

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2585

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2585—"I hope so."

James also wished to obtain the supreme sword-fighting techniques and the powerful Sword Magic from the Primordial Age.

"Shall I accompany you around the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion?" Xianna looked at James and asked for his opinion.

"It's alright. You're a highly Empress. How could I waste your time?" James promptly refused.

Xianna rolled her eyes and said, 'There's no Empress in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion. Here, I'm Xianna. Plus, I'm quite familiar with the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion and might be able to help you obtain the swordsmanship inheritance.'

James was tempted by her words.

'Then, thank you for your help.'

"Let's go." Xianna strode ahead of him.

James followed behind her, and the two began their search through the 1008 mountains in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion.

While that was happening, the Crepe Myrtle Sword Master deactivated the mountain formation, allowing the powerhouses to enter the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion. The crowd of powerhouses entered the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion's main hall.

The Sword Master wore a long purple dress, and her long hair fluttered. She had a glamorous and very elegant aura.

She looked at the powerhouses in the main hall from around the world and said smilingly, "My guests that have traveled from afar, I apologize for the lack of hospitality."

After she spoke, the Blademaster of Mount Grinch stepped forward and greeted her with his hands clasped together.

Then, he asked, "Crepe Myrtle Sword Master, what caused so many Sword Energies to appear above the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion just now? What exactly happened?"

"Please do enlighten us, Sword Master."

“Rumors are going around outside saying there’s a supreme swordsmanship inheritance within the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion. The person who obtains it can lift the curse on this world and become an unrivaled powerhouse. Are the rumors true?”

“I’ve also heard that Sangria’s Curse is connected to the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion. Is it true?”

Many powerhouses began to bombard her with questions. The Sword Master already expected their questions.

Since she opened the mountain gate, she no longer intended to hide it from them.

“Yes, the rumors are true.”

The Sword Master sat on the highest seat of the hall and said, ‘The Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion and Sangria have been hiding these secrets since ancient times.

“Many years ago, our planet used to be known as Planet Galileo before it was sealed.

It was named after a peerless powerhouse known as Sir Galileo.

“Sir Galileo had a teacher who was the Ancestral Talisman Master.

“In the past, the Ancestral Sword Master killed Sir Galileo and was about to shatter

Planet Galileo with his sword attack, but the Ancestral Talisman Master took action and prevented our planet from facing destruction.

‘The Ancestral Talisman Master sealed our planet and saved it.

“However, our world was cursed because of this incident.

“It’s rumored the Ancestral Sword Master and Ancestral Talisman Master had a battle, but no one knew of the results. What I know is that the Ancestral Sword Master created the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion on Planet Galileo and left his legacy here.

‘The Ancestral Talisman Master also left an inheritance in Sangria, which is the Curse Magic there.

“From the information passed down in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion, a fated one will appear and successfully acquire these two inheritances. Then, the curse on this world will be lifted, and the seal will also cease to exist.”

The Sword Master revealed the secrets to the powerhouses.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2586

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2586—The Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion and Sangria have guarded these secrets for countless years.

It had been passed down for generations.

The Crepe Myrtle Sword Master was finally revealing the secret to the world. Since the fated one had appeared, there was no need to continue guarding these secrets.

After hearing her explanation, the Blademaster of Mount Grinch asked, “Who is the fated one you speak of?”

The Crepe Myrtle Sword Master shook her head and said, “I can’t be certain.”

The Blademaster of Mount Grinch asked, ‘Then, how do you know the fated one has appeared?’

The Sword Master explained, “Because the time has come.”

“I don’t believe in this fated one story you’re telling us. But, I do believe there’s a supreme swordsmanship inheritance in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion. Could you allow us to search for it?”

One of the powerhouses raised his doubts and made a suggestion.

The others unanimously approved his suggestion.

Those who came to the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion were eyeing the swordsmanship inheritance.

The Crepe Myrtle Sword Mater knew these people would never give up if she did not permit them. After deciding to open the mountain gate, she had already planned for these scenarios.

“Sure. You can all go ahead and search for it within the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion.”

Everyone was relieved after gaining her permission.

They no longer lingered in the main hall and quickly left to search for the supreme swordsmanship inheritance in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion.

Meanwhile, James and Xianna had also begun searching the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion.

The two searched the mountains, and Xianna explained a bit of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion's history to James along the way.

'The founder of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion is the Ancestral Sword Master. He left behind his swordsmanship inheritance here, but no one has ever found it. Many generations of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Masters have searched for it but to no avail.

