

REBORN WITH THE ALL SEEING EYE

Chapter 31: You'll Need The Gods' Acceptance.

"Can you tell us about these "things" you mentioned?" Aaron asked, swimming behind Heartily.

"Just know one thing." She stopped and turned to him. "The "Things" as you called it are known as Dwellers, they reside at the bottom of the sea south from here; they could literally control the waters' depth... I'd lost a lot of my people to them, so bring me five heads, and I'll be your Ally."

Protean: "But you just said--"

"--I know, I'm demanding more, is something wrong with that?" Heartily asked, staring at Aaron.

"You and your people are only alive because you are my Aunt's best friend, So don't think you can demand anything like this from me in the future."

Heartily narrowed her eyes upon hearing his words. "Do you think you can face me, A Beast Ruler?!" She asked with killing intent.

"Don't forget the three of the Sirens are Great Demons, while two are Beast Rulers... Mali is also a beast Ruler, the three-headed dragon is also a beast Ruler, but now... They're all under me."

"What?" Heartily moved back in shock. "How can that Ancient dragon submit to you?!"

"Not your cup of tea, but I'll help you, and I hope you keep your word." With that said, the two vanished from Heartily's sight.

"This... Come here, Vico."

A tortoise swam up to her.

"Yes, her Majestic?"

"Go to the surface, and see if those three are really under him. Tell them I'm the one that send you."

The tortoise nodded, and swan away to the shore.

[Water Depth.]

Aaron and Protean appeared at the location Heartily pointed, Even though it's dark, they could clearly see their surroundings.

"What do we have here?"

The two turned around to see a bearded young man staring at them with a smile.

"Who are you?" Aaron asked with a slight change of expression.

The young man bowed at him with a smile. "I'm Achelous, but the people in this sea call me Dweller."

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Name: Achelous (??). Class: Immortal. Info: Extremely dangerous. Note: deity of the sea.}

'Immortal class? He's not powerless against me to, deity of the sea?'

"May I know what you are doing here, Young Elf, or maybe Demon?"

Achelous calmly asked.

"I thought..." Aaron looked around the place. "Are you the only one here?" He asked.

"Yes." Achelous nodded.

"But Heartily said otherwise." Protean stated.

"Heartily? You mean that Merqueen?"

"Yes, she said you killed her people and also said you have accomplices... Oh, she asked me to get your head, I'm just surprised she doesn't know you are the only one."

"Yeah, she even asked for five heads, I'll say she believes no one can kill her people without an Army." Protean added.

"Five heads? Army? Kill her people?" Achelous was utterly perplexed, he stared at the two in confusion.

"I don't get."

Aaron frowned. "Don't you know anything about the death of her people?"

"I don't... She hasn't angered me, so I have no reason to attack her people, they must be something else after them."

"Hmm..." Aaron held his jaw with a thoughtful expression. "She suspect you and asked me to kill you... Do you by any chance know who is attacking her people?"

"I'll say the sea serpents are behind this, they are just a mile away."

"Thanks for the location..." Aaron thought for a moment and tried his luck.

"I'm building--"

"--You are building a kingdom, and need Allies... I don't know how you gained the Knowledge of the Ancient battle between the gods and Monsters, and I'm surprised how a young man like you is already planning to protect his world..."

"You know so much about the War, are you really a god?"

"Yes." He answered without hesitation.

Aaron smiled. "Then do you know my realm?" He asked.

"You are still a kid, but have the powers of a god, You are now a lower god... To increase in Strength you need the Acceptance of all the gods, I as the first you have encounter will give you mine."

"That easily? Won't you ask for anything?" Aaron asked with suspicion.

"The gods need new gods to help, Having the powers of all the demons made you one of the kings of the underworld, You'll need the Acceptance of the other four kings to be able to enter the underworld, and claim your position, maybe take the throne and reduced the powers of the monsters."

Listening to Achelous, Aaron and Protean stood frozen in shock, but the most frightening thing was, From the start to the end; he said only the truth... Which means...

"Who are these kings?" Aaron asked.

"You'll know when the time is right." Achelous stretched forth his hand to him, a golden light flew from him, entering Aaron.

"You have been acknowledged by now, get the Acceptance of the other gods and help us save the ten realms."

Protean: "Ten realms?"

"Yes, this world is located at the fourth section of Chaos--"

--I have a question, is there a way to see the other gods, and know more about these realms?"

"The gods sees everything, You can enter other realms if you enter the True god realm. I'll get going now, and don't worry, we're already Allies... Keep on with your plan, If all the races are under you... You might have a chance when the gate of Abyssal opens again."

"Another question." Aaron raised his hand.

"Go on."

"What do you know about the Abyssal gate?"

"The Abyss is a very powerful and dangerous place, and the Ruler is absent; so the gate is being manipulated by Hades and Lucifer, Once the new master is found, the Abyssal gate will disappear from your world."

"Who is the new master of the Abyss?" Protean asked.

"I thought you said only one question?" Achelous asked with a slight frown.

"What can we do?" Aaron shrugged.

Achelous sighed, and continued: "I don't know, the Ruler of the abyss is a powerful god who I can't even think of going against, but know one thing... You'll meet him soon." With that said, he Vanished.

"This guy disappeared before I can ask another question." Aaron shook his head. "I think we should get more serious about our plan, even the Gods are worried about this war."

"Yeah, but who is this abyssal God who can close the gates in our world?" Protean asked.

"Don't know, Ahh!! This is all frustrating." Aaron sighed. "Let's go kill those Sea serpents, at least we'll have heads to present to that Merqueen."

Protean nodded, and the two vanished again.

[Flesh Eaters' Forest.]

In a huge black eerie looking castle, countless Monsters sat in the throne hall all dead serious, looking at one another with a deep frown.

Couldn't take it anymore, a man with red snake's skin opened his mouth.

"Why are we summoned here?!" He yelled, a year ago Aaron killed his wife in cold blood, and Protean swallowed her core. He hates the two more than anyone present.

"That Kid summoned us, I'm only here to have my revenge on my Son." A man with dark skin and wings said.

"He vanished for a year, and reappeared out of thin air... After killing him today; I'll make sure to wipe out his armies." The snake man said with clear killing intent.

The other 19 kings didn't say anything, but waited silently.

"You are really a talkative, Mogo." Alter said with a slight headache.

"You! How dare you speak in front of me! Don't forget I'm a Great Demon!!" Mogo yelled.

"Yes, You and Talon don't have the right to sit here." The winged man added.

"I see you have grown an extra wing, Bulk!" Talon yelled in rage.

"You guys are cute."

The four turned to the pale skin woman smiling at them.

"Why are you even here, Livia?!!" Bulk yelled.

"Stop shouting, Bulk. Or I'll teach you how... Being here is me giving Alter face, and I'm also curious about this kid." Livia smiled at Alter.

She was a pure blood vampire, she alone controlled all the four-legged Wild animals in the Forest, making her one of the strangest rulers present, and with her hold over 50% of the forest made it clear.

"Hahaha... He's everything beyond your imagination." Talon said with a laughed.

"Then I can't wait to see him." She smiled at him, revealing two fangs. While Bulk and Mogo rolled their eyes.

Aaron and Protean appeared on another location, they both looked around with a bored expression.

"We have only ten minutes left, and those guys should be waiting for us by now." Protean announced, and added: "This is a waste of time! We can just destroy the Merfolks, and take over their territory, Why are you helping her, Master? And don't tell me she's a friend of your Aunt."

"Heartily is one of the Beast Rulers in this world, she'll be a powerful Ally. That's the only reason."

"You know I can swallow her core and take her form--"

"--True, but you won't be able to control her Army... If we kill her, they'll choose another queen."

"But if we destroy their race, they won't be able to choose another Queen if they're all dead." Protean said in mild annoyance.

"Don't always think about killing, some people are good to be left alive."

