

REBORN WITH THE ALL SEEING EYE

Chapter 161 Attack!!!!

"Last night, I left the tree, and entered another landmark, the Gods' grave... I saw more than a hundred thousand monsters, all Lv50 above... If we attack them, think of all those cores, we'll surely break through. Right?" She asked with a smile.

Not only Jennifer, everyone present blinked a couple of times, her word still registering in their heads... Moment next:

"WHAT??!!!"

"What the fuck are you saying, Erika?! More than a hundred thousand monsters! And they're all above Lv50!! Don't you think that's suicidal?!!" Jennifer yelled at her.

"So...? We can't get anywhere by hiding, If we want to get stronger, we'll have to go big!"

Erika turned to the players:

"Why are you all scared?! If you don't know this, Let me tell you... There are gods, evil gods out there that are after our lives, by hiding and trading in safety... We won't get anywhere!! Look at my love, your Guild Master, and Supreme! If he's always hiding behind others, do you think he'll be the strongest...?!"

Jennifer, Aaron and the group remained silent, thinking about her word... After some seconds, some slowly nodded their heads.

"Hate to admit it, you're right, but it's dangerous... Wait, what type of monsters did you see?" Tyson asked.

Read exclusive content at My Virtual Library Empire

"The demons we faced." Erika answered.

"...."

"Wait, Sister-in-law, you mean the same monsters that turns Into ghosts--"

--Yes Mira." Erika cut her off.

"Hmm... Ok, but how do you expect us to take down the ghosts? You do know our weapons can't kill them." Zukila said, staring at Erika.

"I think I have an idea to that."

Everyone turned their heads to Aaron, who stepped forward with a smile on his face:

They watched him raised his hand above his head, and muttered:

"Calamity, show yourself!"

Six different colors flew out from the ring, and shot into the sky, moment next:

BOOOM!!!!!!

"GRRRAAAAAAAAAA!!!!!!!"

Everyone stared at the six-headed Dragon in horror, surprised and awesome.

"This-This-This! A Mystical-class Dragon!"

James stammered, while moving backward in fear.

Calamity landed in front of Aaron and bowed its head.

"Master!"

The biggest head said respectfully.

"Long time no see, old friend... Are you ready for whatever is ahead?" Aaron asked with a smile.

"More than ready, But master, where is the battle?" The heads asked in unison, while moving their gazes on the humans.

"Just wait and see." Aaron smiled.

"Oh!! I forgot we also have some backup!!"

Tyson yelled, and added:

"All of you come out!!!"

"Yes!!"

Jennifer, and the rest of the players smiled in realization, and said in unison:

"All of you, Come out!!"

BOOOOOM!!

Aaron and Calamity were stunned, staring as countless monsters walked out from the tore space, the smallest being 10 meters tall.... What caught their attention was the small snake around Mira's neck.

"Now, we're ready."

"Ready? Vice, are we really going to fight a hundred thousand monsters?" Scarlett asked in a low voice.

"You can stay back, all I know is; No Matter what happens, we still have to past though the Gods' Graves..."

Aaron said, and leaped into the air, landing steadily on the biggest head.

"Do you guys think Al made a mistake?" Maria asked in mild confusion.

"What mistake?" Niki asked.

"How can we protect someone, when he has such a dangerous Pet?" Maria asked.

"That's a good question."

"Ok, everyone! Get ready, we're moving soon." Jennifer said to the team, and turned to Erika.

"Thank you."

Erika nodded, turned around and caress her ice dragon's wing.

"Thanks you for answering my call." She said.

"My friend called, I'll be a bad friend if I don't reply." Snow said.

Far North from their location, Two figures stood with folded arms, staring at The Conquerors miles away.

"Should we help?" Yers asked.

Drakon shook his head: "We can only help when there's no other way... As of now, we wait."

Destroyers slowly nodded their heads; not saying anything more.

Far south, Three figures stood on a hill, staring at Aaron and the rest of the group:

"I say we attack now."

"No Canine! Don't forget the plan!"

Nosferatu said, staring at Canine over his shoulder.

"Yes, We just have to stay low for some time. After the Ruler is released, we attack!" Sword saint said, she was currently hugging her sword, standing beside Canine.

Nosferatu smirked, and looked below them, at the thousands of Nightmare Legions.

"That didn't mean we won't act... Mix the nightmare legions with the monsters." He smirked:

"They're in for a surprise."

"There's only one problem."

Nosferatu looked at Sword Saint over his shoulder, and raised an eyebrow:
"And what is that?"

"Don't you get it?! The Blades are back, and with the strength the first Blade displayed... Don't you think we need to take this seriously?"

"I understand your worries, but the Ruler killed the blades, so he can do it all over again... We just need to assist him from behind."

Sword saint wasn't still settled, but decided to remind silent.

"Get to work now, You know what to do."

The two nodded, and leaped down the hill, leaving Nosferatu behind.

"Michael, No matter how powerful you are, you're still just a human." He said.

[Monsters' camp.]

Two young girls appeared above the camp, and moved their gazes around the monsters.

These guys are planning on mixing the two forces, the Nightmare legions, with the monsters." Zwei said with a slight frown.

Should we kill them all?" Drei asked.

No, our mission isn't to kill these guys, we're here to deliver the weapons... And that's what we're going to do."

Zwei moved her gaze on the monsters and sighed: We'll have to change our appearance, the Ruler is not ready to reveal anything."

I understand."

The two observed the monsters, and disappeared from the sky.

—

"Come on!!"

The monsters instantly stopped whatever they were doing, and turned their heads to the distance, seeing countless figures moving towards them with incredible speed.

"Enemy!!!"

The leader yelled, and added:

"Attack!!!!"

Whooosh!!

The whole monsters spread out their wings, and shot forward, their nails elongating into claws.

