The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2341—James was stunned.

The Dragon Race's ancestor must be a transcendent existence as a being who was a powerhouse from the Dragon Race's Primordial Age. As far as James knew, the Grand Emperor was the highest cultivation rank one could reach

Therefore, he concluded the Dragon Race's ancestor was undoubtedly a Grand Emperor

James looked at Xozarth and said bashfully. "So you're saying, I'm lucky to have stumbled upon it?"

No wonder Sophie warned him that he would miss out on many great things if he were to leave.

She was referring to the legacy of a Grand Emperor, including the transcendent dragon bone.

Quintina looked at Xozarth and asked, "Sir, I'm guessing that you're rather strong I've met Lucifer previously Although he was born with great potential, he isn't that formidable right now. You should be capable of preventing him from taking the Dragon Vein."

Xozarth knit his brows together

"It's not as simple as you think. Have you ever heard of Ancient Supernatural Powers?"

Everyone looked at Xozarth

Xozarth sat down on a boulder and uttered softly. "You're all underestimating Lucifer Although he isn't at a high rank and has yet to step into the Mage Rank, his father was a Demon Emperor. Back then, his father knew of his fate and that he was about to die Thus, he sealed Lucifer before his death."

"At that time, he used an indescribable Supernatural Power to change Lucifer's fate. This allowed Lucifer to defy the Heavenly Path and the Five Elements "

Xozarth took a deep breath and said, "I was also relatively weak back then. My sect's seniors instructed me to guard the Ancient Realm's Dragon Abyss and not to involve myself with Lucifer. He is out of the Heavenly Path and Five Elements reach, and he also has the support of the Demon Race"

"Who can afford to antagonize him?"

Everyone listened carefully

They had no idea what it meant to be out of the Heavenly Path and Five Element's reach.

Xozarth did not explain in detail either.

Boom!

Suddenly, the Dragon Abyss trembled and cracks formed on the island.

Xozarth stood up and said, "Lucifer is on the move."

Knowing he was incapable of stopping him, Xozarth did not take action

He allowed Lucifer to remove the Dragon Vein

The Dragon Abyss trembled for about ten minutes

After the trembling subsided, a crack appeared on the ground, and a person zoomed out

It was Lucifer.

After he appeared, he looked at James with a faint smile and said, "I'll be heading to Earth first, James. I'll be waiting for you there. I hope you don't disappoint me."

After Lucifer finished speaking, he flew toward the sky.

Soon, his body disappeared into the cracked seal in the sky and disappeared from their sight.

"Let's go. I'll bring you to the dragon bone."

James summoned the Celestial Abode and turned to Henry, Delainey, and Quintina, saying, "Head back into the Celestial Abode for now, I'll go check it out."

The three nodded and entered the Celestial Abode.

James followed Xozarth underground.

Xozarth knew James was holding onto an extraordinary treasure, so he was not surprised by the Celestial Abode. He led James deeper underground and soon reached the Dragon Vein.

Since the Dragon Vein had been removed, a bottomless pit remained empty and gaping in the ground

As soon as they reached the area, Xozarth casually waved his hand, and magical energy materialized in his palm, sinking into the depths of the ground.

A few seconds later, a golden light emerged from the depths.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2342—James could see the dazzling golden light coming from a bone. It was relatively small and golden in color with some mysterious symbols slithering around its surface

These symbols were constantly changing as if mimicking the Milky Way. In just a short while, the symbols had transformed more than thousands of times.

With a puzzled expression, James stammered, “1-Is this the dragon bone?”

Xozarth nodded and said, “Yeap, this is the dragon bone left behind by the Ancestral Dragon. The inscription on it contains the Ancestral Dragon’s entire legacy. It’s a treasure that the strong can only dream of obtaining

“This bone belongs to the Ancestral Dragon. It’s almost indestructible

“It’s very extraordinary and needs strong energy to sustain it Without energy, it will soon wither away Once that happens, the inscriptions within the bone will also vanish with it,

“I’ll transplant the dragon bone into your body. You should be able to keep it alive for a long time with the Demonic Energy in your body. Once it completely fuses with your body, you won’t need to supply it with energy to keep it alive anymore.”

