The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2421—After briefly scrolling through the Martial Arts Forum, James logged out and sat on the sofa lost in contemplation.

This time, Sophie had told him many things.

Moreover, he learned of Sophie's background. She was born in the Ancient Heavenly Court Age, and her father was a war god in the court. Since he was hailed as a war god, he must have reached the pinnacle of strength.

However, he did not know how Sophie made her acquaintance with Emperor Jabari nor why she was in the Celestial Abode.

For the time being, James remained in Wurmstead and spent quality time with Winnie while he waited for the providence to appear.

He did not wish to acquire all Five Elements of Genesis. As long as he could obtain a single of them, he would consider himself extremely fortunate.

Just like that, seven days passed.

In the morning on the seventh day, just as the sun rose above the horizon...

Boom!

An explosion suddenly occurred in a random spot on Earth. The blast was so terrifying that even the earth shook.

"What's going on?"

"What happened?"

"What a powerful energy fluctuation!"

Sensing the blast, every cultivator on Earth turned to look in the direction where the explosion occurred. The blast had come from the South Pole.

"Is the providence here?"

Many speculated that the providence after the Second Calamity had arrived.

In the morning, James was sitting quietly in the palace's courtyard. Suddenly, the earth shook, and he heard a deafening blast coming from far away. Wearing a grim expression, he stood up and gazed into the distance.

"What's going on? Why is the earth shaking?"

After hesitating momentarily, he stood up and flew in the direction of the fluctuation. He summoned his full strength and maximized his speed.

The closer he got to the South Pole, the greater the fluctuation.

When he arrived at the South Pole, he realized there were thousands upon thousands of living beings there. Some were beasts who had recently emerged as a force to be reckoned with, whereas others were prodigies who came from the Three-Thousand Worlds.

Soon, he arrived at the source of the fluctuations.

In the sky before him was a huge energy vortex that was golden in color in the middle. Like a blinding sun, it radiated a golden light. As the energy vortex spun non-stop, it radiated energy so powerful that it distorted even the void.

No one dared approach the vortex. That was because the energy in its surroundings was simply too terrifying.

Every living being was observing from a distance away.

"James." A voice came from behind him.

James turned his head and saw Delainey, Henry, and the Blithe King.

"Mhm." He nodded.

Delainey asked, "Has the providence appeared?"

James shook his head. "I don't know, but I think it should appear soon. Sophie said that the providence would appear within this time period. Since there's such a huge fluctuation here, I guess providence must have arrived."

The three looked at the energy vortex before them.

The vortex kept swirling for three whole days.

Three days later, the energy vortex was divided into five smaller vortexes, and each had a door in its center.

“Could that be a Space-Time Portal?”

Many prodigies conversed with each other.

Then, some of them headed in the direction of the illusory doors in the center of the five vortexes. Each of them entered a different Space-Time Portal.

James looked at the three behind him and said, “Let’s have a look, shall we? To increase our chances of obtaining the providence, we should enter different Space-Time Portals.”

“Alright.” They nodded.

After briefly glancing at one of the vortexes, he approached it and stepped into the Space-Time Portal.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2422–The moment James entered the Space-Time Portal, his vision blurred. When he reappeared, he had arrived at an unknown location.

It was a mountain range surrounded by rocks that were shaped after melting and full of a primordial atmosphere.

“What concentrated elemental power!” Sophie exclaimed.

James asked, “What did you sense, Sophie?”

Sophie’s voice echoed in his mind, “I sensed fire elemental power. Each of the five Space-Time Portals is linked to five different unknown worlds, and each world possesses a Genesis. Since the fire elemental power here is so overwhelming, this should be the origin of the Fire Genesis.”

“You have to offer me guidance, Sophie.”

James pleaded, "I can only obtain the Fire Genesis with your guidance. After getting my hands on the Fire Genesis, maybe I'll seize the other Genesis as well."

One would gain enormous power just by obtaining one of the Five Elements of Genesis. However, as James had the Celestial Abode and Sophie's assistance, his ambition was great, and he wanted to obtain more Genesis.