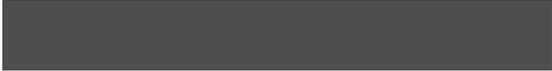

"If you say so, Now... What are we doing here?!!" He yelled.

"Killing these Bastards who have been staring at us all along."

"Huh?" Protean was stunned seeing the creatures in front of them.

Chapter 32: Prepare For War

[Demon Kingdom.]

[Throne Hall.]

"My king, are you sure about this? Sending that dark elf to kill this kid named Aaron, doesn't seem like a good idea." One of the council said.

"Are you saying I don't know who and who not to send on a mission?" A young man with green eyes and long blue hair asked in a displeased tone.

The man was stunned, he quickly opened his mouth: "That's Not what I mean my king, it's just--"

"--Stop taking, You all need to know one thing, That kid called Aaron is better off dead, and the Ruby must be brought back to us." A middle-age woman with green eyes and hair, said.

The five council elders nodded at the two. "Ok my Queen." The man said.

SCREECH!!!!

The group frowned slightly, they turned their gazes to the glass window, seeing a bird made of dark smoke flying towards them, it broke through the glass and landed in front of the throne with the head of the dark elf.

"This?!"

"This is the late former king's power, he could create any familiar he had ever killed."

"But who created this?"

"Do you guys think..."

"That... That kid had absorbed the Ruby!!"

"Enough!!" Zukor stood up in rage.

The bird dropped the head in front of them. [My master gives his regards.]

With that said, it turned into smoke; disappearing from the Hall, leaving the head behind.

"Aaron!!" Zukor yelled in rage, he shattered the head with his demonic Energy and turned to the elders. "Prepare the army! We are going to war!"

"War? My king, isn't that irrational? A war at this time--" the council kept shut seeing Zukor's eyes turning red, he quickly nodded.

"Yes my king, they'll be ready in one week."

"Good! We're attacking their small village in a week." Zukor walked away from the hall.

The Queen stood up; "Don't ask questions next time, just do whatever he asked; remember who put you in this position." With that said, she also walked away.

The Councils looked at one another and wiped the sweat off their foreheads.

"That was scary."

[Flesh Eaters' Forest.]

"What are you doing here, Tortoise?" The middle head of the dragon asked the small Tortoise which stopped in front of them.

The Tortoise took the form of a young man looking his early 20s. "Stop calling me Tortoise, Vico is fine by me." He slowly dusted the sands off his shoulders.

"You haven't changed, so why did that old Queen send you to the surface?"

The right head asked.

"She wants to know something important, Agro. Can you help me?" Vico stared at the right head.

"What is it?" The left asked.

"Simon, she wants to know if you three are under a kid named Aaron."

Simon, the left head turned to the other two in confusion. "Who is Aaron?" He asked.

'I knew it! That kid is a liar; there is no way these guys will be under him.' Vico thought inwardly.

"He's referring to Emperor Aaron." The middle head clarified.

"Oh!" Simon turned to Vico. "Yes, we are under him."

"I beg your pardon?"

"He answered your question, why do you look surprised, or have you seen Emperor Aaron?" Agro asked.

"Not only have I seen him, but he went the queen to be his Ally." Vico said with a small smile.

"A word of advice." The three heads fixed their gaze on Vico.

"Tell that old Queen to accept his request, because if you anger him, You won't know how you die." They said in unison.

Vico thought for a moment then nodded. "I'll let her know." He Vanished moment next.

"Only 5 Minutes left, then we'll eat." Simon said.

"Is there only food in your head?" Agro asked.

"Yes." Simon answered shamefully. While the middle head remain silent.

[Ocean depth.]

"These things are useless!" Protean cut off the head of one serpent with a bored expression, he was in the wraith appearance.

Aaron sighed, staring at the serpents across from him. None wanted to attack.

"How many heads do we have now?" He asked, looking at Protean over his shoulder.

"Let's see, 1, 2, 3... We have Six heads." He said after counting the heads floating around them.

"I think that's why these guys aren't attacking again." Aaron stared at the five serpents in front of him with a smile.

"If you want to live, don't attack any merfolks, sea folks or even Sirens in these waters... If you do, I'll make sure to wipe out your kind from this world, if you understand, run away."

Without hesitation, the five swam away with incredible speed.

"Remove the cores, These Demon stage serpents' cores will be useful for our army."

Protean nodded and swam towards the serpent he killed last, then tore the flesh open.

[Merfolks' kingdom.]

[Throne Hall.]

Vico appeared inside the hall, he looked around the place, seeing the Merqueen staring at him on her throne. He bowed and started:

"Emperor Aaron was saying the truth, Even Saline said so, if it were those two I won't believe it; but she'll never lie... Oh! My Queen, they left a warning."

"Which is?"

"We shouldn't anger Emperor Aaron, if we do, we won't know how we'll die."
Heartily frowned deeply, before she could say anything, the space behind Vico distorted and a gateway appeared.

The two stared as Aaron and Protean walked out.

"Welcome back, Emperor Aaron. But... Where are the heads I asked for?"

"You should be respectful to the Emperor, he's just doing this because he doesn't want blood in his hand." Protean said with killing intent.

Heartily rolled her eyes at him, and fixed her gaze on Aaron. "I'm waiting..."
She smiled.

'What's the Queen up to? This is playing with fire... What if Emperor Aaron gets angry?' Vico thought inwardly, moving his gaze from Aaron to Heartily.

Aaron waved his hand, six huge heads bigger than ten humans' heads combined appeared behind him.

"Are you satisfied with this?" He asked and added: "The serpents won't attack your people again, and your people shouldn't attack them... Report to me if the serpents attack."

Heartily nodded in approval. "It seems I was wrong about you, OK Emperor Aaron; I accept to be your Ally, But..."

Chapter 33: Judgment Time

Heartily stood up and walked towards him.

Aaron stood still, a little perplexed; his eyes were fixed on her two legs.

"I thought you have a tail?" Couldn't hold back his curiosity, he asked. "And why is there no water in this hall?"

"That shouldn't have stumped you, right? Being the youngest Emperor, you should be knowledgeable. But... Where is your kingdom? And What is your Military strength?"

"My kingdom?" Aaron smirked. "This world is my kingdom."

Heartily stopped in front of him: "This world is your kingdom? I'm confused here, are you saying the three continents are also under you?"

"Not yet, I'll start with the third Continent, then the second and lastly first."

"So you don't have any kingdom and Army at the moment."

"I have a kingdom, and also an army... Just know my army can wipe out your kingdom with one command."

"You are really Arrogant, Young Emperor Aaron..." Heartily smiled: "I like that." She turned around and walked back to her throne.

"It's just bad you are still young."

"Huh? How is it bad?" Aaron asked in mild confusion.

"Because I won't be able to taste you."

Aaron: "Pardon?"

Protean: "Huh?"

Vico: "...."

She sat down staring at them: "Why so shocked? You are handsome, powerful, courageous, and has a high ambition. That's all I need from a man, but you aren't yet a man... So... I'll have to wait for some years before making my move."

The three blinked in utter confusion, totally dumbfounded.

'It seems she is lonely without a man to satisfy her.' Aaron thought inwardly.
'But...'

"My eyes are only on one girl, so your wish can't be fulfilled."

"I'm guessing this girl is a demon, don't worry; I only need a night with you, but I'll still have to wait for 10 years ahead or maybe 15."

'10 years? 15? She knows I'm just one year old, Maybe she had already figured it out that after 10 or 15 years I'll be an adult even though I'll be 10 or 15 years old in age.'

"So don't worry, I'll wait." Heartily smiled at him.

Aaron stared at the beautiful Queen in front of him and sighed helplessly. "OK then, but don't regret waiting and not getting what you desire." He drew an alliance circle and passed it to her.