Xozarth looked at James and asked, “Are you ready?”

James nodded. “Yeah.”

Xozarth said, “Alright. Lie down.”

James did as instructed

Xozarth waved his hand, and a small knife appeared in his palm. He walked toward James and made an incision on James’ body.

James had a resilient physique. Even a cultivator at the Immortal Ascension's Eighth Stair would not be able to hurt him. Despite all this, Xozarth sliced open his skin with ease.

He felt Xozarth forcibly break off a piece of his rib

Then, Xozarth motioned with his hand once more.

The dragon bone hovering in the air nearby flew over.

Xozarth grafted it into James' body.

The dragon bone was placed into his body and merged with his bone.

James did not feel any discomfort throughout the entire procedure.

Simply by thinking. James circulated the Demonic Energy in his body, and the incision in his chest closed up. At the same time, new flesh grew around the dragon bone.

Xozarth looked at James, who had stood up, and asked, "How are you? Do you feel any discomfort?"

James stretched his body and felt nothing out of the ordinary. He shook his head and said, "I feel fine."

Xozarth smiled gently. "As expected from a body reformed by a Grand Emperor. Your body is really remarkable. It accepted the dragon bone without any difficulty. Now that the dragon bone has been transplanted into your body, try and see if you can bring forth its power."

James nodded.

Then, he attempted to call upon the dragon bone's energy.

True Energy flowed through his whole body and gathered in the dragon bone in his chest.

The True Energy awakened the dragon bone, causing it to shine with a faint golden glow. Then, a strong force came from within the dragon bone, significantly augmenting James True Energy

At that moment, the inscriptions in the dragon bone were also activated and was if they sprang to life.

James could sense the power of the magical inscriptions from the bone.

"Come forth," James commanded it with his conscious

The inscription manifested as a golden light and appeared before his eyes.

He looked at the constantly morphing inscriptions before him in shock. This is amazing. The moment the dragon bone was transplanted into my body, it felt like it had become part of me. I can also activate the Inscriptions and call forth the scripts."

Xozarth had a satisfied look on his face. James did not need to channel energy into the bone, as it perfectly merged with his body.

James was undoubtedly born to be the dragon bone's host

Not only was it perfectly compatible with his body, but he was also able to activate the inscription

"Go back from where you came from."

Xozarth lingered not a second longer and strode away with his hands behind him, quickly disappearing from James' sight

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2343—Xozarth left after he transplanted the dragon bone into James' body.

James did not hang around either and quickly left the underground area, resurfacing back on the island. Immediately after, he let Henry, Delainey, the Blithe King, and Quintina out of the Celestial Abode.

"How did it go. James?"

Henry promptly asked as soon as he got out.

Quintina also looked at James, curious about what had happened with the dragon bone.

James nodded and said, "Mhm, everything went well. The dragon bone has been successfully grafted into my body."

Delainey asked, "What are you planning next, James?"

James thought about it for a while.

Initially, he wanted to cultivate in the Ancient Realm and return to Earth after amassing enough strength.

However, the situation in the Ancient Realm was chaotic and not an ideal place to cultivate peacefully. The Ancient Realm was now more dangerous than Earth

James said, "I plan to return to Earth. The Second Calamity has befallen the Earth, and the Beast Race is getting stronger. They will surely turn into a deadly threat to the humans on Earth. I want to return to Earth and check on the situation"

Henry's brows slightly furrowed. "What about Yuvaan?"

James said. "I'll return to Earth but I'll keep a low profile. I'll stay hidden and cultivate on Earth. It's much safer than staying in the Ancient Realm. The ones after my life here are from the Demon Race On Earth, the only threat to my life is from Yuuvan."

James weighed his options and concluded that returning to the earth was safer than staying in the Ancient Realm.

He turned to Quintina and asked, "Do you really want to come to Earth with me?"

