

REBORN WITH THE ALL SEEING EYE

Chapter 11: Emily

[One week Later.]

[Flesh Eaters' Forest.]

[Day time.]

Aaron sat on a tree branch staring at his profile with a rare smile on his face.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Name: Aaron Lucian.}

{Realm: Awakened.}

{Class:None.}

{Race: Half Elf.}

{Strength: 165.}

{Agility: 100.}

{Defense: 170.}

{Endurance: 155.}

{Affinity Mastered: None.}

{Attack: 50. Critical - 100. Combat mode - 1,000.}

{Health point: 100.}

{Intellect/ Wisdom: 35.}

{Improvement: You are getting somewhere.}

{Resistance: Poison: 60%. Darkness: 10%. Death: 0%. Light: 0%. Fire: 20%.
Water: 10%.

Earth: 0%. Wind: 0%. Magic: 0%. Ice: 0%. Lightening: 0%.}

"At least it's better than last time, six months ago, actually." He turned his head to the rat standing beside him. "I need to get stronger than this, I can't let Lilly be ahead of me."

"What are you saying? You are just six months old, while she's fifteen... And your speed isn't slow but exceptionally fast, I don't even understand how you grew up so fast."

Aaron frowned and said. "Forget all that, it's time to increase my poison resistance to 100%."

"I told you, it can't be done. It took you one week to push it from 20% to 60%, for it to increase a percent; you don't need the poison from a rat. Can I take the form of another thing? This feels disgusting."

"You might be right." Aaron held his jaw with his thumb and index finger. "To increase my Poison resistance, I need a more powerful and deadly poison."

"Wait! Did you just say "More powerful and Deadly ones"?" Protean was stunned.

"Yes, but where can we find such poison?"

"Are you mad?!! That'll kill you! And if you die, I die!"

"Nothing will happen to me, If my Poison resistance reaches 100%, I'll be immune to all poisons. That will be a good boast." Aaron stood up.

"Why don't you go with other things, for example; The fire resistance?"

"That's also good, but this forest is filled with poison, getting this advantage will be both helpful and useful." He jumped down from the tree.

Protean turned into a Griffin, and flew down. Landing beside him.

"The rat is still useful, at most you can put anyone with weak poison resistance to sleep for 10 hours." He squat down and picked up a flower.

{Name: Toxin sunflower. Class: Uncommon. Info: It could kill anyone with low poison resistance in matters of 2 minutes.}

He placed the flower in his mouth and slowly chewed it.

"You are disgusting." Protean announced, flying over his head.

"Mm - A-A man needs to do anything to grow stronger." Aaron said, while chewing the flower.

"Don't eat with your mouth full, didn't mom taught you that?"

"I'm still confused why you are calling my Mom, "MOM"."

"Because she is also my Mom."

{High amount of poison resistance.}

{Poison neutralized.}

{Poison resistance: 60%.}

"Still nothing." He sighed deeply.

"We are deeper in the forest than we have ever been. Master, we should head back with the 19 cores in your bag."

Aaron tapped the bag on his waist and heaved a sighed. "One More, let's make it 20."

"We have been in this forest for two days now, aren't you worried about them?"

"Of course I'm worried, but I know with Mom and her familiar, nothing will happen."

"Ok."

[Some Moments later.]

The two got deeper than they have ever ventured, heading to the end or start of the forest, Aaron couldn't tell.

Whoosh!!

The two swiftly moved their gazes around, Protean turned into the Skeleton, while Aaron removed an arrow from his quiver; tucking it on his bow.

"Who is this scoundrel that is playing around?" Protean asked, placing his Broadsword on his shoulder.

Whoosh!!

The figure was so fast that Aaron couldn't see it. He tucked the bow and closed his eyes, then listened.

BAM!

He swiftly turned around and released a shot towards the direction. A figure in a black cloak dodged the arrow in midair, and landed on the ground, 30 meters from the two.

"That creature doesn't look like a monster." Aaron muttered.

"Because I'm not a Monster."

"Huh?" Both Aaron and Protean were stunned speechless, hearing the figure speak, and it sounds like a... girl.

"Who are you?" Protean pointed his Broadsword at her.

"Her name is Emily, a Demon." Aaron revealed.

{Name: Emily Egon.}

{Realm: Awakened Stage.}

{Class: Assassin.}

{Race: Demon.}

{Strength: 200.}

{Agility: 400.}

{Defense: 250.}

{Endurance: 500.}

{Affinity known: Wind.}

{Attack: 100. Critical - 200.}

{Health point: 300.}

{Improvement: Kill ten enemies. (6/10).}

'Her stats murdered mine with a huge gap.'

"How did you know my name?" Emily asked, removing the hood covering her head.

A young demoness with long red hair and eyes came to view. She fixed her gaze on Aaron, then looked up at the Skeleton. Her eyes flashed with surprise that only lasted for a second then asked:

"How did a kid made it this far?"

"Hey you, I'm not a kid! Can't you see we both have the same height?"

"Technically, You are still a kid."

"No one asked you." Aaron glared at Protean.

"I might look young, but you shouldn't underestimate me."

"Same here."

She stared at him for some moment then said. "You should go back to wherever you came from, I don't want to see you here again, or I'll have your head."

"I don't think so, if you want me to leave, come make me."

"It seems you aren't going back? Fine then, I won't get the blame for killing an arrogant human." The girl stared at him with killing intent.

"You made only one mistake, and that is; meeting me. And I'm not a human, but an elf." He tucked three arrows and pointed it at the demoness in front of him.

"Ok "Elf" I hope you won't die easily, because that'll be boring. " She drew out her dagger, and walked towards him.

"Stay back Protean, but don't let me die." Aaron said.

{Combat - Mode activated.}

{Calculating success rate... Success Rate: 60%.}

Without hesitation, he released the three Arrows towards her.

Whoosh!

Whoosh!

Whoosh!!

"Huh?" Aaron was stunned staring at his arrows on the ground, in front of Emily's feet, all cut into halves. He looked up at her.

"Is that all?" She asked.

"If that's all, My turn." She covered her head with the hood and vanished into thin air, disappearing from view.

"What the?!" Aaron exclaimed out loud.

Chapter 12: Your Grace

BAM!

Aaron turned around and blocked himself with his bow, Emily's right leg struck his bow sending him flying backward.

"I'm surprised you detected me, No one in my village can detect my attacks." Emily dropped her leg, staring at Aaron, who stopped 10 feet from her.

'TSK! If not for the All Seeing Eye, I might not be able to detect her. What skill is she using?'

"I hope you can block this." Emily said.

"Go on, Master! You can do this!!"

Emily tilted her head to her right, seeing Protean standing 3 meters from her, cheering.

'What a moron.' She thought, then turned her head to Aaron, only to see two arrows heading towards her. With a swing of her dagger she cut them into halves.

"What class are you Elf?" She asked walking towards him. "I'm guessing you are a warrior class, Archer category perhaps... But you shouldn't be able to block my attack, because I'm an Assassin class."

"You talk too much." Aaron placed his bow on the ground and pulled out his dagger. 'This body isn't strong enough to wield a sword, but I can surely use a dagger.'

"Are you also an Assassin class?" Emily asked in mild surprised.

"You are still a kid, I know I'll surely defeat you." Aaron said.

"Then what are you? Let me tell you; I'm 9 years old, and I have killed a lot of people and monsters that are older than me."

"Yeah right, you call Six kills "A lot" don't make me laugh." Aaron said with sarcasm.

'How did he know that? He even knows my name? Who is this young man?' Emily thought, she braced herself and shot forward towards Aaron, Red Demonic energy surrounding her body.

"What fierce demonic energy." Protean thought and said to Aaron.

"Master, you need to use your Demonic energy, the one you discovered two days ago. Your Sid energy is too weak to face her."

'He has Demonic Energy?' Emily's eyes widened upon hearing Protean. She stared at Aaron, whose two eyes were now completely black, with red pupils.

'This Aura? Only a pure blood can have it. But... How can an Elf be a pure blood?'

BAM!!

"...?!!"

She stared at her Dagger's blade which Aaron gripped with his bare hand.

'What?'

BANG!

A straight kick to her chest, threw her backward. Emily spurted out a mouthful of blood, smashing heavily on the ground.

'How?' She looked up at him with blood on her lip. 'If he's a pure blood, I should still have a chance against him because I'm also a pure blood. But his eyes...' Her eyes turned to horror.

