Reborn With The All Seeing Eye

Chapter 71 I Should Be The First!

[Academy Ground.]

Kara stood in front of all kids and parents with a smile on her face;

"Ok everyone! I know you all are waiting for the final results..." She smiled brightly at them.

"The first place in the third test is Princess Angela! Please come up." She announced.

Find adventures at empire

The kids and parents looked at one another, no one was surprise about the result.

Aura walked up to Aaron, and stopped beside him.

"My sister got the first position, I won... Get ready to kowtow in front of the academy." She gave him an evil smile.

"Oh? How is that possible?" Aaron turned his head toward her, a smile on his face.

"You can pretend as much as you like, but I won... You can't do anything about it." Aura wasn't giving up.

Angela stood on the right side of Kara, who smiled at her and continued;

"Let's call her teammate, Jack, please come up."

"What?! Teammates?!! How... What... There's no way..."

"Calm down princess, we don't want you to have a high blood pressure..."

"Wha...??"

She watched with widened eyes as Aaron walked towards the podium, and stood beside Angela who smiled at him.

"Club Leader!"

Aura turned around, seeing her Vice and a member walking towards her.

"You are awake."

"What happened?!" Aura yelled at the two, pointing at the Podium.

"They all formed a team of two for the third test, and your sister and Jack were on the same Team... As you can see, they got first place." The Vice answered.

"Uh?" Aura was stunned.

Kara nodded and continued;

"The second place go to prince Harold and Miss Jenny."

Harold turned to the beast girl beside him and flashed his best smile;

"So your name is Jenny."

Jenny rolled her eyes at him, and walked toward Kara, she stopped in front of her... Kara and everyone frowned slightly.

"Why did I carry second? I should be the first... I'm a lot stronger than her." She pointed at Angela.

'Wow, this girl got balls... I mean... Forget it.' Aaron shook his head.

"Angela is now a sky realm, you're just a Saint."

"Just?" Jenny frowned, "She might be the strongest in the Human king, but in the Beast folks, I'm the strongest--"

"--What are you doing Jenny, Stand down!"

The Queen of the Beast folks, Nicolette, quickly opened her mouth.

"No Mum! I have hid my self far to long! I took fourth place in both test! I'm not carrying second in the last!"

'Oh, it seems I'm not the only one hiding here.' Aaron was clearing enjoying the show.

"Are you disrespecting your mother?!" Nicolette stood up in rage.

"Stop this drama!"

Kara rose her hand, stopping the argument, she scanned Jenny with her Sid energy and nodded in satisfaction;

"I'm impressed, if I haven't used my powers I won't have known you are a sky realm... I wondered why all the Monsters you killed don't have cores." She turned her head to Harold.

"You don't know about this?"

Harold was speechless.

Seeing his stunned expression, Kara turned her head to Nicolette, Her eyes asking the question.

"Jenny's spiritual weapon can absorb the cores of Monsters she killed with it." Nicolette said.

'Wow! Such weapon will be useful to Emily...' Aaron observed Jenny with an intense gaze; 'Can I take the weapon If I kill her?' He thought.

Kara nodded in understanding; "You hid your powers, portraying it as a Saint... But..." She smiled, and turned to the audience.

"These are all your positions."

She went ahead and mentioned everyone's score, after five minutes, she then turned to Jenny.

"Our Academy is only for the best, especially the Core Section... If you want the first position, you have to defect Angela in a battle, and... If you win, you gain her position."

"A question."

Everyone turned to Harold.

"If she wins Princess Angela, does the position belong to our team?"

Jenny, Angela, Aaron, even Kara frowned slightly.

'This guy is shameful, and thinking he's my step cousin.' Aaron shook his head in disappointment.

"No prince Harold, if she wins, Angela will be demoted to your team, and Jenny will be in Jack's team, If you also want the first position; you'll have to challenge Jack."

Harold was silent;

'She'll be in my team?! Yes!!! Jenny is both Arrogant and a bitch... She might be beautiful, but Angela is an angel!! And who in there right mind will challenge Jack head on?'

He smiled; "That's not necessary, Elder Kara."

"Good."

Orion frowned, seeing his Son's action; "Is this really my son? He'll rather be in the second than try to enter the first... Even if he loses, at least he challenged."

"Calm down son, my grandson is trying to play it safe... Or he's trying to create some relationship with Angela..." Maxim said in a low voice.

His two sons looked at him in confusion.

"Your sister, Aurora have tarnished our royal family's reputation, if we can create an alliance with the human empire, we'll have some backup."

"But father, You and Emperor Hick are like fire and water." Andrew reminded.

"That's why the youngest should make their move, I can keep our hatred behind us, but he won't... But... If Angela says something, he'll."

The two finally nodded in understanding.

Kara turned to Angela; "Do you accept?" She asked.

'If I refuse, Jack might think I'm weak... He might think low of me... But if I accept and lose, I'll be removed from his team... What should I do? Hmm... Yes!

I'll accept, there's no way this arrogant bitch can win me in a battle... I can also show Jack I'm powerful enough to stand by his side... Everyone thought Jack Is in the Sky realm... But I know his realm is higher than that... He's hiding his main strength.'

She nodded at Kara; "I accept!"

"Good!! This is the end of the test!! All your scores will be recorded, come to the academy tomorrow morning to take your uniforms... You'll also know your section tomorrow!" Kara said, her voice resounding all over the place.

"Let's go to the arena."	She	added.
--------------------------	-----	--------

[Academy Arena.]

Angela and Jenny stood in the arena which was surrounded by a white transparent barrier... Kara, her elders, the dean and Royal families all sat on the high podium, While the children and parents sat on the chairs arranged around the arena.

"This girl is really going after my sister, does she think because she's a Princess, she can win?" Aura asked, placing her right leg on the left.

"She can't win, Club Leader." The vice who sat beside her said.

"Of course, she can't. My sister is the best!" Aura said.

_

"This will be fun, I hope Jenny will win." Emily said with disdain.

"Come on now, Lori. You don't have to hate her because she's in love with Jack."

Stellar said with a teasing smile.

"I'm not... Forget it." Emily sighed, she looked at the chairs ahead of them, seeing Aaron; who sat beside Harold, and the other contestants.

She smiled.

Kara stood up, and addressed the audience;

"This is a friendly battle, so the same weapons will be provided to the competitors... And most of all, No killing!! If anyone surrender, the other wins... Begin!!"

Angela looked at the wooden sword in her hand, and looked up at Jenny only to see she was already in front of her.

"What are you looking at?!"

Jenny smashed down with her wooden sword.

BAM!!

"I see someone is in a rush."

"Uh?"

Jenny was stunned seeing Angela blocked her attack, she leaped backwards; the moment her feet touches the ground, she shot forward again.

Angela spun her sword, and lunged towards her, thrusting her sword forward aiming for Jenny's heart... Jenny quickly parried Angela's sword with hers, and counter by sending a punch with her left hand.

Angela dodged the punch with a tilt of her head, and without hesitation send out a sidekick, which Jenny neutralized by kicking Angela's leg back with hers... Before Angela could gain her footing, Jenny slammed her chest with her palm.

BAM!

Angela flew backward, falling heavily on the ground.

"You are not so good without your equipments and weapons, right?" Jenny asked, walking towards her.

"Are you talking to me?" Angela stood up from the ground, her gaze fixed on Jenny.

"Come on." She added.

Jenny smirked, her eyes shinning brightly.

Aaron relaxed on his seat:

'Angela has a huge disadvantage, Jenny is a Beast folk, and she has the snake Bloodline which gave her some advantage in her attributes... But Angela doesn't have any Bloodline... So no advantage... I know those guys know about this.'

"Here I come."

Jenny grinned revealing rows of razor sharp teeth, in matter of seconds, she shot forward, appearing in front of Angela, she then swung her sword at her head.

BAM!!

Angela blocked the sword with hers, and sent a straight kick, which connected with Jenny's Jaw.

Piffff!

Jenny spurted out a mouthful of blood, and smashed heavily on the ground.

"WOW!!!"

Everyone gasped in shock.

Chapter 72 Battle Of... What Is Going On Here?

BAM!!

Jenny slammed her palm on the ground, and stood up in rage.

"How dare you?!!"

She threw the wooden sword aside, and with a flick of her wrist, a sledgehammer appeared.

"I'll only be first!!"

She leaped into this air, and smashed down on Angela, who dodged with a backflip.

"Elder Kara! Is this acceptable?!!"

Emperor Hick stood up in rage, his gaze fixed on Kara, who turned her head to him with a smile.

"Soldiers needs to adapt in situation, especially unfavorable ones."

"You...!"

Hick was speechless.

"You have high hopes for your daughter, Emperor Hick... Don't you believe she can past this?"

11 11

He sat back down, his fists clenched on the chair hand rest;

Aaron used the opportunity, and scanned the weapon in Jenny's hand with the All Seeing Eyes.

{All seeing eyes.}

{Name: Core Plunderer. Class: Mystic. Info: Forged with the blood of a true god. Benefit: (1) +20% attack, and +10% speed. (2) User will be able to absorb cores and energies directly after killing a creature.}

{Calculating... Do you want to steal the weapon's skills, and use it on yourself?}

'Hmm... Just like the invisibility Talon gave me, I can also use on weapons?'

{Yes, You can steal any skills from any weapon, and pass it to either Weapon or creature... This can be achieved with anything... As long, it has a skill.}

'You didn't tell me you can do this, I thought you only show information?'

{The All Seeing Eyes as the name suggest can show information, but I also have another function... Which is; I can steal anything's skill and pass it to something else... Note: After stealing the skill, the weapon or creature won't have the skill anymore... And you'll have to be in contact with the target for me to do my job.}

Aaron read all the information in front of him, and nodded in understanding.

'I'm already an immortal, but with this... I'm more than a god!! All Seeing Eyes, You just showed me a way to gift Emily a good present.'

"This bitch!"

Angela dodged again, and landed meters back from Jenny.

"I'll have to get serious, or else... I'll lose."

"Stop Mumbling!!"

Angela looked up, her eyes widened in shock, as the sledgehammer dropped on her.

