The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2541—The man stepped back, afraid to meet Thea's gaze.

She was gorgeous and gave off an aura of brilliance.

He looked away and replied, "I-I'm not sure if the James Caden you're looking for is the same one I've heard of." "Keep talking," Thea demanded.

The man did not dare to hide anything from her and said honestly, "I heard Brielle, the most beautiful woman in the Mortal Dimension, will be marrying a man in the near future.

Apparently, his name is James Caden." "She'll be marrying James?" Thea gasped incredulously.

The man replied, "Y-Yeah.

The wedding is set to take place at Mount Lutheran." Thea took a deep breath and asked, "How far is Mount Lutheran from here?" The man could not help but sneak a glance at Thea.

Upon meeting her gaze, he immediately averted his eyes again and said, "I-It's very far from here.

With your strength, it might take about three hundred years even if you travel at full speed.

However, you can also go to major cities.

They have Teleportation Formations there.

You can pay a certain amount of spiritual crystals to use the Teleportation Formation to teleport to the city where the Labhrann Clan is located." Thea finally acquired some news about James, but now she was unsure whether the person marrying Brielle was really her husband.

She turned and left wordlessly.

However, the moment she turned around, thousands of guards stood in her path.

Standing in front of the guards was a middle-aged man.

He wore a golden robe and had golden scales on his face.

The man gave off a hideous and menacing aura.

“Do you think you can leave so easily after killing my son?” The middle-aged man that hastily obstructed her path was Lord Goldenbane’s father, the Golden Snakes Clan Leader.

Thousands of guards flanked and surrounded Thea.

The powerhouses that came to attend the wedding carefully retreated from the scene.

Since this matter involved the Golden Snakes Clan, they were unwilling to get involved.

Moreover, they could tell that Thea was powerful, and they might not necessarily be able to defeat her even if they joined forces against her.

“My son only offered you the utmost courtesy, so why have you killed him?” The Golden Snakes Clan’s Leader had a grim expression.

He had recently been meditating in seclusion to treat his wounds and was disengaged from the clan’s affairs.

However, he immediately sensed his son’s death and summoned all the clan’s guards to the area.

Thea looked at him and said indifferently, “He deserved it.

I don’t want to kill anyone else, so leave immediately if you still want to live.” “Haha.” The Golden Snakes Clan’s Leader guffawed.

“You’re in the territory of the Golden Snakes Clan.

Regardless of origin, everyone must obey us here.

Doesn’t matter if they were human or dragon.” At that moment, some mysterious inscriptions appeared around the area.

An ancient formation was activated.

“Q-Quick, run! It’s the Golden Snakes Formation!” A few creatures around the area recognized the formation and quickly evacuated, afraid to linger around any longer.

Thea was uninterested in meddling in the Golden Snakes Clan’s business and wanted to head to Mount Lutheran to confirm whether the person marrying Brielle was the person she was looking for.

However, the guards lunged at her as soon as she tried to leave.

The guards unhesitantly launched themselves at her with all their might.

“You’re all just begging to die.” Thea’s face darkened.

Initially, Thea had no intention of taking another life.

However, the Golden Snakes Clan had instigated this fight with her.

Thus, she chose to show them no mercy.

She summoned the Malevolent Sword, and a Sword Light cleaved through the air.

Some of the guards around her immediately dropped dead.

At the same time, the Golden Snakes Formation had been fully activated.

Four elderly men appeared in the sky, and powerful energy spewed from their bodies.

Since they were currently in the Mortal Dimension, Sages were not supposed to appear here.

However, their appearance was not entirely out of the question.

After becoming Sages, some creatures had unfinished business in the Mortal Dimensions and decide to stay instead of heading to the Sage Dimension.

This was precisely the case for the four Sages from the Golden Snakes Formation.

After the four Sages activated the Golden Snakes Formation, they had enough power to instantly kill ordinary Sages.

“I want you to pay for my son’s death with your life!” The Golden Snakes Clan’s Leader’s furious voice boomed through the sky.

Thea gripped the Malevolent Sword and said coldly, “I never wanted to fight you guys.

However, since you insist on dying, I’ll cover Mount Golden Snakes with blood.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2542–Thea’s declaration to cause a slaughter on Mount Golden Snakes echoed through the area.

“Haha.” The Golden Snakes Clan’s Leader burst out in menacing laughter.

“You want a bloodbath on Mount Golden Snakes? I’d like to see you try!” “Set up the formation! Kill her!” The Golden Snakes Clan Leader issued an order and quickly backed away.

By then, the Golden Snakes Formation was primed for action.

It was a very extraordinary formation, commandeered by the four Sage powerhouses.