'Is he one of the Elite Bloods?!' She quickly dropped to her knees and bowed her head at Aaron.

"I'm sorry I didn't recognize you, Your Grace. Please forgive me."

"Huh?" Aaron blinked, his eyes returning to its usual blue. The black and red Demonic Energy around him slowly subsided.

"Your Grace?" Even Protean was dumbfounded.

"I'm very sorry. It's my humble request you should punish me." She placed her head on the ground, not daring to look up at him.

"Why are you calling me Your Grace?" Aaron asked, picking up his bow.

"Don't you remember anything?" Emily looked up at him in confusion and admiration.

"I don't get, and What the hell do you want me to remember?" Aaron scratched the back of his head in confusion.

"Permission to stand, Your Grace."

"Stand." He said still confused. 'Isn't this the girl who wanted to have my head two minutes ago? Why is she suddenly Calling me Her Grace?'

"Follow me, Your Grace. My father will explain everything to you." Emily started walking.

Aaron thought for a moment, and followed behind her, Protean also followed.

[On the path to an unknown destination.]

"Why are you calling me your Grace?" Aaron asked.

"Your Grace, Your Demonic Energy is that of an elite blood. Which means, you are related to the Royal family of the demon race."

"Royal family?" Aaron and Protean was dumbfounded. 'Wait! I get my demon blood from my Dad, does this mean he has a powerful background in his world?'

"Yes, Your Grace."

"And who is your father?"

"My father's name is; Egon. He's the chief Commander of the Royal family, he'll surely know something." Emily said walking ahead.

'The chief Commander? That's why she's so strong, and at such a young age.'

"Stop, Your Grace." Emily came to a stop.

Aaron was confused. "Why did we stop?" He looked around.

She squat down and started drawing a rune on the ground.

"Are you also a rune master?" He asked.

"Oh No, This is a magic circle. Any Class can learn it." The moment she finished drawing the circle, she placed her palm on it.

Aaron stared as a circular gateway appeared in front of him, looking at the gateway, he could see a path and trees at the other side.

"Come on, Your Grace. Our village is right through this passage."

"What if I want to get back?" Aaron asked, looking behind him.

"I'll take you back, and if you are interested. I'll Teach you how to open the gateway." She offered him her hand.

With some hesitation, he took it and the two walked inside the gateway. Aaron only felt a slight sensation then he was on a different place entirely. He and Protean looked at the clear blue sky in amazement, he looked at the path seeing some houses in the distance, trees were on both side of the path, which lead to the village.

"Come on Your Grace." Emily said with a smile.

"You can call me Aaron." He released her hand.

"That will be disrespectful."

"Then it's an order."

"If it's an order, I won't disobey." Emily bowed at him.

"OK, now that we are here, can you take me to your father."

"Right away." Emily said with a smile, while the gateway closed behind them.

"So where are we?" He looked around. "Are we still in Elvis?"

"No, Your Grace. Elvis is not the name of this world, but the name of your continent. The world is huge and there are three continents. Elvis is just the strongest and biggest of the three." Emily revealed walking down the path.

"You know a lot for a 9 years old."

"I'm being trained to be the next commander, so I have to know every single knowledge about Elvis, and the other continents." Emily said with a smile.

"The races said the Demons came from the gate of hell? Is that true?"

"What?" Emily stopped and looked at his side profile. "Who told you that?"

'Were the races Mislead? Mom said the demons came out of the gate? But was that a fake rumor?'

"Aren't you guys from the gate?" He asked, instead of answering.

"No, The Monsters are the only things that came out from the gate. The Demons reside in the third Continent, which is the smallest among the three. But when the gate opened, Monsters didn't attack only Elvis but the three Continents. Half of our continent was destroyed, it was a brutal battle, but we won and drove the monsters back. But our Continent is still teeming with Monsters."

"Are we in your continent? Is that gate a short passageway to travel?"

"You are correct, Aaron. The gateway is indeed a passage for us to travel between Continent, Oh! There is also news that an Academy is being built In Elvis, it's to teach children like us how to grow stronger and fight some Cursed Child. I don't really believe in that crab, but I'll be going to the Academy to get their resources and grow stronger."

"Your Race is being Hunted by the other races, how'll you enter the Academy?" Aaron asked in mild curiosity.

"I know, But I look like a human. All I need to do is change my Eyes' color and hide my Demonic Energy, and that's easy."

Aaron stared at her as her red eyes, change from red to blue, then green and lastly black.

He nodded while the two continued their journey.

"How'll you hide your Demonic Energy?"

"The way your Grace hid his."

'She is just a 9 years old, but her brain is far better than mine.' He thought and asked. "What if I tell you I'm the Cursed Child."

"So?" Emily asked in a flat tone. "All I know is; the races think the Cursed Child will be their doom, but they are forgetting the monsters which are amassing themselves for a war, instead to work together to face this war, they're looking for ways to kill the Cursed Child. Which to me; is a waste of time."

"So you aren't scared or anything?"

"I have never been scared in my life...." She paused and looked at his side profile.

Aaron just smirked and walked past her.

"Aaron."

Aaron looked at her over his shoulder.

"Is there a way for this skeleton to hide himself? Or change to another thing which isn't so scary. It's just that Children are in the Village, and they might be frightened if they see a walking skeleton."

'Children? What are you then?' Aaron rolled his eyes like he wasn't a child to.

"Into a griffin, Protean."

Protean nodded and turned into a griffin, he shrunk in size and flew towards Aaron landing on his shoulder.

"How is this, Master?"

"Good." He looked at the stunned Emily.

"Can we go now?"

"Yes, yes, Your Grace."

The three walked towards the Village in peaceful silent.

Chapter 13: What Will Happen If I Kill Both His Familiars?

"Who is this, Emily?"

"Emily, Why did you bring someone into the village?"

Two men with dark skin, and red eyes, putting on leather Armors; stared at Aaron and Protean with a frown on their faces.

"Calm down you two, This is Aaron. Now both of you should move aside and let us in!"

"Hey young girl, you are the daughter of the Commander and chief, but that didn't mean you can talk to us in that manner."

"Say that again." Emily's eyes glowed red.

"What are you doing, Rob? Let her in." The other said to his Fellow guard, and added:

"Do you want her to beat you again?"

Rob glared at him. "Keep your Voice down." He then turned to Emily. "You know the situation of our race, are you sure he's not a spy?"

"He has a demon blood and can also use Demonic energy, so he can't be a spy."

The two looked at each other, then nodded at her.

"Ok Emily." Rob nodded, and opened the small gate.

"Let's go in." Emily grabbed Aaron's wrist and pulled him inside.

The two men's gazes were fixed on him, Rob made a "My eyes are on you." Gesture to him.

'Wow, That was something. And what situation is the demon in?' Aaron thought in confusion.

"Who is he?"

"I have never seen Emily with a guy?"

"She is even holding his hand."

"Is she dragging him to the chief?"

"What wrong have such a handsome kid committed?"

"Let's find out."

"Who is this, Emily? Did you refuse to follow me for this guy?" A young boy with blue hair, looking around 15 years asked with folded hands. Two other boys stood behind him.

"Get out from my sights Vince, I won't ask again."

"What? Are you chasing me away because of this country bumpkin, he doesn't even look like a demon."

"Yes, Vince. He looked like those pathetic Humans."

"Yes, If not for Emily, I would have taught him a Lesson."

The two guys behind Vince said with a sneer, staring at Aaron with disdain.

"Oi! I think she followed him because of that Griffin on his shoulder." The one at the right added.

"That's nothing, Vince has a Raven and also a deadly horn dog."

'A Raven? Protean won't draw attention if he's a Raven, and this fool might have a Magic ring or familiar ring. I forgot what it's called... But that'll give me a benefit if I could have a Magic ring.' He placed his hand on Emily's right shoulder.

"Let me handle this."

"Uh?" Emily was stunned.

Aaron walked forward and stood in front of her, staring at the three.

"What do you think you are doing, You toddler?"

"I'll only ask two questions?" Aaron raised two fingers to the three.

"Oh really? And what are these questions?" The one on the left said with a sneer.

"First: Do you have a Magic ring? Second: can I get the core of your Raven?"

Emily: "....."

"HAHAHAHAHA!!!" The three burst out laughing.

The onlookers frowned slightly, they stood at a distance watching the children.