Quintina replied, "Yeah. Why not? What am I supposed to do in the Ancient Realm? This world is getting progressively worse. There's not much I can do even if I stay here. It'd be better to go to the earth and fight for the boons there."

James said, "Alright, let's go then. You guys won't need to return to the Celestial Abode this time."

"Henry, Delaine, Blithe King, you three head to Wrymstead after returning to Earth and inform Thea that I'm safe. If there's no one monitoring Wrymstead closely, I'll find a chance to return."

"Alright." Henry, Delaine, and the Blithe King nodded in unison.

After a simple discussion, they immediately departed. They flew into the sky and entered the seal's crack, leaving the Ancient Realm,

James appeared atop a barren mountain after returning to Earth.

Henry and the others were nowhere to be seen.

After entering the seal, they would be randomly transported to a place on Earth. Thus, they had no exact idea where they would appear.

James took out his phone and a spare power bank. After charging his phone for a while, he turned it on and pulled up a map. After checking the map, he learned that he was currently in a country in the west. He did not stay in the area for long and quickly rushed back to Sol. Sol was now the Earth's core region. Mount Bane was located within Sol's borders. Not only that, Bane City had become the gathering place for Outsiders from the Three Thousand Worlds. This contributed to Sol's development as a central hub on earth.

It did not take long for James to reach Sol.

Since his identity was unique, he disguised himself with a silver mask and obscured most of his facial features. He had been away from Earth for almost two years and was unaware of how it changed at that time

He immediately headed to Cansington.

In Cansington, the buildings, streets, and most of its infrastructure remained the same as before.

The only difference was that many people dressed in ancient clothes roamed the bustling streets.

First, he headed to the Callahans' villa and observed the Callahans from a distance.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2344—He secretly observed the Callahans and saw that they were doing well. Thea seemed like she was not in Cansington which was something he expected. He guessed that she was in Wrymstead. He left Sol and rushed to Wrymstead.

In the meantime, he also logged into the Martial Arts Forum to apprise himself of the situation on Earth for the past two years.

He learned that no significant events happened in the past two years and things were relatively peaceful. However, more Outsiders appeared on Earth at this time. Some powerhouses from the Three Thousand Worlds even resorted to using some tricks to cross into Earth.

From what James knew, the most powerful person on Earth was at the Sage Rank, and there were multiple people also in this rank.

One of them was the Divinity Sect's elder, Yuvaan.

Additionally, James learned that the Second Calamity had already taken place.

The Second Calamity was dubbed the Calamity of Beasts

While the earth's humanity faced this disaster, it was the Outsiders' chance to rise.

In just a few months, many powerful beasts began to populate the Earth.

"Have you guys heard of the Tiger King? He was originally a normal tiger but stumbled upon the Elysian Inscription. In one night, he was bathed by Elysian Light and transformed from a normal tiger to a beast with strength equivalent to a warrior at the Mage Rank."

"There's also the Fox Queen on Mount Lazerth. According to rumors, she used to be a normal, little fox but transformed into a nine-tailed fox as strong as a Mage Rank cultivator"

On the forum, people were discussing the beasts that appeared recently.

Fortunately, these beasts had not caused mass destruction on Earth after their initial appearance.

However, James knew it was the calm before the storm.

There was definitely more to the Second Calamity than this.

Countless more powerful beasts would come into being and will cause devastating damage to the earth. Humanity could be wiped out if they did not develop a proper countermeasure.

Soon, James reached Wrymstead

However, he chose to stay hidden

He watched from the shadows and found that Thea was safe. Since Wrymstead was under surveillance, he could not expose himself now. It would be disastrous if he was discovered.

"I can't use Sacrilegious Ascension or the Demonic Lotus. If I use them, my identity will be exposed, and Divinity Sect's elder will definitely hunt me down. The only ace up my sleeve is the newly-acquired dragon bone in my body."

James took a deep breath.

He did not stay long and returned to Sol shortly after. Then, he headed toward Mount Bane.

