to handle this manga, he was already very happy!

"What about me, Teacher..."

With this, only the last assistant named Zhou An has not been assigned a work to be responsible for. He nervously glanced at the other assistants who had received their works.

"You and Sun ZhiXiang will draw 'The Kindaichi Case Files' together!"

Lin Yuan has already made plans these past few days: "Two people will be responsible for 'The Kindaichi Case Files'. It'll be faster this way. Once you finish this manga, I will assign you new work. This manga has the shortest storyline compared to the 'Dead Sea of Fire'."

"Understood!"

Zhou An quickly nodded.

He was just afraid that he wouldn't get anything. Now that he has a manga to work on, even though it's together with Sun ZhiXiang, it's not unacceptable. He was even very excited!

After all, he knew that his abilities were somewhat lacking compared to the other assistants. Read the latest on My Virtual Library Empire

He must work even harder in the future!

"Let's proceed like this then."

After Lin Yuan finished dividing the tasks, he said:

"There are still a few days left in the holiday, you can continue to rest. I'll cover the updates for now."

"No need, I'm ready to work!"

Luo Wei is eager to get started. After all, she is the one in charge of 'Naruto'!

The other assistants also said, "We've got enough sleep too."

Three days and nights of sleep basically replenished their energy.

Most importantly, they all got their hands on popular manga, even 'The Kindaichi Case Files' is considered super cool to most people!

"Whatever you like."

From now on, Lin Yuan will be the main brain of the studio, responsible for the general direction. The specific drawing tasks will be given to the assistants, so that he can free his hands for other stuff.

"But the problem is, we don't have any assistants..."

Luo Wei smiled wryly. They each have their own manga to be responsible for, without any assistants work would be too laborious.

"Then recruit."

Lin Yuan looked at Luo Wei: "You were previously the president of the Qin Art Drawing Society. You should know some talent in this area, like Brother Zhong Yu, whom we both know."

Luo Wei once was the president of the Qin Art Drawing Society, thus she has a wide network.

Lin Yuan also used to be part of the Drawing Society, so he knows some people, being most familiar with Brother Zhong Yu.

Lin Yuan even once asked Brother Zhong Yu to look after his little sister at school.

"Alright, I'll go find people!"

Luo Wei, receiving the order, immediately said, "But they don't know yet that you are Teacher Shadow..."

"Then it depends on your judgment."

Jin Mu said from nowhere: "Remember to bring in reliable assistants. We will sign a confidentiality agreement, not allowing the revealing of Teacher Shadow's identity."

"Understood!"

Luo Wei, her eyes flickering as if she has already started selecting candidates in her mind.

She used to be the president of the Qin Art Drawing Society and knew many talented individuals who were interested in manga.

"Each of you can recruit five assistants. But at the initial stage, only two or three are enough, and we have to mainly rely on you."

Lin Yuan spoke. The more people in the studio, the higher the chance of revealing Shadow. Even if he planned to divide everyone into groups later, there would still be chances of interacting with these assistants. Could these assistants not recognize Xian Yu's face?

When letting people in, one must be cautious.

Lin Yuan now planned to use Shadow Studio as a talent training base for the Alliance.

Later, Shadow Studio will prop up half the world of manga!

After all, he still had many manga yet to be brought out!

Among these assistants...

Those who perform excellently will receive personal training from Lin Yuan, and be responsible for a separate manga in the future!

Just like Zhao Chengming and others!

Hmm.

About the matter of the Alliance replacing Tribe Comics, Lin Yuan was serious.

It wasn't enough for Shadow to become a god with the status of the world's first manga artist.

To catch up with Xian Yu and Chu Kuang, he must produce even more incredible achievements!

After all ...

North Chu Kuang, South Xian Yu.

Shadow is in the middle!
