The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2771-At that moment, countless shadows appeared in the gaps between the flashes of lightning in the sky.

All of these shadows held long swords.

Judging by the forms of the shadows, they could be identified as exquisite sword techniques.

“A-Are those sword techniques?” “Look! Each has a different form, corresponding to different types of sword techniques.” Many of the spectators were shocked.

At that moment, Yorick felt a sense of danger.

He stared at the shadows in the sky.

The shadows gradually merged, and a long purple sword came at him.

Yorick was in a daze, watching the shadows.

However, he still instinctively raised the Athuran Sword to resist the attack.

Boom! Yorick was knocked away.

At that moment, the shadows in the sky merged to form a physical body.

As soon as James appeared, a dazzling Sword Energy emerged from the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword.

The purple Sword Energy darted at Yorick, who was still being blasted away by the force.

Yorick could not react in time and was struck by the Sword Energy.

The Sword Energy pierced through his body, and he plummeted from the sky, Bang! He crashed into the ground and did not get back up.

The area fell into dead silence.

Tens of thousands were watching in the distance, and their jaws dropped wide open.

The human cultivators were also dumbfounded.

It took a while for the spectators to react to the scene.

“Wh-What kind of sword technique is that?” “That’s terrifying swordsmanship.” “Yorick, who had transformed into the Athuran Combat Form’s Second Stage, was sent flying, and James’ Sword Energy pierced his body.” “This...” “Phew.

That’s terrifying.” “That’s some unparalleled swordsmanship.” “We’ve witnessed a lot today.” “It’s no wonder my clan’s elders kept saying James isn’t someone to mess with.” James used the First and Second Stages of the Ancestral Sword Master’s swordsmanship.

His skilled swordsmanship shocked the audience.

James floated in the sky and held onto the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword.

He looked down at the ruins below him and murmured solemnly, “Did he die?” He knew the First and Second Stages of the Ancestral Sword Master’s swordsmanship were terrifying.

However, Yorick was an extraordinary cultivator.

James was unsure of whether his attack was enough to kill Yorick.

If Yorick survived the attack, he would have a hard time should the battle continue.

“Is Yorick dead?” All the creatures were concerned about Yorick’s life.

The rubble in the ruins moved slightly, and a hand stretched out.

The hand pushed away the rabble, and a man covered in blood emerged from the ruin.

He sat weakly on a rock.

His hair was scattered, and a wound on his chest was overflowing with blood.

“Hahahaha!!!” Yorick burst out laughing.

His laughter was horrendous and terrifying.

At that moment, a cold murderous intent swept across the area.

As the hostile aura spread, a few rocks could not stand the magnetic field and floated up into the air.

“He’s not dead?” “Yorick’s combat skills are terrifying! How did he survive that attack?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2772-Yorick was furious.

He was a prodigy and was born with a golden spoon.

Additionally, he was the descendant of a Grand Emperor and was born with Sage Energy.

He had never been injured all his life.

However, James managed to injure him.

He looked down at the bloody wound on his chest.

Yorick was boiling with anger, and a strong murderous intent permeated the air.

He gradually stood up and dashed into the air.

Yorick raised his hand, and a burst of magical energy appeared in his palm.

The force floated toward his chest and healed the bloody wound on his chest at a speed visible to the naked eye.

At the same time, the energy emanating from his body increased.

The light blue armor on his body transformed again into a white color.

More veins grew through the translucent wings on his back.

A single horn also grew out of his head, emanating great power.

“D-Did he transform again?” “His energy seems much stronger.

He must’ve transformed to the next stage.” “Tsk, tsk.

He’s now using the Athuran Combat Form’s Third Stage.

How terrifying.

I never expected James to be strong enough to force Yorick to make a third transformation.” The prodigies watched the scene in the distance, and all of them were astonished.

Yorick’s energy was incredibly potent, and his strength skyrocketed after the third transformation.

As a result, the Athuran Sword also became even more powerful and glowed brightly.

"You're so dead, James.

No one will be able to save you today." Yorick's voice resounded throughout the sky.

"Huff!" James took a deep breath.

He used the Yogacara Sword Energy to stimulate the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword to unleash its power and overpower and suppress Yorick.