"Of course I will," Sophie said. "Long ago, I entered Emperor Jabari's Celestial Abode. Now that the Celestial Abode belongs to you, both of us have already been stained by Karma. Besides, the stronger the potential you show, the more fearful I am. That's why I'll help you grow."

James had no idea what she was talking about. However, it was not important to him at the moment.

"Sophie, tell me where the Fire Genesis is."

"Hold on, I'll try to sense it."

She began sensing this unknown world in earnest from within the Celestial Abode.

Approximately ten minutes later...

"James, head to your left."

Sophie began giving James directions. After getting his bearings, James went full speed ahead.

Under Sophie's guidance, he flew for approximately ten days before arriving at a mountain.

This mountain was a volcano. From a distance, the flames were burning fiercely with a white color that seemed a bit odd. However, the white flames appeared to have no temperature at all. When James approached, he could not feel any heat.

"Is this the place, Sophie?" James asked.

Sophie's voice came from inside the Celestial Abode, "That's right, I can sense the presence of Genesis here. However, I must admit that I'm somewhat bewildered. How did we obtain it so easily? There should be some barriers nearby that we need to cross to obtain the Fire Genesis."

"I'll go have a look for now."

James walked toward the volcano before him.

The moment he approached the volcano, he was immediately enveloped in white flames. However, he could not feel any heat.

This baffled him. Confused, he pressed forward.

As he took another few steps, he sensed a scorching heat.

“Why is it suddenly so hot in here all of a sudden?”

James started sweating profusely almost immediately, and the sweat quickly soaked through his clothes.

However, as he could still endure the scorching heat, he pressed forward.

The deeper he went, the higher the temperature. At that moment, his clothes had been burned away, and his skin had turned red, resembling molten iron.

“What a terrifying temperature...”

James stopped and gazed into the distance.

At a glance, there seemed to be no end in sight. Only a continuous stream of white flames could be seen. Being in the white flames, the powerful fire elemental power entered his body and burned his physical body.

If James was not in a hurry to obtain Genesis, he would have stopped here to cultivate at this perfect spot. By cultivating his physical body here, he would gain many times the benefits compared to elsewhere.

“Sophie, I can’t last much longer. How do I obtain the Five Elements of Genesis?” James asked.

“Hold on, let me see...”

Sophie sat in a lotus position in the Celestial Abode and began extrapolating.

“Die.”

Suddenly, she heard a voice reverberating in her mind.

At that moment, she spurted out a mouthful of blood and collapsed to the ground. Her face was pale.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2423—Through the changes in the Law of Heaven, Sophie sought to understand the methods of obtaining the Five Elements of Genesis. However, everything backfired.

She slowly stood up. Her face was pale as she murmured, “By helping James out, I have transgressed the Law of Heaven and am now contaminated by heavy Karma.”

“Sophie, are you done extrapolating?”

James waited for twenty minutes. Seeing that Sophie did not respond, he asked.

Sophie said, “Yes, I’m done.”

Hearing this, James was overjoyed. He asked, “Really?”

“Yes, but... James...” Sophie opened and shut her mouth.

“What’s wrong?”

Sophie thought about it and decided to tell James.

“By helping you out, I have been contaminated by heavy Karma. Indeed, I have discovered the way to obtain the Five Elements of Genesis. However, there is a price to pay.”

“Huh? What price?” James asked.

Sophie said, “In the Primeval Age, I would be judged by Heaven’s Adjudicators. I don’t know what I’ll face.”

She only knew that she had been stained by heavy Karma by violating the Heavenly Path. She was not afraid of dying, but the Karma she was contaminated by was many times more terrifying than even death.

“That serious?” Furrowing his eyebrows, James apologized, saying, “I’m sorry.”

Sophie sighed and said, “I thought the Karma I’d be stained by would be negligible if I avoid helping you out directly. I thought that I could resolve this by myself. However, I let my guard down and helped you extrapolate the ways to obtain the Five Elements of Genesis. Perhaps I’d be fine if this was ordinary stuff. However, these are the Five Elements of Genesis we’re talking about, one of the greatest powers on heaven and earth.”

