

REBORN WITH THE ALL SEEING EYE

Chapter 141 Aaron Vs Michael

BOOM!

Aaron leaped backward, as Reaper Smashed on his previous spot, creating a mini crater.

"Such force?"

He landed on his feet, staring at Reaper who slowly walked out from the crater, dark energy smoke emanating from his body.

Whoosh!

Feeling the danger Aaron swiftly turned around and blocked Apate's swords with his...

'This? I'm a lot stronger than these three, but why does it feel like they have the upper hand?'

{Disadvantage detected.}

'What?' Aaron was stunned.

{You have a 50% decrease in Stats when fighting opponents without Sid or Demonic energies.}

'So... I have a disadvantage because these guys don't have Sid or Demonic energies... What the hell?!'

Whoosh!

His eyes widened seeing Azazel moving towards him.

BOOOM!

Aaron flew meters back from the collision, smashing heavily on the ground.

"This?"

He stood up from the ground, staring at the three:

"So fun! I haven't tried this before."

BOOM!

A powerful energy wave burst out from Aaron, rippling all over the place, his silver hair glowed, and increased in length, stopping on his back... Before everyone, he grew in height, his eyes turned bloodred, and an extra eye appeared on his forehead.

"This?"

Aurora was stunned.

"Aaron just activated his Demonic transformation." Adeline said in mild surprised.

"Wow! He looked so cool!" Vince yelled.

"True." Protean nodded.

Michael narrowed his eyes, staring at Aaron, whose profile instantly changed, with his stats having a massive increased.

{Disadvantage reduced.}

"This will be fun!!"

Aaron let out a sinister smirk as his skin turned red. With a Sonic boom, he moved, disappearing from the spot.

"*Take him down!!*"

BOOM!

The three shot forward, and collided on Aaron, engaging in a battle of dominance...

Whoosh!

BOOM!

BOOM!

Everyone present were busy moving their heads around, trying to follow the four's movements, but only saw afterimages.

BAM!!

Azazel flew out from the clash, falling in front of Michael.

"Fall back, Azazel. You did good."

Azazel looked up at Michael, and nodded, then backed down, standing in front of the walkers.

"*Ruler, why didn't you send me?! I would have taken care of this boy.*"

Michael looked over his shoulder at a 70 feet tall giant... And chuckled:

"Come on, Porphyron. Your time will come, but not now and here." He said.

Porphyron stared at him for some seconds, and sat on the ground, his broadsword plunged in the ground.

"And besides, you're too big."

Michael added.

The giant just rolled his eyes at him.

Whoosh!

Aaron moved backward, his clothes completely tore off, revealing his well-built muscles. Before him stood Apate and Reaper, their armors filled with sword marks.

"You two are truly powerful!! None of my wind attacks seems to be working, then I'll have to change strategy!" Aaron said, and grinned.

Find adventures at empire

"You're right, I think it's time to change Strategy!" Reaper said, his red eyes instantly turned golden... Gold light slowly wrapped around his figure, enveloping him.

"What is Reaper doing?" Michael asked in mild confusion.

BOOM!

A powerful golden light burst out from Reaper, pushing Aaron and Apate some meters back.

"GRRRAAAAAAAAAA!!!!!"

Everyone's Jaws dropped wide opened, seeing the huge 30 meters long dragon serpents before them.

'Hmm... Reaper took the powers of that spirit, who was also the last of the Drakons... Does this mean, Reaper also gained the ability to turn into a Drakon? Is this the real appearance of a Drakon?' Michael muttered, staring at Reaper.

"How can a wolf transform into a Dragon?!!" Aura yelled in horror.

"This...?"

Even Aaron was stunned, staring at the Dragon, which shot towards him.

"Good, let's have some fun!"

Aaron snapped his fingers, and instantly multiplied into hundreds... They all shot towards Reaper.

'Oh? He can also multiply? And to 200 clones! And all has the same strength... What else is he hiding?' Michael thought.

He watched as the 200 Aarons faced both Apate and Reaper. No matter how powerful the two were, they were in a disadvantage, a very big disadvantage.

'Should I have given them some rules?' Michael thought.

BOOM!

Both Apate and Reaper fell heavily on the ground, after receiving countless attacks from Aarons.

Reaper took his normal appearance, his face filled with rage, before they could charge again, Michael's voice sounded:

"Stand down, leave this to me."

The two nodded, and moved backward.

