

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2636

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2636—James' taut nerves were getting loosened up at this moment.

As soon as James relaxed, his fatigue came.

He quickly fell into a deep sleep while lying on the bed.

James was asleep, but Walganus and the others were gathered in the main hall.

Walganus regarded the numerous generals and said, "His Majesty has overcome the Heavenly Tribulation.

His rank has greatly improved as well.

He has risen from the third stage of Yogacara to the peak of Tribulation Rank's Third Stage.

Now, he is only one step away from the Sage Rank.

"Regardless, the aura on His Majesty is too frightening.

It is a boundless murderous intent that is extremely difficult to form.

One would need to kill innumerable living beings." After hearing that, Winnie, who was in the main hall, looked at Walganus and asked, "What do you mean by that?"

Walganus furrowed his brow and said, "I'm just reminding everyone that once His Majesty is controlled by the murderous intent in his body and loses his mind, it will be very terrifying.

At that point, the whole of Sangria will suffer." "His Majesty looks fine to me.

His aura is just a little strange, that's all," said Winnie.

Walganus waved his hand slightly and said, "Nevermind.

We'll end our discussion of His Majesty right here.

The Korinethian Army has currently gathered outside Yoruba Valley.

When the Korinethian Army launches an attack, what should we do?" "Hmph." Winnie snorted softly and said, "No matter how many of them show up, I'll kill them all." Walganus cast a glance at Winnie and said, "By yourself?" "Yes, by myself." Winnie stared at Walganus.

Although she could not see through Walganus and did not know his strength, she had no fear.

“youth.

How nonsensical,” Walganus said indifferently, then turned around and walked away.

Before he left, he said, “We’ll talk after His Majesty has had enough rest.” The Emperor of Korinth, Xandalous, had also learned about James overcoming the tribulation at this time.

He knew that he had experienced the most terrifying Ninth- Rank Heavenly Tribulation, and he knew that the power of his Heavenly Tribulation was dreadful.

“A single person who has merely gone through the tribulation has you all in such fear.” Xandalous smacked the table in anger.

Then, he gave an order.

“ Pass down the order.

The entire force will attack.

We must take over Sangria in one fell swoop.” The Chancellor received the order from the Emperor of Korinth, Xandalous.

He stood on the peak of a mountain, looking back at the army of 150 million men.

He had a bad feeling.

During the assault on Sangria this time, the entire army might be destroyed.

Nonetheless, the Emperor had given the order.

He could only execute it.

It was currently nighttime.

The Chancellor waved casually, and a command flag manifested from his palm.

This command flag hovered in mid-air, emanating golden light.

Behind him, the 150 million soldiers all saw this command flag.

“Assemble!” “It’s the command flag to attack.” The army of 150 million men immediately assembled.

After that, while being called to action by the command flag, they marched forward.

They passed through Yoruba Valley, entered Sangria, traversed through the region destroyed by Heavenly Tribulation, and headed straight for Macchia City.

It was not yet dawn, but the sound of sirens could be heard throughout Macchia City.

While the sirens were blaring loudly, the entire army was on standby.

James was in a dream.

He dreamt that he was back on Earth and met Thea.

He dreamt about peace on Earth and living in seclusion with Thea.

At this very moment, a frantic knock came from outside the door.

The noise woke James up.

He leaped, stood on the ground, then went to open the door.

The person knocking was Walganus.

“What’s the matter?” James glanced at Walganus.

Walganus looked anxious.

He said, “We’ve just received word that the Korinthan Army is already on the move.” James wore an expression of indifference.

He said, “What’s there to worry about? Macchia City is still a long distance away from Yoruba Valley.

The Korinthan Army will need a few days before arriving in Macchia City.

I’m a bit tired.

Don’t bother me.

I’ll be getting some rest.”

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2637

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2637—After he finished speaking, James returned to the room.

He lay down on the bed again.

With his current strength, he was not afraid of the Korinthian Army at all.

Even without using the force inside the Celestial Abode, he could handle Korinth's several dozen Sages and the army of over 100 million men on his own.

With a carefree expression, he rested.

Walganus, on the other hand, was frowning outside the door.

He did not want Sangria to be destroyed just like that.

If Sangria was destroyed, his plans would be ruined.

"Could it be that this brat has something up his sleeve to fend off the Korinthian Army's assault?" Walganus murmured.

Since James was not anxious right now, it was pointless for him to worry.

