

All R. Artist 751

Chapter 751 The Welcome Transformation into Darkness

On the screen. The narrative continues. Jiang Yuyan entered the Shentu family's residence as an illegitimate daughter, but instead of a life of wealth and luxury, she was subjected to servitude and humiliation... Laundry. Washing dishes. Cooking. She had barely waited for lunch when the cruel maid by the lady of the house in front of her threw a bowl of plain noodles on the ground, looking down on her haughtily as she scavenged for food. Nobility doesn't subsist on charity, but it was the only food she had for the entire day. If she refused to eat for the sake of dignity, she might starve to death. ... Forced to kneel. Starving. Having made a mistake, she was even locked up in a pigsty by the lady of the house, subjected to humiliation and ridicule. Yet the inherently weak Jiang Yuyan didn't even dare to fight back. Her only act of defiance was to ask her father, Shentu Hai, for a memorial tablet for her mother at the ancestral hall. Shentu Hai agreed. However, when the lady of the house heard about it, she became furious, throwing the tablet on the ground in front of Jiang Yuyan, and ordered her to cut her mother's tablet in half personally! Jiang Yuyan was kneeling on the ground. No matter how much pleading she did, it was in vain. Her head lowered and teary-eyed, and with her father's silence at the door, she made a silent resolution in her heart: "Shentu Hai, Madam Shentu-Liu, today's humiliation is unforgettable." A gust of wind blew. All of a sudden, she raised the blade and cut her mother's memorial tablet in half. In an abrupt zoom in, her face filled the screen, her once pitiful big eyes filled with despair and resentment! ... For an entire episode, almost an hour of broadcasting, it was all about Jiang Yuyan's story. By this point, the audience was fuming, shaking all over in agitation, wishing they could go into the television and kill the villain themselves! "Damn it!" "Shentu Hai's wife is so disgusting. If I were Jiang Yuyan, I would just kill her with the knife. I would rather die together!" "I feel so bad for Yuyan!" "Jiang Yuyan is so abused!" "It's heartbreaking to watch. Shentu Hai is absolutely useless, the creme de la creme of villainous trash. Even when he sees his own daughter being bullied, he doesn't dare say a word. He has no dignity as a man!" "Jiang Yuyan has turned evil!" "The acting skill of this actress is fucking insane. In the end, her gaze was simply brilliant. She should've resisted a long time ago. Weakness is only inviting insult. I am on my fucking knees hoping for Jiang Yuyan to turn evil!" ... In the home. Lin Xuan was fuming. Having to watch Jiang Yuyan enduring all sorts of humiliation in the Shentu family, even the lowest rank servant would dare to flirt with her in public! "Bastard!" Her little sister cursed. Mother looked at Big Yaoyao, and in the end she didn't reprimand her younger daughter for swearing; she wanted to swear too. The villains were too cruel. Weren't they just driving Jiang Yuyan to her death? "You can swear?" Lin Xuan looked at her sister in surprise, then clapped her hands approvingly: "That was a good curse! These villains are worse than animals. The ending hinted that Jiang Yuyan has turned evil, right?" "It's obvious." Mother watched Jiang Yuyan's eyes transform on the television screen, the actress's performance was very spirited. Even across the screen, she could feel the hatred and bitterness in her eyes. For some reason. When Jiang Yuyan unveiled that gaze, all the viewers felt a chill down their spine, yet they also felt a sense of anticipation that they couldn't quite put into words! Think about it! Normally with TV series, viewers fear the most when a character turns evil. But Jiang Yuyan was an exception, viewers even wanted to see her turn evil! ... Jiang Yuyan's turn to evil was briefly shown, but with just a transformation in her eyes, her transition was like night and day, leaving a profound impression on the viewers. But this didn't change her powerlessness. The fourteenth episode aired. Jiang Yuyan was sold by her mistress to the brothel. Clearly, she was going to be mistreated again. Being such a beautiful woman, nobles and officials wanted to get a taste of her. Madame brothel-owner didn't treat her any better than that! She escaped from the brothel. A lackey from the brothel pursued her. In desperation, she decided to kill herself with her mother's hairpin, but at that moment, one of the male leads, Qin Tiange, appeared out of nowhere. He played the hero, and chased away her pursuers. "This man..." Just like that, Jiang Yuyan no longer wanted to die. She fell deeply in love with this man. Back in the Shentu family, Jiang Yuyan tried to meekly plead with her father for protection. In the end, the father showed a rare spine by not sending her back to the brothel, the equivalent of hell. But, Jiang Yuyan knew that his intervention was mostly to protect his own reputation. Three days later. The court summoned women for the royal selection, and among them was the daughter of the Shentu family. This daughter of the Shentu family was the result of the wife's labor, and she was the only one who showed kindness to Jiang Yuyan. But on a dark and windy night, Jiang Yuyan took a dagger and killed her sister. She was going to take her sister's spot in the court to participate in the selection! During the night. The candlelight flickered and the shadows danced. The girl who was once as soft and tender as a white flower had ceased to exist. In her place was a vengeful young girl who had personally obliterated her last shred of morality. ... Even though the plot didn't describe the main character in detail, and the director consistently zoomed in on Jiang Yuyan instead, the audience didn't find it boring. On the contrary, they found it increasingly intriguing. However, when Jiang Yuyan killed her sister, the comment section exploded for the first time! "Oh my gosh!" "Jiang Yuyan's villainous transformation is brutal, I can't believe she murdered her own sister. You know, of all the Shentu family, her sister was the only one who showed compassion and sympathy for her!" "That's too harsh!" "Did you see Jiang Yuyan's expression when she killed her sister? Tears were streaming down her face, but she had a smile on her lips. I never thought I could see such a terrifying expression on such a pretty face!" "I don't blame her." "Although her sister pitied her, her sister's mother, the mistress of the Shentu family, insulted her constantly. Ultimately, it's the mistress's fault, for driving a good person to become a cutthroat." "Still, this is too much." "All those who think it's too much, look back at how much Jiang Yuyan has suffered. She shouldn't have killed her sister, who was the only innocent person in the Shentu family. But Jiang Yuyan had to survive, she was on a dead end by staying with the Shentu family. Her only hope of survival was to enter the palace and become the Imperial Concubine!" ... Lin Xuan, watching the drama at home, frowned. Even though her sister's character wasn't deeply developed, she never mistreated Jiang Yuyan, yet the first person Jiang Yuyan killed after her villainous transformation was her own sister. "How ironic." Her little sister couldn't help but sigh. Jiang Yuyan's villainous transformation certainly makes the audience happy, but the fact that she murdered her sister first after becoming a villain is as if Jiang Yuyan, who was not spared despite her kindness by the mistress, did not show mercy because of her sister's kindness. Maybe her kindness was completely eradicated the moment she killed her sister. Meanwhile. Yet, ironically, it is through this contradictory act that Jiang Yuyan's character has become solidified. The audience has forgotten that she is a character created by the scriptwriter, their focus unconsciously follows this woman. Main character? In the past two episodes, the main characters have had nothing to do with the story. It feels like Jiang Yuyan is the lead of this series. Her shift from good to evil makes her character rich and full, and her act of killing her sister turns her into the person she once despised the most. ... Episode fourteen is also over. After watching the two new episodes updated today, countless discussions about "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange" have suddenly appeared online. And of course, the hot topic of discussion is Jiang Yuyan's transformation from innocent to a cutthroat! "These two episodes were incredible!" "The introduction of Jiang Yuyan's character has suddenly added countless possibilities to the following story. I watched her transformation scene several times, the change in her eyes gave me goosebumps!" "What a performance!" "Who played this role?" "I waited twelve freaking episodes, and the scriptwriter finally got a clue. Although Jiang Yuyan's act of killing her sister is controversial, surprisingly I can't hate this character at all!" "I know, right!" "She was driven to it." "It's heartbreaking!" "The mistress deserves to die! Now, I look forward to seeing Jiang Yuyan kill the mistress, the madam of the brothel, and those servants who bullied her. Yuyan has risen!" "Who came up with this plot twist?" "Feels like the scriptwriter suddenly got clever, finally not following the original story blindly. This original character's appearance is a stroke of genius. She fell into misery twice and was rescued by Qin Tiange twice. Now she's completely in love with Qin Tiange. Added with her father's identity, it feels like the story will become really interesting!" "I can't wait for the update!" "I have to wait until tomorrow to watch the following two episodes. Please continue to release episodes about Jiang Yuyan's plot, I simply love this original character!" ... The team behind the TV drama are also chatting in a group chat. They had noticed the increase in attention the drama was getting online, their anxious hearts were finally put at ease: "The effect is quite good!" "I thought Jiang Yuyan killing her sister would completely ruin the audience's sympathy for the character. As it turns out, this plot is just highly controversial, but there are still plenty of people stating they love the character Jiang Yuyan!" "Audiences are tough to predict!" "No wonder Chu Kuang likes to send lunch boxes so much. So, 'giving lunch boxes to characters' is such an effective strategy. I'm just curious what their reactions will be when they see tomorrow's update." "I'm curious about the ratings." "How were the ratings for these two episodes?" Their discussion came to a pause, making the atmosphere tense again. Although the online discussion for this new plot is very high, the ratings ultimately decide the fate of this drama. "The ratings...." The director suddenly replied. From home, he let out a smile before typing a line of text, "Our show's ratings have nearly doubled compared to the last episode!" "No way!" "So amazing?" "Chu Kuang is awesome!" "Who would have thought? Do today's viewers have such a heavy taste? Director, say no more, let's continue filming at this pace!" "... Everyone became excited! Although the current ratings aren't that impressive, mainly because the previous ratings were so low, and the online discussion only involves a minority of viewers, but considering Jiang Yuyan's appearance in only two episodes, the response has gone beyond everyone's expectations. This has also added some confidence for the upcoming plot! The audience cannot imagine! The madness that belongs to Jiang Yuyan has only just begun!

