The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2326—The Protector had informed the Demon Race of this matter using arcane art.

However, the Demon Race was divided into many clans. The strongest among them was the Hadean. Clan, whereas the clan Marcello was in was the Azurean Clan.

Since James swaggered around using the Azurean Clan's token in front of the Hadean Clan, he would have to pay for this insult.

"Find him even if you have to comb through every nook and canny of the rubble."

Then, many began searching around for James. However, no matter how hard they tried, they could not find him.

Both the Protector and Marquis knew that James must be here somewhere. So, they stood in mid-air and performed terrifying arcane arts, bombarding the area relentlessly for ten days before stopping.

Meanwhile, James was sipping wine in the Celestial Abode. Sensing that the bombardment outside had died down, he smiled faintly and said, "Looks like the Demon Race is out of patience."

Henry asked, "When will they leave then?"

Holding the glass of wine in his hand, James said, "There's no need to rush things. We'll wait for a few more days. The Demon Race hasn't retreated yet. I'll lose my life if I leave the Celestial Abode now."

At that moment, Delainey walked over to them, "James, Quintina is at the City Lord's Mansion."

"Oh." James stood up and headed toward the gates of the City Lord's Mansion.

As he pushed the door open, a woman wearing a green dress was standing outside. Upon seeing James, Quintina could not help but ask, "James, how's the situation outside now?"

Hearing this, James furrowed his eyebrows and said, "The battle is over. Your father has been defeated."

"What?" Quintina was stunned.

James hurriedly said, "Don't worry, he isn't dead. He fled the Divinity Sect alongside a few other cultivators. Meanwhile, the Divinity Sect has been reduced to a pile of rubble.

If I guess correctly, the Demon Race will soon make a move against the Welkin Academy, the Ancient Clan, and many other powerful sects of the Ancient Realm. Soon, the Demon Race will conquer the Ancient Realm.”

Hearing this, Quintina was filled with consternation.

James glanced at her and consoled her, “As your strength is too weak, there’s nothing you can do at the moment. You stand no chance against the powerful figures of the Demon Race. Your father instructed me to take good care of you. I’m planning to return to Earth soon. If you’re willing, you may remain here inside the Celestial Abode. Once I return to Earth, I’ll release you.”

He could tell that she was worried about her father and the Ancient Clan. However, if she returned to the Ancient Clan now, she would not stand a chance against the Demon Race if they attacked.

After speaking, James turned to leave, heading toward the mountain outside the city. That was because there was still a group of cultivators there. Now, he had to inform them of the situation outside.

Quintina followed close behind James.

“There must be something you can do, James,” she said. “You managed to scare them off by using the token before. Why can’t you use that again?”

James stopped and looked at Quintina behind him, saying, “Ms. Quintina, aren’t you overestimating my strength a little? There’s nothing I can do. Besides, I’m also dying to know why they’re after my life.”

He was indeed bewildered. Back then, Lucifer had acknowledged him. Otherwise, he would not be able to leave Mount Walvern. In that case, why would the Demon Race attack him?

“Could it be that the Protector and Marquis are after my life?” James murmured.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2327—James believed this to be a likely scenario. That was because Lucifer told him that it was only with his father’s acknowledgment that James’ soul managed to merge flawlessly with his physical body. So, there was no way Lucifer wanted to go after his life. This made the Protector and Marquis the prime suspects.

However, this no longer had anything to do with James. Now that the Ancient Realm was about to be overrun by the Demon Race, he would not remain here any longer. In fact, staying here was much more dangerous than returning to Earth.

James headed to the mountain outside the city.

There, tens of thousands of cultivators gathered. There were originally 100,000 of them, but many perished at Mount Walvern, and some were implicated in the battle at the Divinity Sect. So, only approximately 50,000 of them remained.

Seeing James approach them, they stood up.

James arrived at the mountain's peak and looked at them, narrating the chain of events that unfolded

"This is basically what's happening outside. Once it's safe to leave, I'll leave the Celestial Abode with you. However, the rest will depend on you after that."

Harold stepped forward and looked at him. Doubtful, he asked, "Are you really speaking the truth, James?" James glanced at him and said, "Why? Do you still not trust me?"

Harold shook his head and said, "No, it's just that this is simply unbelievable. Although I don't know much about my master, I don't think he's an evil person. There's no way he colluded with the Demon Race."

"Haha..." James smiled faintly and said, "The Divine Holy Emperor sacrificed the entire Divinity Sect to obtain the Demon Race's cultivation method. Now, the sect has been reduced to a pile of rubble, and most of the disciples are dead."

Hearing this, Harold's expression turned grim.

James continued, "You should be careful around someone like him."

"You came from Earth?" Harold asked.

"Yes, is something the matter?" James said coldly, "To be honest with you, a Sect Elder of the Divinity Sect had headed to Earth. To obtain my cultivation method, he made a move against me. That's why I fled here to the Ancient Realm. Since then, I came to the conclusion that there are no good guys in the Divinity Sect."

He was reminded of the affairs that took place on Earth.

James clenched his fists.

"Once I gain enough strength, I swear to annihilate Yuvaan Zymir, the Divinity Sect's Sect Elder!"

