

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2741

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2741-Quintina was the daughter of the Ancient Clan's Leader in the Ancient Realm.

James spoke with her while he was in the Ancient Realm, but it had already been a long time since they last met.

Quintina was a Grand Supernatural born with magical inscriptions within her body. A prodigy like her was destined for greatness even in the Apocalypse Age.

Hearing a voice, Quintina stopped cultivating and raised her head to see the person approaching her. She was slightly taken aback to see James.

After a few seconds, she stood up excitedly.

"J-James?"

James walked over to her. When he saw Quintina's pale face, he immediately realized that the curse had taken a toll on her.

"It's really you, James!"

Quintina stared at James intently. After confirming his identity, her pretty face lit up as she asked, "Where have you been for so long?"

James replied, "I was off to train for a while."

He sat beside Quintina and asked, "What's the current situation in Bane City?"

Quintina's expression immediately darkened when James asked about Mount Bane.

"Many Foreigners have come to Earth. They are extremely powerful, and among them is a cruel race. They drove out all of the humans in Bane City and made a rule that humans were not allowed anywhere near Mount Bane. Any humans that trespass will be killed without mercy.

"After being chased out of the city, some humans secretly headed to Mount Bane intending to meditate in seclusion. However, they were all killed after being discovered.

"As a result, cultivators from the Three Thousand Worlds don't dare to carelessly step foot on Mount Bane and only stay outside its periphery."

James prodded her for more information, "Do you know more about this race?"

Quintina shook her head and said, "I'm sorry, I don't."

‘James...’

A voice called out from nearby.

James turned toward the voice and saw a man in a golden robe walking over.

“Harold,” James greeted him back.

Harold was also from the Ancient Realm. He was once a disciple of the Divinity Sect, the greatest sect in the Ancient Realm, and was a direct disciple of the Divine Holy Emperor. Like Quintina, he was also a Grand Supernatural.

Harold walked over and glanced at James.

“You finally showed up! I’ve been working hard these past few years to cultivate and defeat you one day!”

Harold was excited to see James and the sight of his rival spurred his motivation.

James smiled lightly in response. He acknowledged Harold was a prodigy. Anyone that was born a Grand Supernatural was inherently powerful. None of them were weak. However, James still felt like Harold had a long ways to go.

He looked at the two and asked, “Are you both resisting the curse well?”

Quintina gently shook her head and said, “The curse is awful. Since I was cursed, I’ve encountered countless problems which have greatly hindered my cultivation. Harold also nodded solemnly and said, “Yeah, same here. The universe is set on wiping out humans. However, I will go against the curse and achieve great things in the Apocalypse Age. James scanned the surroundings.

About 100,000 cultivators were gathered in the area.

All of them were cursed, but they were strong and could suppress the curse’s effects for now.

Most of those who died under the curse were ordinary people.

Seeing this scene, James heaved a sigh of relief. Judging by the current strength of human cultivators, humanity could possibly survive until elixirs to suppress the curse were invented.

Quintina asked, “By the way, James. Why did you come here?”

James’ expression softened as he replied, “I heard a Foreign race has been causing trouble in Mount Bane, so I came to check on the situation.”

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2742

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2742-James had already assessed the strength of these troublemaking Foreigners before coming to Mount Bane.

Henry and others were at the Sage Rank's Fifteenth Stage, but they made their breakthroughs on Galileo where there were no seals on their body.

As a result, their cultivation bases were fundamentally very unstable.

They would only be around the Sage Rank's Tenth Stage if they were to condense their cultivation base.

That meant their strength would only be at the Sage Rank's Tenth Stage had they actually reached the peak of each stage before breaking into the next.

James had just become a Sage recently, and his strength was not comparable to that of a Tenth Rank Sage.

Even if he used the Sacrilegious Ascension and activated the dragon bone's power, his strength would still be lacking.

However, his swordsmanship skills were far superior to his cultivation rank.

Before he became a Sage, he killed a monster that was above the Sage Rank's Tenth Stage on Galileo with just the First and Second Stages of the Ancestral Sword Master's swordsmanship.