The 200 Aarons told above the clouds, and watched as Michael calmly walked towards them, using the air like his ground.

"Huh? He's fighting? Can Aaron win him?" Rhea asked.

"I don't know. In Elvis, Aaron is the strongest, the undefeated... But I don't know about this human." Protean said.

"And to be able to command this force, which only three made Aaron activate his demonic transformation... He won't easily go down." Katherina added.

"You have a point, but I still believe Aaron will win." Dylan said with a smile.

Aurora moved her gaze around, and settled it on Michael:

"Are you the one? The chosen one?" She murmured in confusion.

"You are already thinking that, right? I think he's the one." Adeline, who stood close to her, nodded.

The two exhaled, staring at Michael.

"If he's really the one, what's the outcome to this battle?" Aurora asked.

"Aaron will lose."

BOOM!!

With her word, the whole 200 copies moved forward, their gazes fixed on Michael.

"How cute."

Michael summoned his sword, a long golden katana, while still walking towards the charging Aarons.

"These clones won't work against me."

With a casual horizontal swing of his sword, a transparent energy curve blade in the size of a semicircle moved, and collided on the clones.

BOOOOOM!!

Aaron flew backward from the explosion, all his clones instantly destroyed. He stabilized himself after moving a whole 20 meters back, and looked at Michael in shocked.

"Is that all?"

Michael simply slashed his sword downward, and sheathed it, staring at Aaron with a smile.

"You are truly powerful, and I love that... But, let just hope you can keep up with me." Michael said, and instantly disappeared, appearing behind Aaron.

"SO FAST?!!"

Aaron turned around, and quickly blocked a punch from Michael.

BOOM!!!

Silence...

Chapter 142 Aaron's First Defeat

BOOM!

Aaron fell heavily on the ground. He slowly stood up, and looked down at the bruise on his arms, which Michael's fist made contact with.

"You... What insanely spe--"

"--Why are you still talking?"

"Huh?"

Aaron quickly leaped forward, without even turning around to see who spoke to him... He landed on his feet, and turned around to Michael, who was smirking at him.

"Answer me, how are you so fast?" Aaron yelled.

"My agility is beyond my realm."

Whoosh!

Michael moved, and swing his sword which was still sheathed.

Aaron's third eye glowed, and with a move of his body, he dodged Michael's attack, moved behind and sent a kick... But was stunned kicking thin air.

"Oh? Sorry, that's just an afterimage." Michael said, staring at Aaron's back.

"Afterimage?" Aaron looked over his shoulder in mild confusion.

"How? When did you get there?"

Michael took a step, and appeared above the sky:

"No one Alive can match my speed, not you or anyone... As you know, I'm a god... And how do you expect to catch a god?!"

Whoosh!

He disappeared again, before Aaron could do anything, a punch collided on his right cheek, then left... He flew backward, but was still receiving punches. Punches which he couldn't see, let alone block.

BAM!!

Aaron fell heavily on the ground, and threw up a mouthful of blood... Returning to his normal self.

"You... How?"

He asked in mild shock.

'In all my life in Elvis, this is the only opponent I can't defeat!' He thought.

Michael appeared five meters in front of him.

"You're strong, Aaron... You're the god of the sky, so your Powers comes from the sky; mostly the Sun... But I'm Michael, known as Supreme, and the God of the Abyss... Look around you. I gain my powers from darkness, even the winds itself fueled my powers, not only that, I Realm up every single time." He paused, and added:

"For now, I'm the unstoppable and undefeated... No one can defeat me... Well, for now."

Aaron stood up, and wiped the blood off his lips: "What do you mean by "For now"?"

Michael looked up at the night sky, and chuckled to himself:

"The Boss I told you about... Only after I defeat him that I can be the strongest."

Michael turned his head to a distance tree, and with a thought, Apate and Azazel disappeared.

"What happened?" Aaron asked, noticing the two.

"We're being watched." Michael turned to Aaron, and smiled:

"Why don't we go and find out who this is?" He asked.

"Race you there."

Aaron smirked and disappeared.

"This... Didn't he heard everything I said?" Michael was dumbfounded.

Aurora and the group stood frozen.

"Is the battle over?" Protean asked in mild confusion.

"I think so, and Aaron lose. That's shocking!" Modena said.

"It's normal for Aaron to lose, as Michael said, how do you expect to catch a god." Adeline added, while the rest turned their heads towards her, all speechless.

