

Reborn With The All Seeing Eye

Chapter 91 Shocking!

"I have a question."

Aaron turned his head to Dolor.

"Go on."

"What realm are you on?" Dolor asked in mild confusion.

Aaron tilted his head to the side, and opened his mouth. "I don't know."

"..." Dolor was stunned.

"Ok... No challenger, then I'll challenge."

Aaron pointed a finger in front of him, some meters on the stage.

"Anyone who survive this attack without a scratch will be judged by the people, your life will be place in their hands."

Everyone stared as a huge red orb burst out from the ground, spinning in front of Aaron.

Aaron rose the energy orb into the air, challenging 50% of his demonic Energy in it.

The convicts watched in Horror, as the orbs increased in size, hovering 10 meters above them.

"Only if you survive, and warning... To survive, you have to use all the energies in your bodies." Aaron added.

"What is Aaron doing?" Lilly stared at the orb with a stunned gaze.

"I don't know."

"This... This..."

They all turned to Egon, whose face was filled with horror.

"What is it, Dad?" Emily asked.

"This... This is the late Demon King's primary attack... Torment retribution."

"You mean Aaron's grandfather?"

"Yes, Queen mother." Egon nodded at Aurora.

"How powerful is this skill?" Protean asked.

"Strong enough to wipe out an entire city... What the Emperor is currently creating has the Powers to wipe out the entire Demon Kingdom... And he's using just 50% of his demonic Energy." Egon answered.

"50%? What if he used 100% of his strength?" Modena asked.

"I don't know... But I'm 90% sure all the third Continent will be destroyed." He replied.

Aaron smiled at the convicts: "It's time to show what you Learned after years of fighting, and cultivating your realm."

Dolor's, Zukor's, and the council elder's faces turned paled. Out of everyone present, they were the only ones who knew the skill Aaron was creating.

"Stop him!!!"

Zukor yelled in terror, standing still on his spot, not planning on moving.

"It's too late." Dolor sat down in a meditating posture, closed his eyes, and started channeling all his demonic energies.

"Seeing his action, all the Convicts quickly sat down, and started channeling their Energies.

"Shit! The Demon's Demonic energy is a lot stronger than our Sid energy in defense... There's no way we'll survive." Glad said with a dark expression.

"This kid is evil! He wants to kill all of us! There's no way we can survive."

Nlad turned his head to Zukor, who was also channeling his energy.

"We must!" Glad said with gritted teeth, as green light appeared all over his body.

Nlad nodded, and closed his eyes; moment next, a green shield surrounded him.

Seeing their actions, Aaron smiled, and snapped his fingers.

"Down!!" Egon yelled.

Whzzzzh!!!!

The Orb spun faster, and dropped from the sky.

BOOOOOOOMMM!!!!!!

The orb exploded upon impact, covering the whole Arena. The then energies colliding heavily on the Barrier.

Whoosh!!!

Cracks appeared on the ground, and all over the walls of the Arena... The violent energies collided with the convicts' defense, shattering some upon impact, and turning the unlucky ones into ashes.

BANG!!

The ground burst opened, throwing some Convicts in the pit created.

"What a skill!"

"The Emperor is really the strongest."

"True!"

"Yeah!!!!"

The audience weren't scared, in fact, they were happy, seeing the violent energies on the Arena killing more convicts as the seconds tick by.

Zukor gritted his teeth, as more energies collided with his Barrier.

Piff!!

He spurted out a mouthful of blood, but held on.

'Such a powerful Kid! I'll gain a lot if I work under him.' Dolor thought; blood could be seen on the corner of his lip.

"Fuck!!!"

"No!!!!"

"Ahh!!!!!"

Dolor smirked, hearing the screams of the other convicts.

Aaron hovered above them, moving his gaze around the place. '10 seconds more.'

BOOM!!!

The energies picked up speed, getting more violent.

BOOM!!!

PIIFFF!!!

They all spurted out a mouthful of blood, as cracks started appearing on their barriers.

Nlad opened his eyes... Seeing the cracks on his shield growing, he sighed helplessly.

'This is my limit, But I'm not going alone!!!'

He looked up at Aaron, stood up amidst the energies, and shot towards him.

'Five seconds left.'

Aaron turned his head to Nlad who was moving towards him like a bullet, at that moment; The energies took the force of a blizzard, and collided on Nlad.

"NOOO!!!!"

Aaron watched with a sneer, as Nlad turned into ashes, and joined the wind.

'2 more seconds.'

The audience watched as more of the convicts met their demise, even the council elder wasn't saved... And the moment the seconds were done. The energies suddenly disappeared, plunging the Arena into silence.

"....."

"This?"

The Audience were stunned, seeing out of the 9 people, only four survive.

"Clap, Clap, clap!"

Aaron clapped his hands, as he landed on the destroyed Stage.

"Zukor, Dolor, Glad, and..." He stared at the woman in confusion... After scanning her with the All Seeing Eyes, he said. "And Nevil."

The middle-age woman shakily stood up from the ground, and nodded at him.

Aaron turned his gaze to the Audience.

"As you all know, these four people are one of the ruthless, Notorious, and black face Bastards in our Kingdom, and else were... Some have committed countless unforgiven crimes, while others had committed only one offense."

Aaron turned to Dolor. "We'll start with him."

The Audience all turned their heads to Dolor.

"This man had done a lot of things, both bad and good in our Kingdom."

"Good?"

The Audience were surprised.

"Yes, Good!! You all focus on his main crime, which is; the massacring of an entire family, committed by the one and only Dolor, But what if I reveal it to everyone he had no hand in it?"

"Uh?" Dolor was stunned.

The Audience were silent, waiting to hear the reason.

Aaron raised his head to the sky, seeing a bat flying towards him... Moment next; it took the form of a young girl.

"She'll be the one to tell us."

"...."

Everyone was getting confused, what can a Vampire tell them?

"The main truth is, Dolor never killed any family... He was framed by the family's head."

"Huh?! How can you prove that?!!" The Audience yelled at Rhea.

"Bring him in."

BAM!!!

The door opened, and two guards dragged a demon with red skin, and a tail, inside the Arena, and threw him at Aaron's feet.

"Isn't this the man whose family have been killed? Wait, isn't he the family head who was hanged in front of the door?" Rhea asked.

"Oh my god!"

"But, why would he frame Dolor?!"

"Yeah, I... I don't get it."

Aaron smiled at them, and opened his mouth:

"When I heard about, Dolor. I had to spread my demonic energy all over the kingdom, and you don't know who shocked I was when I detected him... So I sent one of my best Assassins after this man... His family are safe, but are under custody... And for your question... Dolor here is the son of the Euchre Nobel family... And this man worked for his father... He was actually Dolor's father's most trusted man, But because of wealth, he planed to ruin the family by using Dolor as a trap... You all know the history, after seeing the fake dead bodies... You people went crazy and killed all his family out of rage, to you, it's revenge... Dolor was enraged and fought back, but was taken in by more than twenty guards, arrested for something he didn't do... He lost his position, family and freedom in one day."

The Audience were silent, looking down on their laps, most of them participated in the Euchre family execution... And they regretted it now.

"You." Aaron looked down at the man.

"What did you gain after ruining a family?" He asked coldly.

"What I gained? Of course, I gained all the wealth... I made a mistake coming back here! All because I wanted to see the new king, But that got me in trouble... But...! How did you even know I'm the one?! I changed my skin!"

"You can change your appearance, but not your energy signature... So my people, what are we going to do with him?"

"Kill him!!"

"Yes!! And his entire family!!"

"Yes!! They're all in this together! They must all be killed!!"

"Let's have justice for the Euchre family!!"

Aaron nodded and snapped his finger, setting the man in flames.

"Ahh!!!!"

In less than five seconds, he turned into ashes.

"I promise you, all the family will meet their end." Aaron turned to Dolor. "All the families." He added in a low voice.

"I won't say you're completely Innocent, but all your past crimes can be forgiven."

Dolor walked up to Aaron, and dropped on one knee. "I never believe my family..." He sighed.

"Thank you, Emperor Aaron, my family can now have peace... I swore on my life, I'll follow you to the end, my sword will draw only on your command."

Aaron nodded, and turned to the other three.

"My People, Tell me now... Should I free these three?!!"

Zukor, Glad, and Nevil, turned their heads towards the surrounding Audience. Their lives were now on whatever the people say.

Chapter 92 New Enemy

The Audience moved their gazes on the three below, and after some seconds, started yelling.

"Kill!!!!"

"Kill!!!!"

"Wait, what about Nevil?"

"Hmm... She took our money and escape... I say she should Die!"

"Wait, I heard she used the money to help some family, who are living outside the Capital."

"Huh, Really?!"

"Are you sure about that?!"

"I asked the family, and they vouch for her!!"

"Where is this family?!"

"I have no idea."

"...."

The Audience thought for a moment, then yelled.

"Kill!!!"

"Kill!!!"

"Release Nevil!!!"

"Kill Zukor!!!"

"Yes!! Avenged our Prince!!"

"Yes!! Kill!!!"

Aaron smiled and turned around to the three. "Are what they're saying the truth?" He asked Nevil, and added:

"Remember, You can't lie to me."

Nevil was silent for some moments, even the Audience were all silent, awaiting her answer.

"The family was dying, they needed money... I looked for jobs, but no one wanted to employ me, so I had to steal... I gave all the money to the family."

Aaron slowly nodded his head, and turned to Zukor, and Glad... "It seems your life journey ends here."

"Hahahahaha!!!!"

Zukor laughed in disdain. He moved his gaze on the Audience, and spat out.

"All you ungrateful vermin!! You forgot all I'd done for you as a king, and only focused on the bad part... Don't you know it was Aaron's plan! And you love him for that!!"

The Audience looked at one another, and smiled.

"So?! What if it's all the Emperor's plan!! He's the best Ruler we have ever had... And he gave us something that you will never give... That is; love, justice, ears, and most of all!! Gold Coins!!!! He even reduced our Taxes!!"

"Yes!!! You don't know how we commoners suffered because of your high amount of tax, but under the Emperor's rule! We will be able to save money!!"