A long time passed, and many more unknown areas appeared in Mount Bane. However, the statue that previously appeared in Mount Bane's central area was still in its original place. The statue shone with colorful rays of light, and its energy had grown stronger.

James sensed the statue's energy as soon as James' got close to Mount Bane

He headed straight to the peak where the statue was located.

On the mountain's peak, many people were gathered around the statue. They sat in lotus positions and were focused on cultivating. The mysterious statue made Mount Bane's surroundings abundant in Empyrean Spiritual Energy.

James could sense that the people cultivating around the statue were still relatively weak.

They were merely around the Herculean Rank and had not yet stepped into the Immortal Ascension.

James walked closer to the statue and inspected it. The statue was carved in the image of a dignified- looking man. Although it was only a statue, James could sense the domineering aura from its eyes and expression.

James murmured, "Who exactly is this statue carved after? Is he one of the earth's Ten Emperors?"

"Have you guys heard that the Elysian Inscription has landed on a certain island? Outsiders from the Three Thousand Worlds rushed to see it."

"Mhm I heard many beasts have also headed to the island hoping to be blessed by Elysian Light and rise above humans."

At that moment, James heard speculative whispers around him.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2345—After James came close to the statue, he overheard the surrounding cultivators' conversation and obtained an important piece of information

The Elysian Inscription had appeared on a particular island, and beasts from all over the world were rushing there, hoping to benefit by being bathed in the Elysian Light.

Simultaneously, some powerful humans have also headed to the island.

Although it was rumored that the Elysian Inscription had no effect on humans, some cultivators still headed there to observe the situation.

After James learned this, he fell into deep thought

Initially, he wanted to head over and have a look at things. However, he decided not to after properly considering it. He left the mountain and left for Bane City. The city had become more prosperous than it was two years ago.

Outsiders from the Three Thousand Worlds gathered in Bane City

Retracing his previous steps, James walked toward Marcello's mansion. It did not take long before he arrived in front of it.

Many warriors stood guard outside the mansion. All of them were powerful members of the Demon Race.

James wanted to see Marcello but was afraid spies from the Divinity Sect were around the area. It would be a pain if he showed up and was discovered.

Thus, he did not recklessly head toward the mansion

Instead, he waited outside for two days.

Two days later, Marcello exited the mansion and got into a beast carriage.

A huge lizard with wings on its back was hooked to the carriage. After she got into the carriage, the lizard flew up into the sky and took off

James leaped into the air and flew after it. Then, he landed firmly on top of the beast carriage.

As soon as he landed, Marcello launched an attack from inside the carriage.

"Who's there?"

Marcello raised her hand, and powerful force materialized in her palm. It swept outside, aiming for James

In the past, Marcello used to be very strong. There used to be a considerable difference in strength between her and James. Fortunately, James came across many boons on his recent adventures and grew much stronger. His current cultivation rank had already surpassed Marcello's cultivation rank

Even if Marcello attacked with full strength, she would barely land a scratch on James

James did not counter the attack but dodged in a flash, He appeared at the other end of the beast carriage and quickly revealed himself, "It's me, James."

"James?" Marcello was shocked.

James slowly removed his mask

"It's really you" Marcello sighed in relief when she saw James' face and said, "I was wondering who was daring enough to sneak onto my beast carriage. Turned out it was you after all. Where have you been these past two years?"

James wore his mask again and said, "It's a long story. By the way, are you going on a long journey or something?"

Marcello nodded and said, "Yeah. Jace told me the Elysian Inscription appeared on a certain island. I'm headed there to try my luck."

Hearing this, James was puzzled

Marcello saw through James' thoughts. She smiled and explained, "I may look like a human, but I'm not actually human. If I'm lucky enough to find the Elysian Inscription and be bathed by the Elysian Light, I'd benefit greatly from it."

James immediately understood her haste to travel to the island.

Marcello asked, "By the way, what did you come to see me for?"