"Oh, I will." She placed her hand on it, moment next; the circle shattered.

"We'll meet again." With that said, he and Protean vanished from the hall, leaving the heads behind.

"My Queen, just now... Were you joking with him?" Vico asked, turning to Heartily.

"Did I sound like I'm joking?" She stood up and stretched forth her hand towards the heads. "I'll wait and see how deep he can get."

The heads shattered into tiny light particles, which then flew towards her, entering her body through her outstretched hand.

Vico nodded, before he could take another step, Heartily appeared in front of him:

"What are you thinking child? Is he not a good guy?"

"I don't know, My Queen. Your previous words just caught me off guard, that's all."

"Hmm..." Heartily stared at him for a moment, then nodded. "You are my Advisor, so behave like one, You can leave."

Vico bowed, and vanished from the hall.

"Emperor Aaron... What a kid." She licked her lips seductively. 'My friend won't mind If I have a taste of her nephew. Right?'

[Flesh Eater's Forest.]

[Dark Castle.]

"It has been five minutes now, where is that puny king?!" Mogo yelled in anger.

"He's at it again." Talon shook his head in irritation.

"I just hope he'll be this valor when Emperor Aaron arrive."

"I heard you Alter! Do you think I'm scared of that elf?!" Mogo stared at him with killing intent. "If it wasn't for you two, I would have sat on that throne by now!" He pointed at the black obsidian throne in front of them.

"That throne belongs to Emperor Aaron, and don't forget you're in the Undeads' territory." Talon said calmly, not even looking at him.

Levia who has been silent all along, turned her head to the door.

BANG!

The kings turned their heads to the huge double door, seeing countless Undead walking inside, mostly Skeletons.

"Who the hell asked these lowlives to enter the throne Hall?!!!" Bulk yelled in rage.

"I did, and you fools should stop shouting."

"Huh?"

Everyone turned their heads to the throne, seeing Aaron sitting on it, while protean stood beside him, in his Undead appearance.

"How did you?!" Bulk was stunned, 'I didn't even detect the two arrival.' He thought.

"I heard both of you wants to see to the end of my reign." Aaron said with a tired expression, resting his jaw on his right fist, while his elbow was rested on the hand rest of the throne.

Seeing them silent, he continued: "I want all your kingdoms and its armies under mine, You all will be my vassal kingdoms." He drew the Alliance circle then placed it in front of the kings:

"Anyone who placed their palm on it will be forever loyal to me, and you are also marking your kingdom as my vassal kingdom... If you refuse, you can step aside."

"Who do you think you are?! You're just a kid who gained some powers! And you dare have the gut to rule us Monsters!!" Mogo yelled.

"So you are against my reign?" Aaron turned to him.

"Yes! You killed my wife! What do you expect?!!" Mogo started channeling his energy.

"Your wife? The only female monster we have killed is a serpent, protean."

Protean nodded and took the form of a huge green serpent.

"My love?" Mogo was stunned.

Before his eyes, Protean took the form of the Alpha Undead again.

"Your wife is dead." He said flatly.

"You Bastard!! Kings! Let's work together and kill these Bastards! If we succeed, all his territories will be ours!"

"The kings looked at each other, not knowing what to do.

Seeing this, Bulk joined in. "Yes! Who knows, Next might be you guys! Or even your families! Do you want such a king?!!" He stood beside Mogo.

The kings nodded with a thoughtful expression.

"He's right."

"Yes, what if we are next to be killed?"

"And... He's just a kid."

"I won't let a kid rule over me and my Kingdom."

In matter of minutes, 15 kings stood behind Mogo and Bulk. Leaving five behind.

"Are you all going to answer to this kid?" Bulk asked the five with a sneer.

"Even you Levia."

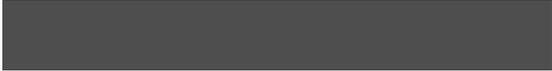

"I'm not joining any sides." Levia sat on her seat, taking the scene in front of her like a show.

"Ok then." Mogo nodded and turned to the other four. "So you four chose to side with this kid, good; we'll make sure none of you survive today."

Aaron scoffed and stood up. "Good, judgment time."

Chapter 34: Kill These Fools

BAM!

The kings turned to the door seeing a huge fox and dog walking inside, both, dragging a head behind them.

Mogo: "The laelaps?"

Bulk: "The Teumessian?"

The two were stunned seeing the head the two animals were dragging behind them.

"I asked you two to make the Wolves' Alpha submit to me, not kill him." Aaron heaved a helpless sigh.

"I told you these two will mess up." Protean grumbled.

"We're sorry my Lord, but this fool refused to submit to you, so we killed them." The Laelaps explained.

"Yes, But the beta who is now the new Alpha is now under you." The Teumessian added.

"Good, Let me see him."

BANG!

The door opened again, and a middle-age man walked inside, he walked past the two and stopped in front of Aaron, then got down on one kneel.

"Greeting to the Emperor." He said, with his head lowered.

"Hmm... A Cursed Demon stage, I'm impressed. But you are still weak." He looked at the Laelaps and Teumessian.

A woman quickly opened the door, and rushed in; she knelt beside the man and stretched forth a red core to Aaron.

"And who are you?" Aaron asked with a slight frown.

"I'm the Luna of the Wolves, This is the Core of the alpha." She said.

Aaron nodded and slowly walked towards her. "I see you don't love your husband." He stopped in front of her.

"Yes." Without hesitation, she lunged towards him with a hidden dagger, shocking everyone including the Beta.

BAM!

She froze on track, unable to move an inch.

"What a plan, you waited, followed my Minions and tries to kill me. You should be given a reward." Aaron smirked.

"You... How did you know I'm planning - Planning to kill you?" She asked with difficulty.

"My king, I have no idea about this! Give me the order, and I'll have her head!!" The Beta quickly said, his eyes filled with anger.

"Henry! You bastard!! What have we ever done to you?! Betraying your kin just for this Kid!!" She yelled.

"I see the continuation of our race, not like you two who ignored the outcome of your actions and how it affects us!!" Henry retorted.

"You!!"

"Enough, Enough." Aaron stared at her. "Let me tell you a secret, No one can lie to me; that's how I know who to trust and who to kill... Just like these kings I'm about to kill."

"Huh?!" The kings looked at one another.

Aaron smiled at her, crouched down and picked up the Core from the ground, then gave it to Henry.

"You want to be an Alpha, you'll need what it takes."

Henry took the Core with blissful eyes. "Thank you my King!!" He quickly absorbed the Great Demon stage Core.

BOOM!!

A powerful red sonic wave spread out from him, causing everyone to take a step back apart from Aaron, Protean and the Luna. The formals were powerful, while the latter was hold down by Aaron.

Henry looked at himself in shock. "I broke through to the Great Demon stage?"

"Yes, as for your first task, Kill these 15 Fools."

Henry nodded at Aaron, and turned to Mogo and his group, before their eyes, he transformed into an 8 feet black werewolf, with razor sharp teeth and long claws.

"Shit! This wolf is stronger than us!" Bulk planned to take his animal form, but found out he couldn't.

"What?"

"Do you think you can transform in my kingdom?" Aaron smirked at them, and walked back to his throne.

"You can, but only with my consent, if not." He sat down. "You are all powerless in here."

"What?!!" The fifteen kings yelled in horror, they had no chance to think as Henry pounced on them.

Aaron watched as Henry tore the kings into shreds, He then turned to the Luna.

"You are beautiful, and my people will like a toy." He looked at the four kings, Alter, Talon, and two others whose names he discovered were Vanni and Kelvin, An Herpy and Ogre.

"She'll make a good slave." Kelvin, the ogre said with a cheeky smile.

Aaron frowned at him.

Seeing Aaron's frown, Kelvin chuckled nervously.

"I didn't mean to sound rude my king, I'll go with whatever you say."

