

Reborn With The All Seeing Eye

- Chapter 65 Final Test.

Chapter 65 Final Test.

"Why'll I accept to be a guardian when I'm helping the people?" Aaron asked.

Seeing everyone's confused expression, he elaborated:

"Vampires are evil, and vicious, why will I accept anything when I'm helping the people? We all know vampires are wicked, she even tried to kill me yesterday... I just paid her back, all you need to know is... I did this for myself and also to help my people vent their anger... She practically made me kill her, You know what she told me?" He moved his gaze around.

Kara and the rest shook their heads.

"She said her target was the two Princesses, Princess Angela, and princess Aura... She included the two Prince of the Elves kingdom, she also said she'll cripple both the Academy and Humans and Elves kingdoms, So killing her was the right thing."

Kara walked up to him and placed her hand on his left shoulder, Protean was standing on the right.

"You did good, Jack... Excellent, I will be very happy if all the kids are like you." She looked up at the children, including the Students of all sections.

"All of you should learn from, Jack... And try to be more like him." She looked down at Aaron.

"Let me guessed, you also made Mott and Stellar in the outer section get stronger, Right?"

Aaron chuckled lightly:

"Nothing can escape Miss Kara's eyes, Yes, I gave them some Monsters' cores I killed, those two are geniuses to be able to increase so rapidly... I was even taken aback."

"I made the right choice then, You not only took care of a future enemy, you also helped your friends... Good!" Kara was clearly happy.

Kids like Aaron could be seen once in a century.

'Although you are powerful, you can still be manipulated by a 30 years old man... I'm the best, and only the best.' Aaron thought.

"Pass the test, Jack." Kara said, then walked back to her seat, sitting down, the Royal families followed next, then the parents.

Angela fixed her gaze on Aaron, a small smile on her face. While Harold just sighed.

"Ok Kids, the last test is very easy, All of you will be taken to the Forest of nightmare, where you'll kill Monsters, the stronger, and higher number of Monsters you kill, the higher your score." The Dean said with a smile.

"Fighting Monsters?"

"How is that easy?"

"I heard the Forest of nightmare is dangerous."

"Yeah. I heard the strongest Monster in it is a Cursed-Demon stage."

"What the?! A Cursed-Demon stage can be only taken down by a Sky Realm."

"Thank goodness Jack is with us."

What they heard next both place them in hell and fire.

Aaron: 'Wait, isn't that the same thing?'

"The four guardians will escort you guys, but you all will be the ones doing the fighting... And... You'll form a team of two... We made the headcount, there is a total of 100 kids present, that means 50 teams... Note; don't move further into the Forest, anything that happened to you, is on you..."

Your parents already accepted this rule, the academy isn't to be blame if you lose your life in the Forest... As you all know; You need to be In a life and death situation to learn."

The Dean nodded at the kids, and gestured to Two female teachers to bring the two boxes over.

"Group yourselves into two groups, 50 in each group... The group on the right will pick from the right box, while the group in the left will pick from the left box... Anyone who picked the same numbers will be on the same team." The Dean instructed.

Aaron moved his gaze on the two boxes, and activated the All Seeing Eyes;

'I have to pick the same number as Angela, that's the only way my plan can move forward.' He thought.

The kids started moving, each taking the piece of paper from the box, with numbers written on it.

[Some Minutes later.]

After some minutes, Angela's turn finally arrived. She moved forward, placed her hand in the box and removed a paper.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Information: 25.}

Aaron sighed in relief; 'It seems the heavens are on my side, The number 25 on my side haven't been taken... Huh?'

He was stunned, seeing a guy pulling the number 25 from the box.

'No way!!'

With a thought, electric current moved on the boy's hand, causing him to let go of the paper, removing his hand with such speed that made the teacher confused.

"Are you ok?" She asked In a low voice.

"My chance."

Aaron moved out from the spot he was standing on, walking towards the front, the kids on the line were about to complain, but when they saw it was Jack, they suck up their word.

"What happened?" Aaron asked moving his gaze from teacher to the boy.

"It shocked me." The boy complained, observing his hand.

"Really?" Aaron feigned a surprise expression.

"Let's see." Aaron placed his hand in the box and took out the number 25, he opened it in front of the two.

"Number 25... And it didn't shock me... Try it."

The boy thought for a moment, and placed his hand inside the box, taking a paper out.

"You see, nothing happened."

The boy nodded, and thanked: "Thank you."

"No, thank you." Aaron smiled at him, and walked towards the section of those who had collected, a smirk on his face.

After half an hour, everyone finally collected their numbers and joined their teams.

Aaron looked at Angela's side profile and asked with a smile; "Who would have thought both of us will be in the same team? But what'll Aura say if with both gained first place?"

Angela turned her head to him; "What did you two bet with?"

"Well..." Aaron thought for a moment;

"If I win, she'll slap herself in front of the academy, but if she wins... I'll kowtow in front of the academy and everyone."

He thought she'll be mad or worried, instead Angela laughed out loud.

"Hahaha, I never thought my sister could be so wild... She even spiced your drink so you could miss today test--" she froze, noticing she just told Aaron her sister's plan.

"I hope you aren't--"

"Hahaha!!" Aaron laughed, stunning her.

"I knew she did something to the drink, why did you think I ask her to drink with me?"

"Wait, You knew? And you still drank the tea?!"

"It'll be rude to refuse, she also said she blew it herself... The other reason is... I'm immune to all poison and substance."

"Wow... You are so cool." Angela exclaimed with stars in her eyes.

"It's nothing." Aaron smiled at her.

"Fufufufu... I'm guessing Aura is still sleeping... Ok, can you dissolve the bet, for me... Please..."

Aaron stared at her for a moment and sighed with a helpless expression.

"I made the bet with your Sister, and terminating it... I don't think she'll agree."

"Don't worry about Aura, She'll do whatever I say."

"If you say so... Besides, I'm not ready to see her slapping herself, or me kneeling in front of Everyone, that'll be kind of weird. Right?"

