The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2641—Xandalous nodded, then left.

The Korinth Sect was the largest sect in the Kingdom of Korinth.

There were plenty of powerhouses in the Korinth Sect and that included many Sages.

The strongest of them all was the Korinth Sect's Patriarch.

Rumors were that the Korinth Sect's Patriarch was a Sage King at the Sage Rank's Eighth Stage.

Not only would he be the top powerhouse in Korinth with such strength, but he could also be considered one of the best in Galileo.

However, this was only if the remaining unrivaled powerhouses kept a low profile.

As long as these unrivaled powerhouses stayed hidden, a Sage King at the Sage Rank's Eighth Stage could easily dominate the world.

After the Korinth's Grand Patriarch gave him an order, Xandalous immediately headed to the Korinth Sect.

Within the Kingdom of Korinth, there was a vast mountain range.

It was a magical place with countless spiritual rivers that nourished the land with plentiful Spiritual Energy.

The concentration of Spiritual Energy here was numerous times more concentrated than in the outside world.

A beast carriage flew in from a distance and headed deep into the mountain range before finally stopping at the highest mountain.

A man dressed in a golden robe stepped out of the beast carriage.

He was Korinth's Emperor, Xandalous.

Xandalous alighted the beast carriage.

Many of the Korinth Sect's disciples gathered around him.

Seeing that the visitor was Xandalous, the disciples quickly kneeled respectfully.

"You may stand."

Xandalous gently waved his hand.

The disciples straightened themselves.

Xandalous headed directly up the mountain.

With a few steps, he appeared right on the top of the mountain.

“what brings you to Korinth Sect, Your Majesty?”

As soon as he reached the mountaintop, a Korinth Sect elder greeted him.

Xandalous said, “I’m here to see the Sect Patriarch”

“Our Sect Patriarch is currently meditating in seclusion.”

“Please follow me to the main hall first, Your Majesty. I’ll go inform our Sect Patriarch for you.”

The Korinth Sect elder brought Xandalous into the main hall of the sect’s main mountain to wait.

Xandalous waited for over an hour.

“Haha.”

After a little over an hour, a burst of laughter came from outside the main hall.

Then, a middle-aged man walked inside with a bright smile. He looked about 40 years old and was dressed in a beige robe. He gave off a quirky demeanor.

“Your Majesty.”

The man walked into the main hall and clasped his fists together.

Xandalous immediately stood up and said, “There’s no need for formalities, Sir. Come sit down and let us talk.”

The middle-aged man sat down, looked at Xandalous, and asked, “

Did something significant happen? What brings you all the way to Korinth Sect?”

Xandalous nodded with a solemn expression. He explained the situation with the war’s front line.

“Our Korinthan Army has retreated to the Yantargh Canyon.

My family’s Grand Patriarch ordered me to beckon you out of the mountain to eliminate Sangria’s newly appointed Emperor.

“As long as he dies, Sangria won’t be any threat to us.”

The Korinth Sect’s Patriarch listened attentively.

“You’re saying he’s a powerhouse that killed seven to eight Sages?”

The Sect Patriarch’s brows furrowed.

Xandalous replied, “Yes. However, according to reliable sources, he had only just recently gotten through his tribulation. He is currently at the Tribulation Rank’s Third Stage and isn’t a Sage yet.”

“How is that possible?”

The Sect Patriarch asked in disbelief, “If he isn’t a Sage yet, how can he possess the strength to kill so many Sages in one fell swoop?”

Xandalous said solemnly, “That’s the most bizarre thing about him. You’re the only person in Korinth who can kill him. We can’t let him live and must get rid of him as soon as possible.

“My family’s Grand Patriarch doesn’t have much time left. Before he passes, we must uncover the secret to Sangria and this world’s curse.”

After brief contemplation, the Sect Patriarch said, “Since it’s an order given directly by the Grand Patriarch, it’s only appropriate that I obey. I’ll make preparations immediately and depart for Macchia City in Sangria to investigate.”

“Thank you, Sir.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2642—Meanwhile, James returned to the terrace of the City Lord’s Mansion.

Quinella followed him.

James sat down in a gazebo in the backyard and rested.