Aaron nodded at him. "Don't you need her, Alter?" He asked.

Alter carefully observed the Luna and shook his head. "Not worthy of me."

"Hahaha." Aaron laughed. "Ok, what about you Levia?" He turned his gaze to the Vampire who had been silent all along.

"How do you know my name?" Levia asked with a smile.

"Awooooo!!!"

Aaron turned to Henry with a slight frown, seeing all the bodies of the kings, he sighed.

"Graaa." Henry turned back to his human appearance, fully naked. "Sorry my king, just got excited." He said.

Aaron nodded and looked at Kelvin. "You need her?"

"Yes my king." He quickly nodded.

"Then you and Henry will have to face off, anyone who wins gets her."

Hearing Aaron, and seeing how Henry massacred the kings, he quickly shook his head.

"It's ok my king, He can have her." Kelvin quickly opened his mouth.

"Do you need her?" Aaron turned to Henry, who licked his lips.

"Yes, I can finally have a taste of her."

Aaron nodded, he pointed a finger at the Luna and struck her with an unknown energy. The Luna fell on the ground throwing up a mouthful of blood.

"I just demolished her energy, from now onward she's a normal human with no ability to take her werewolf form or even use any powers."

Hearing Aaron, everyone was stunned including Levia.

Henry nodded, and walked up to the Luna, dragging her up on her feet. "We'll have a Wonderful time together." He said, licking her cheek, her face filled with disgust; but has no energy to fight back.

"Now Levia." Aaron turned to Levia, not even bothered about Henry's action.

"Choose a side, or prepare to hand away your position to someone else."

"Fufufufu... Of course, I'm with you, King Aaron." She said with a beautiful smile.

'With what have just occurred, who'll be dumb enough to refuse?' She thought.

Aaron moved the Alliance circle to the three, who placed their palms on it, then formed a white Flag with a logo of a red sun on it.

"Place this in all your kingdoms." The flags split into hundreds, moving towards each of the Undeads.

"They'll assist you in this." He added.

The six nodded in understanding.

Flap! Flap! Flap!

"They finally arrive." He stood up, seeing their confused faces he said: "follow me outside."

Aaron and the group stopped in front of the Dark castle, they looked up seeing a three-headed Dragon, landing in front of them.

Levia: "Is that?"

Alter: "A Beast Ruler stage Dragon?"

Talon: "Emperor Aaron even made a Beast Ruler submit to him?"

"And you wanted to go against such a powerful ruler, even a Beast Ruler is under him." Henry, who was already clothed whispered to the Luna, who stood frozen staring at the 20 meters huge Dragon.

'Should we have submitted to him?' She thought inwardly.

"Welcome." Aaron said with a smile.

Saline: "So this is your castle, It's... foreboding."

Agro: "Just as its Owner."

Simon: "Where is the food, Emperor Aaron?"

"Thanks for the compliment, and Simon." Aaron stared at the left head. "Do you know these kingdoms..."

He listed the kingdoms of the 15 kings Henry killed in the hall to the Dragon, who nodded at him.

"Yes."

"I want all the Monsters in these kingdoms wipe out."

"Uh?"

The three heads were stunned, even the group behind him were horrified, Killing so many Monsters, how evil is this kid?

"Oh, I have some backup for you, who will make this a lot easier." Aaron stretched out his hand towards the right, his eyes turned bloodred.

BOOM!!!

A red lightening split open the sky, as the whole forest trembled violently.

"What is he doing now?" Levia asked in mild confusion.

The ground split open, then a huge claw broke through. An impeccable and dense amount of Demonic energy spread out from the crack, followed by another Claw.

Everyone, including the Dragon created a distance, leaving Aaron behind.

"My Grandfather gave you to me, So it's time for you to be resurrected." He lowered his hand.

BANG!!

Three huge dragon's heads came out from the crack, as the two claws forced open the split ground.

"GRRRAAAAA!!!!!!"

A terrifying roar sounded in the whole forest, chasing all the nearby monsters away. Three more heads came out making Six, its huge body slowly broke through.

The most shocking fact about this was, the huge hydra was made of bones, Meaning, This Creature was already dead.

"Emperor Aaron can also rise the dead?" Saline was Amazed, seeing the huge hydra finally came out from the ground.

BAM!!

The 25-meters-tall six-headed Skeletal Hydra landed on the ground, it was even taller than all the trees in the Forest, with a wave of its claws, countless trees were sent flying away.

After creating a clear view to the ground, it then moved its gaze around everyone present and stopped on Aaron.

"This... This creature Is a Beast Ruler Stage Monster!" Kelvin exclaimed.

"Another one!" He added.

"You Dare call me a Monster?" The six heads spoke in unison, their voice was so Demonic that everyone below the Cursed demon stage fell on their knees, holding their ears with painful expression on their faces.

Kelvin stared in shock as Vinna, Luna, Laelaps, Teumessian, and all the undead fell on their knees with pained expression on their faces.

"Are you done?" Aaron asked with a displeased tone.

The six heads looked down at Aaron, they all lowered to observe the Elf in front of them.

"Your energy signature is alike my Master--"

"--Because I'm your new master."

The heads remained silent for a moment then opened their mouths. "If you are my real master, Defeat me in a duel."

"Are you mad?! My master resurrected you just now! How dare you ask for a duel? When you should be bowing down at him." Protean yelled with killing intent.

Feeling the murderous intent, the heads turned to him. "I didn't ask him to."

"I see you are very arrogant, Let me teach you some manners." Aaron stretched out his hand towards the Hydra.

"Hahaha! What are you going to do, Elf?" The Hydra asked, but froze instantly noticing it couldn't move.

"What are you doing?!!" It yelled.

"I brought you to this world, and I can also let you leave it." Black smoke flew out from Aaron's outstretched hand towards the hydra.

"I'll burn your soul and place a new one in it."

Feeling the energy moving towards its body, the Hydra yelled: "Enough! Enough! You win." It bowed its six heads towards Aaron. Who slowly dropped his hand.

"I don't mind killing you next time, Your Master is gone, I'm now your new master."

After some thought, the Hydra finally nodded: "From now onwards, I'll take you as my Master."

Aaron nodded in approval, and activated the All Seeing Eyes.

{Name: ?? (??). Class: Celestial. Info: Extremely dangerous (powerless against you). Note: Born from the blood of Typhon, highly loyal to anyone or thing it chooses to be its master.}

"I'll call you, Calamity." Aaron announced.

"I'm honored Master." The heads said in unison.

"Protean."

"Yes, Master." Protean walked towards him, still in the Alpha Undead's appearance.

"Take some Undead with you, turned as many monsters as you can. Calamity and You three will wipe out the Kingdoms, starting from the north and south, meeting Protean in the center... Henry, Kings!"

"Yes Emperor Aaron." They stepped forward.

"If you want to gain more territory, attack from the East and West. Any kingdom you wipe out will become yours... Now dismissed."

Everyone nodded, some flew away, while others ran to their destination.

"Now to you." He turned to Calamity, the next moment: a huge red Rune appeared beneath Calamity, before Protean and the three-headed Dragon... Skin started appearing on Calamity's bones, slowly regenerating, then blood vessels.

The four stared with widened eyes as Calamity stood in front of them with complete flesh.

"How strong is Emperor Aaron?" Simon asked absentmindedly.

"Thank you, Master, for my new life." Calamity bowed its six heads.

"Now... Go on your mission."

With a nod, the three flew into the air, towards their attacks' location, with hundreds of Undeads following behind Protean.

Before Aaron could move, the space in front of him distorted, and formed a portal... Lilly and Vince walked out from it.

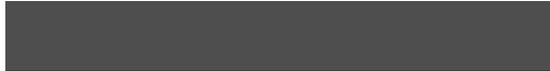

"What are you two doing here?" He asked in mild surprise.

