

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1889

Chapter 1889

Langston had returned.

Following the clues left behind by King Quavon, he headed overseas, killed the phoenix, and acquired its blood and essence.

James was excited after hearing the news.

Phoenix blood granted one immortality.

Langston and Tyrus had both lived for thousands of years by taking the Phoenix's blood that King Quavon had left behind in the mausoleum

James followed Tyrus to the Southern Plains" Mt. Thunder Pass.

Mt. Thunder Pass was a dense forest.

James had planned to take control of Mt. Thunder Pass as well. He intended to set a sect up there after Dragonville's constructions were completed. He wanted to recruit disciples from the potential humans on Earth to prepare to face the impending apocalypse.

James followed Tyrus into the underground palace beneath Mt. Thunder Pass.

"My sister has been relatively sane recently and seems to have recovered some of her memories. She's been demanding to meet you. After bringing you here this time, we're going to abandon this place and head to Lothian to develop."

"Are you serious?" James was slightly thrilled.

"Mhm, let's go. I'll take you there."

Under the leadership of Tyrus, James went to meet Xandra.

Today, Xandra wore a plain suit and sat on the chair. Her beautiful face was slightly pale.

She could not help standing up when she saw James enter with Tyrus. Her dazed face filled up with undisguisable joy. "

Back when she was with Nicholas, she was sane. She had memories of their time and knew she had given birth to a child. However, she was taken away by her brother,

Tyrus, shortly after her child was born. It was very rare for her to return to her senses in these past few years.

“My child...”

She looked at James with a doting look.

James also looked at Xandra and could not help calling out, “Mom.”

He had never seen his mother when he was a child and had longed to meet her.

“You two should talk. I’ll head outside first.”

Tyrus turned around and left.

As soon as he left, James fell to his knees. He looked at Xandra’s pale face, and his nose felt stuffy. He almost teared up.

“Get up, my son.”

Xandra quickly got up to support James and got him to sit down.

“Mom”

James opened his mouth and said with distress, “You’ve suffered all these years.”

Xandra shook his head slightly and said, “It’s my destiny. I’m already used to it.”

“Have you ever thought of looking for Dad?” asked James.

Xandra gently shook her head.

Back then, she escaped from this place, and the phoenix blood took over her senses. She suffered an Energy Deviation and was injured. Nicholas saved her by chance, and James was born. Instead of love, she felt more gratitude toward Nicholas.

“Let me check your condition.”

James began to check Xandra’s condition.

After some examination, James knew Xandra’s condition had stabilized. However, she had not completely recovered. Her brain nerves were still damaged, and she would swap between sanity and insanity. Her mind was in a chaotic state.

It was going to be troublesome to treat her completely.

The two chatted for a long time in the room.

Knock! Knock! Knock!

Knocks came from outside the door.

“Come in,” Xandra answered.

The door was pushed open, and Tyrus walked inside with a smile. “Did you two have a good chat?”

“Mhm.” James nodded.

Xandra stood up. “Tyrus, thank you for taking care of James all these years. If it weren’t for you taking care of him, he would’ve died in the Southern Plains battlefield long ago.”

“We’re family. You don’t have to thank me.”

Tyrus waved his hand and looked at James, saying, “Father would like to see you.”

“Alright.”

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1890

Chapter 1890

James looked at Xandra and said, “Mom, I’ll go see Grandfather first.”

“Go on.”

Afterward, James left with Tyrus to meet Langston.

On the table in Langston’s room, there was a basketball-sized meat lump that glowed with a crimson light. It looked a bit strange but radiated powerful energy.

Langston stared at the lump.

It was the Phoenix Essence.

The more he looked at it, the more he felt something strange.

There seemed to be an evil force within the Phoenix Essence.

At that moment, his room’s door was pushed open. James and Tyrus entered.

“Father.”

“Grandfather.”

The two greeted him simultaneously.

Langston returned to his senses, pointed to the chairs beside him, and said, “Sit down. Make yourselves comfortable.”