The True Essence of all the clan’s guards on Mount Golden Snakes continuously poured into the formation, providing it with energy.

Meanwhile, the four sages used that accumulated power to vanquish their enemy.

The formation was almost flawless.

It was even able to kill Sages instantly.

However, the enemy before them was Thea.

Thea had become a Sage before traveling to the Demon Realm.

Moreover, she had been wandering the Demon Realm for many years.

The Demon Realm had abundant Empyrean Spiritual Energy.

With her talent, she improved her strength significantly after a few years.

At the moment, she had already reached the Sage Rank’s Second Stage.

She successfully slaughtered the Divine Holy Emperor while only at the Sage Rank’s First Stage.

Now that her strength had improved, breaking the formation was easier than child’s play to her.

Thea felt the force coming from the formation.

Before she could react, one of the Sages launched an attack on her.

The powerhouse that attacked had been a Sage for many years, but his cultivation rank remained at the Sage Rank’s First Stage.

Although he had not entered the Sage Rank’s Second Stage, his strength was boosted to the Third Stage after borrowing the formation’s strength.

He gripped his long sword and charged at Thea with incredible strength.

Sword Energy burst out from his sword and rushed down at Thea.

Thea raised the Malevolent Sword and flicked it, countering with her own Sword Light.

The Sword Light crashed into the Sword Energy in mid-air.

Boom! The collision of the two forces caused a huge explosion.

The explosion caused a massive shock wave, and Sword Energy swept across the area.

The shock leveled the entire mountain range.

Haah! After parrying the initial attack, Thea felt another wave of Sword Energy behind her.

Thea sensed the danger behind her and dodged in time.

“You’re all heading straight to your graves!” Thea hissed furiously.

She knew she would die in the formation and under the aggressive attacks of the Sages if she did not rely on her signature martial art skills.

At that moment, she activated the Four- Quadrant Art.

The power within the Four Holy Beasts’ blood was roused, and her blood began to thrum with power.

Great strength was released from her blood and permeated her whole body, allowing her energy to skyrocket.

She raised the long sword in her hand and waved it through the air.

Suddenly, a giant dragon coiled in the sky and roared.

Its roar was deafening and contained destructive strength.

Thea leaped several kilometers into the sky and pointed her sword toward the Sages.

“Four-Quadrants into one! Sword of heaven and earth!” Within the sword’s blade, the vision of the Four Holy Beasts appeared and merged into the sword.

The Malevolent Sword became brighter, and a terrifying Sword Light whipped out from it.

The Sword Light cleaved through the sky.

The Sages below it immediately had horrified expressions after sensing the menacing energy.

They wanted to escape.

However, it was already too late.

The powerful Sword Light descended and shattered the Golden Snakes Formation.

As soon as the formation broke, the guards on Mount Golden Snakes who were channeling their power to the formation died instantly and were reduced to specks of dust.

Boom! A shock wave rippled through the air and destroyed Mount Golden Snakes, turning it into rubble.

The four Sages were also swept away by the Sword Light's might and were instantly wiped out.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2543—The battle ended as quickly as it started.

After Thea unleashed her Sword Light, the battle instantly ended.

Mount Golden Snakes was completely decimated.

Thea's attack eliminated not only the countless guards on the mountain but the four Sages as well.

Nothing was left in the area except a beautiful woman floating in the sky.

She had on a red dress and heavy makeup.

However, her attractive face showed nothing but cold indifference.

Thea hovered in the air and looked at the ruined remains of Mount Golden Snakes.

She murmured ruthlessly, "You guys asked for it." After speaking, she did not linger around and left the area.

Many distinguished guests invited to the wedding ceremony by Lord Goldenbane watched the battle from afar.

They witnessed the destruction of the Golden Snakes Formation and the massacre of all the Golden Snakes Clan members.

“what in the world?” “who’s that woman? Why is she so strong?” “The Golden Snakes Formation was set up by four Sages, yet it was broken so easily.

When did such a terrifying powerhouse exist in the Mortal Dimension? Did she perhaps come from the Sage Dimension?” Many of them were dumbfounded as they looked on at the demolished Mount Golden Snakes in a daze.

Meanwhile, an old man was seated in a hall somewhere in the Sage Dimension and was dozing off.

Suddenly, he sensed something, and his eyes snapped open.

The scene of Mount Golden Snakes being destroyed played out before him, and his face immediately darkened.

He tightly clenched his fists and had a furious expression.

He roared, “How dare you slaughter my clan members? You must have a death wish.

I don’t care who you are.

I’m going to kill you.” The old man was none other than the Golden Snakes Clan’s Grand Patriarch, who ascended to the Sage Dimension 30,000 years ago.