"It has been long baby Brother, and you don't seem to miss me." Lilly walked towards him, giving her baby brother a hug. "But I miss you." She added.

"It has only been one hour and some minutes we last see ourselves." Aaron separated from the hug. "So why are you here?" He asked again.

"My Prince, The Demon Kingdom is attacking our Village in a week time."
Vince announced.

Chapter 36: Forbidden Spell

"Hmm... Are you sure about this?" Aaron asked.

"Yes, my father placed a spy in the Demon kingdom, this spy revealed this to us." Vince nodded.

"Em... Brother? Who is this?" Lilly gestured to the Luna with her head.

"Oh, Henry left you behind?" Aaron was stunned for a second, and answered Lilly.

"She's a slave, she even planned to assassinate me." He Added with a smirked.

"What?" Killing intent spread out from Lilly, towards the Luna, who shiver in fear, If Aaron hasn't sealed her powers, Lilly won't have the gut to stand in front of her, but now... Because of one mistake, she was now a slave.

"What is your name?" Lilly walked towards her.

"El... Elizabeth." She answered.

"Ok Elizabeth, why would you try to kill my baby brother? He's the sweetest and most kindhearted person I know."

'Aww, thanks sis.' Aaron's smirk widened seeing Elizabeth staring at him in shock.

'Sweet? Kindhearted? For gods' sake your brother is a Beast! Do you know how many Monsters he just gave an order to wipe out?!' She yelled inwardly, but said nothing.

"No answer?" Lilly frowned slightly.

"I... I tried to kill him because he killed my husband."

"Oh?" Lilly turned to Aaron, then at her. "Is your husband wicked?"

"No."

"Angered my brother?"

"He didn't even know him."

"Did he hurt anyone close to him? Wait, That can't be, only our mother, Me and... Maybe Emily will make him go on a killing spree, he doesn't have another... Oh... Did you harm protean?"

"My Husband isn't strong enough to harm him."

"Then, what is the reason?" Lilly was getting irritated.

"He asked us to submit, but we refused; so he killed us--"

"--You are forgetting the part that, it was my minions who killed him, not me." Aaron interjected.

Vince stood behind him, staring at the scene in confusion. "My prince, why didn't you just kill her?" He asked.

"Someone already has eyes on her, but leaving her here. It seems he values power more than her."

"Ok." Vince nodded, not saying anything.

"Oh? But she'll be useful to me." Lilly smirked and turned to Aaron. "I don't know what you did, but when you helped me rebuild my meridian, I gained an increase in Strength entering the Saint realm, and also a skill." Her eyes turned white, she turned to Elizabeth, staring straight at her eyes.

Elizabeth froze, like in a trance, staring at Lilly's white eyes.

"- From now henceforth, you'll be my loyal servant, only following my orders no matter how unpleasant they are. You'll die for me, and see me as your only master.-" She closed her eyes, while Elizabeth fell on the ground.

"And she said I'm evil." Aaron muttered.

"My prince, she has used that spell on two enraged beasts, once captured by her, you can never escape... But it seems it only work on things weaker than her." Vince explained.

Aaron nodded, 'And she said I'm the reason she got this skill, what if Calamity gained a skill from me after I resurrected him?'

Elizabeth slowly stood up, her eyes white, and face emotionless.

"She broke her." Aaron shook his head.

Lilly smiled and said: "Now go and apologize to my brother, don't forget to kowtow to him, three times."

Elizabeth nodded, and walked towards Aaron, she dropped on her knees and kowtow to him.

"I'm sorry for trying to kill you, please forgive my insolence."

Aaron nodded with a smile, "You can get up." He said, instead, she continued kowtowing.

"Fufufufu... She only answers to me, Baby brother. Can you unseal her powers, a Demon-Stage will be very useful to me."

"Won't she bypass your psychic power?" He asked.

"Fufufufu... Once I have taken you... You can't escape, no matter the Stage you're on."

Aaron nodded, and with a snapped of his finger, Elizabeth froze for a second.

"Come to me, Love."

Elizabeth stood up, and walked towards Lilly.

"You'll make a good toy." Lilly smiled and turned to Aaron. "Let's tease these two young men, remove your cloths."

Elizabeth nodded and started losing the knots on her top.

"What are you doing?!!" The two yelled in unison.

"She's a young woman, and being a werewolf she's still young and beautiful... She'll make a good sex slave to you two."

"What?!!"

"Fufufufu... I'm just joking, stop Elizabeth, and button up."

Hearing her Master, Elizabeth stopped her action, and button her top back.

"Phew!" The two sighed in relief.

"Can she answer if someone asks a question?" Aaron walked towards them.

"Yes, but she won't answer anything that is against or reveal anything important to me, that's; my secrets are safe."

"How is that possible? And how did you know she's a werewolf?"

"Well... The soul in here is gone, she's just a vessel for me to control and manipulate, we share the same mindset and knowledge... I can also give her orders without saying a single word, It's just like Snow. And you with Protean."

Aaron nodded again, and asked Elizabeth. "Are you still being control by Lilly?"

....

"Why isn't she answering?" Aaron turned to Lilly.

"I just explained it to you, She won't answer that question because it'll reveal she's being controlled by me."

"Oh, then let her answer."

"Ok."

Elizabeth: "Yes."

"Good, she is still under you, I asked because if she is pretending, I would know about it..." He smiled slightly. "Who would have thought a 16 years old girl would have such a forbidden spell." He muttered.

BOOOOOOOM!!

BANG!

GRRAAAAA!!

BOOOM!!

Lilly and Vince quickly got on guard. "What Is that sound?! It's coming from all direction!" Vince asked, totally on guard.

"Calm your sockets, it's just my Minions taking over the forest."

"Taking over the forest?" The two were dumbfounded.

"Just know, before today runs out, this whole forest will be my first conquest, Then the whole third Continent... I want to rule this whole world, to prepare for the Impending battle." He walked towards the castle.

"Impending battle?" Lilly was confused, the three quickly followed behind him.

"You'll know when the time is right." Aaron stated.

The two followed Aaron inside the dark castle, and were horrified seeing countless Undeads working back and forth, arranging everything in order.

"Monsters?" Lilly looked at Aaron's back.

"Yes, Undeads... They are all under my army." Aaron walked towards the throne hall.

"About your Minions, don't tell me they are all monsters." She watched, as he climbed the stairs and sat down on the throne.

"You are right, They are all monsters." With a wave of his hand, the core they took from the Sea serpents appeared before them.

"You three will need the extra strength in the coming war." The six cores moved towards Lilly.

"Thank you baby brother!" She exclaimed with a blissful expression, then passed two to Vince, and the other two to Elizabeth.

"Absorb it." She said, absorbing hers.

Vince and Elizabeth nodded, and absorbed theirs.

BOOM!!

"Not bad, Vince entering the Master-Realm, and Elizabeth; the Cursed-Demon stage. Impressive." Aaron nodded.

"It seems I need one more." Lilly looked at her hands with a small smile.

"Elizabeth, Get me a Demon-stage Monster's core."

Elizabeth nodded, and transformed into a white werewolf, then ran out of the castle.

"What?! A girl also needs powers." She walked towards the chairs in the hall and sat down.

"Hmm... When are you planning on bringing Emily back?" She asked, turning to her brother.

"Well... I think I'll go tomorrow, and bring her back before the Demon kingdom attack... I want her to be present when we take over the dukedoms... A kingdom can't stand without its Queen, right?" Aaron asked.

"Wow, So you were serious when you told us You're in love with Emily, but you two are still young, and this guy here was once in love with her too." She turned to Vince.

"What? No, that was just children love, besides I think someone else have caught my eyes." Vince said staring at Lilly.

"Ahem!" Lilly coughed, and turned to Aaron. "There is news that the Protectors Academy is registering New kids a day after tomorrow, I say you should go... Wait... Do you know how to survive in the city?"