"Yes!! Even if it's all his plan, We accepted it!! Three days without food is nothing to lifetime blessings and happiness!!!"

"We love you, Emperor Aaron!!!!"

"Forever!!! We'll follow you to the end!!!"

"YES!!!!!"

With every word spoken, Zukor's face got colder... He looked down at his feet, then at the Audience.

"Demons can never be trusted!" He turned his head to Aaron.

"Today I'll unleash my inner demon!!!!" His eyes glowed crimson.

Lilly was confused, and turned to Egon. "Commander Egon, What is an inner demon?"

"All pure, and noble blood Demons could take the form of their Demon ancestor... But this form isn't easy to activate, first you must be in the legendary Realm above." Egon stared at Zukor and added:

"I think Zukor can use this form."

"Really?!" Lilly was surprised. "I can't wait to see it."

Aaron watched as two horns grew out from Zukor's forehead and curved upward, his nails elongated, turning into claws... Zukor grew in height and size, standing ten feet tall... His skin turned red, teeth grew in length, with his canines in clear view.

"GRRRAAAA!!!!!"

Glad and Nevil quickly moved back from Zukor, staring at the monster in front of them in horror.

"How do you like me, Aaron?" Zukor asked with a grin.

"Hmm... From a Supreme, to the transcendent... Nice."

Aaron nodded.

"Don't be scared, No matter how powerful you are. In present of a Transcendent, you're an ant that will be crush under my foot." Zukor smirked.

The Audience were all horrified, seeing the huge monster in front of them, but Aaron just smiled.

"Transcendent are powerful existence, True, But to me... You're another fly that can be slap away."

"Hehehehe.... Bold words... Let's hope you can hold on to it."

BOOM!!!!

Zukor shot towards Aaron, destroying the ground behind him.

Everyone watched in shock, and surprise as Zukor's claws elongated, his eyes glowed even brightly.

BAM!!

Zukor leaped into the air, and dive towards Aaron, who stood still on his spot.

"Die, Aaron!!!"

BOOOOOM!!!!!!

Silence.....

"..."

".....!!!!"

"What Just happened?!!"

".....?!!!!"

Everyone was horrified seeing the result.

"Did.... Did!!!"

Dolor, Nevil and Glad were utterly perplexed.

Aaron slowly Lowered his hand, and looked at Zukor who lied 40 meters away from him, half of his cheek broken.

"I told you, Only one slap."

"Cough! Cough!!" Zukor coughed, throwing up a mouthful of blood.

"How...? How did you get so powerful?!! As far as I know, all your powers aren't gotten from the ruby... So how?! Highest, it will place you in the transcendent realm peak-stage! Beyond that is beyond reason... Cough!!"

He spurted out more blood.

"I told you, I don't know my Realm... I just know, I'm immortal."

"Do you take me as a fool?!! You should have said you're an Alien! Or got hit by a power meteor! How the hell are you an immortal?!!"

"Believe it or not, that's on you."

Zukor scoffed. "You might have killed me, But the skull will avenge me. Do you think we're the only one who wanted your father dead? No... The skull will have your head and family's."

Aaron frowned slightly, with the memories gotten from his ancestors; the Skull is an ancient Kingdom which practice Necromancy... They're one of the strongest force alive... But there's only one problem, the Skull's Kingdom is invisible, unknown, Lost... In a simpler form, their kingdom can't be found...

...Some said the kingdom is located in hell, some said underground... Others even said they lived in a different dimension... But everyone knew they are responsible for the Abyssal gates in our world... There was even a Rumor that the Skull are unkillable.

'But, why would the Skull want my father dead? Are they after the Demon kingdom?'

"What is your deal with the Skull?" Aaron asked.

"Deal? Hehehe." Zukor chuckled, and revealed.

"You gained the Powers and knowledge from the late Demon king... So you surely know about the impending battle... The Skull want to rule this world, and to achieve that, they have to get rid of the races... I accepted their offer for my own survival... Cough! Your father will never accept this, so we sent the skull elite forces after him... Cough! We succeeded, and the next target was the king... I killed him with the help of the Queen... Cough!! After five months, I got the news about you, Lucian's son... Who is the savior of this realm... Yeah, all the powerful and older figures know that you're not the Cursed Child, but the savior... So tell me, Is it because you're the savior that you're this powerful?"

"Hmm..." Aaron stared at him for some seconds, and asked: "So the Dark Elf you sent?"

"Him..." Zukor sneered. "He's one of the soldiers given to me by the Skull... There are the weakest of Weakest in the Skull's forces."

Aaron was surprised. 'A Cursed-Demon is the weakest?! I thought the academy's soldiers are already the strongest... It seems they're more powerful hands behind everything.'

"What about the Grand Priests?" Aaron asked.

"Those guys are working under the Skull, they are responsible for turning you into the Cursed Child... Some of the rulers of the other races don't know this truth, but they're already under the Priests... By taking over the Demon kingdom, you placed a block on the Skull's plan... And they'll use whatever force available to destroy this block... Hehehe! Terra had just been created, We'll see if it can stand for long."

Aaron watched as Zukor breath his last... He took a deep breath and moved his gaze to his family, then turned to the people.

'I don't know the total strength of the Skull... The Grand priests are all Transcendent, and they're all working for the Skull... This means; the Skull's main force are stronger than a Transcendent... So powerful that their kingdom is unknown.'

He sighed, and snapped his fingers, the next moment; Glad dropped, dead.

"My People, You heard everything he said... Some of you know what Skull is capable of! And It seems they're getting ready to take over our Kingdom and world... So I'll ask, should we stand by and watch this happen?!!"

"No!!!"

"Let's show the Skull we're not pushovers!!!"

"Yes!!!"

"Calm down, you all seem to have forgotten that you're all powerless! Carry on with your daily lives, and leave the rest to your Emperor and the soldiers!! We'll protect our Kingdom, but first; We must take over the other races, and... We'll now be open to refugees."

"Refugees?" The Audience were confused.

"I'll be saving those from the second continent, and bringing them to our city... We must accept and treat them as one!! We can only survive if we work, and stay together!!"

The Demons looked at one another in surprise... After a while, they slowly nodded their heads.

"The Emperor is right!! We must stay together!!"

"Yes, We'll go with the Emperor!!"

"The Emperor is right."

Aaron turned to Rhea, who quickly got down on one knee. "You have my thanks."

Aaron turned back to the Audience, and opened his mouth: "Thank you for your words, and support... I give you my word; I, your Emperor will not fail you!"

"Yes!!!"

"We trust you, Emperor Aaron!!!"

Aaron smiled, and said to Rhea, and Dolor. "Meet me in the throne hall..." He then turned to Nevil.

"You're freed." With that said, he vanished from the Arena.

Chapter 93 The Destruction Of The Fourth Realm Is Upon Us!

[Throne Hall.]

Aaron stared at the two who calmly walked inside the hall, and stopped in front of him.

"Rhea... Get ready, we'll be moving tomorrow, at first light."

"Yes." Rhea nodded with a small smile.

"Dolor, You'll be coming with us." He turned his head to Dolor, who nodded.

"M-My King, how many people are joining us in this mission?" Rhea asked.

"Protean, Modena, Dolor, you and me... The five of us are the ones going... Oh? And Calamity, that made six."

Rhea thought about the four, and nodded with a smile, these are all powerful figures in Terra... So this mission is a success.

Aaron raised his index finger, and drew the Alliance circle, which then flew towards Dolor.

"Place your hand on it." He commended.

Dolor placed his palm on the circle, which shattered and entered him.

"It's done." Aaron stood up. "Go and get ready."

The two nodded, turned around, and walked towards the exit... Aaron stared at their departing figures for some seconds, before closing his eyes.

After a while, he opened it and walked towards the doors.

[Terra Kingdom's prison dungeon.]

"Baby Brother, I have been waiting for you." Lilly said with a smile, seeing Aaron walking towards her.

"Sorry for keeping you waiting, come on." Aaron walked towards the two huge guards, who bowed their heads, and opened the door for the two.

"So, Brother. Why did you call me here?"

"Can you use your powers on multiple targets?" Instead of answering, Aaron asked.

"I don't know... Maybe... Why are you asking?" Lilly turned her head to his side profile, a little confused.

"I need you to take control of the spies' minds... Can you do that?" Aaron asked, walking down the dim passage.

"Hmm... I think I can do it... I have been thinking if I can use my spell on more targets... This will be a good experiment." Lilly smiled, turning her head to the passage ahead.

"It will be." Aaron nodded, and stopped in front of a door.

"The guards placed them all in this cell. Let's see if they're awake." He pushed the door opened, and walked in with Lilly.

Lilly moved her gaze around the dim room, seeing all the girls chained with their hands above their heads.

"Brother, Is this necessary?" She asked seeing the bruises on some of the girls' faces.

"Yeah, For my plan to work, they have to sustain some injuries." He said in a calm tone.

"Ok... Try a way to wake them up, my spell requires them to stare directly at my Eyes."

"Hmm... They aren't stupid to do that, the moment they set eyes on yours, they'll instantly close theirs."

"That can only be possible if they just took a glance... But if they stared at my eyes for even two seconds, they'll be taken." Lilly explained, staring at the Leader of the spies.

"Ok, I know how to keep their eyes on yours." Aaron snapped his fingers, and room dimmed even more... Plunging the whole room into darkness.

"Brother, what's your plan?" Lilly turned her head to Aaron... As a Heavenly-saint elf, she could clearly see in the Darkness.

"I need to know what Kara Is planning, and also the total number of their soldiers... You can never win a war without knowing your enemy first... That was also her strategy... If not, she won't have sent these guys."

"You have a point. Ok, I'm ready." Lilly said with a smile.

Aaron nodded, and sent a sliver of electricity towards the 11 girls.

"Ahhh!!"

Feeling the jolt of electricity, they all shot their eyes opened... Staring at the two white light balls in front of them in surprise... The next moment, their eyes turned lifeless.

"No! Look away!!" The Leader yelled in horror, she quickly moved her head to the side, but the rest were already taken.