James analyzed his own strength.

He would be disadvantaged in a one-on-one battle against a Sage.

However, he could kill his opponent instantly by finding an opportunity to use his unparalleled swordsmanship.

Besides, he still had another trump card—the Nine Heavens God – Annihilating Formation.

Most of the soldiers within the Celestial Abode had already become Sages, and some even reached very high stages within the Sage Rank.

James had 400,000 soldiers who could perform the Nine Heavens Gold-Annihilating Formation, the Infinity Stele, and countless other treasures at his disposal.

If he used them, he would command tremendous strength and would even be able to fight against a powerhouse at the Sage Rank's Twentieth Stage.

Quintina said sternly, "I know you're powerful and your skills outclass ours, James.

However, our opponents this time around are dangerous, and there's no need to take action now.

You should just continue cultivating at ease."

Harold also chipped in.

"I agree. They only chased us out of Bane City. It's not that serious of a matter."

Both of them convinced James not to act recklessly and antagonize the Foreign races while humans were in dire straits.

If these Foreigners were enraged and started a massacre, it would be the end of humankind on Earth.

James parted his lips and said, "I know when not to cross the line. I'm still uncertain of these Foreigners' strengths and am just going to do a little bit of investigating. I'll only devise a plan after I better understand their strength.

Quintina cautioned him.

"Then please be careful."

"Mhm, I'll be careful." James nodded.

He stood up and walked toward Mount Bane.

James did not dispel the curse in Quintina and Harold's bodies.

At his current strength, the Curse Magic within his body had almost reached its maximum capacity, and he did not dare to carelessly absorb the curses from others for fear there would be severe consequences if he absorbed too much.

Moreover, the 400,000 soldiers in his Celestial Abode were still inflicted with the curse.

James planned to wait until he reached a higher cultivation rank before helping them with their curses.

Considering their strength now, they could withstand the curses for the time being.

James stepped forward and advanced toward Mount Bane.

Soon, he entered Mount Bane's vicinity.

Many fully-armed soldiers with weapons could be seen on the mountain road ahead of him.

As soon as James got close, he found himself blocked off by them.

"Humans are forbidden to proceed past this point."

James looked at the creatures that had human forms.

He was unsure what race they hailed from.

He frowned and asked, "What did you just say? Humans are forbidden to proceed past this point? Who made this rule? We're on Earth. This is human territory, so why aren't they allowed to enter?"

A soldier looked at James and said scornfully, "It's a unanimous agreement between all the races. Humans are now the weakest race in the universe. Mount Bane is the humans' Sealed Realm. How can such lowly creatures enter such a wondrous place?"

"Haha!"

James burst out laughing.

"It's a unanimous agreement between all the races? Didn't you just say this is the Human Realm? Humans have the final say in the Human Realm. Who are you Foreigners to interfere and order us around in our own territory? Get the hell out of here, or you'll be sorry you didn't."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2743

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2743-James' blood was boiling. He never expected the Foreigners to be brazen enough to occupy Mount Bane. If he did not stop them, they would go on to take over the entire Earth.

Mount Bane currently was the place that was most abundant in Spiritual Energy on Earth.

Humans were cursed, so they needed to absorb Spiritual Energy to keep it at bay.

James was determined to take back Mount Bane from these Foreigners.

He glared at the soldiers blocking his path.

The soldiers were relatively strong Sages.

On Earth, they commanded a great amount of power.

Even if they were compared to the Outsiders from the Three Thousand Worlds, these soldiers were also far above them.

“You’ll make us regret it, huh?”

One of the soldiers gave James a once-over.

Although he could not verify James’ strength, he knew that James was a mere human from Earth.

As long as the opponent was an Earth human, he had no hesitation in starting a fight with them.

The soldier said disdainfully, “what are you going to do?”

“I’ll rip you to shreds.”

Before James could answer the soldier, a hard voice resounded from a distance.

Hearing the voice, James turned to look for the source.

Two women flew toward him from afar.