"Master, Are these what we're fighting?" Calamity asked, its voice filled with disappointment.

"If you think these guys are weak, why don't you attack them, and prove it." Aaron said with a smile, still sitting on the head.

"As the master wishes."

Whooosh!!!

Calamity increased its speed, moving towards the charging monsters.

"I thought the plan was a surprise attack?" Helena asked, staring at the monsters moving towards them.

"These monsters already knew we were coming, so the moment they saw us, they attack." Erika said, staring at the sea of monsters, which covered the whole sky before them.

"This will be fun..."

BOOOOOM!!!!

Her word trailed off, seeing the huge pillar of dark light, smashing heavily on the ground, right between the two forces, stopping them on track.

"What is this?!"

Calamity stopped on track, staring at the light.

They all stared as two young ladies who walked out from the light pillar.

"Uh?"

Aaron, Jennifer, and the rest were stunned.

"We're looking for Erika, Mira, Tyson, and Maria." Zwei said, enhancing her voice with her energy.

Erika turned to Jennifer, then at Mira; and Maria.

"Why are you looking for us?" She asked, turning her head to the two.

"We're friends of Michael, and he asked us to give you these."

The two ladies opened their Palms, and two lights appeared on each of their palms.

"A gift from Michael."

The ball of lights flew into the air, and moved towards the group mentioned.

Erika, Maria, Mira and Tyson opened their hands and the light landed on their palms...

Whizzzd.

It shone brightly, radiantly an intense light, and after five seconds, the lights disappeared, revealing Mystical-class weapons.

"This??"

Everyone's eyes widened in shock, Awe, and surprised... All staring at the weapons in the four's hands.

"The Rul--Michael misses you all, and he can't wait to see every one of you." With that said, the two walked towards the dark light pillar.

"Wait!!"

The two stopped on track, and turned around to Erika.

She jumped down Snow, and landed ten meters from the two ladies.

"Michael sent you?"

The two nodded their heads, completely ignoring the thousands of monsters above them... Actually, the monsters were the ones terrified to move an inch.

"Can you deliver a message?"

The two girls looked at one another, and nodded their heads.

Erika sighed in relief, and opened her mouth:

"There's not much to say..." She brought out a card, and walked towards the two.

"Help me give this to him."

Zwei stared at the card for some seconds, and nodded:

"We will."

She took the card from Erika, nodded at her, and walked towards the Pillar.

Drei bowed her head at Erika; "We'll see again, My Queen."

"Uh?"

Erika was stunned by the honorific, but before she could ask anything. Drei turned around and walked away.

Everyone watched as the two entered the Pillar of light, and disappeared from the field.

GRRRAAAAAA!!!!

The monsters got their courage back, and attacked the group.

Erika looked down at her new Mystical-class Bow, and smiled lovingly: "I'm waiting love."

She raised the bow, and a red arrow made of pure divinity appeared on it.

"[Arrows Of Doom]."

She released the shot.

Whoosh!!!!

The arrow shot forward, leaving a trail of light on the air. The moment it got ten meters from the demons, it instantly shattered into thousand arrows.

"..."

Everyone was stunned by what happened next.

Chapter 162: Primordial Goddess

Erika slowly lowered her hand, staring at the fireworks in the sky.

"..."

BOOM!!

"GRAAAAAA!!!"

Aaron, and the group watched in utter shock, as the arrows moved, instead of exploding... They kept on moving, striking more than five monsters, before exploding into colorful lights.

They all thought that was all, but to their horror, the lights were more poisonous than the most deadly poison ever created.

"It seems my arrows skills are all merged into one." Erika said in mild surprised.

"Now, this is Doom." Aaron said with a smile, and tap Calamity's head.

"What are you waiting for? [Destruction blast]."

The six-headed Dragon opened all its jaws, and released torrent of six different flames towards the chaotic monsters.

BOOOOOOOOOOM!!!

The blast was so powerful, it divided the monsters line into halves.

"I thought we'll get ourselves killed, but it seems I was wrong." Scarlett, who stood on a white rare-class eagle said, staring at the monsters, falling from the sky.

"Ok, Attack!!! But keep your distance from the light!!" Jennifer yelled, and her bat shot forward.

Mira and Maria, looked at one another and smirked.

Before Jennifer knew what was happening, the two leaped off Garuda, her bat; and dive to the ground.

Reaper, Azazel and Apate quickly followed behind.

"FUSION!!!"

They both yelled together, instantly... Their pet turned into trail of light, and enveloped their bodies.

Feeling the increase in energy, Aaron lowered his gaze to the ground, staring at the two lights.

"Uh?"

BAM!!!!

The two girls landed on the ground, creating cracks on it.

"Fufufu! This is Fun!!"

Whoosh!!

Mira, who was now a half snake and half human, with scales all over her body, slithered towards the monsters moving towards them with incredible speed, while Maria, who was in a white armor, spread out her white feathery wings, and shot into the air.

BANG!!

"Protect Maria, Leave Mira to us."

Reaper commanded, and moved towards Mira, his claws elongating into swords.

Azazel nodded, and followed behind Maria, while Apate followed Reaper, drawing both her swords.

—

[500 meters above the group, high in the clouds.]

Nosferatu and the other lords stood, watching the battle below.

"This?! How did Michael get so many Mystical-class weapons?!" Sword saint asked in mild shock.

Who cares? The Nightmare Legions are weak without the Ruler... So they'll be in a disadvantage, We can only assist. Canine said, summoning his sword.

"Yeah, Come on." Nosferatu nodded,

Before they could move, a wave of flames moved towards them.

"....!!!"

Whooosh!!

The three leaped to the side, dodging the attacks.

"Who dares?!!" Nosferatu hissed out.

Oh! These guys dodged my attack.