All the members of the Golden Snakes Clan were his descendants.

Although he had not visited the Mortal Dimension since and hardly paid attention to his descendants there, they were still the bearers of his bloodline.

“Get in here!” He ordered.

Neat footsteps immediately approached the hall.

Then, some guards walked inside and kneeled on the ground.

The Golden Snakes Clan’s Grand Patriarch sat on a chair in the hall and said coldly, “My descendants in the Mortal Dimension have been wiped out.

Lead the Golden Snakes Army to the Mortal Dimension immediately.

Find the perpetrator and kill them.

I don't care who they are, I want them dead." "Understood." Thea had no idea another powerhouse was backing the Golden Snakes Clan.

Furthermore, she did not expect the man to be a powerhouse that had entered the Sage Dimension 30,000 thousand years ago.

By that time, she had already left Mount Golden Snakes and gone to a nearby city to buy a map of the Mortal Dimension.

Several cities with Teleportation Formations were marked on the map.

Unfortunately for her, the nearest city with a Teleportation Formation was very far from her current location.

The journey there alone would take half a month.

She traveled both day and night in order to find out if the person marrying Brielle was truly her husband.

Half a month later, she arrived at a major city called Brengin City.

Brengin City was a well-known city in the Mortal Dimension, and the real ruler of the city was a certain powerhouse in the Sage Dimension.

Within Brengin City was a Teleportation Formation that led to all the other cities throughout the Mortal Dimension that had Teleportation Formations.

After Thea arrived, she headed directly to the Teleportation Formation.

Many powerful people were in a queue to register.

Soon, it was Thea's turn.

She truthfully stated her information and informed the clerk that her destination was Labhstead.

"That'll be three hundred million spiritual crystals." Thea was shocked after hearing the price given by the creature handling the registration process.

The creature said, "Heading to Labhstead will cost three hundred million spiritual crystals.

We only take payment upfront.

The Teleportation Formation will open in three days." Thea had a troubled expression.

She knew spiritual crystals were used as currency among cultivators, but she did not have any on her.

Since she had no spiritual crystals, she had to give up on using the Teleportation Formation.

“F-Forget it.

I’ve changed my mind.” After Thea spoke, she turned and left.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2544—300,000,000 spiritual crystals was a paltry amount to creatures that had stayed in the Demon Realm for a long time.

Thea had only been in the Demon Realm for a few years.

Thus, 300,000,000 spiritual crystals was an astronomical sum for her.

She did not even have a single spiritual crystal on her, let alone 300,000,000.

“What should I do?” After leaving the Teleportation Formation, Thea became anxious.

James and Brielle’s wedding was soon approaching, so she had to rush there as quickly as possible.

James’ marriage to another woman was not her main concern.

They have entered an age of cultivation.

Since becoming a cultivator, her thinking had changed to adapt to the times.

However, she still wanted to see the woman James was marrying for herself to ensure his new bride was a good match.

Her only option was to earn as many spiritual crystals as quickly as she could.

It was relatively easy to obtain spiritual crystals in the Demon Realm.

Monsters within the primal mountains had valuable treasures that could be sold for a good profit.

Another option was to find rare Empyrean herbs to sell.

To confirm the identity of the person marrying Brielle as soon as possible, Thea quickly began doing all she could to earn spiritual crystals.

In the meantime, James was staying at Mount Lutheran, where the Labhrann Clan was located.

During this period, he lived a leisurely life and did not cultivate.

Instead, he had been hanging out with Henrik and Qusai.

They usually spent their time drinking and chatting away.

Brielle, on the other hand, would come to see him occasionally.

She had gotten more familiar with James, and her affection for him had been growing.

Every time she visited James, she would be reluctant to leave.

She wanted to spend the night with James.

Although Brielle had hinted at it a number of times, James never picked up on her insinuations.

Brielle was upset that James was oblivious to her suggestions.

However, she never brought it up.

Instead, she waited patiently for their wedding ceremony.

After their marriage, they would be partners and would naturally have their wedding night.

The days passed one after the other.

In the blink of an eye, the day of James and Brielle's wedding ceremony arrived.

Brille was the Mortal Dimension's Sweetheart and was from the highly prestigious Labhrann Clan.

Thus, even Txomin came from the Divine Dimension to attend the ceremony.

Since James was about to marry Brielle, his lodgings were moved to Mount Lutheran's main mountain.

His new lodgings were in a newly built courtyard.

The night before the wedding, James, Henrik, and Qusai gathered in his room and devised a new plan.

Henrik whispered, "Our plan will be put into action tomorrow night, James." Qusai nodded in approval and said, "Henrik and I won't be able to help you this time.