BAM!!!!!

Cloud of dust rose into the air, enveloping the two.

"Club Leader, aren't you worried about Princess Angela?"

The vice asked, seeing the smile on Aura's face...

"When we were coming to the Arena, she asked me to terminate the bet with Jack, and I accepted... You know why?"

She turned her head to her Vice, who shook her head.

"Because Jack saved her life, and helped her increase in realm without taking anything in return... My sister will always be in pain after using her armor and sword... Because she couldn't handle the backlash... But after entering the Sky realm... Fufufu... This slut is done for." Aura chuckled.

Aaron: "Hm...."

"I won!!" Jenny smiled.

"Oh really?"

"Uh?!!!"

She looked up, seeing Angela in a golden Armor, a long golden sword was in her hand... The energy emanating for her equipments was so dense that Jenny turned paled, she took a step back, and stammered;

"How... How... There's no way... How did you...?"

Angela looked at her golden gauntlet with a smile on her face, she then looked up at Jenny, her eyes shining gold.

"You are doing this for a position, but I'm doing this for something far more... You think only on yourself, but I think about my family's future... So I'll ask; Do you have any chance of winning against me?"

'Wow! Those equipments are cool!'

{All seeing eyes.}

{Name: Armor of golden Protection. Class: Mystic. Info: Forged with the blood of a true god. Benefit: (1) +70% defense, and +50% speed. (2) User will be able to absorb energy from any attack taken. (3) +100% Endurance.} Find exclusive stories on empire

{Calculating... Do you want to steal the weapon's skills, and use it on yourself?}

'No more advantage, Angela's equipment is a killer... That's why she could be the strongest youngest generation, in the whole Human empire.'

"Dammit! She won't be able to join my team if she wins, What should I do?"

Aaron frowned, he turned his head to Harold who sat three feet from him. 'What's this guy whispering... Why did he want Angela in his team so badly...? We'll know sooner or later, now... We can only observe.'

_

"Emperor Hick is truly remarkable, The Mystical weapons could only be found in ruins and dungeons, I'm impressed seeing two on your daughter."

The Dwarves' King who has been silent all along finally opened his mouth.

"You're also lucky, king Alto. Your family owns Jack nothing." Emperor Hick said with a smile, and added;

"And the equipment were gotten my Angela, she made the bond the moment she discovered them."

He said, making sure they got the idea that no one could steal the equipments from his daughter.

"If she has such powerful Equipments, why did Jack have to sacrifice his familiar to save her?" Sheen, the Orcs' king; asked.

"Yes, I'm wondering about that." Andrew added.

"You all know How powerful a Beast-Ruler at the peak stage is... Even Elder Kara don't have a high success rate of defeating it, let alone killing it... We all know only the five grand priests can achieve this feat... My daughter is still weak, she might have some good gears, but her strength isn't that high."

The rest relaxed back on their seats after hearing Hick.

"You have a point."

They all nodded, not noticing the dark expression on Kara's face.

["Even Elder Kara don't have a high success rate of defeating it, let alone killing it... We all know only the five grand priests can achieve this feat..."]

Hick's word kept replaying in her head, she clenched her fists, and teeth in rage.

'Those old Bastards might be powerful, but one day, I'll break through my bottleneck, and enter the transcendent realm! Then we'll see who's the strongest... I only need a core of a peak stage Beast-Ruler! I must get it and grow stronger!'

She thought, then took a deep breath, and exhaled;

'There's no use of getting worked up, When the time is right, all the continent will belong to me alone; and all these Bastards will be gotten rid of.'

Feeling the dense energy around Kara, the Dean asked;

"Is something wrong, Elder Kara?"

"It's nothing." She smiled at him, and turned her gaze back to the Arena.

The Dean stared at her for some moments, then sighed in relief, feeling her energy subsiding.

[On the Arena.]

"Let's have some fun!"

BOOM!!

Angela shot towards Jenny, her sword's golden blade tearing the wind behind her.

"I'm not going down that easily!!"

BOOM!!!

Sid energy burst out from Jenny, her sledgehammer glowed red, and without hesitation, charged towards Angela.

"Your equipment are good, but you aren't the only one with an armor!"

The two girls collided with a sonic boom, sending powerful sonic wave towards the audience, which the barrier easily neutralized.

Everyone stared In shock, and awe, seeing the Red Armor on Jenny, as the two girls were in stand still, their weapons clashed onto the other.

_

'Shit!! These girls could defeat half of my army without breaking a sweat... They need to get stronger, especially my special soldiers... Protean, Emily, Mott, Vince, Stellar, Rhea, Modena, Lilly, Calamity, and that three-headed dragon, they'll need to get stronger... And fast!!'

Aaron looked around, and frowned seeing Harold walking away.

'What's this guy up to? Protean, keep an eye on him.'

Protean who stood on his shoulder, flew to the ground, and turned into a rat, he then shrunk more in size... Then followed Harold.

"It seems I'm not the only scheming one in this academy." He added, folding his hands on his chest.

_

"Wow, You didn't tell us your daughter have a Legendary armor." Emperor Hick said with sarcasm, staring at Nicolette.

"It's nothing to be amazed about, this armor can restructure itself to match its wearer, do you believe that?" Nicolette asked with a smile.

"Wow, My daughter's armor also has that ability."

The Royal families all looked at one another, all of them could hear the unspoken insult in their words.

'These parents what to start their own battle, Fools.' Kara thought with a bored expression.

_

"You are powerful! I know you are doing this for Jack... You don't want to leave the team because of him, right? Don't give me that nonsense of doing it for family... I'm a girl, I know what you are thinking."

Angela frowned and pushed her back, Jenny leaped backwards, and landed on her feet; She removed her helmet, and smiled at Angela.

"I won't refuse your claim because you are right, But... I'm also doing this for my family."

"Oh really, I'll defeat you and show you Jack only belong to a powerful spouse! And that'll be me!"

Angela: "WHAT?!"

Emily: "THIS SLUT!!"

Stellar: "Wow!!"

Aura: "You got to be kidding me?!"

Mott: "Holy crab!! The Leader is the best!! Two girls fighting for whom to have him!!"

Audience: ".....!!!!"

Aaron was so stunned that he was speechless.

'Did I show too much of my powers and impressed her without knowing it?!! What the fuck?!!!'

Chapter 73 Curse

"What the hell are you saying?!!" Angela yelled, pointing her sword at Jenny.

"Out of all the boys in this Academy, Jack caught my eyes... He defeated the students of the core section with such ease that made me speechless, Not only that, he isn't scared of any royal families... Such powers and bravery can only have a good and powerful girlfriend... Like me."

She turned her head to Aaron and flash him a smile.

Aaron sighed, feeling countless gazes on him, all filled with disdain and killing intent.

'Come on!! She confessed she likes me! Then why are you guys looking at me with such hostility?! I didn't even reply or anything...'

He thought for a moment; 'Hmm... She's a princess, what if I add her in my plan?'

"Jack belong me to, and I'll show you why!!"

BOOM!!

Angela shot towards Jenny with clear killing intent, she was enraged, why would a snake try to convert her man? She'll just have to cut off her tail to warn anyone who has the same thought.

"Oh? It seems someone is mad. Fufufufu... Let's dance."

Jenny smiled and shot towards Angela, the two collided in the center, engaging in a deadly battle, the once friendly battle have now been turned into a battle of...

"What is happening, Club Leader?" The Vice asked Aura in mild confusion. "And why is the princess so interested with that boy named Jack?"

Aura's expression was so dark that she was speechless.

'What are you doing sister?! I know you want Jack all to yourself, but do you have to fight for him in public?! Think about our reputation! Will father be happy about this?! The Eldest daughter of the human empire fighting over a nameless boy?!!'

She was enraged, but smiled at her Vice. "Everyone is after Powers, and having Jack will add some power to our empire."

"Oh... You are ok with this?"

'How the hell can I be ok with this?!!' Aura yelled inwardly, but nodded with gritted teeth.

"Y... Yeah."

"Then it's a good thing, Go Princess Angela!! Defeat her and win your love!!"

The Vice yelled, the next moment, all the members of the starlight club joined their vice club leader, yelling at Angela to win for her love!!

The more Aura listened, then more her face darkened, couldn't take it anymore, she yelled at that.

"WHAT THE HELL ARE YOU ALL DOING?!!! NOW SIT DOWN QUIETLY AND WATCH THE BATTLE!!!!!"

The Members looked at one another, and quickly sat down... None could open their mouths to say a word.

_

"Wow, Emperor Hick. Who would have thought you are so cunning? Sending your daughter to be friend Jack, so all the wealth will remain in your hands."

Queen Nicolette said with a fake smile, staring at Hick.

"Oh? Isn't your daughter doing the same? She even mentioned the reason she's after him, for power and bravery." Hick said, his found filled with sarcasm.

"If you two are done, Watch the battle... I know this is friendly battle, but Angela is taking the lead, and all her blows are filled with rage and killing intent... If this continues, Jenny won't survive..." King Maxim said to the two.

Queen Nicolette and Emperor Hick quickly turned their heads to the Arena, and Maxim was right.

'Shit! The only time I'd seen my daughter this angry is when a monster injure Aura... I need to stop her or someone will die.' Emperor Hick was now anxious.

It's true Angela was the strongest younger generation in the empire, she started training from the age of four, and have joined her father In countless battles... Emperor Hick knew how savage his daughter could become when angry... Worst of all, Lose control of herself, letting her mind got clouded by rage.

'Does Jack have such a deep hold on her? Only hearing someone spoke of taking him, she lost control... Wait, is this the reason she was asking me about him?' Emperor Hick's eyes widened in realization.

Queen Nicolette turned her head to Kara:

"Elder Kara, please stop this! Only you can reach them with the barrier you created... Stop this battle."

"You know the rules, If your daughter is scared or ready to give up, she can just Surrender... And she was the one who started all this." Kara said in an emotionless tone.

"What?!! Can't you see Angela have lost control?!!"

"Stop yelling Queen of the beast folks, I have eyes, so I can see... Rules are Rules." Kara didn't budge an inch, let alone looking at her.