“What will happen to you, Sophie?” James asked.

Sophie did not say much.

"I only hope you can grow and eventually reach an unbelievable rank. That way, you'll be able to eradicate my Karma. In any case, let's not dwell on the matter anymore. There's only one way to obtain the Fire Genesis. You need to refine your physical body right here and let your body possess fire elemental power. Then, head over to the central region and forcibly absorb the Fire Genesis. You won't be able to absorb the Fire Genesis if your physical body isn't cultivated with fire elemental energy." Sophie explained

"Refine my physical body? A fire elemental body?"

Sophie said, "Yes... This is the most I can do for you. I'll leave the rest to you. It's extremely difficult to refine your body into a fire elemental body. However, since your body works in mysterious ways, this should be a piece of cake for you."

"By the way, since you wish to obtain more Genesis, time is of the essence."

"Got it." James nodded.

Then, he continued on his way.

The deeper he went, the higher the temperature of the flames. After arriving at a spot where he could withstand the heat, he sat in a lotus position on the ground and began absorbing the nearby flames to refine his physical body.

Sophie, on the other hand, continued to offer him advice.

"To refine your body into a fire elemental body, you should gather the fire element in your cells and cultivate a whole new power called True Fire Energy..."

Under Sophie's guidance, James began to cultivate and refine his body.

There were already two kinds of power inside his body. As such, cultivating a third would be extremely difficult. Without a cultivation method, there was no way his body could contain that many powers at the same time.

Under Sophie's guidance, James began absorbing the surrounding flames to refine his physical body. As his body kept regenerating under the destruction of the flames, his physical strength grew increasingly stronger.

Just like that, James cultivated for three months straight.

Three months later, his body had transformed into a fire elemental energy, and his blood had turned into flames circulating throughout his blood vessels.

“Sophie, refining my physical body isn’t that hard. I just have to withstand the pain of the fire burning my body. However, it’s impossible for me to cultivate True Fire Energy. I don’t have the cultivation method to accomplish such a feat.”

At a loss, James requested Sophie’s help.

Sophie furrowed her eyebrows when she heard him.

“What should I do?”

She was in a bind.

In the end, she decided to give it another try and extrapolate once more. After all, there was no way that things could get worse.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2424—She continued extrapolating.

Soon, she spurted out a mouthful of blood.

However, she obtained much useful information from the fluctuations of the Law of Heaven this time.

“J-James...” Sophie said, her voice shivering.

“Yes, Sophie?”

She said, “I-I extrapolated some important information.”

“Please tell me more about it!” James was thrilled.

She said, “In the Primeval Age, the Five Ancestral Gods who controlled the Five Elements of Genesis once gathered and discussed something for some time. Then, they created an unprecedented and ground -breaking cultivation method.”

“What cultivation method was it?’ James asked.

“Elemental Inversion.” Sophie’s voice trembled as she said, “E-Elemental Inversion is a cultivation method created based on the Five Elements of Genesis. James, the greatest providence after the Second Calamity is not the Five Elements of Genesis, but rather the Elemental Inversion cultivation method.”

James was stunned.

The Five Elements of Genesis were terrifying enough. Hearing that they were not the greatest providence, he could not help but be stunned.

“L-Leave this place at once and search for Elemental Inversion.”

Sophie said.

However, as her words disclosed incredible Heaven’s secret, she suffered a terrible backlash. The terrifying power of the Heavenly Breath materialized and struck her, and she collapsed heavily to the ground. At that moment, she could feel her powers disappearing, and she was being assimilated by the Heavenly Breath.

“How terrifying...”

Sophie took a deep breath.

She knew she had disclosed Heaven’s secret. Those who reached the Emperor Rank or were infinitely close to crossing into the Grand Emperor Rank were capable of gaining insight into Heaven’s secret. However, they would not disclose it for fear of suffering retribution.

Sophie, meanwhile, did the opposite, but she did not have a choice.

