

REBORN WITH THE ALL SEEING EYE

Chapter 166: What The Hell?!

[Two miles above them.]

"Your plan is working, Goddess Eris." Nosferatu said with a smile.

"I don't know where Michael is, but that is good... We can take care of these guys, and get out from here..."

"Who would have thought you have such a powerful Pet." Sword saint muttered.

Eris smiled proudly: "I'd been training this monster from when it's just a baby... I even gave it some of my powers, making it one of the strongest monsters ever lived."

"WOW."

The three looked down in surprise.

---

BOOOOM!!

Erika looked over her shoulder, seeing the waters moving towards them with ten times their speed.

"FUCK!!!" She cussed.

The rest felt the waves, and turned around, only to be horrified.

"*So fast!*"

Apate was surprised... Before she could move, Reaper's voice sounded:

"*That's not our mission...*"

He said, dive, and landed on Drakon's back, right behind the three girls.

"*Stay close.*"

The three nodded, but their gazes were fixed on the waters.

Whoosh!!!

The monster moved past them, and stopped 100 meters away.

"It's waiting for us." Camila said, staring at the now calm waters in horror.

"**Stop!**"

Eins stopped beside Jennifer.

"**We can't defeat this thing, I'll have to take you all away from here.**"

He stretched forth both his hands in front of them. The rest understood his plan, and also stretched their hands.

Dark abyssal energy flew out from their hands, and formed a gateway 20 meters from the group.

---

"Oh?! How smart! Stop them baby!!" Eris hissed out.

---

"SCREECH!!!!!!"

Whooosh!!!

The waters started moving towards the players.

"Fly!!" Sunny yelled.

Whoosh!!

Drakon moved, the conquerors quickly shot forward... Drakon, Jennifer and Erika waited, as Aaron, and the elders fly inside, one at a time.

"GO!!" Tyson yelled.

Before the last group could move, two tentacles shot into the air, and grabbed the bird.

"Sir Borne!!"

Mira yelled in horror.

Eins and the others were stuck, if they move, the gateway will close, leaving Erika, Jennifer, Tyson, Mira, Maria and Drakon behind.

Apate summoned her sword, and shot forward with Zelus and Azazel.

Whooosh!!

BAM!!!

A tentacle smashed into the three, instantly shattering them into dust.

"This!!?"

Borne turned his head to Dink, and the two looked at the tentacles wrapping the eagle and them all together, and suddenly smiled.

They turned to Mira.

"It was an honor knowing and working for you, and the Boss!" Borne said.

"What are you saying!!!!" Mira yelled, tears running down her cheeks.

"Go!! We'll hold this monster back!!!" Dink yelled.

"No, Sir Dink!!!" Mira yelled, before she could move, Reaper held her down.

The two smiled at her, and activated their energy cores.

Jennifer stared at them for some seconds, and nodded with a sad expression.

"We won't forget you!"

She said, and nodded at Drakon. Who flew inside the gateway, with Mira.

"NOOOOOOOO!!!!" Mira screamed.

Erika nodded, and shot inside the gateway.

"We'll meet again." Tyson wiped a tear, and both him and Jennifer entered.

Whooosh!!!

More than a hundred tentacles shot towards Eins, and the others.

"Fuck!!" Havoc cursed, seeing the tentacles moving towards them.

BAM!!!

It collided on a barrier.

"Uh?"

***I can't believe there's something as strong as us!***

Yers said, blocking the barrier... The three heads turned to the two humans, and bird.

***Isn't that the Ruler's members?!*** Des asked in shock.

"There's nothing we can do! They're planning on blowing the monster from below, giving us a chance to escape!" Shenras said, her face dark.

"What will the Lord do?!" Yers asked in mild horror.

The others just sighed helplessly, and finally closed the gateway... They lowered their hands and turned to the two Humans, who were staring at them with smiles on their faces.

"We promise you two, We'll avenge you!" Havoc said, his eyes filled with killing instinct.

Plop!

The tentacles took the two humans into the waters... Moment next:

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!!!!

"MOVE!"

The group instantly teleported away from the place.

---

"You did it, You killed two of Michael's members." Nosferatu said, still in disbelieve.

"I still can't believe it." Sword saint said.