"Uh?"

The three looked up, seeing Destroyers and Drakon walking towards them, both using the air like a ground.

"Who are you?" Canine asked, staring at Destroyers.

A servant of the Ruler

Shoosh!!

Destroyers instantly disappeared into space.

"This?"

The three lords were stunned, moving their gazes all over the place.

Where is your partner?!" Sword saint asked, pointing her sword at Drakon.

"They're not my partner... And. I don't know."

"You!!"

BAM!!!

A force struck Sword Saint, throwing her meters away, shattering more than twenty clouds in the process.

"What??"

The group turned to Drakon, who shrugged his shoulders.

"What Abomination is this??" Nosferatu asked, trying his best to locate Destroyers.

"I can't detect them, even my divinity is giving me nothing... Whatever that monster is, disappeared from existence."

YOU DARE CALL US A MONSTER!!!!!!

Destroyers's voice sounded all over the place, it was so loud that everyone, both the players, monsters and lords dropped to their knees, holding their ears, their faces filled with pain.

"What the hell is this?!!!"

Aaron yelled, holding his ears.

Apate and Reaper moved their gazes around in mild confusion.

"What's releasing such sound?" Apate asked.

"Above us." Reaper looked up at the sky. "Watch Mira!"

BOOOM!!!

He shot into the air, and transformed into a huge golden dragon... Increasing his speed.

Apate moved her gaze around, seeing everyone on their knees, well... Apart from Jennifer, Erika and Tyson... The rest, both players and monsters were on their knees.

Erika moved her confused gaze around the place:

"I don't know what's happening, but this is the best time to kill these guys."

She lunged forward, her bow transforming into a sword.

—

"Hey! Three-headed bird! Stop that!" Drakon said in a calm tone.

Destroyers walked out from thin air, and fixed their gazes on the three Lords.

"Not after I kill them."

BOOOOOM!!!!

Both Destroyers and Drakon looked up at the sky, seeing a beautiful lady descending towards them. Her presence instantly blocked Destroyers's pressure from the lords.

"This?"

The three looked up at the Lady, and shakily stood up from the ground.

"Thank you, Primordial goddess; Eris!"

Nosferatu said in a low voice.

Eris stared at them for some second, and turned her head to Destroyers and Drakon, who were now serious.

"I promised your Ruler something."

Eris smiled, and added:

"And I plan to fulfill it."

We won't let you hurt Mira!!" Des yelled.

"Fufufu... Look below you, all those Humans, Michael care for every one of them... Killing any, will hurt him, don't you think so?"

"....."

You!!"

Destroyers and Drakon were stunned.

Whoosh!!!

Reaper burst out from the clouds, and hovered behind the two, staring at Eris and the lords in confusion.

"What is happening, Lizard?!" He asked.

"Just this bitch, saying some stupid stuffs!" Drakon spat out.

Eris stared at Reaper's transformation in surprise, but still nodded her head.

"The Drakons' King... I see Michael has been busy."

"Retreat or we'll attack!" Drakon hissed out.

"Retreat... Fufufu, It seems you don't know me."

Eris pointed a finger at the group: "I'll start with you. [Chaos Void]."

A red lightning shot out from her fingers, moving towards the three.

What's This?! We can't move!!" Yers exclaimed in shock.

"Same!!" Drakon said in mild horror.

Reaper was the only one, who could move, but he was still slow to react to the attack.

BOOOOOOOOOM!!!!

Eris lowered her hand with a smile on her face. "I wonder how Michael will-- What?!"

"I see some pests have grown wings."

Everyone stared at Michael in pure horror... Eris took a step back in fear.

"Impossible!! You shouldn't be able to summon a soul manifestation!! What realm are you on?!!" She yelled, still moving backward in fear.

Michael looked at his hand, and raised his head to her:

"If Typhon could do it, what make you think I can not?" He asked... His overcoat moving with the wind.

Whoosh!!

Whoosh!!

Whoosh!!

Whoosh!!

Whoosh!!

Eris looked at Havoc, Eins, Zwei, Drei, Shenras and Campe who appeared above Michael, their gazes fixed on her.

"Eris, Last warning... If you attack any of my family or friends, You'll beg me to kill you." Michael's eyes shone a bright golden light.

"We'll see, Abyssal Ruler... We will see."

She turned around, and walked away.

I thought you said you don't retreat!! Yers yelled.

Eris looked over her shoulder, her gaze on Yers... After some seconds, she turned around and disappeared with the lords.

Michael turned to the group:

"New task... Help them lead Aaron to the mountain, no matter what it takes, make sure they complete it before today runs out!" He sighed:

"Eris has power in this realm, She could come and go as she pleases, and that's dangerous... They might be S-Rank gates back home, but at least, they have a high surviving chance there." He looked down, staring at Erika, Mira and the rest with a small smile.

"Look after them."

Read exclusive content at NovelBin.Côm

With that said, he shattered into golden lights, and flew away.

"You heard the Ruler... Some of us will be in the shadows, Shenras, Drakon, and Campe will work in the open." Havoc said, and disappeared without waiting for anyone answer.

"Does that guy know I'm the first Lord?" Drakon asked in mild confusion.

Shenras smiled at him:

"To Havoc, you're still young... And you haven't gotten hold of your strength."

"I have."

"No, because you could have blocked that attack, or escape, but you couldn't... You still have a lot to learn." She smiled, and turned to the Blades.

"You almost killed me, Eins!"

Eins stared at her for some seconds, turned around and disappeared.

"Always Arrogant."

She shook her head, and turned to the second and third blades.

"We'll get going."

The two said in unison, and disappeared.

"Same."

Destroyers disappeared, leaving the group behind.

"Ok, let's go back." Reaper said, transforming back to his original appearance.

[Five minutes Later.]