"Fufufufu... Right... Thank you, Jack."

"It's nothing." Aaron nodded, and turned his head to the Dean and elders. "What decision are they making?" He asked out loud.

"I don't know, there are a lot stronger than me, so I can't read their thought."

At that Moment:

The Dean turned around to face the 50 groups;

"There have been some changes... No one expected Jack and Princess Angela will choose the same number, and for that, these two will be place in the deeper forest with stronger Monsters... I know with their strength they can win." The Dean fixed his gaze on the two.

Angela was stunned. "Is this right? What if we come in contact with a Cursed-Demon?" She asked.

"With both of you together, only a Great-Demon can be of threat... Right Jack?"

"I don't think I can be a match for a Great-Demon, but we'll do it."

"Huh?" Angela turned her head to him in surprise.

"That's the Spirit, and don't worry, I and Miss Mariel, will be keeping an eye on you." The Dean stated.

"Can I say something?"

Aaron announced.

"Yes?"

The Dean and everyone present focused their gazes on Aaron.

"You said we can learn quickly in a life and death battles, so if you two are present, it won't be a life and death battle, because we'll know you two will protect us... So--"

"--I understand, He's right Dean, And for that, the Guardians won't escort them in the Forest."

Kara stood up, then waved her hand in front of all the kids, White stones appeared in each of their palms.

"If you are tired, scared, or ready to give up... Crush the stone, and a pillar of light will give us your location."

The kids looked at the stones in their heads and nodded in understanding.

"Good luck... The test will last till 6:00pm."

With that said, white light enveloped each kid, and they vanished from the Academy.

'We'll know how strong you are from this.' Kara thought, as Aaron, Protean and Angela Vanished from the place.

Chapter 66 There Might Be A Transcendent In The Forest!

[Forest of Nightmare.]

Aaron appeared on the same spot he spoke to Rhea, he calmly dusted the invisible dust on his clothes.

"Did that bitch think she can send me anywhere she likes? How do you think their faces will look?"

He turned his head to Protean, who shook his head and took the form of the dark elf.

"What's the next stage of your plan?" He asked, taking a sit on the log.

"It pretty simple, As we speak, Angela is somewhere looking for me... While doing that, she'll come in contact with A Beast-Ruler stage Monster."

"But Kara said the strongest Monster here is--"

"--I know..." Aaron smirked at him.

Protean's eyes widened in shock. "Oh No, Oh No, No. No. No. No!"

"Come on now, I need you and Calamity in this."

"I'm not going to like this, Right?"

"Yes..."

Protean sighed helplessly. "Ok then, what am I going to do."

"Calamity, Show yourself."

The Six-headed Hydra flew out from the ring, standing beside Protean.

"Now Listen Attentively."

---

[100 Miles from Aaron's location.]

"Jack?" Angela called in a low voice, moving her gaze around the dim forest, which was caused by the canopies of the huge trees around her.

Rustle!!

Angela quickly turned around, with a flick of her wrists, A Hugh circular shield and a long sword appeared in each hand... Both high grade weapons.

"Is that you, Jack... Stop playing around and show yourself." She said in a whisper, looking at the bush in front of her.

Rustle!!!

It shook more, the next thing she saw was a normal size rat walking out from the bush.

"Huh?"

She tilted her head in confusion; "It's just a---"

Her eyes widened In shock, as the small rat grew into a 3 meters high rat, Its red eyes were fixed on her, fur as strong as steel... Its nails were even longer than her arm.

SCREECH!!!

Without hesitation, it lunged towards her with incredible speed.

Angela quickly braced herself as the rat smashed into her shield, throwing her backward.

She landed on the ground staring at the rat with pure fighting spirit.

"Hehehe... It has been long I killed something... Do you think an Omega-stage Monster like you can stop me?"

Her eyes turned crimson, Red Sid energy started emanating from her body, drastically increasing her strength.

"Do you know why in all my Kingdom there's no younger generation that can defeat me?" She started walking towards the rat, any step she took, she left deep footprints on the ground.

SCREECH!!!!

"Because my second and third skills are all Legendary-class... The first is divination, while the second is 200% boost In my defense, attacks, and speed."

Whoosh!!!

She vanished from view, appearing behind the huge rat... Before the rat could turn around, Angela slashed downward, leaving a deep cut on its back.

The rat leaped back in pain, it looked at itself, then turned its gaze to the human.

SCREECH!!!

Before the rat could attack, A huge head broke through the trees, and caught it in its jaw, with one single chomp, the rat was crush into flesh and blood.

Angela watched in total Horror, as five more heads, which were smaller than the first, rushed the rat, tearing it into pieces.

She took a step back...

'What the... What the hell?!! Why would the academy place us in this forest if a Beast-Ruler is inside????!!!! Fuck! I need to get out from here, while it's still busy, I can escape... If the heads are this huge, I don't want to see the rest of its body...

Wait! If I use the stone, Miss Kara and the elders will be able to kill this monster, and also help me look for Jack... Yes!'

She quickly brought out the stone, and without hesitation, crushed it.

To her shock nothing happened.

'What?!!'

She yelled inwardly, then her instinct took over, Run!

'I must run!'

"To you think that junk will work when I'm present?"

Angela froze seeing the six heads staring straight at her.

'It's common knowledge powerful Monsters could speak, but how the hell did this creature know about the stone?'

"Don't be surprise, I have been hiding for a while now, so you kids will enter the Forest... Delivering yourselves to me." The heads said.

Angela moved back as slowly as possible, thinking of creating some distance from the Monster, she knew her chances of winning against a Beast-Ruler with her current strength... Her winning rate will be; 0.000000.....1%

For heaven's sake, these Monsters could level a city to the ground in matter of minutes, let alone her... She was even scared a breath from the monster will end her life.

'There's no way I can escape, if this thing could neutralize Miss Kara's Magic, who is above everyone else in strength... There's no hope of me surviving... Is this how I'll die? What'll happen to my family? Will I see Jack again?'