“E-Elemental Inversion c-can be found in the five vortexes’ Time-Space Portals’ central region. There’s a hidden Space-Time Portal there...”

The more she said, the greater the backlash she suffered. At that moment, she felt her life hanging by a thread.

‘Am I going to die?’

Sophie began to lose consciousness.

However, at that moment, an afterimage appeared.

“Y-Your Majesty...” she spoke. “Y-Your soul... Does it linger here still?”

An illusory voice came, “Soon... I long foresaw this day. I exist to help you get through this tribulation.”

After speaking, the illusory shadow waved his arm, and countless inscriptions materialized in his palm and enveloped Sophie.

At that moment, the pain subsided. She could feel that the Heavenly Path was no longer targeting her.

Sophie stood up and thanked him respectfully. “Thank you, Emperor Jabari...”

The afterimage shook his head slightly and said, “I’m going to vanish for real this time. You have broken a taboo. Do not repeat your mistakes, or else there’ll be no one else who can save you. Unless, of course, you have the power to change destiny.”

“Understood.” Sophie nodded and asked, “Emperor Jabari, how far can James progress?”

The afterimage said, “I don’t know. I foresee that the Heavenly Path will be chaotic in the near future, and nothing can be extrapolated.”

“What do you mean?” Sophie was confused.

“This means that the future is full of variables...”

The afterimage’s voice grew weaker and weaker until it completely vanished.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2425–Sophie tried extrapolating the ways to obtain the Fire Genesis.

Over the past few years, James’ performance had improved substantially. As she helped him out indirectly, she began to sense that she was increasingly bound together with James and that there was heavy Karma between them. To eradicate the Karma, James had to keep growing stronger. Otherwise, his Karma would fall upon her shoulders. Since things had already come to this, she believed she might as well help James one more time. However, she did not expect that she would disclose Heaven’s secret and transgress the Heavenly Path.

She knew what would happen if she disclosed Heaven’s secret. However, just a moment ago, she endured excruciating pain and told James about the information she acquired. Fortunately, remnants of Emperor Jabari’s soul lingered in the Celestial Abode, or else she would have been doomed.

As Emperor Jabari completely vanished, she breathed a sigh of relief and sat in a lotus position on the ground. Her face was pale as she murmured, “Thank you, Your Majesty.”

Meanwhile, James, who was in the outside world, had no idea that Sophie was almost being annihilated by the Heavenly Path.

After Sophie told him that the Five Elements of Genesis were not the greatest providence, he immediately left this world and returned to Earth.

There were five energy vortexes in the sky, and each had an illusory door corresponding to the unknown location of the Five Elements of Genesis.

“Was there a hidden door in the central region?” James murmured.

Then, he walked toward the central region of the five vortexes. After he approached the area, he scanned his surroundings. However, he could not find the hidden door.

“I can’t find anything. Sophie,” he said.

Through the Celestial Abode, Sophie observed the situation outside. After brief contemplation, she said, Use your senses. It shouldn’t be visible to the naked eye. Perhaps you can only see it when you approach the central region.”

James scanned his surroundings. Realizing he was not yet in the central region, he began walking forward. As he walked, he scanned his surroundings. Soon, he spotted an illusory door before him.

“Just as I thought.” James smiled and scanned his surroundings once more.

All living beings of the Three-Thousand Worlds had entered the five vortexes. Without a single living being in plain sight, he did not hesitate and immediately entered the door.

His vision blurred.

When he reopened his eyes, the scenery before him had changed. He was brought to an unknown place.

This place was wide and spacious. There were no mountains, streams, or anything for that matter.

“Sophie, how do I obtain Elemental Inversion?” James asked.

This was Heaven’s secret. Sophie no longer dared gain insight into the changes of the Law of Heaven and learn of Heaven’s Secret. If she continued to do so, she might lose her life.

“I can’t help you out anymore, James. Think of a way yourself,” Sophie’s voice came.

Hearing this, James furrowed his eyebrows, but he remained silent and wandered about the region.

Soon, the scenery before him changed once more.

Before him was a mountain, and there was no end in sight.