"What?!" Nicolette was horrified.

'My daughter might be powerful for her age, but she has a huge disadvantage in equipments, there's no way she could win!'

Aaron turned his head to his right, seeing Harold sitting back down, his face distorted with anger.

"What happened? Did he do anything?" He whispered to Protean who landed on his shoulder.

"Not really, he was about to sabotage Angela's equipments, but after hearing what the two girls said, he got angry and returned to his seat."

Aaron nodded in understanding, and turned his head to the Arena; "Any moment from now."

___

[On The Arena.]

BAM!!!

Jenny flew backward and smashed heavily on the ground, she spurted out a mouthful of blood.

'How could she suddenly move so fast?!'

Jenny stood up, wiped the blood off her lips, and picked up her Hammer, she stared at the Warrior in front of her, whose eyes were pure gold, her hair moving with the wind.

"You think showing all these, I'll surrender?" Jenny asked.

"I don't want you to surrender."

Everyone frowned hearing the demonic voice coming out from Angela's mouth.

"I want you dead, having the gut to set an eye on my boyfriend is akin to death!!!"

BOOM!!!!

She lunged forward, appearing in front of Jenny, before she could act, Jenny swung her Hammer at her.

"Got you!!"

BOOM!!!!

Stay connected with empire

"...?!!!?!!"

Jenny turned paled, seeing she missed; 'Such speed!!' She turned around seeing Angela's fist moving towards her with incredible speed. 'No!!' BANG!!!! PIIIFFFF!! She threw up a mouthful of blood and flew forward, smashing hard on the ground, breaking some of her rips in the process. "Augh!!" She growled in pain, holding her lower abdomen as she threw up more blood. "Your end will be befitting... I hope you won't have that gut in your next life." Whoosh!! Angela appeared in front of her and thrust her sword forward towards Jenny's head... Her eyes widened in horror seeing the blade heading towards her head... With no other option she yelled with tears in her eyes. "I surrender!!!" "Too late!" "What?!" Jenny was stunned, seeing the golden blade still moving towards her. 'Is this how I'll die?'

Everyone was stunned, the Royal families and Kara stood up in both surprise, and shock.

BAM!!!!

"....?!!!!"

Jenny slowly opened her eyes, seeing the cloak she recognized so well in front of her... She raised her head seeing shoulder-length silver hair.

She then looked in front of the boy, seeing he stopped Angela's sword with two fingers, he lithely held it with two fingers!

"..."

Angela stared at Aaron in front of her, her eyes glowing.

"Move out of the way Jack! She must die." She spoke with the strange demonic voice.

'There's only one explanation for this, One of Angela's equipment has a curse in it, an old evil spirit... That's the only way her rationality can be taken away, and her strength will skyrocket... She's clearly a ticking bomb which could explode if her emotions are triggered... But... Which weapon? Is it the Sword or Armor?'

{Stealing process activated... 20%.}

'Yeah! I'll have to hold this Sword for a while.'

"What the hell are you doing Angela?! Do you think killing her will make me like you more?"

'What the hell am I saying?'

"Stop this, or I'll have to act!"

'How would I act?'

{Stealing Process... 60%.}

"So you are protecting her! You'll pay for that!!!!"

BOOM!!!!

Golden light burst out from the Armor, pushing Aaron back.

{Contact disconnected...}

{Stealing process have been place on standstill... 65%.}

"You'll pay for this betrayal!!"

Angela shot towards Aaron in rage.

'Betrayal? Hehehe... I just got a way to make my plan smoother!'

Aaron simply scratched forth his hand towards her, and without a word.

Water, and fire burst out from the Arena, and held Angela down, the wind picked up, the earth rose into the air, and with a clench of his fist.

All the elements collided with Angela, who spurted out a mouthful of blood, and fainted instantly, Her armor and sword vanished, her hair returned to their usual honey blonde...

Aaron walked towards her, he squat down and moved the hair away from her face.

'What a nice pet you'll be, I miss the Chance of stealing your equipments' skills, But I'll...'

He activated his healing Powers, and healed all her injuries in a matter of seconds.

"What... What happened?"

Angela opened her eyes, seeing Aaron staring at her with a bright smile.

"Jack?"

"You're back, After you nearly killed Jenny and me."

"What?!! I didn't...! No!!"

Chapter 74 Aaron Is A Descendant Of The Ning Family!

"You have to trust me Jack, I'll never hurt you, I promise."

Angela said anxiously.

"I know, but you should have told me about this." Aaron helped her up.

"I'm sorry."

Angela apologized in a low voice.

Aaron nodded, let go of her and walked up to Jenny, who was still on the ground, holding her abdomen.

He squat down and said in a calm tone; "I'm going to heal you, nothing else."

Jenny stared at his blue eyes for some seconds, then slowly nodded... Getting her approval, he placed his hand on her shoulder, and started healing her.

"I'm so sorry, Jenny... It's my mistake." Angela said, looking down at her feet.

"Yes! If Jack hadn't interfered, you would have killed me! Then what'll you say to my family? "Sorry"?"

Aaron stood up after healing her, and stood at the side, watching the two.

Angela frowned slightly, but remained silent, It was her fault, and she'll take everything Jenny said without rebutting.

Jenny stood up, and walked up to her in rage;

"I surrendered, but were still you're after my head! Why? Because I said Jack should have a better girlfriend, Look at this... You even tried to kill him too!! Jack isn't safe around you! That's why I say..."

She paused, seeing the growing energy around Angela.

"I... I said I'm sorry, And... And Jack Belong to me alone..." Angela turned her gaze to Aaron, then back at Jenny.

Jenny sneered;

"Ok... But Jack isn't a trophy or equipments that can belong to anyone... So... Why don't we ask him? Jack will have to choose, either you or me."

"What?!" Angela turned her head to Aaron.

'What the hell?! In all the lives I'd lived, Girls aren't this desperate for a guy they barely knew... What is wrong with these girls? Angela wants me, so I can be her consort if she takes the throne... But why did Jenny needs me so badly? Is something wrong with the beast Kingdom?'.

Aaron moved his gaze on the two and sighed;

'How ironic is this situation? These two are trying to win me over, but I can kill them without a second thought just to accomplish my plan... The fate of this world is more important than these two.'

Before the girls could ask Aaron anything, Kara's voice sounded;

"Enough of all these!! If you two want Jack, first; get to know him better, and focus on your studies when at it! In maybe 7 to 10 years ahead, you can plan on fighting for him again... But if I get wind of anyone fighting over Jack, or any other girl or boy in the academy... You'll be expelled!"

She was irritated, these girls were truly a pain in the ass, but the important revelation in this arena was Jack, who commanded the four elements with ease and stopped Angela.

'Only the Ning family could control the Elements with such precise movement and skill... He might truly be the Ning family's last descendant.'

She, her Elders, the Dean and Royal Families all flew into the air, and landed on the Arena, in front of the three.

"As the rules, Angela won, she'll keep her position."

"But she cheated!" Jenny disagreed.

"Are you questioning my decision, Girl?" Kara turned her head to Jenny, who simply took a step back in fear.

"No... I won't dare, elder Kara." She stammered.

"Good."

Kara turned her head to the Royal families and nodded at them, then turned to Jack.

"Jack, You passed the test, and you're now a core student, we'll honor your wish and promote Lori from the Outer section to this Core section, You'll be responsible for her training... And...." She paused.

"... I got the news that you are the last descendant of the Ning family."

"What?!"

"Did I heard that wrong?"

"Jack is related to the powerful Ning family?"

"Wow! That explain his strength!!"

"Do you guys think the Royal families..."

All the audience, both the parents and students were all shocked, while Aaron's team just smiled.

Angela, Aura and Jenny stared at Aaron in surprise, all speechless.

Kara continued:

"As you know, the Royal families promised your family some very important lands and other things... And they're all here to announce the time and place you'll receive the Promises... But... Prince Orion and prince Andrew, are not happy about this, so you'll have to defeat them and show them you're worthy of their respect."

"Huh??"

Aaron, Orion, and Andrew was stunned upon hearing Kara, while the Audience were dumbfounded.

Orion: 'This Bitch!! When did we say we'll fight Jack?! He's just a kid!!'

Andrew: 'This witch just placed me and my brother in a hot spot!! If we Defeat Jack, we'll be looked down on! But if we refuse... We'll also be looked down on! She's after our reputation!!'

King Maxim: 'This?! What is Kara saying?!!'

'Oi! It seems she's even more cunning than these guys, If I defeat these two, she'll know I'm a lot stronger than a Sky realm, and if I lose... Well... I'm a kid, no one will be surprised about it.... Hmm... But why should I lose?

If I win, she'll be impressed, and I can ask for permission to leave... Not like it's necessary, but I'm too lazy to destroy this academy.'

"What will master do?" Protean who stood on Emily's shoulder asked.

"Jack is unpredictable, We can only wait and see." Emily smiled, her gaze fixed on Aaron.

Kara turned her head to the two; "Or you two can't defeat Jack? Yes, That must be the reason if you refuse."

'Dammit! She just locked our escape!!'

Orion clenched his feet, luckily, their father, and Aaron's grandfather opened his mouth;

"That won't be necessary, Elder Kara... We all know Jack is the Ning family's descendant, there's no need to prove it more... I think it'll be wise if Jack demonstrate his Powers than Use it against a living creature."

'Wow.' Aaron sneered.

"Ok King Maxim, then why don't you set the target?" She asked, with a fake smile.

Maxim nodded, and with a snapped of his fingers, a huge circular target appeared on a wall 100 meters away from their location.

'That Target is created with 80% of my Sid energy, there's no a sky realm can destroy it, let alone scratch it.' Maxim thought.

"Jack, please demonstrate." Kara said with a smile, she could clearly feel the dense amount of energy around the target.

'This man used more than half his Sid energy, just to see Jack fail... How despicable!' She thought.

"What is in the other side of the wall?" Aaron asked, confusing everyone for a moment.

"Nothing, Only Forest... And some wide animals, but they're deep in the forest." The Dean answered.

"Ok."