"Magic ring? Are you referring to my enchanted ring? Hahaha... I don't know why you agreed to follow such a fool."

Protean's eyes turned bloodred, hearing these fools insulting his master. Not only him, Even Emily was trembling in anger.

"And, have the core of my Raven? Are you mad?! Giving you the core is akin to killing my familiar. Even though we demons can only have two familiars, I'm not planning on killing one."

"Ok then, I'll just have to kill your familiar and take the core, I don't need your enchanted ring anymore." Aaron said arrogantly.

"You Bastard!!" Vince and the two boys behind him were enraged.

"Who do you think you are? Coming to our village and acting all mighty. Vince is an Awakened stage warrior, do you think you can face him and his familiars?!" The one at the right yelled in rage.

"I won't use all my strength, because I don't want to kill you, so just summon your familiar, And please it should be the Raven." Aaron said in an exhausted tone.

"You! Deadly horn dog, show yourself!" Vince pointed the ring in front of him, the next moment; a red 40 centimeters Dog with a 5 centimeters length horn on its head appeared in front of them.

"Step back Aaron, let me deal with h--"

"--Shhh." Aaron shushed her, staring at her over his shoulder.

Seeing how timid Emily was to Aaron, Vince gritted his teeth and yelled:

"Attack him!"

"What is that kid doing?"

"That is Vince, The son of the best Hunter in the village, who is also an Archer Class."

"Should we stop him?"

"Wait, for Emily to follow a boy. This boy might have something in him that caught her attention."

"You might be right."

"Let just wait, if it escalated. We'll intervene."

The villagers muttered to each other.

Aaron groaned in frustration. "I said the Raven, not a dog!" He stared at the dog charging towards him.

"Should I kill this animal?"

"No Protean, I need to make a statement in this village. For these fools to respect me." The two whispered to themselves.

"What will happen if I kill both his familiars?" He asked Emily.

"With your position, they won't be able to do anything. And they're the ones who started it." Emily said, her eyes fixed on the dog. She was set to act if anything goes south.

Aaron nodded and drew out his dagger, the dog lunged at him with its Claws and jaws wide open.

Whoosh!!

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Success rate: 100%.}

"...."

"?!!!"

"...."

Everyone including Emily froze In shock, as the head of the dog fell on the ground, followed by its body. No one saw how Aaron moved past the dog, let alone cutting off its head.

"What just? My familiar!" Vince staggered backward, and threw up a mouthful of Blood.

"Vince! Are you ok?!!"

"Vince!!"

'What just happened?' Even Emily was stunned in place.

"Did that kid just killed Vince's familiar with one strike?"

"At such a Young age, he's already a killer?!"

"Where did Emily find this devil from?!"

"What should we do? The Hunter will be enraged if he returns and find out his son familiar has been killed."

"There is nothing we can do, the chief will handle this, his daughter is the one who bought this boy to the village."

"Yeah."

"How dare you?! Black Raven! Show yo--"

"--Stop Vince."

Everyone turned their heads to the side, seeing a man walking towards them.

Emily: "Dad?"

"It's the Chief."

"The commander is here!"

Chapter 14: Did You Gussed All That?

The chief who has short red hair walked towards them and stopped in front of Aaron.

"Who is this Emily?" He asked, turning his head to his daughter.

"Father, This is Aaron. He's a half elf and also an Elite Blood."

"What?"

"Did I heard her correctly?"

"This young child has Elite Blood?"

"I thought I was the only one who heard it."

"Emily won't play with such information."

"When have you ever seen her play?"

"You are right, it means this young man is really a..."

"Are you sure about this?" The chief asked with a slight frown.

"Em... Yes."

"You hesitated." He stared at his daughter in mild surprised.

"Are you the Commander who knows about my father?" Aaron asked, going straight to the point.

'This man is a freaking sky realm, a realm higher than my Mom. But still, he has to answer my question.'

"And who is your Father? What is his name?" The chief asked.

'What is his name? Thank goodness I have the All Seeing Eyes. Because my Mom didn't mention his name when telling us her past, but the All Seeing Eyes showed me.'

"Lucian."

The man staggered backward in shock upon hearing the name. "Come again, Young man?" He asked utterly shocked.

"Didn't you hear me the first time? Fine, his name is Lucian. I want to know some things about him."

"Come with me." The chief turned around and walked away.

"Keep that Raven, I will be coming for it." He said to Vince, then followed behind the Chief with Emily.

"That Bastard! What is so good about an Elite blood? Is it better than a pure blood?!" Vince hissed in rage.

[Emily's Home.]

The Chief's house wasn't anything fancy, but a simply three bedroom, If the houses in the village are all made from wood, The Chief's house was made from mud.

"Seat down." The Chief said to Aaron, as the three entered the House.

He closed the door, locking all the locks on it. Aaron turned to Emily in confusion.

"It's ok." She whispered to him.

"So your father's name is Lucian. Right?" He walked towards them and sat down in front of Aaron and Emily.

"Do I have to repeat myself always?" Aaron asked.

"Ha! I like you. Emily, can you bring something for our Prince."

"Yes." Emily stood up and walked towards the kitchen.

"Prince?" Protean and Aaron were stunned again.

"Yes, My prince. Your father is the Eldest son of the Demon king, and the rightful heir to the throne."

"I'm guessing he didn't seat on it, because if he did, the encounter with my mom won't be possible." Aaron said folding his hands on his chest.

"Correct, How old are you young man?" The Chief asked, seeing Aaron was more knowledgeable than his age.

"Do you want to know my real age or fake age?"

"Pardon?"

"...."

Aaron just stared at him with a flat expression.

"The both will be ok." The Chief said with a smile.

"Truth: I'm six months old, False: I'm 6 years old."

The Chief blinked a couple of times, then nodded at him. "Where were we? Oh! Your father."

"Can I know more about him? All I have known so far is that he's the first son of the Demon king, so I'm guessing he has a sibling, or even more. One or all of them hated him and want to get rid of him. And my father who is a kind of gentle type, he doesn't like fighting and killing, so he left the castle to other continent. And saw my mother; and that resulted to me."

Protean, The Chief and even Emily who stood at the door with a tray of food and tea froze in shock.

"Did you guessed all that?" Protean asked out loud.

"Ahem!!" The Chief coughed.

"You are right on a lot of things, but your father isn't the gentle type. He was the Commander of all the Demon soldiers, and I'm his right-hand man. Your father moved away because of a task assigned by the King, but none of us knew it was all a plan by the Queen and your father's step-brother, I won't call him "step" because that scoundrel was Adopted.

He sent your father away so he could have the freedom to do whatever he wanted. After a week, Your grandfather was poisoned... That adopted bastard who goes by the name Zukor, and your father's mother planned to take over the throne. But the council refused, saying that the first and rightful Son is still on his mission, he'll return to take the throne and rule as king..."

He sighed deeply, while Emily placed the tray on the table in between the two.

"The two were enraged with the council, and killed them all. Then four months ago, we got the news that the first Prince, your father; is Dead. With no other excuses, that fool was then crowned the king of the demon race."

"So my father's real mother hated him, and helped her adopted son to take the throne. Are you sure these two aren't in any secret relationship?"

"Huh?" The three were stunned again.

"You are saying these two have a romantic relationship?" The chief asked in mild confusion.

"Correct, That is the only explanation. I'll say they are using their mother-and-son relationship to cover it up." He took a cookie from the tray and ate it.

"You might be right, But there are more information about your father, but I want you and your Mom to know about this. Can you bring her to the village?" The Chief asked.

Aaron thought for a moment, and nodded. "Ok."

'Even if you have a plan, You won't succeed. But if you don't have a plan, I'll be happy to move my Mom and sister from that forest.'

"Emily." The chief turned to his daughter. "You have a mission, Take Aaron to his Mom, and bring her here. She needs to know about our situation, and Maybe Aaron will be the light we have been searching for."

"Ok father, But the Flesh Eaters' Forest is dangerous, don't you think--"

"--Remember the stone I gave you?"

Emily nodded.

"That is a transportation stone, inscribe the magic circle on it and the gateway will appear, No matter where you are."

"Ok father, We'll be back." Emily stood up.

Aaron took more cookies and stared it in his bag. "This is for the journey." He picked up the tea and drank everything in one gulp.

"We'll see again." He said, and the three walked out of the house after unlocking the door.

'You are our last hope Aaron.'

Chapter 15: I Mastered The Three

[Flesh Eaters' Forest.]