"- From now henceforth, you all will be my loyal servants, only following my orders no matter how unpleasant they are. You'll die for me, and see me as your only master.-"

"Yes... Master!"

They all answered in unison.

"No!!!" The Leader yelled in pain, hearing the lifeless voices of her Spies.

Lilly blinked a couple of times, and turned to Aaron. "Done."

Aaron nodded, and asked the girls. "Are you all getting control by Lilly?"

The girls were silent.

"You can answer him." Lilly smiled brightly.

"Yes, We're being control by Master Lilly, We'll do whatever she said and even die for her."

Aaron nodded in approval, and destroyed all the chains holding the girls... Then removed his darkness skill.

"You!! You're despicable!!!" The Leader spat out, staring at Aaron with such killing intent that made him smile.

"Such hatred in your eyes, even Zukor don't have so much hatred for me." Aaron walked towards her with a smile.

"If I get out from here, I'll have your head!!!"

"Ouch! That's bold!" Arron placed his palm on her naked thigh."

"Let go of me!! Are you a pervert?!! You..." Her word trailed off feeling herself getting weak.

"You?!! Let go of me!!! What are you doing?"

Aaron smirked, and removed his hand from her.

{Skills successfully stolen.}

{Target is now skill-less.}

"You!! My... How dare you!! You Bastard!!!" She yelled, kicking and pulling, but were all effortless.

"Who would have thought you have such a skill?" Aaron opened his palm, and a red dagger appeared on it.

"This throwing Dagger has the power to moved past any defense, and kill its target... Not only kill, it also destroys their souls... Nice." Aaron's smirk turned into a grin.

Whoosh!!!

The Leader watched in horror, as the dagger shot towards her, and with a "BAM!" It penetrated her Chest, burst out from her back and struck the wall behind her.

"This was your hidden card... Impressive." The Dagger flew back, and shot towards Aaron... It moved past him, and struck the head of a girl standing with the ten girls... She instantly dropped dead on the ground.

"It seems your spell can only work on nine targets... When I asked the question, she didn't answer." The dagger flew out from her skull, and hovered on his palm.

"Now listen quietly... This is your mission."

The girls nodded, and listened to Aaron's plan.

[Unknown location.]

On a dark landscape, A huge dark city sat below a crimson red sky... Skeletons, Monsters and undead could be seen, moving back and forth on the walls.

In this Castle, which stood at the center of the city, a young lady with red eyes sat on a throne, moving her gaze on the five figures in front of her.

"What happened?! Shouldn't we be getting ready for the attack?!" She asked, releasing an unholy pressure on the five.

"R-Ruler, Aaron have taken over the Demon Kingdom, and Killed Zukor." One answered with difficulty.

"Zukor?! Did he reveal anything to the god of the sky?"

"Well... He revealed all he knew." The man with dark skin and long ears answered.

"Bastard! I should have killed him long time ago!!" The lady sighed, relaxing on her throne.

"So what are you five waiting for?"

The Five figures looked at one another in confusion.

Seeing their expression, the Queen yelled; "Send the grand priests! They should tell the races that the Cursed Child have taken over the third Continent... To clean, and protect their land, they need to wipe the whole continent out! Whatever happens, The Skull must be victorious!"

The five nodded, before they could move, The Queen stopped them.

"Hold on..."

The five stopped their action, and stared at her.

"It's time to open the gates?" She asked.

"Well... The energy force will reach its peak tomorrow, at midnight." The woman with red eyes, and wings, standing on the left answered.

"Good, open the gate the moment the energy reaches its peak! Michael will soon gain the Powers of the Abyssal! If that happens, we won't have any control of it!"

The five nodded in understanding.

"You can go now."

They nodded, and flew away from the hall.

The Queen sighed.

Whzzzzh!!!

She looked at the space in front of her, which tore opened, and two red eyes appeared... Staring straight at her.

"Why are you here, Moros?" She asked with a deep frown.

"Aren't you happy to see your brother, Eris?!"

Eris sighed, and stood up from the Throne... "You're responsible for taking over the sixth realm... Are you done with it?!"

"Hahaha! Who would have thought, Eris! The Primordial goddess of Chaos will be known as Skull? Hahaha!!"

Eris frowned in disapproval.

"Ok. Ok. Ok. I'm here to tell you the news... We have opened S-Rank gates in the first realm... We'll make sure to crush it." Moros said with a smile.

"What about, Michael...? And I asked about the sixth realm!"

"Supreme can't stop us... And 70% of the sixth realm is already under my hold... In time, it'll belong to us."

Eris stared at her Brother's eyes for some seconds, and nodded. "What about the Third?"

"Hades will take care of that... So what's your plan in this realm?" Moros asked.

"My plan...? The destruction of the fourth Realm is upon us." She smiled.

Chapter 94 Massacre

[Next Day.]

[Second Continent.]

Whzzzzh!!!

The space tore opened, and a gateway appeared.

Aaron, Protean, Modena, Lilly, and Dolor walked out.

Aaron moved his gaze around the valley they appeared in, and said.

"From now onwards, Protean is the leader... Follow his order... I'm just the kid of the group."

The four looked at one another, and slowly nodded.

"Where to, Rhea?" Protean took command.

"This valley is located at the northern part of the Continent, So if we head south, we'll reach my town in two hours... If we fly, thirty minutes... What should we do?" They all turned to Aaron.

"Why are you staring at me? I'm just the kid in this mission. Ask your leader!" Aaron said with a frown, and walked away from the group.

"....."

The stunned group, turned their heads to Protean.

"Hmm... Let's walk half the way, we aren't in a hurry... And we'll also be giving the others back home time to send, and receive the submission letters."

The three nodded.

GRRAAA!!!

Aaron came to a stop, he watched as a huge man with hair all over his body shot towards him, and caught him... The man then laughed at the four, and ran away with Aaron placed on his shoulder.

Protean and the four: "...?!!"

"Wait! Did that man just kidnapped the Emperor?! Like, Emperor?!" Modena was stunned.

"That's no man, they're call flesh eaters, And they eat flesh... Especially Kids!!" Rhea yelled.

"Yeah, But the Emperor might look as a kid, but he isn't a kid." Dolor said in a calm tone.

"Come on, let's watch the show." Protean started walking, Modena and Dolor following behind him.

"Uh?" With confusion, Rhea followed behind them.

[Flesh Eaters' hideout.]

Whoosh!!!

The man carried Aaron inside the small village, and threw him on the ground.

More flesh eaters rushed towards him, surrounding the child who lied on the ground, his hands placed behind his head, staring at the hairy humans in front of him.

"Huh?"

The Flesh Eaters were confused, seeing his calm expression.

"Who is this kid?! Shouldn't he be crying or screaming for help?!!" An old man walked towards the crowd, asking the man who brought Aaron to their Village.

"Village Head, I took him from a group of people! There was even a Vampire among them."

"Oh?" The man observed Aaron for some seconds, and shook his head.

"This isn't a kid, but he'll make a good breakfast for the village... Prepare the fire, and place him in the room."

Two men nodded, and picked Aaron up, carrying him to a small hut made from mud, and threw him inside.

BAM!!

They shut the door, leaving him alone.

Aaron stood up, and dusted his clothes.

"Ok, now we're inside... These guys are one evil Bastards! But I need some information about them."

Flab! Flab! Flab!

"What are you doing, Master?" Protean landed on the only window in the hut, staring at Aaron.

"I need some information about these freaks. Did Rhea tell you anything about this tribe?" Aaron asked the Raven.

"Hmm... She said they eat flesh, and are known as flesh eaters."

"The Flesh part have been confirmed... Do you believe it, they're even preparing the fire to cook me."

Protean rolled his eyes. "Rhea also said these guys and her people are worse of enemies... The Flesh Eaters, killed and eat their people, mostly children... She's dying to kill them... And Oh! There's an Abyssal gate some miles from this place."

The late part surprised Aaron, and Protean continued:

"The gate is changing, its Rocky surface is turning red, and the block is cracking."

Aaron's eyes widened in shock. "Shit! The Gates are opening! We need to get everyone out from this continent!!"

BAM!!

"Who are you talking to?!!"

A man opened the door, and was stunned seeing Aaron alone, he looked at the window, seeing Protean staring at him.

"A Bird?! You're make a good dessert!!"

Before the man could lunge at Protean, two red beam shot out from his eyes, bursting the Man's head open.

"You dare say I'll be a dessert! Do you know who I'm?!" Protean was enraged, how dare this man take him as a dessert?!

Aaron chuckled, and added: "Ok, All I wanted to know is their village, and here we are... Time to wipe out this weirdos... Calamity, Leave no one alive."

Red and black smoke flew out from the ring, and shot towards the sky through the window.

"Protean, capture the Village head, I need him alive." Protean nodded, and flew away.

Aaron sighed helplessly. 'I said I don't want to be the leader of this mission... I'll only take charge In this destruction.'

BAM!!

BOOM!!

The flesh eaters all looked up in horror, seeing the clear blue sky turning red, the next moment, an enormous Beast with six heads, whose frame covered their entire Village, appeared in the sky.

"GRRRRRAAAAAA!!!!!!"

All the weak flesh eaters all dropped to their knees, covering their ears with a painful expression on their faces, not only that, Blood could be seen flowing out.

"A Peak-stage Beast-Ruler... What have we done to offend such a terrifying Beast?!!"

The people were horrified, the next thing they saw the Six heads opening their mouths.

Whoosh!!!

A wave of different elemental beam shot out from its mouths, and collided on their Village, plunging it into hell.

"Ahhh!!! Run!!!"

"Run for your life!!!"

"Wait! That Hut is out from its attack range! "Let's hide there!!"

"Yes!!!"

They all ran towards the hut they placed Aaron in, the moment they got ten steps from it, a huge amount of Demonic energy burst out from the door, turning half of them into ashes.

The rest watched in horror, as Aaron walked out from the destroyed door, hands folded behind him.

CRACK!!

BANG!!!

The Hut collapsed to the ground.

"You! You! What are you?!!" The people were horrified.