Chapter 752: After all, I'm not a devil

An increase in ratings by two-fold? Given the news with Zhao Jue's excited voice, Lin Yuan himself didn't feel that surprised. Because the audience base for this drama was just too poor. Given the poor beginnings, so what if the ratings doubled? Compared to the investment scale and cast lineup for this drama, I can say that we've only just barely achieved a passing grade, the attention received truly isn't many. How could I make this drama attract attention quickly? Lin Yuan pondered, then said, "Publicize that my... my friend Chu Kuang took over the script." "Publicize it?" Zhao Jue hesitated, "Shouldn't we wait for a few more episodes?" Publicizing Chu Kuang taking over the script is, of course, a good thing, Chu Kuang's reputation is sure to attract a plethora of viewers! But what if viewers are not satisfied with the plot henceforth? Wouldn't Chu Kuang be carrying the blame? "It won't be a problem." Lin Yuan planned to ride on Chu Kuang the old rascal's fame to push the play forward. Through tonight's two episodes, it could be seen that the role of Jiang Yuyan was a very useful card. "Then I'll really start promoting it..." "Hmm." It was decided. Ten minutes later. Starlight officially announced: "Due to the low initial ratings of 'Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange', we invited Mr. Chu Kuang to write the script starting from episode 13. Some viewers guessed it, we did indeed change the writer. So, did you enjoy today's two episodes (chuckles)"

Rush, rush, rush! The news immediately sparked countless attention: "Chu Kuang the old rascal took over 'Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange'?" "I thought this drama had already flopped?" "With the old rascal stepping in, there's hope for the drama now, I'm going to check it out now!" "Do you think the drama will be saved just by having the old rascal taking over? Are you sure he wouldn't directly kill off the two leads?" "Don't forget, the old rascal has already killed off the leads in two consecutive books, and Sherlock Holmes actually died too. The old rascal had to revive him due to reader's pressure!" "Yang Xiaofan, Qin Tiange, Danger!!!!!" "Fish Papa, hold onto old rascal's hand!" "Although I'm not interested in this drama, both Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange are my gods. If the old rascal dares to kill them off, I dare to bring out my country's specialty to chase after the old rascal!" "Pfft!" "You guys are killing me." "No jokes, never thought that the old rascal would accept a TV show adaptation from Starlight, must be because of Fish Papa's face." "I'm not bothering anymore, I'm off to watch the show!" "I did watch the first two episodes, wasn't really interested. It just follows the original plot. But now the old rascal took over, and I'm feeling like the following plot seems pretty interesting!" "Good, the old rascal might just be the reason that I continue watching!" ... Chu Kuang's summoning power was just too strong! Once Starlight announced this, the web traffic for 'Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange' shot up instantly! Meanwhile. Viewers who had already seen the two episodes were astounded: "Damn, so tonight's two episodes were written by Chu Kuang!" "I was wondering why a new character was suddenly introduced!" "If you say that this was written by Chu Kuang, I won't be surprised. After Jiang Yuyan turned evil and directly killed off her sister, there's no doubt that it's Chu Kuang's handiwork!" "Is the old rascal going to completely change the plot?" "The old rascal does have a knack for killing off characters, but what makes him great is that he makes us love watching it. I fucking love the character Jiang Yuyan!" "No wonder the two episodes tonight suddenly became so good!" "I thought the previous screenwriter had a breakthrough, so it was the old rascal who ended up doing it. Not bad!" "Looking forward to the following plot!" ... With the addition of Chu Kuang, more and more viewers are tuning into this drama. The first twelve were boring for many, but they finished catching up with speed mode, just to keep up with the thirteenth episode where Chu Kuang starts his part. In some sense, is this also considered as Chu Kuang's new work? And the result. In episode thirteen, Jiang Yuyan appeared; within two episodes, she has incited high amounts of discussion! "Sick!" "Once you get past the first twelve episodes, the thirteenth episode kicks off in a super god-mode. The characters added in don't seem awkward at all, and their relationships are logically set up!" "The old rascal really does know his stuff!" "The moment he took over, the entire show took a different turn!" "The original character Jiang Yuyan's turn to the dark side was thoroughly thrilling!" "One episode to turn dark and another to commit murder, Jiang Yuyan's character was successfully established within two episodes!" "I suddenly have a chilling thought..." "Me too..." "Jiang Yuyan wouldn't kill Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange, would she?" ... I must say... In the beginning, people were mocking Chu Kuang saying that killing the two main characters that everyone loves is just recycling the old rascal's old trick. After all, this old rascal does have a habit of killing off his lead characters. But everyone understands. Even if Chu Kuang can't resist giving main characters a tragic ending, he wouldn't do it every time. Most of his works have the protagonist surviving till the end. A running gag is still just a gag. However, after watching the thirteenth and fourteenth episodes of "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange", everyone's hair started standing on end. Jiang Yuyan's character is too diabolical! You never know, Chu Kuang might just have the guts to let Jiang Yuyan kill the main characters! Some people even started imagining how Chu Kuang's narrative would unfold:

"From the fourteenth episode, it is clear that Jiang Yuyan has fallen for Qin Tiange, but remember that he is in love with the leading lady, Wan Rou. Jiang Yuyan could, out of jealousy, kill Qin Tiange. When Yang Xiaofan finds out that Qin Tiange is his brother and seeks revenge on Jiang Yuyan, he also gets killed..." This speculation scares the hell out of everyone! That prophet must be silenced! Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange are so popular, the old rascal wouldn't kill them off, would he? At least respect the original work! Both of these characters survived till the end in the original work and all its adapted TV series. They were invincible! Besides... Even though everyone seemed somewhat interested in Starlight's version of "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange". If we really talk about feelings for characters... Everyone still loves Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange! It's like someone remaking "Journey to the West". No matter whether people watch the remake or not, if the screenwriter dares to have an original character kill Sun Wukong, the resulting public outcry would be tremendous, and strong criticism would be the least of it! For a moment... The discussion grew more intense. And Lin Yuan, seeing everyone's discussions, was torn between laughter and tears. After some thought, he decided to log in to Chu Kuang's account and reassure the audience: "I hold much affection for both Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange, so rest assured, this time, no major characters will be killed. After all, I am not a devil." In response to the public pressure, Lin Yuan tried to soothe the viewers while also engaging with them to hype up the show. Looking at the audience's reactions... They genuinely suspected that he was going to kill off the two main characters of the drama. How could that be possible? What sort of person do they take me for? Flushing, Lin Yuan felt he had to defend himself. But his defense only served to amuse the netizens: "Has the sun risen in the west?" "The old rascal has times where he feels the need to explain things to the audience?" "I am living to see this. If he didn't explain, we really would have worried. Now that he has, I can continue to watch at ease." "I must say, revisiting this story is pretty touching." "The show is actually not badly made. The two main characters are in line with the original, it's just the beginning of the plot that adheres too closely to the original that lost some interest. Just a pinch of unexpected changes got me hooked again." "Seeing the old rascal hastily explaining, why am I so happy?" "The old rascal's 'After all, I'm not a devil' line is so hilarious!" "Now you realize that killing off Biyao and Poirot, even attempting to harm Sherlock Holmes is devilish?" "..." Perhaps Chu Kuang's promise reassured everyone. For a time, those who watched the show continued watching the show and those who chatted continued chatting, seeming quite contented. There was a joyous atmosphere all over the internet.

Chapter 753: Start Killing

Blue Star's dramas usually adopt a 'shoot-as-you-go' process where two episodes air every Saturday and Sunday. Monday through Friday is the main creative team's shooting time. The benefit of this approach is that the plot can be adjusted at any time, otherwise Lin Yuan wouldn't have been able to take over the script creation and adaptation halfway through. The downside, however, is that the filming schedule is relatively tight. Thankfully, the production level and technology of Blue Star far surpass that of Earth. Thus, the footage can be quickly edited once the actors are done filming. If there is no significant change in the plot later on, several episodes could be released all at once due to ample filming material. These episodes can then be purchased for viewing on video websites, achieving a profit in advance. This strategy goes by the name of "First Look Excitement". The next day was Sunday. The new episodes of "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange" were about to be broadcast, and the audience eagerly waited in front of their computers. By then, the drama's viewership and online views had increased dramatically. The public's anticipation for the drama had been roused to the fullest extent by Chu Kuang assuming the role of screenwriter and the appearance of the original character Jiang Yuyan! At home. Lin Yuan's mother and sisters, Lin Xuan and Lin Yao, were also sitting in front of the sofa waiting for today's broadcast. They were obviously captivated by Chu Kuang as well as the special plot of the two episodes from the previous night. All three were discussing how good Jiang Yuyan's acting was and how she seemed to be an astonishing newcomer, causing Lin Yuan to chuckle to himself. Where are all these geniuses coming from? The actress playing Jiang Yuyan was indeed quite beautiful, but as for her acting, it could only be regarded as fairly good. The actress was able to perform so brilliantly for two reasons. The first was the vast range in which her character could develop. The second reason was the aid of the Acting Potion. After all, it was implausible for Lin Yuan to find a superb actress to play Jiang Yuyan on such short notice. Hence, he made subtle use of the System's aid and applied it to the actress, who probably had no idea why her acting skills had suddenly improved so significantly and made her portrayal of Jiang Yuyan so noteworthy. "It's started!" Mom suddenly said. Following her words, the latest episode of "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange" really started airing. It didn't disappoint the audiences as, yet again, the plot revolved around Jiang Yuyan! ... People following the drama on TV were clearly fewer than those watching it online. The series had partnered with several major video websites, so the moment it got broadcasted on TV, all major online platforms also broadcasted it simultaneously. Netizens could adjust the progress of the TV drama at any time and discuss it while watching. On the screen. The plot of the latest episode had already begun. Jiang Yuyan killed her sister, through which she got the opportunity to enter the palace. However, before that, she met Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange and got involved in a martial conflict. Hence, she decided to help the two. Undeniably. Even though Jiang Yuyan had turned dark, she didn't seem to become a villain at odds with the protagonists. On the contrary, she fell in love with Qin Tiange and was willing to give him everything without any regrets. Upon learning that a universally recognized martial arts villain was opposing Qin Tiange, she directly collaborated with Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange. Using her cunning plans, she helped the two main characters kill the highly skilled villain. Moreover, she even obtained a coveted secret manual from the villain! Of course. Jiang Yuyan hid the secret manual, she didn't tell Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange. As a result, Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange felt a sense of camaraderie with Jiang Yuyan. Still, both were put off by the ruthlessness shown by Jiang Yuyan in her schemes. It was understandable. The protagonists in martial arts novels were often somewhat saintly, disdaining to use tricky schemes. Jiang Yuyan, however, in order to assist them, resorted to some means despised by the righteous martial arts path. ... At home. Older sister Lin Xuan couldn't help laughing: "That evil villain is despicably cunning and has committed countless heinous crimes. The protagonists are simply too kind-hearted. They should treat such a person exactly like Jiang Yuyan did, using even more sinister means to confront him!" "Fight fire with fire." The younger sister seemed to have figured out the modus operandi of Jiang Yuyan's dark transformation. She didn't know if she would use extreme means to kill the villain if she were Jiang Yuyan. All she knew was she would never kill her sister if she were in Jiang Yuyan's position. "It's heartbreaking." Mom sighed. This plot might seem like Jiang Yuyan has become friends with the two protagonists, but in essence, they're walking different paths. This means that people like Qin Tiange could never be attracted to people like Jiang Yuyan. But it should be understood that Jiang Yuyan killed the evil villain, even using cunning means, not because she had a high sense of justice in martial arts, but simply to help the man she loved. ... Online. The netizens became more and more excited as they watched: "I really like characters like Jiang Yuyan. Her decisive and deadly approach really wins me over. I always thought that Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange were way too saintly. They are unwilling to kill the villain until the very end, it's suffocating!" "Jiang Yuyan is awesome!" "Although Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange don't understand you, I do. When dealing with such big villains, we can't talk about righteousness and morality to reform them. We have to kill them ruthlessly!" "Yuyan radiates queen vibes!" "Darkness is ten times stronger than innocence! Looking at the soft and weak girl, her hand was still trembling when she picked up the knife. But when it came time to do the deed, there was absolutely no mercy!"