"This was easy." Tyson said, tossing a red core on his palm.

"Who would have thought we gained so much soul essence?!!" James asked, staring at the pile of cores before him.

Jennifer smiled, and turned to Erika, Maria and Mira.

"You felt it too?" Mira asked in surprised.

"Yes, Like Michael was above us." Erika said.

"You two have start again!" Maria was irritated.

"Hmm..."

Jennifer turned to Reaper, and...

"Drakon?"

Mira: "Drakon?"

Everyone turned their heads around, seeing the young man descending from the sky.

"Drakon? Isn't that the name of Michael's pet Dragon?" James asked, staring at the young man.

"Yeah, I remembered... That's the name."

A man nodded.

"Why are you here? Shouldn't you be in Draconian?" Erika asked, walking towards him.

"Well, Partner asked me to assist you guys." Drakon said, scratching the back of his head.

"Assist us? That's not needed... Look around, we dealt with these guys! What can stop us?!" Niki asked.

"Well..."

The group, and Drakon turned their heads to Aaron, who stopped before them.

"You guys do know we haven't entered the gods' grave... We're still in the tree territory." He added, pointing at the huge tree.

"So what are you saying?" Rahond asked.

"I'm saying, We don't know what's waiting for us in there, and we'll need his help."

Aaron turned his head to the lady behind Drakon. "Who is this?" He asked.

"Campe... A friend." Drakon answered.

"Campe?" Jennifer raised an eyebrow, but didn't say anything, just staring at the lady.

"Hello everyone, Michael also sent me with Drakon." Campe said.

Jennifer and the group, nodded, while she gestured to Reaper, and Erika to follow her.

'What happend?'

Aaron thought; watching Jennifer and the two, who stopped some meters from them.

"Tell us the truth, Reaper! What's going on here?! First; Shenras. Second; the blades, who didn't kill us but let us go, and the second even healed all of us! Now Drakon, and Campe... If my memories prove me right, she's the guardian of the abyssal, and Michael is the Ruler of Abyssal... Tell us the truth."

Reaper moved his gaze from Jennifer, to Erika, and sighed; not knowing what to say.

'Tell them.'

Michael's voice sounded in his head, which made him sighed in relief.

"Yes, Michael sent everything."

"Everything? You mean those blades? And the one who nearly killed us?" Erika asked with a frown.

"Not kill, Train... He wanted to see how far you guys have gone. You two know it, the first Blade has the strength to kill all of you... And if he's really an enemy, we would all be dead by now."

The two looked at one another, and turned to Reaper.

"What about those monsters? Because they were working for the blade." Jennifer asked.

"Well, I think the blades scared them, that's why they obey him... And these monsters... I think someone else controlled them."

Reaper paused, and continued:

"You guys aren't safe in this world, a Primordial goddess is after everyone... That's why the Lord asked me, and the others to protect you, including Drakon, Campe, Havoc, Eins, Zwei, and I think Destroyers."

"Wait, Destroyers?" Erika was surprised, this name sounded familiar to her.

"Yes."

Reaper nodded, and continued:

"And Five S-Rank gates appeared in Amerisa, after you guys entered the game."

"WHAT!!!!!"

The two girls yelled in shock, while Aaron was stunned.

'Five S-Rank gates? What's that?' He thought.

"What do you mean there are gates in Amerisa?!!" Erika's voice attracted the attentions of the group.

"What gates?" Tyson rushed to the three.

"Reaper... Reaper said 5 S-Rank gates appeared in Amerisa, Bermuda island."

"Bermuda island?" Sunny walked towards them in mild surprised.

"Yes, the same island!" Erika said.

"That's why Partner sent us, he won't be able to leave his location, but we can." Drakon walked towards them.

"Then what are we waiting for?"

"Huh?"

"...."

The group turned their heads to Aaron:

"The faster we finished this, the quicker you guys return to your world." He said, jumping down Calamity.

"Hmm... He has a point. We move after absorbing the cores, we don't know what's waiting for us in the gods' grave. We need all the strength we can get."

Jennifer turned to Tyson.

"Are the soul essences evenly distributed?" She asked.

"Well, these guys said The Conquerors did all the fighting, so we should have more cores."

He snapped his fingers, and a huge flaming lion walked towards him, dropping the cores on the ground.

Jennifer and Erika moved their gazes on the bags and turned to Tyson.

"How did you get the bags?"

"Don't you know me, Love? I can do anything." Tyson said with a please smile.

Jennifer rolled her eyes, and turned to Erika.

"This might take some minutes, but absorb as fast as you can."

"Isn't that dangerous?" Chris asked with a slight frown.

"Yes, but not to us... We're above the Sovereign medal, and these cores won't have any strong effect on us..."

Jennifer sat on the ground, in a meditating posture, and closed her eyes.

The players looked at one another and followed suit, also sitting on the ground, closing their eyes.

—

Aaron, Drakon and the walkers moved their gazes around the place, and turned to the cores given to them.

Reaper moved his to Mira, without her knowing. Apate moved hers to Erika and Azazel to Jennifer and so on... While Aaron turned to his own, and with a thought, the cores shattered and entered his body.

"No change." He sighted, not feeling any energy in him...

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Ding!!}

{You gained a clue.}

{Clue: Sacrifice.}

Aaron thought for a moment, and snapped his fingers.

"Wait."

He turned his head to Calamity: "Calamity."

"Yes, Master?"

The Six-headed dragon answered in a low voice.

"What do you think merging with me?" Aaron asked.

Calamity moved its gaze from Aaron to the players around. "Isn't that dangerous to them?" It asked.

"I know it's dangerous to them, that's why we won't do it here, but I want to know... Will you?"

"Yes." Calamity answered without hesitation.

"You do know what will happen to you, right?" Aaron asked again.

