The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2501–The Labhranns' Patriarch appeared in James' room.

Though James had no idea why he was there, he greeted him respectfully.

Txomin looked at James and waved his hand.

Mysterious characters materialized in his palm.

They blended into the room's surroundings and formed a mysterious Magic Circle.

Upon seeing his bizarre behavior, James was on full alert.

'Don't tell me he's planning to kill me and seize my treasures...' As James stared at Txomin cautiously, he contacted Sophie who was inside the Celestial Abode simultaneously.

'Save me, Sophie!' However, no one responded.

Filled with consternation, James called for Sophie repeatedly, but there was still no response.

"Relax..." Txomin looked at James with a doting expression.

James took a deep breath and forcibly calmed himself down.

He looked at Txomin, gritted his teeth, and said, "Patriarch Labhrann, what are you doing in my room at this hour?" Txomin took a seat on a chair in the room and looked at James, signaling for him to sit.

James obeyed.

Txomin then sighed, while James remained silent and simply stared at him.

"T came here to request something of you," Txomin said.

"Huh?" James looked at him in confusion.

Since he was not acquainted with Txomin at all, why was he requesting his aid?

Txomin's expression turned grim as he said, "I want you to go to the Demon Abyss."

"Dream on!" James immediately stood up and said, "I'm not interested in Brielle at all.

I'm not risking my life to head to the Demon Abyss at the Great Dividing Range for a woman's sake!" Txomin waved his hand and interrupted James, saying, "Let me finish my sentence.” James sat down and looked at him, waiting for him to finish what he had to say.

He continued, “The universe had seven realms in the Primordial Age, among which the Human Realm on Earth was the strongest.

The human race had plenty of Grand Emperors, and the strongest among them was hailed as the Lord of the Human Realm, who went by the name of Xandros Tegan.

“He was the leader of all Emperors.

However, knowing that he would not survive a tribulation, he thought of a way to seal himself away in the Demon Realm.” Hearing this, James was intrigued.

He had always been interested in the affairs of the Primordial Age, but no one told him about anything.

Now, he learned that the master of Earth was called Xandros Tegan.

Txomin continued, “The Demon Race wanted to follow the wishes of the Heavenly Path and attack Earth.

Before they attacked Earth, powerful figures of the Demon Race learned that the Lord of the human race was injured through the Heavenly Path.

So, they headed to Earth, captured Xandros, and imprisoned him in Demon Abyss.

“The one who captured Xandros was the Demon Realm’s previous Lord and the Azurean Clan Patriarch.

Apart from him, no one else knew that Xandros was imprisoned in Demon Abyss.

“Everything was actually part of Xandros’ plan.

He wanted to live and avoid troubled times.

So, he destroyed his own cultivation base to create anomalies in the Heavenly Path.

After sensing the anomaly, the Lord of the Demon Realm went and captured him.”

Hearing this, James asked, “Are you trying to say that Dragon Abyss is related to Xandros?” Txomin nodded and said, “Yes.

The Primordial Age came to a close, and the Apocalypse Age has arrived.

However, the human race in the Primordial Age was dealt a heavy blow.

Besides that, the Heavenly Path of the Apocalypse Age is hostile to humans.

This is a nightmare scenario for the human race.

After losing their leader, they are now like scattered sand.

We need to save Xandros.” Hearing this, James understood everything.

Txomin wanted him to save Xandros.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2502–“You overestimate Me, Patriarch Labhrann.

That’s the Demon Realm’s restricted area.

Even you might not survive the journey, let alone me.

Besides, how am I supposed to release the seal on Xandros that was put in place by the Grand Emperor? I can’t do this.

You should seek help elsewhere.” James rejected his request immediately.

Txomin looked at him and said, “You’re the only one who can do this.” “Why?” James was confused.

Txomin said, “Your physical body was reshaped by the Hadean Clan’s Grand Emperor.

Since you have the Grand Emperor’s aura, you won’t encounter any danger while you’re in the Great Dividing Range.

As long as you can find Xandros and awaken him, he’ll tell you what to do.” James looked at Txomin.

He was confounded.

Why would a member of the Demon Race be so desperate to save a human Grand Emperor? “P-Patriarch, could you be a human?” Txomin nodded slightly and said, “Though the Labhranns are part of the Demon Race, I’m not.