"Your worse nightmare."

Whoosh!!

A Hundred wind blades shot towards them, cutting each one of them into pieces.

Aaron calmly walked past the body parts, and blood... Not even bothered about the flames covered city.

"AHHHHH!!!"

"No!!!"

"Help me!!!"

"Help!!!"

[Ten Minutes Later.]

Rhea and Modena walked inside the city. Passing through the burnt wooden gate, they moved their gazes all over the village, seeing flames, dead bodies, and body's parts, everywhere.

The two looked at one another, and walked towards the center of the village. They came to a stop, seeing three people kneeling before Aaron, Protean, and Dolor... Calamity, hovering above them.

"You!! Why?! What have we done to you?!!!" The Village head yelled at Aaron.

"What have you done to me?! You're planning on cooking me some minutes ago..." Aaron smiled, and added:

"Flesh Eaters? Is the flesh eaters' forest in the first Continent your former home?"

The old man looked at the two behind him, and slowly nodded:

"The Grand priests moved us to this continent."

"Why?!" Aaron asked.

"So we can kill all the races here! Especially the Vampires!" Another man yelled.

"Shh..."

With Aaron's word, Dolor drew his blade in his hand, and sheathed it back.

The three didn't see when he moved, they only saw him unsheathing, and sheathing his sword, but the man's head rolled to the ground, followed by his body.

"You can only speak when spoken to." Aaron stared at the two men in front of him, and continued:

"You two are the last of your race... What should I do to you?" He thought.

"Kill them."

The two looked behind Aaron, seeing Rhea standing some distance away.

"Princess Rhea?!" The old man was stunned, then yelled.

"So you escape to look for help!! No matter what happens, the grand priests will kill you!!"

"I didn't escape to look for help, but the gods helped me, and I met Aaron, The Emperor of Terra."

"Emperor?" The two men were horrified.

'Emperor?! Only this three destroyed our Village in five minutes! Only three did this?! How powerful is Terra? And why haven't I heard of the Kingdom?!' The old man was in a daze.

"I'll make you an example to all those in this continent, I'm here to take over this land, and nothing will stop me from achieving that!"

Aaron said, two earth blades rose from the ground, spinning above him.

"Now save yourself... Do you know Skull's territory?"

"Skull?" The old man's face turned paled.

"Oh? You Know them... Tell me what you know."

"No... No... They'll kill me!"

"And you think I won't?" Aaron asked with a smile.

The man moved his gaze around the burnt Village, and settled his eyes on Aaron.

"You killed everyone, and destroyed my village... Even if you leave me Alive, there's nothing to live for... So just kill me."

Aaron stared at him for some seconds, and stopped his attack.

"Let's go."

He turned around and walked towards the gate. His group stared at him in surprise, and confusion.

"Let's go." Aaron repeated his word.

Protean, Dolor, and Modena turned around, and followed behind him.... Rhea stared at the two for some seconds, and sighed... Then followed behind Aaron.

Calamity turned into black and red smoke, and flew towards Aaron, entering his ring.

BOOM!!!

The old man, and the second, raised their heads to the sky. Their eyes widened in horror seeing more than a hundred red Lightning falling on the village, and on them.

BOOOOOOOOOOM!!!!!!

Chapter 95 Who Is This Kid?!

"Where to next, Rhea?"

Aaron asked.

Rhea looked at the flaming village, and turned to Aaron... Before she could answer, Aaron added.

"Come here."

She frowned slightly, but still walked forward... And stopped beside him.

Aaron opened his palm, and gestured for her to take it in hers.

Rhea placed her hand on his, and Aaron closed his eyes... In matter of two seconds, he removed his hand, and snapped his fingers.

The four stared as the space before them tore opened, and a gateway appeared.

"Let's go."

Aaron walked towards it.

Rhea moved her gaze on the three, and asked: "Did he...?"

"Stop asking, You can never understand my Master." Protean walked past her, following behind Aaron.

"He's right." Modena nodded, and followed.

Rhea shrugged her shoulders, and followed with Dolor.

The moment the gateway disappeared, a ten meters flagpole with the logo of a red sun, rose from the ground, standing with its full glory.

[Vampires' Village.]

[Rhea's Home.]

"What should we do?! It has been three days since the princess escaped from this continent... Do you think she has completed her mission?"

A pale skin man, with red eyes, asked the four figures sitting opposite him.

"The Princess is one of our Best Assassins... There might be some delay, but I know she succeeded." A woman said with a smile.

"I hope you're right." The pale skin man nodded.

"What about the issue at hand? The red Orcs are preparing to attack our village."

"Huh?!"

They all turned to another lady with long gray hair, and red eyes.

"What did you say?" The pale skin man asked in mild surprised.

"My spies sent the word, they said the Orcs' leader received a letter from the priests... And after the letter, they started organizing their army." The gray hair lady said.

"Hmm... The Princess might be in danger... But at the moment, we need to prepare ourselves!"

The other four nodded at the man.

Whiiiiizzzzh!!!!

The five turned their heads to the door... They watched as the space split opened, and a gateway formed.

They stopped up, seeing a boy, walking out from it, then a dark elf, a hybrid, demons and lastly.

"Princess Rhea?!" They exclaimed in surprise, and shock.

"Elders, I'm back."

"Princess, Who are these people?" The pale skin man asked in suspicion.

"First Elder; This is Protean, the leader of these guys... She is Modena, he's Dolor, and lastly, the child of the group, Aaron.

Modena chuckled in a low voice, hearing how Rhea introduced the Emperor of Terra.

The five stared at Aaron for some seconds, and turned their heads to Protean.

"Welcome."

They greeted still a little confused, while the first elder turned his head to Aaron, who was busy walking around, touching that and this.

"Can you ask this kid to stay put?" The first Elder asked, tuning his head to Protean.

"No one ask him to do things, and no one can... He might be a kid, but you shouldn't mess with him." Instead of Protean, Dolor answered.

"Ok..."

The elder was skeptical, how would a kid who don't even have Sid energy be that powerful? But he nodded and turned Rhea.

"Thank goodness you're back, the Orcs are preparing to attack our village."

"What?!" Rhea's face turned paled.

"Yes, Princess... They got the command from the grand priests." The woman with gray hair said.

"We need to tell the people about this, second elder, at least we should--"

"--How nice."

Everyone turned their heads to Aaron, who picked up a small cat sculpture from the shelf, turned around and walked towards the group.

They watched as Aaron sat down on the couch, and placed the cat on the center table.

"Who is this kid?!" A man yelled.

"Calm down, Elders. What is it Aaron?" Rhea asked in a low voice.

"Is this yours?" Aaron pointed at the cat.

"Yes, It was my birthday gift."

"Oh... Who gave you?" He asked again.

Rhea was confused, but answered: "The Ruler of the Goblins."

"The Goblins are working with the priests, and this here is an energy absorber... As long it's around, none of you will be Able to break through..." He looked around the room.

"The moment I entered this room, I sense the weak amount of energy in the air, this was the reason."

The first elder opened his mouth: "It's true the energy is low, but why suspect the Goblins? They have been helping our village all this while, from weapons to even armors transport... We're even thinking of asking aid from them."

"Hold on to that idea." Rhea said, and sighed.

She walked towards a couch and sat down, lost in thought.

"What are you thinking, Princess? Don't tell me you're going with his word!! He's just a kid!" The first elder yelled.

Rhea glared at him, and turned her head to the second elder: "Where are the weapons and Armors?"

"They're In the storage."

"Get one here, the armor."

The elders looked at one another, and nodded... The fifth elder walked towards the exit.

"Aaron... I mean Protean, What should we do to the Goblins?"

"Hmm... Let's see the armor, if something is wrong with it, we'll get rid of their race."

"Hold on there, who are you guys?! And what power do you have to achieve that? The Goblins' Ruler is in the Legendary realm... And you're just a Sky Realm, and you're the Leader of this group." The first Elder turned his head to Dolor.

"And you're just a Legendary at the low-stage, but the ruler is in the high-stage." He looked at Modena.

"I don't even know your realm... I can't even feel your energy... You and this kid, are clearly powerless... And you're saying you'll see to the destruction of a race numbering thousands."

Rhea sighed helplessly. 'Protean is only a sky realm because he's using the dark elf appearance, he'll be in the high-stage of the Legendary realm if he took the form of the wraith... Moreover, He will be in the Supreme stage if he merged all the forms... And he's calling the two strongest in the group powerless!! How can you feel their energy when you're just in the high-stage of the sky realm?!' She sighed again.

Protean stared at the Elders for some seconds, walked towards a couch and sat down, then placed his right leg on his left.

Aaron smiled seeing his action.

"You want to know who we are? Ask your princess."

The four turned their head to Rhea, who heaved a sigh.

"They are the lords of a rising Empire, known as Terra." Rhea answered.

"Terra? Hmm... Never heard of it." The second lady, who was the third elder, said.

"That's why it's a rising Empire." Rhea turned her head to the door, seeing the fifth elder walking inside with a bronze armor plate.

"Do we have any prisoners?" She asked.

"Yes, An Orc. He's here with me." The fifth elder said, and two male Vampires dragged a six feet tall red skin Orc inside the house.

Rhea stood up, and moved her gaze on the Armor... Then raise her hand, and slowly felt it.

"Have anyone worn this?" She directed the question to the first elder.

"No, princess. We got these armors two days ago."

"Good, put it on him."

The two guards nodded. One held the Orc, while the other put the Armor on him.

Fully worn, they waited for two minutes but nothing happened.

"You saw this?! Nothing happened! The Armor is perfectly safe." The first elder turned around to Aaron.

"As I said! This kid is lying. Hey kid, you can't just open your mouth and start screaming nonsense, and slandering good people!!"

"If you continue yelling, I won't be responsible for anything that happen to you." Rhea walked back to the couch, and sat down.

The first elder frown slightly. "What are you saying, Princess?! Do you think I won't be able to deal with this kid? If not for these three, I would have taught him a lesson for slandering the Goblins?!"

"Oh?! Because of us?"

Modena was surprised.