"Yes Master, My soul will disintegrate, and I'll die..."

"Yes." Aaron nodded.

"I was already dead, Master. You resurrected me, so giving my life for you doesn't matter, as long I can be of help." It said.

"Thank you old friend, My world is now in peace, and I think grandfather needs you back." Aaron pointed a finger at Calamity.

Whooosh!!!!

To calamity's shock, it turned into countless color of lights, and flew towards Aaron.

"What's he doing?" Apate asked with a frown.

"He is breaking the rules in this world, by sacrificing a soul to gain his full powers." Azazel answered.

BOOOOOOOOOOM!!;

A dense amount of energy burst out from Aaron, heading straight to the players.

"Shit! That's dangerous!! Defenc-- Uh?" Drakon was stunned, as the energy stopped, and flew back to Aaron, entering his body.

"Did he just manipulated his own energy outburst?" Shenras asked in mild confusion.

Whoosh!!

Aaron shot into the sky, countless energies moving all over his body... And with a sonic Boom!

Calamity's soul spirit appeared behind him.

{Powers Restored.}

"Good... My powers are fully restored." Aaron said with a smirk.

"* *"

The Walkers were stunned.

[External Ice mountain.]

The old man slowly opened his eyes, and looked at the distance:

"Finally... Good Job, Kid... Keep it up, and you might reach here." He said, and closed his eyes again.

[One hour later.]

BOOOM!!

Aaron, Drakon, Shenras, and the walkers watched as the Humans broke through one at a time, entering the ranks above theirs.

Jennifer, Tyson, Erika, and Chris opened their eyes, their faces dark.

"This! Why can't we realm up?!" Chris asked with a frown, getting up from the ground.

"I think because we're above the Sovereign medal, these cores are useless to us." Jennifer said, standing up.

"Then how are we going to realm up?" Tyson asked.

"I think, Micky will know the answer to that, for now... Let's move, we don't have much time." Jennifer said.

Erika moved her gaze around the place, and settled it on Mira and Maria, who were now grandmasters... She smiled lightly, and her face instantly got serious.

"Guys, I think we should go! I mean right now!!"

The group turned to her, and was stunned by what they saw.

BOOOOOM!!!

A dark, and huge storm was currently moving towards them, red lightnings striking occasionally on the ground.

"Oh My God!!"

They turned to the remaining five who were still absorbing the cores.

"Shit!! We can't wake them, there'll be backlash, and they might lose their lives!" James said, staring at the storm.

"What should we do?" Robert asked.

Jennifer stared at the five, who were among the team which joined them, and sighed helplessly.

"We wake them, they explode with the person who got close to them... And if we don't, the storm will kill them!"

She took a deep breath and exhaled:

"There's no other option, We leave them!"

She turned around, and started walking.

"What?! No! I'm not leaving them behind!!" The young man In huge armor said.

"Suit yourself."

Jennifer answered, not even looking at him.

"FUCK!!"

Zelus summoned his sword, staring at the storm.

"What happened?" Apate asked with a frown.

"Use your eyes of darkness" Campe said, her face dark.

Apate, Drakon, Aaron, Reaper and the group. Those who could used any skills which could increase the eyesight, seeing tens of miles away; instantly used it.

—

SCREECH!!!

SCREECH!!!!

A Scorpion-like monsters with three tails, and maw filled with razor sharp teeth, was moving towards them, right beneath the Storm.

{All seeing eyes.}

{Name: Scorpion. Class: Celestial. Info: light and dark magical Monsters [Highly Dangerous].}

"The storm isn't the main threat!! Those things are all Lv200, celestial realm monsters!! Staying back will only get us killed!!" Aaron said.

Experience tales at NovelBin.Côm

Without hesitation, the group started running... They leaped into the air, and landed on their pets, shooting forward... Aaron was ahead of the group.

The man looked at his team, who have already started running with the conquerors... He then turned to the remaining five, who were still absorbing the cores.

"This?!"

He looked up at the storm, which was getting dangerously close.

"Fuck this!!"

Before he could do anything, a girl finished absorbing her cores, and opened her eyes... She moved her confused gaze around seeing only the young man, and the other four.

"Where...?" Her words trail off seeing the rest of the players running... With utter confusion, she turned her head around, seeing the Storm moving towards her.

"Ahhh!!!"

She stood up in horror, but the guy grabbed her wrist.

"Good that you're done! Come on, love! We're going!!"

"Uh? What about these guys, Mike?"

"Leave them! This is VRG, not some helping ground!!"

He turned to the Huge Tiger. "Come on! Let's get out of here!!"

The five meters tall Tiger moved towards them, and the two got on it, with one last look at the four, he commanded:

"Move!"

Yellow lights appeared on the Tiger's body, and with a Boom. It shot forward.

[15 Minutes Later.]

The group finally finished absorbing their cores, and opened their eyes in unison.

"Yes!! I can't believe it!! I entered the Elite medal!!"

"Wow!! Finally, a grandmaster!!"

The four were celebrating, before realization struck them.

"Where is everyone?" One asked.

BOOOM!!

The four looked up, as clouds covered the sky, rain pouring down on them.

"Uh? Rain?" The grandmaster was stunned.

SCREECH!!!!!!!!!!

The group turned around in horror, seeing dark figures moving towards them with incredible speed.

"What the hell is that?!"

Whoosh!!

"NOOOOOOO!!!!!"

"AHHHHHHHHHH!!!!"

Chapter 164: Do You Love Aaron?

[Terra.]

BAM!!

Emily leaped backward, steadily landing on the ground.

"Good attack, but it'll take more than that to take me down." She said, pointing her sword at Stellar.

Stellar stared at the Armored future queen, and smirked:

"Ok, You asked for it."

She channelled her energies into her palms, and placed them both on the ground.