"Mom, Why hasn't Aaron returned yet? This is the third day." Lilly said in mild worried.

"Your brother might be young, but he's smarter than you think. For a six-month-old." Aurora said with a smile, she was currently sitting on a chair writing a book.

"What are you doing Mom?" Lilly stood up from her seat and rushed up to her.

"You already have a lot of spells Lilly, but your brother doesn't. So I'm writing down some spells for him."

"Wow Mom! These are all high-class spells! You are so great!" She hugged Aurora's neck, staring at the spells.

Aurora gave her a slight knock on the head. "Don't be mischievous, Lilly. I know you are trying to Practice these spells."

"But..." Lilly rubbed the spot she knocked. "I can't even understand these three spells, and I'm a Master Mage. How'll Aaron learn it?"

"You can't learn these spells because it has been altered, to be able to use it, you have to break the seal on it and form yours from it main Spell."

Lilly blinked in utter confusion: "I don't get."

"You are still young, I just hope Aaron could understand it in 5 Years."

"That long?! Can't you teach him?"

"I can only write it down, but can't use it." Aurora sighed. "Warrior Class can't use spells like Mage Class, we can only use some innate skills to boast our physical abilities and attacks. So I'm not able to use it--"

"--But you are writing the spells on a book for Aaron... We don't even know his class. He moves like an Assassin, Strike like a Warrior and Detect Things and magic like a Mage. He can even read Runes and know how to make potions like a Rune master and Alchemist..." Lilly held her jaw with a thoughtful expression.

"What if my brother is an "All class"?"

Aurora looked up at her. "All Class? In this world only three people can be called "All Class", But if Aaron is truly An "All Class" he'll be one if not the strongest Realmer in the whole 3 Continents."

"If that happen, we can leave this forest, and maybe return to our race." Lilly said with a smile.

Aurora sighed sadly.

"What is it Mom?" Lilly asked.

"We are dead to our race, So what is there to return to?"

"But--"

GRRAAAA!!!!

The two turned to the door.

"I know that sound." Aurora stood up, she summoned her sword and armor.

"Isn't that the Monster who injured you?" Lilly asked in mild surprised.

"Diamond, Show yourself." Diamond appeared beside her.

"What is it master?"

"We have an intruder."

Graaaaa!!

Graaaaa!!!!

Graaaaa!!!

"It sounds like it brought backup!" Lilly exclaimed.

"TSK! One is already powerful, now they are more!" Aurora gritted her teeth in rage.

"Who are those fools outside?" Diamond asked.

"Some Bastards, who--"

BOOM!!

GRRAAA!!!

BANG!!

BOOM!!

GRRAAA!

"What is happening outside?" Lilly asked in confusion.

"It sounds like a battle, stay here I'll check it out." Aurora cautiously walked towards the door.

[Outside.]

Five humanoid Talos stood at the side trembling in fear, fearfully staring at the three figures in front of them.

"Where is your king?" Aaron asked, his voice filled with killing intent.

'After absorbing 10 Cores out of the 19, I entered the Master Realm. These Omega-stage Monsters are just a warm-up.' He thought.

"Let's just kill them." Protean said, he was in his skeleton form, his broadsword placed on his shoulder.

"I first need to know where that fool who hurt my Mom is." Aaron said, He turned to the Talos. "This is your last warning, Where is your king?"

"Aaron, I know where the Talos' King resides. I can take you there." Emily revealed, Wiping the black blood from her dagger with her fingers.

"Why didn't you say that from the start." He smirked and lunged towards the five Talos.

'Getting to kill a Demon-Stage Monster and absorbing its Core will be highly beneficial to me!' He let out a sinister grin and slashed the first Talos with his dagger.

{Success rate: 100%.}

Emily and Protean stared at Aaron, as he butchered all the Talos.

"Hey skeleton."

"My name is Protean."

"Is he getting faster?" Emily asked in mild confusion.

"Any time my Master activate his Demonic Energy, All his stats gets a 50% increase." Protean explained and added:

"So these Omega-stage fools can't pose a threat to him, I'm only confused why all his attacks are lethal."

"What about you? Can you kill these things?"

"Do you think I'm weak, Girl? I'm a Non-Stage Familiar. Any form I take, my realm adjusts. For example; This Skeleton is an Enrage-stage monster, After eating its Core and taking its form, I'll be an Enrage-stage. If I eat a higher Core and take its form, My stage will change. Moreover, The stronger my Master get, the stronger I'm."

"That means... You can be any stage, Depending on the Core you Absorb, wow! That is a good advantage." Emily said in Astonishment.

"So how many things can you change to? And what are their stages?" She asked.

"This Skeleton is an Enrage-stage, The rat is an Awakened-stage, and the Griffin is an Omega-Stage. With my master's increase in strength, I can now take the form of Ten Monsters."

"Wow!"

"Can you guys help me here!"

The two turned to Aaron, who squat down in front of the ten Talos, tearing one open.

"Right away." Emily rushed up to him.

"Wha... Aaron?"

Everyone turned their heads to the House, seeing Aurora walking out with a surprised expression.

"Hi Mom, Sorry to disturb you."

"You are now in the Master realm?" Aurora was stunned.

"It's nothing special, Mom." Aaron smiled at her, then focus on what at hand.

Aurora: 'Nothing Special?'

"What happened?" Lilly walked outside. "Who is this?" She asked, staring at Emily.

"Emily, Lilly. Mom, Emily." He introduced not even looking at them.

"You are a Demon." Aurora said in surprise, staring at Emily's red eyes.

"Greetings My Queen, My princess." Emily respectfully bowed at the two.

Aurora: "Queen?"

Lilly: "Princess?"

Aaron removed the second Core and gave it to Protean, who calmly stood beside him. "Don't eat it, These things are too weak... You can carry on with this." He said, stood up and turned to his family.

"Emily right?"

Emily nodded respectfully.

"You might have mistaken, I'm a princess, Not yet a Queen." Aurora said with a small smile.

"The Queen is already in a relationship with the king, and got a child with him, even though there wasn't a wedding. You are our queen." Emily said in one breath.

Aurora and Lilly turned to Aaron in confusion.

"What is she saying, Aaron?"

"I just found out my father is the eldest prince of the Demon kingdom, and the Commander wants to see you... We can finally move away from this forest."

'My Love is a Prince? Why will he hide such an important thing from me? Was I not trustworthy... Wait.'

['Come back as soon as you save your kingdom, I have something important to tell you.']

'Wait, After we had sex. He said he has something to tell me, Was it related to his identity?'

"What are you thinking, Mom? Don't you want to leave this place?" Aaron asked in mind confusion.

"No son, I was just surprised about the sudden revelation. Lilly, go and get all our things."

'Even though I'm mad at him for not telling me this earlier, This forest isn't safe for my Children.'

Lilly nodded and walked back inside the house. Aurora flicked her wrist, and a Book appeared in her hand:

"This is a gift Aaron."

Aaron took the book with his bloody hands and slowly opened it. "Huh?"

"I wrote these spells for you, it's hard to Master--"

"--That will be a problem." Aaron said.

Aurora smiled slightly. "I know Son, It will take you 5 to 6 years to be able to Master it."

"Oh." Aaron looked up at her. "I didn't mean it's hard, It just that I have mastered it and also created mine." He passed the book back to her.

"...Huh?!" Aurora blinked, "What did you say? Mastered it?"

Aaron opened his palm, and a purple ball of fire appeared on it. "This is the more advance stage of the first spell. I'll name it Fire Bullet, I don't know what these spells are, but they surely increased my Resistance." He added.

"You actually Mastered the first Spell, in less then 20 seconds!!"

"Nope, I mastered the three."

"The Three?!!"

The purple fire moved to his fingertip, which he pointed at a tree. The next moment, the flame shot with incredible speed towards it.

The three stared at the huge Hole in the tree in shock.

"I'll name the second one Inferno, and third; Wind walk."

"You mastered Wind Walk too?" Aurora was speechless.

"Yes, These spells are all High-Class, Thank you, Mom." He said with his best smile.

Aurora nodded even though She's still in shock.

'This is all thanks to the All Seeing Eyes, I didn't know it can also scan Spells and pass then to me in the form I need.' Aaron thought, turning around to Protean and Emily who have removed all the Talos' Cores.

"Ok guys, we leave in Five minutes."

"Everyone is ready."

