

REBORN WITH THE ALL SEEING EYE

Chapter 21: Attack

After setting the target, Rob walked back with an amazed expression on his face.

"I'll go first." Vince announced again.

"Find by me." Aaron shrugged indifferently.

Vince glared at him, and tucked an arrow on his bow, he took a deep breath to calm his beating heart.

'I can do this, I can do this, I can do this.' He thought continuously, then exhaled. With a resolute determination he released the arrow.

Whoosh!!

Everyone watched as the Arrow flew with incredible speed and struck the yellow, which was closest to the red.

"Impressive!"

"Yes, Even if he didn't get the Bullseye... He's good."

"The Archer will be proud of his Son."

"Yeah, I agree."

The Onlookers nodded with smiles on their faces, a young genius like this is hard to find.

"Phew." Vince sighed in relief, and turned to Aaron. "I hope you get red, or maybe yellow, or else... I win--"

--You Haven't won yet." Aaron took an Arrow from his quiver and tucked it on his bow.

"Watch." He said, but his gaze was fixed on Vince.

"What are you doing? Why are you staring at me? Let me tell you, if you lose the target and said it's a mistake, that won't work. If you miss; You lose." Vince said with disdain.

"I never Miss."

Whoosh!

He released the Arrow, while still staring at Vince. Everyone including Vince stared at the Arrow as it struck the Red; Bullseye, even penetrating it again.

"....."

"....."

"....."

"....."

"....."

Now everyone including Aurora was stunned, Not only did he got the target of 200 meters, he also penetrated it with his Arrow and striking the tree an extra 300 meters away.

"What?"

"Am I the only one speechless?"

"Who is this kid?"

"Now I know why Emily is interested in him, this kid is beyond anything I have ever seen." Rob muttered.

"You! You cheated!!" Vince yelled in disbelief.

"Yes! There is no way you would have got that target without using something."

"Yes!"

His two friends backed him up.

'Well I do use the All Seeing Eyes, but in my third Lifetime... I was trained in all combat, including Archery, so even without the All Seeing Eyes; that target will be easy.' Aaron thought, without explaining, he removed another Arrow and placed it on his bow, then raised the bow into the air and released.

"What are you doing?! Don't think you can show off--"

BAM!

The three boys leaped back in fright as a 1-Meter huge bird fell in front of them, with an Arrow sticking on its throat, the next moment it exploded into black smoke. Which quickly disperse.

"Did he just killed an Awakened-stage Monster with one Attack?"

"Who really is this kid?"

"That monster... I think I have seen it before.'

"He didn't even look upward before taking the shot."

"This kid is more talented than Vince, that's for sure."

"I agree."

"You lost the bet, now is time to kowtow. And I'll say you should hurry because we don't have time."

"Huh?"

"....."

Not only Vince but everyone was confused.

"We don't have time? What the hell are you saying?!" Vince yelled.

Aaron sighed and turned to the Chief. "Alert all the Villagers, No one is allowed to come out... We are under attack."

"Huh..." The Chief was stunned for only a second, then yelled.

"Sound the Alarm, we are under attack."

"Chief, Don't tell us you believe this kid?" Rob asked with folded hands.

"Yes Chief, he might just be making this up, if we are under attack. We would have seen the enemies by now." Another added, while the rest slowly nodded.

"My brother never joke around with this kind of information, if he says we are under attack, then we're really under attack." Lilly said.

"Emily! Go sound the alarm!"

"Yes father." Emily quickly ran out of the training field, which was separated from the Village... And the Soldiers could see the gate when training, so seeing no enemies... They were all enraged that a kid was trying to deceive them.

DUNG! DUNG! DUNG! DUNG! DUNG!!

Hearing the Alarm, and not seeing any Enemies, Vince asked with a sneer.

"Where are the Enemies, why haven't we see them?" He might have lost the bet, but that didn't mean he won't mock Aaron.

After two minutes, Emily rushed back with more men, all armed. "The women and children have been taken to the hideout, they're all safe."

The men behind her looked around in confusion, not seeing any enemy.

"Chief, I thought you said there is an attack? Where are the attackers?" A man asked.

"Right on time." Aaron said, storing his bow in his Storage and brought out his Dagger. Seeing his action, Both Lilly and Aurora got on guard.

"What is happening here? Was it fake news? And why are you so tense, Chief Egon?"

"Stop lying and apologize to everyone, there are no enemies attacking us, do you see anything? Look around us, DO YOU?!" Vince was enraged.

"Who is this kid?"

"This is the kid who killed Vince's familiar."

"Yes! I remember him, Emily brought him to the Village; did he deceive us, letting us think we're under attack?"

"It looks like it."

Aaron sighed and muttered:

"Not all enemies reveal themselves before attacking, the deadliest ones attack from the sky!"

Screech!!!

The moment he finished everyone heard a terrifying Shriek, they all looked up in Horror.

"Is that?! That's an Eagle made of... skeleton? It's a Cursed-Demon stage Monster!" Someone yelled.

The next moment, countless 1-meter huge red Birds just like the one Aaron killed shot down from the clouds with incredible speed passing the huge skeletal Eagle.

"This Eagle! I remembered it... This eagle was the Monster who destroyed our first Village! We won't let it destroy this one!" The Chief yelled in anger.

Even though they were all stunned and outnumbered, this wasn't the time to be asking questions, they all brought out their weapons and got ready to fight.

Whoosh!!

Whoosh!!

Whoosh!!!

The birds increased their speed, gotten close to the Demons, they used their Talons and beaks to strike.

"Be careful you Bumpkin's! If you kill one, Move back from it unless you'll be sprayed by their deadly poison." Rob yelled, then leaped back from the one he killed, which exploded into black smoke.

"Poison?" Aaron's ears picked up. 'Poison to increase my Resistance.'

"Don't even think about it." Protean landed on his shoulder.

"Why don't you want my help? I'm missing out on the fun."

"I don't trust everyone here, so it's wise not to reveal your powers." Aaron cut the bird in front of him, which burst into black Smoke.

"Aaron! Stay away from the poison!!" The Chief yelled.

"What is he doing?"

"Isn't he scared?"

"Scared? Look at him, he's petrified."

Vince and his friends who hid behind a house said with disdain, all staring at Aaron.

"You three are pathetic, And you dare compete with me brother, even Emily is out there fighting." Lilly said to the three, after roasting a bird to ash with a fire spell. Snow have also joined the flay.

Vince and his two friends turned to Emily, seeing her battling five birds with Precious; her Familiar, which she had summoned.

"I'm not pathetic!!" Vince walked out. "I won't let you two look down on me." He was referring to Lilly and Aaron.

"I won't if you can kill 30 of these birds." Lilly smiled at him, then walked towards the battle to help.

"30? I'll take down 50!!" Vince took an Arrow, placed it on his bow and released a shot, killing one bird.

"Should we help?" One of the friends asked.

"Bill, Zach! Keep watch!" Vince charged forward after saying that, Lilly's word have fueled his fighting spirit.

"Let's keep watch." Bill, who has blue hair and eyes said.

"Yes, we haven't even unlocked our Demonic Energy, we'll be looking for death if we go there." Zack said, he has black hair and green eyes.

"Huh?"

The Chief and everyone stared in shock, as Aaron inhaled all the black smoke.

{Poison taken...}

{Poison resistance increased: +2.}

'It's better than nothing.' Aaron thought and lunged towards the closest birds from his location.

"Is the prince immune to poison?" Chief Egon asked Aurora who stood behind him.

"I'm also speechless." Aurora cut down two birds flying towards her with a single swing of her sword, then leaped back from them.

Aaron was in cloud nine, an opportunity to increase his poison resistance and be completely immune to all poison is really tempting.

'Thanking of it only made me want to kill these Bastards more.'

Whoosh!

{Poison resistance increased: +3.}

Whoosh!!!

{Poison resistance increased: +2.}

{Poison resistance increased: +0.}

Whoosh!!

{Poison resistance increased: +3.}

"This is too slow, some aren't even giving me anything. I'm betting that guy up there will make a good snack for both of us." Aaron said with a grin, staring at the skeletal eagle 100 meters above them.

"I hope you know that guy is a Cursed Demon?"

"That have never stopped us." Aaron smirked.

"How will you get his attention?" Protean asked.

"Easy."

