The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2336—He then calmed down. He had heard Lucifer say that Earth's Second Calamity had already appeared.

However, he still did not know what the Second Calamity was. He was concerned about Earth and could not help but ask, "Has the Second Calamity on Earth appeared? What is the Second Calamity?"

Lucifer turned around and looked at James. He was aware of James' origin and knew James was from Earth.

Without trying to hide anything, he said, "The First Calamity on Earth is natural catastrophes. The Second Calamity is a catastrophe of beasts."

"A catastrophe of beasts?" James looked confused.

"Yes." Lucifer nodded and said, "According to information revealed by an oracle in my clan, the Heavenly Path has undergone changes. Humans used to be the wisest of all creatures, and the Heavenly Path favored humans. However, that is no longer the case. The Heavenly Path has shifted. An Elysian Inscription has appeared on Earth.

"So long as one is not of the human race, one's rate of cultivation will significantly increase.

"Furthermore, if one is lucky enough to find this Elysian Inscription that has appeared on Earth and is illuminated by the Elysian Light, they will be able to completely transform.

"The Second Calamity for humans on Earth is a calamity caused by beasts. Beasts will rise, and humans will suffer misfortune. This calamity will last for a very long time until it is neutralized by humans."

James was listening intently. After hearing this, he had to ask, "How can the Second Calamity of humans on Earth be neutralized?"

Lucifer shrugged and said, "How would I know? Everything I know is information obtained by my clan's oracle by peering into Heaven's secret. I don't know much about the specifics either."

Phew!

James took a deep breath. He had not expected the Second Calamity to be this way.

An Elysian Inscription had appeared on Earth. Every non-human on Earth would have a faster rate of cultivation. Furthermore, those who had the opportunity to see the Elysian Inscription would instantly transform.

Could it be that if the Elysian Inscription was found and destroyed, humanity would be able to put an end to the Second Calamity?

James began to connect with Sophie, who was in the Celestial Abode.

He told her what he had learned about the situation and asked, “Ms. Sophie, if the Elysian Inscription is found and destroyed, will the Second Calamity of humanity be neutralized?”

“Hehe.” Sophie laughed and said, “James, your way of thinking is too naive. Do you know what the Heavenly Path is? Do you understand what the Elysian Inscription is? You’re even considering destroying it. Even a Grand Emperor would be terrified and hesitant to confront, let alone destroy, the Elysian Inscription.”

James asked, “How can the Second Calamity of humanity be stopped, then?”

“Wait. Let me do some calculations.”

On a mountain range behind the City Lord’s Mansion in the Celestial Abode, Sophie was seating cross-legged on the ground, dressed in white. Her long, black hair was flowing freely in the absence of wind. She raised her hand and some mysterious characters manifested in her palm. These characters came together and formed an ancient Magic Circle.

This Magic Circle resembled a Tai Chi diagram in some ways. However, in the Magic Circle, there were thousands of enigmatic characters that kept flowing around.

Sophie’s aura became mysterious at that moment. All of a sudden, she appeared to be merging into heaven and earth.

The Magic Circle in front of her kept turning, and the mysterious characters within it continued to manifest a powerful force.

This went on for about ten seconds.

Crack!

The Magic Circle in front of Sophie suddenly broke. She was impacted by the backlash and spat out a mouthful of blood. Her body fell helplessly to the ground.

She dragged herself up from the ground and wiped the blood from the corner of her mouth. With a solemn expression on her face, she muttered, “With my current ability, it should not be difficult for me to predict the Second Calamity on Earth. However, an extremely powerful force is preventing me from doing so.”

Despite the failure of the extrapolation, Sophie still managed to get some information.

“James, I made a prediction. Each of the Four Calamities on Earth will be more severe than the last. I learned that humans were once protected by the Heavenly Path. However, it seems like human cultivators did something that was contrary to the Heavenly Path in the distant past. As a result, the Heavenly Path shifted and began to side with other races.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2337–Sophie did not figure out how to resolve the Second Calamity, but she did gather some information.

In ancient times, humans did something that was against the Heavenly Path. As a result, humans were no longer the wisest of all creatures, and the Heavenly Path stopped protecting humans.

However, she still had no idea what exactly humans had done in the distant past.

“Is there really no way to put an end to the Second Calamity on Earth?” asked James.

Sophie said, “I don’t know about that. However, there is always a way. A solution can always be found. Try not to worry too much. Everything has been predetermined. Take it one step at a time.”