One wore a black dress, and the other was dressed in white.

Both of them were as beautiful as flowers and exuded ethereal auras.

“Thea?”

James was stunned after recognizing one of the women.

Thea descended from the sky. She beamed at James who was in the process of confronting the Foreign soldiers.

“James...”

Thea walked over to James and leaped into his arms, giving him a tight embrace.

“It’s really you, Thea. You’re already back from the Demon Realm?”

James was overjoyed.

All these years, his greatest concern was for Thea's safety.

Now that she had safely returned to Earth, his worries were finally put to rest.

"James..."

The other woman called out to James.

Only then did James notice the other woman that came with Thea. He turned to her and froze awkwardly after identifying her.

Brielle griped at him.

"Do you know how hard I've been looking for you all these years?"

"James scratched his head. He wanted to speak but could not bring himself to say anything.

'How am I supposed to tell her I only married her just to steal her family's bodhi tree? 'If word got out about it, the Labhrann Clan will definitely send powerhouses to hunt me down.' Thea looked at him resentfully and chided him.

"You're very sneaky, aren't you, James? You took advantage of my absence and got entangled with another woman in the Demon Realm. That's not even the worst of it. You married her after everything!"

"I'll explain everything to you later, Thea," James whispered to Thea.

He immediately recalled something and asked, "By the way, why are the two of you together?"

Thea said, "When I went to the Demon Realm, I learned about your wedding ceremony. I headed to the Labhrann Clan, but heard that you left on your wedding night. Brielle followed me around to find you. Since I wasn't familiar with the Demon Realm, I let her come with me."

"The Hadean Clan opened a passage to Earth, and we came back together."

Thea gave James a quick summary.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2744

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2744-Naturally, James was overjoyed Thea had returned to Earth.

It had been many long years since they had last been together.

He was ecstatic to see her beautiful face and flawless figure again.

However, there were many other important things that demanded his attention.

The Foreign soldiers stood to the side, watching them as if they were clowns.

James warned the soldiers again.

“Get out of the way. I’m going to Bane City on Mount Bane.”

“Hmph,” one of the soldiers snorted and ordered his subordinates, “Kill them.”

Swoosh! The guards quickly surrounded them and drew their swords.

Before James was able to act, Thea had already summoned the Malevolent Sword.

She flicked it lightly, and a beam of Sword Light cleaved through the attacking soldiers.

Thea had been training in the Demon Realm for so many years and had experienced countless close encounters with death.

She was no longer the innocent girl she used to be in the past.

Now, she was a force to be reckoned with.

She attacked decisively and showed no mercy to her opponents.

James frowned at the scene in front of him.

He looked at Thea and said, “Honey, why did you do that? You should leave these things to me. It’s my job.”

Thea put away the Malevolent Sword and gave James a lovely smile.

“Any human should have the right to punish these Foreigners. I was caught up in the moment and couldn’t hold back.”

Brielle knew exactly the kind of person Thea was.

During these past few years of adventuring together with Thea, Brielle had grown used to seeing such gruesome massacres.

Brielle knew what this beautiful and attractive woman was capable of doing.

Thus, Brielle was not shocked by the sight.

“Let’s head to Bane City.”

James did not pursue the issue further.

After dealing with the soldiers, they immediately headed straight to Bane City.

Meanwhile, a handsome, black-robed man in his 20s sat at the highest seat in a luxurious mansion in Bane City.

Various creatures were gathered in the hall.

These creatures were from all over the universe.

All of them were from well-known races and were all known far and wide for their power.

Even Jace and Marcello were among the ones gathered there.

“Reporting, Sir!”

At that moment, a guard rushed in and got on one knee.

“My Lord, intruders have killed the soldiers guarding Mount Bane’s entrance and are on their way to Bane City.”

Bang! Hearing the report, the man in the highest seat slammed the table and said furiously, “Didn’t I already give out a warning that humans aren’t allowed into Mount Bane? Who dares to trespass the mountain?!”