Aaron turned to Emily, who quickly brought out a red gemstone. She then started inscribing the transportation Circle on it.

"That is a transportation circle, Where are we going?" Aurora turned to Aaron.

'Does my Mom know everything?' Aaron thought, he scratched the back of his head with a smile.

"We are going to the third Continent."

"Really?" Lilly's eyes widened in shock.

"Yes."

"It's done."

What followed Emily's voice was a gateway, which appeared in front of her.

"You guys should go first." Aaron calmly looked at the two.

Lilly nodded and walked Inside with Snow, followed by Aurora.

"What are you planning, Master?" Protean asked in mild suspicion.

"Tell me the Talos King's exact location." He turned to Emily, not answering Protean.

"What about the Queen?"

"Take them to the village, We'll kill that Bastard and come find you."

Emily thought for a moment, then nodded. "The Talos King is deep in the mountain, North from here. You'll see the Mountain when you Exit the forest... Be careful Aaron."

"Thank you."

She nodded, and handed him the red gemstone.

"The transportation Circle is really--"

--I know how to draw it." He cut her off.

Upon hearing him, Emily smiled slightly. "Ok, Aaron. We'll wait for you in the village." With that said, she walked inside the gateway, which closed behind her.

"Where are the Cores, Protean?" Aaron turned to the red skeleton.

"Here."

Protean handed him a total of 19 Cores in a bag, Aaron took the bag with a nod. He arranged it around him and sat in the center.

"Stay on Guard, Protean. I don't know how long it will take me to absorb everything and enter the Saint Realm, or better Legendary Saint."

Protean nodded, and stood behind him. While Aaron closed his eyes, slowly absorbing the Cores.

"Where is Aaron?" Aurora quickly asked, seeing only Emily.

"The prince said he has to take care of something important, That we shouldn't wait for him." Emily said, hiding the fact that Aaron was actually going after the Talos' King who was a Demon-stage Monster.

Aurora was silent for a moment, then nodded slowly. "Aaron will never do anything that will put his life at risk, he'll be fine."

"Mom, You are forgetting Aaron is just Six Months old."

"Fufufu... True, but he's stronger than those Ten or even twenty years ahead of him."

'So the young prince was telling the truth, he's really six months old, I thought he was lying to my Dad.' Emily thought in shock.

"Hey Emily, is that an enchanted ring in your finger?" Lilly asked in mild surprised.

"Oh, Yes. It's my pet."

"Can I see it?" She asked.

"She's injured." Emily started walking towards the village. "This way." She said.

"Injured? Let me see her, Maybe I can help."

"Are you a Mage?" Emily turned to Lilly, staring at her over her shoulder.

"You speak like you are older than me, But yes, I'm a mage." Lilly said with raised chest.

'It won't be bad to give it a try, precious is my only close friend, and it's because if me she's injured.' With hesitation, she stopped and turned around to the two.

"Precious, Show yourself."

A Silver phoenix appeared in front of her, but fell on the ground moment next. Emily quickly walked up to her familiar, she squat down caressing its feathers.

"Can you help her?" She looked up at Lilly.

"She is so beautiful! Don't worry." Lilly knelt down in front of Precious and stretched out her hand towards it.

"Evocans Potestatem medendi."

[Calling forth the power of healing]

Faint green light appeared on the 4 centimeters deep cut on the Phoenix, Emily and Aurora with Snow watched as the cut slowly closed up.

"Hii." The Phoenix opened its weak eyes, as it took in its surrounding.

"Master."

"Precious!" Emily gave her familiar a tight hug. "Thank you, My Princess. We'll return this favor." She thanked, with a rare smile on her face.

"It's nothing, the only thing you can help me with is; look after us in the village." Lilly said with a small smile. "How did Precious get injured so badly?" She asked.

"When we were in the forest yesterday, we came in contact with a Demon-Stage monster, Precious saved me by placing herself in the attack." She hugged her familiar more tightly.

"Demon-Stage! And you survived, that's admirable." Lilly said with a smile, she flicked her wrist and a potion appeared in her hand:

"By Brother made this, It has a horrible smell. But it can hide you from being detected by any stage Monster... I'm not sure if it works on "Any" Stage, but a Demon-Stage won't be able to detect you."

"You are giving this to me?" Emily asked, staring at the Potion in Lilly's hand.

"Yes, take it." Lilly handed the potion to her.

"Thank you."

"Yes, thank you."

Lilly nodded at precious and Emily, with a smile on her face. "It's nothing, I have 50 more with me... Do you want more?"

Emily and Precious blinked a couple of times, utterly perplexed.

[Two Hours Later.]

"When will my Master be done? I shouldn't have added more Cores." Protean moved his gaze to the six dead Griffins beside him.

BOOM!!!!

A powerful Sid energy burst out from Aaron, turning all the trees and Monsters 30 meters away into dust. Protean looked at himself in confusion.

"Such a powerful amount of Sid energy, I thought I was done for." He moved his gaze around in mild surprised.

"That energy leveled the forest?!!!"

Aaron slowly opened his eyes, he observed himself with a satisfy smile.

"No one will believe a Six months old child will be able to enter the Legendary Saint Realm." He slowly stood up.

"What happened here?" He asked in confusion.

"Did you just asked that, Master?" Protean stared at him in reproach.

"Forget it." Aaron stretched his body, while looking around a little bewildered.

"Where is the house? Did I also destroy it?"

Protean glared at him.

"Ok, ok. But We'll have to hide this from Lilly, or she'll tear me into pieces." He said with a small smile, Then looked at his hand.

{Name: Aaron Lucian.}

{Realm: Legendary Saint.}

{Class:None.}

{Race: Half Elf/ Half Demon.}

{Strength: 500.}

{Agility: 400.}

{Defense: 450.}

{Endurance: 550.}

{Affinity Learned: Fire, Wind.}

{Attack: 200. Critical - 400. Combat mode - 5,000.}

{Health point: 500.}

{Intellect/ Wisdom: 40.}

{Spells: Inferno - (high-stage). Fire Bullet - (high-stage). Wind walk - (high stage).}

{Improvement: Impressive.}

{Resistance: Poison: 60%. Darkness: 10%. Death: 0%. Light: 0%. Fire: 50%. Water: 10%.

Earth: 0%. Wind: 30%. Magic: 0%. Ice: 0%. Lightening: 0%.}

'It seems because I'm still a baby, My stats are lower than the realm I am. Will I be able to win the Demon-stage King with these low stats? Maybe I can outsmart it. But... Why is my class still "None"?'

Protean took the form of a baby Griffin and landed on his shoulder. "What are we waiting for?"

"Come on, Let's go kill that Bastard." Aaron looked around, then head North with Protean on his shoulder.

"And thanks for the extra 6 Cores." He added.

"Welcome, I'm Chief Egon." The village Chief welcomed respectfully, he looked around and asked.

"Where is the prince?"

"He has something to take care of, And..." Aurora looked around the village and villagers. "Where are we?"

"Come My Queen, not everyone here can be trusted." The Chief said in a whispered and walked towards his house.

"What?" Even though she was confused about the Chief's word, she and Lilly followed behind him.

"Emily, who are those elves? First you brought that troublemaker who killed my familiar, and now two other people." Vince said with disdain.

"Watch your mouth, Vince. Or I'll teach you how." Emily glared at him, scoffed, and followed behind Aurora and Lilly.

'Hmm... Do you think I have forgotten that fool who killed my familiar?! Just wait.' He thought inwardly.

"Please sit down." The Chief said locking the door.

"What is going on Chief Egon, why so secretive?" Aurora asked, sitting down with Lilly, while Emily head to the kitchen.

"The situation is worse than you think, My Queen." He walked towards them and sat down in front of the two.

"As you already know, your husband is the Eldest son of the Demon race Royal family--"

"--We aren't married." Aurora said in a low voice.

"That doesn't matter, The prince has never gotten close to any woman in all the years I know him. So I know he loved you deeply, so even if you aren't married, to everyone; you two are now husband and wife."

Aurora slowly nodded. "Then what is the Demon's situation?"

"The Demon kingdom is now under a tyrant king, your husband's Adopted Brother... This village isn't a normal Village, but a home to those who have the gut to go against the king; We call ourselves "The Resistances". And the tyrant king is after us all... But the bad news is that not everyone here can be trusted. Some might be working for him." The Chief said with a dark expression.

Emily placed the food on the table, meat Soup and juice.