Aaron kept his dagger, and brought out his bow. After tucking an Arrow on it, he aimed it at the eagle... Without hesitation, he released it.

Whoosh!

The huge Eagle slowly turned its head to the Arrow, and with only a glance; It turned into Ash.

'So that's why the All Seeing Eyes showed me 10% success rate.' He thought in mild surprised.

Chapter 22: Another Alliance

BAM!

Emily cut down the last Bird, she exhaled and looked up at the red bone skeleton.

- Who is Aaron? -

"Huh?"

"Did that eagle just speak?!"

"It's understandable, that monster is a Cursed Demon... So learning our speech isn't difficult." Chief Egon said.

"What do you want with my boy?!" Aurora asked loudly, staring at the Eagle with dark lines on her face.

The huge bird moved its gaze around the place. - OK then, due to no reply. I'll just have to level this village.-

"Hey you bastard!!"

Everyone turned their gaze to the side seeing Aaron. "I'm Aaron! Do you have anything for me?!" He asked.

- The Master said you are a powerful adversary, so instead for a battle between our territories... Let formed an Alliance.-

"You fucking attack us, and you are asking for an alliance! What make you think I'll accept?!!"

"Calm down, Aaron." The chief quickly walked up to Aaron.

Aaron turned to him with a slight frown.

"That bird said "Master" that means... There is someone who is a legendary realm behind it, Maybe even a great demon." Egon whispered.

Aaron nodded and turned to the Eagle. "Ask your master to come and apologize for this attack, then we'll talk about the alliance."

"Huh?"

"..."

Everyone's eyes widened in shock upon hearing Aaron's bold words. Only this eagle could kill 90% of them present, let alone its master.

"What are you doing, Aaron?" The Chief asked again.

"That fool who is this Birdbrain's master used this as a test, I want to show him I can't be look down on; to even be tested."

"Isn't that dangerous." The chief was really on edge, If it's the eagle, he might have a chance of winning, But now... There is even an entity more powerful than this eagle.

- Apologize? -

Even the eagle was taken aback with his answer.

"Let me guess, your territory is located at the center of the forest, and Mine is just beside yours. And if the Griffins and you make an Alliance, you'll be able to enter my territory without restrain."

"Territory?"

"Griffins?"

"What is going on here?"

"I'm confused, just listening to them."

"To have a territory, you need to be a ruler. Is this young man a ruler?"

"I don't know."

Aaron smirked at it and asked. "Are you ready to show yourself?"

"What a kid?!" Dark flames covered the Eagle, the next Moment a middle-age man with red eyes and in a red Taoist robe appeared, levitating above them.

"How do you know?" He asked, fixing his gaze on Aaron.

"You killed my People, and destroyed my village!!" Chief Egon yelled, no longer scared.

"I wasn't the one, The eagle who killed your people have been killed by me. That's my skill, I can take the form of anything I kill." He slowly descends towards them.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Name: Alter.}

{Realm: Sky.}

{Class: (None).}

{Race: Unknown.}

{Strength: 6,000.}

{Agility: 8,500.}

{Defense: 5,000.}

{Endurance: 7,500.}

{Affinity Mastered: Fire, Wind, Death.}

{Attack: 1,500. Critical - 3,000.}

{Health point: 8,000.}

"This guy is both powerful and Mysterious." Aaron muttered.

"I apologize for the attack, it's just how I am..." Alter landed on the ground. "I heard you formed an Alliance with Talon, so I tracked you down, Imagine the shock I got when I know you are in the third Continent." He looked at the still stunned Soldiers.

"Don't be scared everyone, If I wanted you dead... My Birds would have attacked you."

"Attack? I see you don't like them."

"I didn't, those bastards are irritating." He fixed his gaze on Aaron. "What do you say Emperor Aaron?" He smiled.

"Hahaha... Talon isn't the silent type, the whole forest has heard of you by now." The man was clearly happy.

"If I form an Alliance with you, what will I gain?" Aaron asked with a smirk.

"Talon also said you never form an Alliance without getting something In return, so... I'll give you the "Wings of Death." It's a high-class spell which could make you fly." Alter said with a smile.

'This Talon.' Aaron sighed. 'But... This spell will be useful to me, let's see; I can fly in the air while being Invisible. That's a good advantage.' After some thought he nodded.

"My rule, You and your people won't enter my territories without my permission, or else..."

"Don't worry about that, Emperor Aaron." He looked around in confusion.

"Where is King Protean?" He asked.

"Not here." Aaron said, even though Protean was standing right on his shoulder.

"OK--" Alter froze seeing as Aaron started drawing the Alliance's magic circle.

"How...?" He was speechless.

'Another advantage I discovered with the All Seeing Eyes, as long I observe what anyone is doing, I'll instantly know how it's done and created; and even perfected it.' He thought, finishing the last drawing.

"Done, But... if you enter any of my territory without permission, you and your people will be strike down. These are the terms and Conditions." Aaron explained.

'Terms and Conditions? The only way I'm agreeing to this is to have an ally. We monsters are hunted by not one but countless enemies, especially the races.' Alter thought, and placed his palm on the circle, he only felt a slight sensation, and it's done.

"It's done." Aaron said after placing his palm and shattering the circle.

"I hope to see you in the meeting, It'll be fun!!" Dark flames surrounded his figure, and he turned into a huge black phoenix.

- We'll see again, Emperor Aaron; and this is the spell.-

With that said, he shot into the air, flying away, while Aaron caught the piece of paper; without looking at it, stored it in his space.

"That end... unexpectedly." Protean said in mild surprised, and added: "Time to answer questions, I'm leaving it to you."

"Don't you dare fly away, Protean!"

Protean who was about to run away from the charging questions, but froze upon hearing Aurora's angry voice.

"Mom is angry with us, it's your fault!" He hissed at Aaron.

Aurora stopped in front of the two. "You two have a lot of explaining to do." She said, holding her hips with both her hand, with a stern look on her face.

"It's all Aaron's fault!" Protean quickly said, pointing his feather at Aaron's face.

Chapter 23: Journey To The Underworld.

[Chief Egon's house.]

Aurora, Chief Egon, Emily and Lilly sat in the sitting room, all speechless after hearing Aaron's story.

"Yes, 15% of the forest is now under us, all thanks to me." Protean said, raising his small chest.

"This is very good!!" The chief yelled after coming out of his shock. "With these two armies, we'll have a chance against that Tyrant of a king!" He added.

"True, But... Those armies aren't enough, I need at least a Million soldiers under me."

Aurora: "....."

Lilly: "Pardon?"

Emily: "..."

Chief Egon: "That's the mindset of a great king! I'm very proud of you, but... How are you going to accomplish that?"

"It's very simple." Aaron stood up, with Protean on his shoulder. "I'll go to the Meeting, kill some monsters and take more territories." He said.

"What realm are you now on, baby brother?" Lilly asked.

"Heavenly Saint, I don't know why I can't enter the sky realm." He looked around, and waved his hand. The next moment a huge bag filled with Cores appeared in front of the group, stunning them in place.

"Are these?" Emily was stunned.

"Those are the cores of Awakened stage monsters, some are Omega and Enraged-Beast." He revealed.

"Wow my Prince, with these cores, our fighters will grow stronger." The Chief said.

"Not so fast, Chief. Only those I pick personally can be given a core, There are a total of 50 in that bag."

"That's OK, My Prince." Egon nodded, "Oh my Prince, there is something for you." He turned to Aurora.

Who got the clue and brought out the Rubies, she carefully handed it to Aaron.

"What am I going to do with this?" Aaron asked in mild confusion, staring at the two half rubies.

"I believe this is the reason you can't increase in your realm."

"What are these, exactly?" Aaron asked.

"This Ruby holds the power and knowledge of 100 royal blood ancestors, only an Elite blood can merge and absorb it. Which is you."

'An Hundred?! All that powers will make me a god, and no one will dare mess with me again.' He looked up at the Chief.

"How can I fix it?" He asked.

"Go inside your room, activate your powers and the way will show itself. That's all I know."

Aaron hesitated for some seconds then nodded. 'To survive in this world, I need to get stronger.' He thought with a resolute determination.

"I'll exit the room after fusing with the Ruby." He walked towards his room.

"Protean, He'll have to do this alone, can you leave him for a while?" Aurora asked.