---

Whoosh!

A lady with a long sword on her waist stood still, staring at Apate and Azazel in front of her.

"Move, or I'll make you!!" She hissed.

"Sword saint, what a surprise meeting you here, I hope you enjoy the show?" Michael asked, sitting above the tree.

"You?" Sword Saint looked up in mild confusion:

"How did you get up there?!!"

"I don't think that's the right question you should be asking, shouldn't you be asking; how to get to your fragments?" Michael asked.

Sword Saint stared at him for some couple of seconds, and looked down at the two soldiers:

"Your soldiers are powerful, but soon... They'll meet their match." She turned to the side, seeing Aaron appearing out of thin air.

Aaron looked around and was stunned seeing Michael on the tree: "I first him, right?"

"....."

Sword Saint raised an eyebrow in mild confusion. "First who?"

"Him?" Aaron pointed his finger at Michael.

"No, he was here all along." Sword Saint answered, getting even more confused.

"What's going on here?!!"

"Shut up!" Aaron hissed at her, and turned his head to Michael:

"Come on, Can't you let me win one?!"

"..."

Michael was dumbfounded.

"You fools! Shut up! Start counting! Your countdown has started!!"

Sword Saint yelled, and plunged her sword into the ground.

BOOM!

A blue light surrounded her, and moment next, she disappeared.

"This? Was that a Divine weapon?" Aaron was stunned.

"Yes."

Michael disappeared, and appeared in front of Aaron. Enjoy exclusive content from empire

"I don't let others win easily." He turned around and took a step, disappearing again. Apate and Azazel followed behind.

"...This, to others Michael is teleporting, but in reality, he's Walking!!! Can someone do that?!! All Seeing Eyes! Why don't you have this advantage?!!"

{You haven't received the acceptance from all gods.}

"Huh?" Aaron was stunned.

---

Michael appeared in front of Aurora, causing her to jump up in fright, not expecting a human to suddenly appear in front of her.

"Sorry, I just want to know something."

Aurora calmed down her beating heart, and exhaled: "Please don't do that again."

Michael nodded, while she asked:

"What do you want to know?"

"Do we have any enemies? Or a place to take care of."

"Well, the academy... Kara has a lot of people trapped in there, I don't know her motive for doing that, but we need to rescue them."

"People? How many?" Michael asked.

"I don't know, but there are mostly children." Aurora answered.

"That, and a gateway is in the Dead Sea... Deep in the Dead Sea."

The two turned to Aaron, who landed before them.

"I'll need backup, because I suspect someone so powerful that can put the whole of Elvis into chaos is inside." He added, landing on the ground.

Michael nodded, and turned to Aurora:

"Ok, we'll start with the academy... I'm sure Sword Saint will be going there, because If Kara really trap everyone in the school, that's the only place she'll be at the moment." Michael looked around the place, and turned to Aaron.

"What about our deal?"

"Right."

He snapped his fingers, and a box appeared in his hand.

"I can't open it, But I'm 100% sure an egg is inside." Aaron said, handing it to Michael.

Michael observed the wooden box, and slowly infused his energy in it.

CLICK!

He looked at Aaron in surprised, and with a deep breath, he opened the cover, seeing a red and black color egg in it.

Michael brought out the egg, and threw the Box to the side.

After some seconds, Michael froze in shock.

Chapter 143 Fall Of The Academy 1

[Academy.]

Kara sat on her seat, in a large office, staring at Blood Ivy who sat opposite her.

"I don't know if I should be happy or excited seeing you."

Blood Ivy stood up, moving her gaze around the place. She walked towards the window, and looked down at the city, which was built around the academy building.

"What's your plan? We might be soul fragments, but our thinking isn't in sync, well, not yet."

She said, looking down at the Hellions standing on the Academy field, which was as big as a football stadium.

"Well... As you already know, they're more than 500 children and 100 adults here... With all their life force, and energy, We'll be able to join."

"These captives, are they still..." Blood Ivy looked over her shoulder at Kara, not completing her word.

Kara smiled, and stood up: "Yeah, they have past through the process, their blood has been tainted, so they'll be suitable."

"Good, you did your homework."

The two turned their heads to the door, seeing Sword Saint appearing in the office.

"We must reunite before the Ruler is freed... He won't be happy seeing us shattered."

The two looked at one another and slowly nodded. Sword saint was the strongest among the fragments, so she automatically became the leader, and most of all, she was the one with the main weapon.