Down below in the hall, Jace looked at Marcello and whispered, “If I’m not wrong, it should be James.”

Marcello nodded and said, “Among the humans, James is the only person who can kill the Athuran Soldiers. His recklessness knows no bounds. Isn’t he aware that Bane City is already completely occupied by Foreign races? He won’t be able to change a thing with his strength alone.”

Jace whispered back, “Let’s see what happens first.”

The Athuran prodigy stood up furiously and said, “Kill the intruders!”

“Understood!”

After receiving the order, the guard quickly left.

All the Athurans' powerhouses in Bane City were dispatched to deal with the intruder and rushed aggressively out of the city.

The man looked at the prodigies from all over the universe gathered in the hall and said with a smile, "I'm sorry for that absurdity. Humans have already been abandoned by the Heavenly Path and are now the weakest race in the universe. There's no need to show them any mercy."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2745

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2745-"You shouldn't let down your guard, Yorick. I've heard about a prodigy on Earth who obtained many excellent treasures. Even Lucifer of the Hadean Clan from the Demon Realm was defeated by this human."

One of the powerhouses in the hall reminded the man.

"Haha!"

The Athuran prodigy, Yorick, laughed out loud.

"I acknowledge that Lucifer is a prodigy favored by the Heavenly Path. However, how could you compare the likes of him to me?"

Yorick was confident and arrogant.

"I know that you're referring to James Caden. I've heard of him while in the Athura Realm. If he dares show himself, I'll crush him in minutes. Anyway, the people who came to challenge us were from Wrymstead. I've already detained them and am waiting for James to arrive."

Yorick detained Henry and the others because they were James' subordinates, and were also from Wrymstead. He wanted to use them to threaten James into showing himself. He planned to get rid of James and seize the fortunes he possessed.

It was an order given to him by the Athurans before he came to Earth.

The clan gave him some lethal weapons in order to kill James and take away his treasures.

The Athurans were not the only ones who had given out orders to their prodigies.

In fact, most of the champions present had received orders from their clans.

They came to Earth for two purposes.

The first was to compete for the Third Calamity's providence.

The second was to kill James and take his treasures for themselves.

However, no one acted rashly.

Since the Authurans wanted to be the ones to instigate James, the others could watch silently from the sidelines.

Meanwhile, James, Thea, and Brielle had already reached Bane City's gate.

As soon as they arrived at the gate, many guards rushed out.

Tens of thousands of guards appeared and blocked their path.

All of them were Athuran soldiers and were sent by the clan to assist Yorick.

James remained calm as he came face to face with the soldiers that surrounded them.

Thea also regarded the soldiers with indifference.

With her current strength, these soldiers who had just entered the Sage Rank were no match for her.

She looked at James with a bright smile and said, "Honey, shall I or would you like to do it?"

James chuckled lightly and said, "We're here to negotiate with them, not to kill them. We'll try talking first and will stay our hand unless negotiations fail."

James' was visiting this time to request a peaceful co-existence between humans and foreigners, just like before.

If the negotiations failed, the only option left was to demoralize the enemy through brute force.

At that moment, two figures slowly approached Mount Bane's periphery.

They were two men.

One wore a baggy robe and was slightly chubby.

Meanwhile, the other wore a white robe and had a very slim figure.

It was Henrik and Qusai.

The two walked toward Mount Bane.

Qusai asked, "James should have returned to Earth by now, right?"

Henrik nodded and said, "It should be about time. James is the one who's most worried for the humans on Earth. Now that Earth's Third Calamity has occurred, he would surely rush back as soon as possible even if he were dealing with something important."

"I wonder where James went and what he experienced after escaping the Demon Realm. I'm curious about how much he has grown over the years."

Qusai was looking forward to seeing James again. He was also a creature with exceptional prestige.

However, unlike the other clans, his clan ordered him to befriend James.

Henrik said, "This should be Mount Bane, right? It's Earth's center point. If James returned to Earth, then he must've come here. We'll find out if he's back by looking around here."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2746

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2746-More than 10,000 foreign soldiers assembled outside Bane City's gate.

