

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2913

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2913-Meanwhile, Daley returned to the Stardust Realm.

At the City Lord's Mansion's courtyard in Stardust City, Melinda was sitting in the gazebo playing the harp.

The melodious tune of the harp reverberated throughout the region.

Daley walked over to her and knelt on one knee.

Melinda paid no heed to him and continued playing the harp.

Soon, the song came to an end.

Then, she glanced at Daley and asked while wearing a composed expression on her face, "How did it go?"

Daley said, "He has left the Stardust Realm."

"Very good."

Melinda nodded slightly and waved her hand casually, saying, "Alright, you're dismissed for now."

"Understood."

Daley turned to leave.

If any outsider were to gaze upon this scene, they would surely be stunned.

As the Lord of the Stardust Realm, Daley was the most powerful individual here, yet he was kneeling before a young girl.

Melinda stood up and gazed at the sky.

The image of James and Yevpraksiya appeared in her pupils.

Wearing a look of consternation on her face, she murmured to herself, "You're still too weak, James. I'll wait for you to truly grow."

At that moment, James had entered space.

"Master," Yevpraksiya said.

“Hmm?”

James stopped and glanced at her, asking, “What’s wrong?” She asked, “Where’s your Saucer, Master?”

“Saucer?”

James froze and asked, “What’s that?”

Yevpraksiya froze momentarily.

After a few seconds, she asked, “Are you planning to fly to the Holy Realm without a Saucer?”

“why? Is something wrong?” James asked puzzledly.

Yevpraksiya was at a loss for words.

The journey to the Holy Realm was long.

With James’ current strength, he would not be able to reach his destination even in a million years.

Yevpraksiya looked at James and asked seriously, “Master, do you really not know about this or are you simply messing around with me?”

James thought about it and believed that he must have been ignorant about how things worked here.

“Yevpraksiya, feel free to speak your mind.”

Yevpraksiya said, “The journey to the Holy Realm is distant. We need to travel through vast spaces. With our strength, we won’t be able to reach the Holy Realm even in a million years.”

“Huh?”

James was stunned.

Yevpraksiya continued, “A Saucer is essential to travel through space. Not only that, but it must be a saucer that’s equipped with the ability to leap through time and space.” James asked, “Do you have a Saucer then?”

She shook her head and said, “How could I? I’m only an insignificant person. Besides, I don’t have the right to possess one. no. velebook Why don’t we turn back and ask Lord Daley for one?”

James thought about it and said, "Never mind. Let's not turn back, and instead think of a way ourselves."

Since James still had three thousand years left, he had ample time. Since he did not have a Saucer, he would simply earn some money to purchase one.

This was considered a form of training as well. He pulled out his map and tried reading it.

However, unable to recognize anything on the map, he handed it to Yevpraksiya and asked, "How long more till we reach the next world?"

Holding the map in her hand, Yevpraksiya said, "The closest world to the Stardust Realm is the Heavenly River Realm. With our strength, we'll arrive there in three months."

"Mhm."

James nodded and said, "In that case, we'll head over to the Heavenly River Realm first and find a way to acquire a Saucer."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2914

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2914-James had never experienced intergalactic travel.

Back when he traveled to the Demon Realm from Earth, it was Yaraka Xenmour who opened the illusory passageway.

As such, he had no idea that he needed a Saucer to travel through space.

Now that he knew about this, he planned to acquire a Saucer for himself.

Though he could simply return to the Stardust Realm and ask Daley for one, he decided against it.

He had ample time and wanted to seize the opportunity to train.

Finding ways to obtain a Saucer was considered a form of training.

After hearing that the Heavenly River Realm was the closest world to the Stardust Realm, James planned to head there. He began flying at full speed through space alongside Yevpraksiya.

Though his rank was low, his speed was fast.

As such, he became increasingly annoyed at Yevpraksiya's slow speed.

After some time, he simply used Sage Energy to propel Yevpraksiya forward.

In the blink of an eye, three months passed.

Three months later, a huge world appeared before James' eyes.

Yevpraksiya pointed at the world before them and said, "That's the Heavenly River Realm, the closest world to the Stardust Realm. Its overall strength is similar to the Stardust Realm."

"Mhm, let's get going." James nodded.

Then, he began flying straight ahead.