I’m one of the so-called traitors of Earth who retreated to the Demon Realm alongside the Demon Race army.

Then, I joined the Labhranns.

As time passed, I became the Labhranns' Patriarch." James asked, "So aren't you going to give me any hints on finding Xandros?" Txomin shook his head.

"The previous Lord of the Demon Realm was the one who sealed Xandros Tegan away.

I only know the location and nothing else.

You'll have to investigate yourself.

Remember, you have to find Xandros no matter the cost.

"Xandros was the lord of the human race and possesses unrivaled strength.

He cheated death by avoiding tribulation and survived.

The human race needs his guidance.

"There are many powerful figures on Earth.

However, they are reluctant to show themselves due to a lack of a leader.

So, finding Xandros is of utmost importance.

This concerns the future of the human race." Txomin's expression was grim.

"In that case, I'll give it a try." James had no other choice.

For the earthlings' sake, he had to go even if he had to risk his life.

Besides, Txomin had told him that since he had the Demonic Body and exuded the aura of a Grand Emperor, he would not encounter any danger at the Great Dividing Range.

Hearing this, Txomin breathed a sigh of relief.

He stood up and patted James' back and said, "Humanity's hope now rests on your shoulders." James smiled bitterly.

All this while, he had been alone on his quest to protect humanity.

Now that he knew that the Lord of the human race was still alive, a kindler of hope was ignited in his heart.

As long as the powerful figures were willing to step forward, he no longer had to withstand the enormous pressure of shielding the earthlings from calamities.

"Time is of the essence.

Enter the void passageway and head to the Great Dividing Range at once.

Find Grand Emperor Xandros before the others find the Demonic Spiritual Herb."

"Mhm." James nodded.

Then, Txomin removed the Magic Circle and disappeared from James' view in the blink of an eye.

James sat on the chair and pulled out a bag of cigarettes from the Celestial Abode.

Lighting a cigarette, he took a deep breath and murmured with a solemn expression on his face, "I hope nothing unexpected happens this time." After smoking his cigarette, James stood up, opened the door, and walked out.

Upon leaving his courtyard, two men approached him.

They were Henrik and Qusai.

"James." "Hey, James." The two walked over to him.

Henrik look at James, puzzled, and asked, "Are you going somewhere?"

What changed your mind?" James smiled and said, "Brielle Labhrann is gorgeous.

On second thought, I think it's worth going on an adventure.

Besides, she hails from a mighty clan.

If I marry her, I'd have the Labhranns as a powerful backer." James came up with an excuse.

Although he was now sworn brothers with Henrik and Qusai, the less they knew about the Earth and the earthlings' affairs, the better.

It was best not to tell them anything.

Henrik looked at Qusai and asked, "Are you going?" Qusai nodded and said, "Of course I am." James stopped them in time and said, "I think you shouldn't go."

The Great Dividing Range is a dangerous place, and no one knows what kind of danger you will encounter there.

Those who head there have made the resolve to lay down their lives.

The consequences would be disastrous if you encounter any danger there." He did not want them to go because Txomin told him that he would not encounter any danger if he went.

Henrik said smilingly, "Since you're going, there's no way we're just going to stand by the sidelines.

Besides, you have incredible luck.

I believe that we can turn calamities into blessings with you by our side." "T agree," Qusai chimed in.

"Maybe we can even obtain great providence." Though they knew the journey would be treacherous, they insisted on going.

James smiled bitterly.

He really did not want them to go.

He was lost in thought.

After some time, he said, "To be frank, I'm a man on a mission.

As you may know, this is the Apocalypse Age for all of humanity.

It would be difficult for them to weather through the storm.

After learning that there's a way to resolve the crisis at the Great Dividing Range, I plan to head there and test things out.

I don't want you to follow me into danger." James told them the truth.

However, he remained silent on matters that were unrelated to them.

Henrik and Qusai looked at one another and nodded at the same time.

Henrik said, "In that case, we won't be going then."

Be careful on your way there.

No matter what trouble you encounter, always remember to put your safety above all.” James nodded and said, “Got it.” He turned to leave.

Then, he leaped into the air.

The void passageway was still present above the Labhranns.

As James entered the void, he disappeared without a trace.

