The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2627—"That won't work, kid." His voice boomed.

"Who's there?" While James was engaged in a fierce battle, a sound came all of a sudden and frightened him.

After knocking back a few Heavenly Path Embodiments, he turned around and searched for the source of the voice.

In the distance stood a middle-aged man standing in mid-air.

He was wearing tattered black armor, and he seemed to be in a wretched state.

Just as James was about to ask the man what his words meant, he was struck in the back by the enemy.

He was sent flying by the terrifying force and immediately suffered injuries.

Careful not to lower his guard, he concentrated on fighting the Heavenly Path Embodiments wholeheartedly and stabilized the situation.

At the same time, he asked, "Who are you? Why are you here?" In the distance, the man smiled faintly and said, "There's no need for you to know who I am.

You should consider yourself fortunate to have encountered me.

Otherwise, you'll never overcome this tribulation." Hearing this, James said, "Please offer me your guidance, Sir."

"Though there's the Ancestral Sword Master's Sword Energy inside your body, you do not have the Sword Master's swordsmanship," the man said.

He asked, "How much do you know about the Ancestral Sword Master's swordsmanship?"

In the midst of the battle, James replied, "I don't know much, I only learned the fundamentals and combined some sword techniques together." "That's good enough," the man said.

"Now, allow me to briefly tell you more about the Ancestral Sword Master's swordsmanship.

"His swordsmanship is divided into five stages— Sword Moves, Sword Shadow, Sword Heart, Sword Intent, and Singularity." "The five stages can be cultivated both as a whole or individually.

No sword techniques are independent of these stages.” “The most fundamental of sword techniques are the moves, also known as Sword Moves.

The Sword Shadow is the second stage.

What is a Sword Shadow, you might ask? The shadow refers to the exterior, the shadow of the sword.

The Sword Heart refers to the heart of the sword-wielder.

The same sword techniques possess different power depending on the heart of the wielder.

Sword Intent refers to the intent of the sword and the heart.

Singularity refers to the fusion of all five stages and the completion of swordsmanship.

“The Ancestral Sword Master is unrivaled because he fused all the sword techniques of the world into one.

Take the Sword Move of the First Sword Realm for example, the Ancestral Sword Master has combined every sword technique in the world into one, allowing him to destroy everything in his path in one single move.

His voice echoed in James’ mind.

Sophie has told him about this before.

She said that the more sword techniques that were merged into one, the greater their power.

He had merged many sword techniques.

Some were sword techniques he learned in the past, while others were ones he learned at the Ancient Clan of the Ancient Realm.

By combining these sword techniques into one, the power of his moves was terrifying.

However, the Sword Move of the First Sword Realm was the only one he learned among the Five Great Sword Realms of the Sword Master.

He did not involve himself in the rest.

“Watch those Heavenly Path Embodiments closely.

Their sword techniques are the best in the world.

I'm not asking you to gain insight into the Five Great Sword Realms, but at least comprehend one of them.

Learn the sword techniques of these Heavenly Path Embodiments and merge them into the First Sword Realm's Sword Move.

If you succeed in doing so, you can make your way out of the Tribulation World.

Otherwise, you'll simply be annihilated even with the Infinity Steles, the Five Elements of Genesis, and the Sword Energy of the Ancestral Sword Master." The man offered his advice.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2628—Learn the sword techniques of the Heavenly Path Embodiments and merge them into his own sword technique? James was confounded.

He knew just how difficult it was to merge sword techniques together.

Back then, he had painstakingly merged them together in the Celestial Abode.

James took a deep breath.

At the same time, he observed the Heavenly Path Embodiments in his surroundings while engaging in a fierce battle against them.

Just as he thought, the sword techniques of these Heavenly Path Embodiments were all sophisticated.

Some were bizarre, while others were ever-changing.

There were all kinds of Sword Moves.

Though he did not understand much about the Five Great Sword Realms of the Ancestral Sword Master, he could somewhat discern that the sword techniques performed by these Heavenly Path Embodiments contained the Five Great Sword Realms.

However, now, he needed to learn about the other Sword Moves.

There were tens of thousands of Heavenly Path Embodiments in his surroundings.

Every second, they would slash James with their swords.

The Sword Moves performed by these Heavenly Path Embodiments surfaced in his mind.

However, the moment he was distracted, he was struck.

Even with True Elemental Essence shielding his physical body, he suffered grave injuries.

Scars appeared on his body, and the Blood Energy inside his body churned, causing him to spurt out a mouthful of blood.

Careful not to be distracted anymore, he concentrated on the battle wholeheartedly.

However, doing this depleted his energy severely.

Based on the current speed, his True Essence would be completely depleted soon.

‘What should I do?’ James began to panic.

It would be impossible for him to learn the sword techniques and fuse them together in a single day, much less a minute.