Upon entering the Heavenly River Realm, the mountains and rivers of the world appeared in James and Yevpraksiya's view.

The two landed in the middle of a mountain range.

"Where are we?"

James scanned his surroundings and asked.

Yevpraksiya shook her head.

She had never been to the Heavenly River Realm, so she knew nothing about it.

James casually confirmed his direction and pointed straight ahead, saying, "Since we have no idea where we are, let's head in that direction. We should find a city for now and take a rest before thinking of ways to acquire a Saucer."

"Understood."

Since Yevpraksiya was James' servant, she had no right to voice her thoughts. She would simply obey James' every command.

The two pressed ahead.

A few days later, they were out of the mountain range.

Immediately, a city appeared in their view.

As they walked along the ancient passage outside the city, they soon arrived at the city gates.

It was considered a bustling city.

Its walls were thousands of meters tall, on which there were many patrolling soldiers.

The city gates were flooded with people, and their clamor drowned out all surrounding noises.

James looked at the city gates, on which a few words were engraved, 'Heavenly Secrets'.

Ever Since James learned the Elysian Inscription, he could recognize any characters there were.

So, he could tell that the words 'Heavenly Secrets' were engraved on the city gates.

He said, "Heavenly Secrets City should be pretty big.

I think there should be Saucers inside."

Yevpraksiya nodded and said, "Saucers are common in the Boundless Realm.

Even the weakest worlds have already mastered the technological know-how to manufacture Saucers.

Together with a few alchemists, Saucers can be easily made.

"Still, they don't come cheap. Even a powerful figure at the Divine Rank can only purchase a Saucer with his entire life savings."

Hearing this, James was stunned as he asked, "Seriously?"

James knew just how powerful Divine Rank cultivators were.

Under normal circumstances, one needed a long time to cross into the Divine Rank.

During this long period of time, the accumulated wealth of these individuals would no.velebook be unbelievable.

Now, here was Yevpraksiya saying that even a Divine Rank cultivator needed to spend his life savings to get a Saucer.

Yevpraksiya said with a smile, "That's how it is, I guess.

But since you have even an Emperor Rank alchemy furnace, you must be extremely wealthy.”

To her, James was a descendant of some mysterious and powerful forces.

Thus, he should be loaded.

Hearing this, James blushed.

Wealthy?

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2915

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2915-James certainly did not consider himself to be wealthy. Though he had many priceless treasures in his possession, he had nothing else besides them.

“Let’s head inside for now.”

James strode forward.

Upon entering the city, Yevpraksiya said, “Master, why don’t we look around for Saucers?”

James said, “Stop calling me that. Just address me as Mr. Caden from now on.”

“Understood, Mr. Caden,” Yevpraksiya said sweetly.

“Mr. Caden, let’s look around for Saucers.”

Hearing this, James decided to go look around for Saucers so that he could have a rough idea of how Saucers in the Heavenly River Realm were sold.

After strolling through the streets for a while, they came across a Saucer shop. Upon entering the shop, they could see two rows of extremely beautiful women by the door.

“Welcome to the Heavenly River Saucer Emporium!” their voices rang in unison.

Next, a glamorous woman walked toward them and bowed slightly, revealing her busty chest as she greeted them respectfully, “Sir, please follow me.”

The woman beckoned.

James entered the shop.

The store was huge. Even the first floor was at least ten thousand square meters. Inside the shop, there were all sorts of Saucers being displayed.

James casually walked toward a Saucer. The Saucer was white and reassembled a house.

“You have good taste, Sir.”

The woman immediately introduced the Saucer, ‘This Saucer is a Celestial Tool at the Thirteenth Grade and is specially made by a top-notch refiner of the Heavenly River Realm. It almost became a Divine Tool. Besides, the price is rather reasonable. Only three hundred and eighty billion upper-tier Sage Stones.’

James turned to look at the salesperson and asked, “Can I use this Saucer for intergalactic travel? How long do I need to travel to the Holy Realm?” ‘The Holy Realm? About ten thousand years, I suppose.’ “That long?” James froze. He only had three thousand years to spare. In three thousand years, he would have to reach the Holy Realm.

“Is there a Saucer that allows me to reach the Holy Realm in hundreds of years?” James asked.

Hearing this, the salesperson was invigorated. She knew that James was a loaded customer.