James sat down inside the carriage and sighed. "I have nowhere to go and no one to turn to, so I came to see you

"Back then, when the Divinity Sect captured you, I planned to save you But the Demon Race's powerhouses had yet not come to Earth. We wouldn't have stood a chance against the Divinity Sect's elder with the few members we had here, so."

James gently waved his hand.

It was already water under the bridge. He did not blame Marcello for not coming to his rescue.

"By the way, do you know Xacobe?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2346—James suddenly thought of the Grand Emperor from the Demon Race, Xacobe, and his son, Lucifer. He realized that he hardly knew anything about them. Since Marcello was a pivotal member of the Demon Race, she should be familiar with them.

Marcello looked at James suspiciously and asked, "Why are you asking about him?"

James said. "You should already know about my body's origin since you were the one who gave me the Demon Race's Supreme Token. My body was reformed with the Grand Emperor, Xacobe's Natal Primordial Spirit, the Demonic Lotus. I went to the Ancient Realm and resurrected his son, Lucifer, with the Demonic Energy in my body."

"Lucifer?"

Marcello exclaimed and asked, "You resurrected Lucifer?!"

"Yeah." James nodded.

"Haahli

Marcello took a deep breath and said, "This is a serious problem, James. Do you know just who you resurrected?"

Isn't he the Demon Emperor's son? What's wrong with that?"

"You don't understand

Marcello had a grave look as she explained, "I heard from my father that Xacobe peered at his eventual fate and knew he would die. Before he died, he used his deific Supernatural Power to alter Lucifer's fate."

"Lucifer is no longer constrained by the Heavenly Path and the Five Elements. His potential is unfathomably terrifying!"

James said, "I had no idea. That's why I'm asking you, so I can learn more about Lucifer"

Marcello gently shook her head.

She too had limited knowledge about him.

All she knew was how he came to be, and how the Demon Race would obey him if he was resurrected and broke free from his seal

She learned all of this from her father.

“I never expected you to be the one who awakened Lucifer. Now that I think about it, I can understand why it happened. Your body is formed with his father’s Natal Primordial Spirit, thus your fate has already been entangled with his ”

Marcello took a deep breath

She looked at James and said. “You should be careful. The Hadean Clan is known for being ruthless Since Lucifer has been resurrected, he’ll definitely come to Earth and fill the streets with blood.”

“This won’t do. I must inform my father about this matter.”

After speaking. Marcello sat in a lotus position.

A wisp of black energy seeped out from her body and disappeared into the air.

Marcello was using a secret art to communicate with her father, who was still in the Demon Realm.

She stayed like that for about half an hour.

Finally, she got up from the floor.

James asked, “How did it go?”

Marcello replied solemnly. “News of Lucifer’s resurrection has spread everywhere. Everyone in the Demon Race now knows about it. I also just got a new piece of information.”

“Hmm?” James frowned and asked, “What information is it?”

Marcello said, “You know about the earth’s Second Calamity, right? It’s dubbed the catastrophe of beasts As the catastrophe occurs, an Elysian Inscription will appear. The Heavenly Path will favor the non-human races

“The cultivation speed of non-human races will accelerate and Outsiders bathed in Elysian Light will rise above humans

“More importantly, the Elysian Inscription was specifically created for a certain being from a particular race.”

James' brows furrowed as he asked, "Was it made for Lucifer?"

"That's right"

Marcello explained. His fate was altered a long time ago. Now even the Heavenly Path has created a separate inscription specifically for him. If he gets his hand on the Elysian Inscription, he'll become even more formidable and his strength will grow tremendously in a short period of time."

James became troubled when he heard this.

He never expected the Second Calamity faced by the earth's humans to be a being from the Demon Race. To make matters worse, he was the one who resurrected this devastating being.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2347—After hearing Marcello's words, James was filled with dread.

He was responsible for Lucifer's resurrection. The Elysian Inscription appeared specifically for Lucifer's sake. It was plain to see that Lucifer was meant to be Earth's Second Calamity.