After saying that, Sophie stopped talking.

James returned from his thoughts and looked at him.

Lucifer said, “You were able to get here. That means you have the token to the Dragon Abyss. Open the Dragon Abyss now. I want to go inside, find the Dragon Vein, and transplant it into my body.”

Quintina could not help but say, “The Dragon Vein has been around since ancient times. Can you transfer it into your own body?”

Lucifer gave a small smile and said, “I have a way. You don’t need to be concerned about that.”

James knew very little about the Dragon Vein. He also had no idea how Lucifer was going to transfer it into his body. These, however, did not directly concern him. All he needed to do now was enter the Dragon Abyss and concentrate on cultivating for a while.

James took out the token. Following the headmaster's instructions, he exerted True Energy.

True Energy sank into the token. Immediately after, an incredibly powerful force erupted from the token. This force shot off into the distance and entered the white aureoles. Suddenly, a passage was opened by the white aureoles.

Lucifer turned around and began to walk without lingering.

When James saw that the passage had opened, he put the token away and strode up to the passage ahead.

Quintina trailed behind him. She said, "This Lucifer person is insane. I've never heard of the Dragon Vein being able to be transferred into a body before."

James said, "His father was the Demon Emperor, a powerhouse of the Grand Emperor rank. He must have quite a few things the Grand Emperor left behind. He's more terrifying than any prodigy."

Currently, James did not understand the rank of Grand Emperor. What he did know was that the Celestial Abode he was holding belonged to one. As the son of a Grand Emperor and an heir to one, he must have had a large collection of treasures and mastered sacrilegious methods as well.

If Lucifer made his way to Earth and clashed with him, he would be a formidable foe.

Quintina said nothing else. She followed behind James, and they both entered the Dragon Abyss.

As soon as they stepped inside, James felt a primal force embrace him. This force was very powerful. While receiving nourishment from this force, the cells throughout his entire body became more active.

"What a powerful energy," James could not help but exclaim.

The place had an abundance of energy. He was aware that all this energy emanated from the Dragon Vein. If Lucifer actually moved the Dragon Vein into his body, would an endless stream of energy be released, increasing his strength all the time?

James did not dare to imagine it. He did not dwell on it either.

The two quickly moved forward. They soon reached the center of the island and climbed the highest mountain.

On top of the mountain, ten beams of light were shooting into the clouds.

Pointing at the light beams ahead, Quintina said, "This is Mount Dragonvein. The Dragon Vein lies deep underground. And this is where cultivators have come to cultivate throughout history. Father said that this place is only open once every fifty years. Each time, only ten people may cultivate. All the Dragon Energy gathered by the Dragon Vein for fifty years can be absorbed by ten people in about half a year."

"Mhm." James also saw the ten light beams on top of the mountain.

He quickened his pace.

Soon, he arrived at the summit.

He looked at the ten light beams in front of him.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2338—Among them, the energy in the center was the strongest, while the others were slightly weaker.

James did not hesitate and walked right over to the center.

There was a rock there.

The rock was not particularly large. There was only enough room for one person to sit cross-legged on the rock. The rock had a few small holes in it. White energies were emitted from the small holes. The energies shot into the clouds, forming a light beam.

He walked over and sat in a lotus position on the rock without hesitation.

As soon as he sat down, energy began to enter his body through all of his pores. He sensed a flood of energy flowing into him.

Without hesitation, he invoked Novenary Golden Body Siddhi and began to absorb the energy. transforming it into his own True Energy.

His rank had reached the Immortal Ascension Fifth Stair. As his rank advanced, more and more energy would be required to raise his rank again.

James began another cycle of cultivation. His True Energy was growing by the second.

After cultivating for a few days, he finally remembered Henry, Delainey, and the Blithe King who were in the Celestial Abode. He opened the Celestial Abode immediately and let the three out.

He gave them a brief introduction to the Dragon Abyss before letting them choose a rock to sit on and cultivate.

When James was cultivating, Lucifer had already descended far beneath the earth.

A cavern was located deep underground. He had arrived at the Dragon Vein's fountainhead. In front of him appeared an Energy Pool that constantly spewed out colorful rays of light. These rays of light were all pure Dragon Energy.

Lucifer looked at the Dragon Vein's fountainhead with a serene expression. James was here, so he was not in a rush. If he transferred the Dragon Vein into his body right now, James would have come here for nothing.

Fate brought James and him together.