Langston picked up his tea on the table, took a sip, and said, “I’ve already heard about the incident on Mount Bane. Although an agreement has been reached, the situation isn’t looking great now.”

He never expected the Void Sect to send a Supernatural.

Since they could send one out, they could definitely send more. It was bad news for the humans on Earth,

He also was not expecting a statue to have appeared on Mount Bane.

He did not know the statue’s appearance since he had just returned. He planned to head to Mount Bane to check out the statue.

James also understood the severity of the matter.

However, James remained silent. Langston must have had something important to say since he had asked for him.

Langston pointed at the red lump on the table and said, “That’s the Phoenix Essence.”

“Mhm.” James nodded.

As soon as he entered the room, he could sense the Dragon Essence’s powerful energy.

“But, there’s a problem.”

Langston frowned.

James asked, “What’s the problem?”

Langston thought for a while and replied, “It might have something to do with our ancestor’s disputes.”

“What do you mean?” Jarnes was puzzled.

Langston also did not understand it in detail. He only had knowledge of the things left behind by King

Quavon in the mausoleum.

The Four Holy Beasts were left behind to humanity by the earth's ancestors for them to rise.

However, the Outsiders messed with them.

After thinking for a bit, Langston said, "King Quavon left a message about the Four Calamities. Each Beast will cause one Calamity. I've never understood it before, but I had a wild guess recently."

"Please tell me about it, Grandfather."

Lanston explained, "The Four Holy Beasts' blood cannot make one immortal. It can only allow one to live longer. I took the phoenix's blood thousands of years ago, but my body's organs have started showing signs of aging I'm guessing the phoenix blood can only extend one's life span by about one thousand years."

"As for the Four Calamities, if my speculations are correct, four people with Supreme Spiritual Roots will be born on Earth. However, such people will become demonized."

James frowned and asked, "What are Supreme Spiritual Roots?"

Langston explained, "The strength of one's Spiritual Root depends on one's ability to absorb Empyrean Spiritual Energy. People with Supreme Spiritual Roots have a strong ability to sense Empyrean Spiritual Energy and are very compatible with it. These kinds of people are talented in cultivation and will improve rapidly."

"In the message left by King Quavon, each calamity will have a destined person to solve it. That is to say, each one of these people who's to become demonized will be someone fated to resolve the calamity."

James listened carefully

Lanston continued, "My daughter, Xandra, has a Supreme Spiritual Root and can learn any martial art technique quickly. I suspect the Four Holy Beasts' blood was tampered with to cause problems for those with a Supreme Spiritual Root. The Outsiders did not want the humans of Earth to rise."

"If I'm not mistaken, Thea also has a Supreme Spiritual Root."

Hearing this, James was taken aback.

It was unbelievable.

Thea had a Supreme Spiritual Root?

His mother also had a Supreme Spiritual Root?

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1891

Chapter 1891

Langston told James about the Supreme Spiritual Root/ Whoever possessed the Supreme Spiritual Root would be bright, distinguished individuals born to persevere in the face of the Calamity.

However, what was the Calamity?

Based on Langston's thoughts, the Calamity would be brought about by the seal's activation. This would be the greatest catastrophe mankind would ever face. However, to deal with the menace, mankind's ancestors had come up with a countermeasure. They would allow mankind to obtain the blood of the Four Holy Beasts so that they could gain extraordinary lifespans, which would allow them to emerge rapidly to deal with the looming threat. However, upon foreseeing the plans of mankind's ancestors, the enemy tampered with the Four Holy Beasts.

"This is my hypothesis based on the message left behind in King Quavon's Mausoleum. Only time can verify its authenticity."

Langston could not be sure whether his speculations were true.

"However, I believe this is not too far from the truth."

James listened intently.

Upon hearing Langston's words, his heart was unable to settle down.

Then, Langston pointed to the Phoenix Essence on the table and said, "This is a complete Phoenix Essence. Now that I have no more use for it. I'll hand it over to you. Increase your cultivation base as much as possible in the shortest amount of time available to you."

"Me?"