"Why? We won't move a finger to stop you." Dolor smiled.

"He's right, none of us will act." Protean added.

The Elders were confused, hearing the words coming out from the three... They all turned to the first elder who stood still, also lost.

"It seems you're also working for the grand priests." Aaron finally opened his mouth.

The first elder turned pale, but quickly yelled.

"What are you saying?!! First the Goblins, and now you're slandering me!! How dare you!" He yelled, pointing his finger at Aaron.

"Point that finger again, and you'll lose that arm." Aaron said in a calm tone.

"You--"

"--AHHHHH!!!!!"

They all turned to the Orc... Their eyes widened seeing red smoke emanating from the armor, they watched as the Orc fell on the ground, screaming in pain as his skin started peeling, and in less than ten seconds, he died.

"...!!?"

Chapter 96 It's All Over

Everyone stared at the Orc for some seconds, then Rhea turned to the first Elder.

"First elder, Is Aaron saying the truth?"

"What?!" The Elder frowned.

"Don't tell me you believe him?! I have worked for your father for years, I watch you grow up from the small bloodsucker you are to a young lady! And you're suspecting me because this kid opened his mouth!!"

"Emotional games won't work on me, just answer my question, it's a simple Yes or No." Rhea said with a slight frown.

"You!! Fine! I'll never betray you! Not now, not ever... Even to my death... I accept the goblins are against us, working for the grand priests--"

"--Oh? You're still lying, How despicable." Aaron said in a calm tone.

"Shut up, You!!" The elder yelled.

"First Elder."

He turned to Rhea.

"Who accepted the armors from the goblins?" She asked.

"I accepted them." He nodded.

"And you were also the one who accepted the cat and brought it to me, saying it was a gift from the Goblins' ruler."

"What are you implying, Princess?" The first Elder asked with a slight frown.

"In these events, your scent is in all of them... And you weren't in the plan of me leaving... Back then I took it as your care... But I don't know you're such a backstabber!"

"What are you saying?! You're believing him?!"

"I'm believing the fact... Fact number one; No one can lie to Aaron, Not you or me... I'd learn my lesson by lying to him... And if he said you're working for the grand priests, then it's true!"

"But princess."

Rhea raise her hand, stopping the second elder from saying anything... Her cold gaze fixed on the first Elder.

Seeing he couldn't do or say anything, that'll change the outcome he laughed out loud.

"Hahahahaha!!! So?! What if I'm a spy?! What can you do?!!!"

"First Elder!!!"

The other four were stunned.

"What?! If not for her father and his stupid prophecy! We won't be in this situation, and we won't have lost 95% of our people!! Look around you! We're now living like dogs, scrapping for bones!! I had to chose, and I choose what will be beneficial to us!!!"

"Us?! By joining the enemy?!!" Rhea stood up in rage.

"Yes!! If I haven't done it, we all wouldn't have lived this long!!!"

"What did they ask in return?!!" Rhea asked.

"Well... Just the blood of some children."

"WHAT?!!!!"

They were all horrified.

"Blood... Blood? You're responsible for the disappearance of our people and the children?!!" The second Elder yelled with killing intent.

"Yes, a small price to pay for our survival."

He said, like it was the best choice he had ever made.

"You!! You're worse than the Monsters!!" The fourth female elder yelled.

The first Elder moved his gaze around, and sighed in disdain.

"I'm in this position because of this Kid!! Ahh! I'll kill you!!"

Whoosh!

He shot towards Aaron.

BAM!

An unknown pressure fell on him, forcing him to his knees.

"I don't take threats lightly." Aaron stood up, and with a thought, the cat shattered into particles.

"How dare you?! Let me go!!!" The elder yelled.

Aaron moved his gaze on the Vampires in the room, and opened his mouth.

"The gates are opening, I'll say we have till morning... Ask the people to assemble themselves... We'll be going to the red Orcs' village, then the Goblins... If they're really the ones who sent these armors, we'll wipe them out."

The elders turned to Rhea, who nodded at them... Then turned to the two guards, and with a Command. The two nodded, and walked out from the room to assemble all the villagers.

"Let's go."

Aaron snapped his fingers, and the group of ten disappeared from the village, and appeared some yards from the Orcs' Village.

"Huh?" The Vampires Elders were stunned with the change of place.

"Isn't this the Orcs' Village?"

The group were dumbfounded, as they landed on the ground.

"Alert them of our presence." Protean said while Modena nodded.

She opened her palm, and a black fireball formed on it; she then blew on the ball, sending it towards the Village.

'She... She also has Powers?' The first Elder, who was still on his knees thought inwardly, staring at the ball, which flew towards the gate.

BOOM!!!

A huge explosion sounded, destroying the wooded gate into splinters.

DING!! DING!! DING!! DING!! DING!!!

Aaron and his group only stood outside for five minutes, and more than a hundred orcs in Armor rushed out, some were even on horses.

'Wow? They're prepared.' Aaron thought.

A Huge bulking red Orc, who worn a human skull, and armed with a huge battle Axe walked forward, on his skeleton armored horse.

He stopped twenty yards from Aaron and his group, and yelled.

"What are you doing here, Vampires?! Are you so impatient for your extinction?!"

Rhea stared at Aaron, who turned to Protean.

Protean took a step forward. "I'm the lord of Terra... We're here to take over your land... Surrender, and we won't kill anyone... But refuse, We'll wipe out your race from existence... We don't even spare children, so think before deciding."

The Orcs' king frowned seeing Protean was just a Sky realm... And he had the gut to say such a thing.

"Hahaha!!! Do you think we're pushovers?! I'll give you mine, Leave all the females behind, and run for your life... Only ten of you dare challenge us... I laughed at your faces."

Protean smirked.

"Is that your decision...? Going against us?"

"Yes! How can I submit to a kingdom which is low on army? That they have to use kids." The Orcs' King spat out.

"Modena, Bring him to me."

With Protean's command, Modena nodded and vanished.

"Huh?" The Orcs' king was stunned, seeing Modena appearing right in front of him.

"You're coming with me."

Whoosh!!!

With a swing of her sword, the horse moved some steps back and fell on the ground, dead.

The Orcs' King rolled to the side and stood up with his Axe.

"How dare you?!!" He yelled with killing intent.

"Protect The King!!!"

All the orcs numbering up to 300, ran forward, those on horses shot towards their king.

"Hahaha!! You see that?! You'll die here." The king laughed.

Whoosh!!

Modena shot towards him, before he could react, she grabbed his throat, and smashed him on the ground.

"You talk too much!"

"Help the King!!!"

The Orcs increased their speed.

Modena looked up at them with a smile, and disappeared with the King.

"Huh?!"

"...."

The Orcs watched as she reappeared 30 yards from their location.

"Stop them!!!"

"Yes!! Kill!!!"

"Save the King!!!"

The Soldiers yelled, and increased their speed, the Mages in their line started casting spells, and aiming it at the ten people.

Protean stared at them for some seconds, and looked down at the king, who was kneeling in front of him; Modena holding him down.

"What realm are you on?! I can't even feel your energy?!!" The king yelled, staring at Modena over his shoulder.

"Shut up." Modena scolded.

"What should we do to you?" Protean muttered, staring at the army running towards them.

"Just kill him."

The Vampires Elders turned their heads to Aaron, a little stunned.

"You heard the command." Protean said to Modena.

"What?! No-No-No-No... I can give you money! Yes I have thousands of gold coins, plea--"

Whoosh!!

What he saw next was the space spinning, from the clear sky, to the ground... Not after he fell to the ground, seeing his headless body still kneeling, before getting the realization his head was cut off.

THUD!

His body dropped on the ground.

"Burn the Village to the ground, Leave no one alive... No one."

With Aaron's word, the three shot forward.

The elders were stunned seeing Protean turning into a wraith... His Powers increasing to that of a Legendary realm.

"Watch and know the strength of Terra." Aaron said to the stunned Elders.

The first Elder who was still on his knees, watched, waiting to see how 3 people, will kill 300.

Whoosh!!

Modena instantly turned invisible, what everyone saw next was the heads of the Orcs flying into the air.

They watched as Protean cut down the soldiers like weeds, all their attacks were completely useless against him... They literally moved through him, but with every swing of his ghostly sword, the Orcs dropped dead, with their skin turning white.

"He... He's destroying their souls?!!" The third elder yelled in mild surprised.

WHOOSH!!

With every swing of Dolor's sword, countless wind blades shot out, killing the Orcs... He was clearly untouchable.

"These... These three are Monsters!!" The second elder added.

"These are Terra's hidden blades." Aaron smiled.

"Monsters! They are all Monsters!! Run to the village!!"

"Run!!! Run!!"

"Retreat!!"

"How can three people kill more than half of our fighters in less than three minutes?!!"

"Run!!!"

"Run?" Aaron smirked. "Where to?"

He snapped his fingers, and the sky above the village turned bloodred.

"Say goodbye to the red Orcs race."

The Soldiers watched in horror as countless red Lightnings fell on their village. Search the novel to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"It's all over."

"We're dead."

- Chapter 97 Submission Letter

Chapter 97 Submission Letter

The vampires elders turned their heads to Aaron, horror written all over their faces.

'This... I thought he's just a kid?! How is he this powerful?!' The first elder thought in horror.

The Orcs Soldiers all dropped to their knees, staring at the destroyed Village before them... Tears rolling down their cheeks.

"Everyone is gone... My family."

"My family?"

"My unborn baby, My wives."

"I can't believe this... Everyone we know is gone."

"This...! Ahhh! I won't go down!"

An Orc gripped his sword, and stood back up... He then turned to Modena, Protean, and Dolor, who were calmly walking towards them.

"These monsters belong to hell!!" He yelled.

"Yes!!"

"We must have our revenge!!"

The Orcs numbering hundreds stood up from the ground with their weapons, their eyes bloodred.

"KIILLLLLLLLL!!!!!!!!!"

With one loud roar, filled with pain and anguish, they all shot towards the three with weapons raised into the air.

"Now this is a fighting spirit." Modena smirked, the next moment, red light enveloped her sword.