Chapter 753: Start Killing_2

"So awesome!" "So satisfying to watch!" "Jiang Yuyan got hold of the Martial Arts Secret Manual. It contains the art of transference. It seems like Jiang Yuyan is getting stronger. She will become a true queen one day!" ... The pace of the TV drama is fast. Though Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange are dissatisfied with Jiang Yuyan's ruthless actions, they still acknowledge that she helps rid the Martial World of evil. So, they pleasantly cooperate. They unite and confront the Devil Sect in the Martial World. Surprisingly, Jiang Yuyan turns out to be a martial arts genius. She uses the techniques she learned from the secret manual and strides onto a path of obliterating villains. Almost all the famous villains in the novel are vanquished by her and the two protagonists! "Damn!" "She's become a killing machine!" "In the original story, the villains are killed by the protagonists after strenuous efforts. However, this old rascal Chu Kuang arranged for Jiang Yuyan to do all the killing. What's more, she enhances her own martial abilities by absorbing the villains' power as she kills. The craziest thing is, the two male protagonists have no clue that this fragile-looking young girl has grown tremendously powerful!" "She's playing the fool to catch the wise!" "The male protagonists bear the stigma of killing while Jiang Yuyan actually does all the dirty work. This woman is truly deadly! Her intelligence and methods are unmatched!" "The villains are screwed!" "If Jiang Yuyan gets into the palace, there will be chaos. Those experienced court players are no match for her. She didn't even flinch when she was killing the Flower Picker. She's become an expert at killing!" "... Jiang Yuyan's progress is remarkable! Her kills and power increases rapidly. But as her character grows increasingly cold, the male protagonists start to disapprove of her methods. One day. When Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange are surrounded and tortured by the enemies, Jiang Yuyan arrives. She confuses the villains with her strategy, then tortures them into a terrible state! But why? Because her beloved Qin Tiange was bathed in blood from the villain's attack, and her best friend Yang Xiaofan was at death's door. She retaliates like a butcher, making the villains suffer severely. She cruelly dismembers them and watches them die amidst their screams. In the afternoon. Under her meticulous care, the two protagonists wake up to see the hellish scene. They find Jiang Yuyan frightful and decide to stop collaborating with her. "What did I do wrong..." Jiang Yuyan watches Qin Tiange's cold retreating silhouette, tears of grievance welling up in her eyes. Though her ways of dealing with villains are ruthless, she is always obedient to Qin Tiange. She even regards Yang Xiaofan as her only friend. Now, because they disapprove of her, they've completely parted ways with her. ... Before the screen. No viewer hates this woman. Even though she's quietly transformed into a fearsome assassin, some viewers have sympathy for Jiang Yuyan. This woman is so pitiful. She rids Qin Tiange of all his enemies but fails to earn his love. For her only friend, Yang Xiaofan, she repeatedly tortures the villains. She even risks her life to save him only to be misunderstood by him. "I'm doing all this for you." Jiang Yuyan mutters to herself. Her hair stirs on its own, radiant and incomparable. Though she is injured, her injuries are recovering rapidly because she has absorbed many years of martial arts power. At this moment, Jiang Yuyan's actual strength is not weaker than the two male protagonists, but no one except the viewers knows this! .... The viewers can of course understand the two male protagonists, who are obviously men of justice. They perform righteously, even when they kill, they do it swiftly without torturing their opponents. Their values obviously don't align with Jiang Yuyan's, so it was inevitable that they wouldn't stay together.

"Yuyan got it tough!" "If I were Qin Tiange, I would absolutely choose Jiang Yuyan. Where are you going to find a woman of such intelligence and strength who is also completely devoted to you? The only advantage the chief female character has over Yuyan is her appearance, nothing else!" "The chief female character is kind." "Of what use is kindness? If she gets captured by villains, she will implicate the two men who fight over her. If Jiang Yuyan is caught by the villains, she can wipe them out single-handedly and then propose to Qin Tiange with their heads!" "Puff!" "Presenting heads for a marriage proposal, that's different. But Jiang Yuyan is indeed very attractive. I really like this character. She really solves many problems for the two protagonists by wiping out villains root and branch!" .... After this episode. Jiang Yuyan's popularity skyrocketed. Even though her actions are unacceptable to the male protagonists, the audience doesn't mind her ruthless determination at all. It's a bloody kind of beauty! So cool! She'd dare to oppose the world for the two protagonists. Even the black mark of killing her own sister is gradually accepted by some viewers. The story made it clear: if she hadn't grabbed the opportunity to enter the palace, the chief lady would've killed her! She's about to enter the palace!

Chapter 753: Start Killing _3

The leading lady was caught in a dilemma, not daring to lay a hand on her, yet her daughter was killed and she didn't know who was the murderer. The mystery made her hate Jiang Yuyan to the bone, seeing Jiang Yuyan benefiting from her daughter's death. However, Jiang Yuyan was no longer the weak little white flower of her early days. When the leading lady tried to punish her again, she boldly connected with the official sent from the palace to guide her and condemned the hostess's actions. After all, Jiang Yuyan was going into the palace and might even become an imperial consort one day! Brilliant! If this was a drama centered on a female lead, Jiang Yuyan's action could be described as a real slap in the face, from being suppressed at the beginning to turning the table entirely on her own, it was truly delightful! ... On Earth. In the American series "The Walking Dead," there is a character known as Carol, a woman who, for her team, has done some less than honorable things and was even banished. However, the ultimate truth revealed that Carol's contributions to the team were irreplaceable, much like Jiang Yuyan saving the two main characters. Audiences never dislike such characters, even loving them to the brink! "I love Jiang Yuyan!" "Jiang Yuyan is mine!" "All you rivals, draw your swords!" "You guys are insane. Jiang Yuyan is dangerous. She's already obsessively in love with Qin Tiange. One guy just criticised Qin Tiange a few times, and Jiang Yuyan almost killed him. Who the hell could handle that?" "Who cares!" "Besides killing her sister, Jiang Yuyan has been killing only those who deserve to die. Qin Tiange can control her, and the fact that she cares about Yang Xiaofan's view shows how deeply she loves and respects them." "Jiang Yuyan is the real leading lady!" "Why do Qin Tiange and Yang Xiaofan like the lead actress so much? The second female lead would be better, she loves Yang Xiaofan wholeheartedly. Unfortunately, Yang Xiaofan is a bit dim and insists on competing with Qin Tiange for the lead actress. Jiang Yuyan is the real deal!" ... If it can be said that the episode where Jiang Yuyan killed her sister did stir some controversy, the discussions around Jiang Yuyan in this episode was almost negligible. People genuinely liked this character, and even hoped that she would end up with Qin Tiange. Jiang Yuyan even gradually surpassed the main female characters in popularity! At this point. This drama had massive viewership, and their affection for Jiang Yuyan catapulted her popularity, to the extent that the first instant the next episode aired, the bullets dedicated to professing love for Jiang Yuyan flooded the screen! Among all these professions of love. Jiang Yuyan, who had parted ways with the two leads, had completely gone off the rails. An old good guy who had a close relationship with Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange accidentally witnessed Jiang Yuyan absorbing the power of the villains. He recognized that Jiang Yuyan was practicing the terrifying Devil Technique that had been lost in the Martial World for many years, and decided to kill Jiang Yuyan to protect the people! "Don't do it!" Upon seeing this, the audience's professions of love came to a halt. This old good guy was extremely popular. He had protected Yang Xiaofan from being bullied since childhood and raised him by his side. In the eyes of many viewers, he was like Yang Xiaofan's father. However, Jiang Yuyan didn't know about his relationship with Yang Xiaofan, and at this moment, Jiang Yuyan certainly wouldn't risk letting the news of her practicing the Devil Technique leak out... "Die!!!" At this point, Jiang Yuyan had become one of the most formidable fighters in the whole drama. She killed the kind old man who had a close relationship with the two leading men, and even absorbed his power. Usually, she only killed the villains, but at this moment, filled with fury and the fear of her practicing the Devil Technique being exposed, she killed him out of rage! "Miss, you are possessed." With his last breath, the old good guy sighed faintly. A character loved by countless people died at Jiang Yuyan's hand in this episode... At this moment! The audience was shocked!