Protean nodded, after some thinking he flew into the air and landed beside Snow who was on the dining table.

Aaron entered his room, he looked around the small bedroom and sighed... 'It's better than nothing, this is nothing compare to my 30 years of hardship.'

He climbed on the bed, then sat in a meditating posture. "Now what to do?" He thought observing the two rubies.

"Maybe... If I Infuse my energy in it." He thought for a moment, then Infused his Demonic Energy in the rubies.

The two rubies flew out from his palm, and started spinning above his head.

"Now I am given a show." Aaron rolled his eyes. That exact moment, a powerful force pulled his consciousness into an Abyss; while the two Rubies merged into one and vanished from view.

[Outside the room.]

"Do you think he can do it?" Emily asked worriedly.

"My brother can achieve anything." Lilly smiled, of course, She was also worried; but she knew her brother is a lot stronger than some powers and knowledge.

Emily sighed deeply, and said. "My Dad kept something from you two."

Lilly turned to her in mild confusion.

"If he fails, his body will be burnt to ash."

"What?!" Lilly exclaimed in shock and horror.

Aaron fell heavily on the black ground, he stood up and looked around; his guard up... He slowly moved his gaze around, seeing tombstones and skeletons all over the place, the eerie night sky look even more foreboding than his surroundings.

"Welcome."

Aaron turned around, seeing a young man with long golden hair and blue eyes.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Name: Lucian Mingus.}

{Realm: N/A.}

{Status: Dead. (Spirit form).}

{Relationship: Father.}

{Other Information: N/A.}

'Lucian?' Aaron was stunned.

"Hello, Son." Lucian smiled at him.

"Wait a second... Where am I?"

"You are in the underworld."

"Oh wow, I absorb a Ruby and got myself killed. How ironic... I think I'll just wait here till I am reincarnated again." He sat on a Tombstone.

"Don't you dare sit on me!"

Aaron jolted to his feet, hearing the grumpy voice of an old woman.

The owner of the voice appeared in front of the two, she then wore an expression of surprise seeing Aaron. Without saying anything, she turned to Lucian, who nodded at her with a small smile.

The old woman smiled brightly and yelled. "Wake up everyone, Our Savior is here!!"

Aaron stared with a frown as more ghostly figures appeared around him.

"I think I have gone crazy, I started seeing things. No... I think I'm dead, Yes; that's the only explanation on this situation." He sat on the ground.

The spirits of all the Demons' ancestors looked at each other in confusion.

"What are you saying, Son. You are the chosen one, who'll have our powers and free us from here."

"Chosen one? Free you guys from here? I don't understand." Aaron looked up at him.

Lucian sighed.

"We all have committed countless sins when we were alive, and some of these sins are too powerful that we can't leave this place. Let alone reincarnate." He sat down beside Aaron, and flash him a smile. "You are all grown up, and I'm sorry for not being there with you and Aurora."

"We are doing just fine... But I have a question, Why didn't you take all their sins and powers when you were alive? Why me?"

"I would have taken it, But I can't... The Ruby was split by me, and given to my right-hand man, because I know... My Son will be the rightful owner of mine and my ancestors' powers and knowledge."

"Yes, Aaron." The old woman flew towards him.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Name: Jenny Mingus.}

{Realm: N/A.}

{Status: Dead. (Spirit form).}

{Relationship: Grandmother.}

{Other Information: N/A.}

"We have waited for you for centuries now, and these bones of mine are tired to be wandering around, we all need some rest."

"So... If I take these things, won't I have all your sins?" He asked.

"You and our Sins are already one, All you need to do is accept them and don't be corrupted by them."

Aaron turned to the old man who had just spoken.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Name: Mingus Lord.}

{Realm: N/A.}

{Status: Dead. (Spirit form).}

{Relationship: Grandfather.}

{Other Information: N/A.}

Aaron nodded at him and asked. "Who killed you?"

"You already know the answer to that question." Mingus answered.

"OK, I'm guessing the total number here is 100."

They all nodded.

"I have another question." Aaron stood up.

"What is it?" Lucian asked.

"Why am I called The Cursed Child?"

Chapter 24: One Year Later!

"Cursed Child? Who'll dare call my grandson a Cursed Child?!" Jenny was enraged.

"Don't worry, Aaron, The truth will reveal itself when the time is right, All you need to know is, don't let that stop you; your future and life is in your hands." Lucian said.

"Yes, Son. Your father is right." Mingus added.

"Ok." Aaron nodded at them. "If I absorb all your powers and Knowledge. How strong will I get?" He moved his gaze around.

"Both your grandparents are once Supreme Realms, and I'm once a sky realm. Not to mention all of us... I'm guessing you know how strong you'll get after this." Lucian answered him with a smile on his face.

"Ok then, What are we Waiting for? What'll I have to do?"

"Just seat down, Son."

Aaron sat on the ground upon hearing Jenny's word.

All the Demons flew towards him, forming a huge circle with him in the middle.

"This is gonna be a little painful, Son. But you must prevail." Lucian announced, and added: "or else, You'll be lost forever, and we'll remain trap in here."

"I understand."

Aaron closed hie eyes, while Lucian and all the Demons pointed their fingers at him. Dark energy shot out from each of their fingers colliding with Aaron.

"Hmm..."

Aaron gritted his teeth, Not saying a single word... 'He called this "little painful"?'

Aaron sat in the center of the graveyard, absorbing the powers and Knowledge of his ancestors, Unaware of the different in time zone. While he thought he had stayed for only five minutes, in the real world it has been Five Months already. And everyone was worried sick, especially his Mom; Aurora.

"I know I shouldn't have let him absorb it."

She said sitting on the bed with Aaron, who has been in the same sitting position for five months now, and the shocking thing about this was... He's also growing, getting taller with each passing month.

"Don't start crying again, Mom. My baby brother's Sid energy is still active, which mean he's very much alive." Lilly who stood beside her said.

"But it's been five Months." She turned to Lilly, tears threatening to fall.

"Stop it Mom!" Protean walked inside, he was in the Griffin King's appearance.

"Stop crying, Nothing will happen to Master, He'll wake up and set things right in the Forest, and this half destroyed village." He shrunk in size and landed on Aaron's bed.

"You are right, Nothing will happen to him, but do know how I feel each day thinking I'll wake up and see his ash on his bed?" She turned to Protean, who remained silent, not knowing how to answer.

"For the last four months, you haven't left his room." Lilly said, and turned to Protean. "How is the territories?"

"Master didn't show up in the meeting, which happened five months ago. So those Monsters took it as an insult, Although none of them invited him, but they all expected him to be there... Not seeing him this long they grew tougher, and started attacking our territories. We can repel them because of Talon and Alter." Protean said in a dark tone.

"We are under attack!!" Chief Egon rushed inside.

"Again?! I'll deal with them." Protean took the form of the Alpha Undead and walked out.

"My Queen, w-we can use your help." Egon said after some hesitation.

"No, I'm staying with my, Son."

He sighed helplessly and nodded at Her, then walked out of the room.

'I wished Emily haven't gone to the academy, I hope she is ok.' He thought.

"Mum?--"

"--You can go and help, Lilly."

Lilly heaved a helpless sigh, and walked out of the room, leaving Aurora with Aaron.

"I'll wait for you, Son." She said in a low voice.

***

[Seven Months later.]

"Come on, Mom! We need to leave! The goblins are too many!!" Lilly rushed inside the room, her body was covered with Monsters' blood.

"This time around, they came with a Cursed Demon. And the Chief is injured, The Archer is also Injured, half of the villagers are Dead..."

Aurora sat lifelessly on the bed, staring at Aaron, she wasn't bothered about anything else, only her Son. For a year now; he hasn't woken up, which broke her...

...This fearsome Warrior was broken because she thought her Son was dead! Lilly grabbed both her Shoulders with both hands. "We need to go, There is news that Zukor, That Bastard king is behind all this... We don't know how he got news of Aaron... Mom! He sent them to kill Aaron, we need to take him somewhere safe."

A glint flashed in Aurora's eyes for a second, she turned to Lilly. "Where can we run to? Your brother isn't waking up anytime soon." She opened her mouth, and said in a low voice.

"But..."

Graaaa!!!!

"They are getting closer! They are already in the village!!" Lilly turned towards the door, gripping her sword tightly.