He looked at Quinella, the armored female general, and asked, “What’s the matter? Do you need something?”

Quinella said seriously, "Your Majesty, the King of Korinth has always been a vindictive man. You killed many of Korinth's Sages, so it's likely that they'll hold a grudge against you. I have a suspicion that the Korinth Sect's Patriarch will try and strike back at you."

James waved his hand lightly and said, "There's nothing to worry about. Just leave these matters to me. Anyway, I have something for you to do."

"Please give your orders, Your Majesty."

"There are rumors that the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword housed in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion has been lost. I also heard about Sangria's lost Imperial Jade Seal. I want you to announce to the world that we're looking for these two items, and we'll greatly reward anyone who provides us with information," instructed James.

James was not concerned about Sangria's affairs. His priority was to obtain the inheritance in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavillion and undo Sangria's curse as soon as possible, then find a way to return to Earth.

"Understood. I'll broadcast the announcement right away."

Quinella nodded, then turned to leave.

After Quinella left, Walganus came to see James.

Walganus walked over and sat on a stone chair on the opposite side as he stared at James with a strange expression.

James touched his face and asked, "Why are you looking at me like that? Is there something on my face?"

Walganus shook his head and said, "No. I just feel like you've changed a lot. What did you experience in the Tribulation World, and how did your strength improve so much? Also, how did you master such an impressive sword technique?"

"You seem to know more than you let on, judging by the fact that you know about the Tribulation World."

James looked curiously at Walganus.

Walganus smiled and said, "I read about it in some of my sect's ancient books and simply made a rough guess. I wasn't certain whether I was right."

"I didn't really do that much. I just went through my tribulation."

Since James deciphered Walganus' intent, he did not trust the man.

Thus, he refused to divulge too much to Walganus.

After mastering the Ancestral Sword Master's sword-fighting techniques in the Tribulation World, he no deeply desired the swordsmanship inheritance in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion.

However, he still had to undo the curse on Sangria.

Dispelling Sangria's curse was pivotal to opening the seal on Galileo.

Otherwise, he would not be able to leave and return to Earth.

'What's wrong? Don't you trust me?'

Walganus stared at James.

James shook his head and said, "It's not that I don't trust you, but it's really nothing of importance. My sword technique was taught to me by a highly capable senior. I was warned not to divulge his information. So forgive me for keeping it from you."

Hearing this, Walganus did not pursue the topic any further. He stood up and said, "It's my fault for prying too much. I'll take my leave now."

After speaking, Walganus immediately departed.

James, on the other hand, languidly stretched his body.

For the next few days, James stayed in Macchia City.

James learned the Korinthan Army had not given up their plans to attack and were still stationed at the Yantargh Canyon.

After learning about the news, James frowned and muttered, "They're very persistent. It seems we'll have to beat them thoroughly before they are willing to withdraw their forces completely."

"Your Majesty, according to our spies' information, Korinth's Emperor has personally gone to the Korinth Sect to implore their Patriarch to step out of the mountain."

Quinella said worriedly, "Based on the rumors, the Korinth Sect's Patriarch is at the Sage Rank's Eighth Stage. However, these rumors surfaced many years ago. I think he must have already surpassed this rank by now."

James nodded and said, "Alright. You're dismissed."

Quinella was very anxious about the matter, but James seemed unbothered by it.

In the end, James was their Emperor, and she had no authority to rebuke him.

She sighed and left.

After that, James continued to stay in Macchia City and planned his next move carefully.

James had already decided not to show mercy if the Korinthan Army attacked again.

This time, he was going to make sure they remembered his wrath.–

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2643—James waited for the Korinthan Army to strike at Macchia City again.

However, there was no movement by the Korinthan Army in the days that proceeded.

James was unaware that the Korinthe Sect's Patriarch had already made his way to Macchia City.

However, despite being a Sage in the Eighth Stage, he could not sneak into Macchia City to investigate because of the high security.

Since he could not infiltrate Macchia City, he had no choice but to turn back to the Yantargh Canyon and join up with the Korinthan Army.

“What's the situation there, Sir?”

The chancellor prodded the Patriarch as soon as he arrived at the Yantargh Canyon.