If Sangria was truly in danger of being destroyed, he would no longer hide his strength and would immediately destroy the Korinthian Army.

The entire Macchia City was aware that the Korinthian Army was on the move.

The soldiers of Macchia City wore grave expressions.

They were on full alert, ready to fight the Korinthian Army to the death.

Even if they died in battle, they would not allow the Korinthian Army to enter Macchia City.

The Macchia City's soldiers were all tense.

James, on the other hand, remained in his room and rested.

In the blink of an eye, three days had passed.

James dawdled out of the room.

There were a lot of people standing outside.

Walganus, Quinella, Winnie, Delainey, and some generals were present.

When Quinella saw James come outside, she could not help but go over to him, get down on one knee, and said, "Your Majesty, the Korinthan Army is already getting close to Macchia City.

It was estimated that they will reach Macchia City in one day." Before James could speak, Winnie was eager to take action.

She said, "Your Majesty, please give me the order to lead the army outside the city and engage the Korinthan Army in a fierce battle." James cast a glance at Winnie, his face listless, and said, "What are you doing here?" After saying that, he looked at the people who were present and instructed them, "You all stay put in Macchia City.

I'll go meet with the Korinthan Army." Hearing that, many were dumbstruck.

Walganus stared at James and asked, "Your Majesty, what you're saying is...

you want to fight several dozens of Sages and the army of 150 million men all by yourself?" "What's the matter? Can't I?" James questioned in reply.

Walganus was perplexed.

He was well aware of James' arsenal of ultimate moves.

However, no matter how many ultimate moves and trump cards he possessed, his rank was not high.

He had not even entered the Sage Rank yet.

How would he be able to fight against dozens of Sages? How would he be able to fight against the army of 150 million men? Even if the army simply stood there and let him kill them, it would take him a long time to take care of each and every one of them.

James noticed the worried expression on everyone's faces.

He said with a smile, "It will be fine." Winnie walked over and said, "Your Majesty, I'll go with you." Delainey also stepped forward and said, "I'll go too." With so many people present, they both regarded themselves as his subordinates.

"There's no need.

I'm fine going by myself.

You're all staying here." As soon as James finished speaking, he leaped and instantly appeared in the sky.

He then flew out of Macchia City and soon vanished from their sight.

Winnie did not listen to James at all.

The moment James left, she followed him and left Macchia City, chasing after James.

When Delainey noticed this, she followed suit and also left the city.

Walganus furrowed his brow slightly, then immediately instructed, “Stay put.

I’ll go after them and take a look.” As he was done speaking, Walganus went after them and left the city as well.

After leaving the city, James flew at full speed.

After about half a day of flying, he saw an army ahead of him.

The army was moving forward like a tide, whipping up clouds of sand into the air.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2638

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2638—James saw the Korinthian Army.

There were a lot of people in his field of vision.

They were closely packed, rolling in like a tidal wave.

Behind the army were some flying battleships.

Every flying battleship was massive, capable of carrying at least millions of people.

He stood in mid-air, hands behind his back, his face calm.

At this moment, some Sages had gathered on a flying battleship of the Korinthian Army in the center.

The leader was Korinth’s Chancellor.

Korinth’s Chancellor was named Yifioss Juel.

He was once a disciple of the Korinth Sect and was skilled in the art of divination.

The flying battleship came to a stop.

“What’s happening?” Chancellor Yifioss asked.

“Report!” A soldier walked over, knelt on one knee on the ground, and said, “Chancellor, someone is obstructing the path ahead.” “How many people?” “One.

» Chancellor Yifioss was furious.

He snapped, “Just run over them.

We cannot allow one person to cause a delay in our journey.” “Chancellor, the aura on him is quite powerful.” The Chancellor stood up and said, “I’ll go check it out.” He got to his feet and flew straight ahead.

Many Sages trailed behind him.

They flew quickly.

They soon arrived at the very front of the army and saw James standing in mid-air in front of them.

James was dressed in a black robe.

His hands were behind his back, and he had a serene look on his face.

Regardless, such a man was emitting a terrifying aura.

This aura was murderous intent.

The army ahead had detected this murderous intent and did not dare to advance hastily.

“What a terrifying aura.” The Chancellor sensed the murderous intent emanating from within James’ body.

He furrowed his brow slightly.

Immediately after, he walked up to him, stood in mid-air, and looked at him.

He greeted him and said, “Sir, who are you? Why are you blocking the path of the Korinthan Army?”