In the distance stood a man.

Standing outside the magnificent palace, Txomin watched James’ retreating figure and murmured with a solemn expression on his face, “I hope you can find Xandros who’s trapped in the Demon Abyss.” Then, he turned to leave.

In an instant, he vanished without a trace.

Meanwhile, Henrik and Qusai remained where they stood.

They lifted their heads to stare at the void passageway in mid-air.

Qusai asked, “Henrik, for what reason do you think James went to the Great Dividing Range?” Henrik shook his head and said, “I don’t know either.

However, I know for sure that he didn’t do this for Brielle.

Maybe there are some unknown secrets there.

Well, whatever...

The only thing we need to do is to wait patiently for James’ return...”

Seeing that they were alone, he whispered, “When James returns to the Mortal Realm’s Labhranns, we’ll find a way to uproot the Labhranns’ bodhi tree.” “T can’t wait!” Qusai was wearing an excited look on his face.

Then, the two laughed as they hooked their arms together.

Meanwhile, James had entered the void passageway.

The passage was opened by Txomin and was stabilized with a powerful Magic Circle.

Besides that, it would only vanish only after every living being that headed to the Great Dividing Range had returned.

After entering the void passageway, James could feel he was in a passage two meters in width and three meters in height.

In the surroundings were mysterious symbols and characters.

He walked for approximately a minute.

A minute later, he left the void passageway and arrived at an unknown place.

He floated out of the void passageway and stood in the void.

As he scanned his surroundings, he realized that this was an endless mountain range full of towering peaks and ancient trees that had grown for countless years.

These ancient trees were hundreds of meters thick and tens of thousands of meters high, with dense branches and foliage that covered the sky.

The sky was covered in dark clouds, and the air was full of deathly stillness.

All around was silence.

"Is this the Great Dividing Range?" James scanned his surroundings and furrowed his eyebrows.

"That's right," Sophie's voice came from the ring on his finger.

"This is the Great Dividing Range, a restricted area of the Demon Realm.

This place is huge and has almost no boundary." "You're finally talking to me again, Sophie." Hearing Sophie's voice, James was relieved.

He said, "I thought you had entered a closed-door meditation." Sophie said, "No, I didn't." James asked, "Sophie, have you ever heard of the Great Dividing Range?" She nodded and said, "Emperor Jabari once came here in the Primordial Age.

Back then, he came here in search of something, but he returned empty-handed." "Is that so? What was he searching for?" Sophie said, "The Demon Abyss has existed since the Primeval Age.

Legend has it that there was an inheritance left behind by an Ancestral God here.

Meanwhile, Emperor Jabari coincidentally obtained the belongings left behind by the Ancestral God.

Though he came here to obtain the inheritance, he returned empty-handed." Hearing this, James breathed a sigh of relief and said, "Since you've been here before and know this place, I'm at ease.

You must have heard what Txomin said to me.

Could you show me the way around the Demon Abyss and help me find Xandros?" "Mihm." Sophie nodded and said, "Indeed, I know this place.

I have no idea whether this is a coincidence or perhaps someone has arranged for this.

When I came here with Emperor Jabari, we stayed in the Great Dividing Range for thirty thousand years, so I'm quite familiar with this region.

Today, after countless years, you came here with the Celestial Abode in search of Xandros who was trapped here.

This is too much of a coincidence." Though Sophie had become a Quasi-Emperor and could gain insight into Heaven's secret, she could not see through the truth of this matter.

As such, she could only consider this a mere coincidence.

Since this was too profound for James, he did not wish to concern himself with it.

Changing the subject, he asked, "Where should I go next, Sophie?" A faint glow glimmered from the ring on his finger, and a woman in a white dress appeared.

Sophie appeared beside James, dressed in a white dress that was holy and pure.

Her skin was fair, and her features were delicate and impeccable.

She was so gorgeous that the air around them seemed to freeze in awe at her beauty.

After scanning her surroundings, she pointed straight ahead and said, "This way."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2505—Under Sophie's guidance, James headed into the depths of the Great Dividing Range.

However, the Great Dividing Range was too huge, and James' rank was too insignificant.

Based on his current speed, he would not reach the central region of the Great Dividing Range even if he flew for years.

