The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2451—James heard the middle-aged man mention Three-Thousand Cultivation Arts but had no idea what he was referring to.

Sophie replied with a smile, “The Three-Thousand Cultivation Arts is the most formidable secret Supernatural Art that existed during the Ancient Heavenly Court Age. It’s the secret technique of the Lord of the Ancient Heavenly Court.”

James said in admiration, “I never expected you to have mastered such a powerful Supernatural Art.” “That’s enough. Stop with your flattery,” said Sophie.

Then, she lightly flicked James’ wrist, and white Sword Energy burst out from the ground in the distance. Before James could get a better look at the Sword Energy, it was teleported into the Celestial Abode.

Sophie’s voice now rang out from inside the Celestial Abode. “The Sword Energy is currently too fervent for you. Without sacrificial training, it’ll be impossible for you to refine it. I’ll handle with it first so you can refine it later.”

After Sophie finished explaining to James, she did not elaborate further.

When he was done listening to Sophie, James chose to leave the area.

Meanwhile, Caelum returned to the Azurean Clan in the Divine Dimension.

“How did it go, Lord Wachtman?”

“Did you obtain the Sword Energy?”

Many of the Azurean Clan’s elite members pressed him for answers.

Sitting at the front of the hall, Caelum’s brows furrowed together as he replied, “A ridiculously strong person showed up out of the blue and used the Three-Thousand Cultivation Arts.”

“What?!”

“Are you talking about the Three-Thousand Cultivation Arts from the Ancient Heavenly Court Age?”

“Who was that person?”

The Azurean Clan’s powerhouses exchanged bewildered glances.

“He claimed his name was James Caden. That name is exactly identical to the one belonging to a certain human on Earth,” Caelum uttered softly.

Caelum was Marcello’s father. As such, he was apprised of the earth’s situation. Therefore, it was not strange that he had heard of James.

He knew James had a Demonic Body, reformed by the Natal Primordial Spirit of a Grand Emperor from the Demon Race.

However, he knew that the James on Earth was relatively weak. The one that showed up in the Demon Realm’s Mortal Dimension boasted incredible strength. Even he stood no chance against the person he met in the Mortal Dimension.

Caelum raised his hand, and mysterious inscriptions appeared around his palm. The inscriptions formed a powerful extrapolation formation.

He wanted to find out the origin of the strangely powerful man that showed up.

Puff!

However, he spat out a mouthful of blood as soon as he began tracing James’ origins.

“Lord Wachtman!”

A few of the Azurean Clan’s powerhouses immediately rushed over to help Caelum up from the ground.

“I can’t analyse him. Impossible...”

Caelum had a grave expression.

His attempt to investigate James failed. It meant that James’ strength was at an unimaginable height, that his existence no longer cohered to the Heavenly Path’s rules.

Caelum took a deep breath and disregarded the matter for now. Then, he changed the topic. “By the way, how is Maxine doing?”

A powerful clan member replied, “She’s doing fine but is still meditating in seclusion at the holy site. Her body is almost completely reformed. After the process is over, she’ll have the strongest physique in our clan’s history”

Caelum sighed and said, “I went to the Mortal Dimension in order to acquire the Sword Energy and train her to become our clan’s new champion. Unfortunately, Lucifer from the Hadean Clan has appeared on Earth. He’s the descendant of a Grand Emperor. As such, many of the Demon Realm’s forces are starting to side with the Haedean Clan. It won’t be long before the Haedean Clan takes over the Demon Realm.”

After Sophie borrowed James' body to defeat the three formidable opponents, she acquired the Sword Energy for James.

However, she would not allow him to refine it yet.

Meanwhile, James was walking among the ruins in the Mortal Dimension.

He traveled along through the area that had been destroyed by the three powerhouses. After traveling for six months, he still within the wreckage of the area. Sophie provided him with no help, forcing him to advance through the ruins on his own.

James found a boulder in the wasteland.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2452—James sat in a lotus position and absorbed the power of heaven and earth to enhance his strength.

The sun rose above the horizon.

The Demon Realm's sun was massive and glaring. The heat coming from it was also much hotter than the Earth's sun.

James stopped cultivating and expelled the impurities from his body.

He stood up and stretched his muscles, murmuring, "I've already converted the True Elemental Energy into True Elemental Essence. Once I improve my True Elemental Essence, I'll easily break through the Elysian Seal the next time around."