"Know how to survive in a city"? Does she think I'm a child?' Aaron rolled his eyes at her.

"Yes, more than you."

"If you say so, but be careful... Everyone there is your enemy, and you also need to find a way to make money. You can't make money with mag--"

She froze as Aaron snapped his fingers, a mini mountain of gold coins appeared in front of her.

"Ahh!!!"

The two mouths dropped wide open, seeing the mountain of coins, and all gold, not even a single silver in it.

"What...?" Lilly was so stunned she was at a loss of words.

"If you think of it, I'm the richest man in all three Continents." Aaron relaxed on his throne with a smirk on his face.

"Yes... Why didn't you tell us you can make money appear out of thin air?" Lilly stood up, and jumped into the mountain of coins. "We are going to have a lot of fun together once the Demon kingdom is ours." She muttered, kissing the gold coins.

"If you are done kissing them, This is your mission."

"Huh?" She looked up at him in mild surprise. "Mission?"

"Yes." Aaron threw an envelope towards her.

"No one knows you and Vince in the Demon kingdom, go there and buy the things in that list. I need it to make an enchantment ring."

"Uh? But you can just buy one, why make one?"

"This ring belongs to my... Father." He said the word after some hesitation.

"He gave it to me, and it's the only ring that can hold a Beast Ruler in it."

"Be-- Be-- Beast Ruler?! Where can you get such a familiar from?" She asked, checking the things on the list. "All these things are freakishly expensive--" she paused seeing where she was sitting on. "Never mind."

"I already have one, That's why I need it."

The two nodded, finally getting why he needed such an enchantment ring.

[Some moments later.]

BAM!

They turned to the door, seeing a White wolf covered in blood, walking inside with a Core in its mouth.

"Wow! You found it, Love!"

Lilly sat up, and gestured for Elizabeth to come closer... She took the core and quickly absorbed it, entering the Heavenly-Saint Realm.

"Now, we can get going." She stood up. "Are you ok, Love?" She asked, seeing the blood on Elizabeth's fur.

Elizabeth turned back to her human appearance, stunning the two young men in the hall. What they were afraid of seeing was just revealed to them.

"For heaven's sake! Give her something to wear!" Aaron yelled, looking at the side.

"Yes." Vince added, his eyes were shut tight.

"Incingunt (Enclothe)" Lilly quickly stated.

A white dress appeared on Elizabeth, while the two sighed in relief.

"Tell her she shouldn't do that in front of men. Again!" Aaron advised.

"Yeah, yeah, yeah." Lilly rolled her eyes at him. And with a snapped of her finger, a portal appeared behind Elizabeth.

"Huh?"

Seeing her brother's stunned expression, she chuckled and walked past Elizabeth. "I'm practicing Silent spells." With that said, she walked inside the portal, followed by Elizabeth.

Vince bowed at Aaron.

"If you need any help winning her over, I'll give you some tips."

"Huh?" Vince's face redder instantly hearing Aaron.

"You can go."

"Thank you, My Prince." Vince bowed again, and walked inside the portal, which closed afterward.

"But if you hurt her, I'll personally have your head." He added. "Don't worry Emily, I'm coming to get you... I wonder how you are doing in the academy with your powers concealed."

BAM!!

The door opened, and Protean walked inside in rage, all his body was covered in blood.

"I see you have been busy." Aaron smirked.

Protean glared at him, and sighed. "We have encountered another Beast-Ruler stage Monster, That Bitch is very difficult to deal with, so I came back to tell you." He grumbled.

"A woman." Aaron stood up with a smile, "Then, let's add to our forces."

Chapter 38: Marking His Territories.

[Flesh Eater's Forest.]

Whoosh!

A figure moved with incredible speed, destroying all the surrounding Skeletons.

"You fools don't pose a threat to me, If you won't leave, I'll just have to wipe you all!" The female figure yelled in rage.

Whoosh!

BAM!

She came to a stop, staring at the Handy work she had done with the Skeletons.

"Pathetic, I just wonder where your king is?" She muttered.

"I'm right here, Bitch."

She looked up seeing Protean standing behind a young boy, who looks around 12 years old.

"Is this your Emperor? A kid? You are really looking down on me."

Aaron observed the green hair woman in front of him, her eyes were bright crimson, which glowed from time to time. What caught his attention was the tail behind her and her two backward curve horns.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Name: Modena (The Speeder). Class: Celestial. Info: Extremely dangerous (powerless against you). Note: An hybrid of a Human, Demon and Khalkotauroi. High resistant to fire, Darkness, and elemental attacks... And one of the best Assassins in the whole ten realms.}

"Hmm..." Aaron thought for a moment, then pointed a finger at her. "[Fire Bullet.]" A flame in the size of a bullet flew towards Modena who stood on the spot, not even planning on dodging.

BAM!

A Mini explosion sounded, raising a cloud of dust and smoke into the air.

"Fufufufu... Is this how weak your Emperor is?" The smoke dispersed, revealing an unscratched Modena.

"Oh...? I'm just checking out a theory." Aaron finally opened his mouth. "So Modena, I have an offer for you... Join me, or you die today, I'll even forgive you for Killing my Undeads."

"Hahaha!!!" Modena burst into laughter. "Forgive me? Do you know who you are talking too?"

Aaron and Protean calmly landed in front of her.

"Ok then. Let us have a bet, if I defeat you in a battle, you'll join me... If you defeat me, you can do whatever you want with me."

Modena was silent, she thought for a moment then nodded. "I hope you keep you world, Emperor." She said with sarcasm.

"Come on then."

She grinned revealing rows of white razor sharp teeth, without warning she vanished from view.

"Hmm, stealth skill. How impressive." Aaron simply took a step back, dodging Modena's blade slash.

"How did you?" She was stunned for a Second, then vanished again. "You won't be so lucky next time."

Aaron sighed softly, and took a step to the side, dodging Modena's attack again.

"You!!!" Enraged, she vanished.

Aaron smirked, and took a step back, then jumped up, and landed on his feet, lower his head and leaped back...

"Are you tired?" He asked landing on his feet.

"You!! Huff, Huff, Huff! How... How can you predict all my attacks?!" Modena yelled in mild surprised.

"Well, you aren't the first that have used this skill against me, but I'll say you are more experience that Emily... For your question, even if you split into ten, You won't be able to touch my cloth let alone my skin."

"Really? We'll see about that." The next moment, she split into 10. "Let's see how you stop this."

The ten Vanished from view, heading towards Aaron, who has a smile on his face. 'Who would have thought she could multiply.'

Whoosh!

Whoosh!

Whoosh!!

Whoosh!!!

Countless attacks flew towards Aaron, who surprisingly dodged every single one with a smile on his face.

"Is it me, or are you getting slower?" He mocked with a cheeky smile.

"I'll kill you!!" Modena yelled from the void, the nine clones appeared above Aaron, smashing downward on him.

Aaron simply slides backwards, using the wind to stabilize his body.

"Got you!" Modena appeared behind him and slash with her sword.

BANG!!

Her eyes widened, seeing her sword blade in Aaron's grip.

"Phew, I almost trip right now." He smirked at her.

"Wha-- How?! There is no way... I'm a Beast-Ruler stage... How?" She was so stunned she couldn't complete a single sentence.

"I hope you figured I haven't made a single move from the start, you are a good Assassin, but compare to me who was the number one Assassin, you are nothing." The next moment he Vanished.

"What? He can also use stealth?!" Modena quickly summoned her clones back, who stood around her looked.

"Nope, this is an invisibility skill I got from one of my Allies." Aaron's voice sounded all over the place.

BAM!!

An unknown force shot towards her, destroying all her clones and colliding with Modena throwing her to the ground.

"You are powerful, but in front of me... You are powerless."