Chapter 754: Shot all at Once

The audience was stunned! From Jiang Yuyan's transformation to her slapping the female protagonist, the audience had already been deeply attracted to this character. Who wouldn't love this perfect goddess who was compliant, gentle, and delicate around Qin Tiange, carefree and innocent in front of Yang Xiaofan, but could transform into a bloody and brutal antagonist for the sake of these two? You should know. Even though Jiang Yuyan transformed and started to act more ruthlessly, her actions were all targeted at villains. And her interactions with the two main characters were all heartfelt. Those feelings were all real—— Friendship towards Yang Xiaofan. Love towards Qin Tiange. However, it was this goddess of everyone, Jiang Yuyan, who killed a classic character equally loved and popular in the original work. This left everyone's minds blank for a moment! "Ol' Zhang is dead?" "Jiang Yuyan kills even the good guys!" "This is one of my favorite supporting characters besides the two protagonists! In the original work, Ol' Zhang survived till the end, but now he's dead?" "Old rascal Chu Kuang! Give me back my Ol' Zhang!" "How could old rascal Chu Kuang do this? Ol' Zhang didn't have to die, why did he arrange for Ol' Zhang to see Jiang Yuyan practicing, why did he let Yuyan kill Ol' Zhang!" "Dammit!" "Hey, have you guys forgotten who Chu Kuang is? This old rascal has promised not to kill the protagonists, but ask him not to kill even the supporting role, aren't you asking too much of him? His murderous intent is even heavier than Jiang Yuyan's." ... After the collective shock, some audience cursed out loud, while some just laughed bitterly. Some audience didn't have much emotional fluctuations, even explained how helpless Jiang Yuyan was in killing Ol' Zhang, after all, not everyone was deeply attached to Ol' Zhang. Anyway. This plot twist didn't affect the audience's love for Jiang Yuyan, in contrast, all the hate went to Chu Kuang. People are not mad at Jiang Yuyan, but at Chu Kuang for creating this plot twist! In an instant! All the audience were discussing "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange"'s recent episodes. Jiang Yuyan's name was repeatedly mentioned, making the drama increasingly popular, and it even attracted people who weren't initially interested. The drama finally became a big hit! Someone even edited a montage of Jiang Yuyan's murders: From her trembling hands unable to hold onto the knife at first, to later killing without even blinking an eye, letting the blood of the dead spatter onto her face... The female killing machine had finally made her name! Although Ol' Zhang's death had left the audience dumbfounded, Ol' Zhang was after all a supporting character with not much screen time and so, the focal point of people's discussion was not on this. This was also related to the deep impression Chu Kuang left on the audience. Some netizens teased: "Don't get too caught up in the excitement! Have you forgotten who the scriptwriter of this drama is? He is the infamous old rascal, Chu Kuang. If there aren't any deaths, would that still fit his style?" The old rascal's style is all about deaths! Compared to the popular characters the old rascal has killed before, Ol' Zhang's death was, after all, still acceptable. Some even joked: "Ol' Zhang died in place of the protagonists." The old rascal does not kill main characters. So he killed a supporting character. Some even teased that probably another popular supporting character will die later, as there were two protagonists in this drama, and it was unlike old rascal's style to not kill two supporting characters if none of the main characters were to die. ... The main creative team of the drama crew was also excited, Jiang Yuyan's appearance really revived the drama. This level of internet discussion was totally unexpected and the ratings were through the roof! "Let's speed it up even more!" The crew made a key decision to speed up filming and air the drama ahead of schedule. This way they could charge on the video streaming website. This was also a common way for Blue Star TV dramas to make money. Now, Lin Yuan quietly came to the outskirts of the drama crew to watch the filming. He came with his System to provide the crew director and actors with accelerated filming. In order to fully unleash the popularity of this drama and gather Prestige Value for Chu Kuang, they had to finish filming the remaining plot in one go. Four episodes a week were far from enough for Lin Yuan. One day... Two days... Three days... In the following days, the shooting team was operating at full throttle. The shooting efficiency was unprecedentedly high, the actors' performances were surprisingly good, and the collaboration between departments was top-notch. No one could understand why the production was becoming smoother and smoother, as if the gods were helping speed up the shooting process! "Damn it!" "That was fast!" "I have never witnessed such rapid progress, we shot nearly four episodes in a single day. This is a stark contrast to the previous gloomy atmosphere of the crew!" No one knew. Behind their speedy shooting, Lin Yuan was secretly exchanging a bunch of special props with the System. Although the expenses made him wince, it was not only for Chu Kuang to harvest Prestige Value, but also for Lin Yuan to compensate for the huge hole that his adaptation of "Journey to the West" had caused in the television department. ... Lancet was the original author of "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange". His work had been adapted countless times. Initially, he had enjoyed seeing how his novel was being adapted, but after a while, he lost interest. Bored. Lancet had no particular interest in Starlight's adaptation this time. However, a few days ago, Lancet found out that the plot of this adaptation had been drastically changed, Chu Kuang had been employed to contribute, and both the viewership and discussion heat of the series had exploded! It was actually popular! His interest was immediately piqued! After finding the series, Lancet binged the updated content. When he saw Jiang Yuyan's debut and that Ol' Zhang - a character he had carefully crafted in the original work - was killed off, Lancet was as dumbfounded as the other viewers! Ol' Zhang is dead? Emotionally, Lancet found it hard to accept, but from a plot standpoint, there was nothing wrong with this adaptation, because Ol' Zhang would indeed stop someone from practising the Devil Technique. The conflict was not forced and logically made sense. Not just this plot. Everything from Jiang Yuyan's introduction to the relationship setup with the two protagonists was flawlessly logical. Jiang Yuyan experienced both love and friendship from the two protagonists. Her father stood in opposition to the two protagonists. Chu Kuang's mastery of dramatic conflicts was absolutely brilliant, forcing even Lancet to admit that the adaptation was wonderful! Chu Kuang, as expected! Speaking of which. Thinking about Jiang Yuyan killing the good man he created still tugged at Lancet's heartstrings for no apparent reason. This must be the natural emotion a writer has for his characters. "I can understand, actually." Lancet convinced himself, choosing not to express his opinion on this matter, but to silently continue watching the series. It happened to be a Saturday again. He opened the video website immediately. Huh? When he opened the updates for this week, Lancet was taken aback. A whopping thirty episodes of the show had been updated all at once, the kind you pay to watch, even including the grand finale! "It's finished already?" Lancet, who was unaware of the shooting details, didn't overthink it. He found himself curious about how this series would develop from now on, especially since Jiang Yuyan's appearance had completely disrupted the original trajectory of the original work! Sunflower seeds. Chips. Coca-Cola. Lancet casually swung an Erlang leg over the other, born ready for a binge-watch, and opened the updated content with great interest. He was determined to watch it till the end! Meanwhile. Audiences from different regions also noticed that this series had unexpectedly updated to its grand finale and were thrilled. Nothing can bring more happiness than the opportunity to binge-watch your favourite series till the end! Swipe, swipe, swipe! Everyone started watching. Lin Yuan, at home, after noticing that the video site had updated, was seriously pondering whether to disable the comment feature on Chu Kuang's blog... "Should be okay." In the end, Lin Yuan decided not to disable it, after all, he did fulfill his previous promise: The two protagonists didn't die in the end!