James was eager for another breakthrough to reach the Immortal Ascension's Ninth Stage and practice the invincible Sword Energy

"By the way, Ms. Sophie. Could you tell me more about that unrivaled powerhouse from the Ancient Heavenly Court Age?"

James mentally nudged Sophie.

Sophie's voice immediately responded from within the Celestial Abode.

"I learned about him from my father. He was an Ancestral God of the Primordial Age. Before he perished, he buried his legendary sword and his legacy, including his signature skills, in a sword mound."

“My father went to this Ancestral God’s sword mound and learned a few of his sword techniques.”

“My father told me the Seven Realms existed during the Primordial Age. This Ancestral God went to one of these realms to pursue a certain person. However, his quest proved to be unsuccessful. With his long sword, he destroyed an entire realm on his own. After that incident, only six out of the Seven Realms remained.”

Hearing this, James’ clicked his tongue.

“Is he really that strong?”

“Ha, this doesn’t even scratch the surface, James. There’s a lot more you have yet to know. In the meantime, you need to focus on improving your cultivation rank. I believe you’ll also reach such heights in the future.”

“Mhm. I’ll devote myself to cultivating.”

James clenched his fists and wore a calm, confident expression.

He continued walking through the wasteland and occasionally stopped to cultivate, focusing on improving himself.

Three years passed in the blink of an eye.

After working hard for three years, his cultivation rank had reached the Immortal Ascension’s Sixth Stair. His True Elemental Essence was also on the same rank.

Now, he had seven types of True Essence in his body.

Yin, Yang, and the Five Elemental Essence.

James sat in a lotus position somewhere within the ruins.

He mobilized his True Essence, and the Elysian Seal appeared, suppressing his meridians and strength.

“Break!” James roared.

Veins bulged throughout his body.

The Yin, Yang, and Five Elemental Essences quickly surged through his body and continuously broke through the seals in his body.

This time, there were no accidents nor did the Heavenly Path Embodiment appear during his attempt to break through. In three days, he successfully broke through the seals and entered the Immortal Ascension's Seventh Stair.

After his achievement, his True Essence and physical body evolved again and became stronger.

After long time, James finally stood up from the ground.

James mentally willed the Yin, Yang, and Five Elemental Essence to flow through his whole body, allowing his strength to reach its peak. James immediately leaped into the air and swung his palm toward the ground.

A powerful illusory palm materialized and struck the ground.

Boom!

The ground and mountains began to quake violently as if the end times had come.

After seeing the damage he had caused to the area, James smiled in satisfaction.

He was only at the Immortal Ascension's Seventh Stair but already possessed such great power. When he reached the Sage Rank, he would be unstoppable.

"Very good."

Sophie's voice came from the Celestial Abode. "You already made another breakthrough in just a few years. It's very rare for one to cultivate so rapidly."

"Thanks for the compliment. I'll continue working hard."

James wore a smile, satisfied to have earned the praise of a powerhouse like Sophie.

"Continue wandering around the Demon Realm and strive to reach the Sage Rank so you can explore the Sage Dimension before returning to Earth."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2453—James had been in the Demon Realm for six years.

He watched the fierce battle between the three powerhouses over the hidden Sword Energy for the first three years.

For the next three years, he walked through the ruins of the battle and cultivated along the way. After these three years, his cultivation rank had reached the Immortal Ascension's Seventh Stair, and his physical strength was at the middle phase of the Mage Rank's First Stage.

His physical strength was terrifyingly destructive.

"How long more until I can get out of this ruined wasteland, Ms. Sophie?"

Sophie's voice came from the Celestial Abode. "You're in the great wilderness of the Demon Realm's Mortal Dimension. It's a vast and boundless region. With your current strength, it'll still be some time before you get out of the great wilderness. However, there's no rush, so take your time. After all, it doesn't matter where you cultivate anyway."

James said, "...But I've already been in the Demon Realm for so long, I'm worried the earth's Third Calamity will happen soon."

"You can rest assured. It won't happen anytime soon. I estimate that the earth's Third Calamity will happen in about a hundred years' time."

"It's going to take that long?"

"Is a hundred years that long of a timeframe?"

James was rendered speechless.

Was it not a ridiculous amount of time?