The heads were hungry, they all shot towards Angela, with jaws opened wide, planning on tearing her into shards.

Angela gripped her sword and shield tightly; "I might die today, but... I'm not going down without a Fight!!!" She yelled, the next moment;

Whoosh!!

A shadow rushed past her, heading to the Heads.

"Huh?"

"Here you are! We need to go!!"

Angela turned her head around seeing Aaron running towards her.

"Jack." She exclaimed in both joy and relief.

"There's no time to waste, we can't fight a Beast-Ruler." Aaron grabbed her wrist, and pulled her... Angela followed, not after looking over her shoulder, seeing a Wraith, who surprisingly was a Great-Demon, fighting the six heads.

"What is that?" She asked in mild surprise.

"That's my first familiar, he's buying us time! We need to get out from here!!"

"But your familiar is weaker than that monster... Wait! How did you get a Great-Demon as a familiar? And a Wraith at that."

"I'll explain later!!"

Aaron was still running, with her following behind, Angela looked behind her again, but couldn't see anything, the trees were just too huge... And she couldn't hear any sound of battle.

[Some moments later.]

Aaron finally stopped, in present of Angela, he dropped on his knees and vomited a mouthful of blood.

"Jack!! What happened?!!"

Angela yelled in terror, she rushed up to him, holding his shoulders.

"My Familiar..."

Aaron said in a labored breath, and fainted on her body.

Angela was petrified;

'It can't be? This is the backlash if your familiar is killed, it'll affect your soul, and meridian, which can result to losing some of your powers... To some, they'll vomit blood, while others will faint... That's only possible for powerful familiars... Did Jack just lose a Great-Demon familiar because he tried to save me?'

She looked down at Aaron's handsome face, with their bodies connected, her body started heating up.

'What if?' Her gaze was fixed on his lips, she slowly licked hers... Then shook her head.

"Think girl!! Jack just sacrificed a Great-Demon familiar just to save you, You need to pay him back... But how?" She used her skill, and carried Aaron to a tree.

She then sat down, and rested her back on it, then placed Aaron's head on her laps.

"I'll stay here with you still you regain consciousness, Nothing will happen to you." She smiled lovingly at him, slowly caressing his silver hair.

A black Raven landed above them, looking down at the two.

'My Master's plan worked, time for the third phase.' He nodded, and stood there, watching them.

[Academy's Ground.]

"What's it, Elder Kara?" The Dean asked, seeing Kara's confused expression.

"I can't locate Jack, and Angela, It's like a force field is blocking me out."

"How's that possible?!"

The other elders were stunned, hearing Kara.

"I don't know... There's only two explanation to this, First... A Beast-Ruler at the peak stage Is in the forest, closest to the two, and second... Someone is in that forest who is a lot stronger than a peak Supreme Realm."

"It can't be! Are you saying there's a Transcendent in the Forest?!!" The Dean exclaimed in shock. Enjoy exclusive chapters from empire

"That's the only explanation, There's no way a Beast-Ruler of that stage could be alive, they were all killed in the war... So I'm guessing someone a lot stronger than me is in that Forest, close to the two's location." Kara sighed softly.

"Should we send some forces to investigate?" The second elder asked.

"No... That will alert the families that something is wrong..." Kara turned her head to the Dean.

"Go and see what's happening, if it's truly a transcendent, Don't attack... Pay your respect and explain the situation... If this person is against us, send us a telepathic message... Don't attack, just wait for us..." She paused, and added;

"If it's a peak Stage Beast-Ruler, just run, and report back to us... These Monsters can't be reasoned with."

The Dean nodded in understanding, then asked an important question;

"Elder Kara, How'll I look for them? We don't Even know their location, and the Forest of Nightmare is huge, measuring thousands of Miles."

"Start from the outer section, I didn't send any kids further than that."

The Dean nodded, and flew away from the Academy, heading to the Forest of Nightmare.

Chapter 67 Two Beast-Rulers?!!

[One Hour Later.]

"What happened?" Aaron slowly opened his eyes, the first thing he saw were blue eyes staring lovingly at him.

"Thank goodness you are awake." Angela smiled.

Aaron noticed he was still on her lap, and sat up. "Sorry."

"Uh?"

Angela tilted her head in confusion.

"I should be the one apologizing, You lost such a powerful familiar all because you tried to save me." She looked down at her lap with a guilty expression.

"Saving you is more important, and besides, I can get another familiar." He stood up.

"But?"

Angela looked up at him, not knowing what to say.

"I said it's ok, Come on."

Aaron offered her his hand. "We still have a test to pass, don't think too much about it, your life is more important than any familiar."

"Uh... Ok." Angela answered, still a little confused, She thought for a moment, and took his hand.

Aaron pulled her up from the ground, then looked around. "We'll have to take the other direction, we don't want to risk meeting that Beast-Ruler again."

"Jack..."

Angela held his hand, not letting go, her cheek red.

"Um... I want to say thank you, No one beside my family have risked their lives to save me, And for that, I'll do anything possible to repay you back... Anything."

She emphasized the word "Anything" hoping he understood her meaning, but Aaron just smiled brightly at her.

"It's ok, we are friends, and I can't stay back watching my friend get killed... I know I'll miss my familiar, but saving you is all that matters... Come on now."

Aaron smiled, slowly removed her hand from his, and walked away.

Angela watched his back for some moment, then followed behind.

'I don't think I'll be this calm losing such a powerful familiar, If I'm in his shoe, I don't think I'll ever speak to him again... But Jack is different, even with everything, he's still smiling like nothing happened... I made the right choice choosing him.' She thought.

The Dean stopped above the forest, he looked around the expanse of green below him, and sighed deeply.

"I'd searched all the outer section, those two are nowhere to be found... It seems I need to venture deeper."

With a resolute determination, he flew further inside the forest.

"What do we have here?"

The Dean came to a stop, seeing a woman waiting for him, she was in a black armor, but he could clearly see she's not of any race, and most of all, the surrounding energy only showed one stage.