Aaron nodded, and pointed a finger at the Target. "[Fire Bullet.]"

A Small flame appeared on his finger, glowing dimly.

Maxim and some families scoffed.

"What the hell can that do? It's just a night lig--"

11 11

The small flame shot forward with incredible speed, the moment it touched the target, it exploded, sending a powerful sonic wave which pushed everyone a step back.

"Cough!!"

They all waved away the smoke in front of them... Their jaws and mouth widened upon seeing the target and the whole wall was missing, not only that, hundreds of meters away have been turned into ash, all the trees were blackened beyond recognition.

"Did I get the target?" Aaron turned his head towards the elders and Royal Families, who stared at him in Horror.

"Y-Yes."

Kara was speechless; 'This...?? Is this how powerful the Ning family is? And Jack is still a kid!! He'll make a valuable ally In my mission... I'll try to get closer to him.'

"Ok, You can speak to the Royal families when you're ready."

She turned around, and was about to fly away, when Aaron stopped her.

"Miss Kara."

Kara looked at him over her shoulder; "Yes, Jack?"

"I want to take a week off, Me and Lori..."

"A week?"

Kara turned around to face him; "Why?"

"Well... Initially, I came here for her, she's my closest friend, and her people are unwell... I came to bring her back to spend a week with them... For me following her? The road isn't safe, so I'll have to look after her."

Kara thought for a moment and said: "The academy has Rules, you can only take leaves by using points--"

"--But in the restaurant, I bought food with coins, can't I exchange points with coins?"

"You can, Jack. But the coins are too high... Are you sure about it?" The Dean stepped forward.

"What's the exchange rate?" Aaron asked.

The Dean turned his head to Kara, and she nodded at him:

"Jack is already a core Student, so you can tell him." She said.

"These are the exchange rate; 10 Gold Coins for 1 points." Read new chapters at empire

Aaron waited for some seconds, seeing the Dean staring at him, he asked.

"That's all?"

"Yes."

'These guys are mad!! I used five gold coins and bought something that worth more than 20 points in the restaurant, and now... He's saying 10 gold coins in exchange for 1 point!!! That's why no kids will exchange it.... But... I'm no ordinary kid!'

"How many points will I need for two weeks off?" He asked.

"Let me see..." The Dean thought for some seconds and nodded; "2,000 points."

"Then I'm exchanging 5,000 points." Aaron smiled.

"WHAT?!!"

Chapter 75 Don't Move!

"Yeah, I'll be going for a month... Rules are rules, as long I have the points, I can take as much off needed, right?"

Kara and everyone were speechless, Aaron just used her word and rules against them, they couldn't refuse even if they wanted.

"Cough! You don't have the points ye--"

Kara's eyes widened seeing Aaron bringing out a pouch filled with gold coins out from his spatial space.

"This is a total of 5,000 gold coins... It'll cover up the cost."

He handed the pouch to the stunned Dean, who stared at him, utterly flabbergasted.

"But Jack, You'll be gone for that long, what about me?" Angela held his hand, her face filled with sadness.

"And I don't trust that girl, what if she steals you from me?" She added.

'This girl is something else, a while ago, she wanted to kill me, now... She's acting like a wife whose husband is leaving her for a long time.'

He patted her hand with a reassuring smile; "Don't you trust me? I accepted already... So no one will be able to take me away from you."

'Not still your empire and people are under me.'

"You understand?"

Angela thought for a moment and nodded, while Aaron smiled, and gave her a hug in present of everyone.

"Who really is Jack?" Aura muttered staring at Aaron with a deep frown.

"I think he's a Noble--" S~earch the nôvel_ to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"--He already is a Noble, Jack is the last descendant of the Ning family, so he's a noble by birth!"

The Vice nodded with a smile, and turned to Aura;

"My Princess! If Jack and Princess Angela got together, isn't that a good thing, Your Brother-In-Law is one of the strongest among us, and our empire will thrive!!"

Aura stared at her with a dark expression; "Jack and I might have made up, but that didn't mean I trust him."

The Girl was confused, 'Shouldn't Princess Aura be happy for her sister? Why is she still suspecting Jack?'

Kara sighed helplessly. 'I'll just have to keep an on him.'

"Ok Jack, When do you plan to leave?"

"First Light."

She nodded, and turned around to the audience;

"The competition is over, and it's late, so Everyone can be on their way."

With that said, she flew away with her elders and the Dean.

Aaron smiled and turned to the Royal families;

"When I need my things, I'll meet you in your kingdom."

The Royal families just nodded at him, at least they don't need to call anyone to bring anything over.

"Come on, Jack... The things are ready, let's head to my room."

Angela pulled Jack, who turned to his group with a smile on his face, as she pulled him away.

"That's the signal, Let's move out."

Emily stood up and walked away, followed by Mott and Stellar.

[10;00 Pm.]

[Demons' Kingdom.]

[The Palace.]

"Do you get the news? The King joined the soldiers, and they're all heading to the enemy's kingdom as we speak."

"Kingdom? I heard it's a Village, I wonder why the king organized all our army to fight a "village"."

The guard emphasized the word "Village" and turned to his second; "There are rumors moving around that the village in question belong to an unknown kingdom named Terra... And Terra was built by the late eldest Prince's Son... What's the name again... Yes! Aaron."

"I heard that too... And the city is in riot... The people are also saying the king killed his brother and took over the throne, You know how much the people loved the Prince, and knowing the king want to kill the Prince's son, they're all furious."

"All these are still not proven yet, but the people and Soldiers are thinking otherwise... What should we do if all these rumors are proven true?"

"It's easy, We'll join the new king."

"Right!"

Zack walked towards them with a smile on his face; 'It seems my master's plan is already working...'

He thought.

The guards turned their heads to Zack, and smiled happily:

"Messenger Zack! Why are you here so late at night?" The guy on the left asked.

"Oh, I forgot my notebook in the castle, you know I can't do anything without it."

The two looked at themselves in confusion, they have no idea about any book, but still nodded!

"Yes, yes, You can go in!"

The left guard turned around and activated a rune in front of the gate, while the right guy turned to Zack.

"Sorry for the delay, Messenger Zack. It's just that, the king changed the magic rune... He suspected someone might enter and hurt his mum... You know the queen is in the Sky realm... And a Mage at that."

Zack frowned at the man, who quickly shook his head:

"I'm not insulting the queen or anything, I don't want to lose my head..."

The double gate opened, and before Zack could say anything, two figures landed behind him and shot towards the stunned guards.

"What's?!!"

BAM!!!

They struck the two, who instantly fainted.

Five more figures in black outfits which concealed their faces, and bodies, landed on the ground.

"We are here. Good work, Zack."

A figure in all black, who dressed like a Ninja said, a long sword was on her back.

"It's nothing, Miss Kira." Zack nodded.

"Plan A: Capture the Queen alive, my brother will know what to do with her. Plan B: Kill all the council elders, leave no one alive. Plan C: Destroy all securities, kill anyone who attack you... But our main plan is; Steal all Zukor's money.... Is that clear?"

"Yes, Princess!"

Five figures entered the castle, and separated into different directions, while three walked towards the front exit.

"Stop there!!"

The two guards at the castle's door, got on guard, seeing the three dark figures walking towards them.

The figure at the middle snapped her fingers, the next moment, the two caught on fire.

"Ahhhhhhh!!!!!!"

The guards screamed in horror, which only lasted a second, before falling to the ground, dead.

"Kill all resistance."

The figure said walking over the burnt bodies of the guards, and opening the double doors.

What greeted them was a huge white hall, which was luxuriously decorated... The workers who were attending to the queen froze, seeing the three figures.

"Huh?" The queen was stunned.

"All these belonged to my brother, and some bitch is enjoying it all."

The figure in the middle of the group walked inside.

"Who are you people!!"

A worker walked up to them in rage; "Can't you see the Queen?! Show respect!"

Whoosh!!!

The man's head rolled to the ground, while the figure at the right sheathed back his sword.

"Ants shouldn't yell in presence of the Princess."

Seeing the ruthless scene, all the workers were scared shitless, while the Queen stood up in rage.

"How Dare you kill my royal butler?!!" She yelled, her demonic energy raging.

"GUARDS!!!!!"

"Save your breath, Queen, Your Guards already has their hands filled." The figure at the middle said.

"Who are you?!" The Queen asked fully on guard: "And how did you past through our rune formation?"

"Those are not the questions you should be asking."

The three walked forward and stopped in the center of the hall, they all removed their masks, revealing their identities.

"We aren't here to kill you... Well... Not yet... And you all?" Lilly looked at the scared workers.

"Stay were you are, and nothing will happen to you... Try to move five steps, You die."

The all fearfully nodded, trembling on their location.

"How dare you threaten my workers in my presence?!!"

The Queen created a 2 meters ice spike and sent it towards Lilly.

"How cute, Using my most proficient element against me."

She stretched forth her right hand towards the spike, the moment it got a step from her, it turned into water, which separated into a hundred waters droplets, and formed countless spikes. Discover exclusive content at empire

"Let me show you real magic."

The spikes all shot towards the Queen, who quickly created a water barrier in front of her.

BAM!!!!

The force of the collision threw her backward, which stunned the workers.

"You!!"

The Queen stood up in rage.

"Apprehend her."

Elizabeth nodded with a flash, she appeared in front of the Queen, and gripped her throat, then raised her into the air.

"Y...You! T...That's Si...lent Magic! Who... Are... You?!" The queen asked with difficulty, her face turned purple as Elizabeth tightened her grip.

"You don't know us? I'm surprised." Lilly walked towards the couches, and sat down.

"Where is your son? Which Kingdom is he attacking?"

Elizabeth loosen her gripped, so the Queen could answer.

"Kingdom?! My Son is attacking a Village."

"Haven't you heard the rumors moving around?"

The Queen's eyes widened hearing Lilly's question; "Impossible, Terra isn't a kingdom, no one have heard of it!!"

"You do now... We'll hold you hostage for a day, by this time a-day-after tomorrow, My brother will arrive at this kingdom with your son, then we'll know what to do with you two." Lilly smiled devilishly at her, and relaxed on the couch.