However, after the third transformation, Yorick's strength increased, and he regained the upper hand.

James had already used all his trump cards that could increase his strength.

"I still couldn't kill him after using the Yogacara Sword Energy.

He was only slightly injured.

I just enraged him into making a third transformation." James frowned.

Yorick roared, "Take this!" After shouting, Yorick slashed his sword, and a potent Sword Energy dashed out.

James quickly dashed at Yorick with his sword.

No one could see James' movements clearly.

They only saw him dash out with his sword, and then his shadows were scattered throughout the sky.

James' sword clashed with Yorick's Sword Energies, shattering every one of them.

He charged right at Yorick with his sword like an arrow.

At that moment, Yorick's eyes were fixated on James.

James was charging straight at him, and James' shadows were blocking all of his escape routes.

Yorick had nowhere to run.

"Confinement!" As James approached him, mysterious black words appeared.

The words diffused into the air and formed a powerful force.

“What’s this?” A bad premonition arose in Yorick’s heart.

He wanted to dodge, but it was already too late.

By the time he had reacted to the danger, the terrifying force had already reached him.

The force enveloped him and imprisoned him in the air.

Then, James thrust his sword directly at him.

Yorick did not know how to counter James’ attack.

James’ seemingly simple move contained thousands of sword techniques.

He could only raise his sword to try to parry the attack.

Clank! The clinking sound of the swords resounded through the air.

The terrifying force swept toward Yorick and struck Yorick’s sword away.

The potent force permeated his arm, causing injuries to spread toward his torso.

After a while, his arm was heavily injured.

Yorick roared, “Ahh!!!” He rapidly fluttered his wings, and a powerful energy emerged.

He forcefully broke free from James’ Confinement.

After he broke free, his Athuran Sword shot up to the sky again.

He grabbed the Athuran Sword and swung at James.

James raised his sword to parry the attack.

Clank! The sound of clashing swords echoed throughout the sky.

James felt a powerful force coming from the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword.

His arms went numb, and his Blood Energy was shaken.

Struck by the force, his body plummeted from the sky.

Before he crashed to the ground, a powerful Sword Energy charged at him.

Startled, James quickly dodged the attack.

After successfully evading the Sword Energy, Yorick appeared instantly and thrust his sword into James' back.

Yorick was overwhelmingly strong and fast after his third transformation.

He completely surpassed James in every aspect.

Unable to react in time, James was stabbed in the back.

The long sword pierced his body, and a powerful Sword Energy erupted inside his body.

After Yorrick stabbed James, powerful lightning emerged from Yorick's wings and struck James.

James' body fell from the sky and crashed into the ruins.

"Begone." Yorick did not give James a chance to breathe.

After James crashed to the ground, he quickly raised the Athuran Sword and unleashed a 10,000-meter-long Sword Energy.

He dashed from the sky and slashed the ground where James landed.

Rumble! A bottomless pit formed in the ground.

Dust rolled up, and gravel flew across the sky.

Many creatures and humans were watching the fierce battle from a distance.

A turn of tides happened too quickly.

As soon as Yorick sustained an injury, he immediately launched overwhelming attacks at James.

Yorick's strength had increased to overpowering levels after his third transformation, and he left James no chance to fight back.

Yorick floated in the air and panted.

He stared at the ruins below him.

"He should be dead now.

With his current strength, he couldn't have survived such aggressive attacks from me." Yorick's face remained solemn.

He was unsure of whether James was really dead.

James was a freak and did not conform to normal rules.

"Is James dead?" "Th-The battle turned around too quickly." "T saw similar black words before.

Wasn't that the Curse Magic from the Demon Realm?" "Tt must've been the Curse Magic.

Yorick was detained by the force in the sky." "Fortunately, Yorick was strong enough to break free from it.

Otherwise, the battle might have ended differently." "If Yorick had not mastered the Athuran Combast Form until the Third Stage, he would have lost to James." "The battle took a huge turn, and James was defeated." "But, is he really dead?" All the spectators paid close attention to the battlefield and the ruins where James had crashed.

However, James did not resurface even after ten minutes.

Yorick's solemn expression was replaced with a smile.

"T won.

James is dead." Yorick's voice resounded.