'A Beast-Ruler?!! I think I can reason with this one.' The Dean thought, and started;

"Good day, I'm looking for two kids, A silver hair boy, and a honey blonde hair girl... Have you seen them?"

'This woman is only at the mid-stage of the Beast-Ruler stage, I can match her.' He thought.

"Hmm... Are you referring to my meals?"

Modena asked with a smirk.

"Your meals?! How dare you hurt them?!!"

"Oh? I Haven't killed them, that boy you mentioned took her away from my teammate, even sacrificing his Great-Demon stage familiar, it was fun killing it, but we missed them."

The Dean sighed in relief. 'That means they're alive, I need to stop this monster, but who is the teammates she mentioned?'

"We'll use you to satisfy our hunger for now." Modena sneered, revealing white razor sharp teeth.

"Wha--"

BAM!!!!

The Dean looked up, seeing a huge Shadow descending towards him, although the sun was obstructing his view, he could see six heads and two huge winds... And to top it all.

"Shit!! That's a Beast-Ruler at the peak stage! That must be the Monster Kara talked about, but... How the hell is a peak stage Beast-Ruler still alive??!"

He brought out a rune, and without hesitation, activated it. A golden circle appeared below him.

Calamity opened all its mouths and released six powerful beams from each mouth towards the Dean.

Without hesitation, the Dean entered the circle, while the attacked collided with the rune, the backlash destroyed all the trees 50 meters away, turning them into ash.

"I hope you didn't kill him, because that's not part of the king's plan." Modena looked up at Calamity, who hovered in front of her.

"I know that hybrid, and don't ever remind me about my Master's plan, I know everything."

With that said, Calamity take into the sky, flying away.

"That six-headed pig! That's why my love is better than you!" She yelled, remembering Protean.

[Academy.]

"How is the test going, Miss Kara? Is my daughter winning?" Angela's father asked with a smile, observing Kara who sat opposite him.

"The test is going smoothly, and don't worry, your daughter is safe."

"Haha! I know she would!!" He let out a hearty laugh.

The space in the office tore opened, and a rune circle appeared.

The two stood up in confusion, and was stunned, as the Dean fell out from the rune, he fell on his knees and threw up a mouthful of blood.

"What happened?!! I asked you to check up on the kids! How did you get injured?!" Kara asked, observing the Emperor with one eye.

'Shit! With him here, he'll discover his precious daughter have had an encounter with a Beast-Ruler, hmm... With his personality, he'll be happy she could escape from it, but what if she's dead?'

F-First Elder... Jack, and Angela are Alive, but there are two Beast-Rulers in the forest, I suggest we call all the kids back... Before anything bad happened."

"What is he saying?!"

The Emperor turned his head to Kara, but the Dean continued;

"The Woman said Jack sacrificed a Great-Demon Stage familiar to save Princess Angela, but it resulted to the death of that Familiar."

'Woman?'

Kara sat down. "Poor Jack, such a familiar would have been useful to both him and us, what should we do now?" She asked.

"What is happening here?!!" The Emperor yelled in rage.

Kara stared at him for a moment and sighed. "Your daughter and Jack are missing, and it seems they came in contact with a Beast-Ruler, you know the rest."

She answered, stunning the Emperor.

The Dean stood up. "Um... Elder, there are two Beast-Rulers in the forest, one is a woman who's at the Mid-stage--"

"--You can take care of her--" Your journey continues with empire

"--I can, but the second is a peak stage, I had to use the rune to its highest degree, which resulted to me vomiting blood... That Beast-Ruler... I couldn't see it clearly, but it looks familiar." The Dean said.

Kara sighed; "Give the order, all the children should be back before 3 pm... We need to keep an eye on our kind, and send some soldiers to try and kill those Beast-Rulers."

"What about we take the children and let them be, at least they won't be angry and attack our academy or any city."

"Wait Both of you!!" The Emperor yelled at them again.

"Are you saying my daughter is out there, in that forest! Where two Beast-Rulers are moving freely?!"

The two looked at each other, and nodded... Without a second to waste, he anxiously walked out of the Office.

"Send the soldiers and Guardians, Now!!"

"Yes, Yes!!"

The Dean nodded, and quickly moved away from the place.

---

[300 miles from the Border of the Demons' Kingdom.]

A small hut was built inside the forest, which was heavily guarded by 20 Bounty Hunters, In this hut were two kids, tied to a chair, with their mouths sealed by a piece of cloth.

"Don't worry you two, All your mother need to do is accept my offer, and you two will be release."

Zack sat in front of the two, drinking tea, his right leg crossed on the other.

"Mmm!!"

"Oh? You want to say something?"

He gestured to the knight behind him, who nodded, walked to the girl who seems to be the oldest, and lowered the cloth on her mouth.

"You Wicked Man! Our mother will find us, and we'll see what'll happen to you then!!"

"Wow, what a sharp tongue you have there..." Zack sneered, placing the cup on the table beside him.

"Ok, If your mother refuses, we'll cut off your tongue and send it to her... I know seeing her daughter's tongue will change her mind... What do you guys think?"

"Messenger Zack is 100% right." The guard at the right said.

"Of course, I'm always right."

He relaxed on his seat with a please smile, while the guard covered the Girl's mouth again.

AWWWWWOOOOO!!!!

"What the hell is that?!"

Everyone in the room looked at the door and the only window in the hut in surprise.

"You didn't tell me there are wolves in this forest!!" Zack yelled at the guard.

"It's not possible, No animal can past through the formation I set around us." The guard at the left said, his face filled with confusion.

"Then that is no ordinary animal, Go out and look for it, Bring its meat here... It'll make a good snack."

"Yes!"

The four nodded, and walked towards the door, when they opened it, they froze in shock.

"WHAT THE BUTT?!!"

Chapter 68 Tonight, We Are Attacking.

"Who the hell are you guys?!"

