The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2685—"My guests, follow me. The Blade Sect's Leader arranged for James to stay in the Blade Sect for the time being.

The Blade Sect treated the three like honored guests and arranged an independent courtyard for them.

The trio gathered in the yard.

Walganus asked, "Do you think the Blade Sect's Grand Patriarch will hand over the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword?"

James shook his head and said, "I don't know."

Yanina said, "I don't think he will."

Walganus looked at her and asked, "Why do you say so?"

Yanina explained, "The Blade Sect's Grand Patriarch achieved such high cultivation rank and was able to create the Blade Sect because he obtained the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword. Moreover, his swordsmanship came from the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword. Why would he hand over such a great sword? Even if it would affect the whole world, it has nothing to do with him. He can continue staying on this island where divine objects allow him to be immune to the curse. To him, there's no need to worry about a limited lifespan."

Walganus nodded slightly, agreeing with Yanina's words. He would refuse to hand over the sword if it were him.

James said, "Let's not rush it. We'll see how it goes when the Blade Sect's Grand Patriarch shows up. If he refuses to give it up, we'll devise another plan."

Walganus looked at James' ring on his finger and said smilingly, "Don't you have a spatial treasure, James? There should be some powerhouses inside there, right?"

James looked at Walganus but did not reply.

Walganus smiled and said, "I think what we're doing right now is a waste of time. Just get the powerhouse in your Celestial Abode to snatch the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword forcibly. It'll save us a lot of time and effort."

James leaned on his chair and did not immediately answer Walganus.

After a while, he said, "Let's wait a bit more and decide after seeing the Blade Sect's Grand Patriarch."

At that moment, the Blade Sect's Leader had already gone deep into the back mountain, which was a forbidden area.

Countless divine swords were inserted into an open field, and each of them emanated powerful Sword Intent.

There were about tens of thousands of swords in the area.

An old man sat in the center among the countless swords. The old man wore a gray robe. He was slightly chubby and had a fierce look on his face.

"Grand Patriarch."

The Blade Sect's Elder appeared outside the Sword Formation and knelt on one knee.

Swoosh!

The old man in the gray robe flashed in front of Yash.

He glared at Yash with dissatisfaction and said, "Didn't I tell you not to disturb me when I'm in seclusion if there isn't anything serious?"

"Grand Patriarch, we have visitors from Sangria."

Yash knelt on the ground and lowered his head.

Although he was the Blade Sect's Leader with great authority, he behaved incredibly humbly in the Grand Patriarch's presence.

"They're from Sangria's Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion and claim to be here to find the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword."

"Oh?"

The old man's eyes beamed with light.

Yash continued to explain James' purpose for visiting them and the function of the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword.

"Alright, I see. I'll go and meet him in person."

The old man gently waved his hand. He acquired the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword countless years ago from Sangria's Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion.

It was a Divine Sword that contained numerous sword techniques. After obtaining the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, he worked hard to comprehend its swordsmanship. All he had achieved today was because of the sword.

However, he had no idea the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword was related to the world's curse.

The old man murmured, "I never expected the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword to have such a great purpose. I miscalculated it. Was there another sword inheritance in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion? Could it be much stronger than what's recorded in the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword?"

The Blade Sect's Grand Patriarch had other plans in mind.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2686-The Blade Sect's Grand Patriarch used to be a great thief who specialized in stealing treasure from different sects. His name was Falco Barrett.

Countless years ago, he gathered a group of powerhouses and blood-bathed Sangria's Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion. Then, he snatched the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword and some of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion's sword techniques.

After he obtained the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, he immediately knew it was an extraordinary weapon.

Therefore, he left the lands and traveled out into the sea region.

Then, he settled on this island.

Coincidentally, he discovered this island had a kind of divine object that allowed one to be immune to the world's curse.

Therefore, he created the Blade Sect and became the Seafolk's founder.

Now, members of the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion of Sangria had come to retrieve the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword.

After learning of the secrets hidden in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion, Falco began scheming other things.

The swordsmanship recorded in the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword had already given him great strength. Supposedly, the swordsmanship inheritance recorded in the Crepe

Myrtle Sword Pavilion would be above the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword's records. In that case, he could raise his cultivation to a much greater height if he obtained it. He might even be able to become a Grand Emperor.

After thinking about the possibility, Falco could not contain his laughter. He immediately stepped out of the back mountain.

After James' party had accommodation arranged for them, they temporarily stayed in the Blade Sect for three days.

Three days later, Yash came to see James in person in the morning.