"Is killing Lucifer the only way to avert the catastrophe?"

James asked the question in his heart.

"Hal" Marcello laughed lightly and said, "You're too naive, James. Kill him? How are you going to manage that? Don't you understand who's backing him up? It's the Hadean Clan. Although they don't have a Grand Emperor right now, there are Quasi-Emperors among their ranks."

"Then what should we do?" asked James.

Marcello shook her head and said, "I don't know either. It depends on Lucifer's plans after he obtains the Elysian Inscription. The bottom line is, regardless of what he wants to do, no one on Earth can really stand against him."

Hearing this, James went silent.

The lizard drawing the carriage continued to glide swiftly through the sky.

In the blink of an eye, half a day passed

The beast carriage appeared above the ocean.

The two passed by a variety of beasts along the way. There were cows with wings and giant ants with bodies tens of meters long. All these different kinds of beasts appeared around the island's vicinity.

They also spotted a few humans. In comparison, the humans only formed a small minority among the beings on the island

Soon, an island appeared in sight

It was an enormous island. At a glance, James could see towering mountains and countless beasts.

The beast carriage hovered outside the island. Marcello stood in the carriage and looked at the distant island, saying, "Many beasts are gathered there. It should be the place I'm looking for."

James nodded "Mhm "

Marcello effortlessly flicked her wrist. The huge lizard and carriage instantly disappeared.

James was unsurprised by the sight since Marcello was a pivotal member of the Demon Race. Having a magical item similar to the Celestial Abode would not be entirely unexpected of her

He his mask back on.

"Let's go have a look."

Marcello took the lead, making a beeline to the island ahead of them. James followed behind her. Soon, they reached the island.

James immediately felt intense pressure upon stepping onto the island. It felt like a mountain was crushing him. His knees bent, and he almost fell to the ground.

Marcello turned around and looked at James, who had a pained expression. She asked, "What's wrong?"

James gritted his teeth and said with difficulty. "There's extreme pressure here."

"Pressure? Why don't I feel anything?"

Marcello was puzzled because she was completely fine. After thinking for a while, she suddenly came to a realization and said, “I see. The Elysian Inscription must be on this island. It’s ineffective on non-human races but naturally repels humans.”

Unable to resist the pressure, James chose to retreat.

Sure enough, the pressure dissipated after he left the island’s immediate vicinity.

James wiped off the sweat on his forehead. He looked at Marcello and said, “You’re right. It seems the Elysian Inscription on the island is preventing me from stepping foot on the island. Since I’m unable to proceed, I can’t accompany you. You should go ahead.”

“Alright.” Marcello nodded.

She turned and walked to the island.

Meanwhile, James waited away from the island.

More and more beasts began appearing in the area. At the same time, some humans also arrived on the island. Just like James, they felt a crushing pressure on their bodies as soon as they stepped on the island.

Ultimately, they moved away for the time being and watched from the island’s outskirts.

James remained away from the island, but his eyes were fixed on it. He saw tens of thousands of beings gathering on the island. All of them were non-human races.

He waited for three days.

Three days later, a shimmering golden ray of light shot up into the sky.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2348—James immediately noticed the light.

The golden light formed a mysterious symbol that constantly shifted and morphed unpredictably. The light enveloped the entire island, and countless oppressive auras immediately burst forth.

“What?”

James was shocked.

“Is this the Elysian Inscription? The golden light spread throughout the entire island. Does this mean that all the beasts on the island have been illuminated by the Elysian Light? Did they all suddenly gain immense strength?”

James bit his lip.

He had read about the Elysian Light on the Martial Arts Forum. There were reports about ordinary animals coming into contact with Elysian Light and mutating into beasts with Mage Rank strength.

The beasts that travelled to the island were already powerful.

If they really were bathed in the Elysian Light, how strong were they now?

While James was still frowning in deep thought, the golden symbol in the sky rose higher above the island. The golden light slowly emanating from the island gradually spread to every corner of the earth.