The guards walked out from the hut, they moved their gaze around the place... The Bounty Hunters were all over the place, Meaning; their bodies were ripped apart, then tossed all over the place.

It was a bloody, and gruesome scene.

They moved their gazes back to the group, their eyes fixed on the girl sitting on a red throne.

The blonde hair girl smiled at the four, and asked;

"Where are the kids?"

The guards looked at one another and burst out laughing.

"Hahahahaha!! You are funny... Let's see, you came to the Forest with these four, to do what?"

"I think she's here for the kids... kid, We are all Heavenly-saints, there's no way a mage can match a warrior."

"Oh?" Lilly smiled, and added;

"Who told you that lie?"

She snapped her finger, two arrows flew above her, heading towards two of the guards.

The two quickly blocked the arrows with the surface of their swords.

"How dare you attack us?!!"

The two yelled in rage.

"That's just a distraction."

"Uh?"

Whoosh!!

Swoosh!!!!

Before the guards could turn around, two figures moved past them, cutting off the heads of the two guards behind them.

They both turned around in shock, seeing the headless bodies of their comrades falling to the ground.

The two subconsciously raised their heads above the tree, seeing a huge white eagle feeding on the head on its claws... Beside this eagle was a werewolf, with the head of their second comrade in hand.

"Weak." Lilly stood up, and walked towards the two, Kira, and her killers were following behind.

"You! Who are you?!"

"You are about to die, so I'll answer your question; My name is Lilly, princess of empire Terra."

Lilly snapped her fingers, freezing the two feet on the ground.

The guards looked at the ice holding their legs to the ground in shock, then yelled.

"Let us go!!"

Lilly smiled and walked past them, "Killing you two will only stain my hands... Take care of them."

"What?"

Whoosh!!

The two heads flew into the air, as Shadow and Venom walked past them, following behind their group.

The two remaining guards fell on the ground, dead.

Squeak!!

"You guys are back, I hope you brought the meat."

Zack turned his head to the door, and frowned slightly seeing Lilly, Kira and the three killers walking inside.

"Who are you, fools?!!"

Whoosh!!

Shadow appeared in front of him, pushed him in his seat, and placed a dagger on his neck.

"Don't kill him, I need him alive."

Shadow nodded, but his Blade was still on Zack's neck.

Zack looked at the group in Horror, so terrified to say or ask anything... He watched as Lilly walked up to the stunned kids, and removed the clothes on their mouths.

"You guys are really lucky your Mum accepted our offer." Lilly smiled at them.

The two siblings looked at one another, and thanked;

"Thank You."

"It's nothing, I'm Lilly, what about you guys?"

"I'm Sofia, he's Ofia... We are twins." The girl answered.

Lilly nodded, and snapped her finger, freeing the two.

"Ok Sofia, we are here to get your guys home..."

The two siblings stood up, then looked at Zack;

"What about this wicked man?!" Sofia asked, pointing a finger at Zack.

"He's useful to me."

With a thought, the space behind the siblings tore opened;

"Go, Your parents are waiting for you... And next time, Be careful."

The two thought for a moment, then nodded. With another "Thank you" they walked inside the Gateway, which closed behind him, leaving Lilly, her group and Zack behind.

"Now, to business."

Elizabeth walked inside the hut with Lilly's throne, and placed it behind her.

Shadow let go of Zack, and stood beside him. While Lilly sat down and crossed one leg above the other.

"So you are Zack, the messenger of the King, Right?"

Zack moved his gaze around in confusion.

'What's happening here? I'm a Sky realm, I can take care of all these people, this lady behind this girl might be troublesome, but I can still escape... Then why are my powers weakening?'

"With your expression, I'll say you are confused, and wondering why you are weak, Am I right?"

Zack frowned at her.

Lilly stood up and walked towards him, she stopped a foot from him and looked at his green eyes, her eyes instantly turned white.

Zack froze, his gaze fixed on her white eyes.

"- From now henceforth, you'll be my loyal servant, only following my orders no matter how unpleasant they are. You'll die for me, and see me as your only master.-"

With that said, she walked back to her throne, and sat down... "Any moment from now."
She added.

Zack blinked a couple of times, then stood up, walked towards Lilly and dropped on one knee.

"Greetings to the master." He said, and bowed his head.

"Your job is very simple, You'll help us get inside the castle... I can't open a gateway, because that'll trigger the rune formation, but an insider will be a good doorway."

"It'll be my honor."

"Next tomorrow, the soldiers are going to war, the people are reckless; and the soldiers' fighting spirit is already greatly diminished... Tonight, we are attacking."

Vince walked inside the hut with his bow in hand.

"Right on time, ask your father to give us the information about the resistance... They'll help us with the people."

Vince nodded, and opened his mouth;

"When did you guys started killing with such brutality?"

"Get use to it." Lilly stood up; "We are just getting started." She walked out from the hut, Elizabeth following behind.

"Burn the bodies." Kira said to Dagon, and quickly followed behind her.

"Where to now?" She asked, catching up with Lilly.

"Send word to my brother, The Demon Kingdom will be taken from inside out, he doesn't need to wipe out the army... That's if they surrender."

"Ok, Princess." Kira nodded.

"Do you know this brother she has been taking about?"

Venom whispered to Dagon.

"How do you expect me to know that?!" Dagon growled at her, and walked towards the bodies.

"Huff! How rude!"

[Forest Of Nightmare.]

[Three Hours later.]

BAM!!

Harold cut down the last Omega-stage Skeleton in front of him.

He looked around at the hundred of Skeletons he and his teammate had killed.

He then turned to his teammate, a Beast folk, with long green hair, and snake's pupil.

She walked towards him, her sledgehammer was placed on her shoulder.

"I thought you won't be able to take that one down, Royalties are always soft handed."
She said, while still walking towards him.

Harold stared at her, and asked; "Am I worthy to know your name now?"

The girl who looks around 15 years old, stopped in front of him, her gaze fixed on his.

"No."

With that said, she turned around and walked away, only to come to a stop.