Swoosh! Suddenly, a black light rushed up from the ruins and shot up into the sky.

"wWh-What is that?" All the spectators stared at the black light that appeared in the sky.

However, a black light shot up from the ruins into the sky abruptly.

The spectators stared at the light.

A person floated into the air.

His hair was messy, and he was covered in wounds.

James looked incredibly miserable as he stood on the black lotus with nine petals.

A powerful energy emerged from the black lotus.

Seeing the black lotus, Lucifer took a few steps forward, and he looked surprised.

He immediately noticed his father's Natal Demonic Lotus.

"What's that?" "The lotus has very sinister energy." "That's very evil energy." Many prodigies were shocked by the Demonic Lotus.

Black energy emanated from the lotus.

The energy permeated the surrounding area, and the plants that came in contact with it immediately withered.

"He's not dead?" Yorick stared at James in disbelief.

He knew how strong his attacks on James were, yet James still managed to survive.

Once again, James had shown extreme resilience.

"what a tough opponent." Yorick's face darkened again.

James stood on the Demonic Lotus.

He was covered in wounds and looked to be in a terrible state.

However, his body's injuries began to recover at a speed visible to the naked eye.

Soon, he was completely healed.

He stretched his body and said lazily, "Warm up is over, Yorick.

I'll be going all out against you now.

I'm impressed that you've pushed me this far." James' voice resounded.

Yorick's face twitched at James' words.

"Warm up?" With a grim expression, Yorick said, "You're quite an arrogant one, James.

Go ahead and show me what else you've got." Yorick was enraged by James' conceited behavior.

He was determined to kill James as soon as possible.

He raised the Athuran Sword and attacked.

However, the Demonic Lotus let out countless strands of black energy.

They gathered and formed sharp blades, dashing toward Yorick.

Before the battle against Yorick, James encountered Maxine along the way.

Maxine brought him to see Caelum, the Azurean Clan's leader from the Demon Realm.

Caelum taught him the Ten Thousand Demon Art.

The Ten Thousand Demon Art was a complicated Supernatural Power.

James could only grasp its basics, but it was enough for him to exert the Demonic Lotus' power.

The Demonic Lotus was quite sinister, and James wanted to avoid using it.

However, he had no other choice.

He only had a shot at defeating Yorick if he used the Demonic Lotus.

Faced with the tens of thousands of blades, Yorick kept smashing them one by one.

After the blades were shattered, they dispersed into black energy and disappeared.

James stood on the Demonic Lotus while countless strands of black energy emerged from it.

The black energy was very bizarre.

Although Yorick had terrifying strength while in his Athuran Combat Form's Third Stage, he was helpless against the black energy.

The black energy swept toward Yorick and enveloped him.

At that moment, Yorick felt a strange force from the black energy.

The vitality in his body was being sucked away, and he was aging rapidly.

In just an instant, he went from a young man to an old man with long white hair.

At the same time, his energy kept growing weaker.

“wWh-What’s this?” Yorick was stunned.

At that moment, he was frightened.

“What kind of Supernatural Power is this?” The fear in his heart grew stronger as he felt his death approaching.

“This battle is over.” James’ voice resounded.

He appeared in front of Yorick instantly.

At that moment, Yorick’s blood began to boil, and compelling energy emerged from his blood.

Yorick activated the power within his blood.

He awakened the power from his Athuran Bloodline.

He immediately dispelled James’ Curse Magic and gradually regained vitality, returning into a young man.

As soon as James got close, Yorick counterattacked.

Their swords clashed again.

Bang! A loud clink resounded.

James was knocked away by the force.

“Damn it!” James cursed.

After doing all that, he was still unable to kill Yorick.

Yorick was indeed a terrifying opponent.

“Haha!!!” Yorick guffawed.

“You’re really amazing, James.

You really pushed me to my limits.

I've never activated the power of my bloodline in battle before." Hearing this, many of the spectators were shocked.

"What did he say? Did Yorick just say he activated the power of his bloodline?" "James is doomed." "No matter how strong James is, he won't make it.

Yorick has the power of a Grand Emperor in his blood." James had a grim expression.

Yorick grew stronger once again after activating the power within his blood.

He immediately launched another attack at James.