There was a winding road on the mountain. At the foot of the mountain, there was a gazebo where five elderly men were sitting.

However, when James blinked, everything disappeared. Instead, a painting came into view. The painting spanned across the sky, depicting a mountain with a winding road. At the foot of the mountain, there was a gazebo where five elderly men were sitting.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2426—"A painting?"

James froze momentarily.

The moment his eyes gazed upon the scenery, he thought it was real. It appeared that it was only a painting

"Could Elemental Inversion be related to the painting? Are the five elderly men in the painting the Five Ancestral Gods who controlled the Five Elements of Genesis and created Elemental Inversion in the Primeval Age?" James murmured.

"Who are you?"

Just as James' gaze was fixed on the painting, a voice came.

"Huh?" Puzzled, James turned to the side and saw a man staring at him in the distance.

James returned the stare.

The man was around twenty years old. Wearing a blue robe, he had long hair and a somewhat handsome- looking appearance.

"Who are you?" James was on guard. He only found this place with the help of Sophie's guidance, and this was where Elemental Inversion was located.

Now that an outsider was here, this man before him must know about Elemental Inversion. That would make him an enemy.

The man wearing a blue robe furrowed his eyebrows. He never thought there would be someone here. He only came here after receiving guidance from a prominent figure. As such, he did not expect there would be someone else here.

After furrowing his eyebrows, the man said, "The Five Elements of Genesis aren't located here. What are you doing here?"

James returned the question, "Why are you here then if the Five Elements of Genesis aren't here? Could it be there are treasures even greater than the Five Elements of Genesis here? Why don't we share what we know?"

"Hmph!" The man grunted. "Don't think you can smooth-talk your way out of this. Leave this place at once. Or else, don't blame me for what happens next."

"Oh, what do you plan to do?" A slight grin crept up on James' face as he said, "This place doesn't belong to you. Why can't I be here?"

The man did not waste his breath with James. His face darkened, and he struck with his palm. At that moment, he had already appeared before James.

Powerful Palm Energy shredded through the air.

James raised his hand to block the attack.

Boom!

Their palms collided.

As two powerful True Essences collided, a terrifying ripple was created.

James could feel his arm go limp. As the terrifying power spread from his arm to his body, he was instantly injured. At the same time, he staggered backward.

Meanwhile, the man remained where he stood.

"He's strong..

A chill ran down James' spine.

His strength was unrivaled even among the prodigies of the Three-Thousand Worlds. Although he had yet to resort to the dragon bones and Sacrilegious Ascension, his strength was nonetheless equivalent to a cultivator at the Mage Rank. Now that their palms collided, he did not expect he would be at a disadvantage.

After dealing James a blow, the man pulled back his hand and looked at James coldly, "You shouldn't be here. Leave now and compete for the Five Elements of Genesis. Otherwise, it might be too late."

"Hahaha!" James laughed. "Drop your act! Do you seriously think I have no idea what this place has in store? Without the item here, we won't be able to obtain the Five Elements of Genesis anyway. Even if we find the Five Elements of Genesis, we won't be able to cultivate True Elemental Energy. Without cultivating True Elemental Energy, we won't be able to obtain the Five Elements of Genesis."

Hearing this, the man had a murderous look on his face. His expression darkened as he said coldly. Quite knowledgeable, aren't you? Looks like I can't spare you now. No matter who your backer is, you are dead meat."

"How lively!"

At that moment, a burst of laughter came in the distance.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2427—James and the man in a blue robe turned to look at the source of the laughter. From afar, two people approached them.

They were a man and a woman.

"Marcello... Jace..."

Upon seeing them, James furrowed his eyebrows.

Why were they here?

After some thought, he believed that this was only natural. After all, they came from the Demon Realm and were members of the Demon Race. Meanwhile, the Demon Race was a terrifying force in the Primordial Age. They managed to singlehandedly bring about a collapse of an era. As such, there must be extremely powerful figures among the Demon Race. Since Sophie knew of Elemental Inversion's existence, there was no way the Demon Race would not be in the know.