'What the hell?! Why can't I detect him? Who really is this kid?!' She slowly stood up, only to be kicked back to the ground.

"How dare you!" She slashed her sword in front of her, cutting thin air.

"I'm up here."

"Uh?" She looked up seeing Aaron Sitting on a tree branch staring at her with a playful smile.

"If I wanted you dead, do you think you'll still be alive...?" He asked.

Modena stared at him for a moment and sighed. 'This! He's playing with me from the start, How strong is this Emperor?'

BOOM!!

An unknown pressure descended on the forest, forcing her to her knees.

"What the?! This is a pressure of a peak Beast-Ruler stage!" She looked up at Aaron, seeing a smirk on his face. "Is this kid a..."

"Grrraaaaaa!!!!"

A loud roar sounded, turning all the trees apart from the one Aaron was sitting on into dust, a clear view to the sky was then created.

When Modena saw the Six-Headed Hydra staring at her, she almost fainted from its intense gaze.

'What Is a peak Beast-Ruler stage doing here?! I thought these stages were wiped out in the war! How did?!

"Is this puny hybrid troubling you, Master?" The six heads asked in unison.

"She doesn't have the strength to achieve that." Aaron sneered.

'Master? Master?! This Creature who is at the top of the food chain just called this kid, "Master"!!! What Is happening here??!

"I won't ask again, Modena. Do you submit to me or die."

'Who wouldn't submit to such power?! She yelled inwardly, and slowly kowtowed to him.

"You are my master from now henceforth."

"Good." Aaron created the Alliance Circle and passed it to her. Modena stared at it for some moments, then placed her palm on it, it shattered and entered her body.

"If you betray me, you die." Aaron stood up, he leaped into the air, landing on Calamity's first head, which was the biggest out of the six.

"If I need you, you'll know... And stop killing my people.... Calamity."

"Yes Master?"

"What about your task?"

"All wiped out."

Aaron nodded and spread his Energy hundreds of miles away... Before Modena; The ground split opened, and a huge metal white Flag with a red sun logo, standing 10 meters high rose from the ground. An eerie demonic Energy spread out from it towards other flags, which then covered the entire forest.

"From now onward, all my Allies will be invincible to any attacks when inside my territories."

Calamity, Protean and Modena stood frozen in shock. "This was beyond powerful!"

"Let's go."

Calamity nodded, and flew away from the location, Protean stared at Modena one last time, then followed behind the two.

'What a kid?' Modena thought, staring at the flag.

[Sirens' Island.]

BANG!

RUMBLE!!

The five Sirens looked at the ocean in shock, as a huge metal flag rose from the sea, standing 10 meters above the water.

"What the hell is that?" Elisa stood up from the sand they were sitting on.

The next Moment:

"From now onward, all my Allies will be invincible to any attacks when inside my territories." Aaron's voice sounded in their heads.

The girls looked at each other and let out beautiful smiles.

[Center of the Sea.]

[Mali's kingdom.]

Mali sat on his throne, staring at the huge Metal flag pole, that lead to the surface.

"Emperor Aaron is full of surprises." He muttered.

"Why don't you want me to see him, Father?" The young lady looking her early 20s, sitting beside him asked.

"We can't reveal ourselves to the surface dwellers." Mali turned to his daughter.

"I'll use their appearance, they won't know my real race."

"You are just an Omega-stage, anyone stronger than you will see through your disguise."

"But--"

"--No!" He said in mild annoyance, and sighed, massaging his temples. "Ok, I'll only let you to the surface if you enter the Demon-stage, without that... You are staying here."

She thought for a moment, and nodded.

[Merfolks' Kingdom.]

[Heartily's Castle, Throne Hall.]

"This boy, what did he mean by "Invincible in his territories"? Vico."

"Yes my queen?" Vico who stood beside her stepped forward.

"Attack me with your strongest attack."

"What?!" Vico was stunned in place.

"Just do it, that's an order."

He sighed deeply, and walked forward standing in front of her. He infused his Energy in his fist and sent a powerful Spinning fist phantom towards Heartily, who calmly sat on her throne.

Whoosh!!

The two were stunned, as the attack past through her body, and her throne like she was invisible, and struck the wall behind creating cracks on it.

"WOW! I'm Impressed!" She pointed a finger at Vico and sent a powerful water ball, which struck Him, throwing him to the other end of the hall.

"I see... Only those who placed their hands on the Alliance Circle will have this advantage. I can't wait to conquer you Emperor Aaron."

"Augh!!"

"Oh, I'm sorry for that Vico. Just testing something out." She smiled sweetly at him.

'Can't you test it out on someone else?!' He grumbled inwardly, and slowly stood up.

"It's ok, My Queen." He said with a smile.

Chapter 39: Shopping

[Demons' Kingdom.]

In a dim Alley, the space distorted and a gateway appeared, Lilly, Elizabeth and Vince calmly walked out; the three putting on black cloaks, covering their faces with the hood.

"You need to stay close, the Demons and Elves aren't particularly in a good relationship." Vince said with a small smile, while Lilly just rolled her eyes at him.

"Who can hurt me here? Don't forget I'm a heavenly Saint, and she's with me." She walked past him, followed by Elizabeth; both heading to the exit.

Vince smiled and followed behind the two. "What's on the list?" He asked, catching up with Lilly.

"A Caponized flower."

"A Capo--what??" Vince was stunned.

Lilly turned to him with a slight frown. "A Caponized flower is any flower which pistils have been removed... They didn't teach you this in school?"

"I... I know that, I just forgot the name, yes..." He lied, rubbing the back of his neck in embarrassment.

"Ok, What about Blood-Red-Eye?" She asked, continue walking towards the exit.

"Blood-Red-Eye?" Vince scratched his head in utter confusion.

"Forget it, let's hope we can find all these ingredients in the city."

Vince nodded... The Three walked out of the Alley coming in contact with countless demons walking all over the street, some has a tail, other extra limbs, and some even has two heads.

Lilly and Vince looked at each other in mild surprised.

"Welcome to the Demons' Kingdom." Vince said with a curt bow.

"Moron." Lilly muttered, she and Elizabeth walked inside the busy street.
"First, the Flower store."

"Hey, wait for me!" Vince quickly followed behind.

After some moments of traversing the street, the three finally reached the flower store.

"I thought you're from the Demon kingdom? How come you don't even know the store?" Lilly asked in mild frustration.

"This is the second time I'm entering the capital city, oh... We also have some Allies here, maybe they can help in some way."

"Allies? They'll be useful, but we need to complete this task." She walked forward, pressing a green button on the door.

"Customers!!" A Middle-age demoness with Ivory skin and cat ears quickly opened the door.

"Please, Please, come inside!" She said with enthusiasm.

"She seems happy seeing us." Vince muttered in a low voice, as the three entered the store.

"Welcome, Gosh! I haven't had customers in a week now, everyone is always after other things and power, No one want flowers." She said leading them inside.

"With the situation with the Monsters, No one will bother about flowers, If you know this, why didn't you switch your provision?" Vince asked.

"Oh no Young man, This store was left behind by my family, I can't just close it and start another one."

"Don't mind him, If you have closed the store, we won't have got the chance to be here." Lilly glared at Vince, and turned to the Woman, before she could say anything, she spoke first:

"You aren't a demon, young girl. Your hood can conceal your identity, but not your smell."

'I should have used Brother's perfume, Well... I hope it won't draw trouble.'
She thought and nodded. "True, I'm an elf. What about you? You don't look like a demon."

"Fufufufu... You got good eyesight girl, Yes... I'm a half beast and half Demon."

"Ok, About why we are here... We want to buy a Caponized flower. Do you have any of those?"

"A Caponized Flower? Hmm...." She held her chin with a thoughtful expression.

"Follow me." She walked inside the store.

"She's a lot smarter than you." Lilly said, and followed behind the Woman.