First, James' body was reconstructed using his father's Natal Primordial Spirit Demonic Lotus.

Second, James had saved and resurrected him.

He did not want James to go back empty-handed.

"Young man, you have a lot of nerve to think about transplanting the Dragon Vein into your body."

While Lucifer was staring at the fountainhead of the Dragon Vein, a faintly discernible voice rang out.

Following that, a flash of white light appeared, and an elder manifested in front of Lucifer.

He looked at Lucifer and said, "Do you understand the significance of the Dragon Vein at this location? This place, this Dragon Vein, is the source of Spiritual Energy in the Ancient Realm. If you take it away, the Ancient Realm's Spiritual Energy will soon run out. This realm will become a wasteland."

Lucifer glanced at him and said nonchalantly, "What's it got to do with me? All I want is the Dragon Vein. Don't stop me, old man, or your long life will come to an end."

He was aware that the elder standing in front of him was a powerhouse of the Dragon Race who was hiding there.

Lucifer was not at all afraid, though. Even though he was weak, he was the son of the Demon Emperor. He had many tricks up his sleeve. It would not be difficult for him to kill this old man.

"Think twice, young man." The elder's aged face had a tinge of resignation. He appeared to be aware of Lucifer's origins as he gently persuaded him.

Lucifer said casually, "I know what I'm doing. Even if I take the Dragon Vein and the Ancient Realm enervates, before the day it completely withers, Earth's seal will have opened, and the Ancient Realm will merge with Earth. The Earth will regain its Primordial Energy. To Earth, this one Dragon Vein is insignificant."

The elder heaved a soft sigh. He knew he could not stop Lucifer.

"Since you're adamant about doing so, I have nothing else to say."

In a flash, the elder vanished from where he stood.

The next instant, he was already outside and on the summit. He looked at the people who were sitting in the lotus position in the light beams. He did not disturb them. He simply watched from a close distance.

James and the others were completely unaware that someone was watching them.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2339–The Dragon Energy from the Dragon Vein was extremely potent. However, James' rank had risen to the Immortal Ascension Fifth Stair. If he wanted to make another breakthrough, he would need an enormous amount of energy.

Even though he had Novenary Golden Body Siddhi and was fast at absorbing and refining energy, he would need half a year to reach the Immortal Ascension Sixth Stair at his current speed.

Moreover, this was a situation with sufficient energy. He also needed to compress his rank and ensure that he reached the extreme at each rank. This made it difficult for him to reach the Immortal Ascension Sixth Stair.

He forgot everything and concentrated solely on cultivating.

In the blink of an eye, half a year had passed.

During this half-year of cultivation, James' rank had reached the peak of the Immortal Ascension Fifth Stair. He was one step away from entering the Immortal Ascension Sixth Stair. Nonetheless, he chose to compact his rank.

He forcibly compressed the Immortal Ascension Fifth Stair late-stage into the Immortal Ascension Fifth Stair middle-stage.

At this point, the Dragon Energy emanating from beneath the rock was already quite sparse.

James slowly opened his eyes and took his time exhaling a mouthful of impurities. He stood up from the rock, stretched a little, and muttered, "As the rank advances, it becomes increasingly difficult to want to advance it again. If I didn't enter the Dragon Abyss, and simply cultivated methodically, I might not reach the Immortal Ascension Sixth Stair even after ten years."

The others stopped cultivating one by one at this point, as the Dragon Energy had mostly been absorbed. If they wanted to return to this place, they would have to wait fifty years.

Quintina looked at James, her face beaming with pride, and said, "I've already reached the Immortal Ascension Ninth Stair. How about you?"

James said, "I'm only at the Immortal Ascension Fifth Stair middle-stage."

"You're kidding." Quintina looked perplexed. She said, "At your current rank, half a year of cultivation is sufficient for a breakthrough. Why are you still at the Immortal Ascension Fifth Stair middle-stage?"

James explained with a smile, "Because I'm constantly compressing my rank and True Essence in order to make my True Essence purer and denser."

"Alright."

Quintina did not say anything else.

This time, Henry and Delainey had also made significant progress. Their strength had improved.

As they were about to leave, an elder approached them from nearby.

The elder was dressed in a grey robe. He looked a little old. His face was wrinkled. His hair was slightly long and almost entirely white, with only a few black hairs. He had a long beard.

When he appeared, James and the others all looked wary. The elder looked at James and the others with a smile as he walked over Quintina glanced at him. With confusion on her face, she asked, "You... Who are you?"