".....!!" Canine was speechless.

"Go back and heal."

Eris said, while the waters started moving again.

"Michael, This is just the beginning." Eris said with killing instinct.

---

[The Other side.]

Whoosh!

"AHH!!"

Aaron and the group fell face down to the hard ground... Without hesitation, they shot to their feet, turning to the gateway.

"Where are the others?"

Aaron asked in mild confusion, staring at the gateway, 5 meters above them.

Whoosh!

Drakon flew out from the gateway. He moved above the players, and landed some meters away.

Then Erika, Jennifer and Tyson flew out, and the gateway closed behind them.

"Wait, Where is Borne, and Dink?" Rahond asked in mild confusion.

The elders all turned their heads to Drakon, and frowned seeing Maria, Mira and Scarlett climbing down his wing, their faces...

"WHAT HAPPENED?!!!" Robert yelled at the group.

"They're dead."

Erika said in a low voice, walking towards them.

The word exploded in their heads like a dynamic. They stood frozen, not knowing what to say or do.

---

[Ten minutes later.]

The group stood scattered, on their spots; faces solemn, and lost in thought.

'This is sad, but we already stayed here for ten minutes, shouldn't we get moving?'

Aaron thought moving his gaze around. He couldn't bring himself to say it out loud, seeing the state the elders are in.

"SCREECH!!!!!"

"You got to be kidding me?!!"

Aaron turned around, seeing more than ten thousand Griffins flying towards them.

He looked over his shoulder at The Conquerors, who slowly turned their heads to the Monsters.

"All Mystical-class, We can't remain here, we need to move."

Erika said, and turned her head to the remaining three brothers, and sighed.

"I'll take care of this." Aaron said, before he could move.

BOOOOOM!!!

A golden lightning tore opened the sky, instantly, the sky turned red... The group and monsters all froze, feeling the presence of a being, more powerful than anything they had ever faced.

'What The hell?!' Aaron thought, utterly perplexed.

Chapter 167: Michael Is Back

BOOOM!!

Another lightning strike, and the Abyssals Lords, Blades, and Destroyers appeared in the sky, their pressures adding with their Ruler's.

Reaper, Apate, Zelus, Azazel, and Abyss instantly dropped to their knees, and bowed their heads... Stunning Aaron and the elders.

"*Greetings to the Ruler!!!*"

They yelled in unison.

BOOOOOM!!!

Everyone looked up, seeing a young man in a black overcoat, standing 100 meters above the sky, right in front of the lords and blades.

The Griffins stared at the human in horror, without hesitation, they all turned around and run.

BAM!!!!

They all froze, moment next... Blood burst out from their eyes, ears, noses and mouths... Everyone watched as the Griffins burst into blood, falling to the ground.

'He killed them without even moving a muscle?' Aaron was stunned.

Whizzzd!

Like a mirage, Michael disappeared, and appeared five meters from the elders.

They blinked, still in shock... After a whole ten seconds, Mira ran to her brother.

"Big Brother!!!"

Michael got down on one knee, and opened his arms.

Mira jumped into his arms, tightly hugging his neck, tears running down her cheeks.

"Bro.... Brother, Sir Borne and Sir Dink --"

"--Shhh, I know... That's why I'm here." Michael said, caressing her hair.

"Hubby?"

Erika, Jennifer, Aaron and the elders were still stunned, staring at Michael like mindless zombies.

After some couple of seconds, the two siblings finally separated.

"It's ok, I'm here to take you home." He said, wiping her tears with his hand.

"Micky? Are you done with your mission?" Jennifer asked.

"No, but this is more important." Michael stood up, and placed his hand on Mira's head, seeing everything that had happened.

"Hmm...."

He removed his hand, and turned to Erika, and gave her a reassuring nod.

Michael moved his gaze on everyone and settled it on Aaron.

"Your mission will have to wait, There's a monster we need to take care of."

"I'm with you!" Aaron said without hesitation.

Michael nodded, and turned his head to the distance... With a thought, Starvil appeared... And shot forward.

---

"This is bad! Supreme is here! We need to--"

Eris turned around and was stunned:

"Where are the Lords?" She asked in mild confusion.

The moment Michael appeared, Nosferatu, Sword saint and Canine disappeared, completely leaving the world.