James suddenly remembered Sophie was someone from the Primordial Age. For her, the passing of a century was nothing but a blink of an eye.

However, a century felt like an eternity to him.

"A hundred years, huh? A hundred years before the earth's Third Calamity happens."

James looked at the rubble before him. His resolution and desire for strength immediately grew more firm. With a determined look, he murmured, "I'll have to work hard for the next one hundred years. I must become a peerless powerhouse by the time I return to Earth and have the strength to kill a Sage with the flick of a finger."

James stepped forward and continued his journey.

The great wilderness was ravaged by the three powerhouses.

Even after traveling for several years, James had not gotten out yet.

Although he had no idea how big the great wilderness was, he took his time. He made his way through the ruins and cultivated along the way. At the same time, he also practiced Elemental Inversion.

Sophie watched him practice the Elemental Inversion. Since she was a Quasi-Emperor, she had excellent analytical skills, far beyond James' own. Thus, she watched and guided James while he practiced the Elemental Inversion.

James sat in a lotus position within the ruins.

At that moment, five different energies flowed through James' body.

The Five Elements-Metal, Wood, Water, Fire, and Earth.

They complemented yet also opposed each other.

The Elemental Inversion utilizes the principle of the Five Elements' compatibility to form an entirely new True Essence.

It was similar to the Lunar and Terra Inversion since it also involved the fusion of energy.

The Lunar and Terra Inversion was the amalgamation of Yin and Yang Energy.

Meanwhile, the Elemental Inversion was a fusion of the Five Elements.

The five True Elemental Essence gradually merged in James' body to form a new energy.

The energy was fierce. As soon as the five energies merged together, James' strength exceeded the Tribulation Rank and attracted Tribulation Clouds. Fortunately, he dispelled the Elemental Inversion in time, and the Tribulation Clouds dispersed.

If he had not stopped it, he would have had to face a horrific ordeal.

James stopped cultivating. Sweat drenched his forehead.

"Incredible! The Elemental Inversion fuses the five True Essences and enhances my strength all the way to the Tribulation Rank."

James' jaw practically hit the floor in surprise.

Sophie's voice came from the Celestial Abode. "Don't forget who created this Supernatural Power. He was one of the Ancestral Gods, after all. Moreover, Elemental Inversion isn't as simple as you might think it is. What you've learned now are only the basics.

"When you become a Grand Emperor and truly comprehend the power of the Five Elements of Genesis, you'll be able to unleash enough power to destroy the world with Elemental Inversion."

Although James could not truly grasp the power of the Five Elements of Genesis, he cultivated True Elemental Essence and could perform Elemental Inversion. This served to increase his strength exponentially.

His current cultivation rank was at the Immortal Ascension's Seventh Stage, but his strength could reach the Tribulation Rank and attract Tribulation Clouds with the Elemental Inversion.

He could unleash immense power even without relying on the Sacrilegious Ascension and dragon bone. With the Sacrilegious Ascension, dragon bone, and Elemental Inversion combined, he would be a force to be reckoned with.

Not to mention, he still had the Infinity Stele Formation.

James could hardly imagine it.

On top of that, he had an army of 400,000 men at his beck and call.

Haah!

James drew a deep breath.

Even though he was still relatively weak, he had countless other tricks up his sleeve. If he were to use them all at once, he could cause havoc and easily kill a Sage in seconds.

After successfully learning the Elemental Inversion, James was shocked by the strength he could unleash. As expected from a formidable skill created by the Five Ancestral Gods developed, it did indeed have transcendental power.

It could already boost his strength tremendously despite only being in the most basic stage.

“Where should I go next, Ms. Sophie?” After successfully grasping the Five Elements of Genesis, James was in high spirits.

“Wait a minute. Let me divine what boons are in the Demon Realm’s Mortal Dimension.”

Inside the Celestial Abode, Sophie began to focus on divining locations.

Extrapolating such minor things had no effect on her. She no longer cared that much about the Karma she might attract to herself.

Her fate and James had already been entwined deeply. If James could not progress in his cultivation, she would not survive the Grand Emperor Tribulation. For her to become a Grand Emperor, James had to constantly make significant breakthroughs and increase his cultivation base to the highest ranks.

Very soon, she completed her divination.

“James, I’ve discovered a city called Grandwych in the Demon Realm’s Mortal Dimension. Inside this city, there’s a powerhouse whose strength has reached the Tribulation Rank. He is one step away from entering the Sage Rank but is wounded.”