"So far, only a single clue has been revealed.

'There are terrifying Sword Energies hidden in the mountains within the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion. Only a powerful swordsman can cause fluctuations in these Sword Energies.

"It's recorded in Sangria's ancient books that a powerhouse in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion became a Divine Sage about a million years ago. She was capable of causing the Sword Energies here to fluctuate, but it was far less terrifying than what you did.

'You merely summoned your Yogacara and managed to cause the countless Sword Energies to emerge. Thus, I think the swordsmanship inheritance has something to do with these Sword Energies."

James listened carefully, then thought about it for a while.

However, he had a different opinion.

The Sword Energies that emerged were very ordinary. If he was the fated one, then these Sword Energies were prepared for him to improve his Yogacara Sword Energy rank. The supreme sword-fighting techniques could not be these Sword Energies.

Seeing James lost in thought, Xianna asked, "What are you thinking about, Mr. Caden?"

James snapped back to reality and said, "I-It's nothing. I just think that those Sword Energies seemed very ordinary. This place is a Sword Pavilion and practices the way of swordsmanship.

'Those Sword Energies are hidden within these mountains because the Sword Energy of sword cultivators from various generations will morph out and submerge into these mountains. I don't think there's anything special about it, and it probably has nothing to do with the swordsmanship inheritance." James shared his opinion.

Xianna nodded lightly.

James' words seemed reasonable.

She looked at James and asked, 'Then, where do you think it's hidden?"

James shook his head and said, "I don't know. It'll take some time to find out."

The two continued searching through the mountains.

Meanwhile, the other powerhouses that entered the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion had also begun their search.

Many of them were swordsmen and could also sense the intense Sword Energies within the mountains. Some powerhouses were even capable of causing a fluctuation in the Sword Energies.

The Blademaster of Mount Grinch was one of them.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2586

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2586—The Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion and Sangria have guarded these secrets for countless years.

It had been passed down for generations.

The Crepe Myrtle Sword Master was finally revealing the secret to the world. Since the fated one had appeared, there was no need to continue guarding these secrets.

After hearing her explanation, the Blademaster of Mount Grinch asked, "Who is the fated one you speak of?"

The Crepe Myrtle Sword Master shook her head and said, "I can't be certain."

The Blademaster of Mount Grinch asked, "Then, how do you know the fated one has appeared?"

The Sword Master explained, "Because the time has come."

"I don't believe in this fated one story you're telling us. But, I do believe there's a supreme swordsmanship inheritance in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion. Could you allow us to search for it?"

One of the powerhouses raised his doubts and made a suggestion.

The others unanimously approved his suggestion.

Those who came to the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion were eyeing the swordsmanship inheritance.

The Crepe Myrtle Sword Master knew these people would never give up if she did not permit them. After deciding to open the mountain gate, she had already planned for these scenarios.

“Sure. You can all go ahead and search for it within the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion.”

Everyone was relieved after gaining her permission.

They no longer lingered in the main hall and quickly left to search for the supreme swordsmanship inheritance in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion.

Meanwhile, James and Xianna had also begun searching the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion.

The two searched the mountains, and Xianna explained a bit of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion’s history to James along the way.

‘The founder of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion is the Ancestral Sword Master. He left behind his swordsmanship inheritance here, but no one has ever found it. Many generations of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Masters have searched for it but to no avail.

“So far, only a single clue has been revealed.

‘There are terrifying Sword Energies hidden in the mountains within the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion. Only a powerful swordsman can cause fluctuations in these Sword Energies.

“It’s recorded in Sangria’s ancient books that a powerhouse in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion became a Divine Sage about a million years ago. She was capable of causing the Sword Energies here to fluctuate, but it was far less terrifying than what you did.

‘You merely summoned your Yogacara and managed to cause the countless Sword Energies to emerge. Thus, I think the swordsmanship inheritance has something to do with these Sword Energies.”

James listened carefully, then thought about it for a while.

However, he had a different opinion.

The Sword Energies that emerged were very ordinary. If he was the fated one, then these Sword Energies were prepared for him to improve his Yogacara Sword Energy rank. The supreme sword-fighting techniques could not be these Sword Energies.

Seeing James lost in thought, Xianna asked, “What are you thinking about, Mr. Caden?”

James snapped back to reality and said, "It's nothing. I just think that those Sword Energies seemed very ordinary. This place is a Sword Pavilion and practices the way of swordsmanship.