These soldiers were menacing and powerful auras emanating from them.

This was evidently a result of years of fighting intense battles.

Clop! Clop! Clop! A soldier on a horse rode up to them.

The horse's hooves thundered as it galloped over.

Seeing this scene, James smiled playfully and said, "What a grand welcome."

Thea smiled silently beside him.

The mounted soldier approached and stood ahead of the army. He looked at James' entourage and said coldly, "Who are you? State your names."

His stern voice reverberated through the air.

James smiled faintly and took a few steps forward, answering the soldier, "I'm James Caden. Who's currently running Bane City? Hurry up and report my visit to them immediately."

James' goal was not to start conflict but to negotiate. He would only retaliate if the negotiation failed.

"James?"

Hearing his name, the mounted soldier was taken aback. He was an Athuran and had heard of James before. He knew James was a human prodigy from Earth who had obtained several remarkable treasures.

Moreover, the Athurans' young master has been waiting on James' arrival.

"Wait here. I'll report your visit immediately."

The soldier rode his horse back to the city.

James, Thea, and Brielle were not in a hurry and waited patiently outside the city.

Many prodigies were gathered in a luxurious mansion in the city as they waited for the Authurans soldiers to kill the human intruders that were trying to get into Bane City.

At that moment, an armed soldier strode into the hall and kneeled on the ground.

Yorick asked with a smile, "How did it go? Has the issue been resolved?"

The soldier kneeling on the ground replied, "Young Master, the intruders' leader is James Caden. He asked to see you in person."

"Oh, James?"

Yorick' expression lit up.

The other creatures present were also thrilled by the report.

They had never met James before but had heard of him and knew that he obtained the Earth's first and second providence.

All of them had come to Earth with respective tasks, the most important one being to kill James and acquire his fortunes.

Beforehand, they all received warnings that James was a very unusual human.

Despite having a seal in his body, James still wielded terrifying strength and it was necessary to view him as a serious threat.

None of them had witnessed James' strength before.

Since Yorick wanted to step up and display his strength, the rest wanted to let him test James' strength first.

All the creatures present were slightly excited, but no one spoke.

Only Marcello showed a hint of worry.

She murmured, "It's really him. What are you doing here at a time like this, James? You should've just kept your head down."

Jace motioned for her to keep quiet and whispered back, "Don't worry. Let's wait and see what happens."

"Haha!"

Yorick laughed loudly from the highest seat.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2747

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2747-"I heard James strongest among all of Earth's humans. I'd like to see if he lives up to his title."

After speaking, Yorick got up and walked out of the hall.

Many of the creatures in the hall also followed suit.

James waited at the city gate for about ten minutes until a group of people finally showed up.

There were more than 500 people, all of which gave off imposing auras and were prodigies of different races from throughout the universe.

The person in the lead was Yorick of the Authurans.

After the group of creatures appeared, the surrounding guards immediately withdrew.

James looked at the group and noticed Marcello and Jace among them.

However, he did not greet them.

After scanning the group, James looked at Yorick in the lead and smiled.

“Who are you? Are you the one that chased humans out of Bane City and Mount Bane? Are you the one who’s in charge of Bane City?”

Yorick looked at James.

“That’s right. I’m the one that drove the weak humans out of Bane City. I wouldn’t exactly say I’m the person in charge of Bane City. Everyone here is prodigies from all over the universe. We decide on Bane City’s affairs together,” said Yorick.

Meanwhile, two people appeared in the distance outside of the city.

They turned out to be Henrik and Qusai.

“It’s James!”

Qusai exclaimed excitedly.

Henrik also saw James.

He gave James a small wave and said, “It seems something is happening over there right now. Let’s lay low for now and observe the situation.”

After they arrived outside of Bane City, the two concealed themselves.

They did not immediately show up but chose to see how things played out first.

Standing outside the city gate, James looked at Yorick. The smile on his face gradually disappeared, and his face darkened.

