The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3011-Then, they left the inn.

There were many people outside the inn. Among them were the strongest fighter of the Eidolon Realm, the Martial Reverend—Sect Leader of the Paragon Sect, the Great Elder of the Paragon Sect, and the Lord of Southern Plains City.

The Lord was highly respectful toward the Martial Reverend. As Yevpraksiya walked out of the inn alongside James, she was stunned upon seeing the powerful figures outside.

What was going on? Why were there so many powerful figures outside the inn?

When he saw James, the Martial Reverend greeted him respectfully, “Master James, should we depart?”

James nodded slightly and said, “Yes.”

The Martial Reverend made a welcoming gesture and said, “After you.”

James walked to the front.

Meanwhile, Yevpraksiya could not describe her shock.

This was the Martial Reverend, the most powerful individual of the Eidolon Realm, yet he was so humble before James. Yevpraksiya was confounded. Confused by everything, she simply followed after James stiffly.

They headed to the Teleportation Formation of the Southern Plains City and traveled to Paragon City, the city in which the sect was established.

Upon their arrival, the Martial Reverend brought James and the others out of the city.

There was an undulating mountain range outside, where there was an abundance of Spiritual Energy and the scenery was picturesque.

Soon, they reached the main peak of the Paragon Sect.

James received VIP treatment and was provided with an independent courtyard at the back of the mountain of the main peak.

In the courtyard, James was sitting on a stone chair. Thea and Xainte were sitting beside him, while Yevpraksiya stood at the back.

Thea asked, “What should we do next?”

James was lost in contemplation. After some time, he said, "Back then, Emperor Jabari said that the mastermind who controlled you could be a remnant of one of the forces of the Primeval Age. They are searching for the Ancestral God Rank Elixir. Though this was only mere speculation on his part, he must have his reasons to make such an assumption. Next, we'll go separate ways."

"You'll stay at the Paragon Sect and assist the Martial Reverend in investigating the forces behind the mysterious individual. I, on the other hand, will head to the Holy Realm and sneak into the Elixir Pavilion. I'll investigate whether that Elixir Pavilion is the one mentioned by Xandros and whether the Ancestral God Rank Elixir is still located there."

James gave a simple analysis of their next course of action. Now that it had come to this, this was the only way.

James was also concerned about Thea's safety while she investigated the mysterious individual at the Paragon Sect. Though she was a Quasi-Emperor at the Ninth Tribulation, this was neither Earth nor the universe. It was a world that had existed since the Primeval Age and did not experience the chaos of the Ancient Heavenly Court Age and the Primordial Age. There were many powerful individuals in this world. So, he handed Thea the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword.

"This is the Ancestral God Weapon left behind by the Ancestral Sword Master. Take this in case you encounter any danger."

An Ancestral God Weapon was terrifying. With Thea's current strength, she could stand against a Grand Emperor at the Second Heaven with the Ancestral God Weapon.

Thea did not hesitate much and accepted the Divine Sword.

Xainte looked at James and asked, "Father, when will you be heading to the Holy Realm?"

James furrowed his eyebrows and said, "Stop calling me that. Just call me Dad."

Xainte answered respectfully, "Dad."

James smiled and said, "There'll be a discipleship examination in the Elixir Pavilion of the Holy Realm, which I plan to sneak into. Since there's plenty of time before the examination starts, I intend to remain at the Paragon Sect and plan my next move."

Since James had plenty of time, he did not rush things. He planned to use this opportunity to spend time with Thea and his daughter.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3012-James planned to remain at the Paragon Sect for a while and spend quality time with his wife and daughter.

Meanwhile, Yevpraksiya had no idea what they were talking about. She only felt that James was increasingly shrouded in mystery and that the gap between them was only increasing.

She secretly glanced at Thea. No wonder James paid no heed to her. With such a gorgeous and stunningly beautiful wife, how would he be interested in an ordinary girl like her?

"Thea, you haven't told me anything about Xainte," James said.

He had planned on asking early on but did not have the opportunity to do so. He knew that Xainte was his daughter. However, much time had passed since they left Earth.

Thea rolled her eyes and said, "Isn't this obvious? I had her back on Earth."

"Why didn't you say anything, then?"

"I wanted to give you a surprise, but we got separated in the River of Time."

Hearing this, James breathed a sigh of relief.

Then, he stayed at the Paragon Sect temporarily.

In the blink of an eye, three years passed. Over the past three years, James had been living a carefree life. The Martial Reverend, on the other hand, had been a busy man.