This was particularly pertinent for supreme sword techniques performed by the Heavenly Path Embodiments.

The time needed to master them would be significantly longer, perhaps millennia, or even a greater period of time.

Would he have to continue fighting for many thousands of years? When he thought about it, despair filled his heart.

Sensing James’ thoughts, the man in black armor said, “Millennia pass in the blink of an eye.

In fact, you should consider yourself fortunate if you could leave this place in 10 thousand years.” “Do you know how long I’ve been here, Kid?

I entered the Tribulation World in the Primeval Age, and I never managed to overcome the Heavenly Tribulation even after the Primeval Age, the Ancient Heavenly Court Age, and the Primordial Age have ended.” Hearing this, James’ blood ran cold.

“Th-That long? You must be kidding me!” He was in disbelief.

He knew there were three eras prior to the contemporary Apocalypse Age.

However, he had no idea how much time each era had specifically.

He only roughly knew that hundreds of millions of years had passed since the Primeval Age.

“Work hard, Kid.

By the way, you have to use your True Essence sparingly.

Never allow it to be completely depleted.

Otherwise, the consequences would be disastrous.

You seem to have enormous potential, but despite having gained some insight into Elemental Inversion, you have yet to grasp its essence.

If I’m not mistaken, the five elements of Elemental Inversion interweave and restrain each other.

Fusing them repeatedly will create a constant stream of power.

This will prevent your True Essence from being completely depleted as they will be replenished non-stop.

“However, you shouldn’t be in a hurry to learn the sword techniques and merge them.

You should resolve the issue of the insufficiency of your True Essence,” the man said.

James took a deep breath.

Once he learned he would be engaged in a battle for a long period of time afterward, he knew that he would not be leaving this place anytime soon.

The man was right.

He had only learned the fundamentals of Elemental Inversion.

At that moment, he catalyzed Elemental Inversion.

As True Elemental Essence gathered, his aura and power increased drastically.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2629—However, as his strength increased, he could clearly sense that the Heavenly Path Embodiments in his surroundings also grew in strength.

The man hurriedly warned, "Avoid using arcane arts that allow your strength to grow.

As these Heavenly Path Embodiments are created by the Laws of Heaven, they specifically target cultivators.

This means that the stronger the power, the stronger they will be." Hearing this, James dispersed Elemental Inversion.

"Take it slowly.

This is only just the beginning." After speaking, the man appeared at the peak of a mountain and watched James' battle.

At that moment, sensing the presence of something, his face darkened as he cursed, "How persistent! They have already caught up with me." Then, he vanished and reappeared at a place far away from James.

Almost immediately, a horde of Heavenly Path Embodiments appeared and attacked him ferociously.

Though there was nothing apparently different about their Heavenly Path Embodiments, the ones attacking the man were much more powerful than the ones attacking James.

His Heavenly Path Embodiments were at the peak of the Grand Emperor Rank and infinitely close to reaching the Ancestral God Rank.

James had no idea that the mysterious man who offered him guidance was also now engaged in a fierce battle against the Heavenly Path Embodiments.

James calmed down.

As he fought, he tried learning more about Elemental Inversion.

Elemental Inversion was meant for the Five Elements of Genesis and the incredible cultivation methods created by them.

By combining their powers, immense power would be created.

The mysterious man seemed to have great knowledge about Elemental Inversion and the ways of creating True Essence infinitely.

There were two ways to create True Essence.

One of them was simple.

By utilizing one's cultivation method to control the Five Elements of Genesis inside one's body, power would materialize in a steady stream.

That way, no matter how long the battle lasted, his True Essence would not be depleted.

One could obtain power by borrowing the strength of the Five Elements of Genesis.

That was because the Five Elements of Genesis were divine powers that were born during the creation of heaven and earth and, as such, possessed devastating power.

The other way was to use cultivation methods to allow the Five Elements of Genesis to interweave and restrain each other.

As they formed a circulation inside one's body, they would create a steady stream of True Essence.

That way, True Essence would gradually increase even without any cultivation.

The second method was comparatively more difficult.

With James' comprehension of Elemental Inversion, it would be difficult to accomplish such a feat.

However, to safely overcome this Heavenly Tribulation, he nonetheless decided to gain insight and research the cultivation method of Elemental Inversion.

Everything in this world was formed by five elements – Metal, Wood, Water, Fire, and Earth.

The five elements interweaved and restrained each other and were indivisible.

Without them interweaving with each other, beings and creations would not exist.

Without them constraining each other, there would be no restraints, and order could not be maintained.

Wood gave rise to Fire, Fire gave rise to Earth, Earth gave rise to Metal, Metal gave rise to Water, and Water gave rise to Wood.

Wood constrained Earth, Earth constrained Water, Water constrained Fire, Fire constrained Metal, and Metal constrained Wood.

The relationship between the five elements surfaced in James' mind.