“Sir, you need a Saucer at the Divine Rank or above to reach the Holy Realm in a few hundred years. The Saucers in the first floor’s foyer are all Celestial Tools. Please follow me to the second floor.”

She beckoned.

James followed her to the second floor.

There were many Saucers on the second floor as well. Though their shapes were bizarre, they were glimmering light. At a glance, James immediately knew they were good stuff.

The salesperson brought James to a golden Saucer and said, ‘This is an upper-tier Divine Tool with a price of eight hundred billion Sage Stones. You only need three hundred years to travel to the Holy Realm using this Saucer. Besides, this Saucer has an extremely low consumption level. It only needs the energy of approximately ten billion Sage Stones to arrive at your destination.’

Hearing the price, James almost staggered backward. He had a certain understanding of the currency in the cultivation world. Back when the Spiritual Energy of Earth was reawakened, spiritual crystals became the currency. Further up were Sage Stones, which were followed by Holy Stones. In any case, he did not have any crystals or stones on him at the moment. He had to think of a way to acquire Holy Stones.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2916

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2916-James had never seen a Holy Stone before. However, he roughly guessed that this was a currency used only by Divine Rank cultivators.

An ordinary Divine Rank Saucer was priced at 800 billion Holy Stones. It was simply terrifying. James had no way to gather 800 billion Holy Stones in a short amount of time.

“Sir, we can offer you a discount if you buy this Saucer.” The salesperson looked at James in anticipation, eager to close the deal as the commission she would receive was significant.

“We’ll see.”

James did not make any decision and turned to leave alongside Yevpraksiya.

The salesperson chased after him and said, “Sir, we’re the only Saucer shop in the whole of Heavenly Secrets City. Why don’t you leave behind your number?”

James, however, paid no heed to her. He was broke at the moment and could not afford anything.

After leaving the shop, Yevpraksiya looked at him, puzzled, and asked, “Why are we leaving all of a sudden, Mr. Caden?”

James smiled awkwardly and said, “Actually, I don’t have a single Holy Stone on me. In fact, I don’t even have any Sage Stones or spiritual crystals.” “What?”

Yevpraksiya opened her mouth agape.

James scanned his surroundings, contemplating a way to obtain a huge amount of Holy Stones. Then, he was reminded of the elixir he had concocted previously-the Elixir of Reversal. Though the elixir was concocted using ordinary herbs, he used an Emperor Rank alchemy furnace, so the elixir was at the Divine Rank.

He wondered whether he should find a place and ask how much his Divine Rank elixir was worth. Then, he would enter the Celestial Abode and mass-produce them for sale. James would obtain a huge number of Holy Stones in a short amount of time that way.

“Yevpraksiya,” James called out to her.

She nodded and asked, “What is your order, Mr. Caden?”

James asked, "Is there a place where I can sell elixirs?" "Huh..." Yevpraksiya froze momentarily before saying, "I remember that the Elixir Pavilion has established elixir pharmacies in every world of the Boundless Realm. Not only do they sell elixirs, but they also buy them. Let's search around and see if there's an elixir pharmacy in Heavenly Secrets City." "Every world in the Boundless Realm?"

James froze.

Though he had no idea how big the Boundless Realm was, he knew it had countless worlds. Yet the Elixir Pavilion had an elixir pharmacy in every world. As expected of one of the most terrifying forces of the Boundless Realm, they had expanded their business to all corners of the realm.

Yevpraksiya corrected him, "Normally, small worlds such as the Heavenly River Realm and the Stardust Realm will only have elixir pharmacies in core cities. Bigger worlds, on the other hand, will have one in every city." "Impressive," James praised.

It was terrifying that a sect would have such a great influence.

Then, the two began strolling through the streets in search of an elixir pharmacy.

Soon, they arrived at the city center, in which there was a building a hundred stories high.

Upon arriving at the door of the building, James and Yevpraksiya lifted their heads and looked at the plaque on the door, on which the words 'Elixir Pavilion' were engraved.

Seeing this, James asked, "Is this an Elixir Pavilion pharmacy?"

Yevpraksiya nodded and said, "No one else would dare use the Elixir Pavilion's name to sell their merchandise. This must belong to the Elixir Pavilion." "Good, let's go have a look inside."