"RISE!"

BAM!!!

The earth before her moved, and formed two deadly Golems.

"Attack!!"

The two shot forward with earth Rob in hand.

Emily leaped backward, and shot forward, and with a slash of her sword, she shattered it into stones... Without wasting a second, she leaped to the side, dodging the other Golem's attack.

"Nice one, Girl! But you just gained your powers back... Shouldn't you--"

"--Let her be, Princess Lilly." Angela said with a smile.

"Yes. Some of us are enjoying this." Jenny added.

Aura just moved her gaze on the two, training on the field, not saying anything.

The girls sat on couches, watching the battle between the two girls.

Whoosh!!

"Your skill is impressive!! But only to weak opponents..." Emily disappeared.

"Uh?"

Stellar moved her gaze around the place: "Hey This isn't fair! I can't summon stronger familiars, yet! That didn't mean you should be bullying me."

Stellar said, still moving her gaze around.

"Bullying?! Did she just say bullying?!" Jenny asked with a laugh.

"This is interesting. But..." Angels turned her head to Lilly.

"Princess Lilly, why did Emily lose her powers?"

"Well, they are fortunate ones that their powers are link my brother's. I think his powers was sealed, which made him powerless, and so, Emily became powerless..."

"Oh, what if Aaron gets stronger?"

"Then Emily will also get stronger." Lilly answered, shocking the three girls.

—

"Got you!"

Stellar looked over her shoulder in shock, the next thing she knew was a punch, connecting on her back.

BANG!!!

"Augh!!"

She flew forward, falling face down... Leaving trail of dirt.

"What a punch." Jenny said in mild surprised.

Stellar turned around on the ground to face Emily, and sat down... "You! That's cheating!" She yelled, not accepting the outcome.

"You want to go again?" Emily asked with a smile.

"No! I surrender." Stellar quickly said.

"Good, then stop talking, and get up from the ground." Emily walked towards stellar, and offered her hand.

"Come on."

Stellar took the hand, and stood up. "Good fight, One day I'll defeat."

"Then get ready to train for 100 years." Emily said, and the two burst out laughing.

"Come on."

They both walked back to their audience.

"You are strong, princess Emily." Angela said with a smile.

Emily nodded a "Thank You":

"What about the mission, have you completed it?" She asked Angela.

"Yes, and all thanks to Aaron and you, I'm no longer curse." Angela said.

"It's nothing, he just wrote everything to me, and I delivered it to you."

Emily said, and took a glass of water from the table in front of the girls, after drinking everything, she turned to Angela:

"What was your plan with Aaron? That even resulted to you sending those soldiers." She asked.

Angels sighed:

"I wanted to marry Aaron, mainly because of his strength, and to secure the throne. But Aaron was too smart, that's why I sent those guys, to keep watch on him... Especially when another girl is with him."

"Oh, so you don't have any negative plans?" Stellar asked with a raised eyebrow.

"No, I don't! I need Aaron alive." Stay tuned for updates on NovelBin.Côm

"So you don't love him?" Lilly asked.

"I don't love Aaron, to me... I was just doing my duty as a crown Princess."

The girls looked at one another and finally nodded their heads.

"You're surely serious with duties... But, what about the Ning family wealth? Aaron isn't a last descendant." Jenny said.

"Who's strong enough to say otherwise?" Aura asked back.

The group looked at one another and shook their heads.

"No one... That's why, Aaron ordered Mott's family to build a new academy... For learning this time." Lilly said.

The girls smiled, and took their cups.

"I'll meet you guys there." Jenny said.

"Yes!"

"Of course."

The five nodded with smiles on their faces.

[Back To Aaron.]

The Conquerors and Aaron increased their speed, entering the gods' grave without even knowing it.

Whooosh!!

The group felt a chill ran down their spine, making them stop on track. They moved their gazes on the barren landscape around them, with bones shattered all over the place.

"Where are we?" Maria asked, sitting on her eagle.

"I think this is the gods' grave." Mira, who sat beside her answered.

"Ok everyone! Stay on guard!"

Jennifer looked over her shoulder, staring at the tiger running towards them... She nodded, and looked away.

"Let's move, Keep up the pace, but make sure not to make any noise."

With that said, Garuda moved forward, the group, followed behind, both airborne and on land.

Aaron who was flying beside her, moved his calm gaze around the place, and shook his head:

"We won't make it."

"Uh?"

Jennifer raised an eyebrow, turning her head towards Aaron.

"Why do you say that?!"

"He said that because there is an Ocean 100 miles from here, right in front of us." Drakon said, flying towards them with Campe.

"Sir Drakon is right, I say we change direction." Campe added.

"What happened?" Erika flew towards the group, and landed on Garuda.

"There's an Ocean 100 miles from here... She's suggesting we change direction, but with the map, it'll take longer to reach our destination." Jennifer answered.

"Hmm... What if we fly over the ocean?" Erika suggested.

"You saw those monsters under the storm, right?" Aaron asked back.

"Yes."

The group nodded.

"They can't survive without water..."

"Huh?" They were confused, so Aaron elaborated:

"Without water, those monsters can't move, and survive... Take them as fishes, without being in water they die... And an Ocean is a whole land of water. What if the monsters are in the ocean? And they attack us? What then?"

The group were silent, thinking:

"What about we move higher?! Like keeping a 300 meters distance from the Ocean surface?!" Tyson yelled from below.

"You guys don't understand... The sea isn't your normal blue clear water, it's completely black... We don't know what's in there, that's why I say we should change direction." Campe said.

"Sorry, that won't happen."

The group turned around, seeing Eins, Zwei, and Drei walking out from thin air. The three using the air as their ground.

"Uh?"

"Who are those guys?"

"Wait! That's the guy who beat the hell out from us!"