- Check this room! We must kill that Kid called Aaron.-

A deep voice sounded outside the room, followed by rough footsteps.

BAM!

The door was kicked open, and five Hobgoblins walked in, all armed with hatchets.

- Here He is! - The first one yelled, seeing Aaron sitting on the bed with his eyes closed.

- Kill!!! - Two lunged towards Aaron.

Whoosh!!!

Their heads fell to the ground, followed by their bodies.

"I dare you to touch my, Son." Aurora's eyes were pure black.

"M-Mon?" Lilly was stunned, seeing Aurora's eyes. 'Oh No! She lost control again.'

- Hehehe! You can't stop us! -

- Kill!!! -

Whoosh!!!

In matter of seconds, the remaining three fell on the ground, heads rolling to the side.

Lilly took a step back and stood in front of her brother. 'I wonder how Snow, Protean and Diamond are doing outside.'

- So powerful, I thought there is no good opponent in this small village.-

Aurora and Lilly stared at the Dark elf with red eyes and white hair, who calmly walked inside the room.

"This... This is the Cursed Demon, The leader of the Army!" Lilly took a step back.

- I'm Impressed girl.- The dark elf nodded at her. - I might keep you after this, but first... I need to kill that young man.-

"You aren't getting to him." Aurora gripped her sword tightly.

- I like your Spirit Child, But you are powerless against me. Move out of the way, and I'll spare you.-

"Stop talking and attack, You Bastard!!" Aurora said.

- Hmm... You might have licked the blood of a Demon, There is no other way you can have this amount of powers. But even with your boost in strength, You aren't a match for me.-

While In the other side, 97 ghosts have vanished, remaining three.

"Should we continue?" Mingus asked worriedly.

"He can do it, he had absorbed 97 powers and knowledge, he can also absorb ours." Jenny said with a proud smile.

Seeing the two nod, she infused her powers in Aaron. "I'm giving you the ability to heal, regenerate, And you'll be the next Blood absorber." Her eyes glowed red, all her powers and knowledge flew towards Aaron, entering his body.

Aaron only frowned for a second, then smirked.

"He likes it." Mingus smiled and pointed his finger at Aaron. "I'll give you the wisdom of a king, the power to always make the right decision and know the heart of your enemies... I'm also giving you my Hydra and powers, You have made me proud."

Aaron's smirk widened:

Lucian smiled and pointed his finger at Aaron. "My son, As your father... I'm giving you the ability of space, and death. I'm giving you all the powers to manipulate space... You'll gain all my combats skills and knowledge in life. I'm also giving you my enchanted Ring, Use it well."

After some Seconds, the three turned Into smokes and flew towards Aaron, entering him.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOM!!!!!!

A huge explosion sounded, shattering all the surrounding tombstones, A hurricane formed with the surrounding energies, it grew in size almost reaching the night sky.

BANG!

Aurora smashed on the other side of the room, throwing up a mouthful of blood.

- How many times do you want me to say this? You can't win me.-

"I'm not fighting for myself, but for my Son." Aurora stood up with difficulty.

- fine then, I'll just have to kill you.-

The Dark elf shook his head and shot towards her in full speed, which caught Aurora off guard.

- I'll see how you'll protect your Son if you are dead! -

"MUM!!!!" Lilly, who was on the ground yelled in Horror.

BAM!!!!

The Dark elf froze, he looked at the side, seeing a young man looking around 12 years old, holding his hand. The shocking thing was, he couldn't feel this kid's Strength... And...

- Let Me Go!! - He yelled.

"Aaron?" Aurora was stunned.

"Baby brother!" Lilly sighed in relief, and fainted the next moment. The blow she received from the Dark Elf wasn't a joke.

"You... Dare.... Attack... My... Family..." His eyes turned completely red.

"I hope you are ready for the consequences!" His tone made the elf felt a chill down his spine.

Chapter 25: God Among Men

BAM!!

The dark elf collided on the door, breaking it on impact. And smashed into the sitting room.

All the hobgoblins moving around, turned to their leader, all staring at him in surprise.

- Boss Got Hitten! Who hit the Boss?! -

- Kill the Enemy!! -

[In the room.]

"Aaron?" Aurora muttered in a low voice

Aaron turned to her with a smile. "I succeeded Mum, From now onward. No one will mess or look down on us."

Aurora nodded and gave him a hug. "You don't know how scared I was."

Aaron smiled, and hugged her back. 'In all my life times, I meet the most caring mother in my fifth, I'll make sure to cherish you still the end. But first...'

He separated from the hug and walked towards Lilly, he squat down in front of her and touch her head.

"Her Sid energy is slipping away, Whatever that Bastard did, Destroyed her Meridian."

Just as monsters has Cores which is the center of their powers, the races have Meridian which is also the center of their powers, once your Meridian is destroyed, you'll be as powerless as a baby; No matter the Realm you were once on.

"Thank goodness I know how to repair Meridians." He infused his Demonic energy in her body.

Lilly's painful and paled expression finally regained its color and shine.

"She'll be ok, Mum, Leave everything to me." He stood up, and walked towards the door.

"Did he just repaired her Meridian? That can only be done by a Supreme Realm." Aurora was stunned in place.

"I have a code." Aaron walked out of the room, he stared at the 20 Hobgoblins in the sitting room.

"If you attack me, I might forgive you, But... If you attack my family... Even the gods will beg for mercy."

- What is this boy saying? -

- Let's Kill him! -

- Yes! He's the one who attacked the Boss.-

- Do anyone feel his Sid energy?-

- This Kid don't even have Sid energy.-

"Kneel." With one command from Aaron, an unholy pressure descend on the sitting room; All the Hobgoblins dropped on their knees.

- What is this?! -

- This Kid!! -

Aaron opened his palm towards them, and clenched his fist. The next moment blood flew out from each of the Hobgoblin entering his hand.

- Haaaaaaa!!!! -

In matter of seconds, all the Hobgoblins turned skinny. And collapsed on the ground.

"Pathetic." Aaron walked past them towards the Dark Elf who started talking a step back.

- You! -

Aaron didn't stop, but calmly followed the elf out of the house, he finally stopped on track seeing the village. Anywhere he looked, he saw bodies of both the monsters and Villagers, the more he looked at the burning village, the more his anger build up.

BOOOM!!

Thunder strike above them, as dark storm covered the entire sky.

- This? Power to control Weather?! What realm is this kid? -

Aaron activated the Spell Alter gave him, the next moment, huge Dark wings appeared on his back, as he slowly ascends into the air.

- Huh? -

All the Hobgoblins looked up at the Kid, who was below the dark cloud, dark energy emanating from his body, spreading all over the village.

- Who is that?! -

- What the hell?! -

- Run!! -

"Die!"

With his Command, red Lightning fell from the sky striking the village below. Killing countless Hobgoblins.

- Run!! -

- He's a God!! Not an Elf!! -

- Shit! The King will have my head.- the Dark Elf hissed, seeing as more of his army dropped dead under the Lightning strikes, he yelled.

- Retreat!! -

"Did I ask you to leave?!"

The next moment, red Lightning tore the sky open, countless red swords appeared, slowly revealing themselves.

- What are those?! -

All the Hobgoblins looked up at the sky, their eyes turned to horror seeing all the red swords above them.

"Drop, leave no one alive."

Whoosh!!

With the command, more than a hundred Swords shot downward, plunging into countless Hobgoblins, killing them on spot.

- No!! -

The Dark elf yelled in Horror as more of his army fell down dead, The swords were heartless as they located their target and strike in the most-deadliest was possible.

- This kid is a Monster, I must take him down.-

The Dark elf infused all his Demonic energy in his fist.

- Stop this if you dare!! -

With a punch, he sent a powerful fist made of demonic energy towards Aaron.

Aaron turned his gaze to the Fist, and simply stretched out his hand towards it.

- What is he doing? What?!! -

He watched as his fist shattered into countless particles and entered Aaron.

"Thanks for the energy." Aaron said with a grin.

- Impossible! Only the late Demon King's brother can do this... Wait! Has he used the Ruby?!! Shit! I need to get out from here -

He turned around and ran away, not even bothered by his army who were drastically reducing in number.

BAM!!

"Where are you going?!"

Diamond in her huge form landed in front of he, follow by Protean, he's in the skeleton form with his broadsword covered in black blood.