At that moment, Quintina said, "James, take me to Earth."

She had considered the matter thoroughly.

Quintina was totally helpless in the Ancient Realm. As this was a battle between superpowers, there was nothing she could do to help. Even if the Ancient Clan was annihilated, she would have no choice but to turn a blind eye.

Now, the only option she had was to travel to Earth, the core of the world. Besides, Earth was now full of powerful figures, and this was the perfect opportunity to compete for providence. Although she was comparatively weaker than the other cultivators, she had enormous potential. After all, she was a Grand Supernatural. The only thing she lacked was time. Sooner or later, she would rise.

As for Farley, she believed that her father would not act impulsively. Besides, her father would not want anything to happen to her at this moment.

"Sure, no problem."

James smiled faintly and said, "Earth is a lively place now. Before I arrived at the Ancient Realm, there were already natural catastrophes on Earth. Then came the first providence, which the cultivators from the three thousand Sealed Realms came to compete for."

Then, he bragged, "Who would have thought that I'd be the one who obtained the providence after the First Calamity?"

James' identity and the secret of his Demonic Body were already exposed.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2328—He no longer cared about revealing the secret of the Infinity Steles. Besides, even if word spreads, he was no longer afraid of anything. Once he returned to Earth, there would be no superpowers there. With his strength, he could easily fight against the cultivators of the Three Thousand Worlds.

"Y—You ?!"

Quintina was stunned. As the daughter of the greatest figure in the Ancient Realm, she knew that the Four Calamities would appear on Earth, with each followed by a providence.

She was shocked. She never expected that the man before him would be the one who obtained the First Calamity's providence on Earth.

"No wonder you're this impressive..."

She murmured.

James' strength was simply unbelievable. When he first arrived at the Ancient Realm, he was weak and insignificant. However, before long, he was able to withstand Hayden Salvatore's moves. Then, not even Harold at his full strength could scratch him. This cultivation speed was simply unimaginable for her. Even though she was a Grand Supernatural who possessed enormous potential, her cultivation speed was incomparable to his.

After some bragging, James said no more and descended the mountain.

"James," Harold's voice came from behind.

"Hmm?" James turned to look at him and asked, "What's wrong?"

Harold took a deep breath and said, "Can you bring me to Earth too?"

"You wanna go too?"

"Yes." Harold nodded grimly.

Though he was a Grand Supernatural, he was of humble birth. As the child of a nobleman and his mistress in a country in the Ancient Realm, his mother was murdered at his birth. He left his family to cultivate alone, enduring hardships along the way, all for the sake of rising to power one day. After joining the Divinity Sect, he thought he would soon reach the pinnacle of his life. However, he did not expect the sect to turn out this way.

He could no longer remain in the Divinity Sect. He was a Grand Supernatural, a genius of his time. He wanted to head to Earth and compete for providence so that his strength could increase.

"Of course you may." James nodded and looked at the others, saying, "I can take everyone to Earth. Well, actually, you can easily traverse through the seal by yourself. With the appearance of providence on Earth, the seal has weakened. As long as you aren't a hundred years old and possess enormous strength, you can easily travel to Earth."

"Earth?"

“Forget it! I won’t be able to compete for the providence anyway with my current strength.”

“The providences belong to geniuses. They have nothing to do with me.”

“I’m not going.”

Many conversed.

They did not wish to head to Earth. To them, they would not be able to compete for providence anyway.

James said nothing. He had informed them of the situation outside. As for their decision, he could not care less.

After leaving this place, he returned to the city center of the Celestial Abode. There, he waited patiently while at the same time monitoring the outside world closely.

Soon, a month passed in the blink of an eye.

After he could no longer sense the presence of the Demon Race outside, he left the Celestial Abode and appeared on a pile of rubble.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2329—James appeared at the Divinity Sect, which had been reduced to a pile of rubble. Then, the Celestial Abode returned to being a ring on his finger once more.

As he was worried that the Demon Race had not left, he scanned his surroundings carefully and proceeded with caution. As expected, there was a group of men in black robes stationed outside the rubble.

He changed directions.

However, no matter where he went, he realized that the entire place had been surrounded by the Demon Race. He had no way out.

The Protector must have determined that he had remained hidden in the rubble. However, they could not find him after such a long time. That was why they simply cordoned off the area.

“What should I do?”

Pensive, James sat on the ground below a huge rock.

At that moment, the sound of footsteps could be heard.

Some members of the Demon Race were patrolling the area.

James suppressed his aura and concealed himself. The moment he appeared, he would be relentlessly pursued by countless enemies. With his current strength, he had no guarantee of surviving the onslaught. He only dared breathe after the footsteps were far away.

As James lifted his head and glanced at the fissure in the sky, he contemplated, "Do I have no choice but to return to Earth through the seal?"

That was his only available option at the moment. However, many cultivators inside the Celestial Abode refused to travel to Earth.

He also had the Dragon Abyss on his mind. He only knew that it was a place that long existed since ancient times. The Dragon Abyss would open once every fifty years, and only ten would be allowed to enter each time.