Annoyed by James' speed, Sophie furrowed her eyebrows and said, "You're too slow.

Allow me." Then, she grabbed James' hand, catalyzed the Divine Energy inside her body, and flew straight ahead.

Her speed was so extraordinary that James had the impression that time had stopped.

Before he could even react, Sophie stopped.

"what's wrong? Why did you stop?" James asked, confused.

At that moment, he could feel a terrifying power permeating the air.

As he stared into the void before him, he noticed that there were some spatial turbulences and cracks in the void.

Each crack contained extremely terrifying power.

Each of them was huge enough to devour a plane whole.

"Those are spatial turbulences." Sophie said, "As the space here is unstable, spatial turbulences would occur from time to time.

Even cultivators at the Divine Rank could lose their lives if sucked into one of them." James took a deep breath.

If even cultivators at the Divine Rank could be killed by these spatial turbulences, would that not mean that the participants of this tournament in search of the Demonic Spiritual Herb would surely perish here? He was concerned about their safety.

Besides that, there was a violent power in the air here that was capable of destroying a living being's corpus.

The power was erratic, and those who came across them would certainly lose their lives.

This was true even for Lucifer unless he had some sort of ace up his sleeves.

Sophie's voice came, "Although they are terrifying, they are nothing in my eyes." Grabbing James' hand, she stepped forward into the void.

The moment they stepped forward, James could feel he was being shielded by an enormous power.

Under the power's protection, all pressure vanished.

Grabbing his hand, Sophie pressed on, traversing through the cracks of the void.

Soon, she traversed through the spatial turbulences alongside James.

After traversing them, James turned and glanced at the spatial turbulences that were constantly moving.

Soon, they disappeared from his view.

James took a deep breath and said, "How dangerous..."

If it wasn't for you, I wouldn't have survived even with my Demonic Body." Sophie nodded and said, "Of course! This is the Great Dividing Range, after all.

Even a Quasi- Emperor would be in danger here.

I have no idea what was on those people's minds.

Why would they risk their lives just to win Brielle Labhrann's hand in marriage?" After brief contemplation, James said, "It's understandable, actually.

By marrying Brielle, their fates would be completely changed.

So, even though they might die, they believed it was worthwhile to try their luck." Sophie did not linger for long and left alongside James.

This region was truly dangerous.

There were even Magic Circles that had remained since the Primeval Age.

Although they were incomplete, they were extremely powerful.

Even a cultivator at the Divine Rank could lose their life if they barged in unprepared.

Fortunately, with Sophie by his side, James was able to survive.

He ventured deeper into the Great Dividing Range with her guidance.

Suddenly, Sophie stopped in her tracks.

Grabbing James' hand, she descended from the sky and landed on top of a mountain.

James asked, ““What's wrong, Sophie?” Sophie said, “If my memory serves me right, we are very near the Demon Abyss now.

There's an Ancient Magic Circle in its vicinity.

It's a mysterious Magic Circle.

Even Emperor Jabari only managed to break the circle after quite some time.

Back then, I had no idea how to break the circle because my strength was insignificant”
“Though Emperor Jabari has left behind some information, this Magic Circle is simply too complex.

I need some time to gain insight.

In the meantime, just concentrate on absorbing Sword Energy.” After she spoke, she summoned Sword Energy from inside the Celestial Abode.

Sophie said, “I have suppressed the Sword Energy's power for you to absorb.

This wave of Sword Energy contains unrivaled sword- fighting techniques.

As you gain more and more insight into the sword- fighting techniques, the power of this Sword Energy would only grow.” James looked at the Sword Energy before him.

It was a hundred meters in length and like a lightning bolt suspended in front of him.

He could sense that this Sword Energy contained an extremely powerful force.

“Hmm...

How should I refine it?” James asked.

Sophie said, “I have set up a Time Formation.

Refine the Sword Energy inside the formation.

However, be mindful that refining this Sword Energy is extremely difficult.

First of all, your rank needs to reach at least the peak of the Immortal Ascension's Ninth Stair.

Moreover, you need to use this wave of Sword Energy to refine a supreme Sword Body and plant a sword seed.

That's how you refine the Sword Energy and created your own Yogacara." Hearing this, James was confused.

Sword Body? Sword seed? It was simply too confusing.