A worker saw they were all distracted with the Queen, and shot towards the door.

Whoosh!!

A dagger penetrated his neck, the man instantly dropped dead.

"The Princess said: Don't move." Vince said in a flat tone.

Chapter 76 Does She Think I am A Fool?!

"That was unsettling."

Lilly stared at Vince with a blank expression, and turned to the workers.

"He died because he tried to escape, if any of you are thinking the same thing, start running."

"No... No... That isn't..."

"Stop stammering!!"

Everyone turned their heads to the door, seeing Kira and her three killers walking inside with Zack dragging the first elder of the council.

"Oh? You brought a present." Lilly stood up, and walked towards the old man.

"A demon, it's rare to see demons having monsters' physique, but you guys all look like humans... Oh! I forgot that pure blood can transform into demons..." She said jokingly.

Zack threw the old man at her feet.

"You aren't a demon! So How the hell is your brother the late Prince's Son?!!"

Lilly's eyes turned white, the next moment the man ascends into the air;

"I won't withsay your words because I'm not a demon by birth, but my brother is..."

She closed her eyes, moment next; the man fell heavily on the ground.

"If you see him, you'll have your answer."

She walked back to the couch and sat down. Kira followed behind and sat on the couch place on her right, she stared at the Queen who was still in Elizabeth's grip, and turned her head to Lilly.

"What now Princess?" She asked.

"There's only one thing remaining, This elder will show us the vault... You guys will take all the gold and distribute it as planned... If there are any other treasures, bring it to me."

Kira nodded, and waved her hand to the three behind her.

Then workers' eyes widened seeing the faces of the three.

"Oh my god! Those are the three leaders on the most-deadliest Demons ranking board!"

"That's Shadow! The king of Assassination!"

"And Venom! She's the Queen of poison and seduction!!"

"And the last is king of Killers... He's as ruthless as the two, kill without thinking... For having these three... This kingdom called Terra must be filled with wealth."

"I heard the Prince's son founded the Kingdom."

" ...."

"It seems you guys are famous."

Lilly looked at the three, standing behind Kira, they smile sheepishly.

"We got that a lot." Dagon said with a smile.

"Lock the elder up, and distribute the gold at first light... Make sure all the commoners receive the money, and know it's only possible because of my brother, their late Prince Lucian's Son... He's only here to take back his rightful place, but needs the love and acceptance of the people, together... No kingdom or race will dare look down on our kingdom... Our flag will be place around the world!!"

BOOM!!!!

A huge white flag with a red sun logo embroidered on it appeared behind her, everyone stared at the flag formed from Lilly's Sid energy in Awe and shock.

"What Realm is this girl on?!!" The elder asked in horror.

"Oh? I'm just a Heavenly-Saint, but thanks to my brother, even a sky realm will be powerless before me."

"I'd heard so many things about this your brother, can't wait to see him." The elder said, as Zack pulled him up to his feet.

"And I don't know what you did to him." He gestured to Zack.

Lilly, Kira and Vince watched as the three Killers and Zack followed the elder to the vault, which was located upstairs.

"Take care of her, Elizabeth."

"Yes master."

Elizabeth used her left hand and struck the Queen's head, who instantly fainted, she then dropped her to the ground with a THUD.

"Oi! Be careful Elizabeth, she might be a bitch, but she's still my baby brother's grandmother." Lilly sighed.

"Sorry, Master."

"It's ok."

The workers looked at one other, shock and horror all over their faces;

"Did she just say the "Baby Brother"?"

[Academy city.]

Aaron walked out from the small manor with scrolls in hand;

"Angela is something else, she gave me all the strategies of their empire, even all their dukedoms, cities and more... Top this all, she also gave me the information about their army... What a thoughtful Princess."

He looked back at the Manor, seeing Angela staring at him from the top floor window, he waved at her with a smile on his face.

"It's just a month, I'll be back, and I'll make it up to you!!"

Angela smiled brightly at him, and slowly nodded her head. She watched as Aaron walked away from the compound, and exited the gate.

"Are you done staring?!"

Aura asked, folding her hands in front of her chest.

"Why are you here again?" Angela looked at her sister over her shoulder, a slight frown on her beautiful face.

"If dad knew you gave Jack this information, he'll be angry... What'll you say or do to calm him down?" Aura asked, walked toward the queen size bed and sat on it, staring at her sister who still stood by the window.

"Jack is filled with surprises, I know that. The information I gave him are the oldest plans, It was used by our kingdom years ago--"

"--Wait! You gave Jack the fake information? What if he discovered? He'll be angry with you--"

"--Why would he be?"

"Huh?" Aura was stunned.

"Jack said he wants to learn about our empire, right? He needs to first know how we survived to this day... As the next commander and future Queen of my empire, why would I give away sure important information, just like that?"

She turned around to her sister with a smile on her face.

"Wow! And I thought I lost my sister! Yes! Wait... That means you don't trust Jack."

"Of Course, I don't trust him, I'm just using him to have a hold on the throne, after that... I'll get rid of him by feigning an accident... All his wealth will belong to his wife, which is... Me."

Aura gasped covering her mouth in shock, them burst out laughing!!

"Gosh! You're so good that I was even fooled... But... What about the curse in your armor?"

"I have been working on ways to remove it, but it's all in vain... You can't tell... Maybe Jack also knows a why to remove it... I'll ask him after he's back."

"Ok... What do you think he's doing? Why is he taking such a long time off?" Aura asked again.

Angela snapped her fingers, and five figures in black outfit appeared in the room.

"The shadow Soldiers!! Father gave strict warning about using them! And why are they even In the academy?!!"

"Calm down, Aura. I asked them to investigate the path We first saw Jack... This path led to two places... First; Flesh Eaters' forest, and second; The Bandits' Base."

"Are you saying Jack will be going back to either of these places?"

"Yes, and these guys will keep an eye on him." She smiled.

Aura nodded, and gave her sister two thumbs up. "Good, we can only wait for the result, you're the best!!"

"Of course."

Aaron stopped at the gate of the Academy, Protean was on his shoulder.

"Did that bitch think I'm not knowledgeable about warfare... I was a General in my second life!"

He threw the scrolls into the air, and with a snapped of his fingers, they all caught on fire, and burnt into ashes.

"That means she doesn't trust you... What should you do, Master?" Protean asked.

Aaron sneered with killing intent; "She thinks I'm a pushover, a fool to be used around and get dumped... Hehehe... It seems we don't need to follow plan A."

"Wait, Are we attacking the Human empire?" Protean asked with anticipation.

"I lose a Demon-Stage familiar because of her, and she just pretended she was hurt, even apologizing endlessly... Does she think I'm a child who can easily be deceive... Yes, We'll start with their empire."

"But attacking now will alert all the other races."

Aaron turned his head to Protean In confusion;

"Who said we are using force? We're taking the empire from inside out... To have the biggest feast, you need to hurt the biggest animal, so we'll be starting from the Capital, if that fall... All will follow."

His face was filled with killing intent, which was also spreading out from him, creating a storm in the sky.

"Death is the only option for such girls." He added.

"Who angered my love?"

The two turned around seeing Emily, Stellar, and Mott walking towards them. Mott was holding a huge bag over his shoulder.

"It was difficult, but we found it!"

Mott dropped the bag on the ground, and opened it, a pungent smell rose into the air. Aaron looked at the dead monster in the bag, and raised his head to the three.

"Good Job, guys! The Ever-changing blood chameleon is just what I needed."

He plunged his hand into the bag, not minding the stench and blood.

Aaron removed his bloody hand, and in present of everyone, he transformed into Aura... His silver hair turned into long blonde hair, he grew an inch, and his figure changed to that of a female.

"Wow! You look like her doppelganger!" Mott exclaimed.

"This will make our future plans much easier." Aaron grinned.

Chapter 77 Fire!!

[Next Day.]

[Academy City.]

Aaron, and Emily stood at the gate with Stellar and Mott, waiting...

Couldn't stand it anymore, Stellar asked with a deep frown;

"We have been standing here for five minutes! Who are we waiting for?!"

"Come on now Stellar, Aaron is waiting for Kara." Emily said with a smile.

"Kara? Why wait for that bitch?!"

"Shh!! The guards are close by, if they--"

"--So what?! Are you scared of her?"

Stellar folded her hands in front of her chest, staring at Emily with an intense gaze.

"I'm not scared of anyone, but if Aaron's plan is ruin, you'll be scared of the consequences."

Stellar's face turned paled upon hearing Emily, she turned her head to Aaron, and sighed helplessly.

"Fine, but I still don't get why you guys are waiting for her."

Emily looked at Aaron and Mott, and sighed; "I also don't know."

"Eh?"

_

[5 minute Later.]

"I'm so sorry for keeping you waiting, I don't know you were waiting for me."

Kara landed in front of the four, she looked at Aaron in mild confusion.

"Is there something you need?" She added.

"Miss Kara is really observant, If I may, can I ask miss Kara to help watch over my friends? I don't know what I'll do if something happen to them in the academy."

Kara easily understood the meaning behind Aaron's word, If something happened to his friends, he would do anything for revenge... Anything. She smiled.

"You don't have to worry about that, Jack. They'll be under my care."

Aaron sighed in relief: "Then We'll take our leave now."

Kara nodded, watched as Emily hugged the two, and after saying their goodbyes, Aaron and Emily got on their way.

"I'll be seeing you in a month time." She muttered in a low voice, and flew towards the Academy building.

_

[Bandits' Stronghold.]

"Boss! We're under attack!!"

The Boss's second in command, A muscular man named fugio said to the Man who sat on his office with gold coins on the desk in front of him.

The man looked up at him with a slight frown; "Attack? From who?"

He arranged the gold coins on the table, and stood up from his wooden chair.

"The Wolf pack! They're already in our territory!!" The man was anxious.

The wolf pack was a group of bandits filled with beast folks with the wolf Bloodline, they were ruthless, heartless and whenever they took over a place, they rape the women and kill the children, using the capable ones as slaves... They were one of the most heartless Bastards in the central region.