In a solemn tone, Korinthe Sect's Patriarch said, “Macchia City is heavily guarded, so I couldn't infiltrate the city.”

The chancellor asked, “Then what do we do now?”

The Korinthe Sect's Patriarch thought for a while and said, “There's no other option but to force our way into the city. Pass on the order and assemble our forces. We're going to lay siege on Macchia City again. I'll be assisting you in your efforts this time. If Sangria's Emperor is brave enough to show himself, I'll eliminate him on the spot.”

The chancellor smiled slyly.

“With your help, I'm sure everything will proceed smoothly. Taking into account our army's current strength, we'll be able to completely take over Macchia City in three days if we take out their Emperor. After conquering Macchia City, Sangria will practically belong to us.”

“Excellent.”

The Korinth Sect’s Patriarch nodded.

The chancellor immediately took out his military token.

The token floated in the air and emitted a golden light.

Seeing the glow of the military token, the troops immediately assembled and departed toward Macchia City for another attack.

Macchia City was immediately alerted when the Korinthian Army set off.

A female soldier hastened into the main hall of the City Lord’s Mansion and knelt on the ground, saying, “We have news! Your Majesty, the Korinthian Army is heading toward Macchia City once more.”

Hearing this, James’ expression darkened, and his eyes flashed with bloodlust.

James murmured, “It seems the Korinthian Army isn’t going to back off unless we teach them a harsh lesson.”

Now that he was Sangria’s Emperor, he intended to ensure Sangria’s safety.

James stood up and bellowed, “Pass on the order! Get the entire army on standby and await my next instructions!”

“Understood!”

After learning that the Korinthian Army was launching another attack on Macchia City, James decided he would be ruthless with the Korinthian Army so they would be unable to plan another invasion for a good while.

Macchia City’s 50,000,000 troops stood at the ready.

Meanwhile, James led Walganus, Delainey, and Winnie out of the city.

The four traveled in the direction of Yantargh Canyon.

After flying non-stop for a day, the four finally came to a halt.

They hovered in the sky over some ruins.

The area below them was a complete wreck, and all the plants in the area had been razed to the ground.

The area was reduced to this state after James went through his previous tribulation.

James said, "We'll stay here and lay in wait for the Korinthan Army."

Walganus said, "Judging by Korinthan Army's traveling speed, they'll appear in this area in about two days."

James gave a nod and said calmly, "Mhm.

I don't care who shows up this time, I'm not going to show them any mercy."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2644—The four of them remained around the area for the time being as they awaited the Korinthan Army's arrival.

They all gave off an air of nonchalance because they knew the strongest person in Korinth was the Korinth Sect's Patriarch.

Apart from Delainey, the other three people present could easily defeat or even kill the Korinth Sect's Patriarch.

"Leave this to me, Your Majesty."

Winnie stepped forward and looked at James imploringly.

As Winnie continuously improved her cultivation rank, her Scythe of Judgment grew stronger.

However, she had not fought against a real enemy and did not know how strong her Scythe of Judgment was exactly.

"No."

James shot down Winnie's request to fight alone.

"Stay put for now and don't take action without my orders."

"F-Fine," Winnie answered reluctantly.

Delainey, on the other hand, remained silent.

Although she reached the Sage Rank's Fifth Stage, she recognized she was no match for an opponent at the Sage Rank's Eighth Stage.

Walganus also remained calm.

The four waited patiently in the ruins.

Two days passed in the blink of an eye.

After that, countless troops gradually appeared in their sight.

The soldiers advanced forward like a tsunami, and the sound of their marching was deafening.

As they advanced, the skies filled with dust.

Walganus announced, "They're here."

The other three immediately leaped into the air.

Walganus also jumped into the air after them.

The four floated in a row, forming a straight line.

The army spotted James and his companions almost immediately and stopped advancing.

Korinth Sect's Patriarch flew over with a few other Sages in tow, appearing 10,000 meters away from James' party.

"That's him."

The chancellor stood behind Korinth Sect's Patriarch and said, "That man in the middle wearing a black robe is Sangria's current Emperor.

His strength is at the peak of the Tribulation Rank's Third Stage.