James smiled faintly and said, “Despite being one of the most powerful nations in this world, are you perhaps unaware that the Emperor of Sangria has been replaced?

Is it possible that you are unaware that the Emperor of Sangria is currently a man?” This information was indeed known to Korinth.

After hearing these words, Chancellor Yifioss deduced James’ identity.

He was the current Emperor of Sangria.

At this moment, Winnie, Delainey, and Walganus also appeared behind James.

However, they did not move closer.

They simply watched in the distance.

All of them wanted to see how James would deal with this army of 150 million men.

Some of Korinth's Sages furrowed their brow.

"He is the Emperor of Sangria?" "Sangria has a curse.

Men are unable to stay in Sangria for more than a month.

How is he able to stay in Sangria?" "He's the person who was going through the tribulation." "His strength is quite powerful.

He has already reached Tribulation Rank's Third Stage.

Soon he'll become a Sage." There was much discussion among the Sages of Korinth.

James stood in mid-air, hands behind his back, and said nonchalantly, "I don't want to kill anyone.

Leave Sangria immediately, and I'll act as if you have never arrived." James' voice rang out.

"Hmph." From the crowd in the distance, there was a cold scoff.

Immediately after, a man walked out.

He was dressed in a golden robe.

A broadsword manifested from his hand, and he carried it on his shoulder.

Looking at James with contempt on his face, he said, "Though you haven't become a Sage yet, you have the audacity to talk nonsense.

I'm going to annihilate you today, new Emperor of Sangria." After saying that, he took a step forward.

In an instant, he appeared in front of James.

The broadsword slung over his shoulder was already cutting down.

The blade of the sword was golden and radiated golden Sword Light.

Before the blade had fallen, the golden Sword Light had already struck James' head.

This man's strength had surpassed the Tribulation Rank and reached the Sage Rank's Third Stage.

As he struck with all his might, his frightening Sword Light could undoubtedly kill a cultivator who had yet to enter the Sage Rank.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2639

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2639—However, the Sword Light did not cause James any harm.

Immediately after, the golden broadsword struck down at James' head.

James did not move a muscle.

His opponent, on the other hand, was jolted and sent flying by a terrifying force.

James had fought tooth and nail in the Tribulation World for thirty thousand years.

Throughout these thirty thousand years, he was constantly attacked by lightning.

His physical strength had grown to the point where it was frightening even to himself.

Behind James, Winnie, Delainey, and Walganus all had their mouths opened in shock.

Walganus took a deep breath and said, "The strength of the person who attacked has reached Sage Rank's Third Stage.

Despite using all of his strength, he was unable to harm James.

What exactly has James been through in the Tribulation World?" In the distance, dozens of Korin's Sages were completely stupefied.

The Korin's Army was completely struck dumb.

"You..." The man who had been jolted appeared astounded.

He could not help but exclaim, "You...

Why is your physical strength so strong? This is impossible.

This is entirely impossible.

You're not a Sage yet.

How is it possible for you to have such incredible physical strength?" He was in disbelief.

How could the physical strength of someone who had yet to become a Sage be so terrifying? "Attack together." In an instant, eight people stepped forward.

All eight of them were Sages.

The weakest of them had reached Sage Rank's Third Stage.

Chancellor Yifioss had a grave expression.

However, he did not stop them.

The Emperor had given an order that they must take over Sangria.

It was fine to let these Sages test James' capabilities.

Looking at these eight Sages, James' expression gradually became cold and detached.

He said coldly, "I don't want to kill anyone.

However, if you have a death wish, you can't blame me." "Kill him." "Attack." "Destroy this brat." "I'm interested to find out just how impressive this brat is." The eight Sages launched their attack immediately.

Whoosh! In James' hand, a ray of Sword Light appeared, followed by a brilliant longsword.

It was the Primordial Dragon Blade.

The Primordial Dragon Blade was once broken.

However, Sophie had reconstructed the Primordial Dragon Blade for him a long time ago.

As he held the Primordial Dragon Blade in his hand, James' body flashed.

Everyone only saw a flash of Sword Light.

Before everyone realized what was going on, the bodies of the eight Sages who were charging at James were cut into halves and fell from the sky, eventually landing on the ground.

“Wha—?” Walganus was completely flabbergasted.

He was a swordsman as well.

Even if his swordsmanship was not unrivaled in the world, he thought it was at the very least exceptional.

However, after he saw James struck with his sword, he was stunned.

“This... What is this sword technique?” Walganus exclaimed.