At that moment, all animals and non-human races on the earth were illuminated by the Elysian Light

However, the humans felt like their bodies had been bound when the golden light shone on them

The same happened to James

While he was hovering above the ocean, away from the island range, the golden light made contact with his body. Immediately, a powerful force entered his body and restrained him

James quickly called forth his True Energy and was relieved to find that he still had True Energy in his body. Moreover, he did not find or sense anything amiss with his body

“What’s going on? Why does it feel like something about my body has been restricted, yet I can’t seem to find anything abnormal about my body?”

James could not figure it out

Meanwhile, an old man was seated stock still in a lotus position at a magical place in a particular world. He suddenly opened his eyes and saw everything happening on Earth through the world’s barrier

“In the end, this day was unavoidable.”

“The sins of the past will eventually face judgment ”

“From now onward, the beasts will rise above humans, I’ll be the downfall of humanity. It’ll be difficult for humans to cultivate now since they’ll have to break the Elysian Seal

At that moment, many renowned fighters throughout the universe were watching Earth.

Seeing the events unfolding on Earth, they all knew what had happened and felt sorry for the humans there

It was a bright and unprecedentedly prosperous era

However, this only applied to non-human races.

For humans, it was the end of the era of cultivation.

Meanwhile, James had no idea what was going on.

He stared at the golden light in the distance in a daze.

At that moment, Sophie’s voice resounded from the Celestial Abode.

“James, it’s the end of humankind.”

Hearing this, James frowned and asked, “What do you mean?”

Sophie said, “The Elysian Light has spread throughout the entire universe. All the non-human races have been bathed by it and have benefitted greatly. At the same time, it also placed a seal on every human’s body”

James was still confused.

Sophie explained. “This means that it’ll be challenging for humans to cultivate from this point forward. A seal will appear when a human is about to break through a rank, preventing humans from advancing any further.

“Under such circumstances, it’ll be near impossible for humans to make breakthroughs in cultivation.”

Sophie sighed softly

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2349

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2349—Sophie’s strength had also reached the pinnacle of cultivation, and she immediately sensed the abnormality from within the Celestial Abode as the Elysian Light emerged.

It was a prosperous era for non-human races, but it was the end for humanity.

What exactly did the humans do in ancient times for the Heavenly Path to treat humans like so?

Sophie's words made James frown.

He looked at the Elysian Inscription above the island and the golden light shining out from it. The light permeated the earth and throughout the Three Thousand Worlds, allowing all non-human races to gain significant strength

Conversely, shackles formed in the human body in order to bind them

The Elysian Light shone for about one day

One day later, James saw a figure hovering above the island. The Elysian Light enveloped him and instantly caught the attention of everyone

Under tens of thousands of watchful eyes, the Elysian Inscription slowly descended from the sky and sank into the man's body

It was Lucifer

Marcello was right. The Elysian Inscription appeared for Lucifer.

His fate had been changed

He would become the most eye catching being of this era

Soon, Marcello returned in James' line of sight.

James sensed that Marcello's aura had become more substantial.

She appeared before James, and her pretty face beamed with a satisfied smile as she said, "Although the Elysian Inscription is for Lucifer, I also received great benefits after being bathed by the Elysian Light I can feel that my spirit has evolved, and my potential has improved. Also, my strength soared tremendously. As expected from an inscription by the one who controls everything of the world."

James frowned.

Although Marcello was his friend, he could not bring himself to be happy at all

The rise of non-human races would be a disaster for humankind.

Not only would the earth's humans be affected, but also the humans of the Three Thousand Worlds.

Noticing James' conflicted expression, Marcello could not help ask, "What's wrong" I've learned some new information," James said softly, explaining the situation to her.

When she heard this, Marcello also frowned.

Although she was not human, she could empathize with James' worries and the burden he bore. After thinking about it, she comforted him, "Cheer up. There will surely be a way out."

Til head back first."

At that moment, James was feeling quite dismal. He turned around and glid through the air, quickly leaving the island

Marcello followed closely behind him but could not keep up since she was still weaker than him Although she had benefitted greatly from this experience, she was still much slower and inferior to him.