- You Fools!! Get out of my way!! -

"When my master was asleep, I couldn't use my full Powers, but now..."

Protean's red eyes glowed brightly.

"My master now has infinite powers, and I can draw that power!!"

BOOM!!

He shot towards the dark elf.

"I'll make you pay for the destruction you caused!!"

- You can't stop Me!! -

The Dark Elf Summoned his sword, and collided with Protean. He flew backward, and landed on his feet.

- What the? - he looked at Protean in shock.

- Drawing his Master's powers, made him stronger than even a Cursed Demon! How powerful is that kid? - he turned his head to Aaron, who stood high in the sky, watching them.

"Die!!"

He turned around only to see Protean in front of him.

BAM!!

He flew backward smashing heavily on the ground, and threw up a mouthful of black blood.

"Come here." Aaron's voice sounded in the whole Village.

A force picked up the dark Elf towards him.

- You!! - He hissed, staring at Aaron's red Eyes.

"You think you are powerful? I'll send your head to your king, and tell him after I'm done with all those fools in the forest, He'll be next."

- You, Ahhhh!!! -

The elf yelled in pain as his skin started peeling revealing the flesh underneath.

"For hurting my Mum and sis, I'll make sure you have nobody left." Aaron said as more skin peeled from the dark Elf's skin.

- What Realm are you In? - he asked with difficulty.

"Tell you the truth, I don't know."

- Ahhhhh!!!! -

The Dark Elf fainted, only to be woken up by the pain.

"Goodbye."

A huge sword formed above his head, and with a drop, it fell on the dark elf, shattering all his body but remaining his head.

Aaron waved his hand, a huge black bird frowned out of thin air. And with one command, It took the head in its claws and flew towards the direction of the Demon Kingdom.

He then looked down at the Burning Village, and with a wave of his hand again, all the Flames were extinguished. In front of Protean and Diamond, all the Destroyed Buildings slowly took shape, rebuilding itself. And in matter of five Minutes... The village look even more beautiful and huge than ever.

"Master!" Protean got down on one knee, looking up at Aaron.

"Snow is injured, can you help her?" He asked.

Aaron closed his eyes, spreading his energy all over the place, Locating Snow. He vanished from spot.

"What the?" Protean was stunned.

"This? This is beyond the power of a Supreme." Diamond muttered in shock.

"True, when I tap his powers in him, I almost exploded myself... The energy in my master is beyond that of this world." Protean said, he looked at the side, seeing the core of the Dark Elf.

"What a find." He walked towards it and picked it up, and without hesitation swallowed it. He then took the appearance of the Elf.

"Nice! This body will be able to use more powers from my master." He said, while Diamond nodded at him.

Aaron appeared in front of Snow, who was lying on the ground with a huge cut on her neck.

"You might have got injured when your master was attacked, without that... There is no way you would still be alive with this injury." He placed his hand on the wound.

In matter of a second, he removed his hand. Snow opened her eyes, seeing him; she bow showing her gratitude.

"It's ok, Go now... My sister need you beside her."

Snow nodded and flew into the air.

Aaron then closed his eyes and said. "Villagers, Return to the village. I have a reward for all of you... I'm your new king, Aaron." He opened his eyes again.

"My grandparent's Powers are Op!" He flew into the air towards the Village.

[10 Miles from the Village.]

The surviving Villagers all ran to the Mountains, hiding from the Hobgoblins who had razed the village to the ground.

"Cough! Did you all heard that?" Chief Egon who has a huge slash wound on his chest said with difficulty.

"Calm down, Chief. How are we sure it's not a trap, and who is Aaron?" A man, holding a bow asked.

"He's the Kid I told you about Dad." Vince announced.

"Is He the one?" The Archer looked at Egon.

"Yes, there is something I haven't told you all. Cough!"

"What is it?" They all gathered around him.

"Aaron is the son of our late Prince, Lucian."

"WHAT??!!" They all exclaimed in shock.

Chapter 26: Two Questions

"How could that be? I thought the prince don't have a child? He's not even married!" The Archer was uttering perplexed.

"John, The woman you took me away from is the Prince's wife, we need to go back."

John thought for a while, he looked at his son, then the remaining villagers, hesitating; then sighed. "OK Chief, we can't let Prince Lucian's Son die in that Village, come on everyone!!"

The villagers helped the Chief up, and they slowly walked back to the village.

"I'm confused about something, how can such a small kid link with all of us?"

"He might be a kid, but he has the brain of an adult." The chief smiled at him.

After half and hour, the villagers finally got to the Village, they were all dumbfounded seeing the familiar but yet unfamiliar village in front of them, The once Wooden fence has been replaced by 5 meters high walls, and even a metal gate was placed.

"Is this the Village? I think we're lost."

"Yes, when we escape, The Village was burning to the ground; then how did this...?"

"I don't know."

"Is this the work of the prince?" John asked, turning to Chief Egon.

"We can only find out once we enter." Chief Egon answered with a small smile.

The huge double metal gate slowly opened, coming to view was Aaron, Aurora and Lilly, who stood in front of them.

The Villagers numbering 35 slowly walked inside, The ground was spotless, not a single sign of battle, bloodstains or even ash, if they haven't known better; they would have thought nothing happened here.

"Stop." Aaron waves his hand, the next moment; a 1-meter-high fire wall surrounded all the villagers.

"Cough! What are you doing, My Prince?" Chief Egon asked in mild surprised.

"In time of battle, You guys ran away from the Village, leaving my Mum and sis defenseless. What do you think will be your punishment?"

"Punishment?"

"What is the little prince saying?"

Chief Egon sighed. "I'm sorry for that my Prince, but we tried... The Queen refused to leave, same with the princess... Seeing I was injured, they moved me away from here; leaving them behind... We're deeply sorry for that." He tried to kneel down, but the injury on his chest said otherwise.

"Yes, Aaron. We were the ones who choose to stay." Aurora said, seeing the chief's condition.

The chief was always good to them and took care of them for the past one year, so she felt guilty seeing the injury on him.

Aaron nodded slowly, and waved his hand, opening one exit from the wall of fire.

"Come out one at a time, I'll ask a question, and you'll give me an honest reply, if you said the truth, you'll have a place in this village, but if you lie... I'll end you right here."

The villagers looked at each other and nodded in agreement.

"Good, let's start with the chief."

Chief Egon slowly walked out from the fire and stopped in front of Aaron.

"I have two questions." Aaron raised two fingers at him. "First: Are you a traitor? Second: Will you ever betray me?" He asked.

"I'm not and will never be a traitor, you are my Prince, the last hope of our race. I'll die if I do."

Aaron nodded and placed his hand on the Chief's Chest, in a second, the huge wound, vanished. Even his Vitality and Demonic Energy was restored.

Chief Egon looked at himself in shock, he quickly bowed to Aaron. "Thank you My Prince!"

"Stand by my right."

Chief Egon nodded and stood in front of Aurora and Lilly.

Seeing this, all the villagers especially the injured ones quickly walked forward, only to be burnt by the fire. They leaped backward in pain.

"I told you, one at a time." Aaron said, his face remained indifferent.

The villagers nodded again, and made way for John, who walked forward.

"I'm John, Father of Vince. First; I want to apologize for everything my Son made you past through."

'You mean what I made him pass through.' Aaron thought and nodded at him, then asked his two questions.

"As your father's number one Archer, I'll never betray you, and will never be a traitor."

Aaron nodded. "Stand by my right."

John nodded and walked towards the Chief standing beside him.

"What Is the prince doing?" John whispered in confusion.

"He wants to see if they are traitors around us." Chief Egon said with a smile.

Vince walked forward, and stopped in front of Aaron, he was both nervous and scared. This kid in front of him turns out to be a royal blood... Now he knew why Emily likes him.

"You know the questions, all you need to do is answer." Aaron said.

Vince nodded: "I want to first apologize to you, I'm not a traitor and will never betray you. From today onwards, My Bow will be at your command." He bowed at Aaron.

Aaron nodded in satisfaction and pat his shoulder. "Good, stand at my right."

Vince nodded and stepped aside.

Aaron asked all the villagers, asking them to stay either in his right or left.

"Stand at my left."

That was the last villager he asked, Aaron sighed and turned around to the 25 villagers on his right, and 10 on his left.

"Why would you guys want to betray me? Some of you are even traitors." He massaged his temple with a tired expression.

