

REBORN WITH THE ALL SEEING EYE

Chapter 51: Place It On 100,000 Pounds

Aaron waited for her to continue.

"Well..."

Stellar shook her head, and opened her mouth;

"She said you are here to take her back, and She's asking if you can take us both out of here... If you can, then I'm ready."

Aaron and Protean blinked a couple of times in surprised, Aaron then moved forward, held Emily's chin and raised her head to face him.

"Are you scared of me?"

Emily looked at his blue eyes in confusion, but shook her head vigorously.

"Well... At first, I am, but not anymore."

Aaron smiled, and asked again;

"Why can't you say what's on your mind then? I swear to you with my Li--"

Emily quickly closed his lips with her hand. "No, my Prince... I... I'm not worth you, swearing anything with your... Life." She chocked saying the last word.

"Prince?" Stellar's eyes widened. "You didn't say anything about this girl! Why didn't you tell me he's a prince?"

"Shhh!!" Emily glared at her friend, causing her to shut her mouth, trying to hold back her excitement of leaving with a prince.

If her best friend becomes the queen, won't she be the best Friend of a Queen, and her right hand?

Aaron slowly pulled Emily's hand from his lips: "I just want to say, You have the right to ask me anything, All you need to do is mention it, and it will be provided."

Emily blinked in surprise, but nodded shyly, she didn't believe Women can feel butterflies in their belly, come on; how can a butterfly appear in a woman's belly? But she was feeling at the moment.

Stellar looked at her friend, and was genuinely happy for her.

Aaron turned his gaze to Stellar, activating the All Seeing eyes.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Name: Stellar Jon.}

{Realm: Awakened.}

{Class: Novice-Priest.}

{Race: Beast folk (Rare Bloodline).}

{Strength: 70.}

{Agility: 100.}

{Defense: 50.}

{Endurance: 90.}

{Novice Affinity: Water.}

{Attack: 50. Critical - 100.}

{Health point: 200.}

{Improvement: You can only see Improvement if the target is related to you...

Example: Love, Family Relationship, or friends.}

'Hmm... She's too weak, But What is this "Rare Bloodline" maybe the Improvement section can help me.' He stretched out his hand towards Stellar.

"I'm Aaron, Friends?"

"And I'm stellar, Yeah, Friends." Stellar shook his hand and froze, feeling the soft skin on Aaron's hand.

'Can a guy's skin be so soft?'

Only the feel of his hand almost made her mind spin, yeah, she's 13. A year older than Emily, but that didn't mean she wasn't a woman... A young one.

'It still counts.'

Feeling the gaze she was receiving from her friend, Stellar quickly freed Aaron's hand, she then smiled at her friend, and whispered to her ear.

"I now know why Princess Angela don't want to leave him, Aaron is a pure incubus."

"If you say that again, I'll pull your ears."

"Eh!!" Stellar exclaimed, holding both her cute rabbit ears in fright.

Aaron stared at her for a moment, he will be a fool if he didn't know how his presence influence women, there's only one explanation, One of the demons has an Incubus's skill, he just learned, it could be activated if a woman touched him... He turned to Emily.

'Is she... I touched her more than once.' He thought, then turned his gaze to Mariel, who was smiling at him:

'It all makes sense now... Shit! I need to be careful, I hate Harem, and I'm not planning on having any...' He sighed.

'Now, Stellar's Bloodline.'

He activated The All Seeing Eyes.

{Improvement: Drink the blood of 100 Victims, and unlock her Blood Rabbit Bloodline.}

Aaron searches the memories he received from his grandfather, the late Demon King, and got the answer he was looking for.

'The Blood Rabbits were once the rulers of the beast folks, known as one of the most-strongest Bloodlines, but after a tragedy that befall the Bloodline, the Blood Rabbit were completely wiped out.' Aaron paused and observed the Carefree Bunny girl in front of him.

'One survived, I'm guessing her powers and Bloodline was sealed so the ones who killed her bloodlines won't be able to locate her... Such powerful Bloodline will be needed In my Army... But first; I'll have to see how strong she is, Protean can help with that.'

After making his plan, he turned to the test. It was Harold's turn.

He walked forward, and went straight to the 5,000 pounds, which was actually 25,000 pounds iron, of course Harold doesn't know that.

With a resolute determination, he placed his hand on it, when he tried to lift it, the normal looking black iron didn't even budge an inch.

'What the hell?! I can lift 3,000 pounds, so why can't I even move 5,000?'

Harold was stunned, he channeled his Sid energy to his hands, and tried; this time with both hands, but still couldn't move it.

'Fuck! This iron isn't a 5,000 pounds, it must be more!' With gritted teeth, and an embarrassed expression, He moved to the 3,000 Pounds, and lifted it after some Seconds, with only one hand.

"Good Job! You really prove to be your father's son!"

The Dean said with a smile, while the guests just nodded, Harold's grandfather, who was also Aaron's grandfather wasn't please with his grandson's result, He expected him to lift the 5,000 pounds, not some mere 3,000.

Dean: "Angela will go next."

Angela, who had been burning in anger for a while now, took a deep breath to calm her heart, after some Seconds, she stepped forward; and stopped in front of the Table.

Although she wanted to win, she already knew the iron here was a freaking 25,000 pounds, she turned to the Dean.

"Why did you say it's only 5,000, when it's 25,000 pounds?"

"Wow! Good job on detecting that... You gain extra points, even If anyone lift the 3,000 pounds, You win."

Everyone frowned slightly upon hearing the Dean, isn't this cheating?

Mariel who had been drawn to Aaron from the moment she touched his hand, placing the gold coins on it yesterday, couldn't sit still.

"Sorry for intruding, Dean. But what about Jack who hasn't taken the test? He might have known it's already 25,000 pounds."

"True, But if Jack is really a Sky Realm, he'll be able to lift it, Right Jack?" The Dean turned to Aaron, who just smirked at him.

Angela nodded, and easily picked up the 25,000 pounds with both her hands, rising it above her head, stunning everyone including Aaron and Protean into place.

"WOW!!!"

"WHAT THE HELL?!"

"SHE LIFTED IT!!!"

"I'M SHOCKED!!!"

"Hahaha... That's my daughter!!"

The Human emperor laughed heartily, while the other royal families stared at him in envy, for cultivating such a powerful child.

"Nice! That's my sister! I'll see how this kid beats that, even if he picked up the iron, the extra points will help her get the first position in this test." Aura thought with a pleased smile.

Angela nodded at everyone, then placed the iron on the table, smiled at Aaron and walked back to her spot.

'This girl, I should keep my distance from her, if she touches me I don't know what will happen, I'm just lucky this skill doesn't work on my sister and mother.'

He sighed in relief.

"Jack, it's your turn."

Aaron nodded, while Protean flew from his shoulder, and landed on Emily's.

Aaron walked to the irons on the table, and calmly observed them.

"What's he doing?" Aura asked in mild confusion.

"Don't worry club leader, whatever he chooses, he'll lose." The Vice said with a chuckle.

"This kid is interesting." Kara who stood above the clouds, smiled.

"Yeah, The Dean is just seeing how far he can go." The third elder added.

"Of course, we need to see what our chosen general is capable of." The second added.

"True."

The rest nodded in approval.

Everyone fixed their gazes at Aaron as he turned around to the Dean, and said with a smile.

"25,000 will be like cheating to me, I'm stronger than Angela, so... Lifting the same weight as her did not feel well with me... I'll be cheating, don't you think I'm right, Angela?" He turned to Angela, flashing her a smile.

Angela froze in shock, she stared at the most handsome boy's smile she had ever seen, and was speechless and lost, completely captivated.

"Shit!" Aura facepalmed herself. 'What is wrong with my sister? And what is this urchin planning??!'

Seeing his effect on Angela, Aaron smiled more. 'Face one of my plan, activated.' He turned to the Dean.

"Are you sure about this?" The Dean asked.

"100%, and please, Place it on 100,000 Pounds."

Silence...

Deadly Silence...

The whole academy was like a graveyard, even the councils above the clouds were stunned in place... 100,000!! Who will dare try to lift that?!

"Ok."

The Dean snapped his finger, the next moment, the table shattered, not able to carry the increased weight.

"I need one of your guardians to try and lift it, so it won't seem like you did nothing."

"....."

*

*

*

Everyone was stunned for the third or... More times, Aaron was clearly crazy.

*

Chapter 52: Vampires

"Young man, do you think we'll reject your score? Saying that you cheated."

Aaron just shrugged: "Anything can be possible, I just want to be ready for everything."

"Ok, My First Guardian will step forward."

The Dean turned to the first guardian, The middle-age man nodded and stood up... He walked up to the destroyed table, squat down and picked up the iron.

To everyone's shock, he couldn't lift it over his abdomen.