Three years had passed, and word of the events in the Cursed World had spread all across the Eidolon Realm. The living beings of the Eidolon Realm now knew that the Malevolent Demon's legacy was a scheme. Not only that, they still had no idea about the identity of the mysterious person. As such, the Martial Reverend sent invitation letters to the various powerful worlds of the Boundless Realm to discuss this affair.

"Dad."

James was sitting in a lotus position in the courtyard, concentrating wholeheartedly on his research on the mysterious black characters inside his body. These characters were formed through the suppression of Curse Power. Suddenly, a voice came.

James stopped.

Xainte walked toward him. Today, she was wearing a white dress. As her long black hair flowed in the wind, she exuded a charismatic aura.

“What’s wrong?” James stood up.

Xaine walked toward him and said, “The Sect Leader has invited the powerful figures of various worlds in the Boundless Realm to head to the Paragon Sect. He wishes to discuss the events that occurred in the Cursed World with them.”

“Oh,” James said.

Xainte continued, “He also said that you’ll be presiding over the meeting.”

James immediately rebuffed the idea, saying, “No way, I don’t have that strength.”

“Stop being so humble, Dad. You even defeated the mysterious person at the Grand Emperor Rank’s Ninth Heaven. You’re the number-one fighter in the Boundless Realm. Who else but you have the right?”

At that moment, Thea walked toward them.

James sat on a stone chair and contemplated. He never thought that his name would spread far and wide despite his insignificant strength. This was not good news for his search for the Ancestral God Rank Elixir. As the elixir was too consequential, he had to investigate in secret. If he headed to the Elixir Pavilion just like that, the Elixir Pavilion might not hand it over just like that even if they did have the elixir in their possession. After all, a lot could have happened throughout these long years.

“Thea.”

“Yes?” Thea looked at him.

James said, “I’ll leave the investigation of the mysterious person’s identity to you. Do your best to investigate the possible relationship between him and the Ancestral God Rank Elixir. If so, then the elixir must have fallen into the hands of this organization.”

“I won’t be involved in the investigation. I’ll head to the Holy Realm immediately and sneak into the Elixir Pavilion to find out the whereabouts of the Ancestral God Rank Elixir. We’ll go separate ways.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3013-“Alright.” Thea did not hesitate at all. She cautioned, “The Elixir Pavilion is the most terrifying force in this world. Even a hundred Paragon Sects combined stand no chance against them. You have to be on your guard.”

James nodded and said, “I know. I’ll be careful.”

Then, he stood up and looked at Xainte, saying, “Tell the Martial Reverend that I’ll be leaving.”

There was a sad frown on Xainte’s face as she asked, “Are you leaving already, Dad?”

“Mhm.”

As Xainte knew that James had important matters to deal with, she did not act selfishly.

After bidding farewell to Thea and Xainte, James left the Paragon Sect and the Eidolon Realm alongside Yevpraksiya and embarked on a journey to the Holy Realm. The Saucer entered space and traveled full speed ahead.

Over the past three years, Yevpraksiya did not have the opportunity to speak to James. Now that they were alone, she finally had the chance to do so. She had too many questions troubling her.

“Mr. Caden.”

She hesitated to speak.

James, who was sitting on a sofa in the Saucer, glanced at her and asked, “Is something the matter?”

Yevpraksiya stood by the side and asked, “What’s with Thea and Xainte Callahan? What happened after you headed to the depths of the great wilderness? Why is someone like the revered Martial Reverend speaking to you with such great respect?”

James smiled faintly and said, “You have no right to learn of these things at your current strength. Besides, there’s no point in knowing.”

“Oh.”

Yevpraksiya said.

“Make sure that the Saucer keeps going straight ahead. I’ll be in closed-door meditation.”

After he spoke, James entered the Celestial Abode. Back then when he was at the Paragon Sect, he tried entering the Celestial Abode to learn of Emperor Jabari’s condition. However, every time he went, Emperor Jabari would be in closed-door meditation. However, this time, he was shocked to see Emperor Jabari and the Spirit Tool in the courtyard of the City Lord’s Mansion. Emperor Jabari’s soul seemed to be even dimmer than before. With the blow of the wind, he gave the impression that he would disintegrate into nothingness.

Putting his chess piece down, Emperor Jabari glanced at James and said smilingly, “Come and have a seat.”

“Mhm.” James took a seat.