Vince raised his head from the flowers he was sniffing, and quickly followed behind the two, while Elizabeth followed last.

"This is it." The Woman stopped and effortlessly leaped into the air, taking a flower vest from the shelf, and landed in front of the two.

"This is one of the rarest of Flowers, only this one cost a total of 20,000 gold coins--"

"--20,000?!" Vince exclaimed in shock.

"Don't mind his attitude." Lilly opened her palm and a golden crystal appeared on it.

"This... This is the highest level of crystals, only those of royalties could have it!" The Woman exclaimed.

"My mother is a princess, and she gave it to me... Can we do the exchange now?"

"Yes, yes." She quickly opened her palm, and a green crystal appeared on it. Lilly nodded, and with a thought, 20,000 gold coins were deducted from her crystal and appeared on the Woman's.

"Thank you so much, let me help you package it."

"No need." Lilly snapped her finger, and the Flower vanished. "We'll get going now." She stored her Crystal, and walked towards the exit, followed by Vince and Elizabeth.

"Wait Princess."

The three stopped and turned to her.

'That's why a Cursed-Demon stage Werewolf is her bodyguard, this young Demon might be her friend... They are rich, Maybe I can sell my collection of things.' She thought and quickly said to the three.

"I got a collection of rare things, maybe you can take a look at it."

Lilly looked at Vince and turned to her: "You'll have to help us with things on our list, we are both new to the city, and don't know the places."

"If you buy any of my collection, I'll take you anywhere you like." The Woman said with a smile.

"What's your name?" Lilly asked with a small smile.

"I'm called, Kira."

"Ok Kira, I'm Lilly, he's Vince, and she's Elizabeth... But before we go to your collection, I need to call my brother."

"Huh?"

"Lilly, why call the prince? And how can you call him from here?" Vince was confused.

"He's the only one who'll know how valuable her Collections are." She smiled at Kira, and continue:

"And if he likes any of her collections, he'll buy it no matter the price."

'No matter the price?' Money Signs appeared in Kira's eyes.

"Please call the prince." She quickly said.

"I haven't tried this before, so I don't know if it'll work." Lilly muttered under her breath, and closed her eyes, trying to establish a connection with Aaron.

"What is it Lilly? I said you can only use our telepathy communication if the issue is serious."

Aaron's voice sounded in her head.

Lilly rolled her eyes, and said: "There are some rare collections here, I think it'll be valuable to you."

She waited but heard nothing, the next moment; the space behind them distorted, and a gateway appeared. Two figures slowly walked out.

"Huh?" Everyone was stunned seeing this.

Chapter 40: Lilly's Plan

"What do we have here?" Protean who was in the Griffin King's appearance asked, standing on Aaron's shoulder.

"My prince." Vince bowed.

"You don't always have to be so formal." Aaron sighed, and turned to Lilly.

"Where are the collections you talked about?" He asked.

"My prince, This way." Kira quickly interjected. "The Collections are in my Vault." She smiled.

'Why can't I feel his Realm? Or is he a normal... Wait? He's a demon?' Kira was utterly confused, but her smile remained.

"Lead the way." Hearing Aaron, she started walking, leading the ground to the basement of the store.

"Have you ever seen a store with a basement?" Vince muttered in a low voice, as they walked down the dim stairway.

The group didn't reply, and followed Kira to the end of the stairs.

"These are my collection!"

The touches in the basement suddenly lit up, showing a huge pile of both treasures and junks (old weapons, and cloths.)

"Choose whatever you like." Kira added.

The three nodded, and walked towards the Collections. Vince picked up a wooden bow, and placed it down. "Nope."

Lilly walked towards a flower, and slowly observed it. "Brother, what is this?" She asked.

Aaron walked up to her, and observed the plant.

{Name: Winter-Sea Flower. Class:Rare. Info: Increase your Water Magic by 50%, but reduced 30% of your Earth magic.}

"It's a water plant, Known as; Winter-Sea Flower, it'll help increase your water magic." He said the last part in a low voice.

"The prince is right, that's indeed the Winter-Sea Flower." Kira said with a smile.

"Hmm... If baby brother said it'll help with my water magic, I'll take it."

'Her Improvement says, she needs to eat a water plant... So this flower will be beneficial to her.' He thought... He suddenly felt an energy signature in the heap of collections.

With a wave of his index finger, all the unwanted collections moved to the side stunning Kira.

'I thought he's a normal demon? How did? He doesn't even have Sid or demonic Energy?'

Aaron walked towards the small silver box on the ground, he crouched down and picked it up.

"What is this?" He asked Kira.

"I don't know, Prince... My father brought it from the Abyssal gates. That's all I know."

He nodded, and slowly opened the Box. Protean, standing on his shoulder fixed his gaze on it.

"An Egg?" The two were stunned.

"You opened it? How? For years now, no one can open this box." Kira was bewildered, and clearly taken aback.

{All seeing eyes.}

{Name: Lernaean Hydra's egg. Class:Divine. Info: The Lernaean Hydra is one of the Ancient Creatures in the realms, but was killed by Hercules and the egg was lost forever... The only way to hatch the egg is with a soul of a powerful being.}

'A Divine class? This is the first time I'm seeing it, and it's an egg... I wonder how powerful the creature in here will be, but where am I going to see such a powerful soul?' He turned to Kira.

"Price?"

"Well..." She was confused, not knowing what to say: 'What should I say? I don't even know what that egg is, what if it's useless, and he comes after me later, But what if it's an egg from a powerful Monster? That must be the reason he's asking for the Price.' After debating for a whole 5 seconds, she finally opened her mouth.

"My Prince, that egg has stayed here for more than 6 Months, and hasn't hatched; I don't know if it will ever hatch... So are you sure about buying it?"

'Safety first.'

Aaron thought for a moment: "I'm sure."

"Ok, I'll sell it for 50,000 Gold Coins, that isn't muc--" Kira's eyes widened, as a 3 feet high pile of gold coins appeared in front of her.

"That's 1,000,000 gold coins, I need the egg, those weapons, and those things. And that--"

"--My prince, you can take everything, I don't care; they are all yours."

"Ok then." Aaron waves his hand, all the Collections instantly vanished from the room.

"Lilly, you don't need to buy any ingredient, There are all in the Collections, but only the Caponized flower."

"Oh, we have that." Lilly brought out the Flower from her storage space, and gave it to him.

"Thanks." Aaron nodded at her, he turned to Kira who was quickly packing the coins on the ground, and turned back to Lilly:

"Are you three coming?"

"Not yet, there's something we need to do in the City, and Miss Kira here will help us."

"Yes, Yes, Yes! Anything." Kira said with a beautiful smile.

Aaron nodded, he and protean Vanished from the basement.

Kira stood up after saving all the coins in her crystals. "What do you need help with, My princess?" She asked.

"Do you know how to enter the castle?"

Kira was confused by the question, but still nodded, and said: "I know how to enter, princess. But... The army is preparing for war, It won't be easy."

"I know." Lilly smiled. "You need to do one thing for me."

"I'm listening." Kira said.

Vince leaned his back on a wooden pillar, staring at the two.

"I want you to enter the Castle and steal all the king's money."

"What?" Kira was stunned.

"Do you like your king?" Lilly asked.

"I don't like him, he increased the tax and made life difficult for the people, but stealing his money--"

"--I'm doing this, so the poor people can gain their money back... Think about this, If that Tyrant King loss all his money, what will happen?"

"Hmm... He'll ask for more Tax."

"Correct, and knowing the poor demons' taxes won't be able to cover his treasury, he'll ask the Nobles to also pay it, which will surely anger them, and a civil war will break out."

Vince and Kira blinked in shock. 'This princess is really heartless.'

"What is your gain in all this?" Kira asked out of curiosity.

"I'm not doing this for myself, but for my brother." She smiled sweetly at her.