"And the girl who healed us!"

"What's happening here?!!"

The people below, and flying behind the group were stunned.

Jennifer stared at the three for some seconds, and gestured everyone to land to the ground. The humans nodded, and followed her action.

—

The Conquerors and all the fighters stood in a circle, staring at one another. The three Blades stood above them, with the walkers, Campe, Drakon, and Shenras.

"Ok, This decision will affect the mission, so I want everyone to give their opinions..." Jennifer said.

"We're going to vote?" Niki asked in surprise.

"Yes."

Erika nodded, and continued:

"Firstly; This is the situation. Right in front of us is a deep Black Sea, filled with countless powerful Monsters, that can even threaten a Sovereign medal... And you know we can't go back, that isn't an option. So what should we do? Fly above the sea, and we can go highest; 500 meters above the water surface... Or, we change direction, which will take us more than a day to get to the mission... That means, we're going to spend at least 3 more nights in this world before reaching the mountain... So decide."

Silence...

Every one of them looked at one another in confusion, and shock... None were planning on spending a night in this godforsaken world. But if they don't want to, they have to fly over a very dangerous pot... It's like, moving above a volcano, that will erupt at any given second.

After a whole two minutes of thinking, Aaron opened his mouth:

"We fly above."

Jennifer: "My plan exactly."

Erika: "Same."

Mira: "I think I'll go with sister-in-law and Bestie."

Maria: "Just want to leave this place, and have a good sleep, so I'm going with my sister."

Tyson: "Flying above."

Niki: "Yes... We're flying."

James: "I think we should change direction, that way we're escaping from two disasters."

Scarlett: "Yes, We'll escape from the Storm and also the black waters."

Hearing the two, more people started, and joined.

Out of 35 players, excluding Shenras, Campe, Drakon, the Blades and walkers.

Twenty-four choose to fly over the sea, with the Conquerors being twenty-three... The rest of the group, both fearful of the Black Sea, and Storm chose change direction... They'll rather sleep here for three days, then die.

"The majority wins... We're flying over--"

"--No!!"

Aaron, Jennifer and everyone turned to Mike.

"You all, Especially you, Jennifer! You left my members there to die! And now you're asking us to enter another danger! So... You can leave us again, to die! Not happening!!" The man yelled.

"What are you doing, Love?" The lady held his hand: "The Conquerors helped us, we'll be dead if it weren't for them--"

"--Not need." Jennifer observed everyone, some has their heads down.

"You are all silent, don't forget you also ran away... Even your teammates ran away." She scoffed:

"Let me tell you something. This Is VRG, Being Kindhearted is you digging your grave, and those of you who know me, knows that I'm not that kind of player... The people I can only sacrifice my life to save can be counted in one hand, so don't think you're something special... If you want to change direction, go ahead... Besides, you aren't in our team in the first place."

She turned to her Members: "Come on, get ready, we're moving in two minutes."

"What about this kid?! He's going with us--"

"--Hold on there, James... I'm flying over the sea. Oh, and good luck." Aaron said, cutting Mountain off.

"This?!"

They were stunned.

Chapter 165: Die Or Run

James looked at the Walkers, Blades, and Drakon, all of them going with the Conquerors... His guild. But he already said he'll be going the other way, so if he changed now...

"Wait! Jennifer, I'm going with you!"

"Uh?"

James and his group were stunned, as Scarlett rushed to the Conquerors.

"What are you doing, Scarlett? Your eagle can't fly that high..." James quickly said.

"Yes, But I can fly with the Conquerors." She said, and added: "James, I know you're strong-headed, but that won't help you... I say you follow us." She said in a low voice.

James stared at the group behind him, and turned to Scarlett: "Sorry, But my decision stand, I just want to survive."

"But, James! What about the Kid?! He's the mission... How will you get him to the mountain?" She asked, not giving up.

"Don't worry, we have the map, and it'll lead us to the mountain... Survive, and meet us there." James nodded at her.

"Come on, Let's get moving, don't forget the Storm!" Mike said, sitting on his tiger.

James smiled at her, and walked away... Scarlett stood frozen, watching as her friends walked away.

"Come on, and don't have any hope... If we cross the Ocean, we'll reach the ice mountain before today runs out, but they still have three days ahead before reaching it... If they survive."

Robert said, standing behind her.

Scarlett looked at him over her shoulder, and slowly nodded her head.

"Come on."

With that the group started their journey to the Black Sea.

'I gained back my powers, so I can face anything that'll attack us... I think.'

Aaron thought, moving ahead.

—

[On The way.]

"What type of monsters do you think are in the waters?"

Scarlett asked Mira beside her... The two and Maria were on Drakon's head... Drakon was so huge, all the Pets, and players could stay on his back.

"Don't know, All I know is... Those things under the storm are inside." Mira replied, playing "card game" with Maria.

"I still can't believe you two are playing card game in this situation, and on a Dragon's back." Scarlett said, staring at the two girls in surprise.

"What do you want us to do? And besides, we'll know when we reach the sea." Maria muttered.

"Card is one of my best games, so far no one can defeat me... Well, apart from my brother."

"Supreme. I wish I have a brother like him." Scarlett said with a small smile, and added in a low voice: "Or a husband."

The two girls turned their heads to Scarlett, and shook their heads with smiles on their faces.

"What happened?" Scarlett asked in mild confusion.

"If you know Supreme some years ago, you won't want him to be your brother... You are saying this, because of who he is now." Maria answered, and turned her head to Mira.

Explore hidden tales at NovelBin.Côm

"My Brother-in-law's Life story is deep, and painful... So don't go there." She added.

Scarlett moved her gaze from Maria to Mira, and repeated the action... After a whole ten seconds, she finally sighed:

"You are right, I only said that because of who he is at the moment... Well... What make you guys think we'll survive this?" She asked, quickly changing the subject.