Emperor Jabari said, “James, I can sense a storm brewing on the horizon. You might bring about a great catastrophe. I predict that this catastrophe will be related to the Ancestral God Rank Elixir that you’re searching for. With your current strength, there’s no way you can resolve this crisis.”

Hearing this, James was lost in contemplation.

Emperor Jabari continued, “To help you resolve this crisis, I plan to resurrect in advance. However, I require many rare materials to reshape my physical body. I’ll need you to search for them.”

Then he casually waved his hand, and a list of materials appeared before James.

James accepted the list and read through them. On the list, there were numerous lines of materials needed. As James was no longer the ignorant young man from before, he knew that these materials were some of the rarest materials of the highest quality—at least at the Emperor Rank and above. There were approximately 500 of them.

James’ expression turned grim.

Emperor Jabari consoled him, “There’s no need to rush things. We can search for them slowly and gradually. You just have to find these materials before the Fourth Calamity.”

Emperor Jabari extrapolated that James’ catastrophe would occur before the Fourth Calamity and the appearance of Heaven’s Adjudicators.

“Mhm.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3014-Emperor Jabari gave James a list of materials needed for his resurrection. These materials were extremely rare. The moment any of them appeared in the outside world, many powerful figures would compete for them. James knew that it would be nigh impossible to gather these materials with his current strength.

He carefully put the list away.

Upon seeing James’ grim expression, Emperor Jabari smiled and said, “I told you there’s no need to rush things. You have approximately a hundred thousand years to search for these materials.”

“However...”

Emperor Jabari’s expression turned solemn as he said, “My power was greatly depleted during the previous battle. Now, I have to concentrate on rejuvenating my body. If you encounter any danger, I won’t be able to intervene to save the day. In the Boundless Realm, you have to be careful in whatever you do.”

“Thanks for your reminder. I understand.”

James nodded.

He had handed the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword to Thea. That was because she was up against the mastermind behind the scenes. Comparatively, she was in a much more dangerous position. Regardless, he still had many treasures in his possession.

At that moment, James fully understood how much strength he truly lacked. If he was strong enough, there would not be anything troublesome standing in his way.

“I’m going to enter a closed-door meditation.”

Then, James headed to the Time Chamber and cultivated.

After James left, the Spirit Tool asked, “Grand Emperor, did you realize something? Is that why you’re in such a hurry to be resurrected?”

However, Emperor Jabari remained silent and merely gazed into the distance. Seeing this, the Spirit Tool took the hint and shut his mouth.

James entered the courtyard of the Time Chamber where there were many soldiers in closed-door meditation. To hasten their learning progress, the Spirit Tool arranged for them to take turns entering the Time Chamber to cultivate.

“Dragon King.”

“Your Majesty.”

Upon James’ arrival, they immediately greeted him.

James waved at them with a smile and said, “You’ve worked hard. Once the Fourth Calamity is over, we’ll have done our duty.”

After greeting them, James entered a room in the courtyard. The room furnishings were simple and ordinary, and there was only a meadow inside.

James walked toward the meadow and sat in a lotus position. He was not in a hurry to cultivate, and as such, he was lost in contemplation.

After the previous fierce battle, the power of the Demonic Lotus had been completely unleashed. Even though much of the power had returned to concealment, his current physical strength was at the Divine Rank’s First Stage. Even a cultivator at a similar rank would not be able to injure him. The only issue he had was that his rank was too low. There was no point in having just a powerful physical body. He had to increase his rank, which was currently at the Sage Rank’s Twentieth Stage, as soon as possible.

He took a deep breath.

“My current rank is too low. I have to cross into the Divine Rank as soon as possible.”

James’ determination grew stronger. After deep contemplation, he slowly eased up, and his mind blanked. Then, he performed Elemental Inversion to perfection, and the Elemental Inversion Formation inside his body began to circulate. His pores opened up and began to frantically absorb the power of the outside world.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3015-The Celestial Abode could continuously absorb the power of the outside world and store them away. As such, cultivating in the Celestial Abode was many times more effective than the outside world.

As a great amount of Empyrean Spiritual Energy entered his pores, they were refined by the Elemental Inversion Formation and transformed into the purest of all energies. James' power increased little by little.

Cultivation was dull and boring. As such, throughout the cultivation process, James researched the mysterious black characters inside his body. These characters were formed by the Curse Power that was absorbed and suppressed by the Jade Seal.