Entering the Dragon Abyss would allow James to gain enormous benefits. Hiding below the huge rock, he could not help but think about the Dragon Abyss. After some contemplation, he chose to give up on the tempting thought.

"If I'm not mistaken, the Ancient Realm should almost be conquered by the Demon Race by now. This means that the Dragon Abyss is now off-limits for me. Besides, I have left Earth for close to a year now. I wonder what's the situation there now. Maybe the Second Calamity has appeared," James murmured.

Lifting his head to gaze at the sky, he thought about traversing through the fissure to leave the Ancient Realm

"James."

At that moment, a voice came from inside the Celestial Abode. It was Sophie.

James hurriedly asked, "What's wrong?"

Then, a scroll appeared from within the Celestial Abode.

Holding the scroll in hand, James asked, "What's this?"

Sophie said, "This is a talisman I created. By catalyzing the talisman, you can break through the void and reappear somewhere else. That's because you can't leave the Ancient Realm now."

“Why?” James asked in confusion, “Why can’t I leave the Ancient Realm?”

Sophie said, “I can’t really say why. Once I reached my rank, I’m somehow able to see through certain fates. I can sense that you’ll lose something if you leave the Ancient Realm now.”

“What will I lose?” James asked.

Sophie said, “I don’t know either. Just remember that fate is preordained. Back then when we were on Earth, I tore through the seal and allowed you to leave. However, you ended up in the Ancient Realm. This is fate.”

James furrowed his eyebrows and said, “What the hell are you talking about?”

Since Sophie said so, he knew he could not leave now, but what would he lose exactly? James could not figure this out, and Sophie could not describe it in detail either.

Looking at the scroll in his hand, he catalyzed True Essence, which slowly seeped into the scroll. At that moment, the mysterious symbols on the scroll glimmered and came to life. Then, powerful energy materialized from within the scroll.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2330–The energy enveloped him, and he disappeared without a trace.

James could feel his vision blur. When he reappeared, he had arrived at an unknown place. The pile of rubble had vanished, only to be replaced by picturesque scenery.

Looking at the mountains and rivers before him, James breathed a sigh of relief and murmured, “Finally, I’ve left the Divinity Sect. Now that so much time has passed, I wonder if the Demon Race has made a move against the Welkin Academy and the Ancient Clan.”

“Hmm I wonder how Melany is doing at the Welkin Academy...”

At that moment, he thought of Melany, the woman who saved him when he first arrived at the Ancient Realm.

He planned to head over to the Welkin Academy for now to have a look.

Then, he hurriedly left and headed in the direction of the Welkin Academy.

He traveled for a few days. After completely leaving the region of the Divinity Sect, he opened the Celestial Abode and released everyone inside.

“You are safe now. Return to wherever you came from.”

James said,

“Thank you for saving my life, James.”

“Thank you!”

“I’ll remember what you did for me.”

Many left after thanking James.

Soon, only Quintina and Harold remained.

Harold looked at James and asked, “Are you not returning to Earth, James?”

James shook his head slightly and said, “Not now... I’ll return once I’m strong enough. When I return to Earth, I’ll annihilate the Divinity Sect’s Sect Elder.”

“In that case, I’m heading to Earth now.”

Harold lifted his head and looked at the fissure in the sky in anticipation.

Then, he looked at James and said, “Regardless, I owe you my thanks. If not for you, I’d have been killed at the Divinity Sect. I’ll head over to Earth and wait for you there. I can never forget our battle at Mount Walvern. Survive this and return to Earth. One day, I’ll defeat you.”

Harold was confident. He was a Grand Supernatural who had never been defeated by anyone.

James could tell that Harold was not a wicked person. He thought about it and said, “Upon your arrival on Earth, do not leak any information about me to anyone, especially the Divinity Sect. If possible, head to Wymstead and find my wife, Thea Callahan, and tell her that I’m safe and sound. Remember, tell only Thea and no one else.”

He trusted Harold. Though he missed Thea dearly, he could not return at the moment. As such, he could only request Harold to bring her his word.

Harold nodded and said, “Sure, I’ll convey your message to her.”

Then, he leaped into the air.

Under James and Quintina's watchful gaze, his body entered the fissure, and he disappeared from their view.

After Harold left, James looked at Quintina and asked, "Aren't you going as well?"

Quintina was wearing a green dress. Her curvaceous figure and delicate features only served to accentuate her beauty. Glancing at James, she asked, "Why? Trying to chase me away now?"

"No, you're mistaken." James smiled bitterly and said, "I mean, why would I? I'm planning on returning to the Welkin Academy to have a look. You might drag me down if you follow me."

Quintina pursed her lips. Though she was a Grand Supernatural, she was now a burden to James. Only he would dare such a thing in this whole wide world.

"Th—Then, I'll just enter the Celestial Abode." Quintina lightly brushed the scattered black hair on her shoulder, her glamorous face blushing. She said, "I—I immediately hit it off with Delainey the moment I entered the Celestial Abode. I'll chit—chat with her inside and maybe even cultivate following Sophie's guidance."

While Quintina was inside the Celestial Abode over the past month, she had grown increasingly familiar with Delainey. She also now knew of Sophie's power.