"Come on, let's send them on their way, they need to be reunited with their families."

Dolor gripped the handle of his sword, moment next, blue light surrounded its blade.

"Leave no one alive."

Protean infused his energy in his sword.

The three fixed their gazes on the army running towards them, and with a powerful swing of their swords; three huge crescent Blades shot out, heading towards the army.

BOOOM!!

A mushroom explosion rose into the sky... What followed next were screams of pain and anguish, after one minute, the whole area became deadly silent.

Only the sound of wood breaking, and wind blowing could be heard.

Aaron turned his head to the first elder and smiled. "How about Now? Is Terra a weak empire?"

"Wait! You caused all these destruction and death just to show me the strength of Terra?!!" The first elder yelled at Aaron.

Aaron looked at the first Elder's severed hand that had healed and nodded with a thoughtful expression.

"Lord Protean gave them an option, and they chose death... How's that my fault?"

"You? You're pushing the blame to the Orcs?! How despicable!" He yelled.

Aaron turned his head to Protean and the other two, who walked back to him.

"Now to the Goblins' Village."

"Goblins' Wha--"

Before he could say anything, the space beneath them tore opened, the group all fell inside.

[Goblins' Village.]

The Goblins' Village was built inside a huge mountain, surrounded by countless smaller hills, which serves as a defense wall to their home.

Whizzzzh!

The space tore opened, and a vampire fell from the sky, colliding heavily on the ground.

Aaron, and his group, with the rest of the Vampire elders slowly descended from the gateway, landing on the ground.

"You! You dropped me!!" The first elder yelled.

"Oh? Why would you say that?" Aaron smiled at him, slowly moving his gaze around.

WHOOSH!!!!

The ten turned their heads to the hill 20 meters in front of them, seeing countless green small figures landing on it.

"Oh? We have guests." Modena smiled.

"Welcome, Vampires?!"

A Six feet tall Goblin in a red cape said with a smile... He slowly floated down towards the group with two guards following behind him.

"King Sukhumi, We Aren't here to talk, but ask. Were you the one who sent me that cat sculpture as a birthday gift and also the armors and weapons?" Rhea got straight to the point.

King Sukhumi was confused, he moved his gaze on the group, from Aaron, to the kneeling First elder, then shook his head.

"I sent nothing of that sort, Who told you that I was the one who sent them?" He asked with a slight frown, and added:

"The Vampires and Goblins have been allies for long, we joined your father in the war for the Savior's justice... Why would we betray you now when we're all in a difficult situation?"

Rhea turned her head to Aaron, who walked towards the Goblins King.

"Do you work for the grand priests?" He asked.

Sukhumi stared at the kid in front of him and shook his head again. "I said it already, I don't work for those Bastards! In fact, I want to kill them all!"

Aaron nodded in satisfaction, and said with a smile. "This man here said you sent those things, If I wasn't present, hundreds of Vampires would have died, and the Vampires' anger will be focus on you and your people... And It'll lead to a war."

King Sukhumi was stunned, he turned his head to the first elder.

"You!! How dare you lie with my name?!!"

"Stop yelling you old green lump!! What have you done for the Vampires?! Nothing!"

"Why is he still alive?" Sukhumi turned to Rhea.

"We brought him here so you can see him." Protean answered, and placed his sword on the Elder's neck.

"Go and assemble all your people, We're leaving this continent."

"Huh?"

He was stunned hearing Aaron. "Leaving? What about the barrier?" Sukhumi asked.

"That's the least of your problems, as we speak, the Abyssal gates are opening, you only have some hours to do this, so you have to hurry." Rhea said.

"But where are we going? No continent is safe for us." Sukhumi was hesitating.

"King Sukhumi, these four are the lords of Terra, A Rising Empire, they have the whole third Continent under their hands... So we have enough land for everyone to settle down." Rhea said with a smile.

Hearing Rhea, Sukhumi moved his gaze from Aaron, to Protean, then Modena and Dolor.

"A kid is a lord?" He was confused.

"Just do what she said, I don't have time to waste. Go ahead, Protean."

Aaron said, what everyone saw next was Protean raising his sword into the air, and with one swing, he removed the first Elder's head... Which flew some meters away from the force.

THUD!

The body fell on the ground, while Aaron set it on flames.

"You heard what they said, Assemble everyone, and fast!"

The two guards nodded, turned around, and walked back to the hill, which then split opened forming a passageway.

"Come on--"

"--No, we wait out here."

Aaron said, while Sukhumi turned to Rhea and the elders.

"Same, We'll wait here."

He nodded, and also waited outside for his own people.

[First Continent.]

[Green Orcs' Kingdom.]

[Throne Hall.]

"My king, This's a message from an Unknown Kingdom named Terra."

A bulking Orc in green Armor got down on one knee, raising a scroll over his head.

The King stood up, walked towards him and took the scroll. He calmly opened it.

"Terra? What type of name is tha--"

His eyes widened in shock seeing the words written on the scroll.

[Kingdom of the Orcs, This is a Submission letter from Terra, asking your kingdom to become its Vassal state... All you need to do is sign this submission letter, and all these benefits, and Privileges listed below will become yours.]

The Orcs' King walked to his throne and sat down, inwardly reading the Benefits.

[First Benefit: Your Kingdom will be loyal to whatever Terra say or asked of you to do... If you agreed to this, Your Kingdom will receive, 1 Million Gold Coins each month.]

His eyes almost shot out from his sockets.

'1 Million!! Every month?!!!' He took a deep breath, and continued.

[Second benefit: You'll be invincible in your kingdom, as long you agreed to this.]

'Invincible?'

He was confused, but he continued:

[Third Benefit: Terra will help you with all your problems, from the Monsters, to enemies... All you need to do is to submit to us.]

[Fourth Benefit: The moment you sign and pass the Test... You'll receive a total of 100 Million Gold Coins.]

'Wow...'

He continued:

[First Privilege: You, and your people will be allowed in Terra's Territories for your businesses.]

[Second Privilege: You can ask Terra for any help you need... And we'll help.]

[Third Privilege: You'll be invited whenever Terra is having a feast, and you'll get the details of our Kingdoms.]

The Orcs king was getting excited, but what he saw at the end of the scroll made him frown.

[Note: Terra is rule over by Aaron, And you must address him as Emperor Aaron... Never made the mistake of referring to him by his name.]

[Note: Emperor Aaron is a Kid at the moment, The same kid the Vampires called the Savior... And the same Kid you all are referring as The Cursed Child.]

"WHAT?!!!" He stood up in shock, but continued reading:

[Note: If Emperor Aaron is the Cursed Child as you all proclaimed him, will he be giving you all these wealth and benefit?]

'This made sense.' He sat back down.

[Before answering this question, Think about this; Are you ready to go against the Grand Priests? The Emperor is Merciful, so he'll be leaving the Academy, but its goal will be changed, anyone who's against this will be removed.]

[And Note this: If you refuse to sign this submission letter, and become a Vassal Kingdom of Terra, You'll become the enemy of Terra... Warning: We always make sure to wipe out our enemies, leaving no one alive, not even children... So think about your people, and if the grand priests can protect you.]

[From Terra's Queen Mother, and Emperor Aaron's Mother... Aurora... Sign down if you agree, If you disagree... It's on you.]

[You have 24 hours to decide.]

"Aurora?"

Chapter 98 The Grand Priests

The Orcs' king moved his gaze on the messenger, and opened his mouth.

"Leave me."

The man nodded, and walked out from the hall.

The King then relaxed on his throne, lost in thought:

'Be under the Cursed Child? That means I'll be against the Grand Priests, can Terra Protect me and my Kingdom? Should I submit to the Cursed Child everyone says he's the destroyer of our world? Or... I should submit, and hide it from the priests?'

He was confused, and lost with all the questions.

"What are you doing, Dad?"

He raised his head to the door, seeing his first son walking inside the hall.

"Why do you look so pale?" The young Orc asked in mild confusion.

The King thought for a moment, and tossed the scroll to his son. "I want to hear your say in this, you'll take after me soon... So I'll like to hear you side."

The prince caught the scroll, with confusion, he opened it... Upon seeing what was written on it, his eyes widened in shock!

"Dad!! 1 Million gold coins each month!! That means 12 Million in a year! And the duration wasn't stated, that means we'll be receiving gold coins for years to come... Isn't that a good thing?!"

"Stop thinking about money!!! Terra is the Cursed Child's Kingdom... By agreeing to this, we'll become enemies to the Five grand Priests... Can you withstand their attacks!!!"

"Hmm..."

He looked down at the scroll, and read every single word, then looked up at his father.

"If my guess is correct, we aren't the only one who received this... Do you think if the other races accept this submission, you'll be notified...? Of course Not! They'll keep it to themselves... And when Terra want to take down the Priests, they'll support them, while we... We'll join the Priests... Let me ask you another question, father: All these years that we are under them, have they for once help us with anything? Let alone 1 million gold coins... Don't even mention the 100 Million we'll get the moment we finish this... Think about it, think what that amount can do for our kingdom and people... Think about the Military power we'll increase with it."

"Mmm..." The King was silent, thinking about his son's word.

"I know where to go, I need some information about this Cursed Child."

The prince was stunned. "Are you going to that old woman? The grand priests imprisoned her in the black Castle, forbidding anyone from going in."

"I have my ways in."

The King stood up, walked towards his son, and patted his shoulder.

"Watch over the kingdom while I'm gone."

He took the scroll from his son's hand, and walked out from the hall.

"Be careful father, that old vampire witch is very weird."

He said, turning around to his father, who just waved his hand.

"I know."

The Prince sighed, and revealed: "Aurora is the Princess of the Elves' race, which was announced missing in battle."

"How are you so sure she's the one?"

"The rumors said she's the Cursed Child's mother, and the Elves' race gave that fake news to deceive us."

The king stopped and said. "We'll know that soon enough."

The prince nodded, as his father walked out from the hall.

[Back To Aaron.]

Aaron stood with his group, staring at the thousands of goblins before them.

"Master, have you teleported such a huge number before?" Protean asked, moving his gaze on the goblins.