Sword Energies rippled through the air, making James sense a crushing force.

James immediately summoned an Infinity Stele out of his body.

The Infinity Stele quickly expanded and became 100 meters in size.

The Infinity Stele darted at Yorick with destructive force.

Since the battle had come to this point, James no longer hid any of his trump cards.

He was prepared to use everything he could to defeat Yorick.

Yorick slashed the Infinity Stele with his sword.

The Infinity Stele slammed into the Athuran Sword but was blasted away and crashed into a distant mountain.

The mountain was destroyed instantly, and a loud explosion ensued, causing dirt to billow into the sky.

Although Yorick managed to repel the Infinity Stele, he did not go unscathed, and his arm had become numb from the impact.

Yorick cursed furiously, "Damn it." The prodigies in the distance watched intently.

"W-Was that the Infinity Stele?" "Was that the powerful treasure that's existed since the beginning of the universe?" James summoned the Infinity Steles one after another under many shocked gazes.

Instantly, all 108 Infinity Steles surrounded James and revolved around him.

The Infinity Steles dashed out one after another.

Although Yorick was in his strongest state, he was forced to keep retreating.

He could knock away the Infinity Steles, but he was still overwhelmed by their endless attacks.

“Tsk, tsk.

What an intense battle.” “The battle is getting so thrilling!” “James is using all his treasures and trump cards.

I wonder if the Athurans’ young master, Yorick, has other means to fight.” “He should have more treasures, right? Many prodigies began to discuss.

Meanwhile, the Infinity Steles continuously bombarded Yorick on the battlefield.

Yorick was on defense and kept knocking the Infinity Steles away.

He knew that he was in a disadvantageous position and that he could not continue on like this.

He had to find a chance to kill James in a close-quarter battle.

Otherwise, he would be exhausted to death if this persisted.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2776-Yorick gradually calmed down.

He stopped countering the Infinity Steles but chose to dodge.

He planned to wait for an opportunity to get close to James and deal a fatal blow.

James saw through Yorick’s intentions.

He immediately recalled the Infinity Steles and made them revolve around him.

He stood in the center, and the Infinity Steles formed a magical formation.

Yorick attempted to find an opening but was to no avail.

He kept launching attacks at James, but the Infinity Steles blocked all his blows.

He was helpless.

The battle was at a stalemate for a while.

“Do I really have to resort to using that?” Yorick kept attempting to break through James’ defenses but could not find a chance to get close.

Although his attacks were potent, James was being protected by the Infinity Steles.

He still had another ultimate trump card but hesitated to use it since he wanted to save it to fight for the third providence.

Besides, he might not necessarily defeat James even if he used it.

Yorick leaped thousands of meters into the sky.

He raised the blue Athuran Sword, and a 100-meter-long Sword Light emerged and charged at James.

The Infinity Stele rotated and released powerful energy to block the Sword Light.

Yorick launched continuous attacks at James like a madman.

He repeatedly unleashed Sword Energies to strike the Infinity Stele.

Although James had the Infinity Steles protecting him from the attacks, the tremendous force leaked into the center.

James’ Blood Energy tumbled from the shock, and he continuously sustained injuries.

James cursed furiously, “Damn it.” He felt he had to change his tactic.

Petals suddenly detached from the Demonic Lotus and connected to form a battle suit.

The battle suit immediately attached to James’ body.

After James learned the Ten Thousand Demon Art, he could finally control the Demonic Lotus.

Dressed in the battle suit formed by the Demonic Lotus, James took the initiative to attack.

He flew out from the Infinity Steles and engaged in combat with Yorick.

Yorick was powerful but could not destroy the battlesuit made from the Demonic Lotus.

The two fought intensely.

James displayed his skilled swordsmanship and continuously inflicted wounds on Yorick.

The prodigies watched from a distance.

James and Yorick had both shown their formidable strength in this battle.

They could be considered the best out of the younger generations.

The two were talented prodigies of this age.

“Cosmic Destruction!” James seized the opportunity and immediately fused the Terra and Lunar True Essence in his body together.

The energies formed a great force and blasted toward Yorick.

Yorick slashed the energy in half.

However, he underestimated James’ Cosmic Destruction.

The energy ball he sliced exploded and destroyed his armor.