James was shocked. Langston only managed to obtain the Phoenix Essence after going to great lengths. "Yes, this is for you. But, be mindful that the items on the Four Holy Beasts-the Spirit Turtle's core and the blood of the phoenix and dragon-can make you experience Energy Deviation. Any desire that surfaces in your mind will be amplified almost immediately. Of course, ordinary people are vulnerable to this phenomenon. However, you who possess the Supreme Spiritual Root will experience Energy Deviation without a doubt"

Upon hearing this, James was lost in contemplation.

After some time, he said, "It is my understanding that the Malevolent King from a millennium ago also experienced Energy Deviation. Did he also possess the Supreme Spiritual Root?"

Langston shook his head slightly and said, I don't know either. I only know that he's a distinguished figure. He was only thirty years of age when he reached the pinnacle of his life. Only a genius like him is capable of creating Ataraxia and the Demonic Sword Art

"Alright, enough dilly-dallying already. Take the Phoenix Essence and leave. Bring some phoenix blood along with you as well. Soon, I'll leave this place and head to Lothian to nurture a new generation of talents with the phoenix blood."

Then, Tyrus went to obtain the phoenix blood alongside James who complied with Langston's orders. After obtaining the phoenix blood, he left Mount Thunder Pass of the Southern Plains with the Phoenix Essence

Upon his return, he could not help but ruminated over Langston's words.

The Four Calamities?

Quavon in the mausoleum.

The Four Holy Beasts were left behind to humanity by the earth's ancestors for them to rise.

However, the Outsiders messed with them.

After thinking for a bit, Langston said, "King Quavon left a message about the Four Calamities. Each Beast will cause one Calamity. I've never understood it before, but I had a wild guess recently."

"Please tell me about it, Grandfather."

Langston explained, "The Four Holy Beasts blood cannot make one immortal. It can only allow one to live longer. I took the phoenix's blood thousands of years ago, but my body's organs have started showing signs of aging. I'm guessing the phoenix blood can only extend one's life span by about one thousand years."

"As for the Four Calamities, if my speculations are correct, four people with Supreme Spiritual Roots will be born on Earth. However, such people will become demonized."

James frowned and asked, "What are Supreme Spiritual Roots?"

Langston explained, "The strength of one's Spiritual Root depends on one's ability to absorb Empyrean Spiritual Energy. People with Supreme Spiritual Roots have a strong ability to sense Empyrean Spiritual Energy and are very compatible with it. These kinds of people are talented in cultivation and will improve rapidly."

"In the message left by King Quavon, each calamity will have a destined person to solve it. That is to say, each one of these people who's to become demonized will be someone fated to resolve the calamity"

James listened carefully.

Langston continued, "My daughter, Xandra, has a Supreme Spiritual Root and can learn any martial art technique quickly. I suspect the Four Holy Beasts' blood was tampered with to cause problems for those with a Supreme Spiritual Root. The Outsiders did not want the humans of Earth to rise. If I'm not mistaken, Thea also has a Supreme Spiritual Root."

Hearing this, James was taken aback.

It was unbelievable.

Thea had a Supreme Spiritual Root?

His mother also had a Supreme Spiritual Root?

Langston told James about the Supreme Spiritual Root/ Whoever possessed the Supreme Spiritual Root would be bright, distinguished individuals born to persevere in the face of the Calamity.

However, what was the Calamity?

Based on Langston's thoughts, the Calamity would be brought about by the seal's activation. This would be the greatest catastrophe mankind would ever face. However, to deal with the menace, mankind's ancestors had come up with a countermeasure. They would allow mankind to obtain the blood of the Four Holy Beasts so that they could gain extraordinary lifespans, which would allow them to emerge rapidly to deal with the looming threat. However, upon foreseeing the plans of mankind's ancestors, the enemy tampered with the Four Holy Beasts.

"This is my hypothesis based on the message left behind in King Quavon's Mausoleum. Only time can verify its authenticity."

Langston could not be sure whether his speculations were true.

"However, I believe this is not too far from the truth."

James listened intently.

Upon hearing Langston's words, his heart was unable to settle down.