"What are you saying, Kid?!"

"Yes! You are just spewing nonsense."

"Yes! Do you think being the Son of the late prince, give you the right to insult us?"

"Yes!"

Aaron sighed, and said to them. "Each of you should leave this village, I'll only count to 10."

Hearing Aaron, the 10 villagers turned to the Chief and John.

"Are you going to let this kid act all high and mighty?!"

"We are the owners of this village, why should we leave?"

"1..."

Chief Egon sighed deeply. "The prince said you all are traitors, and will betray him in the future... I'll just have to believe him."

"3..."

"Yes, You guys should be asking for forgiveness, instead you are all yelling at the prince. So... I can't help you." John said.

"6..."

Ten spinning dark energy balls appeared behind Aaron.

"7..."

The villagers looked at each other and ran out of the Village, the huge metal gate automatically closed behind them.

"How many fighters do we have, and what are their strength?" He asked John.

"We have only ten, they are all Awakened realm."

"This will help." He turned to Lilly, who picked up the huge bag behind her, she walked up to her bother and kept it in front of him.

"These are all the cores of Monsters I killed a year ago, Absorb all these cores and increase your strength... The Demon Kingdom has 6 Cities in the whole Continent. Two have been destroyed by monsters, remaining four. Our task is to take over these four cities."

"My Prince, The capital is among these cities, and they have at least a thousand Soldiers, we have nothing." Egon said with a sad smile.

"You ten will be my guard, I'll get my army in the forest--" he paused, and looked around. "Where Is Emily?"

"Emily is in the first Continent, In the newly built Academy--"

"--She told me about that, Change of plan..." He looked around everyone.

"After I conquer the whole forest, I'll go to the first Continent and bring Emily back, then we attack the Demon kingdom."

He passed the bag to Egon. "Distribute it evenly." With that said, he flew into the air.

[20 Miles from the Village.]

"Huff! Huff! Huff! Huff!"

The ten Villagers stopped in the forest breathing heavily.

"That was scary, I thought he's going to kill us."

"Why are you scared? He's a fool leaving us alive. Come on, let's go back to the Demon kingdom and tell king Zukor about this news."

"Yeah, you are right."

"We'll show all of them."

"Come on!"

BAM!!

"What was that?!" The ten Villagers looked around in fright.

Whoosh!!

They sharply turned around, but saw nothing.

"Where are we?" One asked, looking around the forest.

"That's not the problem at hand, something is hunting us." Another said, his eyes vigilant.

Whoosh!!

"This thing is playing with us." Another added.

BAM!!

They all looked up at a tree branch 10 meters from their location, seeing a huge black skin monster with green eyes, staring straight at their soul.

"That's Protean!!"

"Are you sure?"

"I know that kid won't let us go this easily."

"Shit! We can't fight him."

Protean landed on the ground, and took the form of the dark elf.

"You guys knew I'll attack? Impressive." He walked towards them with a smile.

"You! What are you doing here?!"

"Isn't it clear?" Protean looked at them in confusion, getting no reply he added:

"I'm here to kill all of you, it's as simple as that."

"You bastard!!"

Whoosh!!

The Man's head dropped to the ground, followed by His body, stunning the remaining Nine.

"What... What... What... What realm are you on!!" A Demon stammered in horror, taking a step back.

"I don't have a specific realm, My powers are calculated by the form I took and my Master's Powers." He shot towards the remaining Nine after saying that.

What followed next were screams of terror.

[Moments Later]

"You are really brutal." Aaron landed In front of Protean, who sat on the ground, behind him were countless body parts, organs and mostly... blood.

"We can go now." He stretched out his hand to the right, The space distorted and tore open, forming a gateway.

"So, No magic circle anymore?" Protean asked, standing up.

"Not needed." Aaron walked towards the gateway followed by Protean.

"What about the bodies?"

"Let the animals eat them." Aaron said flatly, entering the gateway.

[Flesh Eaters' forest. First Continent.]

Whzzzzzzzh

The gateway appeared out of thin air, and Aaron and Protean walked out.

"It has been One year, I wonder what have changed." He muttered, then looked at his hand.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

Aaron blinked in utter shock. 'Is this still my profile? Or some unknown god's?' He thought in shock.

Whoosh!!!

He turned to his right. "What is it, Alter?" He asked.

"How do you know it's me?" A small rat walked up to the two and took the appearance of a Human.

"You can't hide your energy... It's good you are here, send word; I want to see all the kings before at Noon. Or else, None of their race will survive the night."

Alter thought for a moment and nodded, he took the form of the skeleton eagle and flew into the air.

"What are we doing now?" Protean asked.

"Killing one of the abomination." Aaron narrowed his eyes, feeling a powerful present deep in the forest.

"Do you mean a Great Demon or Beast King?" Protean was excited.

"Yes, You'll need it." Aaron said and started walking towards the direction.

Protean smiled happily and followed behind him, The group walked for hours before reaching their destination.

"It here." Aaron stated, looking around the place.

- Who Dare enter my territory?! -

A demonic voice sounded, drawing the duo's attention.

Aaron and Protean stared at the ghostly figure armed with a Sabre, walking towards them, its red eyes were fixed on them.

"A ghost?" Aaron was stunned.

- I'm not a ghost...!! I'm a wraith, I won't ask a second time, what are you doing in my territory?!! -

"A Great Demon, your strength is surprisingly weak."

The wraith frowned for a second, then stared at him with killing intent. - If you don't want to state your purpose! I'll have to kill you!! - it shot towards Aaron.

"Should I--"

"--No, Leave this fool to me." Aaron walked towards the Wraith. "I hope you can survive one of my attack."

Chapter 28: Beast Ruler: Three headed Dragon.

Aaron calmly walked towards the Wraith who then leaped into the air and smashed down on him with its sword.

BOOM!!

A cloud of dust flew into the air, enveloping the two figures.

- You are weak, Elf. I thought you are...-

The Wraith's eyes widened in shock, staring at Aaron who gripped its ghostly sword in his hand.

- Impossible! My weapon can cut through anything, including souls! There is no way you could have blocked it.-

"Oh... Thank goodness I'm not "Anything". " Aaron grinned at it, the next moment, fire burst out from his body throwing the Wraith ten meters away.

"I see inferno have gotten stronger." He muttered.

- You!!! -

The Wraith stood up, it raised both hands into the sky.

- Soul Destroyer!!! -

A huge black energy ball formed above its head, and with a throw; it flew towards Aaron.

"Thanks for the energy." Aaron stretched out his hand towards the ball... To the Wraith's shock, He absorbed the attack.

- What?! -

"Death energy, How delicious." He let out a grin.

- What realm are you on? - The cursed Demon moved back in fear.

"I thought you'll attack more? Why stop?" Aaron asked, he smirked and started walking towards the Wraith.

- I need to escape, This Kid is too powerful.- before it could move, thick veins shot out from the ground, binging its body.

- What is this?! -

"Don't even think about escaping, even a Beast Ruler can't escape from me, let alone you."

- You... You must have mastered the death element, before being able to capture me! Don't tell me... This, Young!! - The Wraith was horrified.

"When I blocked your attack, I got a new idea; Join me, or you die."

- I'll ever be a subordinate!! -

"You are lower than a subordinate, I already have one." Aaron scoffed.

- You...-

"--I'm waiting, You have five Seconds to decide."

- Never!! -

"Fine then, it's a shame; But my guy here can do more with your core." Aaron stretched out his hand towards the Wraith.

- Ahhhhhh!!! - it let out an agonizing scream, as Aaron pulled its core out from its chest.

"Thanks for this." Aaron smirked as the core fell on his hand, he watched as the Wraith turned into particles, flying away.

"You are good Master!!" Protean walked up to him. "Taking down a Cursed demon this easily, No one will dare mess with us again."

"Here." Aaron gave him the Core, which he quickly swallowed it. Then took the appearance of the Wraith.

"Hmm... This blade can truly cut through souls, that fool wasn't lying." Protean said in mild surprised, slowly observing the sword.

Graaaa!!

The two turned to their right, seeing a black Fox staring at them with killing intent.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Name: Teumessian Fox (Uncatchable), Class: Elite. Info: Extremely Dangerous (powerless against you), Worst Enemy: Laelaps (The Hunter).}

"How nice, I never thought I'll see you again." Aaron walked up to the five-meters long Fox.