"When do we start?"

Sword saint sat on Kara's seat, and placed her right leg on the left, staring at the two.

"Why are you asking such questions?! I saw Supreme, and I know both of you have no idea who he is... Let me tell you, That Human who came out of the gateway is the strongest human in the whole realms... He is a god, who can easily wipe us out--"

"--But Aaron is the strongest." Kara cut her off.

Sword saint raised an eyebrow, and with a flick of her finger, a slight cut appeared on Kara's right cheek.

Kara, and Blood Ivy froze, the two slowly raised their hands, and touched their cheeks. They lowered their hands, seeing blood on their fingers.

"This?" The two were stunned.

Feeling a sting on her face, Sword Saint touched her cheek, and also looked at her hand, seeing blood on it.

"Uh?" She was stunned.

"You attacked her, and we all got injured?" Blood Ivy asked in mild horror.

"I think because we're now together, our bond got stronger, anywhere, you two must be careful..."

Sword saint licked the blood off her finger, and instantly the cut on her face disappeared; she continued:

"Aaron might be Powerful in your world, but Supreme is the main obstacle in our plan, what we need to do is join together, set this world ablaze and retreat." Sword saint stood up, and added:

"We start, right away."

The two looked at one another and slowly nodded, the cut on their faces had also healed.

"Ok."

The two nodded at her.

---

[100 Miles from the Academy.]

Michael sat on Abyss's head, both him and Aaron staring at the Academy gate, which was sitting under a red sky.

Beside them stood Aurora, Protean, Modena, Emily, Lilly, and Adeline.

"What do you think, Abyss?"

Aaron turned his gaze to Michael, who asked the huge black Fox he was sitting on.

"*We attack.*"

Aaron heard the Fox, and was stunned, while Michael nodded, and turned to Aaron:

"Do you have any plans?"

Aaron smirked, and turned to the academy: "I have one plan, and that's Attack."

He snapped his fingers, and instantly, all the Hell demons standing behind all shot into the air, flying towards the Academy.

"What about the children?" Michael asked, jumping off the Fox's head.

"We thought the children were good, but they had all been tainted... We might release them, but they'll be evil, with only impure thoughts, so it's better killing them all... I know it's evil, but that's the only thing to do, if we want to protect Elvis."

"Oh? So you're destroying the whole academy?"

Aaron nodded.

Michael smirked:

"Then why didn't you say that?! Porphyron! Come out!!"

Aaron turned to the vortex which opened above them, and the huge Giant jumped down, landing heavily on the ground.

"You always dream of fighting for me, now is your chance... You have one mission, take down that city, turn everything into ruins."

Michael said in a calm tone, his hands tucked in his overcoats' pockets.

Hearing the command, Porphyron grinned, and raised its broadsword, placing it on its shoulder.

"I suggest we all move back." Aurora said, seeing the dark energy rising from the ground.

"Hell demons!! Fall back!!" Aaron yelled.

The soldiers who were close to the gate instantly stopped their actions, and shattered, turning around, moving back to Aaron.

Aaron and his group then leaped backward, landing 50 meters from Michael, who stood calmly on the spot.

Whoosh!!

The wind picked up, as a huge tornado instantly formed around Porphyron.

'It seems he's going all out.' Michael thought, seeing the high amount of energy surrounding Porphyron's sword.

"*AHHHHHHHHHH!!!!!"

Stay updated through empire

Porphyron roared, and swung its sword, sending a 200 meters long energy blade towards the city.

---

"We're ready." Kara said walking inside the office.

"Good, let's get goin--"

BOOM!!

The two looked at one another in confusion, and simultaneously turned their heads to the window... Seeing the huge energy blade moving towards them with insane speed, the two were momentarily stunned.

"Move!!!!"

Sword Saint shot towards Kara, grabbed her arm, and disappeared from the Office.

At that exact moment, the energy blade collided on the City.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!!!!!!

---

Aaron blinked in surprised, seeing the blade's momentum increasing, as it kept on moving, destroying more of the city.

He and his group watched in utter astonishment, as the Academy's city was turned into ruins in less than a minute.

"Such attack force?!" Emily looked at Porphyron with horror.

"I admit it, Supreme is the strongest human I have ever seen." Protean said.

"Good job, Porphyron... You know what to do, finish the job."

