The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2599—Walganus rubbed his temples and said, “I can’t make a move against him at the moment. He’s the key to obtaining the swordsmanship inheritance and the Curse Magic. I shouldn’t make a move against him unless absolutely necessary.”

“Will he suspect things?”

Yanina was worried.

Walganus lifted her chin and asked smilingly, “Why? Are you scared?”

“N-No, I’m not.”

She pretended to be brave.

Walganus said smilingly, “Don’t worry. I’ll hold up my end of the bargain. Once everything’s resolved, you’ll be the Sword Master of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion.= If you wish, I can even make you the Empress of Sangria.”

“Thank you, Walganus.”

Yanina was grateful for his deeds.

Walganus pointed at Xianna, whose life was hanging by a thread, and said, “Lock her up for now.”

“Understood. I’ll personally bring her to the dungeon.”

Yanina grabbed Xianna and took her to the dungeon.

Then, Walganus left.

After capturing the Sword Master and Xianna, he acted as if nothing had happened and returned to his accommodation.

Meanwhile, James was clueless about everything that just went down.

After spending the whole day in his room, he believed he should discuss things with the Sword Master.

As the leader of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion, perhaps she might have some clues. He made his way to the Sword Master’s residence, but she was nowhere to be seen.

“where did she go?” James furrowed his eyebrows.

Then, he went searching for Xianna. However, she too was nowhere to be seen.

“Where did they go?” James murmured.

However, he still did not suspect anything.

Then, he went searching for Walganus.

At the courtyard where Walganus was staying, Walganus sat in a lotus position on the ground, cultivating in earnest.

Upon sensing James’ presence, he immediately stopped cultivating and stood up. Then, he walked over to James and asked smilingly, “Did you find any clues, James?”

“Nope.”

James shook his head and said, “I wanted to ask the Sword Master something. However, she’s nowhere to be seen. Have you seen her?”

“Nope.”

Walganus acted as if he knew nothing.

“Have you seen the Empress, then?” James asked again.

Walganus shook his head.

“That’s too.”

James furrowed his eyebrows and said, “How weird..Where did they go?”

Walganus said smilingly, “Maybe they went somewhere else to discuss something. Just wait for them to return. I don’t think they’ll be gone for long.”

“Mhm.”

James nodded.

Walganus was right.

They must have headed somewhere to discuss something important.

“Sorry for bothering you.”

James clasped his fists and turned to leave after saying goodbye.

After he left, the smile on Walganus' face froze as he said coldly, "Do you seriously think you'd still be standing here intact in front of me if you weren't useful?"

Walganus made a move against the Sword Master and Xianna because he suspected that they were hiding something from him.

Hence, he captured them in the hopes of interrogating them.

After learning their secrets, he would help James obtain the swordsmanship inheritance.

Once James obtained the inheritance, he would be dead meat.

James left, not knowing where the Sword Master and Xianna had gone to. He returned to his courtyard and sat in a lotus position to summon his Yogacara.

At that moment, his pores opened up, and countless Sword Energies materialized, gathering together to form a red Sword Energy.

The Sword Energy was a hundred meters in length and a few meters in width.

Like a dragon, it soared into the sky.

At that moment, all of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion could sense the majestic Sword Intent.

James looked at his Yogacara and nodded in satisfaction.

Like a dragon, it soared into the sky.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2600—James' Yogacara was too powerful.

Even from a distance away, Walganus could sense the majestic power sweeping through the entire Sword Pavilion. He was envious and jealous of James.

"Everything you have now shall belong to me, James." Walganus clenched his fists.

Then, he left his accommodation and headed to Yanina Peak.

Upon his arrival, Yanina walked over to him and said smilingly, "You're here, Walganus."

“Mhm.”

Walganus nodded and ordered, “Send men to monitor James’ movements.”

“Understood.”

“Remember, do not arouse his suspicion.”

“I will keep that in mind.”

After giving his orders, Walganus headed to the dungeon of Yanina Peak. The dungeon was dark and damp, and a stench of decay permeated the air.

Two women were imprisoned there—the Sword Master and Empress Xianna.

They suffered injuries, and their cultivation bases were sealed away.

Walganus opened the Sword Master’s cell and walked in.

The Sword Master was lying on the ground, gasping for breath.

Upon hearing the sound of footsteps, she opened her eyes.

Through the dim lights, she saw Walganus approaching her.

Though she wanted to stand, she could not exert even a single ounce of strength.

“W-Walganus Jaxon! What do you think you are doing?” She asked in a feeble voice.

Walganus waved his hand casually, and a chair magically appeared out of thin air.

He sat on the chair cross-legged and looked at the Sword Master, saying smilingly, “You should know what I want, don’t you?”

“I-I don’t know.”

“Stop playing dumb.”

Enraged, Walganus waved his hand, and the Sword Master was lifted up by a powerful force. She levitated in mid-air.

Walganus said furiously, “I want you to tell me all the secrets of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion. I want you to tell me the whereabouts of the inheritance of the Ancestral Sword Master.”

The Sword Master said feebly, "I-I've told you everything I know wd "argh! » Before she could finish her sentence, mysterious black characters materialized in Walganus' palm and entered her body.

Immediately, excruciating pain came from inside her body, and she could not help but scream in pain.

At that moment, she felt as if there were millions of poisonous insects tearing at her flesh from within.

Veins bulged on her pale face, and her expression was ghastly.

"My patience is limited, Sword Master," Walganus said coldly.

"I gave you a chance. Yet, you threw it down the drain. So, don't blame me for what happens next."

"Wh -What have you done to me?" The Sword Master roared, "I-It hurts... Q- Quick, kill me!"

"This is Curse Magic. I've implanted a curse inside your body. Relax. You won't die just yet. However, you'll be tortured endlessly."

"Y-You despicable...."

"Tell me the secrets of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion."

"I-I don't know...Argh! Kill me already!"