The Boss got serious; "What about the Women and children?!" He asked, walking towards the wall in his room, and took his sword which was hanged on it.

"They're all safe, but the one leading the wolf is a Sky realm, he's Stronger than you."

The Boss turned to his right-hand man with a sneer; "So, That didn't mean I'll run like a dog."

He walked past him, only to came to a stop after hearing Fugio's next word.

"What about that kid we met on the path to the Academy, two days ago?"

The Boss looked at him over his shoulder, a dark expression on his face; "That Kid might be powerful and wealthy, but we're fighting our battles, alone."

With that said, he walked outside the room.

'Gjon is always thinking of fighting his own battles! He should think about the people's safety, not about his ego! The Wolf pack has a Sky realm with them, they had prepared for so long, they won't be careless this time around.'

He sighed, and walked out from the house.

"Leader Gjon!! Welcome!"

The men and women standing outside in brown leather Armor, armed with rusted weapons yelled, upon seeing Gjon walking out from the house.

"Soldiers!! We'll show those savage wolf pack who's the leader of these lands! Should we sit back and watch them take over our lands?!"

"No!!!!"

"Follow me!! We'll stop them before they reach our stronghold! Remember why you're doing this! You're doing it for our families and most of all our Savior!!!"

"Yes!!!!!"

All the fighters yelled, raising their weapons into the air.

Fugio came out with a huge battleaxe in hand, he stood behind Gjon and placed the Axe on his shoulder.

Gjon nodded at him, and continued; "Let's go!!!"

"Ahhh!!!"

They all let out battle cries, and walked out from their stronghold only to came to a stop seeing more than one hundred figures standing 50 yards from their spot... These figures have the upper body, and head of a wolf, and lower body of a human... All dress In black armor, from their neck to feet, armed with countless weapons, from bows, Axes, swords and shields...

If that wasn't enough, two huge flaming catapults was placed behind them.

The fighters stared at the army on the open field in front of them, and were all flabbergasted, even Gjon was speechless.

"Your speech was touching, But do you think we'll lose this time around? We came prepared."

The Leader of the wolf pack, an 8-feet black wolf, in silver armor and armed with a red broadsword, said.

Gjon observed the army in front of him, and turned his gaze to Fugio, who nodded at him:

"It's now or never, Asking for help doesn't mean you aren't capable... You can see this, the enemy is here with their full force... If you don't do the right thing we'll all lose our life, and our families' live will also be at risk... Try to contact the kid." Fugio said in a low voice.

"I don't even know if it'll work, and even if it did work, how do you expect him to know where we are? He is a King, I understand that, but organizing an army and coming all the way here... Is that possible?"

Gjon asked.

Fugio grimaced, but opened his mouth: "It's our only hope... We'll just hold them back still he arrives."

Gjon sighed deeply, then closed his eyes, trying his best to link to Aaron with the alliance circle connection.

['Who is this?']

'Huh? This voice don't belong to a kid?! Who am I talking to?' Gjon was dumbfounded.

['Oh! This might be your first time using the Alliance Circle connection, It's simply... I'll tell you the basic, If you want to link to anyone, you just need to know the target's name... So what's your name?']

'I'm Gjon, and I need a help... My land Is under attack, and the enemy is right in front of me, so can you help me?'

['Uh?! The Emperor only picks powerful figures as his ally... Oh... My name is Modena... Hmm.... Wait for some seconds...']

Gjon was silent.

['Good! I got your location... Wait for me.']

The link got disconnected, and Gjon staggered backward, but was supported by Fugio.

"Did you get in touch with the kid?"

Gjon shook his head; "I didn't, But... I think I got some help."

Fugio raised a brow in confusion. "You think?"

"There are more forces under that Kid, but the woman I spoke to referred to him as "Emperor" Not Kid, and she also said only powerful figures can be his allies..."

"What are you fools murmuring about?!! I have enough! Soldiers, get the catapults ready, let's show them terror before killing them?!"

The Wolf was enraged after getting ignored for so long... The soldiers controlling the catapults, quickly started setting its target.

"Shit!! We must stop that catapults! Mages and Archers!! Take it down!!" Gjon yelled.

The two forces moved forward, a total of thirty men and women, they all channeled all their Sid energies. The Mages started casting spells, while the Archers directed their energies to their Arrows.

"Fire!!!"

With Gjon's command, they all released countless long range attack spells, and arrows towards the Wolf army.

BAM!!

BANG!!

BOOM!!!

All their attacks smashed into a transparent barrier, turning into ash.

"Huh?"

The Mages and Archers were stunned.

"Hahaha! Do you think those puny attacks could scratch us? You're really fools!! Fire!!"

BAM!

BAM!!

The two Catapults released two flaming rocks towards their stronghold, which stood behind them.

"No!"

BOOM!!!!!

It smashed into two buildings, instantly setting it on flames.

"How do you like that?! Fire!!"

The Catapults released two more.

"Stop them!!"

Gjon yelled, the Mages quickly created fire, water, and countless spells, throwing them at the rocks, which shattered upon impact before it could collide with their stronghold.

"We'll see if your Mages can protect you if they're all dead, Archers! Kill the Mages! Keep on firing the Catapults! The Mages will either protect themselves or stop our projectiles! Either way! We'll win!!"

The wolves nodded, and followed their leader's plan.

"This is bad." Fugio said, watching as the wolves armed with bow walked forward, tucked their Arrows on the bows and aim it at them... Without hesitation, they raise their hands into the air and released the Arrows.

"Fuck!!"

He looked up at the hundred of arrows dropping on them.

"We aren't going down that easily!!"

Before they could act, the Arrows all turned into ash, the ashes falling on their faces and Armor.

"Oh? It seems I'm early."

Gjon, Fugio, their fighters, and even the wolf army raised their heads to the sky, seeing two figures descending towards them.

"Food! How nice." Modena grinned, revealing rows of razor sharp teeth.

Chapter 78 Terra's Hidden Blades

"Who are you guys?!!"

The wolves' leader asked, his cold gaze fixed on Modena and Rhea, who landed in front of Gjon.

"We're Lords of Terra... And this guy behind us is our Ally, and attacking his territory is akin of looking down on Terra."

Modena said, a sneer on her face.

The Wolves' Leader grimaced.

'Terra? Terra is so powerful that a Beast-Ruler is their lord, But... Why Haven't I heard of such a powerful kingdom?'

He looked behind his army and clenched his teeth, then turned to Gjon.

"You're lucky this time, We'll retreat, but that didn't mean you'll survive long."

Wait, this guy is a fool.

Modena scoffed: "Do you think you guys are leaving here alive?" She asked.

"Yes. You might be powerful, But you won't go against us, We have the backing of the Human empire, and also the Academy! You won't dare offend these two powerhouses!!"

Gjon and his people's faces turned paled, their legs trembled upon hearing the forces behind the Wolf Army, If he is saying the truth, that means the two powerhouses want them dead... That also explained the catapults.

"Shit!" Gjon cussed under his breath; "Can Terra really protect us from these powerhouses?"

Modena burst out laughing, her voice reverberating all over the open field... That the birds distance from them, flew away from fright.

The wolves, Gjon, Fugio, and their soldiers were all dumbfounded. Fugio was so confused that he whispered to Gjon.

"Who is this? Are you sure she isn't crazy?"

Gjon glared at him, and turned his gaze back to Modena, who finally stopped laughing.

She stared at the army in front of her with such killing intent that made them took a step back.

"How dare you compare ants to Terra?! Those insects aren't worthy to clean our shoes, let alone fight us... I'll show you the strength of Terra, by wiping you and your stronghold or village from existence."

SCREECH!!!

Before the Wolves could do anything, countless humanoid figures with red skin and wings all flew towards their location.

"What?!! Those... Those are hell demons!!!" The Wolves' leader was horrified, seeing the hundreds of demons flying towards them.

"Wow! I'm impressed, You're right, The Emperor asked me to resurrect them... Who would have thought these guys were all buried in the forest of nightmare... He called me for just this." Modena smirked.

The Wolves' leader stared at her for seconds, then turned his gaze to the lady in dark Mage's robe, which covered all her body.

'This! The Hell Demons are all Demon stage Monster, 100 is enough to wipe us out, and now...'

He looked up at the hundreds of Hell Demons hovering above them.

"You and your King will have the honor to meet our Emperor, At least it's a befitting thing before your death."

As her word fell, all the demons descended towards the Wolves.

"Attack!!!!"

Before the soldiers could fire their catapults, Two powerful dark orbs smashed into them, shattering them into splinters... Those closest all got impaled by the splinters, some dying on spot.

"That's cheating." Modena smiled at them, her hands folded on her chest.

The Wolves' Leader stared at the hybrid in Horror, he watched the hell demons entered their lines and started killing his soldiers.

"No!!"

He lunged towards a hell demon and slashed with his sword, cutting it into halves... He increased his momentum, cutting down more hell demons. In less than a minute, he alone had killed more than twenty.

"Mm... Miss Modena, Shouldn't we stop him?" Gjon asked, witnessing how the wolf cut down the hell demons. Explore new worlds at empire

Modena just smiled at him, then looked at the Wolves' leader.

"When resurrecting this guy, The Emperor gave me something precious, which is his blood... Anyone that drink his blood will be unkillable, You can only kill them if the Emperor dies... Out of everyone in this world... Only seven people have taken his blood... Which are, Protean, Lilly, Emily. The Hell Demons, Calamity, Aurora and lastly Me...

We're unkillable... As long, he's alive."

Gjon and his soldiers stared, all flabbergasted.

'Is that even possible?! If his blood have such Powers, what about the Emperor himself? Does that mean he's unkillable too?!' Gjon was stunned, but also thinking of ways to gain the blood.

Modena saw the calculating look on his face and sighed; "You can only get his blood if you're related to him, or did something he got impressed with... And trust me, he doesn't get impress so easily... He gave me his blood because I helped resurrect the Hell Demons, and for the hell demons... They're just lucky because his blood is required to resurrect them."

Gjon nodded in understanding, and turned his gaze to Rhea, who was silent all along, and sighed.