Since he had no idea what they were, he asked Sophie for more information.

Sophie explained patiently.

As James listened intently to Sophie's explanation, he now had a rough idea of what they were.

She said, "You have enormous potential.

However, cultivating a Sword Body and planting a sword seed will take a long time.

Based on my calculations, you need at least 1000 years to reach the Mage Rank." Hearing this, James was stunned.

He asked, "That long?" "Of course! However, I know more than one Time Formation for you to cultivate in.

Time does not travel in the Time Formation and is only calculated based on the time in the outside world." "Mihm." James nodded.

Then, Sophie set up a Time Formation.

Staying inside the Time Formation, she took out an ancient text and began her research.

Meanwhile, James began cultivating.

His aim was to reach the peak of the Immortal Ascension's Ninth Stair for now.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2506—Sophie described how to cultivate a Sword Body to James in detail.

James' body was unique.

First of all, his physical body was reshaped by a Grand Emperor's Natal Demonic Lotus and possessed supreme Demonic Power.

Secondly, he obtained the providence of Elemental Inversion.

Thus, his physical body had become an Elemental Holy Body, and his blood vessels and bones all contained Elemental Power.

Elemental Power interwoven and restrained each other inside James' body.

To forge a Sword Body was to refine oneself into a sword.

The physical body was the sword, and the sword was the physical body.

Simply put, all James needed to do was to absorb the power of this peerless Sword Energy and nourished his physical body.

When the time came, his body would become a Sword Body.

However, this was easier said than done.

That was because Sword Energy would cause great damage to the physical body upon entering the body.

No cultivator would even dare try using ordinary Sword Energy, let alone a peerless one.

In the time formation, James sat in a lotus position on the ground and absorbed Empyrean Spiritual Energy to increase his True Essence.

This was the Divine Dimension, where Primordial Energy—an energy much greater in level than both Sage Energy and Spiritual Energy—was abundant.

Their difference was like the dollar, the dime, and the penny respectively.

James was surrounded by majestic Primordial Energy everywhere.

As Primordial Energy gathered, they almost materialized into a physical form.

As Primordial Energy entered his pores, he refined them and transformed them into the purest of all True Essences—True Heavenly Yang Essence, True Demonic Yin Essence, and True Elemental Essence.

His True Essence gradually increased unbeknownst to him.

Meanwhile, Sophie was reading the ancient text beside him.

At times, she was pensive.

At other times, she furrowed her eyebrows.

Though she was a Quasi-Emperor, the Ancient Magic Circle here was simply too complex.

Even if she tried solving it step -by-step, she needed time.

James' True Essence grew stronger as his rank rose.

The middle stage of Immortal Ascension's Ninth Stair...

The late stage of Immortal Ascension's Ninth Stair...

The peak of the late- stage Immortal Ascension's Ninth Stair...

When he reached the peak, he began suppressing his True Essence and only stopped when he could no longer suppress them.

The wave of peerless Sword Energy still floated in mid-air, its white color faintly visible, emanating immense power.

Even though there was the Divine Dimension where space was stable, the destructive power of the Sword Energy had caused the void to warp and tiny cracks to appear.

"Sophie, I have reached the peak of the Immortal Ascension's Ninth Stair," James' voice boomed.

Hearing this, Sophie stopped and closed the book in her hands.

Looking at James with a solemn look on her face, she said, " James, although I've helped suppressed the Sword Energy's power, keep in mind that this Sword Energy was left behind by the Ancestral Gods.

As such, it contained devastating power.

Be careful when you absorb them to refine the Sword Body.

You might get killed if you lose focus." "Got it, I'll be careful." Seeing Sophie's grim look, James took a deep breath.

"Alright, let's begin.

I'll watch over you." Sophie stopped reading the ancient text and watched James.

That was because this was significant, and she was worried about him.

James regulated his condition before absorbing the Sword Energy's power.

Threads of power permeated the air and entered his body through his pores.

Boom! The moment the Sword Energy entered his body, there was an explosion.

Even though he possessed the Demonic Body and had the Elemental Holy Body, he could not withstand the blast.

His physical body was greatly damaged by it, and cracks appeared on his skin.

Sophie said in a soft voice, "Take it slowly.

Let the Sword Energy destroy your body repeatedly.