"Nope... This is my first time... I just hope Lilly and Emily are ready."

Protean smiled. "They are."

"Ok everyone, you all will be teleported to the third Continent, right in front of my kingdom."

Aaron said, his voice booming all over the place.

"You'll meet two girls, one is my sister and the second is the Soon-to-be queen of Terra... Follow their instructions, and you'll be led to your new home."

King Sukhumi stared at him for some seconds, and asked: "How are you going to teleport us?"

"Leave that to me."

Aaron activated both his demonic, and Sid energies, his eyes turned bloodred.

BOOM!!!

The sky instantly turned red... Everyone present raised their heads in shock.

Whzzzzh!!!!

Red light appeared in front of the goblins, and slowly surrounded them, enclosing all the goblins in a flaming red circle.

BOOM!!

A huge lightning dropped from the sky, and fell on the goblins, enveloping them in it.

Rhea, Modena, Protean, Dolor, and the four elders watched in Awe as the goblins vanished from the place.

'Aaron did it.' Rhea thought.

[Third Continent.]

[Terra's Kingdom.]

BOOM!!!

Lilly, Emily, Vince, and Elizabeth with hundreds of the Demon army raised their heads to the sky, seeing a huge red Lightning falling to the ground.

BOOM!!!

It collided on the ground 50 meters from their location, raising a cloud of dust into the air.

"Huh?"

They were stunned seeing thousands of goblins standing on the exact spot the lightning struck.

'Baby Brother is amazing!'

Lilly smiled, and started walking towards the goblins, the rest of the group following behind her.

King Sukhumi observed the people walking towards them, and asked:

"Who among you is Aaron's Sister."

"Correction, He's known as Emperor Aaron of Terra... Don't make the mistake of addressing him by his name, again."

"Emperor?! He told me he's a lord of Terra." Sukhumi was stunned speechless.

"That's because they are on a mission, and you can never understand how he thinks." Emily answered.

Sukhumi nodded and introduced himself:

"I'm King Sukhumi, the ruler of the goblins... Aar... Emperor Aaron said you'll lead us to our new home."

Lilly nodded at him. "I'm Lilly, she's Emily, these guys are Vince, and Elizabeth... Please come to the city, the journey is long, and you'll need some things... Your foods and belongings are not enough for it."

King Sukhumi nodded, and gestured to Lilly to lead them.

"Please follow me."

Lilly smiled, and led them to the city.

[First Continent.]

High above the clouds, a huge magnificent golden castle stood, with countless figures in white armors and wings, flying around the vicinity.

In a hall in this golden castle, five figures sat on a round table with frowns on their faces.

"The seal placed on the second continent have been destroyed!" An old man, who was clearly a human, with gray hair, yelled in rage.

"Who could destroy a seal created by our combined energies? Is there such a creature in the whole three continents?" A middle-age beast woman asked.

"There's only one person that can achieve this feat." A young male Orc said with a slight frown, moving his gaze on the four.

"The Savior. The child of the sky." A female dwarf stated.

"It means Aurora survived, and gave birth to the child of the sky... This was your job second Priest! Why didn't you kill her back then?!" The old man yelled at the second grand Priest.

"I tried, But her father said he doesn't want his soldiers to die in that forest... I even sent our soldiers, but they died without even making a mile... I wonder how he survived." The Second Priest, who was an elf said.

"Forget all that, the skull sent a message... We must destroy the third continent... Our Forces aren't much, so we'll have to send word to those ignorant kings and Queens, asking them for their army... With the total force from the five races, we'll be able to achieve that." The beast woman said, moving her gaze on her fellow Priests.

"She is right, Let send the word out... We also got the news the Abyssal gates will be opened... The Skull promised that, after we destroyed the third Continent, they'll send us help." The fourth Priest, who was the Orc said.

"Hmm... Then we must hurry, with our seal destroyed, nothing will hold down the Monsters in the second continent... In matters of days they'll invade the first." The Fifth Priest said.

The four slowly nodded their heads, and they all turned to the first priest.

"What should we do now? Send the word or look for the Child of the sky?" The Beast woman asked.

"We're doing the both... Send some soldiers to the second continent to see what's going on, and send our messengers to the races' kingdoms." The first Priest said.

"We have a third problem."

They all turned their heads to the second Priest, a little confused.

"What third problem?" They asked in unison.

"Kara." The Priest said.

"Kara? How is she a problem?" The third priest asked.

"She's looking for ways to enter the Transcendent realm, you all know she knows the truth about the Child of the sky... My point is; If she entered the Realm, she might be a pain on our necks."

The four looked at one another a little lost... After some moment of thinking, the first priest opened his mouth.

"Kara Is an ambitious woman, her target is killing the Cursed Child and taking the credit for it... But if she has a hidden motive which goes against our welfare, we'll dispose of her."

The other four nodded in agreement.

Chapter 99 Vampire Queen, Adeline.

[Back to Aaron.]

After another hour, Aaron finally teleported the Vampires to the third continent... Vacating the entire second continent.

'I thought this will be easy... I used more than half of my energies, I'll have to replenish it.'

Aaron thought... He was currently sitting on the highest mountain in the continent, aggressively absorbing the energies in the air.

"Master, You'll cripple the continent, and make it void of Sid energies... That'll make it difficult for anyone to realm up in here."

Protean, who stood behind him in his dark elf appearance said in a low voice.

Aaron was silent, increasing his absorption... In less than a minute, he broke through.

BOOM!!!

A violent gush of wind burst out from him, pushing Protean some meters back.

"This?" Protean was stunned.

Aaron slowly opened his eyes, and moved his gaze around, then looked down at his hand.

{All Seeing Eyes.}

{Acknowledgment (2): Deity of the Sea: Achelous (Received). Primordial god of the Abyssal: Michael (Received -- Not active).}

Aaron was confused with the Acknowledgment panel, especially the second, which was "Not Active".

'I need to meet Michael...'

He stared at his new affinity, and realm, then stood up from the ground. 'I think I'm now qualified to see this information.' He said staring at the Title.

'All seeing eyes, What is this title?'

{Title: God of this sky.}

{Description: You have power over the sky and its attributes.}

{Powers gained: Divine Weather Manipulation. Air Manipulation. Divine Wind Manipulation. Rain Manipulation. And Storm Manipulation.}

Aaron blinked in surprise, he slowly looked up at the sky.

BOOM!!!

"Uh?"

Protean was stunned feeling water feeling on him... He looked up in shock, seeing... Rain?

"What? How can there be rain with the sun fully up?" He looked down at Aaron.

'Could it be? What?!'

He looked at himself, feeling his Powers growing... 'Did master break through again?'

Aaron smiled, and with a thought the wind pickup, and a storm moved in... A blizzard formed all over the mountain, countless spaces tore opened, and more than a hundred lightnings collided on the ground below them... The four major elements appeared spinning around the two.

Protean quickly summoned his sword, and plunged it into the ground, holding himself still.

Aaron turned his head to his right, and with a thought, a hundred wind blades shot forward with lightning speed.

Protean turned his head to the trajectory of the blades, a little confused.

BOOM!!!!

"Huh?"

He stood up, seeing countless figures with wings falling from the sky.

"So you're Aaron?!"

A voice boom all over the place.

Aaron ascends into the air with Protean following behind.

He stared at the Man in white armor and wings standing 30 meters from his and Protean's location, and nodded with satisfaction.

"All Sky realm, While the leader... A Legendary realm... You guys are the grand priests' soldiers, right?" Aaron asked with a smile.

"That attacked you used, what was it? Or are you a mage?"

Instead of answering, the man asked, and added: "Sorry for being rude... My name is--"

"--Not needed, I don't take names from dead souls... Now tell me, How do you want to die?" Aaron cut him off, a smile on his face.

The man frowned slightly, then sneered... "You'll be the one to die."

He wore his helmet, and drew out his sword from his waist, and pointed it at Aaron.

"I have no idea what you did to this continent, and its Sid energy... So we'll use your blood to restore it!"

He yelled, while the hundreds of soldiers behind him nodded, their gazes fixed on Aaron.

"Yawn!"

Aaron yawn, and chuckled coldly... "You guys will be the first to die."

He snapped his fingers, the next moment... The air itself seized.

"Ahh!!"

They all growled, holding their necks.

"What?!! What did you do?!!"

"The air is one valuable asset to every single living creature on Elvis... If the Air is removed... We all die."

Aaron took a step, and appeared 10 feet in front of the man.

"I'll leave one of you alive... Send this word to the Priest... The moment they anger me, that will be their doom."

He released the man; "Go."

The man looked at his soldiers' lifeless bodies falling from the sky, and nodded... Without hesitation, he spread out his wings and shot into the air, flying away.

"Master, you let him go?" Protean was confused.

"Terra needs some days to organize itself... And we still have to get to the academy... But we aren't going to study, but to take it from Kara."

He disappeared, and appeared on the ground, then placed his hand on the flat surface.

BOOM!!!

BANG!!

The whole continent trembled, and more than a hundred Flags rose from the ground, all over the continent.

"From now onward, the second continent belongs to Terra... After taking over the first, Elvis will be known as Terra."

Protean observed the flag in front of him, and nodded with a smile.

[Third Continent.]

Rhea, Dolor, and Modena, with all the Vampires stopped in front of the city, which was once a village.

"This will be your new home."

Modena smiled at them.

Rhea looked at the white flag with the logo of a red sun, and nodded.

"Elders, please help the people settle down."

The four elders nodded, and walked inside the city with the thousands of Vampires.

"This city was personally built by the Emperor, If you need anything, let Terra know, and we'll assist... You're now our Vassal stage, so we have to protect you."

Modena said, moving her gaze on the huge walls.

"Thank you." Rhea said in a low voice.

"You're now the Queen of your people, lead them well... And thanks for the scrolls."

Modena flicked her wrist, and a Teleportation scroll appeared in her hand.

"You know how to link with any of us... You are always welcome to Terra... It's only a two days ride to the Capital."

With that said, Modena tore the scroll, and both her and Dolor vanished.

Rhea moved her gaze around, and slowly walked inside the city.