James strode forward and entered the door.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2917

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2917-The Elixir Pavilion was the strongest force in the Boundless Realm. All the elixirs sold by the Elixir Pavilion were guaranteed to be of high quality, with a satisfaction guarantee of up to seven thousand years for returns.

Many creatures came to buy elixir from the Elixir Pavilion, entering and exiting the shop. The shop had dozens of floors, and each had an area of about 30,000 square meters. James walked into the first floor and found many transparent counters inside, each displaying various kinds of elixir. In front of each counter stood a beautiful woman dressed in a white dress with the word 'elixir' embroidered on it. They also wore a badge on their chests.

Yevpraksiya explained, "Mr. Caden, these are all alchemists certified by the Elixir Pavilion. Only alchemists are allowed to sell the merchandise here, and being here is a sign of one's status. You may think of them as mere salespersons, but they are all held in high regard the moment they step outside of this shop."

Yevpraksiya spoke enviously.

Being an alchemist was a high-status profession that she looked forward to. In Earth's context, these salespeople would be government employees, whereas Yevpraksiya would only be a lowly farmer.

James was also an alchemist. He headed toward a counter and scrutinized the wares. The elixirs on display were all at the Sage Rank. James could recognize the elixir in the counters at a simple glance. An elixir at the Sage Rank's First Grade was priced at 800 thousand upper-tier Sage Stones. Besides, this was only an ordinary elixir.

"How expensive..."

Seeing this, James could not help but be shocked. As long as he had the ingredients, he could concoct as many elixirs as these.

Upon seeing James' scornful expression, the salesperson in front of the counter asked with a bright smile, "Sir, are you dissatisfied with our products? What kind of elixir do you wish to purchase? I can make a few recommendations."

James asked, "I heard that you buy elixirs here. Is that true?" "Yes," the woman said smilingly, "However, as this is a franchise of the Elixir Pavilion, we have strict requirements. Your elixir will first need to be validated and appraised by our alchemists."

James said, "I have some elixirs I wish to sell." "Understood, please wait a minute," the woman answered, still smiling.

Then, she pressed a button below the table and said, "A customer at Counter 108 wishes to sell his elixir. Please send someone to validate his elixir."

Then, she looked at James with a smile.

"Please wait, Sir."

Since James was not in a hurry, he waited patiently.

A few minutes later, a man in a white robe appeared before James. He was wearing a badge on his chest.

James had no idea what the badges entailed. So, he asked Yevpraksiya in whispers. She answered, "Mr. Caden, he's an alchemist at the Sage Rank's Tenth Grade."

Meanwhile, the approaching alchemist looked at James and asked, "Are you the one who wishes to sell your elixir?" "Yes." James nodded.

The alchemist at the Sage Rank's Tenth Grade scrutinized James from head to toe. Seeing that James was dressed ordinarily and did not look like someone with a high-quality elixir, he became arrogant and said coldly, "Follow me."

James remained silent and followed the man.

Soon, he arrived at the courtyard.

Here, there were many alchemists in a queue waiting to have their elixirs validated.

"Wait here."

After bringing James here, the alchemist turned to leave.

As James had a good temper, he said nothing. Instead, he waited patiently in the queue. He was curious to see how much his Elixir of Reversal was worth.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2918

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2918-There were a few hundred alchemists in front of James waiting in line for their elixirs to be validated. These alchemists were all rogue cultivators. After concocting their elixirs, they wanted to sell them and came to the Elixir Pavilion as they would be offered the most profitable option. Among pills of the same grade, the Elixir Pavilion offered the fairest prices.

The validation took a long time. Even as a day passed, it was not yet James' turn.

"We'll end here today. Come back tomorrow morning."

Seeing that James was about to have his turn, the young alchemist from before returned. Looking at the queue, he left a remark and turned to leave.

Hearing this, James was displeased. He had waited for a whole day. Now, the alchemist was telling him to come again tomorrow?

“Hold it right there,” he called out to the alchemist.

The alchemist turned around and glanced at James. As a faint smile crept up on his face, he walked toward him and asked smilingly, “What did you say just now? Are you demanding me to hold it right there?” “Yes,” James said coldly, “I have waited for a whole day. Now that it’s almost my turn, you’re asking me to return?” “Yes,” the man said arrogantly, “Something unexpected came up for our appraiser, and he had to leave all of a sudden.”