"Those Sword Energies are hidden within these mountains because the Sword Energy of sword cultivators from various generations will morph out and submerge into these mountains. I don't think there's anything special about it, and it probably has nothing to do with the swordsmanship inheritance." James shared his opinion.

Xianna nodded lightly.

James' words seemed reasonable.

She looked at James and asked, "Then, where do you think it's hidden?"

James shook his head and said, "I don't know. It'll take some time to find out."

The two continued searching through the mountains.

Meanwhile, the other powerhouses that entered the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion had also begun their search.

Many of them were swordsmen and could also sense the intense Sword Energies within the mountains. Some powerhouses were even capable of causing a fluctuation in the Sword Energies.

The Blademaster of Mount Grinch was one of them.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2587

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2587—The Blademaster of Mount Grinch could cause some of the Sword Energies in the mountains to gather in the sky.

He also suspected the inheritance was hidden within these Sword Energies. Thus, he carefully studied them but found nothing special. They were just ordinary Sword Energies left behind by the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion's sword cultivators in the past.

The Sword Energies did not dissipate because an extremely huge formation was surrounding the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion and preventing the Sword Energies from dispersing. Thus, these Sword Energies submerged into the mountains.

The Sword Energies had nothing to do with the supreme sword-fighting techniques.

Countless people searched for the swordsmanship inheritance, but no one was successful.

These powerhouses stayed in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion for many days and kept searching, but all of them failed to find it.

Since Sangria's Curse still existed, these people did not dare to stay any longer and left after not obtaining any results.

As for James, his focus was no longer on finding the swordsmanship inheritance. He had already been in Sangria for 25 days.

There were five more days till he reached the one-month mark. According to previous cases, the curse and sudden deaths did not necessarily happen on the 30th day.

Some happened when it was close to the 30th day.

Behind the main peak of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion was Xianna's accommodation.

James temporarily stayed in her mansion.

He sat in a lotus position in the yard with his eyes closed and focused on cultivating.

Suddenly, he heard footsteps.

A gorgeous woman approached and stood before him, saying, "Almost all the cultivators that came to the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion have left. Only a few that haven't given up are still searching for the swordsmanship inheritance."

James opened his eyes and looked at Xianna.

"By the way, is there any news about Walganus?"

Xianna said, "He has been searching the mountains within the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion for the past few days, and it seems he hasn't found anything yet."

She looked at James and asked, "By the way, how long have you been in Sangria?"

James thought awhile and said, "Counting the days passed, I've been here for twenty-five days."

Xianna said solemnly, "According to the recorded case, men will be cursed and die from the twenty-fifth day onwards. None of them would survive over a month."

James replied softly, "I know. I'm not sure whether I'm the fated one and am immune to the curse. However, I'm already prepared to leave immediately if I sense any abnormalities in my body."

James had already made a plan with Nova.

Once his body started showing signs of the curse in action, Nova would open a spatial passage for him and immediately send him away. Xianna looked at James.

She sincerely hoped that James was the fated one and that he would obtain the swordsmanship inheritance and the Curse Magic, then lift the curse on Sangria and the world.

"I'll stop bothering you. Please do be careful."

Xianna left him a reminder and turned to leave.

James continued to sit on the ground and cultivate.

At that moment, Walganus appeared on the highest mountain of the Crepe Myrtle

Sword Pavilion. He stood on the peak and looked at the mountains around him solemnly.

"I can't find it. Why haven't I found it yet?"

He had searched for several days but could not find the swordsmanship inheritance.

"Could it be he lied to me?"

"That's unlikely. He said there's a great fortune here, so it must be here. He'll never lie to me."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2588

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2588—Walganus searched the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion but could not find the swordsmanship inheritance.

He fell into thought.

In fact, he was not from this world.

He was sent to this world by his teacher.

Before his departure, his teacher told him that very powerful treasures were hidden on Planet Galileo.

These treasures were none other than the Curse Magic and the swordsmanship inheritance.

However, he was not the fated one he claimed to be.

His teacher told him the fated one had already appeared but instructed him to seize the boons that belonged to this fated one. However, his teacher did not give him clear directions.

Thus, Walganus had no idea how to seize the boons.

He searched for days but could not find the treasures. In other words, he was not destined to find the sword-fighting techniques. The only chance to seize them was to wait for the real fated one to appear.

However, he had no idea who the fated one was.