"Cowards!!"

Whoosh!!!

Hearing the sound, Eris sharply turned around, only to see a gold and black colored sword moving towards her.

"A Supreme Weapon?"

Eris quickly summoned her divine-class sword, and blocked Starvil.

BAM!!!

She flew meters back, falling heavily on the ground.

"What??"

She stood up, and observed the cracks on her sword's blade in shock.

"He is coming."

She raised her head, and looked behind the sword, seeing a golden light, moving towards her.

"We'll see again, Michael."

She kept her sword, and quickly disappeared from the land.

The light stood, and turned into Michael... "I warned you, Eris... And you still go ahead. I promise you today, I won't rest till I have your head."

He snapped his fingers, instantly teleporting everyone back to the Black Sea.

Whoosh!

Eris looked over her shoulder, seeing Michael; his elders, Lords, blades, and lastly Aaron appearing above the waters.

"What? What are we doing here?!"

Niki's expression quickly turned paled, seeing they were back to the sea they ran away from.

"It's good you all are here, My Baby is fully healed, and at full strength... Do you think you'll survive this time around?!" Eris asked arrogantly, turning around to face the group.

"Baby?! You are the master of that monster?!!" Jennifer yelled in rage.

"Yes... Who else can create such a creature? A creature who could rival even a Primordial being." She said with a smile.

The elders turned to Michael, who was silent:

"Guild master, this monster is too dangerous and powerful, why don't we leave, finish the game and go back to Amerisa..."

Rahond said:

"I was the one who brought VRG up, now we lost two elders." He added with his head down.

"Don't blame yourself, Rahond... The person to blame is right in front of us... And."

Michael started walking. "We can't leave Borne's and Dink's murderers alive, even if it's a monster... We'll hunt it down, and cut it into pieces... Then their death will be avenged."

Eris raised an eyebrow seeing Michael walking towards her.

"You're strong Michael, that I will give you... But what if your opponent are thousands?!"

Eris opened her palm, and a red light appeared... With an upward toss, it shot into the sky, and formed a gateway.

The elders watched as figures in black outfits walked out, their red eyes fixed on Michael.

'Ok, More enemies.' Aaron sighed helplessly.

"Those are Dead soldiers! Kill one, and it'll transform into a monster!" Jennifer yelled, and Erika turned to Michael, who was still walking towards Eris.

"Be careful, Lo---"

BOOOOOM!!

"..."

*** ... ***

"..."

"Fuck!"

No one knew when Michael moved, they only saw his body phase for a second. The next thing that happened were the heads of the Dead soldiers flying into the air, and falling to the Black Sea.

Everyone stared at the falling bodies in horror.

***You dare send ants against a Sage, you're really underestimating me.***

Michael's eyes turned golden, the sword on his cheek glowed.

***Let me show you power!***

He snapped his fingers.

BAM!!!!

Aaron and the group looked down at the sea, and was dumbfounded, seeing the waters boiling... And In less than 30 seconds, the whole water dried up... Revealing countless horrifying monsters below the sea bed, and mostly the main one.

"Uh?"

The Conquerors were stunned... The monster, was clearly a woman, with the upper half body of a blue skin lady, her lower half was a tail, but instead of one, she has two tails... That wasn't enough, her head was filled with snakes, and a dragon's wings rested on her back, and no hands.

"Delphyne." Jennifer muttered the name of the 15 meters tall, and 10 meters long monster.

***Good job, she's the combination of a Dragon, Medusa, a snake and well... One of the strongest sea creatures.*** Eris said with a smile.

"All those traits... I'm impressed, and I'll say thank you."

***Why is that?***

"Because you just gave me my new walker."

***You!! Baby! Kill him!!*** Eris yelled, her tone filled with venom.

Chapter 168: What Killed You?

"SCREECH!!!!"

Tentacles shot out from her cut off hands, and moved towards Michael.

"I see some pests doesn't have respect." Michael raised his sword, and casually swung it downward.

Whoosh!!!

SCREECH!!!!

The monster let out a painful shriek, as all the cut-off tentacles fell to the ground, none regenerating.

"AHHHH!!!"

It fixed its gaze on Michael, all its eyes glowing a bright red color...