When your body rejuvenates, it will develop resistance toward Sword Energy.

When that happens, your body will no longer be damaged." Having one's body explode was extremely painful even for James.

He gritted his teeth and continued even though the pain was excruciating.

Soon, he had completely recovered.

He absorbed the power once more.

Again, his body was destroyed.

While he cultivated the Sword Body, he was also refining his physical body.

Due to the Novenary Golden Body Siddhi, his body would rejuvenate after every destruction and would grow even stronger each time.

Time passed.

James kept absorbing the Sword Energy's power to damage his body.

He was constantly enduring immense pain, so much so that he almost could not bear it anymore.

“You have to persevere, James!” Sophie said, “It’s not because there is hope that we persevere.

Rather, we persevere so that we can see hope.” “Humanity is on its last leg.

It’s too difficult for humans to rise.

Only a handful of people can break through the Elysian Seal, not to mention the huge amount of time needed to accomplish such a feat.

Many would never be able to advance into the next rank.” “Soon, the non-human races shall rise, and humanity shall become their slaves.

We need a truly powerful figure among us to stabilize the situation.

You’re not only the hope of all earthlings.

Rather, all humans in the universe rely on you.” Sophie’s voice echoed in his mind.

Hearing this, James’ conviction grew stronger.

His physical body grew increasingly stronger each time it was destroyed.

Soon, without him realizing it, his physical strength had reached the Mage Rank’s Second Stage, and his body had finally gotten used to Sword Energy.

The minute Sword Energy that entered his body no longer caused such damage to him.

“Very good...” Sophie praised him, “Your body adapts quickly.

You manage to get used to the destruction of your body caused by Sword Energy in such a short amount of time.

Now, you can absorb Sword Energy and use it to refine your physical body.” “Mhm.” James nodded and began absorbing Sword Energy wholeheartedly.

As Sword Energy traveled through his meridians and spread throughout his body, powerful Sword Energy nourished his physical body.

His body was slowly transformed into a Sword Body without him realizing it.

In the blink of an eye, James had spent more than 300 years inside the Time Formation.

Though 300 years had passed inside the Time Formation, only three years had passed outside.

Over a long period of time, James had been using Sword Energy to refine his physical body.

His physical strength had reached the peak of Mage Rank's Third Stage.

Once he made another breakthrough, he would reach the Tribulation Rank.

Meanwhile, his body had completely transformed into a Sword Body.

Sword Energy ran through his veins, and his muscles and bones all contained Sword Energy.

He was like a razor-sharp blade that exuded terrifying Sword Intent.

Standing inside the Time Formation, all Sword Energy inside his body gathered to form an illusory sword that was suspended in mid-air.

"Break!" As James' mind stirred, the Sword Energy materialized from within his body and slashed toward the distant mountains.

Boom! The earth shook.

As the Sword Energy slashed the mountains, there was a huge disturbance.

However, the mountains were not destroyed.

Not because his strength was weak, but rather, space in the Divine Dimension was stable.

Even a cultivator at the Sage Rank's Thirty- Third Stage would not be able to destroy the space here.

Delighted, Sophie said, "Congratulations, James, you have refined your body into a Sword Body.

With the Sword Body, you're now one of the greatest fighters in the world.

However, this is only the first step.

Next, you'll have to plant the sword seed."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2508

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2508—In essence, a sword seed was the seed of a sword.

Take oneself as the sword and the seed, and plant the seed of swordsmanship in the body.

This was the key to becoming a peerless sword master.

Sophie looked at James and said, “Next, it’s time to plant the sword seed, which is much simpler than refining the Sword Body.” “Mhm.” James listened intently.

Looking at the Sword Energy that floated in mid-air, Sophie said, “Use this Sword Energy as a seed and plant it in your body.

Then, use your blood and True Essence to slowly cultivate it.

Once the Sword Energy materializes once more, it will become your Yogacara.

“There are a few steps.

First, you have to absorb the refined Sword Energy and transform them into a seed.

As I’ve already refined it for you, you should be able to absorb it easily.

Secondly, open up a special space in the elixir field similar to the elixir reservoir in your body’s acupuncture points.

This space is where the sword seed will be planted.” After Sophie’s detailed explanation, James finally understood what it was all about.