“Okay, what does it have to do with me?” James was puzzled.

Sophie explained, “The powerhouse conveyed a message to all doctors throughout the Demon Realm, saying that he’ll give out a divine pill to whoever can cure him.”

“What kind of divine pill is it?” James was intrigued. Since Sophie brought it up to him, it must be beneficial to him.

Sophie replied, “His ancestor left behind a divine pill, and it’s capable of raising those with a cultivation rank below the Sage Rank by one rank. Although I generally disapprove of using elixirs and pills to improve your cultivation rank, using one occasionally won’t be a problem. After you consume it, you should enter the Celestial Abode to train and condense your True Essence.”

Hearing this, James asked, “So, as long as I can heal this powerhouse, I’ll obtain the divine pill and can jump from the Immortal Ascension’s Seventh Stair to the Eight Stair instantly?”

“Correct.”

With a smile, James asked, “Since you’re so strong, Ms. Sophie, can’t you just refine some elixirs and pills for me to improve my strength?”

Sophie rolled her eyes in the abode and said, "It's not that easy. Cultivators must face adversity and overcome them to grow. Although I have the strength to instantly promote you to the Sage Rank or even the Divine Rank, your cultivation will reach its natural limit and won't be able to improve any further.

"Don't fill your head with such useless thoughts. You'll have to walk this journey yourself. It's okay to take a few shortcuts along the way, but you still have to use your own efforts for the remaining journey.

"It's like how a poor boy who suddenly gains tens of millions might enjoy a rich life temporarily, but won't sustain it for long. He will eventually cause his own demise."

Sophie began talking some sense into him.

"Alright, Ms. Sophie. I understand and will stay grounded. I just mentioned it jokingly."

With a helpless expression, James asked, "You said it's a city called Grandwych, right? Which way should I go? I'll head there immediately and use Crucifier to save this powerhouse.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2455—Crucifier was a miraculous tool.

With Crucifier and his True Essence, James could cure even those on the brink of death. He was confident he could heal anyone back to health as long as they were still breathing.

After James confirmed his destination, he quickly left the ruins and headed toward the city Sophie mentioned.

This time, he flew through the sky with all his strength.

After one month, he finally left the great wilderness.

According to Sophie, Grandwych was just a short distance away from the great wilderness. It would only take a few days to reach the city if he traveled at full speed.

After James left the great wilderness, he quickly made his way toward his destination. Five days later, a grand city appeared in his sight.

The city's structure was very unusual. It had no city walls, and the buildings' designs differed from the ones James was familiar with on Earth. They were mountain-like buildings with caves built into their sides.

"Is this Grandwych?"

James looked at the mountain-like buildings ahead of him. He would have suspected he had entered an unidentified primal forest if not for the lively crowd.

"Yeap. That's Grandwych," Sophie replied from within the Celestial Abode.

James did not ask any more questions and walked into the city.

Outside of Grandwych was a mountain with a few ancient scripts engraved on it. Although James could not read them, he could guess they were most likely Grandwych written in the local script.

Beyond the mountain, there was a canyon that teemed with many creatures.

Some of them looked like humans, while the others were beasts.

The majority of them had human appearances.

James reached the perimeter of the canyon.

A few guards were posted in the area.

The guards looked like humans and were armed with long swords, patrolling to ensure the area's safety.

After entering the canyon, countless mountains poked out around him. The canyon served as the equivalent of a main street.

"What a strange city. It's completely different than the ones on Earth." James swept his gaze over his surroundings, checking every corner. Soon, he noticed there were some caves within the surrounding mountains. These caves had mysterious scripts at their entrances.

Sophie explained, "These caves are shops. The building structures here are different from those on Earth. Since it's your first time in the Demon Realm, it'll take some time to get used to the environment here."

"Mhm." James nodded.

James did not wander around the city but headed directly to where the injured powerhouse was with Sophie's guidance.

The injured powerhouse was Grandwych's City Lord, Yalerad Balchae. He was at the peak of the Tribulation Rank and was one step away from becoming a Sage. However, he failed to get through the Sage Tribulation and was seriously injured.

He was willing to reward whoever healed his injuries with the divine pill left behind by his ancestor.

Soon, James reached the mountain where Yalerad lived.