He was also harmed by the force.

However, he was not severely injured.

It was extremely challenging for James to kill Yorick.

James frowned.

“Yorick is terrifying.

He even withstood James’ Cosmic Destruction.” James took a deep breath.

“What should I do?” He started to become anxious.

After fighting for so long, Yorick was still energetic and displaying terrifying strength.

James knew he was bound to lose if they continued fighting.

Although he had countless trump cards, he was unable to beat Yorick.

Clank! While thinking of a solution, their swords clashed again.

However, James was not knocked away this time.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2777-The Demonic Lotus had boosted his strength significantly.

The two were in a stalemate, and time seemed to have stopped.

The scene looked as if it had frozen.

None of them moved, but potent Sword Energies emerged from their swords, which were pinned against each other.

At that moment, thousands of Sword Energies clashed in the sky.

James resisted with all his strength and thought about a way to win.

To defeat Yorick, he had to use the Third and Fourth Stages of the Ancestral Sword Master's swordsmanship.

However, James still had not fully comprehended them.

"I don't have any other choice." James took a deep breath.

He activated Elemental Inversion, and Elemental Sage Energy entered his sword.

At that moment, his sword's energy transformed.

The Elemental Sage Energy fused with the Sword Intent and flowed through the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword.

The force struck Yorick's body, and he spat a mouthful of blood.

The First and Second Stages of the Five Great Sword Realms were closely related.

Meanwhile, the Third and Fourth Stages of the Five Great Sword Realms were also linked together.

James was still trying to comprehend the Third and Fourth Stages of the Five Great Sword Realms.

Therefore, he was still unable to control his sword according to his will.

He could only unleash Sword Intent with his own strength.

At that moment, Yorick had sensed James' terrifying Sword Intent.

Despite that, he was still struck and injured by the Sword Intent.

James took the opportunity to launch another attack.

James' shadows filled the sky once again.

"This again?" Yorick was startled.

He had already experienced the horror of this move.

He did not dare to act rashly and quickly retreated to dodge the attack.

However, James' attack was incredibly fast.

The countless shadows merged.

At the same time, James activated the Sage Energy in his body and converted it into Sword Intent.

His strength had improved again after merging the Sword Intent into his Sword Moves.

Yorick could not dodge James' attacks and had no choice but to parry them.

Their swords collided once again.

Boom! Another explosion happened in the sky.

The terrifying force destroyed Yorick's armor instantly, and cuts formed on his body.

Yorick was blasted away.

He fell from the sky and crashed into the ground.

Boom! After falling into the ruins, he did not get back up.

James calmly gripped the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, and the 108 Infinity Steles floated around him.

He murmured, "I didn't expect my sword's strength to improve so much after using the Sword Move, Sword Shadow, and Sword Intent together." At that moment, James was optimistic about his victory.

No matter how strong Yorick was, James was confident he would win with his peerless swordsmanship.

James did not follow up instantly with another lethal attack.

He put away the Infinity Steles and hovered in the sky, looking at the ruins below.

In the distance, the spectators gasped.

“James is terrifying.” “What kind of sword techniques is he using? How does he keep getting stronger? Yorick already transformed into the Athuran Combat Form’s Third Stage and even activated his blood’s power but was still defeated.” Many of them were amazed by James’ swordsmanship.

Walganus was also shocked after watching the intense battle.

He exclaimed, “James’ swordsmanship has gotten better.

And he’s only just comprehended the fundamentals.

I wonder how strong he’ll be once he becomes a master swordsman.” The idea of it was unfathomable.

Walganus was confident that James would rise in this Apocalypse Age and become a peerless powerhouse.

He had the potential to become one of the universe’s strongest cultivators.

Yorick lost the battle.

He was injured all over, and his body was plummeting from the sky.

He crashed into the rubble on the ground and did not get back up.

James floated in the sky, waiting for Yorick to resurface.

Time passed by slowly.

Soon, half an hour passed.

Finally, a person slowly crawled out of the ruins.

By then, Yorick had already dispersed his combat form.

His hair was scattered, and he was covered in wounds, his body bloodied.

He looked utterly defeated.

Yorick sat on a boulder and gasped for air.