Next, he began refining Sword Energy and planted them inside his body to transform them into a sword seed.

Once the sword seed evolved into Sword Energy once more, it would form his Yogacara.

After making her preparations, Sophie began suppressing the Sword Energy’s power so that James may safely absorb the Sword Energy and plant the seed.

The process went smoothly.

James spent three years in the Time Formation to absorb the Sword Energy, plant it inside his body, and transform it into a seed of swordsmanship.

Delighted, Sophie said, "That went smoothly.

Things will get much simpler from now on.

Use the Blood Energy's power inside your blood vessels and the True Essence's power to nurture the sword seed." "Mhm." James nodded.

He scrutinized the insides of his body.

He opened up a special space in his elixir field.

Inside the space, there was a shining seed white in color that emitted faint strands of Sword Intent.

This seed was the Sword Energy left behind by a peerless sword master in the Primordial Age.

Under Sophie's guidance, James refined it into a seed of swordsmanship.

"By the way, how long do I need to transform the sword seed into Sword Energy, which in turn would form a Yogacara, if I start nurturing the sword seed now?" After some contemplation, Sophie said, "With the energy inside your body, maybe about five hundred years." Hearing this, James took a deep breath and asked, "That long?" Sophie smiled and said, "Is five hundred years considered a long time? For cultivators, five hundred years pass in the blink of an eye.

Some insanely powerful cultivators spend millions, tens of millions, or perhaps hundreds of millions of years each time they enter a closed-door meditation." "Hundreds of millions of years?" James was stunned.

He had only existed in this world for decades.

As such, he found it hard to imagine what Earth would look like after 100 million years.

"Alright now, stop gaping already.

Soon, you'll understand how little time matters to cultivators.

Now that the Sword Energy has transformed into a seed, you won't require my assistance from here onward.

Since I haven't solved the Magic Circle yet, I need time to gain insight." "vihm." James nodded.

Then, he began using his power to nurture the seed of swordsmanship inside his body.

Meanwhile, Sophie took out the ancient scroll once more and scrutinized it.

At times, she stood up, pensive.

At times, she sat on the ground while furrowing her eyebrows.

James was sitting in a lotus position on the ground.

Threads of Sword Energy materialized from within his body and enveloped him.

Meanwhile, the seed of swordsmanship planted 500 years ago had cracked open.

This was where the Sword Energy had come from.

As threads of Sword Energy that contained enormous power materialized and nourished his physical body, his physical strength increased drastically without him realizing it.

After 500 years had passed, his physical strength had reached the Tribulation Rank.

Crack! At that moment, a clear cracking sound came from the seed of swordsmanship inside his body.

Then, an extremely immense power was awakened.

Majestic and overwhelming Sword Energy enveloped James' body.

Sophie, who was scrutinizing the ancient texts, glanced at James.

Sensing the changes in his aura, she exclaimed, "What a powerful aura..." Then, her face paled.

She lifted her head and realized there were mysterious characters that were constantly changing in the sky.

“A-A fluctuation in the Heavenly Path...

Looks like James is about to awaken his Yogacara.

The seed of swordsmanship is finally about to materialize.” At that moment, many powerful figures in the Demon Realm noticed the fluctuations in the Heavenly Path.

At the Labhranns...

Tigranes Xanthippos of the Hadean Clan lifted his head and looked at the sky.

He also saw the Elysian Inscription and the fluctuations in the Heavenly Path.

“Who could it be?” “Just what sort of existence could bring about fluctuations in the Heavenly Path?” He tried divination but failed.

He had not idea what caused such fluctuations in the Heavenly Path.

Not just him, but even the powerful figures of the entire universe had sensed the fluctuations in the Heavenly Path.

“Chaos breeds heroes.

It has only been a while since a heaven- defying existence has emerged.” “Did someone make a breakthrough into the Grand Emperor Rank?” Every powerful figure of the universe watched the fluctuations in the Heavenly Path intently.

At that moment, as James sat in a lotus position in the Time Formation, the Sword Energy that materialized from within his body grew increasingly stronger.

The Sword Energy in his surroundings seemed like threads surrounding him.

This lasted for three days.

Three days later, the seed completely cracked, and a wave of Sword Energy materialized from within.