He's very close to becoming a Sage.

However, he has explosive strength and killed a few Sages with just one move."

The Korinth Sect's Patriarch gazed at James and could sense the terrifying killing intent from James.

He felt like he was being stared down at by a vicious beast as he looked at James, and a sliver of fear rose in his heart.

However, his anxiety immediately dissipated after he reminded himself of James' cultivation rank.

"It's okay. Leave him to me."

The trepidation in Korinath Sect's Patriarch was gone, and he calmly approached James.

He stepped forward and immediately appeared a few hundred meters away from James.

As soon as he approached, Winnie and Delainey raised their guards.

The Korinath Sect's Patriarch looked at James and asked, "Are you Sangria's current Emperor?"

James said, "That's right. I've already given Korinath one last chance, but you guys didn't seem to appreciate my mercy. Since you all have a death wish, don't blame me for not holding back."

James replied to him in a calm voice, but his tone was as bitter as ice.

The Korinath Sect's Patriarch responded in an unbothered tone, "The Kingdom of Korinath has always cherished talented people. How about I give you a chance to join us? I'll introduce you to His Majesty, and I believe your talent will be appreciated."

"Ha."

James sneered.

The face of the Korinath Sect's Patriarch darkened.

"I've already given you a chance, young man. However, you decided to squander it. You've brought whatever is to happen fully upon yourself."

After he finished speaking, a fearsome energy erupted from his body.

Sage Energy flowed through his body, and he fully demonstrated the strength of an Eighth Stage Sage.

His energy was powerful and was enough to distort the space around him, making his surroundings seem surreal.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2645—James ordered sternly.

His enemy this time was not an ordinary person but a powerful Sage at the Eighth Stage.

Although James' physical strength was at the Sage Rank's Fifth Stage, his opponent was three stages higher than him and could feasibly break through his body's defenses or possibly even kill him.

James was about to utilize Sacrilegious Ascension, the dragon bone, and the Five Elements of Genesis to augment his strength.

Before he could do anything, Winnie had already dashed out ahead of him.

"Our Emperor is the noblest man in our country.

You're unworthy of being His Highness' opponent.

If you want to fight him, you must get past me first."

Winnie hovered in the air.

Dressed in dazzling golden armor, she looked rather dashing as her long black hair fluttered in the wind.

"This girl."

James gave her an exasperated look.

He refused to let Winnie get involved in the fight, yet she defied his orders.

Korinth Sect's Patriarch was taken aback to see a woman challenging him.

He asked, "Who might you be?"

He could sense that Winnie's energy was formidable but could not ascertain her cultivation rank.

He could not help but wonder when did such a powerful woman exist in Sangria.

Sangria's most well-known powerhouses were the former Empress and Crepe Myrtle Sword Master.

However, the female soldier before him was clearly neither of those women.

Winnie snorted coldly and said, "I'm just an ordinary soldier of Sangria."

After she replied to him, her body flickered and appeared in the sky.

With a quick backhand strike, an illusory palm hurtled down from the sky.

The palm was like a comet that rushed down with great force.

James was also astonished by the scene.

“What Supernatural Power is that?”

Winnie was his daughter, so he knew almost everything about her.

Apart from the Scythe of Judgment in her body, she had no other special abilities.

The martial art skill that Winnie was using was evidently a complex, secret Supernatural Art.

James thought, ‘Could Ms.

Sophie have taught it to her? Almost everyone in the Celestial Abode was a human from Earth, and none of them had mastered any sort of intricate martial art skills except for Sophie.

With just a flick of her wrist, Winnie summoned a terrifying illusory palm.

With tremendous force, the palm crashed down toward the ground like a huge mountain.

The Korinth Sect’s Patriarch immediately reacted, gathering all his strength in his palm.

Then, he threw out his arms to deflect the palm that descended from the sky.

Boom! The two forces collided in the sky, causing an explosion and a shock wave that spread through the surrounding like ripples through a water’s surface.

“Stand back!”

The chancellor immediately ordered the soldiers to retreat to a safe distance.

Winnie’s palm attack was immediately destroyed.

At the same time, she sensed a deadly force sweeping toward her.

The impact struck her body and sent her flying.