"Even a Legendary realm couldn't lift it, what can a kid do?"

"I don't know, or... Is this kid making fun of the Academy?"

"He won't dare, the Academy's powers are far from reach."

"Yeah, even the Councils are backing them up."

The man dropped the 100,000 pounds iron on the ground after two minutes of trying, he was breathing heavily.

"Are you satisfy Young man?"

The guardian asked, looking up at Aaron.

"Not really, but asking more will seem rude." Aaron sighed.

Everyone's confusion were palpable.

"Whose kid is this?"

"So domineering."

Aaron walked towards the small iron which was the size of a baby's fist, but weigh 100,000 Pounds.

Under everyone's intense gazes, Aaron bend slightly and picked up the iron like picking up a piece of small stone.

"Eh?!!"

"What the fuck!!"

"...."

"....."

"...."

Everyone was so stunned that none were able to speak for a whole minute, just staring at Aaron as he tosses the 100,000 Pounds iron in his hand.

"Are you sure it's 100,000?" Aaron turned to the Dean with a confused look.

"What are you doing, Dean?! Why did you give this kid a stone that weight nothing, and others a hundred to thousands of Pounds?!!" Harold's father, who was also Aaron's step uncle, stood up in rage.

The guest nodded in agreement, there is no way this kid could lift a 100,000 Pounds iron with one hand, and even tossing it into the air and catching it back.

Yes, the only explanation is; the Academy wants him to pass without effort, and that's unfair to the other kids, which is also cheating.

And this boy played a good role in it, Asking them to set the weight to 100,000, and even asking the guardian to pick it up.

What a conspiracy!

"I... I..."

For the first time in his life, the Dean was completely lost, not knowing what to say, or how to answer.

Whoosh!!

Harold's father quickly ducked down, as the iron flew past him and collided on the wall behind, creating spider webs on it.

All the royal families stood up in shock, they all turned to the Wall seeing the iron still stuck on it, then turned their heads to Aaron.

"You should be happy I missed, My Mum told me not to kill anyone who tries to wrong me." He said, adding a small lie in it.

Harold's father stood up straight and was enraged, if he wasn't in the Legendary realm, that iron would have struck his head.

"You Bastard!! Don't you know the punishment for attacking a Royal family in Elvis is death?!!" He yelled.

Harold was enraged, but remained silent.

"I don't know." Aaron shrugged indifferently.

"You!!!"

Harold's father channeled his Sid energy, and sent a powerful energy punch towards Aaron, shocking everyone present.

No one expected the first son of the Elves race will attack a kid, Although the Kid did wrong, but... Attacking with such force will surely kill him.

Before the Dean or anyone could act, Aaron simply slapped the fist with a bored expression, shattering it in an instant.

"What?!"

"""" ... """"

"How powerful is this kid?"

"My Mum said I shouldn't kill anyone, but... she didn't say I shouldn't injure anyone." Aaron pointed a finger at Harold's father.

"[Fire Bullet.]" A flame in the size of a bullet shot out from his finger, heading straight to the stunned prince's head.

"Enough, Young man."

The fire bullet instantly vanished when it was only an inch from the Prince's skull.

"I thought you guys won't come down? Can you tell them I didn't cheat?"

Aaron raised his head, staring at the five figures who slowly descended from the sky.

"You said your Mum asked you not to kill anyone, but that attack will surely kill the Prince, and you'll then have to face the anger of the Elves's kingdom."

Kara landed on the ground, with her council of elders.

"We won't be able to help you." She added.

"I don't need help, Well... For the test I do, but against the Elves... I can wipe them out anytime I like."

He said the truth... Calamity, Modena, the three-headed dragon and him, were more than enough to destroy a whole race.

The Elves' Royal family frowned deeply upon hearing Aaron.

"Young man, have my people or family angered you?" The King asked.

"Not physically, but yeah." Aaron shrugged, not even looking at the king.

"Die!!!"

A figure appeared behind Aaron and plunged a dagger at his skull, only to struck nothing.

"Huh?" The hooded figure looked around in confusion.

"An Assassin? How nice, come on now; Who sent you?" Aaron's cold voice sounded all over the place... He wasn't the only one angry.

"How dare you attack someone in our midst?" Kara's eyes turned white, countless trails of light shot out from her, and wrapped around the Assassin.

"Don't kill her."

"Huh?"

Now everyone was dumbfounded, as Aaron appeared beside Kara... She turned her head to Him, then nodded.

The three guardians who were already on guard, walked up to the hooded figure and removed the hood.

Seeing the Skull tattoo on the lady's right cheek, everyone's eyes widened in shock.

"How the hell did you enter the academy?!" Kara asked, her voice filled with killing intent.

"You fools think your spells and runes can hold us trap in the Second Continent, Hahaha! It'll be fun to see the destruction of your races!!"

This lady has the appearance of a human, but Aaron could sense something else in her, A very dark aura... He fixed his gaze on the lady.

"If you are after them, why did you try to kill me?"

The Lady looked down at Aaron: "You have been concealing the truth for so long Kara, Why don't you tell them about the missing children? Hahaha." She let out a sinister laughter, and added:

"You are powerful Jack, If the Academy train you, You'll be a headache to us, that's why I acted to Kill you, before you joinjoin them."

"Second Continent?" Aaron observed the lady, She was in a black cloak which covered every single part of her body... But what caught his attention, was the two fangs in the lady's mouth.

'A Vampire?'

He quickly activated The All Seeing Eyes, but what he got was different from what he got on Stellar.

{All seeing eyes.}

{Name: Rhea. Class: Elite. Info: An Elite vampire, proficient on sneak attacks and extremely deadly (Powerless against you), she's here on a mission.}

"She showed herself to kill you, so I'll ask; Should we give her a quick death or a Painful one?" Kara asked with a smile, staring at Aaron.

"Are the Vampires a good race?" Aaron asked instead.

"No, They are even worse than the monsters in the forests, they kill, rape, and even steal."

"You slimy bitch!! We Never did any of that-- Mmm!!!"

The lady struggled as a white rope bound her mouth.

"So... What is your say, Jack?"

'Something isn't right here, If the Vampires aren't wicked, then why are they sealed off? This lady said the truth, but Kara's lying.'

Thanks to his ability, No one could lie to him... No one.

"Let's keep her alive for now."

Aaron sudden reply, caught everyone off guard, it's said that the Vampires are even worse than the Monsters, they were heartless, drink the Blood of their victims and even more... They're just like the goblins who raped any female who get close to the Second Continent... The continent was filled with countless things, that's why it was sealed off.

Although, not all the truth was revealed, No one dare to ask the council for anything else, they simply kept their distance... Now, Aaron's attention has been drawn.

"I'm sorry, Jack. But we have to kill her." Kara stretched forth her hand towards the lady, high amount of Sid energy condensed in her open palm, as it glowed white.

'This bitch is a Mage, and a powerful one at that... It'll be a shock if she hasn't mastered the Light element into perfection.' Aaron thought.

With a flick of his finger, making sure no one noticed him, A slight amount of demonic Energy entered the Vampire, filling her meridian with powers.

"Ahhhh!!!"

Death energy burst out from her, throwing the three Guardians meters back... At that moment, a powerful light beam shot out from Kara's hand, heading towards Rhea.

She looked at Aaron one last time, then shot into the air, dodging the attack, before anyone knew it, she turned into a bat, and flew away from the Academy.

"You felt something, right? I feel like a demonic Energy entered this academy and gave her powers." Aaron turned his head to Kara, feigning a confused expression.

"I sense it too, but... The energy was so thin that I almost missed it, then... How did you detect it?" Kara lowered her hand, turning her head to him.

"I think because we have a little thing in Common." He opens his palm, and a ball of light appeared on it, stunning Kara.

"Meet me in my office after an hour, ask anyone here if you don't know the way." With that said, she turned to the guests.

"Aaron passed the second test with the highest score... And I apologize for what happened Here just now, for that reason, the last test will be carried out tomorrow morning... Thank you."

With that said, she nodded at the Royal families, and walked away with her elders, leaving the stunned guests behind.

I think Aaron doesn't know the meaning of being low profile. 😊

Chapter 53: What?!!

"That end unexpectedly." Stellar said in mild confusion.

Emily nodded, and walked up to Aaron, Only to be overtaken by Angela.

"Wow Jack, you didn't tell me you are so powerful, I don't think I'll be able to carry that iron."

"You won't." Aaron walked past her.

"You do remember I asked to meet, right?" Angela looked at him over her shoulder.

"Of course, We'll see in the restaurant."

"I also want to know who she's."

"You will."

Aaron smirked, 'Face two in Action'.

He walked up to Emily, whose gaze was fixed on Angela's back.

"Let's go."

Before she could register His word, Aaron picked her up, Princess style, and shot into the air, flying out of the Academy ground.