"Close your eyes." Michael said in a calm tone.

Aaron and the group closed their eyes without a second thought... While the monster released a bright light from hers and the snakes' eyes towards Michael.

[Ten Seconds Later.]

"...."

"...."

The two were stunned, seeing the light has no effect on Michael, or his Walkers, blades and lords.

"You... That should have turned you into a stone!" Eris said, staring at Michael with horror.

"It seems you don't know the terror of a Sage... Wait, you should know, Because Typhon is in this exact realm... And you should also know the consequences of angering a Sage!"

Michael threw Starvil into the air, and with a thought, it multiplied into a million, covering the entire sky.

"Shit!!"

The swords all shot down towards the monster, and in one single attacks. The monster was cut into smaller pieces, black blood flowing all over the place.

"Open your eyes."

Hearing Michael, they slowly opened their eyes, only to see the shattered body of the monster, that almost killed them.

"Did Micky just kill the monster?"

"In less than two minutes?"

Jennifer and Erika were stunned.

Michael turned his head to Eris, and frowned slightly:

"She escaped." He scoffed... And turned to the Lords.

"Get the army ready... It's time we pay these gods a visit."

***Yes Ruler.**"

"Yes Ruler."

"*Yes Ruler.*"

The Blades, Commanders and Lords said in unison, and disappeared from the game.

Michael summoned his swords, merged them into one, and caught it.

"Your destination, Aaron?" He asked.

"External Ice Mountain." Aaron Answered, still stunned.

"Let's go then." Michael snapped his fingers, and the group of 23 disappeared with him.

---

[External Ice Mountain.]

BOOOM!!

The old man looked up at the storm above him, and chuckled.

"Always a challenge."

He finally stood up from the ground, his white Taoist robe moving with the wind.

Whoosh!!

He looked over his shoulder, seeing the group appearing out of thin air.

Upon seeing Michael, the man turned around and gave a bow.

"Greetings Abyssal Ruler."

Michael nodded at him, and turned to Aaron. "Is he the one you're looking for?"

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Target, Located.}

Aaron observed the man for a second and nodded at Michael.

"Yes, he's the one."

Michael nodded, but the old man opened his mouth:

"I'm known as Uranus, The god of the sky."

The group were shocked.

"No need to be shock, This is just my soul fragment... You are all successors of a god or another... While Aaron is my successor, That's why I gave him a very useful skill."

Uranus said with a smile, and added:

"But we still need to get rid of this storm." He said, pointing his finger at the dark sky.

"Ok."

Michael simply waved his hand, instantly... The storm cleared, and the ray of sunlight shone on the mountain.

"The External Ice Mountain is one of the mysteries in this world, the Ice as its name is eternal."

"You know that's two different meaning, right?" Tyson asked with a frown.

"Blame the powerful figure who named it." Uranus said, and added:

"Your mission is complete, You can all leave now."

The moment he said that, AI's voice sounded in their heads:

< CONGRATULATIONS PLAYERS! >

<All objectives have been completed.>

< You have won the game, and you'll receive cores for your first reward.>

< Players will be taken out from the game in 30 seconds.>

< Receive your complete gifts in the City.>

Michael turned to Mira, whose mood was still low... She and the three brothers.

He sighed, walked towards her and ruffled her hair.

"Ok, Mira... Go, and wait for me."

Mira looked up at him, and slowly nodded, trying to force a smile.

The more he saw his sister's mood, the more angry he becomes... With a deep breath, he nodded at her.

"Go with Jennifer and Erika..."

"We'll be waiting, Micky."

"Yes Love."

"We'll be waiting for you!" Tyson said.

The two said. Moment next; white light surrounded their bodies.

Uranus, Aaron and Michael watched as the group disappeared from the mountain.

"What's your plan now?" Aaron asked, turning to Michael.

"Conquer the underworld." Michael answered, and started ascending into the air.

"Can I join."

"No, you're needed here."

Michael said, nodded at Uranus, and shot into the sky.

"Now, Let's begin." Uranus said, and sat on the ground, then gestured for Aaron to sit.

Aaron sat in a meditating posture, staring at the man.

"I know you have a lot of questions, so ask."

"Why did you give me the All Seeing Eyes?"