At that moment, a young man walked out of the appraisal room. He looked around twenty-five years of age. He was wearing a golden robe, on which the word ‘elixir* was engraved. He was also wearing a badge on his chest.

‘What’s all the commotion about?’

There was a hint of displeasure on his somewhat handsome-looking face.

The young alchemist approached him and greeted him respectfully, “The most revered Master Songkla, this guy told me that he has been waiting for a whole day and demanded that you appraise his elixir immediately.”

Songkla glanced at James and said arrogantly, “The session is over today.

Come again tomorrow morning.”

At that moment, Yevpraksiya whispered in James’ ear, “Mr. Caden, he’s an alchemist at the Sage Rank’s Twentieth Grade.”

Hearing this, James chuckled.

“An alchemist at the Sage Rank’s Twentieth Grade is not qualified to appraise my elixir. Do you have any other appraisers here?” James said coldly.

His words infuriated Songkla.

However, before Songkla could open his mouth to retort, the young alchemist walked toward James and chided him, “Who do you think you are, you insignificant creature? What do you mean he has no right to appraise your elixir? Do you know who Master Songkla is? He’s a true disciple of the Elixir Pavilion.”

James was a prodigy from Earth who had encountered even Grand Emperors. Now that a mere nobody was rebuking him, he was enraged. He raised his arm, and powerful force materialized in his palm. Instantly, the young alchemist was sent flying and crashed heavily against the wall of the appraisal room. However, since the walls were sturdy, they were not destroyed.

Many alchemists were lining up behind James waiting for their elixirs to be appraised. Seeing that James resorted to violence, they all had looks of anticipation on their faces.

This was the Elixir Pavilion. He must have a death wish to resort to violence here.

The moment James resorted to violence, a few hundred guards charged toward him and surrounded him.

Songkla's face darkened as he said coldly, "Take him." "Who dares?" James roared, and the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword appeared in his hand. As the aura of a Grand Emperor Rank weapon permeated the air, the guards froze. As ordinary guards, they had never seen an Imperial Weapon before. As the aura of the Imperial Weapon was too terrifying, none dared act impulsively.

Even Songkla was dumbfounded.

As a disciple of the Elixir Pavilion, he was somewhat knowledgeable.

Though he had no idea what weapon was in James' hand, he could sense that the purple sword exuded a frightening power.

"Wh-What rank is this weapon?"

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2919

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2919-"What terrifying pressure." "Faced against this weapon, I feel like I'm facing off against a powerful individual." "This is too terrifying."

The alchemists in the queue all staggered backward.

Holding the Divine Sword in his hand, James scanned his surroundings. Glaring at Songkla, he grunted and said, "I came here due to the Elixir Pavilion's prestige. If I had known, I wouldn't have come here." "Who's there making a commotion?"

A cold voice came.

"My Lady." Upon seeing the person who spoke, Songkla hurriedly walked toward her. The arrogant expression on his face disappeared as he greeted her respectfully.

James turned around and saw it was a young lady around twenty years of age. Wearing a multicolored dress, her appearance was beautiful, and she had a slender figure. There was also a glimmering badge on her chest.

Seeing this, Yevpraksiya whispered, "Be careful, Mr. Caden. She's a Divine Rank alchemist."

James knew that she must be the manager of this elixir pharmacy. He glanced at her and asked coldly, "Who calls the shots around here?"

Meanwhile, the woman's gaze was fixed on the Divine Sword in James' hand. She was stunned when she saw the sword.

"A-An Imperial Weapon?"

Yuina Daniela came from the Holy Realm. She came here to the Heavenly River Realm for training purposes and temporarily managed the elixir pharmacy here upon her arrival.

An Imperial Weapon was rare, so much so that even a Grand Emperor might not even have one in his possession. To create an Imperial Weapon, the materials needed were too rare. As such, even Grand Emperors could not find them easily. Moreover, this Imperial Weapon was in the hands of a young man.

James put the Divine Sword away.

Yuina collected herself and glanced at James, saying, "I call the shots around here."
"Very well."

James said, "I came here solely to sell my elixir. I need an appraiser to appraise my elixir. However, his alchemy level is too low. Thus, he has no right to appraise my elixir."

James pointed at Songkla and narrated the chain of events that unfolded.