Gently stroking his white beard, the elder said with a smile, "I am Xozarth Laldraxi."

"Huh?"

Upon hearing this name, Quintina immediately exclaimed, "Sir, y—you're the guardian of the Dragon Abyss, the elder of the Dragon Race, Xozarth Laldarxi?"

Quintina had heard of Xozarth. He was a powerhouse who had been around since antiquity and stood guard at the Dragon Abyss. If her father met him, he would also have to regard him as his superior.

To Quintina's understanding, Xozarth's strength was terrifying. His rank was so high that it was unfathomable.

With a hint of resignation on his face, Xozarth said, "What guardian? I'm simply meditating in seclusion in the Dragon Abyss. Now I can't even defend, the Dragon Vein of the Dragon Abyss. What a disgrace to the word 'guardian'."

James looked at Xozarth and asked, "Sir, what do you mean by that?"

Xozarth said, "An outsider came here and wanted to move this place's Dragon Vein, but I can't even stop him."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2340—Xozarth let out a deep sigh and said, "He is the son of the Demon Emperor. When the Demon Emperor died, he sealed him away in the Ancient Realm. I was aware of his existence. I just didn't expect him to come here right after being resurrected with the intention of moving the Dragon Vein of this place."

James was well aware that he was talking about Lucifer. He asked, "Will moving the Dragon Vein have any impact on this place?"

Xozarth explained, “The Dragon Vein at this location is the core of the Ancient Realm. Thousands upon thousands of ley lines in the Ancient Realm all originate from this Dragon Vein. Once the Dragon Vein is gone, the other ley lines will gradually wither.

“The Spiritual Energy of the Ancient Realm will also gradually fade away, eventually turning it into a dead realm.”

After hearing that, James furrowed his brow and said, “Is it that serious?”

Xozarth nodded and said, “However, these are no longer relevant because Earth’s Primordial Energy will recover and the seal will soon be opened. The seal will most likely be ready to open before the Spiritual Energy of the Ancient Realm has withered.”

James was listening intently. He was unaware of the purpose behind Xozarth’s appearance, but he believed Xozarth did not show up just to tell them about these things.

James, Quintina, and the others were all looking at Xozarth.

Xozarth went on, “The most precious thing in the Dragon Abyss is an inscription.”

“An inscription?” James knitted his brow slightly and asked, “What inscription?”

James and the others were all perplexed.

Xozarth said, “My family is a primordial race. We are a well-known existence since the Primordial Age. The ancestor of my family was a top powerhouse in the Primordial Age. Their strength had reached unfathomable heights. When the ancestor died, they left a bone. In the bone is an inscription which is a compilation of the Ancestral Dragon’s lifelong signature martial art skills.

“Obtaining this bone equates to obtaining the Ancestral Dragon’s legacy.

James was paying close attention. He could not help but ask, having listened to this point, “Sir, why are you telling us these?”

Xozarth said, “I stand guard here not to protect the Dragon Vein, but to protect the Dragon Bone. I can sense that your body is unique. There is an aura of an Emperor rank powerhouse within you. Now that the Dragon Vein will soon be gone, the dragon bone will quickly disappear without the nourishment of Dragon Energy. I need to find a new home for the dragon bone.”

He looked at James.

“Your body is very suitable. I intend to implant the dragon bone into your body.”

Hearing that, James furrowed his brow. He did not consider this to be his good fortune. He was worried about the effects the dragon bone would have on him once it was implanted in his body.

Xozarth seemed to notice James’ concern. He explained, “Don’t worry. It won’t affect you in any way. It will even give you tremendous strength. If nothing else, the legacy of my family’s ancestor is what all cultivators desire to have.”

James asked, “Sir, in that case, why don’t you just take the legacy of your family’s ancestor?”

“It’s not that simple.” Xozarth’s face had a tinge of resignation. He said, “Even if I continued to cultivate for countless years, I’m still not qualified to get my family’s ancestor’s legacy.”

“So you’re giving it to me just like that?” James was a little puzzled.

Perhaps he was actually a man of great fortune?

He could obtain an amazing boon simply by, coming to the Dragon Abyss?

Xozarth said with a smile, “Because you came from Earth, your Demonic Body can withstand the dragon bone. And because there is dragon blood in your body. It can nourish the dragon bone. Aside from these factors, the Dragon Vein will be transplanted. So, I’m just going along with fate.”