"Did?!"

Everyone stared at the sky in Shocked, Did that kid just took off with someone the same size as him in his hands?

When their gazes lowered to the iron which was still stuck in the wall, they all subconsciously nodded in understanding.

"It seems he already has someone else in mind, I say you should let him go." Aura walked up to her sister.

"That won't stop me from having him."

"Uh? Sister, That boy already have someone who might also like him, do you plan to kill her and gain him... Let me tell you, That is wrong. If you like someone, you'll want them to be happy and move on."

"You're saying this because you don't have this responsibility on your shoulders..." Angela turned to her sister.

"You! I have responsibility! Why do you think I'm here?" Aura was hurt, hearing her sister's words.

Angela sighed softly: "I'm sorry, There's just a lot in my head, and having Jack by my side will erase everything."

"What are my girls talking about?"

The two turned their heads to their father, who walked towards them with his special guards, who were all in silver armor.

"Nothing Dad." Angela gripped her sister's wrist, and whispered: "We'll tell him after I'm sure about Jack, but not now."

Aura thought for a moment and nodded.

Their father stopped before them, and ruffled Angela's long honey blonde hair.

"You did good, I'm proud of you."

"But I didn't take first position in any test." Angela looked up at him.

"Hahaha... You are better than the other Royalties... Although only Maxim's eldest Grandson partake this Month, you did good."

"Hmm... Dad, What do you think about Jack?" Angela asked, wondering how her father feels about Aaron.

"Well... He's a rare prodigy, but careless and Arrogant... But I like his gut and vengeful heart... He'll make a good king."

"Thank you Dad." Angela hugged his lower abdomen, stunning her father, and the four guards behind him.

Angela had never showed emotions in public, let alone hugging, she hadn't opened her mouth calling her father, Dad. But today... Something seems to be off with her.

Aura facepalmed herself. 'Shit! Dad just gave her an indirect green button! Why did I have a bad feeling this won't end well?'

Aaron landed on the high building he stood last night, and slowly placed Emily down.

Emily looked around the academy city from above the building, and was shocked.

"I never thought the academy look this beautiful from up here."

"Don't you come out often?" Aaron asked in mild surprised.

"Well... The outer section doesn't have the freewill to-do anything, this privilege belongs to the Core and Inner Sections."

"That didn't feel right, How was this past months in the Academy?"

"A living hell, We have little resources, and worse of all, We are also the ones who clean the academy."

Aaron's face turned cold; "The future Queen of Terra, Cleaning the academy?"

"Queen? Terra?" Emily turned to him in Shock, her brain still registering his word.

"Yes, Emily... Will you be my Queen?" Aaron turned his gaze to her.

"I..." Emily was stunned, Not knowing how to answer... This was sudden.

"You can think about it--"

"--No!!" Emily quickly closed her mouth. 'Why am I so excited...? He also has feelings for me? How did that.'

She was brought out of her thoughts, as Aaron's soft hand touched her cheek.

Emily pursed her lips, feeling her body heating up under his touch. 'What...?'

"I heard Demons grew quicker than any other race, But I'll wait..." Aaron smiled at her, he moved a string of her hair, tucking it behind her ear.

Emily just nodded absentmindedly, she was intoxicated by his touch... The more his hand caress her cheek, the more heated she becomes... She might be young, but as Aaron mentioned, Demons growth are far from normal...

Aaron smiled, and lowered his hand. "How good do you know your friend?" He changed the subject.

Emily sighed both sadly and in relief as Aaron removed his hand from her cheek...

She quickly gained herself, and asked. "Stellar?"

"Do you have any other friend here?"

"Yes, and he's standing in front of me... I'll rather say he's more than friend."

Aaron smiled hearing her reply. "Do you know she has the Blood Rabbit Bloodline?"

"Blood Rabbit Bloodline? The Blood rabbit bloodlines were wiped out years ago? Wait... Are you saying Stellar has the Blood rabbit bloodline?"

Aaron nodded... "Tonight, We are going hunting, find a way to bring her here, We need to tell her who we are, and who you are... Can she handle the truth...? Knowing that you're a demon." He turned to her.

"I don't know, But I'm 70% sure she'll go with it, and won't freak out." She paused: "Wait, Hunting?"

"Yes hunting, we'll be here, waiting for you two. Time; 10pm."

Emily looked up, seeing Protean circling above them. "It won't be easy to sneak out, but we'll try." She turned to him.

"Hmm..." Aaron nodded, not saying anything.

The two stood there for some minutes, enjoying each other company, then Emily asked;

"How is the village, My dad and your family, oh! And Lilly?"

"The village was attacked some days back, We lost 70% of the population, That was also the day I woke up."

"What?!" Emily exclaimed in shock, "How?!"

"Calm down, Zukor sent them... Your father is safe, and the Village is rebuilt."

Emily sighed. "I was here cleaning, and my people were being slaughtered, I'm a fool for coming here."

"You aren't a fool, you came here because of the resources, so you can quickly get stronger to help your people, No one expected the attack."

Emily nodded slowly and asked. "How long did you sleep?"

"A year."

"That long?!"

"Yeah, I was even surprised by it, I think I need to get going now... The first elder wants to see me."

"You know, if she knew you are the Cursed Child, she'll be your archenemy... That woman has lived more than a century and killed thousands, She is one wicked bitch."

"Hahaha... That sound like someone I know." Aaron laughed heartily.

"We'll have to play with them for now." He opened his palm and a pouch filled with gold coins appeared on it.

"Keep this with you."

"What is this?" Emily took the pouch, and slowly loose the drawstring, when she saw the gold coins, she looked up at Aaron in Shock.

"My Prince?"

"Keep it, and don't call me that again." Aaron smiled.

"Thank you." Emily stored the pouch in her spatial storage.

Aaron nodded, then picked her up again, this time, Emily's face heated up.

He smirked, then shot into the air, flying towards the Academy.

"Let me go, Mott!" Stellar struggled as Mott held her wrist.

"Your friend isn't here to help you." Mott said with a sneer, while ten boys, including the two thin ones, stood behind him with smiles on their faces.

"Now tell me, how did the test go? Any new faces?"

"Let me go you over fat pig! If my friend's boyfriend catch you, You'll regret it!!"

"Boyfriend?"

The eleven boys were stunned, They all knew Emily, She was cold, always training, and they could say she's the strongest female in their Outer section; and now... Stellar said she has a boyfriend.

What boy can handle, and conquer such a girl?

"Boyfriend? Who is he?" Mott asked, and added: "Is he in the upper sections?"

"I said, LET ME GO!!"

"Why am I even bothered? Now... Where were we? Oh! I say you should be my girlfriend, I'll protect you in the outer section, You can do anything... I, the Baron's son, and the leader of the Tigers Club will stand by your side."

"You...! You are 17! And hitting on someone who's 13! Can't you look for someone older?!"

"Hmm... I can, but you are the cutest here... And I can't resist."

"Just agree to the Club Leader's proposal!"

"Do you want us to force you?!"

"Yeah! I bet you won't like that!"

The boys behind Mott, said with a slight frown.

Emily: "What is going on here?"

The group turned their heads to the right, seeing Aaron, placing Emily on the ground.

"Who do we have here?" Aaron smirked, as Protean landed on his shoulder.

"You again?" Mott released Stellar, who quickly rushed to her friend.

"Let me guess, You failed the test, right?"

Mott had no idea what happened in the registration test, but he surely heard countless talk about a powerful kid in the registration.

There's no way Aaron could past that kid in score.

"Mind your business, In the restaurant we let you go, but if you interfere, we'll act." He added.

"Really?" Aaron's smirk widened.

"Club Leader... Club leader... Club leader!" A boy tapped on Mott's shoulder, recognizing Aaron as the "kid".

"What?!!" Mott turned to him in mild annoyance.

"This... This is the boy who took first place in all the test!!" He exclaimed in horror.

"What?!!"

Chapter 54: Plan In Motion.

"You don't mean?" Mott observed Aaron, taking purposeful steps backward.

"Get lose, I don't want to see you again." Aaron said, with a bored expression.

Instead of running away, Mott stopped and walked up to him.

"As everyone in this Academy now know, even if you fail the test, You'll be placed in the Core Section--"

"--What are you saying?" Aaron cut him off.

"I'm saying, you should look after us in the Outer section, If you want, I can give you the title of the leader; You can help us members with some small tokens, like Resources and Herbs... Maybe even potions."

A frown appeared on Aaron's face. "If you are really the Baron's son, what are you doing in the outer section? Don't you have talent?" Aaron moved his gaze on the fat youth in front of him.

"Well..."

Mott massaged the back of his neck, then looked at the boys over his shoulder.

They all nodded, and walked away from the place, leaving the four behind.