"Our Grand Patriarch has come out of seclusion. He'd like to see you in person. Please come with me."

Hearing these words, James sighed in relief. After waiting for three days, he finally got the answer he anticipated.

The three stood up simultaneously and followed Yash.

Yash led them to the Blade Sect's main hall, which was located on the main mountain.

An old man with a fierce face sat at the highest seat and held onto a long purple sword.

The sword was about two meters long and had a purple blade that looked crystal clear. A few mysterious inscriptions were engraved on the blade, and the sword emanated tremendous power.

Yash brought the three of them into the main hall. Then, he immediately knelt on the ground and reported respectfully, "Grand Patriarch, I've brought Sangria's Emperor, also the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion's Sword Master."

After James entered the hall, he immediately noticed Falco seated in the highest seat and the purple sword he was holding. He could sense the terrifying power coming from the sword.

He had seen a sword with such power before.

Lucifer's weapon also had such great power.

At that moment, James was sure the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword was an Imperial Weapon

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2687—James swiftly caught the sword.

After he caught the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, he felt the weight of it. It was like an enormous mountain, and he lost his grip, causing it to fall to the ground.

Bang!

The Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword fell to the ground and caused a deafening sound.

The entire mountain range trembled, and a crack appeared on the ground. James said embarrassedly, “I didn’t expect the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword to be so heavy. I was careless.”

He mobilized his True Essence and picked up the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword again. James looked toward Falcon at the highest seat of the hall and said, “Thank you, Sir. I thought it was going to be incredibly challenging to retrieve the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword. I wasn’t expecting you to be so righteous.”

Falcon said smilingly, “Although the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword is a great weapon, it’s connected to the life of this world and all the living beings here. How could I selfishly keep it to myself?”

James expressed his gratitude again, “Thank you, Sir.”

Falcon gently waved his hand.

“You don’t need to thank me. However, I’m curious about the swordsmanship inheritance hidden within the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion.”

James did not hide anything from him and replied truthfully, “Have you heard of the Ancestral Sword Master?”

Falcon shook his head.

James began briefly talking about the events of the Primeval Age.

“I see.” Falcon looked enlightened after listening to James’ stories.

“An Ancestral God is an existence beyond a Grand Emperor. His swordsmanship inheritance must be very potent. I wonder if I’ll ever have the opportunity to witness this Ancestral Sword Master’s legacy.”

“Of course, you will.”

James did not disappoint him.

The Ancestral Sword Master’s swordsmanship was open to all in the Primeval Age.

“If even the Ancestral Sword Master shared his swordsmanship, then if I’m lucky enough to obtain it, how can I keep it to myself?” Falcon chuckled and said, “Haha. Everyone has a different way of cultivation. If you blindly copy another person’s way of cultivation, you’ll waste your own potential. I was just joking, so you don’t have to take me seriously, young man.”

Hearing this, James had a good impression of Falcon.

“Alright. Since you already have the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, you should leave soon. You’ve got important things to deal with right now,” said Falcon.

“If you say so, we’ll take our leave now.”

James clasped his hands and turned to leave the main hall.

The three left together.

After they were out of sight, the smile on Falcon’s face froze. His face immediately darkened, and he tapped his fingers on the table.

He was not afraid of James not returning the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword to him.

There was a seal on this world, and every living being had a limited lifespan. Falcon was confident he was the strongest in this world, and no one stood a chance against him.

Anyone he wanted dead would not be able to escape his grasp.

After walking out of the Blade Sect’s territory, Walganus said with a frown, “The Blade Sect’s Grand Patriarch was too easy to convince. I thought we’d have to put in a lot of effort to get the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword. I wasn’t expecting it to go so smoothly. I highly suspect there’s something wrong with him.”

James looked at Walganus and said, “What can be wrong with him? Even if there is something he wants, I’m sure he just wants to obtain the swordsmanship inheritance in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion. I already assured him I’ll share it with him, so there isn’t anything else to worry about.”

Walganus looked at James and did not say anything more.

The three quickly left the Seafolk's island with the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword and headed back to Sangria.

After they retrieved the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, the only thing left was to find Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal. To find the Imperial Jade Seal's whereabouts, James would have to ask Sophie again.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2688—After getting the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, the three quickly left the island and returned to the sea region.

The Blademaster of Mount Grinch never left and waited at sea for their return.

Seeing James and the others return, he sighed in relief.

The Blademaster of Mount Grinch looked at James and the other two and asked anxiously, "How did it go? Did you guys find the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword?"

With a thought, the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword that James had stored in the Celestial Abode appeared in his hand.