Then, Langston pointed to the Phoenix Essence on the table and said, "This is a complete Phoenix Essence. Now that I have no more use for it, I'll hand it over to you. Increase your cultivation base as much as possible in the shortest amount of time available to you."

"Me?"

James was shocked. Langston only managed to obtain the Phoenix Essence after going to great lengths. "Yes, this is for you. But, be mindful that the items on the Four Holy Beasts-the Spirit Turtle's core and the blood of the phoenix and dragon-can make you experience Energy Deviation. Any desire that surfaces in your mind will be amplified almost immediately. Of course, ordinary people are vulnerable to this phenomenon. However, you who possess the Supreme Spiritual Root will experience Energy Deviation without a doubt,"

Upon hearing this, James was lost in contemplation

After some time, he said, "It is my understanding that the Malevolent King from a millennium ago also experienced Energy Deviation. Did he also possess the Supreme Spiritual Root?"

Langston shook his head slightly and said, "I don't know either. I only know that he's a distinguished figure. He was only thirty years of age when he reached the pinnacle of his life. Only a genius like him is capable of creating Ataraxia and the Demonic Sword Art

"Alright, enough dilly-dallying already. Take the Phoenix Essence and leave. Bring some phoenix blood along with you as well. Soon, I'll leave this place and head to Lothian to nurture a new generation of talents with the phoenix blood."

Then, Tyrus went to obtain the phoenix blood alongside James who complied with Langston's orders. After obtaining the phoenix blood, he left Mount Thunder Pass of the Southern Plains with the Phoenix Essence.

Upon his return, he could not help but ruminant over Langston's words.

The Four Calamities?

Was he referring to four individuals or perhaps the Four Holy Beasts?

James was lost in contemplation.

If Langston's speculation were correct, the Four Calamities would refer to the Four Holy Beasts and not four individuals. After all, if the items on the Four Holy Beasts could make those who possess the Supreme Spiritual Root experience Energy Deviation, it would be a catastrophe for all of mankind.

"A fast learner... Bright and distinguished.

James murmured.

Immediately, a figure came to mind-Delainey Cabral.

To his understanding, Delainey had been a brilliant child since she was young. After obtaining the Dragon Essence and the dragon's blood, she managed to reach the peak of the Ninth Stair in three short years. She even established an invincible martial art skill of her own-Geostigma.

He immediately called Delainey.

Soon, she arrived at his residence.

Over the past few days, Delainey had been restructuring the Black Dragon Army

"James."

Delainey, who was wearing a military uniform, walked in. She exuded a charismatic aura.

"Here, have a seat."

James collected himself and pointed to the sofa beside him.

Delainey sat down and looked at James, asking, "Is something the matter?"

"Delainey, have you ever experienced Empyrean Spiritual Energy?"

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1892

Chapter 1892

James asked.

Langston told him that those who possessed the Supreme Spiritual Root would be able to sense the presence of Empyrean Spiritual Energy much more easily than ordinary people.

"Huh? I can't."

Delainey said.

She was shocked that James asked her this question.

"You can't?"

James froze.

That could not be.

Delainey was a bright and brilliant figure who possessed enormous potential in martial arts. Did she not possess the Supreme Spiritual Root?

"Have you consumed the Dragon Essence?" James asked.

Delainey shook her head. There's only so little Dragon Essence available. There's no way I could get my hands on it. I only consumed the dragon's blood."

"Did you experience anything unusual after consuming the dragon's blood?"

Upon hearing this, Delainey's expression turned grim as she nodded and said, "Indeed, I have. Sometimes, I'll have violent tendencies. At times, I'll have stronger than usual possessiveness and a desire to gain power."

Saying that, she glanced at James. Upon seeing that James was looking her in the eye, she hurriedly averted her gaze and blushed.

"That's all?"

James froze.

Anyone would have these desires upon consuming the dragon's blood.

Delainey nodded slightly and said, "Yes."

"How about this? Come with me to Mount Thunder Pass, and I'll teach you how to sense Empyrean Spiritual Energy."