"My father is the Baron of a small Barony in the human empire, But he has no power over the estate and the Barony... I was sent here to get stronger and maybe assist him."

"Hmm..." Aaron thought for a moment:

"So you came to the academy to train?"

Mott nodded.

"Word of advice, First; Reduce, I'll say you weight 300 to 400."

"Don't insult me Jack, I'm 270." Mott said with a chuckle. "So what do you say?"

"I'll like to know the situation your father is in, but keep your position... Just make sure you, and your members don't harass these two."

"Done! I can tell you anytime about my family's situation, I know with your powers, and the help of your master, you can help me."

"Master?" Aaron was confused.

"Yeah, a young guy like you will surely have a powerful master, who taught you all this."

Aaron just stared at him for some seconds, then asked:

"Where is the First council Elder's office located?"

"In the Core section, I can take you there." Mott quickly volunteered himself.

"You two can talk for a while, we'll be back." He said to Emily and Stellar, then followed behind Mott, who was excitedly leading the way.

"Why are you so happy?" Aaron asked out of curiosity.

"This is the first time I'm entering the Core section... Am I too excited?"

"Yes." Aaron nodded, with a flat expression.

"Hahaha... I heard the girls are all beautiful, and from impeccable background, can't wait to have one."

"Are girls only the things in your head? Now I know why you can't cultivate, Your mind is crowded by anything with tits."

"Huh?" Mott turned to him:

"I'm here to study and train, that didn't mean I can't have some fun, and wow, some tits are huge, and they are just 15... Do you know how big it will become in some years?."

"..."

"..."

Aaron and Protean stared at him, both shaking their heads.

'This guy is hopeless.'

{Demon Kingdom.}

Lilly, Elizabeth and Vince walked out from Lilly's portal, appearing inside Kira's basement.

"Welcome princess." Kira quickly greeted with a beautiful smile.

"Is everything ready?" Lilly asked, moving her gaze around the place.

"Yeah, three people are upstairs waiting, and I have thought of more ways to create the Civil War faster."

"Oh, really?" Lilly looked at her in surprised.

"This way."

Kira led the three to the flower store, the group stopped in front of three figures, A woman and two men.

"Is this the princess you are taking about? She's still a kid." The sexy woman in a revealing dress, who has the eyes and tongue of a Cobra, said, observing Lilly.

"Yeah, We want to see the prince you mentioned, at least he'll be older than her." The man standing at the side said in a husky tone, He was huge, standing 6'8 feet tall, extremely muscular and has four hands.

"Calm down, Dagon." Kira tuned to Lilly, "He Is Dagon, she is venom, and lastly him... We don't know his name, but we call him Shadow."

"Two Assassin class, and one Warrior Class."

As she spoke, Elizabeth quickly picked a chair and place it behind Her.

"All Heavenly-Saint Realm." Lilly calmly sat down, and added:

"What are these three capable of?" She moved her gaze to Shadow, who leaned his body at the door, looking at his feet.

"Yes princess." Kira nodded, then started her introduction.

"Venom is known as the sexiest, and venomous Woman in the Demons' kingdom, she could poison with only a kiss, touch or even body contact, No one will be able to withstand her poison; in less than two minutes, you are dead... She'll help us take care of the guards..."

She is right about the sexiest part, because Vince hasn't looked away since the beginning, Feeling an intense gaze on him, Vince turned his head, seeing Lilly glaring daggers at him.

He quickly lowered his head.

Kira continued:

"...This four hands mountain here is called Dagon, He has the strength to destroy any lock or obstacle in our way, Including the Guards... And lastly..."

Everyone looked at the silent Assassin, who was dressed in a black outfit, his face was concealed under the hood of his cloak.

"...Shadow, in the whole demon kingdom, he's the number one assassin, there are rumors that he never misses his targets, and end each one of them with one strike... I chose him because there's no lock he can't break through."

"How did you get them to help? And are you sure they won't betray us?" Lilly turned to her.

"Hey "Princess"." Venom stepped forward:

"We don't like that Bastard of a king, and robbing his money will teach him a lesson--"

"--You aren't keeping the money." Lilly cut her off.

"Huh? I don't get."

Venom and Dagon frowned slightly, then turned their heads to Kira.

"Yes, Sorry for not pointing this out, but the Money is going to the commoners--"

"--Then what about our pay?" Dagon asked, his voice filled with displeasure.

Lilly sighed, brought out her crystal, and with a thought, a 1 foot pile of gold coins appeared on Kira's desk.

"There are a total of 900,000 gold coins, 300,000 each... After the mission is successful, You'll gain the remaining 70%."

"Remaining 70%?"

The two were stunned hearing Lilly, while Shadow raised his head a little...

Lilly only saw two crimson eyes, then he lowered his head again.

'Weirdo.' She thought inwardly, then turned to Kira.

"What about the other ways you mentioned in the basement?"

Kira's eyes light up!

"Why don't we pay some people to destroy the crops in the Kingdom? Maybe not destroy... What if we took all the food in the Kingdom, and stop all the merchant from entering inside? No food, the Common folks will run mad in less than two days, the king will be blamed for this, and under the peoples' protest, We'll incite the idea of a Civil war, Change of throne..."

Then you can step up to be our savior, release the foods, and money to those who supported your reign, gained the support of the people, win their hearts, and they'll support you when you make your move."

"Wow, I never thought you'll have such a solid plan... That was my plan for the coins, but I like your plan better... It has many loops holes, but we can go with it..." Lilly nodded at her:

"I'm guessing you already have the people to do all these things."

"Yeah, They're all ready, but their price is 1 Million gold coins, which will also shut their mouths... Oh!!" She exclaimed like remembering something.

"I also got one of the Duke under us, The Demon kingdom have two dukedoms, One is already under us, but he won't act unless he's sure the king will be brought down."

"How the hell are you doing all these? Even bribing a Duke." Vince asked.

"Let's just say when my family was still running this shop, I was Carefree... And got to know a lot of people."

Vince nodded at her.

"Now..."

Kira was stunned, seeing Venom and Dagon already seated on two stools, calculating the gold coins.

"Don't worry princess, The mission will be completed, You don't need to worry about anything!" Dagon said with a happy smile, counting the shining Gold coins in his four hands.

"Yeah, When are we leaving?" Venom asked, her attention focused on the money.

"The soldiers will head out five days from now... Kira, ask the Demons you have to start the plan--"

"--Princess, they aren't Demons... They are Goblins, proficient in stealing."

"I don't care what race, make sure by tomorrow night fall, all the foods in this city should be gone... Without food, the Soldiers' fighting spirit will be greatly reduced."

"It'll be taken care of, Princess."

Lilly stood up: "Give me the map of the Demon Kingdom, I want to locate this Duke you mentioned."

"I'll be right back." Kira nodded, and quickly walked towards her shelf to retrieve the map.

Shadow raised his head again, and stared at Lilly's back.

"Hmm..."

Chapter 55: I Think I Hit Too Hard

"WOW!!!!!"

Mott was in cloud nine, moving his gaze around the core section, which was ten times bigger than theirs.

"Do you believe this, They got a cultivation room, the best teachers, more resources and even eggs for powerful familiars! This is clearing favoritism!"

Mott stated in mild anger.

"Now you are angry? After jumping for half an hour in joy." Aaron rolled his eyes, walking towards the silver building in front of them.

All the core students stopped their training and turned their heads to Aaron and Mott, who were heading to the council's hall.

Feeling the gazes on him, Mott broke out in Sweat. He is an Awakener, but the weakest Awakener in the Core section could kill him with one attack.

Aaron wasn't bothered about the stares, and asked:

"Do you have a familiar, Mott?"

Mott wiped the sweat off his face, and turned to Aaron:

"Sadly, No... I don't have the money to buy any egg or summoning books to use."

"What will you do if I give you enough money to buy a Demon stage Familiar?" Aaron asked.

Mott's jaw dropped hearing Aaron. "Did I heard wrong?" He rubbed his ears with a stunned expression.

"I'm waiting for your reply."

"I'll be your Minion, anything you say, I'll do."

Aaron scoffed: "Can you really keep that promise?"

"If you help my family, I'll even be your dog." Mott said with a raised chest.

"Before you can be a dog, you must know how to bark."

"Huh? I don't understand." Mott stared at Aaron's side profile in mild confusion.

"How can a dog serve its master, if it doesn't even know how to defend and attack?" Aaron explained.

"Oh! I got it now."

"Can you keep a secret?"

"Yes, I never reveal secrets!"

Aaron nodded in approval, everything Mott said so far was the truth, this guy might be fat, and stupid at times... But knows how to be appreciative.

"Meet me alone, outside around 10, location: Center of the city, I'll help you get stronger, and we'll help your father later on."

"Really--"

"--Hey Mott! What are you going?! Bringing an outsider who isn't a student in the academy is against the rule... I hope you know that?"