Immediately afterward, he took out an elixir and consumed it.

After his wounds were stabilized, he got up.

He raised his head to the sky.

James slowly descended and landed firmly on the ground in front of Yorick.

Yorick stared at James.

"I have to admit.

You're very powerful.

I acknowledge my defeat.

Today, I'll withdraw from Bane City and no longer interfere with the city's affairs.

Your friends will be safe in Bane City." Yorick spoke with difficulty.

His words meant he was conceding defeat.

Although he still had another trump card, he had exhausted his strength.

If he continued to fight, he would not stand a chance against James.

Even if he were to use his final ultimate move, he would not be able to beat James.

Therefore, he chose to give up.

James parted his lips and said, "You're also very strong.

I've used all my Secret Arts and treasures.

Yet, I barely won this match.

I'm looking forward to fighting you again." After speaking, James also dissipated Sacrilegious Ascension, the dragon bone's power, and Elemental Inversion.

His energy weakened instantly.

After dispersing Sacrilegious Ascension, he entered a feeble state.

He lay on the ground weakly, unable to get back on his feet.

Yorick began to treat his own wounds, whereas James also recuperated.

At that moment, many humans rushed over to James.

Most of them were people acquainted with James.

Apart from them, a few other prodigies from the Three Thousand Worlds also came over.

Everyone witnessed how the weakling, James, had grown into a powerhouse.

In the past, these Outsiders thought Earth's humans were weaklings and descendants of sinners that did not deserve respect.

However, they were now dependent on a human from Earth.

"Are you okay, James?" Thea rushed in front of James and tried to help him up.

"It's alright.

I need to rest for a while," James weakly raised his hand and waved at her.

His spine was shattered, and he was using Demonic Energy to repair it, which would take some time.

Thea stood beside him.

"Maxine." At that moment, Cynthia and Tiara walked over to Maxine.

Tiara looked at Maxine worriedly and said, "Where have you been all these years, Maxine? Why didn't you contact us? Do you know how worried I've been all these years?"

At that moment, a few prodigies from the universe walked over.

Lucifer was the first to rush over to James.

He stood by the side and looked at James, who was lying on the ground weakly while healing his wounds.

Lucifer smiled lightly and said, "It's been a few years since I last saw you, James.

You've grown even stronger since then.

After watching your battle against Yorick, it'll be tough for me to defeat you even as I am right now." Lucifer thought he finally had the strength to defeat James after working hard all these years.

However, he realized James had become terrifyingly strong after watching the fight.

Although he had mastered the Fifth Combat Form, he might still not be able to defeat James.

If he were to fight James again, he would still lose.

James smiled faintly in response.

At that moment, Walganus rushed over.

He looked at James and gave him a thumbs up, saying, "Not bad.

Your swordsmanship has improved.

I look forward to the day you reach Consolidation and perfect your swordsmanship." Lying on the ground, James asked, "Why are you here, Walganus?" Walganus smiled and said, "Everyone is on Earth right now, so how can I miss out? The Earth is full of opportunities now that it's the Apocalypse Age.

Numerous boons will appear on Earth, so of course, I came to try my luck in getting them." "True." James nodded lightly.

Countless treasures were appearing on Earth.

The greatest among them was the providences that appeared after each of the Four Calamities.

The next one about to appear soon was the providence after the Third Calamity.

Every creature's dream was to leap out of the Three Dimensions, relinquish the Five Elements, and attain an Emperor's Body.

Obtaining the providence after these Calamities would ensure one's cultivation was smooth sailing in the future.

If the person that acquired the providence had enough time to cultivate, they would eventually become a Grand Emperor.

James lay down on the ground, healing his injuries.

It took about half an hour before he fully recovered.

James stood up from the ground and glanced at the crowd around the area.

He looked at Yorick, who was still treating his wounds.

Then, he looked at the humans and the universe's prodigies.

James parted his lips and said, "I know all of you have come to Earth to seize good fortunes.

I will not intervene with anyone trying to obtain the providences or treasures on Earth.

However, since you're on Earth, you outsiders will have to follow the rules on Earth.

"I'll announce the rules now." Many creatures looked at James.

Since James was powerful and had defeated Yorick, they acknowledged he had the right to make a few demands.