The Blademaster of Mount Grinch looked at the purple Divine Sword in James' hand and sensed the powerful power coming from it. His jaw dropped wide open, and he exclaimed, "I can feel its potent strength!"

Walganus beside him explained, "If I'm not wrong, the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword used to be the Ancestral Sword Master's weapon. It's a weapon that surpasses even Imperial Weapons. Even an ordinary person could kill a Sage with this sword."

James nodded and said, "True, but how can an ordinary person pick up the sword? One will have to be a Sage to control this sword."

"It's a magnificent sword."

Although the Blademaster of Mount Grinch showed the desire for it, the thought quickly dissipated.

As soon the greed arose in his heart, he quickly suppressed it. He knew such a powerful weapon was not one he could wield.

Walganus said, "Alright, let's not waste anytime and head back as soon as possible. Now that we've retrieved the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, we must find Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal to break Sangria's Curse."

"Alright." The Blademaster of Mount Grinch nodded and immediately activated the battleship.

The flying battleship took off and left the area at a breakneck speed.

James returned to his room and took out the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword.

The sword was heavy, making it impossible for ordinary cultivators to lift it. He scrutinized the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword and the mysterious words engraved on the blade.

The mysterious words began to move under his gaze.

As the words moved, James saw visions of exquisite sword techniques being performed, and some formidable Supernatural Powers could be deduced from the words.

James exclaimed, "What an extraordinary sword."

Meanwhile, Yanina nestled in Walganus' arms in a different room. Yanina said with dissatisfaction, "Is it really fine to let James hold on to the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword? It was passed down in the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion and should be returned to us."

Walganus gently touched her upturned nose and said smilingly, "There's no rush. We haven't found Sangria's Imperial Jade seal yet. After we find it, the seal on the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion will be lifted. James will be useless after I acquire the swordsmanship inheritance and the Curse Magic."

"That's true, but..."

Yanina said worriedly, "We retrieved the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword too easily from the Seafolk. The Seafolk's Patriarch should know that the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword is a formidable weapon, but he handed it over so easily. I highly suspect he's up to no good. He might be waiting for us to obtain the treasures, then he'll swoop in to snatch them from us."

Walganus replied smilingly, "He's only at the Divine Rank's Third Stage. He's not a Quasi-Emperor yet, so there's nothing to worry about."

Yanina was relieved after hearing Walganus' reassurance.

Meanwhile, James studied the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword in his room for a while.

There were profound sword techniques hidden within the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword.

However, they were too deep for him to understand for now. James could only understand the basics, including the Sword Moves and Sword Shadows.

As for the Sword Heart, Sword Intent, and Singularity, it was too profound for him to understand at the moment.

He knew his cultivation rank was relatively low, so he did not rush to practice the unique swordsmanship contained within the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword.

James put away the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword and entered the Celestial Abode. He could sense Sophie's location.

With a thought, James appeared on a mountaintop outside the city.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2689—Sophie sat on a rock on the mountaintop. She wore a long purple dress today, and her long black hair swayed in the breeze. She looked into the distance, and her beautiful face showed a hint of sadness.

James walked over and called out to her, "Ms. Sophie."

Sophie returned to her senses, stood up abruptly, and turned to James. She asked,

"What are you doing here?"

James said, "I've already obtained the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword. All that's left is Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal. I came to ask you to help me locate it."

Sophie nodded and said, "Alright. I'll help you locate it now."

She immediately sat in a lotus position. She raised her slender hand, and magical scripts appeared from her palm. The scripts gathered in front of her and formed a formation.

The scripts were very profound, and the formation was very mysterious.

At James' current cultivation rank, it was impossible for him to read or comprehend them.

Sophie performed the deduction for about half an hour before finally stopping. James beside her asked, "How did it go?"

Sophie stood up and said, "Mhm. I have a rough idea of where Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal is."

James said excitedly, "Tell me, where is it?"

Sophie said, "From my deduction, Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal is in a place called the Barren Wasteland."

Taken aback, James asked, "Where is this Barren Wasteland?"

Sophie shook her head and said, "I don't know. You'll have to figure that out yourself."

"Mhm, alright. Thank you."

After James obtained Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal's location, he quickly left the Celestial Abode.

He walked out of his room, wanting to discuss the matter with Walganus.

When he arrived outside Walganus' room, he heard some weird sounds coming from inside the room. Since James had his fair share of experience, he immediately understood what was happening behind the closed door. He did not knock but patiently waited outside the door.

He waited for more than an hour until he could not hear any more movements from the room. Then, he knocked on the room door.

Soon, the door opened. It was Yanina that came to open the door.