Michael started walking towards the ruin city, the Fox took her human appearance, and followed behind him, stunning Aaron even more.

'What are these guys?' He thought, and added:

"Come on."

Aurora and the rest of the team looked at one another, sighed, and follow behind Aaron.

"I'm still confused, did we conquer the Academy City in less than a Minute?" Modena asked, her face filled with shock.

Chapter 144 Fall Of The Academy 2

Sword saint and Kara appeared at the underground section of the academy, they looked around the chaotic place and Kara yelled:

"What was that?!!!"

"Supreme... That's Porphyrion's primary attack... We need to get moving!! Now!" Sword saint yelled.

"Right away! This way."

The two transverse countless passageways, which made Sword Saint puzzled.

"Why so many passageways?" She asked.

"Oh? This is just a defense protocol, you see all these holes on the wall, right?"

Sword saint turned her gaze to the wall, seeing tiny holes on it, and slowly nodded her head.

"These are all traps, anyone who dares enter here won't be able to walk past these, because they'll be cut into pieces before even trying."

Sword saint stared at the holes with a slight frown:

"What's this made out from?" She asked.

"From powerful weapons that can cut through anything." Kara said.

"Anything?"

Sword saint chuckled:

"This will be useless against, Supreme."

Kara stopped, and turned to Sword saint:

"Aren't you exaggerating about this Supreme?" She asked with a slight frown.

"Exaggerating? I don't exaggerate... I'm stating the fact... If you don't believe me, you'll have to see for yourself."

Sword saint walked past her, heading to the door at the other end.

"See for myself? You'll see it!! I'll be the one to kill this Supreme with my trap!" She yelled, quickly following behind Sword Saint.

"Fufufu... I won't dare say that, and you, who isn't even a Transcendent have the gut to say it."

Kara looked at Sword Saint's departing figure with a deep frown.

"Stop bluffing, and come with me, we don't have much time." Sword Saint added.

"....."

---

Swoosh!

Aaron cut off a Hellion into two halves with a wind blade. And moved his gaze on the hundreds of dead Hellions around them.

"You didn't kill everything? I'm surprised." He said.

Protean turned to him, a frown on his face: "They are hiding from me."

"Mm-Hmm." Aaron nodded with a slight smile, turning his head to Michael and his group, who were fighting some Hellions.

"Aaron!! You die today!!"

Aaron and Protean looked over their shoulders at the Dean charging towards them...

"Let me take care of this guy."

Whoosh!

His sword appeared in Aaron's hand, and with a flash; he reappeared on his spot, dusting his clothes... Instantly the five Dean's body broke apart... Falling to the ground.

"Finally, I have always wanted to kill him." Aaron scoffed.

"Let's see what's happening in the academy... And it seems Michael already gone in."

Aaron disappeared, and appearing in front of the Academy gate... He moved his gaze on the dead spider, which he recognized as Kara's familiar.

"Michael."

He walked inside the small crack in the ruins, and entered the building of the academy... only to see the dead bodies of the three guardians.

"It seems Michael killed everyone." He added in mild confusion.

Aaron observed the bisected bodies of the guardians and raised an eyebrow.

"How did he kill them?" He asked, turning his head to the other half, which hang on the wall... Spiderwebs all over the place.

"Spider?"

He shook his head: "There's no need to remain here... With one last look around the place, he walked towards Kara's office."

---

Aaron got to the office, and the moment he reached the destroyed door, he heard Michael's voice.

"So smart, and I'm guessing the captive are all in here."

With confusion, he asked:

"In where?"

Michael looked over his shoulder at Aaron, who stood ten feet from him.

"They're underground, come on... I know the entrance."

Michael turned around and walked past Aaron; "Coming?" He asked.

Aaron turned around, and followed behind him.

"Won't miss it."

---

Kara, and Sword saint walked inside a huge room, filled with glass cages...

Sword Saint moved her gaze on the students and adults in the glasses, and nodded with a smile.

"You did your homework... I'm impressed." She turned her head to Blood Ivy.

"Start the process."

Blood Ivy nodded, and with a pull of a lever, she turned on the machines connected to the glasses.

The group watched as the captives' eyes instantly turned white, green light flowing out from their bodies, passing through the pipes connected... Sword saint followed the flow, and watched it stopped on a machine, which has two doors.

"Come on."

---

Aaron and Michael entered the tunnel, by destroying a doorway Michael discovered.