[Depth of the Flesh Eaters' Forest.]

A huge black castle stood on a hill, concealed from normal eyes, including Aaron's.

Currently, three elegant carriages were packed in front of the black castle....

The Orcs' King got down from his carriage, and moved his gaze around the place.

Seeing the other two carriages, a frown appeared on his face... With hesitation, he walked towards the castle.

The moment he pushed open the old wooden door, a voice sounded.

"Come in, king Sheen... Join the others."

"Others?"

He moved his gaze on the dim hall, seeing Nicolette, the Queen of the beast folks. And Alto, the king of the Dwarves.

"What are you two doing here?" He asked, walking inside.

The two stared at him for some seconds, and turned their heads to the woman sitting in front of them with a leg on the other... This middle-age woman was known as the Queen of Vampires, Queen Adeline, and also the mother of Rhea and Levia...

...She was also one of the reason Aaron and his family could survive in the forest for so long.

King Sheen stared at the lady sitting beside Adeline, and nodded.

"Queen Adeline, and Eldest Princess Levia." He greeted, walked towards a couch, and sat down.

"Why are you all here? For centuries, I have been trapped here by the Priests, and No one have visited me." Adeline moved her gaze on the three.

They moved their gazes on one another, and Nicolette opened her mouth.

"I received a submission letter from the Cursed Child, This letter will determine the fate of my kingdom... So... With the word around, you're the oldest living person who knows the truth about the past--"

"--Kara also know the truth, why didn't you go to her?" Adeline cut her off.

"Kara isn't to be trusted, but--"

"--But I can?! Do you know how it felt to be trap in here without getting to be with your family?! If not for my daughter, I would have run mad!"

"But you're one of the strongest Supreme." Alto opened his mouth.

Adeline scoffed. "In presence of the Skull, Supreme is nothing."

"Skull?" The three were stunned.

"Forget all that. Now tell me your main purpose for coming to me, even when knowing it'll anger those five morons."

The three nodded, and Sheen started.

"This is our situation..."

Chapter 100 Another Letter?

Adeline slowly read the Submission letter, and looked up at the three.

"My daughter is one of Aaron's lords, who are responsible for controlling the whole forest... What I'm saying is, the child of the sky always keeps his word."

"So you're saying we should accept this?" Alto asked.

"Accepting it or not is up to you three... I told you, Aaron isn't the Cursed Child, that's just what the grand priests used to manipulate all of you."

The three frowned.

"Those pigs! They deceived our ancestors into attacking your city, and people... We're deeply sorry for tha--"

Adeline stopped them with a raise of her hand:

"That's enough, your families killed my husband and youngest Daughter, and now you're asking for my help."

"Calm down, Queen Adeline... Your daughter isn't Dead... Well... A kid named Jack killed her and delivered her burnt body to Kara."

"WHAT?!!!"

Adeline stood up in rage, dense amount of demonic energy burst out from her, plunging the room into darkness... Countless red bats flew from all direction, and surrounded her figure.

"Jack! Who's this Jack?!" She asked, her eyes bloodred.

"He's one of the strongest Kid I have ever seen, A Sky realm." Sheen said.

"Only a Sky realm?! I'll kill him!" Levia was also enraged.

"Calm down. Kara and the Academy are backing him, It won't be easy, and that kid is the last descendant of the Ning Family."

Adeline frowned hearing the family mentioned.

"The Ning family are good people, they also didn't believe in the Cursed Child, that's why the Skull killed them in the war... But... Why will a descendant kill my daughter?!"

"Well... All I know is, Jack is after power, and recognition... That was the reason he killed your daughter and brought her body back... That way, he can easily get as much fame needed." Nicolette said.

"And he dare use my daughter as a stepping stone?!!"

"Calm down, Mum... I need to tell Emperor Aaron about this, Maybe he can free you from here, and together, we can have our revenge." Levia suggested.

"Can we also see Emperor Aaron?" Sheen asked after some hesitation.

"Emperor Aaron is always busy... I don't think he'll want to see any of you, not yet." Levia said, and added.

"What do you think, Mum?"

Adeline calmed down, and collapsed on her seat... She moved her gaze on Levia, then at the three, and sighed.

"I suggest you accept the letter... And Levia, Get Aaron... He might be able to get me out from here, and we can both have our revenge on this Jack."

Levia nodded, while the tree brought out their ink and feather, and signed the submission letter...

Their families trusted Adeline, and that was the reason they voted for her to live, but instead the priests caged her, and their ancestors were powerless to do anything, so they could only visit her in her prison.

After signing the letter, it shattered into small particles, and entered their bodies.

Sheen: "Huh?"

Alto: ".....!!"

Nicolette: "What was that?"

"I think those letters are Alliance Circles." Levia said.

Before the three could do anything, three huge bags filled with gold coins appeared in front of them.

"This?" They were stunned seeing the huge amount of gold coins.

"You guys should get going, The Abyssal gates will be opened soon, you need to get ready." Adeline said, stood up, and walked towards the stairs with slumped shoulders.

Levia stared at her mother for some seconds, and sighed. 'Don't worry Mum, we'll avenge Sister.'

The three stared at Adeline, and nodded.

"We'll get going, princess Levia."

Nicolette stood up, and took her bag of gold coins in her spatial space. The other two followed her action.

Levia nodded, while the three walked towards the door.

Sheen and the two walked outside only to see an army waiting for them.

"Huh?"

They were stunned.

"What are you three doing in this forest?!!"

Modena asked with a slight frown, Henry, Alter, Vanni, and Kelvin stood behind her... Their soldiers standing behind them.

"Slow Down, Modena... They are now allies of Terra." Levia walked down the front stairs staring at the five.

"Really?" Henry, the werewolves' Alpha muttered in mild surprised.

"Have they signed the letter?" Modena asked.

Levia moved her gaze around, and asked back:

"How did you guys locate this Castle?"

"My soldiers saw, and followed him here." Vanni said, staring at Sheen.

Levia nodded, While Modena took a step, appearing in front of her.

"You kept your Mother's existence from the Emperor... You'll face the consequences when he returns."

"The Emperor never asked of my mother, So I didn't lie or keep anything from him... What consequences are you speaking of?" Levia asked back.

Modena moved her gaze to the close door, then at Levia... "Ok then, What are these guys doing here?"

"To ask some questions, nothing more." Levia answered.

"Ok."

Modena turned around, and appeared on her previous spot.

"We'll leave them alive because they're now Terra's Allies... That's the only reason."

With that said, she turned around and walked away, the army making way for her.

"Modena, Do you by any chance know who is Jack?" Levia asked.

"Jack?" Modena came to a stop, and looked at Levia over her shoulder.

"Why are you asking about Jack?"

"We have some unfinished business." Levia replied with killing intent.

Modena looked downward, remembering Aaron's warning.

'No one should know about my plan... A lot of people already knew about it, I don't want more at the moment.'

She looked up at Levia. "I don't know him, But he's one powerful kid."

With that said, she walked away... Henry, and the other three stared at the kings for some seconds, and followed behind her, with their armies.

After they were gone, the three turned their heads to Levia.

"Who were those people?! They're so powerful, and that woman is a Beast-Ruler." Nicolette asked, totally surprised.

"That's Modena, She's the first Lord of the Forest, Emperor Aaron gave her the position... That means, she's technically the Queen of the whole Flesh Eaters' forest... I'll say in this forest, only the three-headed dragon and my mother can match her."

"Three-headed Dragon?" The three were stunned.

"I think you now have a small imagination of Terra's strength, and these are just its frontier soldiers... Not even its hidden blades... Ok, get going, no creature in this forest will stop you... Only because you now have the mark of Terra."

The three nodded at her, got on their carriages, and drove out from the black castle.

Levia looked at the gate and sighed: "I forgot to ask Modena about the Emperor, or when he'll return."

[8:00Pm.]

Sheen finally reached his castle, he got down, and walked inside.

"Dad! There's news!!"

The moment he entered the hall, his son and wife rushed towards him.

"News? What news?"

The prince brought out a golden scroll, and gave it to his father.

Sheen took the scroll, opened it, and read the word for everyone to hear.

"King Sheen, This is a letter from the grand priests, there's bad news... The Cursed Child have taken over the Third and Second Continents, naming them Terra... As the king, you must protect your people, and to protect them, you must help get rid of the Cursed Child, by assisting us with your army... Together, we can take back our lands, but If you refuse to help, you'll face the wrath of the Grand priests and the other races... We'll be attacking in two days time, so get ready."

He closed the scroll, and looked up at the two.

"Hmm... Love, our son said that same Terra sent us a Submission letter, he also said they mentioned high benefits."

Sheen nodded, walked towards a couch and sat down.

"Dad! Did you accept their letter?"

Sheen stared at the two and nodded. "I signed the submission letter."

He waved his hand, and the bag of gold coins appeared in front of the two.

"WHOA!!!"

The guy exclaimed, he rushed up to the bag, opening it. "Is this the 100 Million gold coins mentioned in the letter?" He looked up at his father.

"The moment I signed it, that bag appeared... And I saw the other two races' Rulers, the Dwarves, and Beast folks... We three signed it, and received the gold coins."

"What about the humans and elves?" The Queen asked.

"I don't know about them."

"But Dad, What are we going to do with the Priests' request?" He looked up from the gold coins to his father.

"We'll act for now... To see if the Humans and Elves are with the Priests... If they are, we'll have to attack their armies."

"Hmm... So If the Humans and Elves are with the Priests, you'll attack them and their armies from within?"

"Yes... The Humans have the biggest army, but I know with the other two races, we'll be able to scatter them from within the line, while Terra will take care of the rest... Before the Priests get what's happening, We would have taken down more than 50% of the army."

"Love, that will be dangerous, to you and our soldiers."

"I know.... But it's the only way, if we refuse the letter, the grand priests will suspect something, and try to get rid of me, this way, we'll catch them off-guard."

The two smiled, and nodded with a thoughtful expression.

"Nicely said, Dad!"

"Moreover, I need to send word to the other two races, we all need to be in this plan!" He smiled.