To find out, he would have to ask the Sword Master and Xianna. He stood on the mountaintop and began planning how to lure the fated one out.

Walganus murmured, "If the fated one really appears, then he will definitely have to go through the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion and Sangria.

"Before I came to this planet, Sir told me the real fated one had already appeared.

That means the fated one might already be in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion. Could it be the man with the Sword Master and Empress Xianna?"

He had a strong feeling it was James. After coming up with a plan, he activated his Divine Sense and scanned the Crepe

Myrtle Sword Pavilion. Afterward, he found out James and Xianna were in a courtyard nearby.

The two were chatting about something, and Xianna left after a while.

At that moment, James was left sitting in a lotus position in the yard.

After hesitating for a while, Walganus got up and walked toward the courtyard where James was cultivating.

James sat in a lotus position in the yard.

Shortly after Xianna left, Walganus showed up. Sensing someone approaching, James opened his eyes and looked toward the courtyard gate. He saw a very ordinary looking man dressed in a black robe walking into the yard.

Although he had a very ordinary appearance, his energy was very potent.

James felt great pressure from his energy alone.

“This person must have unfathomable strength.”

James was shocked.

Although James could not sense Walganus’ exact cultivation rank, he could tell

Walganus was very powerful.

Walganus walked over with a faint smile.

Despite being shocked, James looked at him calmly and asked, “Do you need something from me?”

Walganus walked over and sat beside James on a rock, disregarding his image. He glanced at James sitting in a lotus position, chuckled, and said, “I didn’t expect outsiders to be able to pass through this world’s seal and appear here.”

Hearing his words, James was startled.

Could this person have figured out his origin?

James stared at Walganus.

Walganus was simply testing the waters, but James’ reaction affirmed his suspicions.

James was indeed not of this world.

In all likelihood, James was the real fated one. The supreme sword-fighting techniques and the formidable Curse Magic from the Primeval Age were prepared for him.

Walganus could not help but feel envious of James.

He knew the origins of the sword-fighting techniques and the Curse Magic very well.

His teacher always had a look of great admiration while talking about them.

“Are you a human from Earth?”

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2589

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2589—Walganus looked at James and said calmly, “From my understanding, James Caden is the most outstanding prodigy on Earth right now. It’s rumored he has obtained countless boons, including the Infinity Steles and the Five Elements of Genesis.”

Walganus had never been to Earth nor had he met James before.

However, Walganus had heard a lot about James and made a rough guess that the person before him was James.

James was a person of incredible luck, and even the Heavenly Path was partial toward him. Out of all humans, the person to be the fated one must have had great Luck.

However, Walganus was not very sure.

He was just probing the possibilities.

James also knew Walganus was trying to test him.

“How are you so sure I’m from outside this world?” asked James.

Walganus looked at James and said slowly, “I’m also a swordsman. I can feel the potent Sword Energy in your body. Also, your whole body seems like a sword capable of destroying a world.”

James felt uncomfortable as Walganus stared at him.

He felt like none of his secrets could get past Walganus’ eyes.

“If I’m not mistaken, your Yogacara is the Sword Energy left behind by the Ancestral Sword Master from the Primeval Age.”

James was shocked.

Where was Walganus from? How did he know so much?

James stared at Walganus silently.

Walganus continued to speak. “I know you’re a fated one. The swordsmanship inheritance in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion was prepared for you. I’m also one of the fated ones, but the swordsmanship inheritance isn’t for me. I’m only capable of getting the Curse Magic.

“For me to get the Curse Magic, you’ll have to acquire the swordsmanship inheritance first.”

James’ brows furrowed slightly while listening to Walganus. He did not believe Walganus.

“Let’s join forces, James. You get the supreme swordsmanship inheritance, and I get the Curse Magic. Then, we’ll lift the curse on this world. The curse on this world can block away the Heavenly Path and will be a perfect paradise for humans. After the curse is lifted, humans can come and live on this planet and break free from the Heavenly Path.

“You understand the current environment of this age more than I do.

“Humans desperately need this world.”

James nodded gently in response.

Indeed, humanity needed this world.

However, it was a coincidence that he arrived on this planet.

The Curse Seal on this world prevented outsiders and even a Grand Emperor from entering.

“By the way, have you already found the swordsmanship inheritance?”

After Walganus blabbered for so long about humanity’s situation, James gradually let his guard down. He felt that a person who cared about humanity’s safety could not be that bad.

James shook his head slightly and said, “I’ve searched the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion for days but haven’t found it yet. Plus, I’m not even sure if I’m the fated one.”