James said.

He remembered that Thea only managed to sense the presence of Empyrean Spiritual Energy after he gave her some guidance. Based on his speculation, even those who possessed the Supreme Spiritual Root would require some teaching and guidance. Without proper guidance, they would not be able to sense the presence of Empyrean Spiritual Energy by themselves.

“Sure thing.”

Delainey nodded.

Then, James headed toward Mount Thunder Pass alongside Delainey. He planned to enter a closed-door meditation there for some time to absorb the Phoenix Essence’s power in an attempt to make a breakthrough

At the peak of Mount Thunder Pass....

James sat in a lotus position while Delainey sat opposite him. Her wavy black hair flowed in the air, and her charisma only served to accentuate her impeccable beauty.

James explained in detail how he had gained insight into the Lunar and Terra Art to Delainey. He even shared the breathing method recorded inside the Lunar and Terra Art with her.

Delainey listened intently.

She could not help but praise James, “You really are a genius, James! How did you manage to gain insight into such a profound cultivation method? This is unbelievable!”

James smiled bitterly and said, “You flatter me. I learned these things from somewhere else. By the way. try doing it the way I told you.”

“Alright.”

Delainey said.

Soon, she could sense the presence of Empyrean Spiritual Energy and began using the breathing method taught by James to absorb the energy

Meanwhile, James sat by the side and scrutinized the Phoenix Essence.

In just half an hour, he noticed that a faint light was beginning to envelop Delainey’s body. He also sensed the powerful Empyrean Spiritual Energy in her surroundings.

“What?”

He was stunned.

Callan failed no matter how hard he tried.

Delainey, on the other hand, managed to gain insight into the essence of the Lunar and Terra Art in such a short amount of time. Now, she had even begun absorbing Empyrean Spiritual Energy.

“She really is a genius.”

James could not help but be amazed.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1893

Chapter 1893

Delainey was a fast learner, In a short amount of time, she managed to gain insight into the Lunar and Terra Art's essence and even absorb Empyrean Spiritual Energy.

So, James left her to her own devices and entered a closed-door meditation.

Now, everything had been taken care of in Dragonville, and there was nothing unusual going on inside Mount Bane.

Before he entered closed-door meditation, he gave Thea, who remained in Cansington, a call.

“Thea, Grandfather gave me Phoenix Essence. So, I’m planning to enter a closed door meditation for some time. If there’s an emergency, come to Mount Thunder Pass of the Southern Plains straight away.” James told her his location.

Thea’s voice came from the phone, “Don’t worry. Everything’s fine here. I’ll take good care of our child.”

“Alright then, I’m hanging up the phone.”

James hung up the phone.

Then, he took out the Phoenix Essence.

There were two ways to refine the Phoenix Essence, One, he could choose to consume it right away. Two, he could absorb it.

James chose the latter.

The Phoenix Essence levitated in his palms as he extended his arm, and he catalyzed the Lunar and Terra”

At that moment, the Phoenix Essence radiated a red glow.

The red glow entered James' body and transformed into pure, concentrated energy. Then, James refined and absorbed the energy, transforming it into the purest True Energy he had ever seen.

Now, there were two forms of True Energy inside his body-Lunar Energy and Terra Energy. They were also known as Sky Energy and Ground Energy respectively, or otherwise known as True Heavenly Energy and True Demonic Energy

As the Phoenix Essence possessed terrifying energy, James' True Energy was drastically boosted immediately. Then, he began absorbing the Phoenix Essence's power in earnest.

Soon, a month passed.

Though Delainey had stopped cultivating, she did not leave but instead remained and watched James' cultivation.

Over the past month, James' aura steadily grew. After absorbing the Phoenix Essence's energy for a month, his True Energy reached an unbelievable level.

There were three shackles in the ninth rank that each constrained the blood, flesh, and bones. Only by acquiring certain strength could one sense their presence.

Currently, James had sensed the presence of the shackle constraining his blood veins.

He stopped absorbing the Phoenix Essence. Though he had spent a month absorbing the Phoenix Essence, he only managed to absorb ten percent of it.