She flew as fast as she could yet could not keep up with James.

Understanding James concerns, she did not continue to pursue him

James returned to Cansington. He wandered around the bustling streets, thinking about what to do next.

Since things have taken such a grim turn, his only option was to proceed w caution.

He did not return to Wrymstead because spies from Divinity Sect had infiltrated it. Going back now would mean walking to his own death.

One day later, some shocking news caused a worldwide uproar

"A powerful beast has emerged from the Sealed Realm on Mount Bane. He claimed to be the Elephant King and declared that he wanted to occupy Sol's Southwest Province. This beast also proclaimed that the tens of millions of humans there would become his slaves"

The Elephant King's online post drove people into a panic

After returning to Cansington, James had been paying attention to the news online. He lurked the Martial Arts Forum, keeping himself updated on major events happening worldwide

He never expected the beasts to rise up this quickly and have the desire to occupy a human settlement.

After the Elephant King's demands were posted online, information about him was dug up and disseminated as well

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2350–The Elephant King came from the Sealed Realm. He's as strong as a Second Stage Mage."

"It's over for us! The humans on Earth are doomed!"

"The Elephant King was the first to claim a human city. Many more powerful beasts will surely follow suit. Once they start popping up, humans will be doomed! Humans will no longer stand at the top and will become slaves"

People all over the Three Thousand Worlds shared their opinions on the internet.

It depends on whether the powerful humans hidden on Earth will step up to prevent it from happening."

"Probably not. These people won't step in so easily. They might not act even if humanity ends up destroyed"

"If these powerhouses on Earth don't take action, how will humanity fight against these powerful beasts?"

"That's right. The humans from the Three Thousand Worlds won't care about the fate of Earth's humans. The Solean's ancestors were despicable sinners."

The boards were rife with all sorts of opinions

After reading through them, the creases on James' brows deepened further.

He was the strongest person on Earth, If not him, who else could step up to prevent the catastrophe humans were about to face? Who could prevent the impending disaster about to befall Earth's humans?

"Haah

James took a deep breath

First, he planned to go to Mount Jade to seek out the Omniscient Deity

At the start of the calamity, the Omniscient Deity stepped up to lead the martial artists on Earth. As such, most of Earth's martial artists were gathered on Mount Jade

After making plans, James left Cansington and rushed to Mount Jade

He traveled at breakneck speed. It took him less than half an hour to fly from Cansington to Mount Jade.

Mount Jade was a famous Solean mountain.

Although Earth's seal had not fully come undone, many unknown areas surfaced worldwide. Mount Jade was no exception, and several new mountain ranges appeared around it.

These emerging areas had two characteristics

Firstly, it was open to the outside world, and any living being could enter it freely.

Second, they were still sealed

Since the seal was still not yet open, it was still inaccessible despite having surfaced

Right then, countless beasts had surrounded Mount Jade

Snakes, rats, wolves, and various animals drew close to the mountain range.

A beastman with a weasel's head and humanoid body sat at the very top of the main peaks' main hall.

Below him were some well-known human powerhouses.

The Omniscient Deity, the Prince of Orchid Mountain, Tyrus, Sky, Tobias, Thomas, and some non-Solean martial artists lay wounded on the ground

"Haha. So this is the strength of humankind?"

The beastman sitting on the head seat looked at them condescendingly and sneered, "Humans are a weak lot. From now onward, Mount Jade is under my dominion and as such will be renamed Weasel Mountain"

The beastman spoke and his voice boomed through the hall.

The cultivators led by the Omniscient Deity were all injured. Although they attempted to resist, they did not have the strength to fight back. At that moment, all of them were wracked with hopelessness.

'Could this really be the end of humankind on earth?

'These beastfolk are vicious. Who's going to stop them?"

The feeble martial artists lay on the ground despondently.

Faced with such an overwhelming foe, they were incapable of standing against them.
The beastman effortlessly trounced them.