Marcello walked toward James, glanced at him, and pursed her lips, saying smilingly, "I knew you weren't an ordinary person. You must have someone's backing. However, I didn't expect him or her to know of this place."

James smiled faintly and said, "In that case, I assume you're here for Elemental Inversion?"

Marcello nodded and said, "I just received news from powerful figures among the Demon Race. This information was only acquired through the combined extrapolation of many powerful members of our race. Although we succeeded in the end, we paid a hefty price."

"A hefty price?" James froze. Immediately, he contacted Sophie who was in the Celestial Abode. "Sophie, are you alright after helping me extrapolate Elemental Inversion?"

Sophie's voice came, "Of course I'm alright."

Hearing this, James breathed a sigh of relief.

After conversing with Sophie, James looked at Marcello, Jace, and the man in a blue robe.

Sophie, who was able to sense the situation outside, warned, "Be careful, James. Everyone here has the backing of some extremely powerful figures. Only cultivators at the Grand Emperor Rank or infinitely close to it are capable of this extrapolation."

"Understood, I'll proceed with caution."

James said no more.

No matter who stood in his way, he had to obtain Elemental Inversion. Even against Marcello, he would not go easy on her. That was because this Supernatural Power was simply too terrifying. Those who obtained it would become a force to be reckoned with.

However, this was only the providence after the Second Calamity. How powerful would the providence of the Third and Fourth Calamities be?

At that moment, another man walked toward the group.

He was wearing a black robe and had a somewhat handsome-looking face. He also exuded an unusual aura.

It was Lucifer.

Upon seeing the crowd, he could not help but smile, "I guess I'm late. I didn't expect there would be someone else here.”

As more and more people appeared, the expression of the man in a blue robe turned grim.

“I guess this should be all, right?” James gazed into the distance and murmured.

He knew nothing about the strength of Jace and the man in the blue robe and only had a rough understanding of Lucifer’s power. However, the only thing he was sure of was that Jace and the man in the blue robe would be easy to deal with. If more people appeared, obtaining Elemental Inversion would certainly be extremely difficult.

Jace glanced at Lucifer and said nothing.

Though they were members of the Demon Race, they were of different clans.

Instead, it was Marcello who took the initiative to greet Lucifer. She smiled and said, “Hey there, Lucifer.”

Lucifer looked at her and smiled faintly, saying, “I’m older than even your father. Yet you called me by my name.”

Marcello stuck her tongue out and said smilingly, “Don’t tell me you wish to be addressed as ‘Grand Patriarch’.”

Lucifer waved slightly, unwilling to prolong the conversation any longer. He walked toward the painting, and his gaze was fixed on the huge painting in mid-air.

After some time, he furrowed his eyebrows and murmured, “Could it be that Elemental Inversion is related to this painting?”

“That’s right. They are related to each other.” A giggle came from afar. “I never expected that it would this lively here. I thought no one would come.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2428—They turned their heads.

A gorgeous woman walked toward them from afar. Though she approached from a distance, she appeared before the crowd in the blink of an eye.

The woman was approximately 180 centimeters tall and was wearing a red dress. She had long black hair, delicate features, and fair skin as white as snow. With a smile, she introduced herself, “Hello, my name is Nyasia Ximena. I come from Jodón.”

Hearing this, Jace, Lucifer, and the man in a blue robe all took a few steps back.

James asked puzzledly, "What's Jodon?"

"It's a mysterious and terrifying place. There's no need for you to know all this at the moment, Now, you only need to know that Jodon is comparable to the Demon Race in strength."

"Oh."

James looked at the woman called Nyasia puzzledly.

Meanwhile, Nyasia smiled, "I wanted to come to Earth a long time ago. At long last, I'm finally here. Pleased to make your acquaintances."

James smiled and said, "Hi, Nyasia, my name is James Caden."

Marcello kept glancing over at him but he feigned ignorance. James walked over to Nyasia and tried to shake her hand.

Nyasia froze. Confused by James' actions, she looked at him in confusion. "What?"

"..." Awkwardly, James retracted his hand and scratched his head, saying, "N—Nothing..."