"Sorry my Queen, but this is all we got, The King have men all over the place, so it's not easy to hunt. Even the cities have mine and some of our photos. So that's a no-go." The Chief said with a sad smile.

"Hmm... How powerful is this King?" Aurora asked picking up the cup of juice.

"He is the strongest warrior class in whole of the Demon kingdom, A Supreme Realm."

"Cough!"

Aurora choked on the juice. "Sorry." She apologized covering her mouth with the back of her hand.

"It's ok, My Queen. This is the unfortunate thing about our reality, The King is one of the strongest powerhouses in the whole three Continent." The Chief said.

'How is this? He's even more powerful than my father, A Supreme realm is the highest level of power. They are practically invincible.' Aurora thought in shock.

"What can we do with such a powerhouse?" She asked.

"I believe you can help us with that."

"Me?" Aurora was confused. "How?" She asked.

"The Prince might have given you something... Something precious and powerful, are you with it?"

"Something powerful?" Aurora thought for a long time.

"The only thing I remember is the Summoning Book, His sword and an unknown Ruby."

"Yes! The Ruby." The Chief nodded.

"The Ruby is half, Not a complete one... It's like it has been split into two." Aurora elaborated.

"I know." The Chief turned to Emily. "Emily, help me bring the box."

Emily nodded and walked inside the room, and came out with a wooden box. She then handed it to her father.

"This is the other half of the Ruby, It has the powers of the prince and all the royal family's ancestors. Only a Royal blood will be able to absorb this legacy, and gain all the powers and knowledge of 100 powerful demons." The Chief brought out a half Ruby and showed it to Aurora.

"So precious? Wait... Are you planning on passing it to Aaron?"

"Yes." Chief Egon nodded. "He has royal blood flowing in his veins, he's the only one who can absorb it."

"But, Can Aaron withstand so many powers and knowledge? From 100 Demons?" Lilly asked worriedly.

"Not with his strength, princess. He must be at least in the Legendary Saint before absorbing it." The Chief said with a slight smile. "We just have to keep this safe till then."

Aurora brought out the other half of the Ruby, she stared at it with countless emotions. 'Is that why he said I should protect our son, so he could take on his legacy?' She gave it to the Chief.

"No my Queen, Only a Royal Blood will be able to merge these two Ruby into one. You should hold the two." Chief Egon gave her the second Half.

Aurora nodded, storing the two.

"Please, Make yourself at Home. Your room is ready... Emily, show the Queen, and Princess to their room."

"Ok Father. My Queen and Princess, this way please."

"Come on now." Lilly stood up and crossed her hand over Emily's shoulders.

"Call me Lilly, We are now friends, right?"

"Right, Lilly." Emily said with a small smile.

After hours of killing, the two finally reached the exit of the forest.

"I'm so exhausted." Protean grumbled, He was now a red 2 meters wolf, walking behind Aaron.

"Stop complaining, You have eaten more than 5 Enraged-stage Monsters' Cores. You should be happy."

"Only six Cores, The Wolf, Griffin King, Blood Raven, Ogre, Poisonous Serpent, and the Alpha Undead, are all cool. I'll say we are the deadliest duo in all the three Continents." Protean said with a proud grin.

"We'll be the strongest after entering the Supreme realm, Lilly said that's the strongest in this world."

"We are already out of the forest, and you have Absorbed the Cores of 5 Enraged-stage and more than 10 lower-stages Monsters, Why haven't you realm up?"

"I don't know? I think I'm missing something, that thing is stopping me from entering the Sky realm." He said walking towards the Valley surrounded by mountains.

"You might be right, but... No one in this world can realm up so quickly."

Aaron stopped and looked at the sky. "It will be dark so, we need to kill that Bastard before nighttime." He increased his speed, running towards the valley. Protean following behind.

"Are you sure that guy is in that Valley?" Protean looked up seeing something flying towards them.

"What the hell is that?"

"Boulder! Dodge!"

"I don't Dodge!" Protean grew in size, and smashed the Boulder with his claws shattering it into countless small stones.

"That work too." Aaron said with a smile, he looked up seeing more Boulders flying towards them.

"Is that Bastard throwing stones at us?!" Aaron's eyes turned cold, he pointed his finger at a Boulder.

"Fire Bullet."

Fire shot out from his finger, shattering the Boulder heading towards him into pieces.

"This guy wants us to waste our Energy, before attacking." Protean said, shattering another Boulder.

"That's on him, My Sid energy can be exhausted, but my demonic Energy is infinite!!" His eyes turned completely black.

"Wind walk!"

BOOM!!

He shot towards the Valley with incredible speed.

"Hey! Wait for me!!" Protean turned into the Griffin king, which was a lot bigger than any Griffin.

He flew into the air and shot forward.

Aaron leaped to the side dodging a Boulder. He pulled out his dagger, which he had dipped in deadly poisons.

"You Bastard! Do you think Rocks can stop me from killing you?!"

Bam!

He came to a stop, even Protean landed beside him.

"Are you kidding me?!" Protean growled in frustration.

"Come on, we can take them down!" Aaron gripped his dagger tightly.

Charging towards them was an unholy number of Talos, from different sizes, and height.

"Ok then." Protean took the form of the skeleton, he placed his broadsword on his shoulder.

"It has been long I have some fun."

"Shut up, you just killed a horde of undead an hour ago, even eating the core of the Alpha." Aaron said with a smirk.

"Inferno." He muttered as purple flames burst out from his body, forming a ring of fire around him.

Aaron cracked his neck. "Let's get more Cores." He shot forward with incredible speed, Protean following behind him.

"Graaaaa!!!!!"

All the Talos let out loud roars and shot towards the two intruders who dared attack their territory.

BOOM!

Whoosh!!

The two sides clashed, the sound of Blade tearing the air and smell of roasted flesh rose into the air.

Aaron and Protean butchered their way towards the entrance of the Valley, taking down the Talos like cutting down weeds.

"These guys are weak!!" Protean yelled, cutting down two Talos with a swing of his broadsword.

"They aren't weak, We're just stronger than them." Aaron cut down the Talos in front of him into halves.

"Hahahahaha!!! You are good, elf!"

The Talos suddenly stopped attacking and moved back from the duo. Aaron's and Protean's eyes widened in shock seeing the Talos' king.

"ARE YOU KIDDING ME?!!!". The two yelled in unison.

Aaron stared at the Talos' king with a deep frown.

"I thought you were smaller?" He asked, staring at the 50 meters tall king.

"And made of flesh." He added.

The rocky Talos' king fixed his amused gaze on Aaron.

"I'm very impressed, Kid. So instead of killing one another I'm offering you an Alliance." The Talos' King said.

"Alliance? And what made you think I'll accept it? After what you did to my Mom."

"I'm truly sorry for that." The Talos' king shrunk to the size of a grown up man.

"I was enraged back then... And I focused my anger on you, I'm truly sorry." It bowed at Aaron.

"Aren't we fighting again?" Protean asked in mild confusion.

The Talos' King turned to him, then at Aaron. "What you two have been doing for the past Weeks have drawn the attention of all the Rulers in the Forest."

"Rulers?" Aaron turned to Protean. "Do you know anything about any Rulers?"

"I don't know." Protean shrugged.

"Are both of you kidding me?" The Talos' king sighed. "You Killed the Griffin Ruler, and can now take his form. Which made you their new Ruler, You killed a Blood Raven; The prince of the Raven kingdom, which made you their moral enemies. You killed the Poisonous Serpent, which is the Queen of the Snakes' Kingdom; Which made you their arch enemy."

You Kill an Alpha Undead, which now made you the King of the Undead... Young man, You now have 15% of the Forest under you... Don't you know that?"

Aaron and Protean blinked a couple of times in utter confusion, saying "Confused" was an understatement.

"Own 15% of the Forest? Why the hell did I not know that?" Aaron asked.

"Not you, but he does." The King turned to Protean. "When you take the form of the Griffin King, and Alpha Undead; didn't you feel any connection with the race?"

"Now that you said it." Protean nodded slowly. To prove the Talos' King's Claims, he turned Into the alpha Undead. Which was standing 8 feet tall, with pure green eyes and black skin.

After some Seconds, Protean said to Aaron. "They are coming."

DA DA DA DA DA DA!!

Everyone including the Talos turned their heads to the Forest, seeing about hundreds Undead, Both humans and Skeletons rushing towards them.