Mott and Aaron stopped, seeing a young elf with long blonde hair, and blue eyes walking out from the hall towards them.

"Shit! That is Nicolas, He's the second prince of the elves race, and Harold's cousin." Mott whispered to Aaron, and added:

"He came to this Academy six months ago, and he's a Saint... Moreover, he's the leader of the second-strongest club in the Core section... And my worse enemy."

Aaron nodded without a change of expression.

"What are you whispering about?!" Nicolas asked, a scowl on his face.

"Nothing, Leader Jack wants to see the Council first elder."

"Leader Jack?" Nicolas frowned slightly, then sneered.

"So you gave up your position as the club leader?"

"Sorry, for adding leader to your name, but I need you to teach him a lesson, If you do, the Tiger Club will have a little say in our section, with everyone knowing the new leader defeated the leader of the Saint Club." Mott whispered to Aaron.

'I take it back, this guy isn't a fool, by saying I'm the leader and me teaching my Step council a lesson, the club will gain fame... What a crafty thing... I like it.' Aaron thought.

"Yes, Nicolas, Jack is now our Leader!! The leader of the Tiger club! And the strongest!" He yelled loudly, so all the Core students could hear his club's name.

In another building on the group's right, Aura and two of her members stood close to the window, staring at Aaron and Mott in front of them.

"Club leader, It's Jack."

"I can see that." Aura shook her head. "Nicolas will just make fun of himself if he attacks." She walked back to her seat and sat down.

At the moment, the group were in their classroom, all the kids have rushed to the window hearing Mott's scream, While the Teacher had rushed down to see what happened.

'There is no way my sister can win first place in the last test, I'll have to do something... Hmm... What if something happens to Jack. He won't be able to attend the test and will fail... But what'll I do?' Aura's eyes widened.

'Yes! He'll be meeting my sister today, I heard her mentioning something like going out to see Jack, Hmm... If I can spice his drink... Wait, what can I use? I need something that will take effect the next day, which is the test... Hmm...

Maybe our Herbs' teacher will have an idea, I can just say I'm working on something, and I need it for ingredient... Yes! I need to get going now. " She stood up from her seat.

"I'll be right back." She said to her members, who took the same classes with her, and walked out of the classroom.

The two looked at each other in mild confusion, then shrugged. And continued watching the show downstairs.

"Jack? The strongest? And even a leader." Nicolas walked up to the two, and stopped in front of them, he was taller than Aaron. But the same height with Mott... Nicolas was well-built, even when he's 17, while Mott was overweight, the exact opposite.

"I have somewhere else to be, so get out of my way." Aaron's indifferent voice sounded, he wasn't loud, but it reaches everyone's ears.

"I know you... You should be Lucky that Iron didn't touch my uncle, Because then, I'll have to teach you a lesson."

Aaron yawned on his face with a bored expression. "Are you done?" He asked.

"Huff." Nicolas scoffed in disdain.

"You are arrogant, I'll have to teach you some manners!"

Without warning, Nicolas threw a punch at Aaron's face, stunning everyone.

BAM!!

"Huh?" His eyes widened.

"Watch the face." Aaron caught his punch in his palm.

"And, I was shocked when you said, You'll teach me some manners... I was really shocked, because I'm always the one who taught others manners."

Everyone only saw a flash, Aaron released Nicolas's fist, and struck out with a kick, which accurately collided on his chest.

Nicolas flew meters back, falling heavily on the ground, throwing up a mouthful of blood.

"Oh, I think I hit too hard."

Chapter 56: Quest

"...."

Everyone blinked in shock, staring at Aaron in horror.

'Why did you hate your step cousins so much? If this guy wasn't a warrior class with high defense, that Kick would have destroyed his rib cage.'

Protean's voice sounded in his head.

'He should be happy because I reduced the strength in that kick.' Aaron answered.

'Oh? Why didn't you use your full strength then? I thought you did...'

Protean's voice was filled with disappointment.

'Wait, You wanted me to use my full strength?'

'Yeah, then it'll be fun. Highest he'll die from suffocation.'

"...."

Aaron was stunned: 'Now I know why we are good together.'

Before the two, twenty students, both boys and girls rushed out from the surrounding buildings.

"Club Leader!!"

They all rushed to Nicolas, helping him up from the ground.

"You!!" Nicolas wiped the blood off his lips, glaring daggers at Aaron.

"Teach this fool a lesson!!" He yelled.

"L-Leader, I hope you have a plan to fight them a-all." Mott asked anxiously, he was already trembling.

"I despise weakness, so if you want my help or stay alive by my side, You need to cultivate a strong heart."

Aaron said in a flat tone, stunning Mott in place.

"Attack!!"

"Let's show these weaklings what the members of the Saint club are capable of!!"

All the members around Nicolas charged towards Aaron and Mott.

BAM!!

THUD!!

BAM!!

BANG!!

THUD!!

The sound of their knees touching the ground rung out continuously as one at a time, they all fell on their Knees, not even getting close to Aaron.

"Is this how weak your members are?" Aaron turned his head to Nicolas who stood horrified, staring at his kneeling members.

"What pressure is this? I can't move."

"Same! Hell! This boy isn't simple!"

"What are we going to do?"

"Nothing! Because we can't move!"

"Where are the teachers and guardians?"

Sweat appeared on the students' body, socking their uniform wet.

"Help us, club leader!!"

They all turned to Nicolas, pleading to him.

"Let them go!!"

Nicolas yelled at Aaron, who smirked at him:

"I should let them go? What's in for me?"

Aaron folded his hands behind his back... Seeing Nicolas'd stunned expression, he sighed deeply.

"You stopped us outside, we have been standing under this hot sun for more than 3 hours now, you have to compensate us."

"Three Hours?!"

Everyone was stunned, they haven't even been here for 15 minutes, and Aaron is stating 3 hours.

"Come on."

"Fine then! Name your price." Nicolas said with a dark expression.

"Sorry, I don't need money... I have so much of it that I don't know what to use it for."

"So much of it?" Mott was stunned. 'Is that how rich Jack is... Only a Royalty can have sure wealth... Wait... Is Jack a Prince?' Mott's eyes widened in his deduction.

"Then what do you want?!"

"In fact, I need two things; first: You all must show respect to the Tiger Club, No bullying or anything of that sort... If I find out, you won't like the result... Second: Every week, You'll have to send valuable resources to the Tiger club... If you can do this, I'll let them go."

Nicolas was silent, weighing his options... He's the eldest grandson of the elves' kingdom, although born by the second prince, he's holder than Harold... And more than half of his members has noble bloods in them, somewhere even Sons and daughters of dukes... Getting to show respect to some Commoners is something they can't do...

Like that wasn't enough, they'll still have to send their resources to them every week... They'll become a laughingstock in the academy, and the Orc Club will find the opportunity to take their position as the second.

'Shit!!!'

He cursed inwardly.

"Just accept it, Club leader!!!"

"We are with you!"

"Yes!"

Hearing his members, he sighed: 'This all my fault.'

With gritted teeth he opened his mouth; "Ok, We accept! Can you let them go now?"

Aaron nodded, while all the students fell on the ground, breathing heavily.

"Good." Aaron nodded.

Clap!

Clap!

Clap!

Clap!

Clap!

All the students turned their heads to the councils' hall, seeing Kara and the elders walking outside with the Dean, Mariel, guardians, and some teachers.

"What a wonderful show." Kara said with a beautiful smile on her face.

"I hope you are entertained?"

"Oh, I am." Kara smiled, with a flick of her wrist, A piece of paper flew towards Aaron, who caught it.

He slowly opened the paper, and a frown appeared on his face.

"You are the strongest kid... Well... You are Stronger than some of the teachers in our academy, and that Note is a quest, Complete it, and you'll be promoted into the fourth guardian... I know you can do it... Oh, you have one week to complete it."

With that said, she walked back inside with her group, while the students slowly got up from the ground, their eyes filled with killing intent.

They were powerless because the academy rules is against bringing guards in school, but in the city, They'll show Aaron and the members of the Tiger Club they aren't to be mess with.

Mott who was observing them surely notice their hostile gazes, he turned to Aaron, whose gaze was fixed on the note.

[Track and Kill The Female Vampire, and being any evidence of you accomplishing this to me... You have one week.]

'This bitch, She's still thinking on how to kill that Vampire.'

Protean hissed.

'Why are you so angry, she just gave us the good ahead.'

Aaron smirked, he burnt the note and turned to the Anxious Mott.

"What is it?"

"I don't think they'll follow your order, They might even harm us if you aren't around."

Aaron turned to the students, and said, Making sure to increase his voice with his Sid energy.

"Anyone who harm even a hair of the Tiger club members, I'll show you want a shaved pig looks like."

All the students felt a shiver ran down their spine hearing his indirect threat.