Seeing that there were no objections, James announced, "First, Mount Bane belongs to the Earth's humans.

Outsiders aren't allowed to occupy it for selfish reasons, nor are you allowed to forbid humans from entering.

"Secondly, you're not allowed to hurt the humans of Earth.

"Thirdly, leave the ordinary humans on Earth alone." James looked at the prodigies from various universe races and said, "I only have three requests.

Other than that, I will not interfere in your activities, and you are free to do what you want on Earth.” “Haha.

Since we’re on Earth, of course, we have to follow the rules here.” A prodigy looking to befriend James immediately expressed his agreement.

“I agree.” “I’m fine with these three rules.” After one person expressed his agreement, the others followed suit.

Soon, countless Foreigners agreed to James’ request.

Hearing this, the Earth’s humans were overjoyed.

James had earned back their rights because of his overwhelming strength.

If James were not strong, these Foreign Races would not be so agreeable.

James sighed in relief and felt fortunate that he did not fight in vain.

He used his strength to defend the dignity of the Earth’s humans.

However, the results were satisfactory.

After setting the record straight with the Foreigners, James headed into Bane City and found Henry, Tyrus, and the others.

All of them were fine.

After resolving a series of things, James brought everyone back to Wurmstead.

As for the humans of the Three Thousand Worlds, James did not pay them much attention.

He had already won an opportunity for them to enter Mount Bane.

As long as they were allowed to enter Mount Bane, they could use the abundant Spiritual Energy there to suppress the curse in their bodies.

James was now more worried about ordinary humans and cultivators with relatively low cultivation ranks.

James sat in the highest seat of the council in Wyrmsstead's main hall.

Quincy held a report and said, "I've got the latest news, James.

The curse has already infected the entire human race.

About three million people are dying from the curse every day.

"After going through the previous Calamities, the human population on Earth has decreased significantly.

If the trend of casualties continues like this, not many of the Earth's humans will survive." Hearing this, James asked worriedly, "You said three million people are dying daily?" Quincy nodded and said, "Yeah.

These are just the preliminary statistics.

The actual number of casualties worldwide has to be greater than this." Standing aside, Thea asked, "Darling, is there really nothing we can do about the curses?" "What can we do?" James thought awhile and said, "There's actually a way to eliminate the curse.

I can absorb the curses, but my body won't be able to bear that many curses as my current capacity is very limited.

"Also, I've already seen the custodian about it.

She said humanity's seniors are already researching the curse.

They're trying to develop an elixir that can suppress the curse.

It should be ready soon.

"After they succeed, humans can consume the elixirs and suppress the curses.

"Even if the elixir can't completely eliminate the curse, it should be sufficient to suppress it and help humans survive." Thea asked, "Then, do we just wait?" James nodded.

"Mhm.

There's nothing else we can do right now.

We can only wait for the results.

The Heavenly Path is fixed on exterminating the human race.

If even Grand Emperors can't do anything about it, what can I do? If I were a Grand Emperor, I would perhaps at least have the strength to absorb all human curses.

However, my current cultivation rank is very low." Wurmstead's senior authorities and some of Earth's powerhouses gathered to discuss the curse.

However, James was utterly helpless against the curse.

The most important thing at hand was to appease and calm the humans down to prevent Earth from falling into chaos.

After humans were made aware of the curse, some troublemakers began to cause trouble, knowing they did not have long to live.

Thus, turmoil broke out all over the world.

James sent some people out to help suppress the curse and chaos globally.

After a brief discussion, the people dispersed.

Only a few of them stayed behind.

Thea and James met up in the backyard of Wurmstead's Imperial Palace.

Thea asked James about everything he had experienced over the years.

James truthfully recounted everything from leaving Earth to the Demon Realm and how he somehow ended up on Galileo.

"Was it really you?" A furious voice resounded nearby.

Hearing the sound, James turned around and saw Brielle walking over.

She had come to see Thea but overheard James from a distance.

Brielle learned about James' scheme to steal the bodhi tree and how everything happened.

"James..." Brielle looked at James furiously.

"My clan treated you well, but you used marriage as a cover-up to steal our clan's treasure? H- How could you?" James looked at her embarrassedly.