Winnie’s Blood Energy churned, and she spat out a mouthful of blood.

“You overestimate yourself.”

The Korinth Sect’s Patriarch sneered, summoned a glowing long sword in his hand, then charged at Winnie at full speed.

He brought his sword down on her, wanting to get rid of Winnie and end the battle in one decisive move.

James sensed that Winnie was in danger.

Just when he was about to intervene, he suddenly felt a powerful force gathering within Winnie’s body.

James thought, ‘Is she about to use the Scythe of Judgment?’ He knew that the Scythe of Judgment was the weapon of Heaven’s Adjudicators.

James was curious to see how powerful the weapon was.

He did not rush in and watched the battle from a distance, hoping to witness the Scythe of Judgment’s might for himself.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2646—When he saw Winnie get injured, James wanted to intervene in the fight.

However, he sensed an intense aura coming from Winnie’s body.

James knew it was likely the Scythe of Judgment because it was the only desperate measure Winnie had in her arsenal.

He had seen the Scythe of Judgment before but was uncertain how strong it was.

Driven by curiosity, he did not rush to interfere in the battle but waited and watched.

If Winnie was truly in dire straits, he would take action immediately.

After the Korinth Sect’s Patriarch wounded Winnie with his previous attack, he also sensed the strong force emanating from Winnie’s body.

“This girl is unusual.”

The Korinth Sect’s Patriarch looked ahead with a sense of trepidation, and his murderous intent heightened.

The most important thing was to kill his opponent as soon as possible.

After he resolved to kill Winnie, the energy emanating from his body also grew more intense, and the long sword in his hand glowed even brighter.

Walganus sensed the murderous intent of the Korinth Sect’s Patriarch, and he watched grimly.

Just when he was about to step in, he felt Winnie’s transformation.

He could not help but exclaim, “There’s more to this girl than I thought.”

At that moment, Korinth Sect’s Patriarch appeared in front of Winnie.

He swung his sword at her, and a blinding Sword Light burst forth, threatening to split her in half.

A black glow suddenly shimmered from Winnie’s body at that very moment.

The black light gathered together and formed a black scythe.

She grabbed the black scythe and parried her opponent’s attack.

Boom! The long sword and black scythe scaped loudly against one another.

A colossal force erupted and rocked the surroundings, causing distortions and cracks in the space around them.

The scene looked dreadful.

Clink! The sound of a weapon breaking came from the sky.

After the two weapons collided, the long sword was snapped in half.

A powerful force diffused across the sky and struck the Korinth Sect’s Patriarch, instantly causing him severe injuries.

His body plummeted from the sky and crashed into the ruins below, incapacitating him.

On the other hand, Winnie hovered in the sky with her messy hair fluttering wildly and blood dripping from the corner of her lips.

She held on to her black scythe that radiated black mist.

Even her aura had changed because of the weapon.

At that moment, Winnie looked like a god of death.

“W-What is that?”

Walganus’ jaw was wide open in shock.

He was in disbelief that such a terrifying powerhouse was hidden in Sangria’s midst.

In the distance, the Sages from Korinth cowered after witnessing the battle.

James alone was already a massive threat to them.

Now there was another powerful woman that showed up alongside him.

They realized that Sangria was full of deadly threats.

“Aaaahh!!!”

At that moment, a defiant roar erupted from the ruins.

Aman shot up from the ground and into the sky.

It was the Korinth Sect’s Patriarch.

He was in a terrible stat.

His hair was disheveled and his body was bloodied.

“Damn it!”

He cursed angrily.

He was the Korinth Sect’s Patriarch and stood at the Sage Rank’s Eighth Stage.

Yet, he was injured by a mere woman.

He could not withstand such a blow to his ego.

The Korinth Sect’s Patriarch was infuriated.

The Sage Energy in his body activated, and he unleashed his full strength.

Winnie held on to her black scythe and pointed it toward him.

Her pretty face was emotionless as she said coldly, "You've walked right into your own death."

"Haha!!!"

The Korinth Sect's Patriarch laughed sardonically.

"While I dominated this world, you weren't even born yet.

"Since you insist on dying, don't blame me for being ruthless."