Chapter 57: Sleeping Substance.

[Academy city.]

[Restaurant.]

"Leader, what are we doing here? Shouldn't we be spending time with the girls?"

Mott asked, walking inside the restaurant with Aaron.

'This guy is hopeless.'

Protean shook his head.

"I'm here to see someone." Aaron moved his gaze around in confusion.

'Where is she?' He thought inwardly.

"You are Jack, right?"

A girl in silver uniform, and a sword on her waist, walked up to the two.

"Yes?"

"The princesses are waiting for you in the third floor." With that said, she turned around.

"Follow m--"

She paused, turned back to Aaron, and observed Mott.

"Who is he? The leader is expecting you alone."

"He's with me." Aaron answered, thinking about the word "Princesses"

The girl thought for a moment, then nodded. "Follow me."

She started walking towards the stairs, while Aaron and Mott followed behind.

"Princesses? Leader, do you have a date with two girls? I thought Lori is the chosen one?"

Aaron turned his head to Mott. "What the hell are you murmuring? Why'll I be on a date? I'm here for something very important."

Mott thought in mild confusion, not understanding what is so important, that two princesses were involved.

'Well, I'll find out in a while... And I also get to see the Third Floor!' He smiled.

The girl stopped in front of a closed door, then turned around looking at Aaron and Mott.

"The Third floor isn't an open restaurant as the lower and second floor, It's created with separate room, each room is created when a new Core student join the Academy... Some kids like privacy and space." She explained.

'Wow! And the Academy have more than a hundred Core students! HOW BIG IS THIS THIRD FLOOR?!!!' Mott yelled inwardly.

With a nod, the girl opened the door for the two and stepped back.

Aaron walked inside with an Indifferent expression, while Mott's mouth was wide open, moving his gaze around the golden painted room, the room screamed elegance and wealth, flowers were placed around the place, with no less than 3 expensive looking tables, and chairs.

Princess Angela and Aura frowned slightly, upon seeing Mott, they remained silent as Aaron sat down in front of them, while Mott stood behind him, not having the gut to sit in presence of the princesses.

Aura observed him for a moment, and muttered under her breath. "Just an Awakener."

"Ahem, Jack... We didn't make any arrangement of bringing someone." Angela said after some hesitation.

"Same did you, I didn't know Princess Aura will be here, too." Aaron answered, moving his gaze around the foods and drinks on the table.

A Drink which he took as a tea caught his attention.

{Name: Golden Leaf Tea. Class: Rare. Info: made from the oldest Golden tree which only appear ones in a decade (A Substance have been added which will make someone who drinks it sleep for ten hours. Effect takes place a day after consumption, with Your high poison resistance, It's powerless against you) No Antidote.}

'This information is new, And I'll say this tea alone will be freakishly expensive... About the poisoning part, It'll surely be Aura, By taking this, I'll fall asleep and miss the test... And if I do, Angela will carry first position, and I'll lose the bet, what a snake, But still... Let's have fun with these two.'

"You have a point, but what I want to discuss with you is utmost importance, I don't trust anyone."

"Same." Aaron smirked at Angela.

Angela was clearly taken aback hearing his reply, She sighed helplessly, and turned to her sister.

"I know, I know... But before I leave, can I serve Jack a drink?"

Angela frowned upon hearing her sister's question. 'What Is she planning?'

She was about to refuse, but Aaron's voice sounded.

"It's ok, There isn't any black blood among us." Aaron picked up an empty cup, then stretched forth his hand.

Aura gave a fake smile, stood up, picked the jug, and poured Aaron his tea.

"It'll be nice if I can drink with you, Why don't you put yours, and we can cheer to this new friendship." Aaron suggested with a smile.

Aura: 'Huh? Friendship?! Who the hell want to be your friend?!'

"Jack is right." Angela picked up her cup, and gestured for her sister to pour hers.

'Shit!! There is no way I'm giving this to Angela, What should do, What should do.'

"What is it, Sis?" Angela asked in mild confusion.

Aaron fixed his gaze on the sisters opposite him, as he held the Cup in his hand.

"It's n-nothing... It's just that, I personally made this for Jack, I can't give it to you."

"Oh?" Angela was stunned, she slowly placed her cup on the table.

'Now I'm 100% sure she did something to the drink, But what? Wait! Does she plan to poison Jack?!! No! She won't do that! Aura might be overbearing, and troublesome at times, but she will never kill without reasons, and especially not someone I set my eyes on...

Or, will she?'

The time she was thinking about her sister's intention, Aaron opened his mouth:

"Then it won't be bad for Princess Aura to drink with me, right?"

Aura clenched her teeth seeing the smug smile on Aaron's face.

"Or you aren't drinking because you put something in it?" Aaron looked inside the cup in shock.

'What is going on here?' Mott thought in mild confusion.

'Shit! If I don't drink, he'll suspect something, What should I do?' Aura's eyes suddenly widened, she quickly turned her head to her sister... Seeing the dark look on her face, she gulped down.

'Shit! I forgot Angela could read thoughts, what should I do? Well... I can only go with the flow...'

Without nothing else to do or think, she poured a glass for herself, took the glass and pour it all in her mouth.

'She drank everything? Maybe it isn't poison... But... If it isn't poison, then what is it?' Angela was confused.

Aaron nodded, and with a flick of his finger under the table, a jolt of electricity ran down Aura's thigh, causing her to gasped out loud... Also, mistakenly swallowing the tea she held In her mouth.

Aura quickly covered her mouth in embarrassment.

"Are you ok, Aura?" Angela asked, seeing her sister's action.

"Y-Yes, Yes! I'm Ok."

She looked down at her thigh, she was putting on a skirt, which stopped above her kneecap.

'What was that?' She thought, and turned to her sister, seeing the slight frown on her face:

'Fuck your skill, big sis!' She hissed inwardly, causing Angela to chuckle.

Aaron nodded In Approval, and drank the tea in his cup.

'Good, at least both of us will sleep for ten hours, I'll have my members keep watch... Wait... What if there's an antidote?'

'So that's what is in the tea, a sleeping substance, Jack will sleep for ten hours and fail the test... But... Why is she doing this? Hmm... If Jack doesn't show up tomorrow, I won't get first place.'

If Aura knew what her sister was thinking, she would have sputtered out a mouthful of blood, all her hard work for nothing, even drinking the same tea she mixed, but well... Aaron drank it, so it'll be enough, Right?

"I'll get going."

Aura glared at her sister, and walked towards the door... She knew her sister heard all her thoughts.

'I need to find a way to hide my thoughts from her or anyone.' She opened the sliding door, and walked out.

"You can go have fun, Mott. Here, have this."

Aaron snapped his fingers and a pouch appeared in front of Mott, who took it and slowly opened it.

"Gold Coins! And a lot of it!"

"Take the members out, My treat."

"Thank you club Leader, Thank you! The members will surely know about your generosity!"

With that said, he ran out in joy, going to enjoy himself.

Finally, alone.

After some moments of silence, Angela opened her mouth.

"Club leader? That isn't possible unless you joined the Academy, we are still taking the test, how can you be a club leader?"

"I know, The Tiger Club just picked me."

Angela has no idea about any Club, apart from her sister's in the Academy, so she changed the subject;

"Why can't I hear your thoughts anyone?" She blurted out.

Aaron placed the cup on the table:

"Now that you finally admit you can hear thought rather than reading facial expressions... I'll tell you a secret... As long, I say "No", No one in the three Continents can say "Yes"."

"It seems I understand, and I also don't understand... To have that authority, You need to be in the pinnacle of powers, or have a powerful background... I have been meaning to ask, You are a half elf, but what about your other race?"

"You what to know my other Race?" Aaron looked up at her with a smile.

Angela nodded, her gaze fixed on him, patiently waiting for his reply.

"My other race is..."

*

*

*

😊😊... Be patient... LOL.

Chapter 58: Deal

"My other race is... I think you already figured that out." Aaron took a sip of the tea, and added.

"It's just bad Aura took the remaining tea with her."

"Yeah."

Angela nodded, then smiled brightly:

"So I was right, you are a half human."

"Correct."

Aaron nodded with a smile. 'That'll do for now.'

"Hmm--"

"--Before you ask another question, I'll like to ask only one... Why are you after me?"

Aaron placed the cup on the table, staring deeply at her.

Angela relaxed on her seat, after some Seconds of contemplating... She finally opened her mouth.

"I want you."

Aaron: "Pardon?"

Protean: 'I knew it!!'

"Ahem! It seems I don't understand you, Can you clarify yourself?"

"It's normal for you to be surprise... So I'll explain, I need you to be my boyfriend, after we become Adults, You'll marry me... That's what I want from you, and that's the reason I want to be close to you."

She said in a straight tone.