"Did you call them here?" Aaron turned to Protean.

"Yes, I didn't expect them to be so many." Protean answered.

"You have this Army, and we still have to fight!!!" Aaron yelled.

"Calm down master, I didn't know I can do this." Protean said, he thought and turned into the Griffin King.

That exact moment, the Undead went Crazy, The moment he took another form, his hold on them vanished; The Undead lunged towards the Talos, and a battle broke out.

"Stop this!!" The Talos' King yelled, seeing as the Skeletons cut down his people.

Protean took the form of the Alpha Undead, stopping all the undead with a thought.

"Sorry king, I thought I can control two races." Protean said with a happy laugh.

"So... If I spare you and join an Alliance, what'll I gain?" Aaron asked.

'At the moment, countless Monsters are after me, having an Alliance in the Forest won't be so bad.' He thought.

"As you see, we aren't resident in the Forest, But the Valley and Mountains... But if we become Allies, We'll be able to enter our territories freely. For enemy, if we were Allies... My people won't have thrown boulders at you, and the Undead won't have attacked my people just now." The king explained and Continued:

"The other kings are having a meeting tomorrow night at the center of the Forest, Only the kings of each race. We aren't allies, but because of you... They are all joining together, if we become Allies; they won't dare go against you because they will have to face me."

Aaron was silent. 'A Demon-Stage Monster having my back is a good thing, but...' He fixed his gaze on the King.

"What if I kill you now and my friend here absorb your Core? He'll have control over your people, right?"

"Hahaha! That why I want to be your ally, But that power only works on monsters without the intelligent to think for themselves. If you kill me, my people will choose another king."

"Ok... I heard the Forest is filled with more powerful monsters, are these Monsters the kings you mentioned?" Aaron asked again.

"No, The strongest King is a Great Demon-stage, The ones you are referring are what we call Abomination. These Monsters are all extremely powerful, which can even take down a Supreme Realm... But don't worry, these guys are far from here, at the further end of the Forest."

"I thought this is the end?" Protean was confused.

"No... Please, you two have been standing for a while now, let's go inside and have something to eat."

Aaron thought for a moment and said. "Ask them to retreat, leave Twenty Skeletons here."

Protean nodded, with a Command; all the Undead walked back to the Forest, leaving twenty Omega-stage Skeletons behind.

"Thank you for your trust, as fellow kings I'll personally show you around." The Talos' king said.

The Talos' kingdom was huge with homes and Families, even children everywhere, the Valley looked exceptionally beautiful, and the smell of fresh air and lively atmosphere caught the two off guard.

"I tried my best to take care of my Kingdom and people, not like some other kings who take their people as thrash." The Talos' King said, and added:

"What is your name, Young man?"

"I'm Aaron, he's protean."

"Emperor Aaron and King Protean, it's an honor to meet you... My name is Talon."

"I have a question, Talon... It's about the other kings."

"Yes, Emperor Aaron?"

"How many are there?" Aaron asked, not bothered about his new title... Come on, Who'll reject being called an Emperor?

"Hmm, I'll say 20."

"20, that's surprising." Protean said, still in the Alpha's appearance, which surely drew attention. As they walked through the Village.

"Yes, come with me to my home. I'll show you the map of the Forest." Talon said, while the two nodded.

[Talon's Home.]

"This is it." Talon placed a huge map on the table. "This is where we are." He pointed at the mountains.

Aaron and Protean stood opposite him, staring at the Map. He could see countless locations mark Red, some blue and others green and yellow.

"Why so many colors?" He asked.

"These locations which I mark red are the Territories of the Beast Rulers, The strongest Abominations I mentioned. The blue are the ones we have peace with, but not friends, and yellow we have a mutual agreement, and the green; we are at War with."

"..."

"Why are you surprised, Emperor Aaron?"

"It's Nothing, I just thought the Green ones will be friends. So where Is my territories?" He asked.

"Here and Here." Talon pointed at a huge tree and a huge skull on the map. The tree was mark yellow and the skull green.

"After we make the Alliance bond, These two will be mark gold... Do you want a copy of this map?"

"No, I have memorized everything."

"Hahaha! That's expected for the youngest Emperor!" Talon let out a happy laugh, and added:

"You asked what you'll gain if we become Allies." He gestured at a guard who stood in the room with them.

The guard nodded and left the room, Aaron and Protean waited for the guard to return. He gave Talon a wooden box.

"Here."

Talon handed the box to Aaron, who took it and slowly opened it.

"That is an invisibility stone, if you infuse it to anything; it will give that thing the power of invisibility... A living creature won't be able to use it." Talon explained.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Name: Invisibility stone. Class: Elite. Info: Has the power to make any Nonliving things invisible for 10 Minutes. Benefit: If You Absorb it, your light resistance will have a 20% increase, and you'll gain a skill: Invisibility.}

Before the king and Protean, Aaron absorbed the stone, stunning Talon in place.

"How did you? Aren't you..."

"How are we going to make the Alliance bond?"

"Oh"

The king started drawing a magic circle on thin air, when he was done; he placed his Palm on it.

"You just need to place your palm on it." He said as the circle moved towards Aaron, who placed his Palm, Then Protean.

"If that's all, we'll be going now..."

"Let me escort Emperor Aaron out."

"That's ok." Aaron walked towards the door, stopped and turned to him. "I'll see you at the center of the Forest, tomorrow night... We might kill all your enemies and our Kingdoms and hold of the forest will grow." With that said he left the room.

"What a kid." Talon thought with a smile. "This is one of my best decision in Centuries."

"What is your plan?" Protean asked, as the two walked out of the gate.

"I learned a lot today, we don't only need to focus on how to be powerful... But also how to gain Allies, if the whole Forest is under us. We'll be unbeatable in this world." He said with a grinned.

Chapter 19: Bet

[Next Day.]

[Morning.]

"I heard from your Father discussing some Academy, Are you going to any?" Lilly asked Emily as they walked through the village.

"Yes, The grand Elders of all the five races are creating an academy, training youngsters to fight the Cursed Child, which I guessed is the prince."

"Academy? Training Soldiers to fight my brother?" Lilly was stunned.

"Yeah."

"Wait." Lilly stopped and turned to Emily. "Are you going to fight my brother?"

"What? No! Why'll I fight the prince?" Emily turned to Lilly in confusion.

"Then why are you going? And... Don't you know Demons and the races of the first Continent are mortal enemies? Will you be safe going there?"

"So many questions." Emily smiled and continued walking.

"I'm going there for the resources, I'll do anything to have the best; so I can grow stronger and help the prince, and yes. I'll be safe... I'm thinking, why don't the prince follow me there? Will the Queen agree?"

Lilly sighed. "My Mom love Aaron like crazy, she won't let him enter the enemies' territory, You know everyone thinks he's the Cursed Child, so..."

"I understand, but what if the Prince chooses to go?"

"Hmm... She "might" agree." Lilly said uncertainly.

"Aren't you worried about the prince? He hasn't returned Since yesterday?" Emily was worried.

Lilly chuckled with a smile. "I don't think anything in that forest can harm my baby brother." She said with a proud expression.

"Hey! You two!"

The girls stopped on track, staring at the three kids in front of them.

"What do you want again, Vince?" Emily asked with displeasure.

"What do I want?" Vince fixed his gaze on Lilly.

"Such Beauty, I heard Elves are beautiful... I didn't know they are this beautiful, even rivaling yours, Emily." Vince moved his gaze to Emily.

"Who is this?" Lilly asked in confusion, the kid in front of her was only fifteen, same as her but a lot weaker.

"Lilly, this is Vince. The son of the Village's strangest Archer, because of his father's title he thought he could act anyhow In the village, even trying to court me."

"Not trying Emily, I will... Your father might be the Chief and formal Commander of the Demon Kingdom, but now... My father also has a say. I am even training to be the next Archer, In about ten years from now... You'll be mine." Vince said arrogantly.

"Training to be an Archer? My brother is only six months old, but he's already the best Archer I know, while you... Till training at age 15... How embarrassing." Lilly said with a sneer.

"You! How dare you! Who do you think you are?!!" Vince and the other two standing behind him frowned.

"If you think I'm lying, Why don't we bet?" Lilly asked with folded hands.

"Bet? With and on what? You don't look like you have anything to give me, well... Apart from your body."

"You are disgusting!" Emily was enraged.