Aaron moved his gaze around the place, and silently followed Michael, who seems to know the right turns.

After two minutes of walking they got to a section.

"Stop."

Aaron stopped, and frowned while staring at the holes.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Poisonous Trap detected.}

{Harmful towards you.}

"There are traps here."

Michael looked at the holes, and sighed:

"We can't destroy it because we're underground... The entrance might also get block... So we can only past through it." He said.

"And I know a way."

Aaron disappeared, and appeared at the other side, right in front of the door... He turned around, and before he could yell that he "Won", Michael called.

"What are you waiting for, I have been waiting." He said, opening the door.

"UH??"

Aaron's eyes almost fell off its sockets.

---

Kara walked inside the machine, followed by Blood Ivy. Sword saint moved her gaze around for the last time, and followed, entering the machine.

"We'll be reunited after this." Kara smiled, and closed the doors.

Before the machine's doors could close, the three saw Michael and Aaron walking inside.

"This?"

They were stunned, seeing Michael's devilish smirk.

The doors instantly closed shut.

"So? Should we destroy these things?" Aaron asked in mild confusion, moving his gaze on the glasses.

"We'll be heartless doing that, come on! What are we waiting for?!!"

Michael pointed a finger at the glasses:

"[Void destruction finger]"

Aaron nodded, and also pointed a finger at the machine:

"[Fire bullet]."

Whoosh!!

The two attacks moved, and collided on the glasses.

BOOOOOOOM!

"HUH?"

Aaron and Michael were stunned speechless, seeing the smoke before them... Which completely obstruct their view...

{WARNING!!!!!!}

{WARNING!!!!!!}

Aaron held his head seeing only red, he had not seen so much red before, not even when facing powerful enemies... He was both surprised and stunned because their attacks collided on something, but what?! What can make the "All Seeing Eyes" go crazy?

{WARNING!!!!}

{ALL SEEING EYES ADVICE YOU TO RUN!!!!}

"RUN?"

Aaron turned to Michael, and also saw the same painful expression on his face.

'Uh? Does Michael have the All Seeing Eyes? Or something related to it?' He thought.

{Warning!!! Run!! Run!!}

'Run??! From what?!' Aaron yelled back, staring at the smoke before them.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Typhon's soul manifestation discovered! You aren't strong enough to fight him!}

'Typhon's soul manifestation?!' Aaron was stunned.

"Michael, I think we should run." Aaron said, this was the First time he was running away from a battle, and he was ready to run.

Out of curiosity, Michael waited, but Aaron already started moving backward, the pressure was just too strong, even for him.

"You dare to disrupt my Lord?"

A Demonic voice sounded, shaking the whole place.

Aaron, and Michael took a step back.

"Typhon."

Chapter 145 Typhon, God and Father Of All Monsters 1

"Typhon"

The two eyes widened in shock.

"You're one stubborn boy, Brother... Just be patient, we'll meet sooner than you think."

'Brother?' Aaron was stunned.

The smoke cleared, revealing the most handsome man Aaron and Michael have ever seen... His golden hair and eyes were fixed on them, his face was so smooth that Aaron was embarrassed with his own look.

"Wow, he's beautiful, but the most dangerous." Aaron said, still moving backward, staring at the information before him:

{Name: Typhon.}

{Known God and Father Of All Monsters.}

{Title: The Merciless Dragon.}

{Realm: N/A.}

{Class: N/A.}

{Race: N/A.}

{Strength: N/A.}

{Agility: N/A.}

{Defense: N/A.}

{Endurance: N/A.}

{Affinity known: N/A.}

{Attack: N/A. Critical - N/A.}

{Health point: N/A.}

{Warning: Target is Unbelievably powerful!! You're powerless against him!}

"True." Michael nodded at Aaron's word.

"I'll take that as a compliment, retreat now. Or I'll act."

Michael scoffed:

"You're just a Soul manifestation, what can you do?!" He provoked.

"HEHEHE... I see my brother is still ignorant."

Michael's face instantly turned paled.

"Where is Aaron and Michael?" Aurora asked in mild confusion, looking at the Academy ruins.

"I don't know, but I saw Aaron entering inside." Emily added.

"Really? Then let's go and see what's happening in there." Aurora said.

"Stop!"

Adeline yelled, her eyes instantly turned bloodred.

"What is it, Adeline?!" Aurora asked the Vampire Queen.

"I... I can sense a powerful presence, a very powerful presence." She said, frantically moving her gaze around.