"Ok, That's the most important question." Uranus sighed, and started:

"In your first life, what killed you?"

Aaron thought for a moment:

"My friends."

"Why?" Uranus asked again.

"Greed... My position, and power, I was the strongest general in that world, who had fought countless battles, instead of helping me... They killed me, by poisoning my food." Aaron said in a dark tone.

"Ok, what about your second?"

"Love... My fiancée killed me, because she and her boyfriend wanted my positions as the president."

"Your third?"

"Greed... My money, I was the wealthiest young master in my third life, and as my friends, instead of helping me... They killed me, by causing my accident." Aaron said in a dark tone.

"Hmm... Your fourth?"

"I was a renowned scientist, Who created a drug that can extend someone's lifespan, out of jealousy, greed, the powerful figures plotted against me, and after countless attempts and injuries, I gave up... Destroyed the process of building the drug and burnt everything... That was when I heard a gunshot, a bullet straight to my heart. And the one who shot me was my wife."

"Do you know why I'm asking you all these?" Uranus asked, staring at Aaron.

"No." Aaron shook his head.

"If all these had happened to some people, they would have given up on humanity, and only think of revenge, destruction and other bad things... But you? You still fell in love, have a calm mind, and acted like you don't know anything, while inside... You knew everything... That's why I gave you my eyes."

"Hmm... So." Aaron moved his gaze around, and fixed it on Uranus:

'You know why I'm here, right?'

"No rush, I do know why you're here, but is that all your question?"

"Hmm... Tell me about the war."

"You mean the final battle of the multi realms?" Uranus smiled slightly:

"Don't worry, you still have years before the war... You just need to enjoy your time with your family, and friends... Because no one knows what the Titans are capable of."

"Titans?" Aaron was confused.

"Yes, Titans... As of the moment, everyone still thinks Typhon is the main threat, but the main enemies are the Titans... And Typhon's plan is to free them."

"What?! Then we need to warn Michael--"

"--There is no need for that, Michael already knew this... I'm just telling you, so you shouldn't be in the dark... When all these are revealed."

Aaron nodded a "thank you". Before he could say anything, Uranus added:

"Get ready, we start now... Close your eyes and opened your mind."

Aaron nodded, and quickly followed his instructions, closing his eyes.

Uranus smiled, and looked up as a pillar of light dropped from the sky, falling heavily on the two.

"AUGH!"

"Hold on Aaron, Don't lose the connection, and don't open your eyes."

Aaron nodded.

Uranus smiled, and looked at his hands which was slowly fading away... The light shone brightly, and Aaron gritted his teeth.

"You can do it." Uranus encouraged, and looked down at his legs, which had already faded.

"That's it."

He smiled.

Aaron inhaled, and exhaled... Trying to shift the pain to the back of his head, He closed clenched his fists... Silently absorbing the powers entering his body.

{ALL SEEING EYES.}

{NOTE: ALL SEEING EYES WILL BE DESTROYED, AND HOST WILL HAVE ALL THE POWERS... ALL RESTRICTION HAVE BEEN REMOVED.}

'Restriction?' Aaron was confused.

'What restriction?'

He was battling with his question, trying to get his answer, not knowing... The man before him was fading away.

BOOOOM!!

Uranus remained silent till his head was the last thing to fade. Then he opened his mouth:

"Five minutes remaining, And Aaron... Use your powers well, and don't change."

With that said, the head faded away, entering Aaron.

BOOOOOOM!!!!

---

[Night Time.]

[Terra]

The four females sat on the dining table, eating dinner... With maids standing some feet from them.

After some moment of silence, Aurora asked:

"How was the party?"

Lilly looked at Stellar and Emily, and smiled:

"Perfect Mum... And we also learned other things."

"Other things?" Aurora raised an eyebrow.

"Well... Things like, how the girls feel about my baby brother." Lilly said.

"Oh, what did they say?" Aurora asked in mild curiosity.

"Angela said she doesn't love him, just sees him as a friend... While Jenny said she saw him as someone to conquer and add to her harem."

"Harem? Really?" Aurora was surprised by this piece of information.

Jenny has the viper traits, and they're territorial... So having harem surprised her.

"Yes, we're also shocked hearing it." Emily answered.