"30 seconds would have past by now." Modena stared at the Hell Demons who were cut into halves.

Gjon and his people followed her gaze.

The Leader stopped attacking, he turned around. Seeing the dead hell demons, who he personally cut into halves started joining together, he was stunned in place.

Modena: "Those with his blood are known as Terra's hidden blades, their Powers increase with each death, having the privilege to draw powers from the Emperor himself... We're technically killing machines."

All the Hell Demons stood up from the ground, their red eyes glowed with new, and intense vigor.

Whoosh!!

"What?!"

He quickly raised his sword in defense.

BANG!!!

The Leader flew backward, falling heavily on the ground, he stood up and looked down at his sword, seeing creaks on its surface.

"Did these things get stronger?!" He muttered to himself.

"Ahhhh!!!"

"Help us, Leader!!!"

"No!!!!£

He looked around him in Horror, watching as the risen Hell Demons butcher his people like weeds.

"I caused this. By killing them, I gave them the opportunity to grow stronger! How the hell is that possible?" He turned his head to Modena, and Rhea.

"I'm not going down that easily!!!!"

Sid energy burst out from his body, and without hesitation, he shot towards the two with clear killing intent.

"Destroy his meridian."

Modena commanded.

Rhea nodded, the next moment, she turned into a bat and flew towards the charging Wolf.

"You dare send a Heavenly-Saint Realm towards Me! A Sky Realm!!"

He raises his Broadsword and smashed down on the bat.

Whoosh!!

Rhea maneuvered in midair, dodged the attack, she turned into her human form above the wolf, drew her daggers, and a with flash... She appeared behind him.

Rhea calmly sheathed her daggers on the sheaths on her waist.

The Leader looked down at his chest, seeing blood flowing out, His Armor proves to be completely useless against her daggers.

He fell on his knees; 'If she had gone even a little to the left, I would have loss my heart... What a terrifying Vampire.'

He collapsed on the ground.

Modena turned to Gjon; "Lead us to their village and stronghold, Rhea will help you guys get ready."

"Get ready?" Fugio was confused.

"You're all getting out from this place."

Modena flicked her wrist, a flag appeared in his hand, she then plunged it into the ground.

BOOM!!

Demonic energy emanated from it, covering all Gjon's territory, the Flag increased in height, only stopping after gotten 10 meters.

Gjon looked at his people and sighed;

"I'm sorry, We can't leave here, It's our home; I hope you understand?"

Modena nodded, She already knew Gjon will refuse, but with the Flag active, The Emperor can keep an eye on this land.

"Ok, I'll ask for only one favor; Protect this flag like your life depends on it... Because it does... With this flag standing, no enemy will be able to kill you."

Gjon looked at the red sun, and asked in excitement; "Kill us? Like all of us will be unkillable?"

"Hold on there, You're the only one unkillable... Note this; you gained this ability only when you're in your territory. If you're outside, you can be killed."

Gjon nodded with a smile. "Come with me, I'll show you the Wolves' Village."

Modena turned to the Hell Demons, who were busy eating the Wolves' dead bodies.

"Hey! Save some for me!!" She yelled.

[Academy.]

[Kara's office.]

"I don't think that's wise, Elder Kara."

The Dean who sat in front of Kara said in mild surprised, after hearing her plan.

Kara stood up, and started pacing in front of her desk, after some seconds, she stopped and turned to him.

"I need to enter the Transcendent realm, and to do that I need a Beast-Ruler's core, You said you saw two in the forest of nightmare... Is it bad thinking of ways to kill one?"

"We don't even know if the Beast-Rulers are still in the forest, We can't send our soldiers for some goose chase."

BAM!!

Kara smashed her palms on the desk, causing cracks to appear on the surface.

"Those old priests are acting all high and mighty because they're all in the Transcendent, But if I enter this realm, they'll have to respect me! Don't you get this?! All our effort will be in vain if we don't get stronger!"

"But what about Jack?! Didn't you say he'll be a good help to our plan?"

Kara stood up straight. She thought for a moment and exhaled; "Jack could be useful to us, but he's unpredictable... And filled with mysteries... This is our only option."

The Dean sighed helplessly, and nodded; "Ok, If that's your plan, I'm with you."

"Good, This is what we're going to do." Kara smiled brightly.

Chapter 79 Bonded

[On The Path To The Forest Of Nightmare.]

"Why are we walking? We can simply teleport." Sëarch the ηovel to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Emily turned her head to Aaron. She was confused why they had to walk when Aaron could open gateways, and portals. So why walking?

Aaron stopped with a smile on his face. He then turned to Emily and whispered;

"Five guys are following behind us, and with the Knowledge passed down to me, I know they're the shadow soldiers of the human empire... That means, Angela is up to something."

"Huh?"

Emily was stunned, before she could turn around, Aaron stopped her.

"Don't look back. That'll only alert them, We'll lead them to the forest, and kill them there... For now, let's pretend... Talk about things, and call me Jack, Not Aaron... Till we get rid of them."

Emily nodded in understand and whispered with a smile; "That drink you gave me, What was it?"

Aaron smiled, and started walking.

"Come on, Jack! Tell me."

Emily quickly followed behind him, her black cloak moving with the wind.

"My blood."

He gave a simple reply, not stopping... While Emily froze, his word registering in her head.

'He gave me his blood? Why the hell would he do that? Wait, does that mean I'll have to give him my blood?'

Aaron stopped, feeling Emily had stopped walking. He turned around and walked up to her.

"What happen? You're a demon, so why surprise...? I'm sure you have tasted blood before, right?" He asked in a low voice.

Emily thought for some seconds, then drew out the dagger which was hanging on her thigh; and cut her finger drawing blood; she then stretched her bleeding finger towards the stunned Aaron.

Seeing his confused look, She opened her mouth; "You're a demon, so drinking blood means nothing to you, right?"

Aaron smiled, and lowered his head and suck on her finger.

'The taste of blood hasn't been so sweet.' He thought.

"Ahh!"

Emily moaned, and guickly closed her mouth with her left hand.

{Bonding.... 50%.}

{Bonding.... 80%.}

{Bonding.... 100%.}

{Both souls, Minds, and bodies have been successfully bonded.}

Aaron redrew his head, and looked at her with both love and surprise, but the word he heard got his interest.

He took the dagger from Emily's hand, and cut open his palm.

"Ouch!!" Emily exclaimed painfully.

He looked at Emily's open palm, seeing the cut on it, blood was flowing out... He then looked at his palm, seeing blood was also flowing out.

Emily was flabbergasted, she was so stunned, that she was speechless, staring at the blood flowing out from both their palms.

"We... We..." She looked at Aaron, her shock turning into surprise.

"It seems anything that happened to any of us, will affect the other."

Aaron stared at his palm, which healed in a matter of a second, he looked at Emily's which had also healed.

'Can it be?'

He stared at Emily for some seconds, then asked; "Emily, What's your class?"

"I'm an Assassin."

She said in mild confusion.

"Then try to cast a spell, Test it at that boulder... Just think of flames coming out from your finger, and say "Fire Bullet"."

Emily nodded, and pointed a finger at the boulder; she closed her eyes, then opened it; "Fire Bullet."

A Dark flames shot out from her finger, destroying the Boulder into dust.

"This?"

"It seems you also have my powers, What is your realm?"

'I need to do some experiment, how much of my powers or strength does she have? The All Seeing Eyes is showing me she's a freaking Supreme Realm, but that can't be possible? Or can it?!'

```
{Name: Emily Egon.}
{Realm: Supreme (High stage).}
{Class: All Class.}
{Race: Elite Demon.}
{Strength: 70,000.}
{Agility: 100,000.}
{Defense: 90,000.}
{Endurance: 60,000.}
{Affinity known: Wind, Fire, Earth, and Water.}
{Attack: 10,000. Critical: 30,000.}
{Improvement: Kill ten enemies. (6/10).}
```

'If this profile is accurate, didn't that mean she's the youngest Supreme in this world? Hmm...'

He held his jaw, lost in thought; 'I think it's time for her to improve, and I'll also be testing her strength. The shadow soldiers are all Sky realm, so if her realm is correct, and she has my powers, dealing with them would be a breeze.'

He nodded, and snapped his fingers, a transparent appeared around them, covering hundreds of meters away, with the Shadow Soldiers trapped with them.

Emily sighed; "I don't know what's happening, but I can't feel my Realm." She said.

"Don't worry, your energy is still subsiding..."

Before he could finish his word, Red Demonic energy burst out from her. Hers and Aaron's Cloaks moved with the wind, as Emily's realm started raising at a terrifying speed. Enjoy new stories from empire

'It seems the All Seeing Eyes showed me her realm even though she's not there yet.' Aaron thought.

The Shadow Soldiers hiding in the shadows frowned slightly, feeling the demonic energy around Emily... Their eyes widened seeing her hair, turning crimson, all her body was then enveloped with the four elements.

"This... A Demon have been hiding in the Academy all this while?!"

"And Jack knew about this, This is Treason to the continent!"

"We can't win here, that girl's Powers has past ours, We need to retreat and report this."

"This is unbelievable! She's now in the same strength as Elder Kara?!!!!"

"This?! All these started with her giving Jack her blood, do you think Her blood has some special abilities?"

"Don't know, but I think the Emperor, first needs to know about this."

"You're right."

After making their plan, the five figures turned around, and before they could move, and unknown force gripped them, and with a pull... They all flew towards the two, falling heavily in front of Emily and Aaron.

"You!!"

The five dark figures quickly stood up, they summoned their daggers... Their gazes fixed on Emily, whose eyes were bloodred.

"We need to escape, this demoness is a lot stronger than us."

One whispered to the rest.

"You aren't going anywhere, You guys will be the first blood I'll spill as Terra's Empress."

Before they knew it, Emily vanished from view.

Aaron sighed, and tapped on his ring, Protean appeared behind him, and folded his hands... He was in the dark elf appearance.

"What's it?" Aaron asked, his gaze fixed on the five confused figures.

"How the butt did she got so powerful?! If drinking your blood can give such Powers, I need it too." Protean said in such seriousness, that made Aaron chuckled.