'Wow! A 16-year-old girl proposing marriage to my master, who's not even 2 years old... Am I the only one flabbergasted?'

Aaron glared at Protean on his shoulder, and turned his head back to Angela.

"That was surprising, but... What Is the main reason for taking this route? You have a long life ahead, why thinking about marriage?"

'He didn't refuse? That's a good sign.'

Angela sighed:

"The councils board are eyeing the throne, and my father doesn't have any Sons who would be the next king after him, that's why... My father and the councils have asked me countless times to choose a guy... But I have my standard... I can't just pick anyone... That'll be wrong... It has been a year now...

When my father got worked up, he asked me to move to the Academy... My main purpose coming here is not about the resources or training... I'm already the strongest in our generation... My purpose is to find the right boy, and a powerful one at that."

'That was surprising long, But wait... This girl is so desperate that she asked me to be her boyfriend and when we become Adults, we'll instantly get married... Hmm.... As for the moment, the Human empire has a very large army, Mine is not even half their size... If I accept, I'll be able to know the inside out, and even conquer them without resulting to war... Yeah...

I'm strong enough to wipe them out, but where's the fun in that? It will be rather fun, watching my army tear them to pieces... Ok... I'll accept to be her boyfriend, get all the information and resources I need, and maybe... Use her in some way... I hope Emily understand...

But, let's have a little fun.'

The Seconds Aaron was lost in thought, Angela was covered in sweat, thinking he'll refuse, she was slightly frustrated that she couldn't read his thoughts.

"Hmm... What about your father? He seems healthy, Why are you in such a rush?" He asked.

"Well... Well..."

'She's hesitating, something might be wrong with her father.'

Angela took a deep breath, and observed Aaron.

"How do I know I can trust you, Jack? My family have a lot of enemies, and more than half of them are after the throne."

Aaron smiled slightly, He placed his hand on hers, which was resting on the table, and slowly squeezed it.

"Ah."

Angela quickly covered her mouth with her left hand, her face red in embarrassment.

'What? He touched me, why did I feel like I'm...? No... Focus...'

Aaron smiled hearing her Moan.

'This skill is worse than I thought, It seems its effect increased if the one in contact has some feelings for me... Again, how did Emily feel when I touched her?'

He nodded in reassurance:

"You can trust me, You are the first good person I met when I entered this Academy, Not like your sister."

"Fufufufu... Yeah, sorry for my sister's attitude... Ok..."

She took a deep breath:

"My father has a heart issue, the physician said when he's cultivating, the violent energies In him damage his heart... So he won't live for 10 more years... The Councils know about this, that's why they're all planning on taking the throne."

"Heart condition? You said he'll live for 10 years, you still have more years ahead of you."

"That was two years ago, my father now has only 8 years..."

'Why don't he carried countless women and sleep with all of them? One will surely give birth to a boy.'

Aaron turned his head to Protean again.

'What? I'm giving a valid suggestion here.'

Angela moved her gaze from Protean to Aaron. 'These two are communicating! This bird might be In a higher stage, Maybe a Demon-Stage or Cursed

-Demon!'

"What did he say?"

Out of curiosity she asked.

"Who?" Aaron asked in mild confusion.

"Your familiar, He said something, what is it?"

"He said why don't your father marries more women? 10 years is enough to impregnate many women, and with his title and position, a lot of women will readily agree."

"Fufufufu... Your familiar surely has a sharp brain... My father is loyal to my Mom, Although she's dead, But he hasn't slept with anyone."

Aaron let go of her hand and relaxed, his gaze fixed on her... Angela was confused why he removed his hand from hers, and stared at him in confusion.

"You know what, Angela?" Aaron stood up, his expression flat:

"I accept, But..." He raised one finger.

"No touching, or any of that sort... And I'll have to tell Lori about this, she'll be heartbroken, but I'm doing this for myself."

"Yes, Who is that slut by the way?" Angela asked with killing intent.

"If you insult her next time, we are done."

Aaron's eyes changed from Blue to red, then back to its usual blue, Angela blinked.

'Did his eyes just? No, I might be seeing things.' Before she could say anything, Aaron sat back down.

"Now... Let's talk about my gain."

"Gain?"

"Do you think I'll do this for free? I told you, I'm not the good guy type who want to save a damsel in distress."

"..."

Chapter 59: Get A Seat For The Club Leader!

"What else do you want? In six years time, You'll be 18 years... I might be older, but when we get married, You'll have all the empire, what else do you want?"

"Hahaha!"

Aaron laughed out loud, he fixed his gaze on Angela:

"All that means nothing to me."

"Huh? Being the emperor means nothing to you?" Angela was so stunned, that she sat frozen.

This is surprising.

"Yeah, I need two things."

"What are these things?" Angela quickly asked.

"One: Information of your kingdom, its people and forces... If I want to be your boyfriend and your future husband, I need to know about your kingdom, right?"

"That's a good point, do you also need the military strategy? You can master it and maybe one day, lead the Army."

'Hehehe... I thought she is smart, giving your military strategy to your future enemy... How lovely.'

"That's a good idea."

"Ok, I'll ask my guard to bring them tomorrow, You'll get to see them after the test."

Aaron nodded in approval, and continued:

"Second: I need to know all your father's enemies... So I won't fall victim, or be deceived by them... Can you do that?"

'Hmm... He might be asking so he could get rid of them... Jack is strong enough to kill them all... I'll give him their full details, and even their forces and strength.'

She nodded:

"Don't worry, I'll give them to you tomorrow."

"Good, I'll be waiting." Aaron stood up, and walked towards the door.

"See you later, Love." With that said, he walked outside, leaving a blushing Angela behind.

"He called me Love? Yes! I succeeded!"

Aaron and Protean walked down the stairs and entered the Outer section, he frowned slightly.

'Why is this place so crowded?'

"Club leader!!"

He turned his head to the right, seeing Mott, and twenty other students sitting on a huge round table, He was surprised not seeing sure a huge table when he got here.

"Come, Club Leader!!"

He sighed, and walked towards them, When he got to the table, he was stunned seeing so much food on it... He then moved his gaze on the students staring at him.

'There are all students of the outer section, But they all look pitiful... And the strongest here is Mott, who is an Awakened realm, the rest are just beginners... I'm confused how they could hold on to the second position.'

Knock!

A loud knock on a head brought him out of his thoughts.

"Get a seat for the Club Leader!"

Mott yelled at the thin boy, who quickly stood up, and pull a chair from another table.

"Hey! That's my seat!"

The outer female student was about to fight for her chair, but when she saw Mott, she quickly stepped back in fear.

"Don't mind him, He's behaving because they're the number one Club In the outer section, everyone is dying to join them." A guy said with contempt.

The girl turned to him, and nodded. "Mott called that boy Club Leader, do you think he's their Leader?" She asked, looking for another chair.

"That boy with a raven on his shoulder is Jack, he's the strongest contestant this month... Even stronger than some teachers... There are rumors around... The first council elder said he'll be promoted to a guardian if he completes some quest."

"Huh?" The Guy was stunned. "Guardian?!" He turned his head to Aaron.

"Then what am I waiting for? I need to join his club!" He stood up.

"Eh! You are the leader of the snake club, which was holding top first, are you seriously going to join them?" The girl asked in mild surprised.

"So? Don't you know how powerful a Guardian is?" He stopped, and turned to her.

"I do, but remember, he has to compete some quest first, when he completes it... We can join."

The guy sat back down.

"You are truly the Fox." The guy stared at the fox in front of him with a smile.

"I can't only look like one, I need to think like one too."

"Yeah!"

Aaron sat down, and moved his gaze around the students, half of them looks malnourished, while the other half looks a little better.

'These kids should be with their parents, not here doing all these...' He sighed and asked.

"How long have you guys been In the academy?"

"Well... The academy only started a year, and some months ago, so most of us have been here for a year." Mott replied.

'That long? And why Haven't they made any progress?' Aaron was clearly confused.

"Ahem! Ok everyone, This is our new Club Leader, Jack... And I'll be his vice, if he's not around, I'll take control... And most of all... He's the provider of our feast!!"

"WOW!!!"

"Thank you, Club leader!!"

"Yes! We are grateful!!"

"We can't even imagine eating such foods, our points aren't that high!"

"Mott, how did the Academy reward points?" Aaron turned his head to Mott.

Mott pointed at the badge on the right side of his chest:

"This is not only a name tag, It's enchanted by the Elves Imperial Mage, Miss Mariel... Ones a Student accomplish something meaningful, It will automatically reward points."

"Does it involve cleaning?"

"Sadly no, You can clean for centuries if you want, but you'll gain 0 points."

"So logically, You guys have been cleaning for nothing, No payment or any kind... Don't you guys think the Academy is using you all?"