"Is this the Five—Elements Painting?" Nyasia stared at the painting in mid—air and murmured.

Although James knew that Elemental Inversion was located here, he had no idea what the Five—Elements Painting was. So, he asked, "Ms. Nyasia, what is the Five—Elements Painting?"

Nyasia explained, "I don't know much about it either, but I heard that it's an artifact left behind by the Five Ancestral Gods in the Primeval Age. It has been passed down through countless generations and has been present since the Ancient Heavenly Court Age and the Primordial Age until now.

"The Five—Elements Painting has always existed in the legends as no one has ever seen it with their own eyes. Legend has it that the Five—Elements Painting is related to the Five Elements of Genesis. I never thought I'd be able to witness it with my own eyes today."

Marcello and Jace looked at her.

As expected of a living being from Jodon, she was much more knowledgeable. Though they came from the Demon Realm, they had never heard of such a thing before.

James was shocked too.

Sophie was the daughter of a war god from the Ancient Heavenly Court. That was why she had heard of the Five Ancestral Gods. He was surprised to learn that Nyasia knew about this as well.

Since she knew everything, James cut to the chase and asked, “Is Elemental Inversion concealed inside the Five–Elements Painting?”

Nyasia glanced at him and said, “How would I know? But I guess so.”

Saying that, she looked at the man in a blue robe and smiled, “You must be Willibald Jamarcus.”

The man looked at her. His expression was composed, and he seemed to not be taken aback that Nyasia hailed from Jodon.

“Mhm.” He nodded slightly.

Nyasia said, “Did your master not tell you how to decipher the Five–Elements Painting?”

After brief contemplation, he said, “Yes, he did.”

Nyasia said, “In that case, why don’t you spill the beans? It’s not like you’ll obtain Elemental Inversion just because you know how to decipher the puzzle. You need luck and fortune on your side as well.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2429–Nyasia had no idea how to decipher the Five–Elements Painting. However, she knew that Willibald would certainly know since he had a powerful backer–his master, who was also terrifying.

Indeed, Willibald knew how to decipher the Five–Elements Painting. But he also knew that to obtain Elemental Inversion, he required a great amount of good fortune and not the methods to decipher the painting.

He nodded slightly and said, “Yes, I know.”

Hearing this, everyone turned to look at him.

He said, “My master told me that the Five–Elements Painting is a priceless treasure in the Primeval Age and has been passed down over countless generations. To decipher the Five–Elements Painting, we need five different powers.”

Hearing this, Nyasia asked, “Do you mean True Elemental Energy?”

“Mhm,” Willibald said.

Furrowing his eyebrows, James said, “This is getting complicated. We have acquired such great strength. There’s no way we’ll give up on True Essence and cultivate True Elemental Energy. Do we have to find five people who cultivate True Elemental Energy to decipher the Five–Elements Painting?”

Willibald glanced at James and said coldly, “No need. Before I arrive, my master has already prepared True Elemental Energy for me.”

Nyasia said, “What are you waiting for then? Hurry up and decipher the Five–Elements Painting.”

To be honest, Willibald was reluctant to do so. He thought he would be the only one here. Now that so many had appeared, the chances of him obtaining Elemental Inversion had decreased drastically. However, he knew that he might not be able to obtain Elemental Inversion just because he was the one who deciphered the Five–Elements Painting. Good fortune was the key here.

Fate was preordained, and the Heavenly Path had determined everything. What belonged to a person would end up in their possession. No one could ever take it away unless one reached a rank where one could reverse fate and change destiny. Only then could they forcibly seize other people’s boons.

Lucifer, Jace, and Marcello simply remained silent and looked at Willibald.

Meanwhile, Willibald took a flag out. The flag had five colors, each corresponding to a single element.

As he waved the flag, powerful energy immediately materialized from within and entered the painting in the sky.

He repeatedly waved a few times.

The power of five elements materialized and entered the painting. At that moment, the painting underwent some changes and transformed into a real one.