Chapter 755: Only the Title of the Play is Left After Killing

The same Saturday, the same evening. Countless people were watching "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange". Ever since Jiang Yuyan appeared on the scene, the ratings of this drama had exploded. The audience had never been so broadly ranged, even before Chu Kuang took over the script. On the television. The plot continued. The focus was no longer centered on Jiang Yuyan. After all, the main protagonist of the drama was not actually Jiang Yuyan. Every supporting character had their own piece of the storyline. Perhaps it was because of Jiang Yuyan's appearance that the plot was changed. The altered plot kept the audience engrossed. Episode seventeen... Episode eighteen... Episode nineteen... During this time, Jiang Yuyan had not killed anyone. Instead, she digested her newly gained skills. No one could predict what would come next. That's because everyone's fate had veered significantly off of the original plot. Then... Episode twenty played with the audience completely unprepared. Jiang Yuyan had begun her killing spree again! ... Underneath Lin Yuan's home. The family were also watching the show via a projector, occasionally discussing the altered plot. "Jiang Yuyan is becoming more and more appealing, although her killing Ol' Zhang upset me a lot." "Mainly because the plot development after the changes has been so exciting. Of course, the original was also amazing, but we were too familiar with it." "I wonder what kind of surprise will come next." "Woof!" Antarctica barked, and continued to watch the show. Suddenly. Lin Xuan let out a scream: "Ah!" Just as Lin Xuan screamed, Jiang Yuyan on the television screen— Killed! Again! This time she murdered another popular character! And this character was the master of Qin Tiange, a woman named Hua Nongying! In front of countless screens! All of the viewers were stunned, watching Hua Nongying died. The look of resentment in Hua Nongying's eyes before she died made countless hearts tremble intensely... Boom! The audience exploded! ... In a certain room. Lancet was drinking cola. Witnessing this scene, Lancet was choked by his cola, coughing nonstop for a full minute! Hua Nongying died?! A burning pain seared his throat, his legs suddenly clenching together, even his eyes reddening slightly! Why did she kill her?! Lancet's face was filled with disbelief! This was a goddess-level character he carefully crafted in the original story! Among all the female characters in the entire story, Hua Nongying would be ranked within the top three! "Chu Kuang, you old rascal!" Lancet growled with an outpouring of grief! He suddenly felt a strong heartache, as if his child was being abused by a stepmother! ... In the Tribe. All of the viewers had jumped to their feet! "Screw you!" "Why is Jiang Yuyan killing good people again!" "Hua Nongying is my childhood goddess ahhhh!" "I tolerated Chu Kuang for killing Ol' Zhang, but why did he kill Hua Nongying, too! I'm crying already!" "She treated Qin Tiange so well!" "Someone quickly take away Chu Kuang's pen!" "I was a total train wreck when Hua Nongying died, she was so good, how could she die!" ... On the blog. The viewers here also went crazy! "How could it be like this!" "Why is Hua Nongying the one who died!" "She is one of my favorite characters!" "Even killing women, does he want me to die from crying!" "Does that old rascal have a heart of steel, did Hua Nongying offend you in some way!" "I'm going to take this fight to that old rascal!" "Jiang Yuyan, how can you keep on killing! Stop it!" ... Earlier in the plot, although Jiang Yuyan was on a killing spree, acting like a goddess of death, she only killed the well-known villains from the original story. Thus, despite her brutal methods, the audience still cheered for her! Even when Ol' Zhang died, it was within everyone's tolerance. But this time, the viewers couldn't bear it anymore. Alongside their curses, countless viewers flooded the blog! They were going to harshly criticize Chu Kuang's mad plot alteration! However. When they typed up a storm and were about to post, they were stunned to find a system notice popping up... "This blogger has disabled comments." Upon seeing this notice, the viewers were aghast, their typing hands all hesitated. He disabled comments? Why did he disable comments? What was he feeling guilty about? Did he know that by killing Hua Nongying we would come to scold him? Is that too much? We were just going to curse at you... Or is it... The anger became stagnant. A sense of ill foreboding suddenly flashed through the viewers' minds, which also raced their heartbeats! Yes. Lin Yuan eventually did disable the comments. What made Lin Yuan disable the comments was his sister's sudden scream from downstairs. "It should be episode twenty." Calculating the time, Lin Yuan guessed the reason for his sister's scream. He discerned a multitude of emotions in the screams. If you can't even bear this level of plot, how will you cope with the upcoming story? A wise man doesn't stand under a dangerous wall. Lin Yuan chose to follow his heart and turned the comments off. ... At this moment, although the audience is about to explode with anger, Chu Kuang turned off the comments, forcing them to vent their frustration elsewhere! "The old rascal is utterly inhuman!" "Can't face the consequences of your actions, huh!" "He knew killing Hua Nongying would upset the audience, yet he still did it!" "What's so great about turning off the comments!" "If you won't kill the protagonist, you'll kill the supporting characters?" "So, that earlier prediction from a netizen was true. If the two main characters don't die, then two of the righteous supporting characters must die!" "Damn, at least the protagonist is confirmed safe." ... The audience could only console themselves, saying these two supporting characters died for the protagonist. After all, these two popular supporting characters had a close relationship with Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange. Compared to the death of the protagonist, it seemed easier for everyone to accept the death of supporting characters. There's one undeniable fact: Although Jiang Yuyan's constant killing was distressing to watch, the plot had a seemingly magical allure, still drawing the audience to keep watching! This is a very subtle psychological phenomenon. Despite the distressing plot, the audience was willing to subject themselves to it while looking forward to future developments. So it went. They continued to watch. In watching, their anger gradually subsided. After all, the dead couldn't be revived, and the plot remained captivating. Just as the audience started to regain composure, Suddenly! Another character met his demise! This character was none other than a burly, chivalrous man who was a close confidant of the two main characters! "Huff..." The audience's breaths became suddenly labored, their eyes bloodshot! The plot continued. In episode 26, Jiang Yuyan was murdering! Again? In episode 29, Jiang Yuyan was murdering! Is it over now? In episode 33, Jiang Yuyan was still killing! Will it ever stop? By episode 35, Jiang Yuyan had killed the third male lead! Could you please stop killing now... In episode 39, Jiang Yuyan had killed the second female lead! I'm used to it now. In episode 40, Jiang Yuyan had killed the most skilled person on the righteous side! I'm tired. Let it be destroyed. Just go on. The audience's emotions surged wave after wave. Grief and anger were alternately staged. In the end, almost everyone was numb, their eyes filled with a dense network of bloodshot veins. Liuhai in the air. Smiling like a flower. Jiang Yuyan was still as beautiful as ever! Even without smoky makeup or black eyeliner for her darkness, she made all the audience feel a chilling fear deep down! Fear! Even though they knew it wasn't real, knew it was just a character in a TV show, Jiang Yuyan had cast a shadow over everyone's heart! Yes. In the beginning, the backlash was indeed intense, each wave outdoing the last! As the audience watched Jiang Yuyan brutally murder popular characters, they became more and more agitated, more and more distressed, and more and more furious! Many cried bitter tears when their beloved character died! Time passed unnoticed. The audience sat with eyes wide, watching as Jiang Yuyan killed, her hand rising and falling like a weaver weaving a river of blood... Ol' Zhang was dead. Hua Nongying was dead. The second female lead was dead too. Even the third male lead was dead. Dead. All dead! The audience was stunned. The audience was in despair. The audience was numb. The audience had become so bewildered that they didn't know what to say anymore! This Chu Kuang wasn't a devil; he clearly was Yama! Jiang Yuyan was the Grim Reaper he had sent! All the characters everyone loved, except for the main characters, were almost entirely wiped out! Right! The first female lead is still alive! It seemed as if the audience saw a glimmer of hope. They turned their attention to the TV anxiously, for she was their last ray of moonlight! Yet in the midst of their watchful gazes, The first female lead was easily killed by Jiang Yuyan. The music playing during her dying moments became sorrowfully beautiful: "Now there's no one to take Tiange away from me." In the midst of the heartrending music, Jiang Yuyan softly spoke. It felt as if her words were directed at the audience in front of the screen. At this moment, everyone's scalp tingled, and goosebumps erupted all over their bodies! They even forgot to be saddened by the death of the first female lead! Jiang Yuyan was a yandere! She could kill the entire world just to have Qin Tiange! But she was destined to never have Qin Tiange. So she decided to kill Qin Tiange. Before that, she wanted to kill Yang Xiaofan first, so Qin Tiange would die in endless regret... Within the camera's frame, Jiang Yuyan's smirking face turned into an indelible shadow in the mind of countless viewers. At this time, Jiang Yuyan had even planned to kill the Emperor. She wanted to become the Empress, specifically the Yan Empress! "It seems like only the two main characters are left?" No one knew who said this. Almost all the audience fell into a deathly silence!

Chapter 756: List of Survivors

In some bedroom. The ground is scattered with chips and seeds. Cola spilled, soaking the floor. The scene is a complete mess. Lancet's hair was disheveled, his eyes scattered, his expression blank and confused. Dead. All of them, dead. All the upright characters under his pen were wiped out! Only two protagonists remained. The two protagonists were alive, but their hearts were dead. Just like Lancet the author, he had a complete mental breakdown! "Chu Kuang, fuck your grandfather!" With a cry of grief, Lancet erupted! Old rascal! Do you have a grudge against the characters that I create? Whoever the audience likes, you kill off!? I, Lancet, swear to the heavens! You will never be allowed to adapt my novels again in your lifetime! I will write it into the contract! Any company can buy my copyright in the future! As long as you, Chu Kuang, are not the one adapting it, anyone can! Even if it's adapted into a pile of crap, I'll accept it! I can't take it anymore! Lancet really can't take it anymore! Who adapts like this! How can there be such a malicious scriptwriter! The death of the leading lady was the final straw that broke the camel's back. Lancet was going crazy! And in the outside world. After several minutes of silence, the audience went crazy too! They remembered how Chu Kuang had made a deliberate post assuring everyone that he wouldn't kill off the two protagonists. "Is this your so-called not killing the protagonists?" "You fucking might as well have just killed them off!" "So the non-protagonists don't deserve to live, right? All the supporting characters died, my favourite classic characters are all dead, Ol' Zhang, Hua Nongying, Meiyue, Hao... and so on." "You've driven both protagonists to the brink!" "You've killed off the whole drama, only the title remains!" "The drama is called 'Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange', the title of the original novel, understand this before your alterations!" "This isn't a list of survivors!" "Why don't you change the drama's name to 'The Yan Emperor's Biography'?" "Or perhaps 'The Legend of Jiang Yuyan' won't be much different!" "Chu Kuang, you old rascal! When we ask you not to kill protagonists, you kill off all the supporting characters!?" "... The audience remembered again how Chu Kuang used to say that he wasn't a devil. That's right! You're not a devil! You're fucking Yama! The audience's hearts were spasming. Who would've thought that after Chu Kuang took over the script, he would mess it up so terribly? Besides Chu Kuang, who else on Blue Star dares to play it this way? Kill everyone not a protagonist! No matter how popular, no matter how many audience members love them, no matter how long these characters have lived in the hearts of the audience! Kill, kill, kill, kill, kill! Killing until the world is dark! In the end, every time the audience saw Jiang Yuyan's face, they shivered! At this point, Many people finally saw the grand finale. The grand finale is Jiang Yuyan's big fight against Qin Tiange and Yang Xiaofan. Qin Tiange and Yang Xiaofan weren't a match for Jiang Yuyan, both were beaten until they spit up blood. Especially Yang Xiaofan, who was directly beaten until he couldn't stop coughing up blood! The audience's hearts ached in spasms! As Jiang Yuyan, dressed in a dragon robe, was about to use her palm to strike Qin Tiange's head, her movements suddenly stopped. She then squeezed Qin Tiange's neck and asked him: "Do you love me?" She grimly asked him as she laughed. Qin Tiange coldly replied, "My heart is already dead." "Then let your corpse accompany me." Jiang Yuyan prepared to strike, but suddenly a bloody dagger jutted out from her chest. She slowly turned her head... It was Yang Xiaofan. Under the intense pain, she turned around and struck Yang Xiaofan with dozens of palm strikes, tears streaming down her face! "Didn't you say you hate it when I sneak attack others from behind?" Her smile turned even more mournful: "Didn't you say a sneak attack was too disgraceful and that we, the people of Jianghu, should kill our opponents in an upright manner?" Yang Xiaofan was silent. Collapsed in a pool of blood. At this moment, Qin Tiange's eyes were about to split open. He ignited a large fire in the palace, intending to die with Jiang Yuyan. In the swirling flames. The tear stains on Jiang Yuyan's face had evaporated. Qin Tiange tightly held onto her, not allowing her to escape this sea of fire. Jiang Yuyan didn't expect that she would finally be able to enjoy the embrace she had longed for so many years under such circumstances. How ironic. This embrace seemed to bring her back to the night she first met Qin Tiange. At that time, he was also holding her like this, gliding over the roofs like a dragonfly skimming the water surface. The moon was so beautiful that night... Jiang Yuyan managed a smile, then suddenly pushed Qin Tiange out of the fire and was completely swallowed by the flames herself. Qin Tiange had a surprised look on his face but managed to use the momentum to escape. Three years later. Qin Tiange was practicing martial arts in front of a thatched cottage. In his hands was the forbidden technique named "Transference". He suddenly remembered what his master once said: "The character of those who practice such devil techniques would be affected. Even if the practitioner was initially kind-hearted, they would eventually be consumed by evil thoughts and lose their sense of self." In the thatched cottage. Yang Xiaofan, with white hair and beard, was soaking motionless in a medicinal bath with a blank look in his eyes. "End of story, complete." When Jiang Yuyan killed everyone, leaving only the two main characters, the audience once hated this character. But in the end. Watching Jiang Yuyan being swallowed by the flames, many viewers suddenly realized they weren't as happy as they had imagined. In fact, they felt somewhat heartbroken. Jiang Yuyan was certainly at fault, but did she really bring all of this upon herself? "Suddenly I feel so uncomfortable." "Yang Xiaofan didn't die, but he has become a vegetable. The callous old rascal is truly unforgivable. Claiming not to kill the protagonist but then leaving Yang Xiaofan in a vegetative state!" "Am I going crazy? I actually feel a bit sympathetic towards Yan Emperor." "It's odd. Yan Emperor has brought nothing but disaster, yet I can't bring myself to hate her." "She's really pitiful. She held back when fighting Yang Xiaofan, so she was so despairing and angry when she was sneak attacked by him. She never thought Yang Xiaofan would actually go against his principles and launch a surprise attack from behind. He had once reprimanded her for her dishonorable sneaky tactics. She could also have killed Qin Tiange, but she decided to die alone in the end." "So the most pitiful episode is the last one, the final person Jiang Yuyan kills is herself." "Betrayed by her best friend and taken into the fatal flames by the man she loved the most, she finally lost hope entirely..." "There's nothing wrong with Qin Tiange, after all, if you don't love someone, you just don't." "So was Yang Xiaofan wrong?" "No one is at fault, or perhaps everyone is at fault. But after making these mistakes, they brewed a terrible disaster." "The last part about 'Transference' is really interesting." "Those who practice this technique will be swallowed by evil thoughts, so is Yan Emperor's nature good or bad?" "Oh, how sad and pathetic, how pitiful yet lamentable!" "... This is a woman who slaughtered "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange" to the point where only the show's name remained. This is a woman who turned "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange" into a list of survivors. This is a complex villain who was destined to remain in everyone's hearts, whether they loved or hated her. In the end, she met her punishment as she was swallowed by the flames. Of course. Some viewers felt that this was Chu Kuang's attempt to whitewash Jiang Yuyan's character, which led to further controversy. This character seemed to be forever filled with controversy. But here's the thing. No matter how one evaluates this character, the TV show has come to an end now. "Darn that old rascal." Ultimately, the viewers united against a common enemy. Regardless of how bad Jiang Yuyan was, she was still not as bad as the cunning and treacherous Chu Kuang. He was the one really behind everything! They were heartbroken. They were enraged. They were in despair. But they all had to admit: This version of Yan Emperor, this kind of plot twist, had created a unique "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange", creating a bloody masterpiece... At this time. The top trending topics on Tribe and Blog were all related to this series! The top trending topic on Tribe was #SurvivalList# The top trending topic on Blog was #OnlytheShowNameLeft# In addition. Including #YanEmperor#, and #MainCharacterDidnotDie#, and even #SinisterChuKuang#, all of these topics stormed into the trending list as the TV series ended!