"My Queen..."

The three turned to Stellar:

"We got news from neighboring Villages that bandits are troubling them, stealing their money and stuffs... What should we do?"

"Bandits? Ask Gjon and Fugio to take care of it... Make sure all the bandits are dealt with."

"Should we--"

"--Yes stellar, Kill them on spot... Aaron made sure to give every single village enough money to last them more than five years, and also held a fund donation in every city... If they wanted money, they could have gone to any city and take gold coins... But instead, they chose to steal and become bandits... So their punishment is death."

Stellar nodded in understanding.

"Mum, what about the village, the bandits would have already stolen enough money from them, they might not have anything more." Emily asked.

"You have a point... Check out the village, send some soldiers, if the village really needed help, we can give them money."

The girls nodded in understanding.

"Queen Mother."

Aurora and the girls turned their heads to Egon, who gave a small bow.

"Mr Egon, why are you here?" Aurora asked in surprised.

"Well... There's something I have to tell you."

"Oh."

Hearing his serious tone... Aurora got serious.

"The goblins are kind of a menace."

"And how is that?" Aurora asked with a frown.

"They are annoying... And always full of mischief."

"Who told you this?"

"The village in their land, humans."

Aurora sighed softly: "Send word to the King, As him to control his people or Terra will act... My Son is building a fair and just Empire, without discrimination, no matter the race the other party is... So give them a warning."

"Yes... The Emperor is lucky having such a mother."

Egon said, bowed, and smiled at the girls.

"I'll get going now."

"Won't you join us?"

"No, Queen mother. I still have some things to take care of."

Aurora nodded, while Egon turned around and walked out from the hall.

BOOOOM!!!!

Ego stopped on track, and subconsciously turned his head to the royal family, who were already on their feet.

"What was that?!" Lilly asked in mild confusion.

"Aaron."

Emily moved quickly ran towards the door, leaving the group behind.

"Aaron?"

With confusion, the rest followed behind her, with Egon.

---

[Outside Terra.]

All the soldiers stood on the wall, pointing their arrows at the ball of white light before them.

"Don't attack!!"

The soldiers looked over their shoulders, seeing Emily, Stellar and the royal family rushing towards them.

"Don't attack."

Commander John said to the archers, who lowered their bows.

The gate opened, and Emily rushed out... Rushing towards the light.

"Slow down, Emily!" Lilly yelled, already slowing down.

Everyone watched as the light slowly dim, and after some seconds, it revealed Aaron.

"It's the emperor!"

"Wow!!"

"Wait, Did the emperor fall from the sky?!"

The soldiers on the wall were dumbfounded.

Aaron stared at Emily, who was in a red dress, running towards him. He opened his arms, and Emily jumped inside his hold.

"I missed you."

Before Aaron could say anything, she closed his lips with hers... Releasing her longing, hunger and frustration at ones.

Everyone stood some meters away with smiles on their faces, watching the two.

After a whole minute, Emily finally separated and slowly catch her breath.

"That was... Welcoming." Aaron smirked.

Chapter 170: Dreams Do Come True

"It has only been two days." Aaron said in a low voice, moving a hair from Emily's face, and tucking it behind her ear.

"Two days? What are you saying, Love? It has been one week now." Emily said, her word stunning Aaron.

"A week? I thought."

Aaron's eyes widened: 'Hmm... So the time zone is different from Elvis... Well, I'm back now.'

He thought, and smiled at her: "Sorry." He said in a whisper.

"It's ok, you're back now."

"Baby brother, I see Emily is the only important one here." Lilly teased, walking towards them.

"Come and give your elder sister a hug." She said, opening her arms.

Aaron smiled, walked towards her and gave her a hug, then whispered:

"Everyone already knows you're my elder sister, why do you always have to add it any time you refer to me?"

"Fufufufu... To remind myself I'm the elder sister of the emperor, the king of Kings." Lilly whispered back.

Aaron separated from the hug, with a frown on his face.

"I'll answer you later..."

With that said, he walked towards his mother.

"Mum."

Aurora got down on one knee, and hugged her son. "I'm so happy you're back."

"All because of you, Mum... That compass helped a lot."

Aurora smiled, separated from the hug, and observed his appearance.