"Shh... Club leader, don't rise your voice, and... Most of us in the outer section are lowest of the Lowest, No reputation, No powers, and No Families... Most of them don't have anything in the outside world... Oh, We don't care about these rumors of the Cursed Child too, they're just here to eat and survive."

Mott explained, while the kids looked down on their foods... Aaron observed them again, the kids consist of almost all the rest, Elves, Beast folks and Humans were more, but no Orc or Dwarves among them.

"Ok, I'll be taking care of you, but you all must swear to be loyal to me... Only me."

The kids looked at one another, then nodded at Aaron.

"We'll, Club Leader."

Chapter 60: Is She Ok?

[Night time.]

[Center of the academy.]

"Are you sure about this? I understand Emily and Stellar, but what about Mott... Can he handle the news?" Protean, who stood on his shoulder asked.

"If he can't handle it, we'll just have to kill him... It's not a big deal." Aaron answered in a flat tone.

"And besides, if the 20,000 gold coins I gave them in the restaurant couldn't confuse them... There's no need to keep them with me."

Protean thought for a moment, but remained silent.

"Someone is watching us."

"Huh?"

Protean was confused, he looked around the place and growled inwardly:

'This Raven is useless, Its powers aren't even powerful... And he's the prince of the race you made extinct... I'm really disappointed.'

Aaron pointed his finger over his shoulder, and dropped his hand. "She won't bother us anymore."

"....."

300 meters from their location, Mariel stood on a building, staring at Aaron's figure.

"What are you doing out so late, Jack?" She muttered. "Uh?"

She stared as he raised his finger, pointing directly at her, what she saw next were stars. She smiled, and calmly lied down on the building, going into a deep sleep.

"Huff! Huff! Huff!"

Mott stopped below the building, breathing heavily... "Gosh! I need to reduce! Only running a Mile, I can't stand anymore."

"Welcome."

He looked up, seeing Aaron descending towards him.

"I knew it, You're a Legendary Realm!"

"Wrong." Aaron landed in front of him.

"Huh...? So why are we here?" Mott looked around, not asking about Aaron's Realm.

"We are still low on people."

"Huh?" Mott turned to him:

"Who?"

"Sorry we are late!"

Mott turned around, and his eyes widened seeing Emily and Stellar both in their nightgown.

Emily's nightgown hang on her figure like she wore it for a specific reason, while Stellar's nightgown only stopped on her knees.

'I'm going to have a nose bleed.' He thought, quickly looking away from the girls.

Emily walked up at Aaron, and kiss his cheek: "How do you like my dress?"

Aaron moved his gaze on her and nodded in approval: "Sexy, I don't know you are such a seductress, and at sure a young age." He smiled.

"So you'll know what's you'll be enjoying in a few years ahead."

"Blaaa! Can we get going?" Stellar made a throwing up gesture, upon hearing her friend.

"How are you doing, Stellar?"

"Eh! What is Mott doing here?" Stellar exclaimed, noticing Mott.

"He's with me." Aaron said to her, and added:

"I hope you all are ready?"

The three nodded... The next moment, they all vanished from the academy, appearing in the forest of nightmare.

"This... This!" Stellar was horrified, seeing herself in a Forest, and the darkness wasn't helping her situation.

"Calm down, Stellar, I told you I'll reveal a very important secret to you... Promise me again, You won't hate me for it." Emily held her friend's shoulders and said to her face.

Stellar blinked and stared at her friend, She took a deep breath, and exhaled, then said:

"I told you, I don't care what this secret is, I'll never hate you, When I started the Academy, you looked after me; protected me and took me as your younger sister, although I'm older than you... So why will I hate you for a secret?"

Emily smiled, and gave her a tight hug.

Aaron nodded in approval: 'What a nice girl.'

"Are you ready?" He asked Mott.

"Yes."

Mott nodded, Not even scared being in a Forest... Emily separated and moved backward from Stellar, the two eyes fixed on her every movement.

After getting Aaron's approval, Emily Inhaled then unlocked her Demonic Energy.

BOOM!!

A red energy burst out from her, pushing the two a step back.

They both blinked, staring at the girl they knew as Lori... Her red hair which was ordinary was now glowing crimson, like on flames... Her black eyes were now pure red... What caught their attention more was her Realm... Emily was a freaking Saint Realm.

"My real name is, Emily... And... I'm a Demon." Emily introduced herself, and waited to see their reaction.

The two stared at her with opened jaws, Stellar was the first to exclaim:

"Wow!!! So cool!! Why didn't you tell me your hair could be so flaming? You are even a Saint Realm! Why did you hide this from me? Even lying about your name!"

"You... You aren't scared or anything?" Emily asked in mild surprised.

"Why would I be? I'm just upset you hid this from me, well... You can cheer me up with a bowl of ice cream." Stellar walked up to her stunned friend.

"Can I touch?" She asked, staring at Emily's flaming red hair in awe.

"It won't burn."

Emily finally smiled, as her friend held her hair, placing it on her cheek, then started rubbing it all over her face with a loving smile...

"Wow, Who would have thought hair could be so soft?" She asked.

"You want yours to feel like this?" Emily asked, and added: "It won't be flaming, but it will be soft."

"Really? I'll love that! My blonde hair will be lovely!! Can't wait!" Stellar was clearly happy, not even bothered about her friend's real identity.

Aaron turned his head to Mott, who still stood frozen.

"What are you thinking, Mott?" He asked, bringing Mott out of his stunned gaze.

"Club Leader, Jack, You are so lucky... Emily is even more beautiful than Angela..."

Aaron sighed, and added: "My name isn't Jack."

"Huh?"

The two turned their heads to Aaron, while Emily was a little confused, Looking around the place.

'Where is Protean?'

"I'm called Aaron, But everyone tend to know me as the Cursed Child."

BOOM!

The two eyes widened, as his word repeated in their heads.

"WOW!!! I CAN'T BELIEVE THIS! I'M A FRIEND OF BOTH A DEMON AND THE CURSED CHILD!!!!"

Stellar's voice was so loud that half of the forest will surely hear her excited scream.

Aaron, Emily and Mott were confused:

'Is she alright?'

This was the thought in all their heads.

"Come on! I heard a lot about you... They said you have the powers to destroy the world, control the monsters and also death, darkness and more... Can you show me some of these powers?!" She walked up to him asking with so much enthusiasm that left Aaron speechless.

"Slow down girl, Aren't you scared or anything?"

"Why would I be?" Stellar tilted her head in confusion:

"All the things I have heard from Lor-- I mean Emily, showed you aren't a bad guy, the world just misunderstood you... Ok... Look here... If you're really a bad guy, shouldn't you have killed Everyone in the academy? And that Vampire... You let her escape, I saw it..."

I don't know why, But I know... If you are evil, the Academy should have been flowing with blood... So you are a good guy... And I'm very happy for having such a powerful backer... I can do anyhow and no one will dare stop me!

Hahaha!

I'm so happy!"

Emily shook her head with a small smile, while Aaron sighed helplessly:

"I won't always be with you... And I don't like weaklings, so in these few hours, you three will have an upgrade in realm... Two will be better, and I'll see to that." He turned to Mott, seeing a big smile on his face.

'Yes!! My family will be safe!! That fool won't be able to trouble my family once Leader Aaron dealt with them!' Mott's smile only widened.

Aaron drew an Alliance Circle, and passed it to the two.

"What is this?" Stellar asked, observing the golden circle.

"It will bond you two to me, You'll be able to reach me from where ever you are." Aaron explained.

The two nodded, and placed their hands on it, which then shattered and entered them.

"Ok, we have 7 hours, You guys need to be on your bed before 6am... So your first training start now."

Graaaa!

The three quickly got on guard, seeing a huge werewolf walking towards them.

"My goodness, that thing is an Enraged-Stage Monster! An Alpha Undead!" Mott exclaimed.

"Shit! We don't have any weapon!!" stellar moved her gaze around, Looking for anything.

Aaron smirked at them, leaped into the air, and landed on a tree branch, he then sat down watching as Protean play with them.

Graaa!!

Stellar saw a tree branch on the ground, and quickly picked it up, pointing it at the 8 foot werewolf walking towards them, its claws leaving marks in each tree as it moved past.

"Don't be afraid! We can do this!" Mott picked up a stone from the ground.

"What the hell are you going to do with that?" Stellar asked with a deep frown.

"These guys are interesting." Aaron sat on the branch, staring at the group below. "Protean is really acting his part, right?" He looked above him, seeing Modena smiling brightly at him.

"What really are you? Can't someone sneak up on you?" Modena asked, landing beside him.

"Did you bring what I asked?"

"Yes, But... Why did you need these things?" She asked in mild confusion.

"Sit down, and you'll find out... If you can't, get going."

Modena thought for a second, then sat down beside him, "OK, let's watch."

The group watched as Protean lunged towards the three with clear bloodlust.