Walganus smiled and said, “That’ll be easy to verify. As long as you can stay in Sangria for a month, your identity as the fated one will be confirmed. How long have you been in Sangria?”

Through the conversation, Walganus confirmed James’ identity.

He was sure the person he was talking to was James Caden from Earth.

James was a formidable prodigy with great luck.

However, he was unsure of why James appeared on this planet. He guessed that James must have come for the Ancestral Sword Master's inheritance and the Curse Magic.

James said, "I've been here for over twenty days."

Hearing this, Walganus' expression became solemn. He asked, "Oh, you've been here for over twenty days? Do you feel any abnormalities in your body?"

James shook his head and said, "No."

Walganus pretended to breathe a sigh of relief and said, "Good. That's good."

Afterward, the two chatted for a while.

From the conversation, Walganus learned that James was utterly clueless about the planet and did not even know the world contained great boons. He had arrived on Planet Galileo purely by coincidence.

"I admire you a lot, James. You're fighting for the safety of Earth's humans. You didn't even hesitate to fight the young master of one of the demon clans.

"However, you're no longer alone. I'll keep helping you save the humans on Earth and throughout the universe to survive this dark age.

"Let's rise up together against this Apocalypse Age and pave the way for a bright future for humans."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2590

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2590—Walganus' words resonated with James.

After the conversation between them, the two seemed to have grown closer.

Walganus did not stay for too long. After establishing a good relationship with James, he left.

James continued to sit in a lotus position on the ground.

He had already experienced a lot in the past, so he did not blindly trust Walganus' words.

After arriving at the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion, James had been secretly observing Walganus. He felt that he was very unpredictable.

James murmured, "What the hell is he trying to do? He told Xianna and the Sword Master that he was the fated one, but now he's telling me that there are two fated people. Could it be that there really are two people fated for these boons? Could the swordsmanship inheritance and the Curse Magic really be prepared for two different people?"

He immediately asked Nova in the Celestial Abode.

"Nova, do you think Walganus was telling the truth?"

Nova's voice came from inside the Celestial Abode. "I don't know. You'll have to judge by yourself."

James thought about it again.

"What's the matter? What are you thinking about?"

A pleasant voice resounded.

James regained his senses after hearing the voice and turned toward the source.

While he was zoning out, Xianna appeared before him.

He asked, "Why did you come back?"

Xianna said, "I saw Walganus coming to look for you, so I turned back around and waited outside. I didn't come inside until he left. Why did he come to see you?"

James did not hide things from her and told her about their entire conversation.

Hearing this, Xianna fell into thought.

James asked, "Your Majesty, are there really two people fated for these two treasures? Are the swordsmanship inheritance and the Curse Magic destined for two different people?"

Xianna shook her head and said, "I'm not quite sure. The late Empress never told me about such things. She only mentioned a fated one but did not say when this person would appear. Neither did she mention if there were more than one person."

Hearing this, James did not overthink things.

Having reached this point, he could only take one step at a time.

Xianna briefly chatted with James, then left.

After leaving, Xianna met up with the Sword Master again and told her about the matter. The two discussed the situation again.

The Sword Master had a solemn expression. After thinking for a while, she said, "I'm also a little confused. I don't know which of them is the fated one. Is it James or Walganus? Perhaps it's really like what Walganus said. Maybe the swordsmanship inheritance and the Curse Magic were destined for two different people."

Xianna thought for a while and said, "We shouldn't overthink it for now. Let's wait until their one-month period is up before doing anything."

"Mhm." The Sword Master nodded lightly.

Meanwhile, Walganus had returned to his accommodation.

After returning, the smile on his face vanished and was replaced by a grim look.

After meeting James, Walganus confirmed his identity after a simple conversion. He knew James was a fortunate person from Earth.

Although he had never met James before, he had a powerful teacher who knew a little about the events that took place on Earth.

Thus, Walganus also knew about James. That human had obtained great boons, including the Infinity Steles and the Five Elements of Genesis. He set his target on James.

"Sir asked me to come to Planet Galileo to snatch the good fortune that belongs to the fated one. Now, I can basically confirm that James from Earth is the fated one.

"I'll have to rely on James to get the Ancestral Sword Master and the Ancestral Talisman Master's legacies for now.

"I can only help him to obtain them first, then snatch them afterward.

"I'm not only going to seize the Ancestral Sword Master and the Ancestral Talisman Master's inheritance but also the other treasures he has with him."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