The group instantly got on guard, moving their gazes around the ruins.

At that exact moment;

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMM!!!

Both Aaron and Michael flew out from the ground, into the air, and smashed heavily on the ground.

"This?"

They were all stunned.

"Did he blast us out from the ground?"

Aaron asked in mild surprised, sitting on the ground.

"It seems so, if not we won't be outside." Michael added, getting up from the ground.

"Close call on that shield, or else." Aaron stood up, stretching his body.

The group standing behind them looked at one another in both surprised and shock... Not knowing what to say.

Aaron and Michael noticed the gazes, and turned around... Seeing the group, they yelled in unison:

"RUN!!!!!"

Without hesitation, they shot forward, running... The group instantly followed behind... Although they had no idea who or what they were running from, but if Aaron and Michael are running... They'll be dead meat to stay behind.

BAM!!

A figure burst out from the ground, hovering high above the ruins.

"Porphyron! Stop him!!"

Michael yelled, still running.

Porphyrion nodded with a grin, and shot forward, stepping on all the buildings in its way.

"*AHHHHHHHHH!!!*"

Porphyrion raised its sword, and smashed down on Typhon's soul manifestation.

"Sending an Ant against me... You're really underestimating me."

Typhon casually waved his hand, instantly turning Porphyrion into dust.

"This?" Michael was horrified.

"Ten Fantastic rewards for just completing a quest, this simply means I'll die... You have never been so generous." He said out loud.

Aaron looked over his shoulder at Michael, who was slowing down, and raised an eyebrow.

'What's he doing? Don't tell me he's planning on fighting!' He thought.

Michael sighed, stopped, and turned to Typhon, who was staring at them.

'Sword saint is merging with her soul fragments, and he's there watching over her? Why? There must be something about Sword Saint to made Typhon reveal his powers? Is sword saint his baby? His love? Nay... Maybe he needs her for something else... That must be the reason he's protecting her... I should think how to fight him, how can I fight someone who's 50 times stronger than me?' Michael thought.

"What are you waiting for, Michael?! We need to move!!" Aaron yelled, coming back for Michael.

"I'm not going, I'll be fighting him." Michael said, his gaze fixed on Typhon.

"Really?" Aaron was stunned.

"Yeah, I must win him." Michael said, and started walking towards Typhon.

'He was running a while ago, why fighting now?' Aaron was confused, so he said:

"Well... If you're fighting, I'm also fighting."

"You know this is dangerous, and we might not survive."

"Dangerous is my middle name, and I always survive."

As Aaron spoke, he grew in height, his hair increasing in length... The third eye appeared on his forehead.

Demonic mode activated.

Michael smiled, as a clone in black armor rose from the ground, shattered and merged with him, cladding him in his black obsidian armor, his helm covering his face... Two wings instantly burst out from his back.

"Reaper! Come out!!"

The space tore opened and Reaper walked out, he looked at Michael, and transformed into the huge golden dragon.

Aaron watched as Reaper turned into a trail of light; and merged with Michael.

BOOOOOM!!!

Typhon looked down at the explosion, and narrowed his eyes seeing the two figure walking towards him, one a half demon, and the other?

Typhon looked at the figure in black and golden armor, with six wings, two black and four gold... The two figures emanating a suffocating pressure.

"Oh? You are back?" He asked, not surprised even for a bit.

"You know we'll be back?" Aaron asked.

"YES, it's not in you two nature... You'll rather fight then run."

"Telling you the truth, I was actually running away... But Michael showed me the Truth."

Michael turned his head to Aaron, not understanding when he showed him anything.

"He showed me, you can't always run from your foe! Sometimes, you need to stand, and fight!!"

"Hehehe... I'm glad you're back... So how are we doing this? You two will attack one at a time, or together?"

"*Are you looking down on us?!*"

"Yes." Typhon gave a straight answer.

"Wow, now I know how our enemies feel." Aaron said, and yelled:

"That didn't mean we'll like it!!"

Typhon stared at him for some seconds and turned to Michael:

"So?! I'm waiting!!"

Michael turned to Aaron, and the two nodded.

"*This will be one of the biggest battle we have ever fought." Michael said.

"Yes! And we must survive!!" Aaron added.

With a resolute determination, the two summoned their weapons and shot forward.

"*Here we come you bastard!!!*"

Michael yelled, his eyes instantly turned golden.