The mountain was 10,000 meters high.

Fully-armed guards kept watch at the mountain foot.

Apart from the guards, many creatures that came to treat Yalerad's injuries thronged the surroundings. These people queued up to announce and record their visit.

James waited all afternoon until it was finally his turn.

The person in charge of registering the visitors was a humanoid woman. She looked to be in her 20s and was incredibly gorgeous. James deduced that she was a Mage Rank powerhouse.

The Demon Realm was definitely quite the experience for James. A powerhouse at the Mage Rank was relegated to registering information.

Sophie's voice came from the Celestial Abode. "We're only in the Demon Realm's Mortal Dimension right now, but even Mages aren't considered strong here. Wait until you head to the Sage Rank. You'll find that Sages are at the very bottom of the hierarchy there."

James could vaguely imagine what it would be like in the Sage Dimension.

The qualification for entering the Sage Dimension was to enter the Sage Rank.

Therefore, the lowest rank there would be Sages.

"Name?"

While James communicated with Sophie, the woman registering visitors spoke to him. When she did not get a response from James after a long time, her pretty face scrunched in irritation. She called him again, "Hey, I'm talking to you."

James returned to his senses and looked at the woman, replying to her calmly, "Why are you being so rude? I'm here to heal the City Lord, so you'd better watch the way you talk. If you offend me, I won't treat him."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2456—James asserted his dominance since he was currently living in the Demon Realm.

Although he had a comparatively low rank, he could still be considered outstanding in the Demon Realm's Mortal Dimension.

There was no need for him to back down.

“Ha.”

The woman suddenly snorted and said, “Wow, look at you, Mr. High and Mighty. I'm only registering your information as a formality. Otherwise, do you really think you'd have a chance to treat my master? All the great doctors from this entire region are gathered here. There's no way you'd get a turn even if you queued up for it. Anyway, how could a weakling like you even think you're worthy enough to treat my master?”

The woman was impressively powerful. James did not deliberately suppress his energy or hide his cultivation rank.

At a glance, the woman could tell that James' was only at the Immortal Ascension's Seventh Stair. The woman did not want to bother entertaining such an insignificant man.

Ever since her master announced his condition, many people have come to take advantage of the situation. Her master said anyone who came to treat him would be treated as distinguished guests regardless of their strength.

As a result, many weak people have shown up to enter the Triple Star Cave Mansion and enjoy its perks. She had seen a lot of them since then.

“What's wrong with having a low rank? Are low-ranked cultivators unable to treat injuries?” James was infuriated. He was the Dragon King of Sol, the Emperor of Wrymstead, and had also assumed the position of King of Sol.

James demanded furiously.

Many creatures were waiting in line behind James to register themselves. Seeing the commotion he was causing, they looked on curiously.

“Who's this guy?”

“It's enough that he has the gall to take advantage of the situation, yet he still insists on acting arrogantly.” “Right? He hasn't even stepped into the Mage Rank but is acting so presumptuously here. Who does he think he is?”

The creatures behind James sneered among themselves about his public outburst.

“Hey, you. Watch your mouth!” A voice suddenly came from behind him.

Hearing the sound, James turned around in that direction and saw a chubby man walking toward him. The man was dressed in a loose robe and had chubby cheeks.

Assuming the man was scolding him, James was about to fire back a retort at him.

The chubby man walked over and slammed his fist on the table. Unexpectedly, he pointed his finger at the woman and shouted, “Apologize to Mr. Caden at once!”

“O-Okay!”

The woman did not dare defy his order and immediately stood up. “I’m sorry, Mr. Caden!”

James was nonplussed by the sudden turn of events.

‘What’s going on?’

‘Who is this chubby man?’

“How does he know my name?”

James looked around him.

Everyone in his immediate vicinity turned as pale as a sheet and avoided the chubby man as if he had the plague.

“Mr. Caden.”

The chubby man looked at James with a smile and said, “Nice to meet you. My name is Henrik Declan.”

“Henrik Declan? Do I know you?” James looked at him warily.

“Nope, but now you do.”

James questioned, “Also, how do you know my name?”

“About that...”

Henrik scratched his head awkwardly. Then, he said with a smile, “Of course, I know you. Someone informed me about you in advance.”

“Who?” asked James.

Henrik chuckled and said, “That’s not important at the moment.”