Peering into his body, he could clearly see a shapeless shackle constraining his blood veins.

“Is this the shackle?”

James murmured.

Upon seeing James stop. Delainey walked over to him and asked, “How's your cultivation, James?”

James collected himself and looked at Delainey before him, nodding. “I guess it went well. I can already sense the presence of the first shackle inside my body.”

"Oh?"

Intrigued, she asked, "How does the shackle look like?"

James could not describe the shackle with words. He thought about it and said, "Though my blood veins possess enormous power, they are constrained by the shackle. As such, I can't use my full strength. Once I break free from the shackle, a powerful energy will burst forth from my blood."

As James had consumed the dragon's blood, he did not know if the power inside his blood veins was actually his or the dragon's.

The shackles were a mysterious existence.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 1894

Chapter 1894

The shackles were akin to that of DNA strands constraining his blood cells. It was an explicable feeling that no human language could describe.

"By the way, how did your cultivation go?" James asked.

Delainey said, "It's alright, I guess. After absorbing Empyrean Spiritual Energy, my body has begun undergoing changes. However, my True Energy has remained stagnant. I think I need time before being able to reach the ninth rank."

James said, "Spiritual Energy is now abundant everywhere. You may come across some mutated berries while taking a stroll in pristine forests. Mount Thunder Pass is one such place. Take a walk nearby, and you might be able to come across such berries if you are fortunate. Soon, you'll make a breakthrough into the ninth rank."

"But, I've been here for a month. I want to return to the military region to have a look at the situation." James nodded. "Sure thing

Delainey did not linger for long and hurriedly left.

Meanwhile, James continued cultivating.

Now, he could sense the shackle of the blood. This meant that he had reached a certain level where he could make a breakthrough. Then, he catalyzed True Lunar and Terra Energy, which swiftly entered his body. As powerful True Energy gushed through his body, his blood began churning. Then, under the destruction of True Energy, the invisible shackles inside his blood began to disintegrate.

Crack! Crack!

As the shackles disintegrated, James' aura grew increasingly powerful. He could feel a terrifying power bursting forth from within his blood that was comparable to his True Lunar and Terra Energy.

"I-Is this my strength after breaking free from the first shackle?"

Sensing the terrifying power gushing through his body, he clenched his fists. Immediately, the power of his blood was catalyzed, and a red glow radiated from his palm.

He punched the air with his fists, and powerful energy shredded through the air and struck the mountain range in the distance.

Rumble!

The mountains collapsed into nothingness.

"What power..."

James could not help but exclaim.

Such destructive power just from the power of his blood alone.... What would happen if he combined it with his True Energy? If he acquired such strength just by breaking free from the first shackle, how terrifying would it be if he broke free of the second and third shackles and crossed into the Supernatural?

He took a deep breath.

Sitting in a lotus position on the ground, he hurriedly catalyzed Ataraxia to calm himself down. Then, he continued absorbing the Phoenix Essence.

Currently, he had only absorbed ten percent of the Phoenix Essence's power. Absorbing the entirety of the Phoenix Essence would certainly allow him to break free from the other two shackles and even cross into the Supernatural.

After activating the power of his blood, his absorption speed increased once more. This time, both his True Energy and the power of his blood increased. At the same time, the power of his blood filled his body and nourished his bones and muscles.

His body was undergoing drastic changes.

At the same time, his baby was already one month old in Cansington. As the Callahans were an influential family in Cansington and even the entirety of Sol, Thea hired a maternity nurse to take care of her child.

Originally, Thea wanted to nurture her child by herself. However, after knowing that a catastrophe awaited mankind in the future, she wanted to help James out.

In the foyer of the Callahans' villa...

"Dad, Mom... I'll leave Winnie in your care"

Thea looked at the baby poignantly

Unwilling to deprive her child of motherly care, she was reluctant to leave.

However, she really wanted to help James

Gladys held Winnie in her embrace and said smilingly, "Go on, Thea. Leave everything to us."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-