In front of him was a range of undulating mountains, with a winding path leading straight to the end of the mountain range. At the foot of the mountain was a gazebo where five elderly men were sitting. At that moment, they were happily chit–chatting away while playing chess.

However, the chessboard on the table was bizarre.

Before each of the elderly men was a chessboard, and the chess pieces on each of the five chessboards were mysterious inscriptions.

“Ancestral God Gold, who will obtain Elemental Inversion in the future?” an elderly man asked.

Another said, “Elemental Inversion was something we created after undergoing numerous hardships. However, it’s only a theory and hasn’t been put into practice. Whether it would work or not will depend on future generations obtaining the Five Elements of Genesis and Elemental Inversion.”

“That might be a little hard.”

“Indeed, the Five Elements of Genesis is already one of the strongest powers on heaven and earth. Together with the strongest Supernatural Power, who would be this fortunate to obtain them all at the same time?”

“In the future, after passing through countless eras, everything would have changed. Perhaps there could be one out there.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2430—A few elderly men were chit–chatting.

Meanwhile, James and the others waited outside the gazebo. However, the elderly men seemed to not have noticed them.

James furrowed his eyebrows and said, “What’s going on? It seems that they can’t see us.”

However, at that moment, an elderly man wearing a golden robe turned suddenly and glanced at him, saying smilingly. “We have company.”

The others turned as well and looked at James and the others.

Marcello said, “My name is Marcello Mariano. It’s an honor to meet you.”

“Haha...”

One of the elderly men stroked his chin and smiled at James and the others, saying, “I never expected the Five–Elements Painting we left behind would one day appear to see the light of day again. It even brought us a few youngsters.”

At that moment, Sophie's voice came, "James, this is a scenery from the Primeval Age. The people in front of you should be the Five Ancestral Gods. They do not exist in this era, but they already knew what would happen despite being in the Primeval Age."

"Are you for real?" James froze.

"Go take a closer look if you don't believe me."

Hearing this, James walked over to the elderly men and reached out his hand to touch one of them. As soon as they made contact, the elderly man disappeared. When he withdrew his hand, the elderly man reappeared.

The elderly man said smilingly, "Haha... It appears that this youngster has seen through us."

Hearing this, James took a deep breath. He marveled at the Five Ancestral Gods of the Primeval Age. Despite being separated by so many eras, they were able to foresee what would happen in the current era.

"Not bad, all six of you possess enormous potential. However, not anyone can obtain Elemental Inversion. You have to endure extremely heavy Karma."

Hearing this, James smiled faintly and said, "That's no big deal. I have obtained all 108 Infinity Steles. The person who gave me the Infinity Steles said the exact same thing. In the end, the Infinity Steles chose me. That's why I can endure Karma. So give Elemental Inversion to me."

"Oh? Are the Infinity Steles of Jack Wawrzyniec in your possession?"

Hearing this, the other elderly men froze. Meanwhile, the others behind James panicked.

Nyasja hurriedly said, "He's not the only one who can endure Karma."

Willibald chimed in, "Indeed, you have to choose wisely."

Another elderly man said, "We're not the ones making the decision. Everything is preordained by fate. I'll leave some Laws of Inscription behind. Although they can't represent the Heavenly Path, they are a simplified version of the Heavenly Path. Its decision is final."

Then, they disappeared.

Meanwhile, the inscriptions on the chessboard came to life and immediately appeared in the sky. These inscriptions were constantly changing, like the countless stars in the universe. Immediately afterward, the inscriptions fell like dots of light onto them.

“Argh!” Marcello cried out in pain. She was the first to be disqualified.

As she screamed, she left the Five–Elements Painting and appeared outside. She could see that the painting was still in the air and that the Five Ancestral Gods had disappeared without a trace.

Only James, Lucifer, Nyasia, Jace, and Willibald remained in the painting.

Marcello scratched her nose and smiled bitterly, saying, “I never thought I’d be the first one to be disqualified.”

Since she could no longer obtain Elemental Inversion, she did not dwell on the matter. Outside, she was curious to see who would be the one to obtain the well–renowned and ground–breaking Elemental Inversion.