It'll all hinge on you.

Both of us will have to evacuate in advance.

Otherwise, it'll be troublesome if we get caught.

We'll wait for you outside of Labhstead, on Mount Tarvom.

After you uproot the bodhi tree, don't loiter and hurry over to Mount Tarvom.

Then, we'll escape from the Demon Realm." James nodded lightly and said, "Okay, I got it." The three spent a long time poring over the final details.

Afterward, Henrik and Qusai left.

The night passed uneventfully.

In the blink of an eye, dawn had arrived.

It was the day of James' marriage to Brielle.

The Labhrann Clan was a major clan with a great reputation in the Mortal Dimension.

Thus, many powerhouses came to attend the wedding ceremony.

Some even came from the Sage and Divine Dimension.

Early in the morning, a maid came to James' room to help him change.

Then, he was led to the Labhrann Clan's main hall.

Many powerhouses had already arrived in the main hall.

A woman donning a veil and wearing a white wedding gown awaited his arrival.

It was the bride-to-be, Brielle.

Txomin sat in the head seat of the main hall and looked at the bride and groom with a smile.

James held Brielle's hand and stood in the main hall.

"What's wrong? Are you nervous?" Although Brielle's face was covered with a veil, she could feel James' sweaty palm.

James smiled awkwardly and said, "It's my first wedding ceremony.

How can I not be nervous?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2545—Although James already had a wife, they had never held a wedding ceremony.

Thus, he could not help but feel a bit nervous.

However, he was not just anxious about the wedding but also about the plan at night.

He might die if the plan failed.

"Don't worry.

I'm here." Brielle held James' hand tightly and comforted him.

"You don't have to be nervous.

Just relax." "My congratulations to the Labhrann Clan." "Congratulations! The Labhrann Clan has once again nabbed another prodigy.

In the next few years, a great powerhouse will surely be born into the clan!" A few cultivators congratulated the Labhrann Clan.

Txomin had a big smile on his face.

The wedding ceremony then began.

The bride and groom exchanged vows.

James looked at Brielle's pretty face which was beaming with a bright smile.

James took a deep breath and apologized to her internally.

'I'm sorry, Brielle.

For the sake of humanity on Earth, I have no choice but to deceive you.

I hope you won't resent me after you learn the truth.' Soon, the wedding ceremony was over.

James and Brielle were sent to their new house.

Brielle sat on the bed inside the room.

Meanwhile, James sat on a chair.

"What're you doing, Darling? Come take off my veil." Brielle's sweet voice interrupted James' thoughts.

James snapped back to reality, walked over, and briskly took off Brielle's veil.

His careless action made Brielle feel somewhat dissatisfied.

Despite that, she understood it was James' first time, and he had no experience doing such things.

At that moment, her face reddened.

She was slightly afraid to look at James.

Thinking of what was to come, she tensed up and her breathing became unsteady.

Her cheeks blushed in the color of roses in full bloom.

James glanced at Brielle.

She was a mesmerizing woman with a beautiful face and a perfect figure.

"Darling." Brielle plucked up the courage and looked at James.

"Do I look pretty?" Her rosy cheeks made her very charming.

"Mhm.

You're beautiful." James replied her disinterestedly.

Brielle began to slowly undress, revealing her pale skin.

Seeing this, James panicked and hurriedly said, "W-We're not in a rush.

It's still really early, and there are many distinguished guests outside.

Let's wait until tonight." "Okay." Brielle nodded shyly.

James did not head outside and stayed in the room with Brielle.

Brielle had already undressed and was nestling in his arms.

This made him slightly restless.

The two chatted for a while.

Brielle asked about James' past and his wife on Earth, but he only replied her questions with short and curt answers.

"I'm not an unreasonable person, Darling.

I know that Thea will always be your first.

I'm content to be your second wife." Hearing this made some complicated feelings well up inside of James.

The night came in the blink of an eye.

"Let's do it, Darling." Brielle could not wait any longer and leaned into James' arms.

"Darling, what did you...?" Brielle was completely blindsided.

"W-Why did you seal my acupoints?" James tapped a few more of Brielle's acupoints to tighten the seal on her, preventing her from even speaking.

Brielle's cultivation base had been sealed, and she was also left unable to speak.

She sat on the bed and stared at James with a bewildered expression.

James stood up, changed his clothes, and looked at Brielle apologetically.

"I'm sorry, Brielle.

I hope you won't hold this against me.

Time will go on and the universe will inevitably change, but I'm sure we'll meet again in the future." After speaking, James turned around, opened the door, and walked out of the room.

After he left the room, he contacted Sophie who was in the Celestial Abode.

"I'm ready, Ms.

Sophie.”