Seeing James, she said smilingly, "You're here, Your Majesty." James nodded and said, "Mhm. I came to discuss the whereabouts of Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal with Walganus."

"I also just came to see him. Come in quickly," Yanina said smilingly.

James entered the room and saw Walganus sitting on a chair, drinking wine.

He walked over and sat down, then said smilingly, "You seem to be enjoying."

Walganus looked at him and said, "What do you mean I'm enjoying?"

Although we obtained the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, we have no idea where to look for Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal."

James smiled, not exposing that he knew what the two were doing in the room just a few moments ago. After all, they were adults, and it was normal to engage in such activities.

"I already have a clue about the whereabouts of Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal."

'What?'

Walganus stood up in shock and asked, "Really?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2690-James nodded and said, "Yeah. I've located Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal." "Where is it?" asked Walganus.

Yanina could not help but cast a suspicious look at James. It had only just been a short while, but Jame had already obtained information about Sangia's Imperial Jade Seal. Moreover, James had never left the battleship, so where did he get the information from?

James said, "Actually, I only have a clue about its whereabouts."

"Alright. Cut to the chase." Walganus was getting impatient.

James said, "Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal is in the Barren Wasteland."

Yanina exclaimed, 'The Barren Wasteland?'

James turned to her and asked, "What's wrong? Do you know about the Barren Wasteland?"

"Of course!"

Yanina took a deep breath and said, 'The Barren Wasteland is a forbidden area of Galileo. It's an area that has existed since ancient times. It's rumored that there aren't any plants or living beings in that region. There's nothing but dead silence as it's completely desolate. There are legends that any living being that gets close to the Barren Wasteland will die inexplicable deaths.'

James did not know about the Barren Wasteland, so he looked at Yanina and said,

‘Tell me more about the Barren Wasteland in detail.’

“Okay.” Yanina nodded.

‘The Barren Wasteland is located south of Galileo and is close to Korinth.

There are rumors of a curse on that place, just like the one on Sangria. However, these are only rumors that can’t be verified because none of the living beings that traveled to the Barren Wasteland have ever returned.”

Walganus asked, “How do you know Sangria’s Imperial Jade Seal is located in the Barren Wasteland?”

James replied, “You don’t have to know. Anyway, Sangria’s Imperial Jade Seal is currently in the Barren Wasteland. We’ll have to go there to look for it.”

Yanina shook her head and said, “I’m not going. The Barren Wasteland is a forbidden area. It’s one that can take lives, and you won’t be able to come back alive.”

James thought awhile and said, “Let’s discuss this with the Blademaster of Mount Grinch. He’s a cultivator who’s lived for a long time and should know more about the Barren Wasteland. We should go ask him about it.”

Walganus nodded.

The three left the room and headed to see the Blademaster of Mount Grinch.

After hearing them mention the Barren Wasteland, the Blademaster of Mount Grinch immediately had a solemn expression. He looked at James and said, “If it isn’t important, please refrain from going to the Barren Wasteland.”

James asked curiously, “Is it a very sinister place?”

The Blademaster of Mount Grinch nodded and said, “Yes. It’s very sinister and full of evil. Since ancient times, none that ventured into the Barren Wasteland has ever come out alive. All of them died inexplicably.”

James asked puzzled, “Why is that so?”

The Blademaster of Mount Grinch shook his head and said, “I don’t know. I’ve never gone there, but I know it’s a very sinister place.”

The Blademaster of Mount Grinch did not know much about the Barren Wasteland.

However, he had heard some rumors about the place.

Walganus looked at James and asked, "What should we do now?"

James thought awhile and said, "We'll have to go to the Barren Wasteland. To find Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal, we have no choice but to go there. Otherwise, we won't be able to learn more about Sangria's curse if we don't get Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal."

Walganus said, "Since you're determined to go, I'll take the risk with you."

The Blademaster of Sword Grinch hesitated for a while and said, "If that's the case, I'll come with you two. Since Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal is related to this world's curse, I'll have to help you find it. Otherwise, I'm not going to live much longer."

All three of them decided to adventure to the Barren Wasteland to find Sangria's Imperial Jade Seal.

Yanina hesitated.

Walganus looked at her and immediately read her mind. He said smilingly, "If you don't want to go, you don't have to. Head back to the Crepe Myrtle Sword Pavilion and wait for us there."

"Mr. Jaxon, the Barren Wasteland is a really sinister place." Yanina looked at Walganus worriedly.

Walganus smiled and said, "I've adventured many sinister places before. I don't believe this Barren Wasteland can take me down."