"Come on, let me get you something to eat... Come you two."

She held Aaron's wrist, and walked back to the city.

Lilly, and Emily looked at one another in confusion.

---

[Dining Room.]

Aaron sat on the head chair, moving his gaze on Aurora, Emily, Lilly, Stellar, and Protean; who had joined them the moment he sensed his master.

"A lot have happened."

"Don't worry yourself son, these are easy tasks, even the soldiers will be able to complete it... Just leave it to us." Aurora said.

Aaron thought for a moment, and nodded his head:

"Ok, Mum."

"So brother, Tell us about your journey." Lilly turned her head to Aaron.

Aaron stared at her with a smile, and sighed softly.

"I met Michael's family."

"Uhhh?"

The group were stunned, surprised and speechless.

"Yes, and they were task to take me to my destination... Safely." He added.

"Who gave them the task?" Stellar asked.

"Something called, AI... I don't know what it is... But I think whatever this is; gives them their powers."

"Do you think it's the same with Michael?" Emily asked.

"No, Michael's is different... I also met him... He was angry two of his friends died."

"Died? What killed them?"

"A monster stronger than a Transcendent attacked us."

"What?!"

The group were horrified, such a monster have never been seen, a Transcendent monster is already strong enough to wipe out a whole city, let alone a monster more-stronger than it.

"How did you survive such a monster attack?" Protean asked, stuffing his mouth with food.

"The two sacrificed themselves, and Michael's soldiers created a gateway for us. We past though it, and escaped." Aaron answered.

"May their souls rest in peace." Emily muttered, while the rest nodded their heads.

"So what happened next?" Protean asked, swallowing the food in his mouth.

"Well... Michael arrived, and killed the monster."

"Wait, Killed a monster stronger than a Transcendent?" Aurora asked.

"Yes." Aaron nodded.

"How intense was the battle?" Egon asked with anticipation.

"I won't call that intense, because Michael killed it with one attack."

"Ok, That's enough for now... Everyone should start eating." Aurora said.

"Already full."

"Same."

"Me too."

Emily Stellar and Lilly said simultaneously, pushing their plate some inches from them.

Aaron smiled, and silently ate his food.

---

[Same Day.]

[Ten O'clock Pm.]

Aaron stood on the balcony, staring at the city with a small smile.

"You're here."

He looked over his shoulder, seeing Aurora walking towards him.

"Mum? Why are you still awake."

"Funny, I should be the one asking you that." Aurora said with a smile, and stood beside him.

"Hmm... Mum, what about Miss Mariel?"

"She is good... She's now the lord of the Elves' Kingdom, I gave her the kingdom to look after."

"Oh, what about those two, What are their names again? Oh! Orion and Andrew."

"Orion is dead, while Andrew is in a vegetable state.... Both unfit for the throne." She said in a surprisingly calm tone.

"What about me?"

"Meaning?"

Aurora turned her head to him, a little confused.

"Am I fit to rule?"

"If you're not, then no one is fit to rule... Look around you, look at the world now... All because of you, the races are reunited, even without the grand priests, the peace held... Not because they were forced, but because they knew it's the right thing to do. You made that all possible, so you're more than fit to rule."

"Thanks, Mum."

Aurora smiled, and turned to Aaron:

"You'll make a Great Emperor, and better... We're all here to help you. Tell me, did you gain any new information about the war?"

"Well, it's called the battle of the multi realms, and it's happening years from now, I don't know the specific time though."

Aurora patted his shoulder with a smile.

"It's ok... We'll face this together, and try to get some sleep."

She nodded, and walked inside, leaving him alone on the balcony.

Aaron took a deep breath, and looked up at the night sky...

"In live you won't know where it'll lead you to... All you need to do is never give up, and keep on going... One day, you'll get to your destination, and see your dream come true."

"Come on, Love... Let's get some sleep."

Emily walked towards him, putting a fluffy coat on his shoulders, and added:

"Don't you feel the cold?"

Aaron smiled, and turned around to face her.

"With you around, why would I feel cold?" He smiled, holding her in his embrace.

"Come on, let's get some sleep."

She removed from the embrace, and walked towards the door... Stopped and looked at Aaron:

"Coming?"

Aaron smirked, and followed behind her.