At the same time, he tried using different True Essences to form a new True Essence.

Then, he would use the new True Essence and combine them with other True Essences to create new ones.

True Elemental Essence gathered in James' five organs.

As he slowly gained insight, the five organs formed a connection and create a single collective.

The five organs seemed to have formed a Magic Circle.

Different True Essences materialized and gave rise to new ones.

As they circulated throughout the body, a steady stream of power was created.

James had no idea how long he had been trying to comprehend Elemental Inversion.

He only knew that he was constantly trying to comprehend Elemental Inversion to form a Magic Circle that allowed the five elements inside his body to interweave and restrain each other.

As the Five Elements Magic Circle was formed, his body became the core.

The moment the Magic Circle spun, the energy of heaven and earth was absorbed through the pores and entered his body.

After entering the Five Elements Magic Circle, they were refined and transformed into Elemental Power.

"I did it." James was delighted.

After the Elemental Inversion Magic Circle was formed, he no longer had to worry about his energy being depleted.

From now on, his body would automatically absorb the power of heaven and earth without having to consciously cultivate it.

As the five elements interweaved with each other, a steady stream of power had been created.

"As expected of the Supernatural Power created by the Five Ancestral Gods! How unbelievable!" James could not help but exclaim.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2630—Amid the battle, James withstood overwhelming pressure and gained even more insight into Elemental Inversion.

With the five organs acting as a medium, he managed to gain insight into Elemental Inversion Formation.

After the Formation was created, True Elemental Essence interweaved with each other and created a steady stream of power.

At the same time, it absorbed the power of heaven and earth.

James had no idea how long he had battled for nor how long he had been gaining insight into Elemental Inversion.

He only knew that his True Energy was being depleted time and again, and new power created by the Five Elements of Genesis replenished them.

After the Formation was created, James breathed a sigh of relief.

Now, he had to learn the Sword Moves, gain insight into them, and merge them.

After a long battle, his body was now covered in injuries, which did not recover.

Fortunately, his physical body was extraordinary, or else he would have been long dead.

He calmed down.

After relaxing his mind, every move of the Heavenly Path Embodiments in his surroundings surfaced in his mind.

As James battled against them, he gained insight into their moves at the same time.

He only needed to memorize the Sword Moves.

After memorizing them, he needed to merge them into his own.

However, though it appeared simple at a glance, it was extremely difficult.

The more Sword Moves that were merged, the harder it would be to gain insight into them further down the road.

James was engaged in a fierce battle in a world full of lightning tribulations and Heavenly Path Embodiments.

He did not dare let his guard down for even a brief moment, for fear that the Heavenly Path Embodiments would sneak up from behind and deal him a fatal blow.

Though he was exhausted, he did not dare rest.

During the battle, he slowly learned many sophisticated Sword Moves and tried merging the sword techniques.

Batting was the best form of cultivation.

Throughout the battle, James' sword technique grew increasingly more profound, and he merged more and more sword techniques.

As such, the power of his Sword Moves grew increasingly stronger.

After battling and gaining insight for God knows how long, not to mention the sheer amount of Sword Moves he had merged, he could now slash a Heavenly Path Embodiment in a single slash.

Now, his physical strength had increased further, reaching the Sage's Rank Fifth Stage.

Meanwhile, his True Essence had also increased.

The Heavenly Tribulation was far from finished.

As the second stage of the Heavenly Tribulation appeared, he successfully overcame the second and third tribulations in the midst of the battle.

At the moment, his strength had reached the peak of the Tribulation Rank's Third Stage.

"Am I going to become a Sage in the Tribulation World?" As James looked at the Heavenly Path Embodiments that appeared in his surroundings and the lightning tribulations descending from the sky, he could not help but sigh.

Under such circumstances, there was no way he would not become a Sage in the Tribulation World.

On the other end of the Tribulation World...

After annihilating a horde of Heavenly Path Embodiments, the mysterious man retreated from the battle and headed to the region James was in.

Upon seeing James, who was in the midst of a fierce battle, and the sword techniques he performed, a smile crept up on his pale face as he murmured, "He's a fast learner for sure."

He managed to comprehend the essence of Elemental Inversion in such a short period of time.

Not only that, but his sword technique has increased so drastically.

What a shame that his rank is too insignificant.

Otherwise, with his sword technique, he would have become one of the hegemons of this world.” He was satisfied with James’ performance.

“That won’t do, Kid.

To leave the Tribulation World, you have to annihilate all Heavenly Path Embodiments in a single move.” When James performed the sword techniques, he was immersed in this fabulous feeling.

As much time passed, his sword techniques were now capable of annihilating the Heavenly Path Embodiments with ease.

At that moment, a voice came, and James collected himself.

Scanning the countless Heavenly Path Embodiments in his surroundings, he furrowed his eyebrows, “Annihilate them all in a single move?”