Chapter 757: Scared the Little Lolita to Tears

Before this drama, there had never been a villain like Jiang Yuyan in Blue Star's shows. She had lived an impoverished life with her mother since childhood, doing all kinds of dirty and tiring work for survival. When her mother died, she couldn't afford a coffin, so she dug a grave in the wild by herself... And yet. This seemingly insignificant woman ultimately became the final boss of the entire drama! The Yan Emperor! She practically annihilated the entire cast until only the title of the drama was left. So much so that the title became known to the audience as "The Survivors List"! This was a huge novelty for the viewers! While people loved the plot of this drama and couldn't find it in themselves to truly hate this woman, even the most fascinating plot twists couldn't change the fact that Chu Kuang, that old rascal, was completely out of his mind. The drama was good, but it was extremely intense! The audience practically finished the show while cursing Chu Kuang! And when it started trending... More and more viewers joined in and watched till the grand finale, resulting in everyone condemning Chu Kuang! "Chu Kuang is unfilial!" "Someone should restrain Chu Kuang's pen!" "Oh, it's pointless. We can't control the old rascal anymore..." "Damn!" "How could Blue Star have such a savage writer!" "The most annoying thing is, this jerk even turned off the comment section!" "Is this not escaping out of guilt?" "Turning off the comment section is really cunning, I'm so freaking impressed!" "Chu Kuang: If they won't let me kill the main character, I'll kill off all the supporting characters. I'll wipe out the good and the bad in one fell swoop." "..."

While everyone was passionately discussing the plot... The original author of the novel, Lancet, suddenly posted an update. The update was an emoticon of a person coughing up blood in extreme frustration. Anyone who has seen the movie "Flirting Scholar" would know, it is the famous scene where Dui Chuanchang is coughing up three liters of blood from frustration after losing to Tang Bohu... "Puff!" The netizens burst into laughter, and their anger towards Chu Kuang was somewhat mollified. "This is what you call killing the original author through stress!" "Lancet: Here, take the pen. You write... Oh no, I was wrong! Please don't write anymore! Give me back the pen!" "Chu Kuang: This is how 'Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange' should be written properly." "I feel bad for Teacher Lancet!" "If Teacher Lancet knew it would turn out like this, he would have definitely stopped that old rascal from taking over!" "Teacher Lancet must be going mad!" "If we viewers can't handle it, what about Teacher Lancet, the original author?" "..."

Of course. No matter what, the fact that this version of "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange" became popular is undeniable! Just in terms of popularity, this version can compete with the most iconic one recognized by everybody! This, in turn, proves Chu Kuang's capability. Also, an important thing to note is: This was Chu Kuang's first time writing a screenplay! Although Chu Kuang is an author, he had never engaged in screenwriting for films or series before. Achieving such success in his first attempt is extremely rare in this industry. The industry insiders are simply torn between laughter and tears for Chu Kuang's monstrous adaptation. Do they dare to hire Chu Kuang as scriptwriter again in the future? Look at Lancet, such a composed writer, who was literally coughing up blood from the stress Chu Kuang caused! And the worst part is, the drama is insanely popular! Probably, Lancet doesn't know whether he should thank Chu Kuang for making his novel popular again or curse him for killing all his beloved characters. ...

Lin Yuan was glad that he had closed the comment section in advance. Otherwise, how could he have faced the viewers' torrent of criticism? Anyways, he did contribute a lot in filling the gap in the television department. When he arrived at the company in the morning, he heard from Gu Dong that there was a company outside willing to pay big money to poach the actress who played Jiang Yuyan. Lin Yuan remained silent on this matter. Although the actress's performance was indeed good, if everyone assumes this performance to be her normal standard, they might be in for a disappointment later. The Acting Potion was the real reason for the actress's explosive performance. Ignoring this factor, there are countless female actresses in the entertainment industry who are good looking and equally talented. In fact. Not just the actress who played Jiang Yuyan, but other actors in the drama also garnered fame one after another. Why? Probably because the characters they played in the drama died so miserably, which aroused the audience's sympathy. In the company. The actors who participated in this drama were all bewildered. "I got written out in the twentieth episode, and yet I still became popular?" "I had this few scenes and still caught fire?" "So getting a boxed lunch early has this advantage?" "At first, I was cursing out how many scenes they cut me. But when my episode aired, my followers increased dramatically, and a bunch of fans came to sympathize with me, saying that I died too tragically..."

"Can I die even more tragically next time, please? Don't hold back on the brutality!" "We misunderstood Chu Kuang, the old rascal!" "So he was doing us a favor by letting us take our boxed lunches early!" "..."

What a twist of fate. Of course, this has to do with the script's explosive popularity. If there wasn't a mass death, and if their deaths hadn't touched the audience's hearts, even if they continued with the original script till the end, it would not have had the effect it has now. Even so... Other entertainment companies are arranging for their writers to deeply study Chu Kuang's scriptwriting approach. "Learn well from the old rascal!" Upon hearing this, the writers began to question their life choices. No one had ever dared to do something like this, killing off everyone in the play, both protagonists and antagonists. But Chu Kuang has set an example, showing them that the audience loves to see tragedies! They've learned it all wrong! Who knows, there might be a lot of Chu Kuang imitators in scriptwriting in the future, but no one knows what kind of an impact it will have. Lin Yuan, the initiator of all this, will definitely not take such risks lightly in the future. But just when Lin Yuan thought that this play's influence would fade over time, the Chairman suddenly sent him a video. "What's this?" Lin Yuan opened it and his face turned somewhat awkward. In the video. A cute little girl was facing the camera, and suddenly burst into tears: "Grandpa Zhang died, Lady Hua died, and Hao... everyone I like is dead. They were all killed by Jiang Yuyan. Jiang Yuyan is a bad woman..." There was also inappropriate laughter in the shot, coming from the little girl's mother. "Don't cry, don't cry, do you want mommy to read you Chu Kuang's 'Fairytale Town'?" "No!" "Then how about 'Shuke and Beta'?" "No!" "There's also 'Alice in Wonderland!'" "I've heard them all!" The little girl cried harder, gasping for air, shedding buckets of tears: "Chu Kuang is a bad man, Mommy, you can't like him!" This mother is clearly a fan of Chu Kuang. All the stories she reads to the child are written by Chu Kuang! The video was only a few minutes long, but its content was very interesting. Beneath the video, were numerous comments from internet users: "That's me when I am chasing the show!" "Exactly the same!" "I cried my eyes out!" "Baby don't cry, big sister hug!" "This kid is going to be traumatized." "Childhood trauma series!" "Hahaha, the kid is so cute!" "The little sister is right, Chu Kuang is a bad guy!" "..."

Perhaps it was because the little girl was too cute, or perhaps her plaintive cries resonated with many, but the video's reposts skyrocketed! Countless users @ Chu Kuang: "Come out and take the beating, Chu Kuang, the old rascal!" "Old rascal, come and see, this is the sin you committed!" "Your Yan Emperor has traumatized this young girl!" "This childhood trauma is not going away." "When I was a kid watching a certain series, I was also scared to tears by the villain. Chu Kuang, the old rascal, come out and soothe the child!" "Oh my god, this is melting my heart, you heartless old rascal!" "Jiang Yuyan has scared the child, your fairy tales are not working anymore!" "..."