"After waiting for a whole day, he demanded me to return tomorrow morning after saying that he has business to attend to all of a sudden. That guy even provoked me. Surely I have all the right to teach him a lesson?"

James pointed at the other alchemist.

Yuina glanced at Songkla and said coldly, "Write me a self-reflection report."

Then, she looked at James and apologized, "I'm truly sorry. I never expected this to happen in my shop. Since you wish to have your elixir appraised, would you like me to do the appraisal?" "That sounds more like it."

James smiled faintly. He did not wish to look for trouble either. However, this was the only way to lure the one who called the shots out.

"Please follow me."

Yuina beckoned.

Then, she took James to an office on the topmost floor.

The door of the office was guarded.

Yuina entered the office, and James followed suit.

As Yevpraksiya knew that Yuina was an influential figure, she took the hint and refrained from entering the office as well. Instead, she waited patiently outside.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2920

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 2920-Yuina's office was huge, and the decorations inside were ancient. She took a seat and gestured at a nearby chair, signaling for James to take a seat as well.

James sat down.

Yuina, on the other hand, scrutinized James from head to toe.

There were many Grand Emperors in the Boundless Realm. However, there were only a few Imperial Weapons out there. At that moment, she racked her brains, contemplating which Imperial Weapon was the purple sword. However, no matter how much she contemplated, she could not figure out to which Grand Emperor did James' Imperial Weapon belong. Even so, she knew that James was no ordinary person.

"What's your name? You don't look like you're from around here." Yuina asked with a smile. Her smile was enchanting, with shallow dimples at the corners of her mouth. Wearing a dress, she crossed her legs, letting the hem slide to the edge of her thigh and revealing her slender, fair legs.

"My name's James Caden. Since I'm an insignificant nobody, it's not surprising that you haven't seen me before." "Is that so?" Yuina smiled faintly and said, "An insignificant nobody with an Imperial Weapon in his possession?" "I'm here to sell my elixir," James told her his objective for being here.

"Hello, James. My name's Yuina Daniela. I'm the manager of this elixir pharmacy," Yuina introduced herself.

James nodded slightly.

Yuina said, "May I have a look at the elixir you're selling?"

James took out the Elixir of Reversal you concocted previously and casually tossed it to her.

Upon seeing the elixir, Yuina was invigorated. As a Divine Rank alchemist, she could tell that this was a Divine Rank elixir of high quality. Though it was a Divine Rank elixir, no ordinary Divine Rank alchemist could concoct it. There were mysterious Elixir Inscriptions in the elixir, which only a true elite alchemist could concoct. Even within the Elixir Pavilion, no more than five people could concoct such an elixir.

After scrutinizing the elixir for some time, Yuina praised him, "Not bad... Since you're able to present such a high-quality elixir, this is evidence of your uniqueness." "How many Holy Stones is this elixir worth?" James asked.

Yuina ignored his question and asked instead, "No more than five alchemists in the whole of the Boundless Realm are able to concoct such an elixir. May I know who among them was the one who concocted this elixir?"

No more than five?

James froze.

The elixir he concocted was only at the Divine Rank's First Grade. Such an elixir should be concocted by any Divine Rank alchemist. Yet, here was Yuina saying that not more than five alchemists were capable of accomplishing such a feat. How could this be?

"Ahem..." After brief contemplation, James coughed a few times and said, "Well, the thing is, a powerful figure couldn't come in person, and he sent me here in his stead. Actually, he has another batch of elixirs that he wishes to sell. As the Elixir Pavilion is the strongest force in this world, he gave me specific orders to cooperate with them."

Hearing this, Yuina asked, "And this powerful figure you're referring to is...?"

With an apologetic look on his face, James said, "I'm sorry, he instructed me not to reveal his identity. Name me your price. How many Holy Stones is this elixir worth?"

Yuina looked at the elixir once more. Though she was a Divine Rank alchemist, she could not figure out what elixir this was. She could only tell the quality of the elixir.

She asked, "Sorry, I can't tell what elixir this is. May I know the name of this elixir and its effects?"

James said, "This is the Elixir of Reversal, an elixir capable of increasing one's strength in a short period of time. Upon consumption, there'll be no side effects. The only downside is that one's strength can only increase slowly. Upon consumption, one can increase his strength nine times throughout a battle."

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-