He said coldly, “You’re on Earth right now. This is the humans’ territory, and you guys are just Foreigners. Mount Bane is the Human Realm’s core region. Who gave you the right to chase humans out of here?”

James questioned him tersely.

Yorick burst out laughing.

“Haha! Good question.”

“Why did we chase them out? Well, this place might belong to humans but the law of survival of the fittest still applies here. The weak are destined to be oppressed. Humans are no longer the greatest race in the universe, but are now insignificant.”

“You all aren’t worthy of coexisting with the other races.

“Humans are only worthy of being our slaves.”

Yorick words pierced James’ heart like sharp knives.

James understood the Heavenly Path had abandoned the human race.

As a result, humans were now looked down upon by all the other races.

“Survival of the fittest?”

A strong murderous intent rose in James’ heart.

Sensing the hostility from James, Yorick smiled faintly and asked, “What’s wrong? Do you want to fight?”

James suppressed the anger in his heart and said calmly, “I came here to have an earnest conversation with you, but you leave me no choice but to fight if we can’t reach an agreement.”

Yorick laughed again, “Haha! You’re very courageous, James. How about this? If you can defeat me, you can have the final say in Mount Bane. However, if you lose...”

“What happens if I lose?” James asked calmly.

Yorick looked around whilst thinking of a penalty for the loss.

Eventually, he said, “If you lose, then you’ll have to submit to me and do whatever I tell you to do. All that you have right now will also belong to me. What do you think? Do you dare to accept the challenge?”

Thea beside James whispered, “Honey, don’t do it. I can’t sense his real cultivation rank. There’s much we don’t know about him. It’s best to tread carefully and not fall into his trap.”

James pondered for a moment.

Yorick, standing nearby, sneered and said, “I thought you were strong since you had the guts to come up to Bane City. It seems you’re just all talk. You’re not worthy of being called the strongest person on Earth.”

James assessed his strength.

After mulling over his decision, he nodded and said, “Alright, I accept your challenge.”

“Good.”

Overjoyed, Yorick said, "Don't say you didn't have enough time to prepare yourself, James. I'll give you a period of one month. After that, we'll have our battle in Mount Bane."

After speaking, Yorick turned around and left.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2748

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2748-James agreed to Yorick's challenge before all the universe's prodigies.

If he won, he would have the final say in Mount Bane.

Conversely, if he lost, James would be at Yorick's mercy. He would have to comply with any order Yorick gave, even if that order was for him to die.

"The difference in strength between those two is immense."

"Yeah. Although James is the greatest prodigy on Earth, there is still a seal in the human body. Moreover, his growth is restricted because the Spiritual Energy on Earth is scarce."

"The outcome's been settled even before they begin the battle."

No one was optimistic about James' chances.

Most of the universe's prodigies were expecting him to die.

"What are you thinking, Honey? How could you accept his challenge? What if you lose for real?"

Thea's face was full of worry.

"We won't know how this ends until it's over."

James was not discouraged.

Although he had no clue about Yorick's strength, that did not necessarily mean he would lose.

The creatures at the city gate gradually left and returned to Bane City.

Although all of them were eyeing James' treasures, they had been repeatedly warned by their clans that James was an unusual human.

Thus, they were advised to act prudently.

Since Yorick wanted to take it upon himself and fight, they wanted to wait to see what happened.

Marcello and Jace walked over to James.

Marcello looked at James and immediately reprimanded him, "Do you know what you're doing, James? Do you know who you're challenging?"

"I know what I'm doing, but I'm admittedly clueless about his identity," James replied.

Marcello said, "He's the prodigy of the Athurans. Have you heard of them? They're the most terrifying race in the Athura Realm. The Athura Realm belongs to one of the Seven Realms. His father is Lamont Andalus, a Grand Emperor. Marcello took a deep breath and said, "It's not that I'm underestimating you, but the difference in strength between the two of you is vast."

James could not help but ask, "What's his cultivation rank?"

Marcello shook her head and said, "I don't know. You'd better go and prepare well for the battle. I'll try to help you dig around for information in the meantime."