In the studio. Jin Mu also saw this video, and he laughed until he nearly lost his breath: "I can't be your PR at times like this ..." "I'll handle it." Lin Yuan glared at Jin Mu then logged into Chu Kuang's account and decisively @ the account that posted the video: "(Pat head) (Hug), Can I write a new fairy tale for you (crying face) ~"

Chapter 758 - The Adventures of the Puppet

Actually, this mom had already appeared in chapters 413 and 424. Her name is Yu Qin. The little girl who complained that Chu Kuang is a bad guy, is her daughter Honghong. The little girl also has a brother named Huahua. Mother Yu Qin is a hardcore fan of Chu Kuang and has read all his novels. Because of her, her son and daughter have been reading fairy tales written by Chu Kuang. Upon learning that Chu Kuang was involved in the scriptwriting for "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange". She took her daughter, Honghong, to watch the series. Her son, Huahua wasn't interested in the series, after watching for a while, he went back to his well-read "Fairytale Town". Honghong and her mother watched the entire series together. Watching Jiang Yuyan's indiscriminate killing, Honghong ended up crying bitterly at the end. Yu Qin found it amusing, so she simply filmed a video and uploaded it to her blog. She used to play in a Tribe, but when Chu Kuang moved to blogging, she followed him there. Yu Qin believes this to be a form of self-cultivation for a diehard fan. To Yu Qin's surprise, the video she casually filmed went viral! Shared by countless netizens! What surprised Yu Qin even more was that Chu Kuang had seen the video and even @her on his blog! Instantly, Yu Qin was overjoyed to the point of dizziness! ... The netizens were all smitten by the cuteness of Honghong, they started @Chu Kuang, but their intention was only to tease him. Who made him post that strong lunchbox? So, everyone was equally surprised when Chu Kuang responded to the little girl, and even announced: He would write a new fairy tale for this little girl! Suddenly, the whole internet was abuzz! Especially some sentimental netizens, they were deeply moved! "My God, he's so spoiling her!!!!" "I cried too! I want a head pat too! I want a hug too!" "To pacify the little girl, he's actually going to write a new fairy tale?" "Are these words that the old rascal would say?" "For the first time, I found out that the old rascal actually has such a gentle side!" "I'm melting! So the old rascal's... cough, heart is warm too!" "So warm!" "Suddenly I feel a bit embarrassed to continue dissing the old rascal, he's really going all out for the little girl!" "Chu Kuang, the old rascal, really knows how to pamper his fans!" "I wouldn't be surprised if Xian Yu did this, but I really didn't expect the old rascal to do this!" "..." Despite being mysterious and never revealing his face, Chu Kuang's public image has always been cold. Don't ask where this impression came from. Just based on his adaptation of "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange", you can tell how ruthless he is, not to mention his past misdeeds while writing books! But no one expected Chu Kuang to also have such a side! The contrast is just too great! Just look at the status he posted. All kinds of comforting emojis, even with a crying face, it seems a bit aggrieved. At this moment. The mum reappeared: "Daughter said: Uncle Chu Kuang, don't lie. In fact, she really loves GOAT Chu Kuang's fairy tales, under my influence, hehehe." As a result. To everyone's astonishment, Chu Kuang responded again: "If I lie, my nose will grow long, wait for me two hours." This response, while warming and touching, also aroused many people's curiosity. "What does the old rascal mean by this?" "Why would his nose grow long if he lies?" "Is this a new internet meme?" "What does 'wait two hours' mean?" "Is Chu Kuang preparing to write a new fairy tale on the spot?" "Really?" "Can it be done so quickly?" "A short story?" "Even if it's a short story, two hours is still too quick, isn't it!" "Let's wait and see!" "Chu Kuang is the Fairy Tale King, just because others can't write that fast doesn't mean he can't!" "..." Netizens started to look forward to it! What kind of fairytale would Chu Kuang write in two hours to amuse children? ... Lying will make your nose grow longer. Many parents on Earth like to say this when educating their children. Actually, this is a plot device about the protagonist Pinocchio in the fairy tale "The Adventures of Pinocchio". Yes. The novel that Lin Yuan plans to write next is this fairytale called "The Adventures of Pinocchio". Why this one? Because there is a mention of this fairytale in the lyrics of "Fairytale Town". "It is said that Pinocchio is always telling lies..." Lin Yuan wants to amuse the child while also filling in the gaps of the song lyrics. This was a promise he made when he released the song. Lin Yuan takes his promises very seriously, like when he said he wouldn't kill the protagonist in "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange", he didn't. Actually, he could also write something like "Harry Potter". But that novel is too long and can't be written in two hours. The key is that the later parts of "Harry Potter" are pretty bleak, with many beloved characters dying, which isn't suitable to comfort children. "The Adventures of Pinocchio" is different. The short story version is only about ten thousand words long. Lin Yuan can finish it in two hours - it's not hard at all. It's true! Lin Yuan plans to write the short story version of this novel in two hours and directly post it on his blog. It will help to attract traffic to his blog. After all, "The Adventures of Pinocchio" is an excellent fairytale, with high ratings in all aspects. The writer Ba Jin once said: "After spending a few minutes reading 'The Adventures of Pinocchio', even though I am no longer a child, I was still captivated." With that in mind, Lin Yuan began to write. Jin Mu watched him in awe. He started writing already? In two hours? Write a fairytale? Just to make a child happy? Your PR game is really strong! As Lin Yuan started writing, some fairytale authors in the industry heard the news that Chu Kuang was going to write a fairytale story to satisfy a little girl. For a moment, Many fairytale authors were paying attention, after all, Chu Kuang was known as the Fairy Tale King! "Write a fairytale to calm a little girl?" "This Fairy Tale King is truly talented and capricious!" "If the quality of this fairytale is enough, it could become a great story." "Two hours, how good can the quality be?" "No matter what, that little girl is lucky. Chu Kuang wrote a fairytale story just for her. I guess she will only understand how big this is when she grows up." "Isn't it Chu Kuang himself who caused this?" "If he hadn't set up the vicious plot for Jiang Yuyan to kill, kill, and kill, how could the little girl cry so... cutely?" "..." Everyone found it interesting. For a moment, there were quite a few people who actually waited for two hours. Two hours later. Someone refreshed Chu Kuang's blog and found out: "Hey!" "He really wrote a fairytale called 'The Adventures of Pinocchio'!" "It seems like it took less than two hours!" "This writing speed is impressive!" "Let's take a look!" "@ Little Girl, come and check out your spoils of war!" "Two hours, the old rascal didn't just phone it in, did he?" "The story may not be very exciting, but it was written in two hours. Just enjoy the fun!" "..." Click, click, click! Many netizens clicked into this fairytale with interest. The story of Pinocchio, for the first time, appeared in front of the readers of Blue Star!

Chapter 759 Pinocchio

Lin Yuan wrote a short-story version of "The Adventures of Pinocchio." Actually, there is also a full-length version, which is the original text, consisting of thirty-six chapters and about a hundred thousand words. Of course. Even as a short-story version, Pinocchio's tale still maintains a considerable level of interest. So. After this fairy tale was published, Yu Qin read through the content herself first and then showed a surprised expression. It's a very interesting fairy tale! More precisely, "The Adventures of Pinocchio" seems not just a fairy tale but also has a touch of a fable. The difference between them lies in: Fairy tales aim to tell a story that children like; Whereas fables often aim to elevate the theme, expounding on some educationally rich morals from the angle of mixing education with pleasure. Speaking of which. Adults and children view fairy tales from different angles. Stories that adults might find juvenile could be beloved by children, and those that adults think look good may not be enjoyed by children. Different ages, different feelings. Yu Qin liked this story very much, but she didn't know how the children would react. "Mommy, tell it!" Honghong was already sitting eagerly across from her mother. In Honghong's mind, although Chu Kuang was a bad guy, the fairy tales he wrote were all very good. "Alright." Yu Qin smiled, then began to narrate gently, "In Fairytale Town, there was a piece of wood that could talk." "How can a piece of wood talk?" Huahua suddenly interjected from the side. Honghong was unhappy, "Shuke and Beta can talk, and they are mice!" Mom smiled, "Ordinary wood can't talk, but this is a talking piece of wood, so Grandpa Zhang decided to carve this piece of wood into a person." Honghong asked, "Didn't Grandpa Zhang die?" Grandpa Zhang is that upright character from "Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange" who was the first one to receive the 'takeaway meal', and now the carpenter in this fairy tale was also called Grandpa Zhang. "..." Yu Qin was stunned for a moment, but soon guessed the purpose behind Chu Kuang naming the character that way, feeling more moved in her heart. She smoothly said: "Actually, Grandpa Zhang didn't die; he just entered Fairytale Town and became a carpenter." Children who have read Chu Kuang's fairy tales, like Blue Star, know that Fairytale Town is a beautiful place, inhabited by various princes and princesses, mermaids, and of course, including Shuke and Beta, among others. In short, all the characters in Chu Kuang's fairy tales live in that little town. Yes. Lin Yuan spared no effort in crafting Fairytale Town. He unified the background of all his fairy tale stories, allowing them to all take place in this place called Fairytale Town. As a result, Fairytale town became a place many children yearned for. After all, there in Fairytale Town were the beautiful Snow White, Alice who could grow big, and mermaids... "Good, Grandpa Zhang didn't die!" Honghong was very happy and urged her mother to continue, "Keep telling it!" Yu Qin smiled slightly and then continued the story about Pinocchio. "Pinocchio can't lie..." "Every time he lied, Pinocchio's nose would grow longer..." "After he told many lies consecutively, his nose had become as long as the room, and it was not even convenient for him to turn around on the spot." "... " Yu Qin narrated the story vividly. Honghong gradually became mesmerized by the story. At that moment, Yu Qin noticed that, unbeknownst to her, Huahua had also come over, listening seriously. 'The children really like this story.' She thought to herself with some joy, narrating even more earnestly. She didn't notice that the children's faces were gradually changing. "...Finally, Pinocchio's nose finally became as it was originally." A ten-thousand-word story didn't take too long to tell. When the story ended, Yu Qin wanted to ask the children for their thoughts, but she saw Huahua suddenly stand up with a worried face. "What's wrong?" Yu Qin was a bit concerned. Was there something wrong with the story? Wasn't she absorbed in it just a moment ago? "Mommy..." Huahua said with a downcast face, "My nose is getting longer, I don't want my nose to grow long, everyone will laugh at me!" "What?" "I won't lie again next time, actually, the toy snake in Xiaomei's bag was put there by me, and during the last test, I actually didn't pass, and the time before that I accidentally broke the classroom window, but didn't admit it..." Yu Qin was speechless. Honghong started to feel scared too, touching her own nose, feeling like it was different than usual: "Has my nose gotten longer too?" "You lied too?" Yu Qin was instantly covered in metaphorical black lines. Honghong was close to tears, "I only lied once. Last time when mom went out, I secretly watched a cartoon at home. I turned off the TV before mom came back, I only watched for a little while..." Yu Qin was caught between laughter and tears. She patted the little heads of the two children, "Your noses haven't grown long because you bravely admitted your mistakes." "Really?" The two kids were sceptical and even ran to look at themselves in the mirror to compare. Yu Qin said, "You can't lie again next time, if you lie too much you will end up like Pinocchio with a really long nose..." "I won't ever lie again!" Huahua spoke loudly, then subconsciously touched their nose again. "Me neither!" Honghong became much more righteous. While Yu Qin found it amusing, she also felt an inexplicable stirring in her heart. It was the first time she directly felt the educational significance a fairy tale could carry. "Actually, Chu Kuang is a really good person." She thought this to herself, filled with emotion and warmth. Then, she instinctively touched her own rather prominent nose and felt an inexplicable flutter of anxiety. ... And the scene at Yu Qin's home was just the tip of the iceberg. Similar situations were happening in many families. "Mom, I was wrong!" "Dad, I won't ever lie again!" "Please make my nose go back to normal!" "I didn't lie, why has my nose grown longer?" "You got stung by a mosquito." "So, don't lie, okay? The nose of a liar will grow long!" "... " This was probably a different kind of childhood trauma. It was like the education method of "cry any more and you'll be eaten by a tiger." The difference was that the former was much more reasonable, with a very strong effect of teaching through fun, filled with positive significance, while the latter could easily affect the healthy development of a child's body and mind. ... And as the influence of this fairy tale began to spread from individual to collective, the internet finally became abuzz! The fairy tale became an overnight sensation! Countless netizens left excited comments! "This story is so fun!" "After listening to the fairy tale, my child confessed to all the mistakes he recently made. I was so mad I could have jumped up and down. So it turns out my little goldfish was killed by this mischievous kid!" "The nose growing when lying, isn't this creating a new childhood trauma haha." "The old rascal is tough on adult readers, but all soft knives for children. However, I like it, and there's an interesting detail. The supporting characters mentioned in this fairy tale are basically those who 'left the stage' in 'Yang Xiaofan and Qin Tiange.' It's like they've been resurrected in Fairytale Town!" "I'm very grateful to Teacher Chu Kuang for writing such a wonderful story for children!" "Even though the story is full of educational color, it does not preach with tedious morality throughout and can be understood by children. It is indeed a very exciting fairy tale!" "My child keeps clamoring to go to Fairytale Town and play, saying they want to make friends with Pinocchio (laughing while crying)." "Interesting Pinocchio, the nose growing when lying, this setting is too fun!" "This fairy tale is even more interesting than 'Snow White'!" "Alright, for now, I'll forgive the old rascal's ruthless behavior. The effect of this fairy tale is perfect for coaxing children!" ... At the same time. Authors in the fairy tale industry also finished reading the content of "The Adventures of Pinocchio." "Oh my!" "What a fantastic story!" "This was written in two hours?" "The nine well-known fairy tale masters who had a Literary Duel with Chu Kuang, they really weren't unjustly defeated!" "This is one of the best fairy tales I've ever read!" "Wait a second..." "Doesn't the name Pinocchio sound familiar?" "Damn!" "Isn't that a lyric from the song 'Fairytale Town'?" "Have you heard Pinocchio always telling lies?" "This isn't a two-hour effort, the old rascal had thought of this story long before that song was released!" "... Everyone finally found the blind spot! This wasn't a fairy tale written in two hours, but the message it revealed was even more terrifying! The song named "Fairytale Town" truly represented a series of fairy tale plots! The entire Fairytale Town linked together had already formed a fairy tale universe with a significant influence on contemporary children! And Pinocchio was the new member of this fairy tale universe! For a time! Pinocchio became a smashing hit!