"You already have my blood flowing through your veins... And Emily can only gain my Powers because of three reasons; First: She loves me with everything she is. Second; We both drank each other's blood. And Third; Something special helped out."

He exchanged the All Seeing Eyes to something special, Protean is one of his loyal followers, but after some thoughts; he decided to keep The All Seeing Eyes to himself.

Emily appeared behind an unexpected Figure, she plunged her hand into his body from behind, and pulled out a still beating heart.

The four moved back in Horror, as their teammate dropped dead in front of them, they looked up at the Demoness, who dropped the heart to the ground, and Vanished again.

"Don't you see the side effect of your blood?" Protean asked.

"I saw it, anyone who drink my blood will be heartless, and ruthless to their enemies... But most of all; they're loyal to me."

Protean stared at Aaron's back for some seconds, and nodded.

Emily appeared in front of a figure, before he could attack her, she threw a punch towards his face.

BAM!!!

The Soldier's head burst open like a watermelon. Before the remaining three could move, she lunged towards them with clear murderous intent.

"Atta--"

Whoosh!!!

The soldier's eyes widened, seeing his own blood spraying before his eyes. He looked down, seeing his throat was gone, blood socking his back outfit.

THUD!

He dropped dead.

"Shit!!!"

The two quickly got on a defensive position, resting their backs on the other's, their daggers in hand.

Emily appeared in front of one.

"She's over here!!"

The second quickly turned around, staring at the Demoness in front of them with killing intent, her hands and face was filled with blood... What shocked them was; there wasn't a single blood stain on her clothes.

"Get Her!! Avenge our comrades!!"

The two shot towards Emily, who stood still, waiting for them.

10 Feet.

5 Feet!

"Inferno."

She muttered another spell belonging to Aaron.

BOOM!!!

An unholy flaming ring burst around her, roasting the two into ashes, these poor souls couldn't let out a single scream before dying.

Clap!

Clap!

Clap!

She turned her head to Aaron, a smile on her bloody face.

"You did good."

Aaron and Protean said in unison.

"Now clean yourself up, your father is waiting." Aaron smiled at her, seeing the notification in front of him.

{Emily's Improvement met. She gained 10,000 increase in all Attributes.}

He nodded with a smile; 'This is only the start.'

Chapter 80 Preparation

[Terra's First City.]

Aaron, Protean and Emily appeared in front of a huge gate after clearing the spies on their back.

Emily stared at the gate with utter fascination and confusion, she then turned to Aaron In mild Surprise.

"Where are we?" She asked.

Aaron chuckled, and walked towards the gate. When the two guys guarding the gate saw them, their faces brightened up with huge smiles plastered on their faces.

They quickly walked up to them.

"My King! You're finally back!!"

Emily observed the two men and exclaimed in shock; "Rob?! Is this you?!"

"Yes, Miss Emily."

Rob gestured to the gate, all these are all thanks to the King, He created these, gave us gold coins to get anything that'll be needed... As for the moment, the small Village you knew is no more... Our village is now a city, which can house thousands of people... All the refugees, are being brought in, but none will enter without the test."

"Test?" Emily was confused.

"Come on, Emily. You'll know everything ones you're inside... As I said, your father is waiting."

Aaron smiled at her, and walked towards the 10 meters gate, which automatically opened... He then walked inside, with Emily, and Protean; leaving Rob and the other guy behind.

In the center of the city, a silver Castle was built by the best craftsmen, and builders in the whole World, Dwarves... This small humans will do anything if given Gold Coins, and in matter of two days, the Castle was fully built and furnished... Unbelievable.

[In the throne Hall.]

Aurora sat down on a throne, which was placed on the right side of the Emperor's, and Empress's thrones.

Her gaze fixed on the two people below her.

"My Queen, we got news that Zukor is the one leading the army, and they'll reach us by Noon."

Egon said with his head bowed.

Aurora nodded, and asked; "What about our forces, and the enemy's?"

"We have a total of 200 soldiers, while the enemy has the total of 2,000." John answered.

Aurora was silent for some couple of seconds, then looked up at the two.

"We'll go with defense, the huge walls will help us in the battle."

"But my Queen, Zukor is coming with ten catapults, we don't even have one... And the people in the city will be in danger!!"

"Don't be so excited Chief Egon, I know the people are our top priority... So... Lead them to the underground bunker Aaron created."

Egon and John needed.

"Welcome the Emperor!!"

Aurora and the two men turn their heads in surprise, they stared at the double doors, which opened. Aaron and Emily walked inside.

"Aaron!!"

Aurora stood up, and quickly climbed down the stairs, rushing towards her son, more like running.

She stopped in front of him, and squat down, giving him a big motherly hug.

"How are you doing, Mum?"

Aaron asked with a smile, hugging her back.

"Good, and... Helping you take care of your city."

Aurora joked, which caused Aaron to chuckle.

"What about me, don't I deserve a hug?"

Protean asked with pouted lips, staring at the two.

"Come on now, Protean, You know I miss you."

Aurora let go of Aaron, stood up, and gave Protean a hug.

"This is nice."

Protean smiled, and winked at Aaron, who rolled his eyes.

Egon stared at the girl walking towards him in both surprise and shock.

"Emily?"

He called in mild disbelieve.

"I missed you father!!"

Egon squat down, while Emily jumped into his hands, hugging his neck.

"Wow! My girl have grown, but... Is the academy so powerful that you entered such a high realm in less than two years?" He asked.

Emily separated from the hug, and shook her head:

"My Powers are all thanks to Aaron--"

"--Shhh... He's now the Emperor, so you should be respectful--"

"--That's not necessary, Mr Egon, Or should I say Father-In-Law?"

"Huh?"

Egon turned to Aaron, his face filled with question marks.

"Emily will become my Empress, So You and Emily don't need to add any honorific when addressing me."

Aaron smiled at Egon, and walked up to his throne, then sat down.

"What's are the information gotten?" He asked.

Egon who was staring at his daughter in surprise, swiftly turned his head to Aaron.

"My King. Zukor's army will be arriving by Noon. Queen Mother said we should go defensive." Egon stated.

Aaron nodded, then stopped up with a smile:

"My mother is a kind and loving Woman, But I'm not... If we stay here and wait for them, they'll take us as weaklings... Our walls are powerful, but that didn't mean it can hold on after continuous attacks... So we'll stop them in the desert that separate us from their territory."

"My King--"

"--What did I say about Honorific?"

"My... I mean... Aaron, The enemy has a total of 2,000 Soldiers, we only have 200."

"That isn't a problem, We aren't going to wipe them out... We'll give them a chance, they either surrender or die... And I know how to make them surrender... We'll be leaving in half an hour."

John and Egon looked at one another in confusion, but still bowed their heads... They knew nothing of Aaron's plan, but he's the king, so they have to obey.

Egon nodded, and held his Daughter's wrist, lending her outside. He wants to know everything.

Aaron sat back down, and watched the three leave the room, he then turned to his Mum.

"I hope you didn't kill anyone?"

Aurora asked, observing his expression.

"Hmm... No one, only some monsters." Aaron answered, and added:

"Mum, I got some shocking news about the Prophecy."

"Really?"

Aurora's interest was piqued. She listened as Aaron told her everything Rhea told him about the Cursed child, who was actually a savior, and everything that happened in the academy...

...After some minutes, Aurora slowly nodded:

"I knew my child can never be a Curse child, but... A descendant of the Ning Family? Don't you like your father's name or mine?"

Aaron scratched his head in confusion, not knowing why Aurora was suddenly sad.

"What are you saying, Mum? I'm just using the name to complete my plan, You know I'm your son, I can't be someone's else child."

Aurora looked up at him; "Really?" She asked in a hoarse voice.

'What the? How can a powerful warrior like her turn so timid? Even thinking I'll leave her for some title or wealth? I already have all that!!'

He stood up and walked down the stairs. He stood in front of her, and hugged her waist:

"I'll never leave you, Mum. NEVER."

He emphasized the word "Never" so she could understand, that he'll always and forever be her son.

"Thank you." Aurora smiled.

Protean stared at them in mild confusion: 'Are all mothers like this?'

BANG!!

The door flew open, with the two guards flying inside, falling in front of Aaron and Aurora.

Seeing the two figures walking inside, Aurora quickly summoned her sword, and her armor appeared on her body... She placed Aaron behind her, while her gaze fixed on the two strangers.

"Who are you?! And how did you get in here?!"

"Slow down, Queen mother... I'm Modena, the first Lord of Flash Eaters' Forest."

Modena walked towards them, and got down on one knee.

"My King, The Hell Demons are waiting for your order."

"Son?"

Aurora turned her head to Aaron, who in turn smiled at her.

"Mum, This is Modena, and... She's Rhea, the one I told you about..."

Aaron walked out from Aurora's back, and stood in front of the two. Read new chapters at empire

"Good, But..."

He looked at the two guards who slowly stood up from the ground; "Why did you break in?"

"Sorry for that, these ignorant fools said I can't enter, so I had to use Force."

"Hmm..."

Aaron thought for a moment, then snapped his fingers, the next moment, a white badge with the logo of a red sun, and Modena Engraved on it, appeared in her hand.

"Huh?"

"This will be your badge, You can use it to enter anywhere. I don't want this to repeat itself."

Modena nodded with a smile, while Aaron turned to Rhea.

"She told you everything, right?"

Rhea, who was still in her robe nodded.

Aaron then grew the Alliance circle and passed it to her:

"If you place your hand on that, you're agreeing to be my ally, and your kingdom will be my vassal state... Now Decide."

Rhea stared at the golden circle for some seconds then nodded again. She placed her palm on the circle, which shattered and entered her body.

"Done."

Aaron nodded and turned to Modena, who was still kneeling.

"Please, rise. How is Gjon and his people?"

"Your plan was successful, he will never doubt our strength again."

Modena stood up with a smile.

Aaron turned his gaze to Protean:

"Protean, It's time to summon the undead, Let's show Zukor Terra isn't to me mess with."

Protean grinned hearing his master, and took the form of the Alpha Undead.

"Let's have some fun!"