"Because we have this guy we're sitting on, and those guys." Mira answered, patting Drakon's back.

"Oh... That's good."

Whooosh!!!

A cold breeze moved past the three, causing them to shiver slightly.

"Ok, Girls... Get ready, the sea is right ahead." Drakon announced.

—

Aaron and the group stared at the black eerily calm sea with surprise and awesome. Even in daylight, it cast a foreboding feeling in their hearts.

"We're not ready for this." Scarlett said.

"Yes we are." Maria muttered, her Mystical-class spear materializing in her hand.

"Hey, Miss Jennifer is..."

Drakon, and the girls turned their heads to Jennifer.

She pointed a finger to the sky.

Drakon nodded, and moved higher, the group and their beasts, following behind them, ascended, entering the clouds.

Everyone held their breath, as they slowly moved above the sea.

"See, Nothing happened?" Maria said with a smile.

"There's only one problem, we don't know the size of the sea, and how long it'll take us." Mira said.

"True. And we'll make it!" Maria was clearly excited.

Whizzzd!

Aaron, Jennifer, Erika, Maria, Scarlett and the rest frowned. Everyone heard the sound, like something moving with incredible speed.

Whoosh!!

BOOOOOM!!!

"WHAT IN THE GODS' NAME?!!"

Aaron exclaimed as a huge tentacle, measuring 3 meters wide shot into the air, right in front of him.

Whizzzd!!

Whizzzd!!

Whizzzd!

They all looked down, seeing tens of tentacles moving towards them.

"DIVE!!"

Erika yelled, and Without wasting even a second, her dragon moved, diving to the right, dodging a tentacle.

Whoosh!!!

"Ahhh!! It caught me!!"

Veronica yelled from behind.

The Conquerors turned around in horror, they stood there, watching as the tentacles wrapped around Veronica's dragon.

"I'm coming Veronica!"

Before Chris could move, a series of wind blades shattered the tentacle into pieces.

SCRREEEECH!!!!

A terrifying shriek sounded from the depth of the sea. The tentacles redrew back to the Black waters.

Veronica looked above her at Eins, whose sword was held behind him... The blade pointing upward.

Go, and don't slow down even for a second...

He lowered his gaze to the Black Sea: Whatever that Monster is. Is more-stronger than a Celestial-class monster...

Maybe a Primordial? Zwei asked.

Go!!

Eins yelled at the players.

"Move, Don't stop for anyone!!"

Jennifer and the group quickly channelled their energies into their beasts, and with a sonic boom! They shot forward, with Drakon leading the way.

'I should have stayed back and fight... But to survive in this world, you must know when to run and when to fight, just as Mom told me.' Aaron thought, following behind Jennifer.

"Ok, This will be troublesome."

Havoc walked out from a tore space, his hands folded behind him.

"Yes, Only the Ruler can face such a monster!" Shenras said.

We aren't here to kill, Just distract it. Eins said in a calm tone.

Zwei and Drei looked at one another, and Instantly turned into trail of lights, merging... And after some seconds, Zwedrei walked out.

We're going all out.

She bought out her mask, and put it on... Eins also summoned his mask and put it on.

"Who would have thought such a monster will be in this small world?" Campe asked, instantly transforming into the fearsome snake-like dragon... Black and red armor appeared on Havoc's and Shenras's bodies, a cape made of pure energy moving behind them.

"It has been long I was this serious in a fight."

Havoc stretched forth his hand, and a long Divine-class sword appeared.

Whooosh!!!

The group looked down, seeing even more tentacles moving towards them.

ATTACK!

BOOM!!

They disappeared, shooting towards the tentacles.

'At least we created some distance from whatever that thing is... Even the All Seeing Eyes can't see though the waters.' Aaron looked behind him, while still flying.

"What type of monster was that?!" Tyson asked in horror.

"I don't know, Its energy wave was so great! I just hope those guys defeat it."
Jennifer replied, staring at him over her shoulder.

SCREECH!!!!!!

"You got to be kidding me?!?"

Everyone looked above them, seeing griffins moving towards them with pure killing instinct.

"Leave these guys to me."

Aaron shot forward with his sword.

"Be careful, those are Mystical-class monsters!!" Jennifer yelled.

Aaron stood in front of the monsters, and smirked: "To me, Celestial monsters are weaklings."

Red and black energies covered his sword, and with a horizontal swing, he sent a terrifying energy Blades, towards the monsters.

Whoosh!!

Everyone watched in shock, as the monsters formed a defense shield with magic, blocking the attack.

"They blocked it?" Aaron was stunned.

"Don't worry, We just need to get off the water, and we'll be able to face these things." Chris said.

Aaron stared at the monsters as they removed the shield, and moved towards them.

"You guys are good." He stretched out his hand towards the monsters.

"[Wind manipulation]"

Moment next, the oxygen around the monsters seized.

The Griffins froze, and after some seconds, they fell from the sky.

"But without air, you die." Aaron added, watching as the monster fall into the Black Sea.

"Who's this Kid?" Borne asked in mild confusion.

"Don't know, Brother Borne." Dink said.

"Ok, Let's Keep on moving!" Erika yelled.

—

Whoosh!!

BAM!!

Eins cut off two more tentacles, while moving towards the sea, Zwedrei and Campe following behind him...

SCREECH!!!

The monsters below let out another loud shriek, causing waves all over the sea... Eins and the group watched as the tentacles dove back into the waters.

"What happen?" Shenras asked, staring at the sea.

Swhoosh!

"Uh?"

Everyone watched the waters as whatever behemoth in the depth moved towards the direction Aaron and the others took.

"This is bad!! We need to stop it!!" Havoc hissed out, and shot forward... The rest following behind it.