

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2881

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2881-The river was fascinating.It was not an ordinary river with gushing water but contained flowing characters and runes.

Before the two could react, the river completely disappeared.

Xandros watched as Thea and James disappeared from the universe.He murmured, "Humanity is really running out of time.I wasn't sure if you two would have enough time to return with the Ancestral God Rank elixir, so I used the Time Capsule's power to send you two to the past and buy more time.

"One hundred thousand years back.You two have gone back one hundred thousand years in time.

"with my strength and the Time Capsule's power, I can only send you one hundred thousand years into the past.It should be enough for you two to find the Ancestral God Rank elixir."

Xandros' voice resounded in the tranquil space, then he disappeared.

Neither James nor Thea knew that Xandros had forcibly activated the Time Capsule to send them one hundred thousand years into the past to buy them more time to find the Ancestral God Rank elixir."

After James and Thea floated through the mysterious river for a while, their eyes blurred, and they felt their bodies being squashed.

Although James had unparalleled physical strength, the pressure still caused him great discomfort.

James opened his eyes to check his surroundings, but it was too dark to see anything.

"Thea! Where are you, Thea!"

James shouted, and his voice echoed through the darkness.

However, Thea did not respond.

"What happened?"

James was puzzled.

"arghil!"

At that moment, he felt the pressure crushing his entire body, and it was so unbearable that he felt as if his head was going to explode.

Just as he felt like he could no longer withstand it, light pierced through the darkness and gradually brightened up their surroundings.

James opened his eyes and tried to scan his surroundings.

A blinding light came from the sky.

After a while, he got accustomed to the light.

Then, he got up with difficulty. He looked down at his body and discovered he was covered in injuries as if he had just gone through a fierce battle.

At that moment, a steel wire slid onto his arm.

“Crucifier is here, but where is Thea?”

James did not have the time to scan his surroundings. He looked at the steel wire composed of eighty-one needles and thought to himself.

‘What exactly happened? ‘Am I in the Boundless Realm? ‘Where’s Thea? I came with her, but why were we separated?’ James was confused.

At that moment, an old man sat on a massive mountain in the Boundless Realm. He looked at the starry sky and noticed the stars starting to change.

Suddenly, a bad premonition rose in his heart.

“Is something about to happen?”

The old man had a solemn expression.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2882

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2882-James and Thea entered the Boundless Realm together, but something unexpected happened on the way.

After plunging into darkness, James felt discomfort all over his body. He was already in an unfamiliar place when he regained vision of his surroundings.

However, Thea was nowhere to be seen. He had no idea what had happened or whether Thea was still alive.

James guessed that something might have happened when they entered the seal and that the two had arrived in different places.

The area where James appeared was within a mountain range. He began to search the mountain range, but there was no trace of Thea.

James had a solemn expression. He stood in place for a long time.

After a while, he took a deep breath.

He knew that Thea would be fine.

Thea must have also arrived in the Boundless Realm, but an accident must have happened while they were passing through the seal.

Therefore, the two of them appeared in different areas.

James put his worries behind him for the time being.

His goal was to find the Ancestral God Rank elixir.

Since he had an urgent task, James planned to quickly leave the mountain range and find a city inhabited by humans to find out his current location.

James quickly began to travel through the mountain range.

The mountain range was vast, and it took him three days to finally exit the region.

James could tell from the mountain range's area that he had arrived at a relatively big planet.

With his current strength, James could travel the entire Earth in a very short time.

The mountain range alone was bigger than Earth.

Earth was one of the Seven Realms and had vast lands.

However, most of the area was still sealed away.

After leaving the mountain range, James saw a small city ahead of him.

The city was relatively small and looked very simple.

The city gate was only a dozen meters high.

Some armed guards stood at the city wall, and only a few people were walking through the city gate.

James strode over and soon appeared at the city gate.

He raised his head and saw words carved on the city wall.

This time, James recognized the words at a glance.

“Inferno City.”

After identifying the words on the city wall, James was slightly taken aback. He suddenly came to a realization.

James murmured, “It sure is good to understand Elysian characters. I can easily understand the meaning of these words.”

He did not overthink it and strode toward the city.

At Inferno City’s Gates, a middle-aged man in a white robe walked toward the city gate.

“Giddy up!”

At that moment, a horse rushed out of the city.

A young man around his twenties was riding on the horse.

The horse quickly rushed out of the city, and the pedestrians on the street hurriedly moved out of the way.

The horse was galloping quickly, and dust rolled into the sky.

Just as James was about to enter the city, the horse charged at him.

The young man shouted, “Step aside!”

James stood motionlessly in place.

Just as the horse was about to hit him, he flicked to the side and avoided it.

He would have gotten hit by the horse if not for his great strength giving him the capability to dodge in time.

The horse showed no signs of stopping despite almost running into a person.

If it were another person, they would have definitely been injured.

James turned around and watched the galloping horse and the young man.

His brows furrowed slightly.

Although he wanted to teach the young man a lesson, he decided to let it go after briefly thinking about it.

Since he had just arrived in the Boundless Realm, he had no idea where he was and how strong the people on this planet were.

Thus, it was best not to cause trouble.

After deciding it would be better not to cause trouble, James put the accident behind him.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2883

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2883-James turned around and walked toward the city.

Gallop! Behind him, the sound of a galloping horse resounded.

James turned around.

The man riding the horse had come back and stopped beside James.

Since he was riding very quickly, dust billowed into the sky.

However, a faint halo appeared around James' body, blocking off the dust.

"Do you have a death wish?"

The man on the horseback held onto a whip. He glared at James and said furiously, "Didn't you see me coming through? How dare you not give way to me?"