After speaking, Marcello turned around and left.

James glanced toward Bane City and said, "Let's head back first and return in a month's time."

After speaking, he turned to leave.

Thea and Brielle followed behind him.

After walking for a while, they encountered two men.

At the sight of these men, James was stunned for a moment. He then walked over to them.

"James."

Henrik and Qusai called out to him in unison.

James looked at them and chuckled.

Then, he said, "It's the two of you! I've been worried about you both the whole time."

Where did you two get teleported to after we escaped the Demon Realm through the spatial passage?"

"Escape?"

On the side, Brielle questioned, "Why did you have to escape? Did you..."

Her eyes widened.

"D-Did you really steal my clan's bodhi tree?"

The Labhrann Clan's bodhi tree was stolen in the past, but the culprit had yet to be apprehended.

Brielle had suspected James, but she had no proof.

That aside, she did not believe that James was able to steal it.

However, she pressed him after overhearing their conversation.

Henrik said calmly, "What're you talking about? I'm the Lord of the Demon Realm. I can have whatever treasures I desire. Why would I steal your clan's bodhi tree?"

Qusai nodded and said, "That's true. You shouldn't slander people."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2749

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2749-Puzzled, Thea asked, "What's this about?"

She had been traveling with Brielle for a long time, but Brielle never brought up the matter.

Brielle looked at the three men suspiciously and asked, "You're saying you truly weren't responsible for this?"

James shrugged and said, "I have no idea what you're talking about. Let's not dwell on this matter. My priority is to head back as soon as possible and prepare to fight against the Athurans' prodigy in a month."

"Yorick, right? I know about him," said Qusai.

James looked at Qusai and asked, "Is he strong?"

Qusai nodded.

“Yeah, he’s incredibly strong.”

He tried to recall what he could about Yorick.

After a while, he said, “Many years ago, I went to the Athura Realm with my father and met the great powerhouse, Lamont Andalus. At that time, Yorick was in his teens but already possessed strong Athuran Power.

“His father, Lamont is a Grand Emperor, so he has the blood of Grand Emperor flowing in his veins and was born with powerful energy comparable to Sage Energy. He became a Sage at only ten years old. Shortly afterward, he awakened the Athuran Power in his body.

“I can’t even describe how strong he probably is right now.”

After speaking, Qusai looked at James.

“I trust your strength, but humans are currently living in the Apocalypse Age. The seal in the human body is severely limiting the progress of human cultivation. I think your chances of winning against him are very slim.”

Henrik said dismissively, “There’s nothing to be afraid of. You shouldn’t be marvelling at others while destroying James’ confidence.”

Qusai said troubledly, “I was only speaking the truth.”

James parted his lips and said, “That’s enough for now. Let’s head back to Wrymstead first.”

Since things had already come to this, he was left no choice but to give it all he had.

No matter how strong Yorick was, he would need to win at all costs.

Mount Bane was essential for the survival of human cultivators on Earth.

The strong Emphyrean Spiritual Energy was beneficial to suppress the curses in their bodies.

If they were to yield Mount Bane to these Foreigners, the effects of the curse on the human bodies would be accelerated, and many lives would be lost.

Qusai said, “You can leave ahead of us, James. I’ve met Yorick before, so I should be able to inquire about his cultivation rank.”

James nodded and said, “That would be great. If that’s the case, I’ll wait for you outside Mount Bane.”

“Alright!”

Qusai nodded and walked toward Bane City.

James, Thea, and the others walked out of Mount Bane.

James and Thea walked side by side.

Thea asked, “Honey, who are those two guys?”

James smiled and said, “I met them while training in the Demon Realm.”

He pointed to Henrik and explained, “That guy is Henrik. Don’t judge him by his listless appearance. He actually has a very influential position in the Demon Realm. His teacher is a Grand Emperor which used to be the former lord of the Demon Realm. That person no longer wanted to involve themselves worldly affairs and passed the position to him.”

Henrik chuckled and said, “Nice to meet you, Thea!”

Thea nodded politely in response to Henrik.