"Why are you here first Guardian? And even with the soldiers?"

The two looked at the soldiers in silver armors, these were the Academy's personal soldiers.

"You two did good, You killed a total of 125 Skeletons, your reward will be calculated."

A soldier flew towards them, and landed on the ground, he gave the two teleportation scroll.

"Use this to go back to the Academy, the rest are already back."

"The rest? But the test is still 6pm, we still have at least 3 hours."

"There are two Beast-Rulers in the forest, you can see our special soldiers are with us,
So you see this is important."

The girl looked at him for some Seconds then sighed;

"I might be the strongest in my group, but I'm not strong enough to face a Beast-Ruler."

She tore the scroll, and vanished from the forest.

"Prince Harold?" The first Guardian stared at Harold in mild confusion.

"Is Jack and Angela back in the Academy?"

The Guardian thought for a moment and shook his head. "Don't worry, they'll be safe."

'Safe? Did something happen to them? If something happened to Jack, I'll be Happy, but not Angela.'

"Prince?"

'Shit, I have to go, don't worry Jack, if this forest didn't kill you, I will... You dare attack my father, you'll pay for that.'

He tore the scroll, and also vanished from the forest, leaving the guardian and soldiers behind.

"Now that all the kids are safe, we must look for Jack and Princess Angela, or Elder Kara will have our heads... You all know how she value the boy."

The soldiers nodded.

"The others are moving from the south, east, and west. We'll be taking the North."

Without hesitation, they all flew into the Forest.

---

At the center of the forest;

Angela sat amidst the bodies of dead monsters, slowly absorbing their cores... Above then huge tree behind her, Aaron sat watching her, protean on his shoulder.

"Why are you letting her grow stronger? Is this also in your plan?"

"I need her to own me many favors, love and trust me beyond reasons... That's the only way I can hold her in my hand."

"But after you take over her kingdom, and reveal Emily is your love, she'll be angry... Or worse, even try to kill Emily."

"She'll be hurt and angry, that's understandable, but if she tries to harm Emily in any way, that day she'll leave this world... and besides... After her kingdom is mine, she'll be of no use to me."

Protean thought for a moment, and nodded;

"Ok... But those guys are coming, they're looking for both of you."

"I know, let them come." Aaron smiled.

Chapter 69 Ning Family

Aaron and protean stood above the tree, staring at Angela as she broke through to the Sky realm.

"Impressive, She is truly a genius." Protean muttered.

Experience new stories with empire

"True." Aaron nodded, and raised his head to the Sky.

Calamity flew towards them in its baby form and entered the ring.

"Now we are ready to go."

He added, staring at Angela, who finally opened her eyes.

"I can't believe this, I finally broke through to the Sky realm." She stood up.

Aaron landed beside her, with Protean on his shoulder. "Congratulations."

Angela turned to him in joy;

"Thank you, Jack! You have helped me in different ways, I know our marriage can't pay for everything, So I'll do anything you ask."

Aaron walked towards her, stopping a foot from her; "Anything?"

"Yes." She answered without hesitation, then her eyes fell on Protean.

"You have another familiar?"

She was stunned, everyone can only have one familiar, how the hell did Aaron have two?

"Yes."

Aaron raised his hand, Protean turned into black smoke, and entered the ring.

"I have more."

He stretched forth his hand, black smoke came out, and a Red Skeleton with a broadsword appeared.

"Wow! An Enrage-stage monster."

The skeleton turned into black smoke and entered the ring again, the raven then flew out and landed on his shoulder.

"This guy might not be weak, but I like using him." Aaron smiled at her:

'That's it for now, it's not wise to show her my familiars... How funny, Protean can simply take more than ten forms, so I can have ten different familiars!'

"Yeah, I'm deeply sorry about--"

"--It's ok, You said it, we'll be getting married in the coming future, so I can't let you die." Aaron smiled.

"Thank you, Jack."

"We found them!!"

The two turned their heads to their right, on Aaron's right, the first Guardian walked towards them with twenty Soldiers.

On Angela's right, The second Guardian walked towards them with twenty more soldiers.

Aaron frowned slightly;

'What the hell, these guards are all Sky and Legendary realms... And they're just guards... My army is still weak to face these group, and I know these aren't the only soldiers.'

"We finally found..." The third guardian walked towards them, he was also with twenty Soldiers...

The guardians and soldiers moved their gazes on the monsters around the two and were all dumbfounded.

"You two killed these?" The first Guardian asked in mild surprised.

"Jack killed 80% of Monsters here, I just assisted him." Angela answered and asked;

"Are you guys here to help kill the beast-Ruler? The academy is really efficient."

"We are honor Princess, but our mission is to take you two out from here, then we can talk about killing the Beast-Rulers."

Angela turned her head to Aaron, Who just shrugged his shoulders.

"Wait?!" She turned her head to the first Guardian.

"What do you mean my Beast-Rulers? How many are they?"

"The Dean came to the Forest in search of you two, he came in contact with a woman who's a Beast-Ruler, and a six-headed monster."

"That's the monster we escaped from."

"Ok, we need to get out from here, all the kids are back in the academy, we have recorded all their records, and yours."

He brought out a Teleportation scrolls, he headed it to Aaron and Angela.

'How can I make my army stronger? No one can harm us in our territories, but what if we need to attack the enemy in theirs?'

Aaron thought, observing the scroll with the All Seeing Eyes.

{Name: Teleportation scroll. Class: Rare. Info: To travel, often instantaneously, from one point to another without physically crossing the distance between the two points.}

'Ok, this is new.'

"Come on, Jack."

Angela tore the scroll, and vanished from the place, Before Aaron could tear his, the first Guardian stopped him.

"Wait a minute, Jack."

He stopped his action, and turned his head to the guardian.

"We want to know how you got a Demon-Stage familiar, and can also use two familiars... In this world, only a demon can have two or more familiars."

"Are you assuming I'm a demon?" Aaron fixed his gaze on the man.