The man raised his leather whip and swung it at James.

James looked at him and analyzed the man's strength.

The young man was only at the Tribulation Rank and was not even a Sage.

James could easily kill him.

Before the whip hit James, he slightly raised his hand and tugged on it.

The man was pulled off the horse.

The man fell to the ground.

Although not many people were passing through the city gate, quite a few people caught sight of the scene.

Everyone was shocked to see James' attitude toward the young man.

"Who's that man?"

"Isn't he being a little too bold? Does he not know that's the City Lord's son?"

The people that passed by were surprised and watched as if it was an exciting show.

Although James used only a little force, he was able to unleash great strength since he had reached quite a considerable cultivation rank.

The City Lord's son groaned in pain, and he struggled to get up from the ground.

Swoosh! A bright, long sword appeared in his hand, and he slashed at James without any words.

James stretched out two fingers and easily caught the sword.

The young man was startled. He urged all his strength, but his sword would not budge.

After a brief shock, the young man's face darkened. He immediately understood that he had encountered a difficult person.

"Who are you? Do you know where you are right now? Do you even know who I am?"

Although he could tell that James was powerful, he was not afraid since the city was his territory.

James slightly exerted force.

Clank! The sword broke in half.

James casually threw the broken piece aside and said indifferently, "You want to know who I am? You're not qualified to know. As for your identity, I'm not interested. Get out of the way, or I won't hold back against you."

After speaking, James turned around and walked away.

As James turned, he waved his sleeve, and a powerful energy swept over, knocking the City Lord's son away.

The City Lord's son was sent flying tens of meters into the distance and slammed into the ground again.

However, James paid him no attention.

James entered the city, found a tavern, and sat at a table. He chatted with some people and listened to gossip while drinking in the tavern.

"The Elixir Pavilion of the Boundless Realm is recruiting disciples again."

"After so many years, they're finally recruiting. However, I heard only one person will be selected from our planet."

"Only one? That's not enough. There are many alchemists on our planet, especially among youngsters. How can they recruit only one?"

"The selected one isn't immediately joining the Elixir Pavilion. It's only a slot to participate in the discipleship examination."

The customers in the tavern were discussing the Elixir Pavilion.

James was immediately intrigued upon hearing the Elixir Pavilion being brought up.

Was it the Elixir Pavilion that guarded the Ancestral God Rank elixir?

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2884

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2884-As soon as James arrived in the Boundless Realm, he quickly learned about the Elixir Pavilion.

However, he was unsure whether the customers in the tavern spoke of the hidden Elixir Pavilion he was looking for.

Xandros had told him that the Elixir Pavilion's mission was to protect the Ancestral God Rank elixir.

Under normal circumstances, the Elixir Pavilion would keep a low profile.

Moreover, Xandros even asked him to search in the Boundless Realm's smaller worlds.

The Boundless Realm was the collective name of numerous worlds.

James fell into thought.

He was unsure if it was the Elixir Pavilion he had to find.

However, he would have to give it a shot regardless of whether it was right.

James walked over to the customers.

Although they were in human form, James knew they were not humans.

At the table, there were five people.

James walked over with some wine and said smilingly, "Cheers, brothers!"

He sat down and poured wine for all of them.

Then, he picked up his glass and gulped down his wine.

"Good! Come, let's drink together!"

One of the five at the table picked up his glass and gulped his wine.

James asked smilingly, "Just now, you were discussing the Elixir Pavilion, right? What's that whole situation about?"

One of them replied, "Oh, is that what you wanted to inquire about? Well, the Elixir Pavilion is going to recruit disciples openly. As long as you know about alchemy, you have a chance to become a disciple of the Elixir Pavilion.

"That being said, becoming a disciple of the Elixir Pavilion isn't easy.

"Take Stardust Realm as an example. We're considered a small world in the Boundless Realm, and only one slot is open to us. However, there are tens of thousands of alchemists. Obtaining this chance is going to be incredibly difficult."

James asked, "How can I get this slot?"

"Three years later, an Alchemy Tournament will be held. As long as you can stand out, you'll be given the opportunity."

James asked again, "Anyone who's an alchemist can participate, right? Or are there any restrictions?"

"Of course there are restrictions. The Elixir Pavilion is the most influential force in the Boundless Realm. Ordinary alchemists aren't qualified to become disciples. The Elixir Pavilion only recruits real geniuses. Only those under the age of a million years are eligible to participate.”

Hearing this, James clicked his tongue.

A million years? In other words, some have been learning alchemy since birth and have been practicing it for nearly a million years.

In a million years, even a fool could become an alchemy master.

James initially wanted to take this chance to go to the Elixir Pavilion to verify whether it was the place he was looking for.

However, it seemed his plan would not work.

“I originally wanted to participate, but I think I’ll pass. I can only head to the Boundless Holy Realm to watch,” said James.

cc Ha! n One of the customers smiled and said, “Are you joking? Who do you think you are to enter the Boundless Holy Realm? Even the lord of the Stardust Realm isn’t qualified to enter the Boundless Holy Realm.”

James touched his nose and asked, “Really? Why?”

All of them looked at James in disbelief.

James quickly explained, “I’ve been practicing in seclusion and hardly move around outside. So, I’m not familiar with worldly affairs.”

Hearing James’ explanation, one of them said, “I see. Well, the Boundless Holy Realm is the most advanced world in the Boundless Realm. There are so many planets and living beings in the Boundless Realm. Even a powerhouse isn’t allowed into the Boundless Holy Realm without permission. Therefore, the Elixir Pavilion’s recruitment is an opportunity to enter the Boundless Holy Realm.”

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-