"Where is your second?" He looked around.

The Fox stared at him for a moment, then bowed its head in submission.

"That was easy." Protean stated.

Woof!!

Aaron raised an eyebrow, staring at the White dog walking towards them.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Name: Laelaps (The Hunter). Class: Elite. Info: Extremely dangerous (powerless against you). Note: it attacks only when it got no scent of its hunt.}

"You came to me for protection?" He looked at the Fox, who nodded and hid behind him.

"I never thought a Fox will be scared of a Dog, both of you are Demon stage Monsters, You'll make good guard dogs."

The white dog stopped 15 meters from them, it first scanned its surroundings and odds... Using its powers, it took a step back in fright feeling the energy around Aaron and Protean.

One was an immortal, and the other was a Great Demon, two realms above it.

"If you run, I'll kill you... Now come forward, and both of you will end your Chase today, and start working together." Aaron said, with a serious expression.

The Dog stared at the Fox for a while, then at Aaron.

"As you wish, Master." It said telepathically.

"Good, what about you?" Aaron turned to the Fox.

"I'll go with the master's wishes."

"Good, it's time to kill a Beast Ruler." Aaron said, the next moment, a huge canopy made from darkness covered the group, and they vanished from sight.

- What are you doing?!! -

- I'm eating! -

- Eating our tail?! -

- What do you want me to eat then? -

Whzzzh

Aaron and his group appeared in front of the creature.

- Them! Eat them! -

"A dragon with three heads, who's a Beast Ruler, Wow."

The 20 meters huge Dragon lowered its three heads to the group of four.

- I'm sorry, Elf. But I'll just have to eat you.- The head at the middle, which sounded like a Woman said.

- No, we'll all eat you.- The one at the right corrected.

- Yes.- the left added in agreement.

"I'm building a kingdom, If you want to join, Speak up now; and you'll get to eat anything you want."

- A kid wants to bargain with a Beast Ruler? Aren't you scared of us? - The middle head asked in mild surprised.

"Scared? You should be the one who's scared." Aaron said arrogantly.

- Hahahahaha!!! -

The three heads laughed loudly, their voices were so loud and powerful than some of the trees were uprooted, flying 5 meters away.

Seeing Aaron and his group standing still on spot, the three heads frowned slightly.

- I see we underestimated you, Kid.- the right head stated.

- Let's just kill them, they might not be enough for us, but they'll be a good start.- The left said.

- True. - the middle head nodded.

The dragon flapped its wings and shot into the air, the three heads opened their mouth and shot flames towards Aaron.

"How lovely." Aaron raised his hand to the flames and started absorbing it.

"Let's heat the party." He increased the pull, before the Dragon could do anything, he pulled out three glowing stones from within their mouths.

- WHAT?!! - The three exclaimed in shock.

Aaron caught the stones in his hand. "Let's see how you guys will be able to release fire."

The three frowned and opened their mouth again, but this time nothing came out, not even a smoke.

- Did this Kid just took our Fire? - the left head asked in shock.

The other two were flabbergasted, totally speechless.

Chapter 29: Ancient Knowledge

- What did you do Elf?!! - The Middle head yelled.

"I can kill you easily, and have my friend absorb your core, But I need soldiers; so join me, and you'll have your fire and all the food you'll ever need."

The three heads looked at him for a moment, then landed on the ground.

- How will you get us food? - The middle head asked in suspicion.

"Simple, Some Monsters will surely go against me this Noon... I know you get the rest."

After some moment of discussing, the heads looked at Aaron.

- OK, we'll join you. But what if we betray you in the end? - The left asked.

"Trust me, You won't dare have that thought, because the moment you do. You'll be Six feet beneath the ground." Aaron's eyes glowed red for a second, then returned to normal.

- Also a Demon, How surprising.- The middle head nodded.

Aaron drew an Alliance Circle and threw it at the Dragon. They placed their claws on it, and it Vanished the next moment.

"If you are starving, Meet me at the center of the forest, at Noon." With that said, he threw the three stones back to them, which they all swallowed.

The space distorted behind Aaron and his group, and a gateway appeared, they all walked in, and it closed.

- What a Kid, your hunger almost made us lose our lives! - The right head yelled at the left.

- That kid has the powers of countless powerful figures... Or maybe, a god reincarnated into this body with his full powers.- the middle head guessed.

- Forget all that, all I know is, we get to eat at Noon. Only two hours left.- the left said happily.

- Where do you think he's going next? - The right head asked.

- To the Sea, I guessed.- The middle said.

- Sea? That is far from the forest.- The left reminded.

- I know, but you can only get there through this forest. Think about this, if he can make that bastard submit to him, he'll be invincible.- The right said.

Aaron and Protean walked out of the gateway, which Appeared above the blue sea, they looked around; seeing only an endless expanse of water.

"I hope those two focus on the mission, then chasing one another."

"They won't." Aaron said flatly, he looked down at the sea.

"This bastard don't want to reveal himself." He raised his hand into the air.

BOOM!!

Red Lightning fell from the clear blue sky striking the surrounding water, causing huge waves all over the place.

- Who Dare disturb my Slumber?!! -

An angry deep voice sounded from beneath the sea. Aaron and Protean watched as the Water ripple, and a huge head revealed itself.

The two huge eyes which were bigger than Aaron looked around the place, seeing Aaron and Protean above. The eyes glowed blue in anger.

- You puny beings dare disturb my sleep...-

"Shut Up and show yourself, we have business to discuss."

- "...." -

The creature was stunned for a moment, then yelled.

- What audacity!! Do you know I'm the king of the sea?!! -

"I said "Shut... Up"! And come out!!" Aaron yelled in irritation. "If you don't come out, I don't care killing every living thing in this sea." He threatened.

The head dove inside the water again, the next moment a huge tentacle shot towards Aaron, only to be cut off by Protean.

"You dare attack!!" Aaron was enraged. "Then it's on you!!" The sky instantly turned red, as countless red swords formed, pointing their blades downward.

- Calm down, Calm down, Calm down.-

A man with red long hair, and a tail. Holding a Trident rose from the water.

"You angered me, and you'll pay for that."

"Sorry, I thought my enemies sent you. I'm king, Mali. The king of the sea folks. But..." Mali observed Aaron.

"This sea is between the first and second Continents, and no one knew we existed. Then how did you know about us?"

Aaron sighed, all the swords above them vanished, and the sky returned to normal.

'This is "sword king", a forbidden spell, only one person has it, and that's the forefather of the demon race.' Mali thought inwardly.

"I'm building a kingdom, and I need allies."

"Allies?" Mali was stunned. "You killed countless fishes with that first attack, what make you think I'll accept?"

"That is a little, if you refuse I'll just kill more, including you. Maybe asked the merfolks, or even the sirens. They'll be happy to be under me and have control of your territory."

"How the hell did you know about all the ancient races!! And you sound like you know how to get in touch with them all!"

"Of course, when the gate of abyssal opened, its released all of them into this world... Think how powerful I'll get if they're all below me." Aaron grinned.

"You are still young, but you already have the dream of controlling this world, Don't you think the races will refuse."

"Hahaha, I'm Hoping they do... I thought the only way to be safe is to be the strongest, but I'm already the strongest... Then I got a piece of ancient knowledge. This knowledge is the main reason I'm looking for powerful allies. Now... Will you join my kingdom?"

"Ok, young man. Do I have the honor to know your name?"

"Emperor Aaron." Aaron drew the Alliance circle.

Mali placed his hand on it, and nodded.

"Good, we'll be going to the Sirens now..." With that said, both he and Protean vanished.

"Who really is this kid? Such powers..." Mali thought, then looked around the dead fishes above the water, and sighed deeply.

On a beautiful island, distance from the three Continents, a group of breathtakingly beautiful ladies sat on the shore, singing a beautiful but yet sad melody, which was carried by the winds traveling hundred of miles away.

"What a beautiful song."

The five ladies turned to their right in shock, seeing a young man and a dark elf, staring at them with smile.

"A kid?" The Sirens were surely taken aback.

"Why do everyone keep calling me a kid?" Aaron grumbled.

The five looked at each other in shock, then chuckled lightly, without hesitation; they started singing again, hoping to entice Aaron and Protean.

But after singing for a while, and seeing the two still smirking at them, One asked with a frown.