Chapter 760: Jiang Kui

For Lin Yuan, the short story "The Adventures of Pinocchio" was just meant to entertain children, but the impact of this fairy tale was quite beyond his expectations. This short fairy tale actually garnered a very high readership so much so that the blog's traffic also increased! This was related to the copyright protection in Blue Star. Many people interested in this story could only read it under Chu Kuang's blog account. He hadn't granted permission for reposting. And as more and more people read this story, parents teaching their children not to lie no longer needed to earnestly say, "Only bad children lie." They simply had to tell the children, "If you lie, your nose will grow long." The effect was very significant! Even more unforeseen by Lin Yuan was that children's interest in Fairytale Town was growing more and more! Some children would even gather to discuss: "There's a new friend in Fairytale Town!" "Who is it?" "You don't know Pinocchio?!" "Is he friends with Snow White?" "I don't know, they live in the same town, they're bound to meet." "I wish I could go to Fairytale Town too." "You can't, there are not only good people in Fairytale Town but also many bad people." "Aren't all the bad people punished? It's very safe there." "... Heaven knows how many children yearn for Fairytale Town! This wasn't the influence of just one or two works; it was a chain reaction brought about by Lin Yuan setting many of his fairy tales in Fairytale Town, which gradually elevated its stature in children's hearts. He, the Fairy Tale King, truly lived up to his name increasingly. Lin Yuan even couldn't help but think: Could he perhaps one day create a "Fairytale Town Theme Park"? Something along the lines of "Disneyland." However, this was just a fleeting thought for Lin Yuan; it wasn't enough yet. He had to wait until these fairy tales turned into animated productions and had a bigger impact on children. In the following days, Lin Yuan simply wrote out the full-length "The Adventures of Pinocchio" and sent it to Silver Blue Books for publishing. With this, another piece of the "Fairytale Town" puzzle was finally put into place. It was only at this time that Lin Yuan finally dared to boldly open up the comment permissions on Chu Kuang's blog. When netizens noticed this, they laughed uncontrollably. "Do you think you're up to it now?" "Now you dare to open up the comment permissions." "Permission dog!" "Well, considering 'The Adventures of Pinocchio' isn't bad, I won't scold you." "Dare again and see how I'll blast you!" "..." Lin Yuan didn't pay attention to the netizens' teasing. Mainly because he didn't have time to. After letting Chu Kuang stir up activity for a while, July was almost at an end. He still had rankings to fight for in August! He was getting closer and closer to the goal of twelve consecutive victories, and Lin Yuan could not afford to slack off in these last few months. One wrong move could spoil everything. Musing on this, Lin Yuan began to consider what song to use in August. Right, Jiang Kui seemed about to become a queen of pop music. Lin Yuan thought he should collaborate with Jiang Kui in August. He wanted to help Jiang Kui skyrocket, thereby presenting the Yu Dynasty's first pop queen— Lin Yuan usually chose the song first, then considered which singer would be more suitable for it. It was rare for him to decide on the singer first and then consider the song. The former was easier to manage. After all, the number of good singers outnumbered good songs. And once a singer was pre-selected, Lin Yuan's song style would have to conform to the singer's own style. Fortunately, Jiang Kui's range was broad enough that Lin Yuan had many suitable songs for her. If one were to rank the ability of Yu Dynasty's singers, Lin Yuan couldn't be specific. After all, everyone's potential was exploitable. But no matter how much everyone's potential was tapped, Jiang Kui's level was absolutely among the top! ... Switching to his Admirable Fish alias, Lin Yuan went to the company and made a phone call to Jiang Kui. The phone rang for a long time. Just when Lin Yuan thought the other party was too busy to pick up, a slightly tired voice finally came through: "Teacher Admirable Fish..." "Can you come to the company?" "I can't right now..." "When will you be free?" "How about tonight at seven..." "Okay, seven o'clock, I'll be in the office waiting for you." After Lin Yuan hung up the phone, he suddenly felt that Jiang Kui's mood seemed off. He didn't think much of it. Lin Yuan began to consider which song to give Jiang Kui. Previously in Beijing, he had encouraged Jiang Kui to practice Chu language extensively, as he planned to have her perform a Chu language song in August. There were many options to choose from. Lin Yuan leaned toward a Chu language song named "Bluebird." The song itself was of exceptional quality. Most importantly, it was the theme song for "Naruto"! Yes. Lin Yuan planned to produce "Naruto," leveraging the song to hit the charts. Many chart-topping experiences had proven: Capitalizing on popularity could double the effect! It was a shortcut to the charts. Of course, this was based on Lin Yuan's strong confidence in the animation version of "Naruto." "Let's settle on this one for now." Lin Yuan had backups, as there were plenty of Chu language songs. If Jiang Kui's performance was not up to par, Lin Yuan could consider other Chu language songs or even switch to a Mandarin song, as ultimately, Mandarin songs had the broadest appeal. Turning on the computer. Lin Yuan began simple production work. His office was spacious and well-equipped with various musical instruments, making it convenient to produce any music. Just like that. He worked until the end of the work day. The dismissal time varied across different departments; the composition department where Lin Yuan worked was considered leisurely, since composers' creativity did not require sitting in the office. Looking for inspiration was a trick not only Lin Yuan used. Even without such excuses, the composition department still finished work at five o'clock. Seeing Lin Yuan still in the office, his assistant Gu Dong expressed surprise: "Mr. Lin isn't leaving work?" How unusual. Usually, Mr. Lin would leave before four o'clock, slapping his buttocks as he walked out. Not to mention, sometimes Mr. Lin wouldn't come to the office for several days. "Waiting for someone." Lin Yuan responded succinctly, "You can go back." "Alright, then I'll make you a cup of tea." Gu Dong skillfully brewed tea for Lin Yuan and then smiled, "Who's the special person that you're waiting for?" "Jiang Kui, to record a song." "Jiang Kui?" Gu Dong paused, hesitant, then whispered, "Have you heard about the incident with Jiang Kui?" "What incident?" Gu Dong shook his head, "Nothing serious, just some gossip. Apparently, a few days ago, Jiang Kui's mom came to our company looking for her, and it seems they had an unpleasant exchange." "Oh." Lin Yuan frowned and said, "Don't spread rumors." Gu Dong quickly responded, "I was just mentioning it to you. No one in our department dares to gossip, everyone knows Jiang Kui is your person." Lin Yuan didn't say anything. No wonder Jiang Kui seemed somewhat upset during the previous phone call. It seemed to be related to this incident. Shortly after Gu Dong left, Jiang Kui appeared. As soon as she entered, Jiang Kui apologized softly, "Sorry for making Teacher Admirable Fish wait..." "No worries." Lin Yuan looked at her and could clearly see the fatigue between her brows. Without bringing up her family issues, Lin Yuan straightforwardly said: "Here's a song for you to check out." "A new song?" "Yes." Jiang Kui immediately understood Lin Yuan's intention and perked up, "I'll get it right tonight!" "See you in the recording studio tomorrow." Lin Yuan intended to discuss specific details with her, but seeing Jiang Kui's poor condition, he chose not to say more. If it were before, Jiang Kui would be thrilled to get a new song, eager to try humming it immediately. He got up to leave. As he approached the door, Lin Yuan suddenly turned around and said, "Let me know if you need any help." "Ah... okay..." Jiang Kui seemed dazed, then quickly nodded, appearing somewhat surprised: "Thank you." "You're welcome." Lin Yuan turned and left. Jiang Kui watched Lin Yuan's retreating figure, biting her lip, and then sighed softly.