"Is there any other explanation?" The second asked, folding his hand;

"I can have two familiars because of my family's Legacy, My family came in contact with a mysterious power, which made us one of the strongest in the continents... You might have heard of us... The Ning family."

The three eyes widened in shock, not only them, even the soldiers' mouths dropped in surprise.

Aaron nodded with a please smile;

The Ning family was one of the strongest family in the whole three Continents, although they weren't royalty, their Powers and influence wasn't a joke... Even the kings, and Emperor need to show them face... When the Abyssal gates opened, they led the assault, and with glorious victory, they won the battle, at the cause of their own lives... Their names were known by millions, they were heroes...

Now Aaron claimed to be the only descendant... Well...

'I'm not wrong, My distance aunt, who gave me her powers and knowledge is among the many consorts the head of the Ning Family had... So I basically know more about the Ning family than anyone else.'

"How can you prove that?" The third asked, staring at Jack with suspicion.

'I think I'll have to teach them a lesson.'

"What is the Ning family best at?" He asked.

The three guardians looked at one another, then said;

"Elementary attacks."

"Then why don't you try to attack me." Aaron spread out his hands to the men.

The guardians frowned slightly, then looked at one another and after some hesitation, they nodded.

"Attack..."

The first Guardian said to the twenty Soldiers behind him, without hesitation; the twenty shot towards Aaron, Sid energy rubbing around their fists... They all leaped into the air, and pointed a finger at Aaron.

"[Light of pure retribution]!"

Light beam shot out from their fingers towards Aaron.

'These guys are smart, With my fake identity, they all attacked with light affinity, None used elemental attacks... But in present of the future ruler of this land, they're surly looking down on me.'

With a wave of his hand, the wind moves with an unbelievable force, changing the trajectory of their attacks to the second Guardian.

"What are you doing?!"

The guardian quickly leaped out from the way, while the soldiers behind him quickly create a barrier in front of them, blocking the beams.

Aaron wasn't done, He stretched forth his hand towards the twenty, Roots shot out from the ground, binding their hands and legs, and with a dropped of his hand;

The roots pulled the twenty to the ground with such force that dented their armors' surface.

"Augh!!!"

They all moaned in pain, holding different parts of their bodies.

"Should I continue?" He turned to the third guardian with a sinister smirk on his face.

The man took a step back seeing the smile on Aaron's face;

"You don't have to, Please use the scroll."

"Ok."

Aaron nodded, and vanished from the place, with Protean.

The third guardian turned to the other two;

"Do you guys believe him?" He asked.

"That's why he's so powerful at such a young age, do you think he's after his family's heritages?" The second asked.

"Then the humans should be ready to give it up... And I now understood why Elder Kara is interested in him, that kid is the last descendant of the Ning family... And he took care of twenty of our best with a raise and drop of his hand... What'll happen if he uses a skill?"

The first sighed;

"Come on now, Help these guys up, let's get out from here before those Beast-Rulers detected us." He added.

The group nodded, and used the scrolls, disappearing from the forest of nightmare.

[Tiger Club Handout.]

"We have been waiting for a while now, are you sure he's coming?"

Mott who sat on a chair asked the girls who stood close to the window, ten of their members stood behind him.

"He'll be here." Emily said with a smile, looking at Angela who appeared alone on the academy ground.

Mott nodded, relaxing on his seat.

"Why are you in such a rush?"

Everyone turned their heads to head seat, seeing Aaron sitting on it with crossed legs;

Mott: "How did you?!"

"Are these guys trustworthy?"

He directed this question to Mott, but his eyes were fixed on the ten, five girls and five boys... Mott made sure to include all the race.

"Yes, these guys have been with me for months... I trust them with my life." Mott said with a smile.

"Never trust anyone with your Life, Mott... Life is a valuable thing, and you can never place it on someone... Instead, you must get stronger so they won't be able to betray you."

He stood up from his seat, with a flick of his wrist, alliance circles appeared in front of him, flying towards the group.

"Place your hands on it, and then we can discuss your mission." He said.

Chapter 70 Inheritance!!

"Jack is a very mysterious kid, While others were teleported to the academy, he was teleported somewhere else... Can someone really manipulate a Teleportation scroll?"

The Dean asked, looking at the elders sitting in front of him, at his right; the Royal families of different races sat on their seats, all staring at him.

"That's not the point here, what about the Beast-Rulers?" Kara asked, her gaze fixed on the three guardians who stood behind the Dean.

"First Elder, after some investigation, Jack saved Princess Angela by sacrificing his Demon-Stage familiar--"

"--I know all that, Tell me what happened when you encountered the two."

Kara stopped the first Guardian with a rise of her hand.

"Well... We found Jack and Princess Angela surrounded by Monsters' carcasses, Jack killed 80% of the monsters with what princess Angela revealed, but the surprising thing was; he has another familiar."

Everyone frowned slightly.

"What are you saying?!!!"

Aaron's step uncle, and Harold's father, the eldest son of the elves kingdom yelled in shock.

"Calm down, Orion. There must be an explanation for this."

The elves' king said to his son, then turned his head to the Dean;

"There's an explanation, right?"

The Dean turned to the three, who nodded.

"Jack claimed to be the last descendant of the Ning family."

"WHAT?!!!!!"

They all stood up in shock.

"Are you sure about this?!" Kara asked, her gaze fixed on the guardian.

"You do know how important the Ning family is to all races, and you know the position they hold, although they're no more, their inheritances are still reserved!!" She added.

"Yes, we even tested him by sending our soldiers, even through they're a lot stronger than him, he defected all of them with the earth and wind affinities, and he didn't use any skill when facing them..." The first said.

Kara slumped down on her seat, she took a deep breath, and turned her head to the emperor.

"Emperor Hick, you know what this means, as your father decreed, 40% of your kingdom belong to the Ning family."

"I understand." Hick nodded, and added;

"He saved my daughter, so doing this is replaying the debt."