The wave of Sword Energy was minuscule like a thread attached to his elixir field.

However, at that moment, it fiercely absorbed the Sword Energy around James.

In a short amount of time, the surrounding Sword Energy had been completely absorbed.

“You did it.” Sophie was overjoyed.

James slowly opened his eyes.

At that moment, a glimmer of Sword Energy flashed through his pupils.

Wearing a calm expression, he stood up, "I've finally reached the Mage Rank." As his mind stirred, a wave of Sword Energy materialized from within his body.

It was white like a lightning bolt and floated in front of him.

Though it seemed ordinary, it contained extraordinary power.

James was confident he could annihilate even a Sage with the Sword Energy.

Sophie walked toward him and praised him, "Not bad, your Yogacara has awakened.

However, yours is still weak, so you need to nurture it constantly.

By the time you reach the Mage Rank's Third Stage, you'll be invincible."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2510—After cultivating inside the Time Formation for 800 years, James finally cultivated the sword body and planted the sword seed, which had transformed into a peerless Yogacara.

Although James had only recently crossed into the Mage Rank, his physical strength had reached the Tribulation Rank.

Besides that, his Yogacara was terrifying.

Even in the First Stage, it possessed the ability to annihilate a Sage.

Even Sophie was impressed by James' Yogacara.

James stored his Yogacara away and looked at Sophie.

Wearing a smile, he thanked her, "Thank you, Sophie, for your guidance all these years.

Otherwise, I wouldn't have been able to gain insight into the Yogacara." Sophie smiled and said, "You have potential as well.

Otherwise, you won't be able to gain insight into the Yogacara no matter how much guidance I provide you." "By the way..." James shifted the subject and asked, "Sophie, how's the Magic Circle going?" "Mhm." Sophie nodded and said, "I have more or less gained insight into it.

We can now enter the Demon Abyss." Then, she stepped out of the Time Formation.

James scanned his surroundings.

He was standing at the peak of a mountain, with undulating mountains stretching out before him.

These mountains rose into the clouds, and around them, the flickering of mysterious characters could be seen.

Sophie looked straight ahead and said, "The Demon Abyss is just right ahead.

Since the Demon Abyss is a restricted area of the Divine Realm, it's heavily guarded by an Ancient Magic Circle.

Although the circle is now incomplete, it still possesses immense power.

Even a powerful cultivator could be killed if they barge in unprepared." James stroked his chin and said, "Txomin is sending those low-level living beings here to their deaths." Sophie nodded and said, "Indeed, they came here to die.

With their cultivation base, they couldn't even break the Magic Circle here, let alone arrive at their destination." "Why did they insist on coming then?" James asked, puzzled.

Sophie said, "For the elusive opportunity of finding the Demonic Spiritual Herb and riding on the coattails of a powerful family.

That's why they insisted on trying even though they knew this is a suicide mission." Now, James could finally understand why Tigranes of the Hadean Clan had a solemn expression on his face when he heard Txomin's proposal.

He knew just how terrifying this place was.

"Let's get going." Sophie did not say much.

Grabbing James' hand, powerful energy materialized in her palm and enveloped James, who could feel a warm current circulating throughout his body.

Since this place had an Ancient Magic Circle in place, the space here was turbulent.

If they let their guard down, their bodies could be torn apart by the violent forces present, so Sophie shielded James from danger.

As James relished the warmth throughout his body, he could not help but glance at Sophie.

Then, he saw her fair and delicate skin and her glamorous appearance.

She cautiously pressed forward while wearing a serious look on her face, and James was captivated by her beauty.

Soon, they arrived at the region of the mysterious characters.

Sophie's voice came, "Be careful." James collected himself and looked at the mysterious characters before him.

Sophie raised his hand, and mysterious characters materialized in her palm.

As these characters entered the void before them, the mysterious characters in mid-air disappeared.

After researching the Ancient Magic Circle for centuries, Sophie gained insight into this dilapidated circle.

Under her guidance, James traversed through the Magic Circle and arrived at the Demon Abyss.

Before them was an abyss surrounded by mountains.

The abyss was bottomless, and blue translucent grass grew around it, emitting a mysterious power.

Sophie said, "These blades of grass must be Demonic Spiritual Herbs." James nodded slightly and casually plucked a few.