Far away, Korinth’s Chancellor, Ylfioss, and the rest of the Sages were completely flummoxed.

Among the eight Sages, the weakest was at Sage Rank’s Third Stage.

They had all attacked at once, yet they were all actually killed in an instant with a single move.

What was more crucial was that they could not even see clearly how James struck with his sword.

James returned to his initial spot and put away the Primordial Dragon Blade.

With his hands behind his back and a calm expression on his face, he looked ahead at Korinth’s Chancellor, and said indifferently, “If you don’t want your army of a hundred and fifty million men to perish here, take your army and leave Sangria.” His voice rang out across the horizon.

The Sages of Korinth felt terror arose from the depths of their souls.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2640

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2640—James was too powerful.

He was so powerful that terror arose in the hearts of the remaining Korinth’s Sages.

He had annihilated eight powerhouses ranging from the Sage Rank’s Third to Fifth Stage with a single move.

What the hell was that? An individual with such terrifying fighting power had never existed before, at least not in the history of Korinth.

“Retreat.” After careful consideration, Chancellor Ylfioss gave the order to retreat.

As soon as he gave the order, the army of 150 million men began to retreat.

Soon, they vanished from the sight of James and the others.

When James saw that the army had gone far away, he finally felt relieved.

He turned around and noticed the few stunned individuals.

He walked over in mid-air, a displeased look on his face, and said, “Didn’t I tell you to stay in Macchia City? Why did you follow me here?” Winnie was the first to speak.

She said, “Your Majesty, we were just worried about you.” Delainey nodded her head.

Walgnus was staring at James intensely.

He could not help but ask, “James, your sword technique is quite terrifying.

What exactly is the sword technique that you cultivate?” “It’s nothing.” James did not dwell on the topic.

He changed the subject instead and said, “Alright.

Let’s go back.” He turned around and left first, followed by others.

Soon, they were back in Macchia City.

In the main hall of Macchia City’s City Lord’s Mansion, Walgnus said, “Although the Korinthian Army retreated this time, Korinth has been attacking our country persistently.

I believe they won’t give up so easily.

Following the army’s withdrawal this time, they will definitely dispatch the country’s true powerhouses the next time they show up.” “Mhm.

That’s right.” “Korinth is too powerful.

It has a Korinth Sect, and there are countless Sages in the Korinth Sect.” “The Korinth Sect’s Patriarch, who is at the Sage Rank’s Eighth Stage, might show up the next time.” Many generals were not at all happy about the retreat of the Korinthian Army.

Instead, they were very worried.

However, the man in charge, James, appeared unconcerned.

He said, "There's nothing to worry about.

We will take things as they come.

Go and get some rest, everyone." "Yes, Your Majesty." The generals only then left the main hall.

James walked out of the main hall as well and headed toward the courtyard.

Korinth's Chancellor had sent the news back to Korinth promptly.

The Emperor of Korinth, Xandalous, was swiftly informed of the situation on the front lines.

"He killed eight Sages with a single blow when the strongest of them was at Sage Rank's Fifth Stage?" Xandalous furrowed his brow slightly.

Immediately after, he went to the courtyard and once again arrived at the front of the simple bamboo house.

Standing in front of the door with a respectful face, he called out, "Grand Patriarch." Creak...

The door was opened, and an elder walked out.

Xandalous did not wait for the elder to speak before reporting immediately, "Sir, news just came from the front lines.

The Emperor of Sangria has changed.

Right now, Sangria's Emperor is aman.

This person stopped our army from advancing.

At the frontlines, eight Sages surrounded and attacked this person.

"The weakest of these eight Sages was at the Sage Rank's Third Stage.

The strongest was at the Sage Rank's Fifth Stage.

"However, although the eight Sages all attacked at the same time, they were instantly killed by the Emperor of Sangria with a single move." In the face of the Grand Patriarch of the Korinth family, Xandalous did not have any temper.

His face was full of respect.

“Oh?” The elder’s face showed a hint of surprise.

“He killed eight Sages with just a single move.

When did such a powerful individual appear in Sangria? He is a man, even.

There is a curse in Sangria.

Men are unable to stay there for more than a month.

What’s going on?” “{ don’t know, sir.” Xandalous shook his head.

The elder started to ponder.

After a while, he said, “Go to the Patriarch of the Korinth Sect and request that he personally intervene to kill the Emperor of Sangria.

This matter cannot be put off any longer.

Get on it right now.”

“Yes, sir.”