"It's nothing, Emily." Lilly turned to Vince. "You and my brother, shooting practice. The Best Archer who gets the highest shot wins." She said.

"Ok, what will be the gain if I win." Vince asked with a smirk.

"Easy, if you win, Emily will give you a chance to court her."

"Wait for?" Emily turned to Lilly in shock.

"I don't want Emily anymore, if I win... You'll be mine." Vince said with a grin.

"Fine then, if you lose. You'll kneel in front of us and beg for forgiveness while kowtowing a hundred times."

"What?!!" Everyone was stunned upon hearing Lilly.

"Are you scared? I know you don't have the skills to go against my brother." Lilly rolled her eyes. "And I thought you are someone."

"Vince, Don't accept this bet. She is too confident." The one at the right whispered.

"Yes Vince, I heard the Elves has the best Archers in their kingdom, I don't think it's wise." The other whispered.

"You two are forgetting the important detail, Her brother is only a Six months old, he's basically a kid. Do you two think a kid can defeat me in my best skill?"

The two looked at each other, then nodded in understanding. "You are right, she said her brother is just a Six months old kid, this will be easy."

"Yes, I feel sorry for this kid, his sister just placed a bet on him without his knowledge... This will be an easy win, Vince."

Vince nodded after hearing his friends, he then looked up at Lilly and Emily. "I accept, But Can I see your brother. We can start after seeing each other."

Whzzzzzh!!

Before Lilly could say anything, the space on her right distorted, and a circular gateway appeared.

"Huh?"

The guys were stunned, staring as a young man looking 6 years old walked out, seeing the guy and the red Raven on his right shoulder, the three were enraged.

"You!!" Vince hissed.

"What is happening here?" Aaron asked moving his gaze around everyone.

"Welcome Baby brother." Lilly said with a smile, walking towards Aaron.

Seeing the mischievous smile on Lilly's face, Aaron sighed helplessly.

"What stupid thing have you done now?" He asked.

"Come on now, Baby brother. When have I done something stupid?"

"Do you want me to start mentioning everything?" Aaron asked.

"No need." Lilly said with a nervous chuckle.

"Is this your brother? I thought you said he's six months old?" Vince asked with a frown, feeling he has been deceived.

"Yeah, This is my brother, and he's six months old... Now the bet." Lilly turned around to Vince with a sneer.

"You!" Vince sighed. "I was planning on getting you back for killing my Familiar, The opportunity has just shown itself... If I defeat you, you'll watch as your sister accompany me everywhere like a slave."

Aaron frowned slightly and turned his head to Lilly. "What is this fool saying?" He asked.

"Did you just call me a fool?!!!"

Aaron ignored him and fixed his gaze on Lilly. Who rubbed the back of her neck.

"Well..."

Aaron sighed deeply upon hearing the bet, he stared at Lilly with a slight frown, then turned to Vince.

"When and where?" He asked.

"Hehehe, we have a place for training. As more than half of the Villagers are fighters, there is always a place for training." Vince said with a smirk.

"Do you understand what he's saying?" Protean whispered to Aaron, who just shook his head.

[Training ground.]

"Train harder!" The Chief yelled at the Soldiers in front of him.

"Dad."

He turned around seeing Emily, Aaron, Vince, Lilly and the two other kids walking towards him.

"What are you doing here, Emily? You have no training today."

"Aaron, You are finally back" Aurora who was in an Armor walked towards Aaron.

"Hi Mom, how are you doing?" Aaron asked with a smile.

Aurora squat down in front of him and gave him a big motherly hug. "I Missed you so much."

Aaron smiled slightly, and hugged her back. "Same here."

"I also missed you, Mom." Protean said.

"Me too." Aurora separated from the hug and tapped Protean's head with her index finger. "What are you guys doing here?" She asked.

"Well..." Aaron turned to Lilly.

"We made a bet! And we are here to compete." Vince said with a smirk.

Aurora turned to Lilly and sighed. "Lilly again?"

Aaron nodded.

"What is this bet all about?" The Chief walked up to them.

"Archery, Who get the best shot wins. Now that everyone is here, you all will be the judge..." Vince went ahead and explained everything to Chief Egon and Aurora.

The two looked at each other with a slight frown, the children except Aaron were worried they will refuse.

Aurora : "Fine by me."

Chief Egon: "I see no harm in it."

"Huh?" The five were stunned hearing them.

"What is happening here?" Rob asked entering the training ground, staring at Aaron and Vince who stood beside each other with bow in their hands, and Quivers on their backs.

"Those two kids are going to compete against each other, who is the Best at Archery." A soldier answered him.

"The Archer's Son Vince will win, He is the best in the Village after his father, even Emily won't be able to win him." Rob said, folding his hands in front of his chest.

"That's because Emily is an Assassin Class, Not an Archer Class like Vince... I just wonder if this kid is also an Archer Class, if not; he's going to lose." The man said.

"Let's see what will happen." Rob said.

"Ok you two, we'll start with 10 meters distance, Anyone who hit the red spot wins the bet." The Chief said to the two.

Aaron observed the target 10 meters away, the colors on it were Red, which was the smallest, then green, yellow, blue, black and orange.

'This is a piece of cake.' He thought.

"I'll go first." Vince took an Arrow and tucked it on his bow, then aimed at the target.

"Watch and learn country bumpkin." He said and released a shot.

Whoosh!

BAM!

The arrow struck the red spot!

"Nice shot!"

"I know he can do it!"

"Good work, Vince!"

"This kid is impressive."

"Nice."

Everyone turned to Aaron, who remove an Arrow and tucked it on his bow.

{All Seeing Eyes}

{Combat Mode Activated.}

{Success rate: 200%}

'Can a success rate get that high?' Aaron was stunned, he slowly looked around.

"What? Are you scared?" Vince asked with a Sneer.

Aaron scoffed and closed his eyes.

"What is this kid doing?"

"Shooting an Arrow with his eyes closed? Isn't that dangerous?"

"He's going to miss the target."

"Yeah."

Whoosh!

Aaron released the shot, then opened his eyes. Everyone watched as the arrow split Vince's Arrow in two halves, it penetrated the target and flew an extra 50 meters without losing its Momentum.

".....!!!!"

"Is that?"

"...."

"What just?!"

"This kid is also an Archer class?"

"Wow! Such Force in one Arrow."

"Hmm... There is no winner, we'll need to increase the target's range. Rob!"

"Yes Chief!" Rob moved forward.

"Set it to 40 meters."

"40–40–40 meters?" Rob was so stunned that he stammered.

"You heard me."

Rob nodded and quickly walked away to set a new target.

"Are you still up for it? 40 Meters is nothing to me, You were just lucky on the last one." Vince said, clearly looking down on Aaron.

"You dare let them set it to 100 meters?" Aaron challenged.

"100 meters?!" Vince was stunned in place.

"I guessed you are not that skilled." Aaron shook his head in dissatisfaction.

"Chief! Set it to 100 meters." Vince yelled.

"100 Meters?" The Chief was surprised.

"What is Vince doing?"

"I don't know, the highest he had gotten is 70 Meters."

Even his two friends were confused.

"Really? Vince. 100 meters is too little, I didn't know you are such a scared kitten, I thought you'll say 200 meters... Not copying me who said 100."

"What?" Vince was now dumbfounded. 'My highest is 70 meters, can I take 200? I'm not even sure with 100m. What if he's just bluffing?.' He thought and turned to the Chief again.

"I mean 200 meters!"

"What?!!" Now everyone was flabbergasted.

"Is this young man so good, shooting a target 200 meters away, I can't even achieve that feat."

"Yes, and the wind current is strong today, it won't be easy to hit it."

"It seems the Archer's son have increased his Realm or talent."

"You might be right."

"What is he doing?" Emily asked in confusion.

"My brother is the one doing it." Lilly said with a smile.

"The prince?" Emily was stunned.

"Even if it's 500 Meters, as long the target is still. My Master will knock it down." Protean, who stood on Lilly's shoulder said.

"Are you sure about this?" Chief Egon asked.

"Yes." Vince nodded.

"What about you my Pri... I mean Aaron?" The Chief turned to Aaron.

"He asked for it, if I refuse; he'll simply look down on me, And I can't let that happen." Aaron said with a smile.

"You are right." The Chief nodded with a satisfied smile. "Hey Rob!" He yelled at Rob.

"Set it to 200 meters!"

"What?!!" Rob was flabbergasted.