"It seems you misunderstood, The 40% of land is promised by your father in front of the grand priests and us elders, it has nothing to do with today's debt." Kara said with an emotionless expression.

Emperor Hick frowned slightly, but still nodded.

'Giving 40% of my empire?! That's more than 5 Cities!' He thought.

Kara turned her head to the elves;

"King Maxim, your father promised the Ning family the Plantations in your southern colony."

Maxim thought for some seconds, looked at his two sons and sighed softly;

"My father promised this, is it necessary for us to agree to it?" He asked.

"Yes, my father is right! This is my grandfather's wish, there's no need for us to honor it!!"

The second son named Andrew, stood up and yelled.

"How dare you yell in my present!"

Kara slammed her hand on the table, an unholy pressure descended on the room... Everyone froze feeling the pressure on them.

"Sorry, first elder."

Andrew quickly apologized, Kara was a Peak Supreme, his father might be a Supreme, but in presence of a "Peak" they're all powerless.

Kara turned her head to Maxim;

"Your daughter became the bearer of the Cursed Child... Do you want to be the bearer of your doom?"

Maxim gulped in. "We'll go with my father's promise."

Stay connected with empire

"Good." Kara removed her pressure, and sat back down.

'This Bitch! She is helping Jack because he's in her Academy, No matter what happens, in the future; Jack will be under her control, and all the Powers and inheritance will naturally be in her hands.' Orion thought, his fists clenched.

Kara then turned to the Queen of the Beast folks, and king of the Orcs.

"What about you two? Will both of you honor your family's wish?" She asked.

"Don't worry, I Nicolette will honor my mother's wish and give Jack the legendary sword."

The Queen of the Beast folks stated.

"While I'll give Jack the legendary dark Armor." The Orcs king, named; Sheen, said.

"Good, After we validate his claim, he'll receive all these inheritances, and even get the estates back... But if he lied about this, you can all keep the inheritance." Kara gave her order.

The royal families all nodded, with one thought in mind. 'There's no way Jack will be the last descendant of the Ning family.'

Kara stood up again; "Let's go announced the end of the test, everyone is waiting."

"Do you understand your tasks?" Aaron asked the ten outer students in front of him.

"Yes, club leader." The ten nodded.

"Good."

"I have a question." Mott raised his hand; "Are you really a descendant of the Ning family? As far as everyone can tell... The Ning family died three centuries ago, so showing up as their descendant will surely be fishy."

Aaron smiled at him, and walked towards Emily and Stellar.

"It's simply, My mother is one of the heiress of the Ning family... She didn't partake in the battle, and ran away because of shame... The Ning family was known as the strongest, even their maids and workers were powerful figures, but she... She as the youngest daughter was the weakest... I'll say that saved her life... Not partaking in the war because of her strength...

After these years, she came in contact with an elf, fell in love and gave birth to me... She died at Childbirth... So I'm here to take everything they promised the Ning family."

Everyone blinked in shock, even Protean who sat on the table, turned his head to him.

"Did you made that up? Because you aren't even related to the Ning family." Mott said.

"The real story, after she escaped, she died from a monster attack, and the line of the Ning family end there... You are right, I'm not a descendant of the family, but I can use all my knowledge and powers to take all the lands, powers, and military strength I need with their name... I'm not heartless or anything, I'm just benefiting from their previous successful endeavor."

'Is the club leader mistaking the word Heartless?'

The ten thought in mild confusion.

"Ten of you." Aaron looked at them over his shoulder.

"I need all the dukes, Earls, Barons, or anybody holding political positions to be under me in less than 2 months... That's why you have been separated into two groups... Use the gold coins I gave you, If they refuse to submit... Just give me their names... They can be easily replaced by our men... I want the whole continent before this year is done."

"Yes, Club Leader!"

Aaron was silent, then heard his sister's voice in his head.

[Baby Brother, The Demon Kingdom will be taken from inside out, you don't need to wipe out their army... Only if they surrender... If not; I'm sure you know what to do.]

'Oh wow, it seems Lilly has been busy... Hmm... Ok, I'll go with her plan, if they surrender I won't kill them, but if they attack... I'll wipe them out... Tomorrow; We'll be leaving the Academy... I'll be back here for only one reason...

Know my enemies better.'

BEEEEEP!!

The group looked around the building with a slight frown.

[Voice of Mariel: Jack, If you are in the Academy, The test result is out, come to the Academy field.]

"It seems it's time we all get promoted." Aaron smiled, and walked towards the door, Protean flew into the air and landed on his right shoulder.

'I wonder what test or question they will bring up about the Ning family.' He thought.

[Academy Field.]

"Jack!! I'd been looking everywhere for..."

Angela stopped on track, seeing Emily walking beside Aaron... She smiled, walked towards him, and hooked her hand in his.

"I was so worried."

She felt her body heating up again. 'Why every time I touch him, I'll be in need of his touch? No! I should keep some distance, I don't want to do something that I'll regret.' She slowly let go, walking beside him.

Aaron noticed her action and smiled inwardly; 'Not so stupid after all.'

While Emily just rolled her eyes, Aaron already told her his plan, so she wasn't angry or anything...

'Enjoy yourself slut, when the time come, I'll be the one stepping on your head.' Emily thought.

"You don't have to be worried about me, I'm good... I just went out to get something for my friends." Aaron smiled.

Angela looked at Emily, Stellar, and Mott, and muttered;

"Oh?"

Her eyes brightened instantly, she quickly said in a low voice;

"All the things you need have been brought by my guards, the military strategy and the rest."

Aaron turned to her with a surprise expression; "Really?"

She nodded with a smile; "You can check it out when you have dinner with me, I'm buying you dinner... Please."

Aaron thought for a moment and nodded; "If you're ok with it--"

"--I am." She cut him off.

"Ok, We'll have dinner after the result announcement."

"Yey!" Angela replied happily.

Aura who had woken up, walked inside the Academy gates, and froze seeing her sister and Aaron walking ahead of her, she could clearly see her sister was happy.

'What did I miss?'