"Why can't we control your minds?"

The two smirks widened.

"Because we aren't Men, and you guys are still weak." They said in unison, stunning the Sirens in place.

Chapter 30: Merqueen

"If you two aren't men, what are you then?" The Siren asked, dark lines were on her beautiful face.

"He's a Blob, and I'm an immortal." Aaron said with a cheeky smile.

The Sirens all frowned, as dark smoke emanates from their bodies.

"You dare lie to us! There is no way a kid can be an immortal!" The Siren hissed.

Aaron sighed, he casually moved his hand downward towards the Sea, which split into two, reaching hundreds of miles away.

The Sirens' eyes widened in shock, without hesitation, they all got on their knees.

"Please forgive our insolence, we didn't mean to offend an immortal." They quickly said.

Aaron grinned. "If you guys want my forgiveness, You just have to do one thing."

The Sirens looked up at him.

"Immortal, Aren't you too young to ask for pleasures, but if that's what you truly want, we'll try our best to pleasure you."

"What?!" Aaron was stunned.

"Hahahaha!!!!!" Protean burst out laughing, he laughed so hard that he held his stomach. "Did she just say "pleasure"? Hahaha!!!"

The Sirens looked at the two in confusion, and turned to Aaron.

"That's not what I want, I'm building a kingdom, and I need Allies. That's, I'll be your king and Ruler."

The Sirens looked at one another, and the first one said. "Immortal, we are created to sing for the Queen goddess Persephone for her return. Won't our goal be changed if we join you?"

"Calm down, Elisa. You'll join me, but you can still carry on with whatever task you do. But if this Queen Persephone get in the way... I'll just have to kill her."

The Sirens frowned, "Don't you know our Queen, Persephone?" Elisa asked, not bothered how he knew her name.

"Do I have to know her before having the right to kill her?" He asked back.

Elisa sighed with a smile. "I guess Not."

"So... Are you accepting my offer?"

"What is in for us?" Another Siren asked.

"Protection from me, and Peace with the Merfolks, and Sea folks."

"So you are saying, those two stubborn beings are under you?" Elisa asked in mild surprised.

"Yes, The merqueen will have to join me, or I destroy their race, and you and Mali will gain their territory."

"Then I hope she refuses, We can have more sea to hunt." Elisa said with a smile.

"If she joined me, you can still use her sea to feed." He drew the Alliance Circle and passed it towards her.

"What is this?" Elisa asked, staring at the Circle.

"An Alliance Circle, the moment you placed your palm on it, you'll never think of betraying me, let alone enter my territory without my permission."

"Where is your territory?" She asked.

"This world." Aaron gave a simple reply.

Elisa thought for a moment, then nodded and placed her palm on the Circle, it moved to her sisters, who also placed their palms on it.

Aaron walked to the still kneeling Elisa, he held her chin with his small hand, and smiled at her.

"You are surely beautiful, but not like the girl who have caught my eyes." He let go, and walked towards Protean.

"You can all rise."

The Sirens stood up, staring at Aaron in Awe. Even with their beauty he wasn't moved, although he's a kid; but they knew the soul in this body is beyond his age.

A gateway appeared behind Protean, "we'll see again." That was the last word the Sirens heard before he walked inside the gateway with Protean.

"Are you sure about this, Elisa?"

"Do you want to go against an Immortal who could split the sea into two, Becca?" Elisa asked back.

The Sirens remained silent, but Becca asked again: "what if when he comes of age, he desires our bodies?"

"I'll gladly give him mine." Elisa said with a beautiful smile, while the others nodded.

The space distorted and tore opened, Aaron and Protean walked out from the gateway.

"Huh? Are we under the sea?" Protean looked around in shock, seeing countless fishes swimming around them.

"Aren't you wondering why you can breathe and speak underwater?" Aaron asked, floating towards the city which stood at the depth of the sea.

"You can breathe and speak beneath the sea because of your water resistance, so I can also breathe and speak in it. Don't forget we share the same Energy."

Aaron nodded at him and continued floating towards the depth.

"Stop there!!" Four Merfolks swam up to them, each holding long spears.

Aaron observed them closely, this was his first time of seeing a mermaid up close and in real.

"What is your duty here?!!"

"How did you get here?!"

"Aren't you just a child?!!"

"Go back now, if you don't want us to attack!!"

Aaron growled in frustration hearing so many questions.

He calmly waved his finger throwing the four meters away.

"Your Queen is the only one Worthy to speak to me."

The four stabilized themselves, and stared at Aaron and Protean with killing intent.

"How dare you!! Kill him!!" The one at the center yelled, they all charged towards the two.

"Should I kill them?" Protean asked.

"Nope, they are just doing their jobs. I know how to get her attention without causing any damage." He waved his hand again, forming a water cyclone beneath the sea.

The four who were charging towards him stopped their advance in shock.

Aaron clenched his fist, the next moment the Cyclone increased in speed and exploded, spreading waves all over the ocean, frightening all the fishes away.

Whoosh!!!!

"She is coming." Aaron said.

"So quick?"

Aaron smiled. "She and my great aunt are best friends, this is the way my aunt always call her when she wanted to see." He explained.

"Is that--"

The two heard a soft but yet beautiful voice behind them, they turned around to see a beautiful mermaid with golden hair and long silver tail, her upper body was cover by a silk outfit he hasn't seen before, and a golden crown sat on her head.

"Who are you?" She asked, moving her gaze to her four guards then at Aaron.

"Don't worry, these fools won't be able to arrest me. I'm here to see you."
Aaron said.

"Me? I have one question." The Merqueen said with a slight frown.

"Go on."

"How did you know my best friend's calling skill?"

"My name is Emperor Aaron, Nephew of late princess Anne."

"Nephew? Late? You don't mean--"

"--My aunt is dead for a year now."

The Merqueen's face turned solemn: "I thought she abandoned me, and broke our friendship, I didn't know..." She paused, and stared at Aaron with suspicion.

"If she died a year ago, then how come you know her calling, you might look like a ten years old Elf, but I know you are only a year old... And, how can an elf be a nephew of a Demoness who's also a princess?"

"So many questions again." Aaron sighed, with a thought, a screen formed in front of the Queen, showing images of his father's memories, then his Aunt's with the Merqueen, then his mother and lastly his.

"Did this answer your questions?" He asked.

She looked at him from head to toe, then sighed. "It seems you are telling the truth."

Aaron nodded and activated his eyes.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Name: Heartily (Merqueen). Class: Celestial. Info: Extremely dangerous (powerless against you). Note: Queen of the Merfolks and love her people with her life, trustworthy.}

'This isn't surprising.' He thought.

"Hello, are we going to remain out here, aren't you inviting us in?" Protean asked with a frown.

"And who are you?" Heartily asked.

"Are you kidding me?! Didn't you see me in that pictures?! For your information; I'm Protean, His subordinate."

Heartily stared at him for a moment then nodded with an indifferent expression, then turned to Aaron.

"Why are you here?" She asked.

"I'm building a kingdom, I need allies... Let me ask; do you want revenge on those who killed your best friend?"

Heartily thought for a moment and asked: "Do you know them?"

Aaron nodded.

"How?"

"I have all her memories, and the "things" you two did together."

The Queen's cheek redder for the first time, but yelled at him. "What are you saying?! Watch what you say around the queen."

Aaron just nodded at her. "Can we go somewhere private, we have a lot to discuss, and I have only 30 Minutes left."

"Ok, follow me." Heartily turned around, and swam towards the city below.

Aaron smirked at the four guards and followed behind her.

"So how long have you guys been living here?" He asked.

"We merfolks have been here for more than 5 centuries." She answered, not even looking at him.

"Five centuries? That's way beyond the time of the abyssal gate, I thought you came out from the gate?"

"No... Mali and I were once the rulers of the sea, then the Sirens appeared, and other things..."

"Other things?" Aaron frowned.

"If you want me to join you... You have to kill at least five of these things and bring their heads to me, then I'll think about your offer." She swam away, while Aaron and Protean came to a stop.

"I'm asking nicely because you have a good relationship with my aunt, Although I don't know her, but her memories filled in the gap." Aaron muttered to himself.

"What should we do now?" Protean asked.

"Ask her how to find these "things"." He swam forward, following behind her.

"Good grief." Protean sighed and followed behind him.