James continued to speak, “The other one that went to Bane City is called Qusai. I don’t really know much about him, but I know he’s from the Fiend Realm. Judging by how he is acquainted with Yorick, he must also come from an esteemed background.”

Henrik interjected.

“Qusai? His father is the lord of the Fiend Realm.”

Hearing this, Thea clicked her tongue exasperatedly.

James only went to the Demon Realm once yet managed to befriend highly influential creatures.

The group headed out of Mount Bane while chatting happily.

Soon, they reached Mount Bane’s border.

Many cultivators were gathered outside.

As soon as James appeared, Quintina asked, “How did it go, James?”

Before James could speak, Thea pinched his side. She asked jealously, “Who’s this?”

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2750

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2750-James smiled awkwardly at her question and did not explain further.

Harold walked over and asked, "How did it go? What's the situation in Bane City?"

At that moment, many prodigies from the Three Thousand Worlds walked over and looked at James, eagerly awaiting an answer.

James said, "When I went to Bane City, I met prodigies from other races that came from all over the universe. I accepted a challenge against Yorick from the Athuran Clan. Our fight will take place in a month's time. I'll have dominion over Mount Bane if I can defeat him. If I lose, then I'll have to submit and obey Yorick."

Quintina immediately exclaimed, "What?! I heard that all the foreign prodigies that came to Earth are very powerful, James."

James replied calmly, "I still have a month before the battle. I'll make sure to prepare well in that time. It's not like the battle's already been decided."

James did not say much and patiently waited outside Mount Bane for Qusai.

Meanwhile, Qusai had already entered Bane City. He arrived at Yorick's mansion but was stopped at the entrance.

"This mansion is the residence of the Athuran Clan's young master. Outsiders aren't allowed to enter."

The guard's words enraged Qusai.

He parted his lips and shouted, "Open your f*cking eyes and see who you're actually talking to. Tell Yorick that Qusai has come to see him. Get him to see me."

Qusai was pushy and conceited.

"who is this Qusai guy?"

The guards outside the mansion were puzzled.

However, Qusai did not seem like someone to be trifled with, so they did not dare ignore his request.

One of the guards immediately replied, "P- Please wait a moment. I'll go report your visit to him right away."

At that moment, most of the universe's prodigies had already left, and only a few creatures remained in the mansion.

Among these creatures were Marcello and Jace.

Yorick sat in the highest seat and looked at Marcello with a smile.

He said, "Before coming to Earth, my father specifically requested that I look after Marcello from the Azurean Clan. He said our clan might unite with the Azurean Clan through marriage in the near future."

Marcello smiled and remained silent.

Instead, Jace stepped forward and returned Yorick's smile.

"Thank you for your kindness, Mr. Yorick."

Suddenly, a guard walked into the hall and got on one knee, reporting respectfully, "Young Master, I'm not sure of his identity, but a cultivator claiming to be Qusai has requested to see you. He's waiting outside the entrance."

"Qusai?"

Yorick pondered briefly and suddenly recalled the name. He immediately stood up and walked outside.

Marcello and Jace were slightly taken aback by Yorick's abrupt actions.

Marcello exclaimed in surprise.

"Who's Qusai? He must be someone of import if even Yorick, who usually can't be bothered showing courtesy to others, went out to greet him personally."

Jace shook his head and said, "I don't know either. Let's go have a look."

The two followed Yorick out of the mansion.

Qusai waited at the mansion gate in the meantime.

"Haha..."

A burst of laughter rang through the air, and Yorick showed up shortly after.

"Qusai! It's been so long since I've last seen you. I didn't expect to find you on Earth too!"

Qusai looked at Yorick, who came out to greet him.

He smiled faintly and said, "Looks like you've made a name for yourself, eh Yorick?"

"No way! You're flattering me. I'm light years behind you." Yorick laughed.

"Aren't you going to invite me inside?" Qusai asked vexedly.

"Please come inside!" Yorick made a welcoming gesture. Qusai walked into the mansion ahead of his acquaintance.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-