In the blink of an eye, ten years passed in the Time Formation. Over the past ten years, James' power grew increasingly stronger. After researching the black characters for ten years, however, he still could not figure out their meaning. He only knew that Curse Power would increase drastically when Curse Magic was performed with the assistance of these black characters. However, he did not have a clear understanding of Curse Magic. Even now, he had only learned Confinement and Reincarnation. As for the latter, he was only at the elementary stage. True Curse Magic was all-encompassing, and as such, it would be impossible to completely gain insight into them. Since James could not figure out the meaning of these black characters, he gave up.

Now, he began gaining insight into sword techniques. He had now reached the pinnacle of the First Swordsmanship, in which he merged thousands upon thousands of Sword Moves. He learned these Sword Moves during his battle against the Heavenly Path Embodiments on Planet Galileo.

However, he only learned the Sword Moves. What the Heavenly Path Embodiments performed were some of the most terrifying swordsmanships. They included five realms: Sword Moves, Sword Shadow, Sword Will, Sword Intent, and Consolidation. When all five Sword Realms merged, a complete sword technique was formed.

Back then, James' rank was low. As such, he could only separate the Five Sword Realms and learn only the Sword Move. Now, his rank was high enough for him to gain insight into Sword Shadow, Sword Will, and Sword Intent. He began trying to gain insight into the Sword Intent contained in these unparalleled sword techniques.

The moment he began gaining insight into swordsmanship, the Yogacara Sword Energy inside his body became active. At that moment, thousands upon thousands of Sword Moves surfaced in James' mind. Then, the Yogacara Sword Energy gushed into his mind and devoured all the Sword Moves, forming a single Move.

As countless Sword Moves merged into one, a shadow appeared. This shadow was ever-changing, and in an instant, thousands of changes occurred. Gorgeous and impeccable Sword Moves played out in James' mind as he repeatedly separated Sword Moves and gained insight into the Intent of the sword.

Suddenly, he found himself standing on the surface of a sea. The waves were calm, and at that moment, a Sword Energy appeared. The Sword Energy's appearance carried immense power. Immediately, a tsunami hundreds of meters high crashed into James. Each time the waves smashed against him, he could feel the presence of the Sword Intent.

The Sword Intent was like ferocious waves.

Then, in the blink of an eye, the scenery before him changed once more. James was now in a sea of fire, surrounded by fiery flames. Each flame contained terrifying Sword Intent.

James was immersed in the insight of the Sword Intent. Each sword technique he learned had a Sword Intent of its own.

Sword Intent was the volition, resolve, and willpower of the sword technique's creator, containing the expressions and sentiments of men. Some were calm and exposed, while others carried fury and even destruction.

James learned each and every Sword Intent. However, this was not the swordsmanship James wanted. He wished to gain insight into these Sword Intents and create one of his own.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3016-Creating one's swordsmanship and gaining insight into one's Sword Intent was nigh impossible, and only a true swordsman could accomplish such a feat. What James wanted to do now was create, not learn.

He immersed himself in the cultivation of swordsmanship. The Yogacara Sword Energy inside his body became active and poured out of his pores, gathering at the surface of his skin.

The Sword Energy was shapeless but not quite shapeless.

When James gained insight into the Sword Intent of these sword techniques, his Yogacara Sword Energy absorbed the Sword Intent he gained insight into and gradually increased in power.

In the blink of an eye, five hundred years had passed since James entered the Time Formation. His rank had increased from the Sage Rank's Twentieth Stage to the peak of the Sage Rank's Twentieth Stage. This speed was incredible, and his Yogacara Sword Energy had become much more powerful than before. So, he temporarily gave up on gaining insight into swordsmanship and began making a breakthrough.

However, as there was some difficulty along the way, he spent three hundred years reaching the Sage Rank's Twenty-first Rank.

After making a breakthrough, he began increasing his strength while gaining insight into swordsmanship. His insight into swordsmanship got more profound, and the Yogacara Sword Energy inside his body grew increasingly stronger. James believed that his Yogacara Sword Energy would one day become so powerful that even a Grand Emperor would shudder upon witnessing it.

Time gradually passed, and James remained in the Time Chamber all this while.

He did not know how long he had been in closed-door meditation. He only knew that his rank had reached the Sage Rank’s Twenty-fifth Stage. Compared to when he first entered the Time Chamber, he had jumped five sub-ranks. Meanwhile, his swordsmanship had reached even greater heights. Not only did he learn the sword techniques of the Heavenly Path Embodiments, but he even received the inheritance of the Ancestral Sword Master.

The inheritance was divided into two parts. One was on the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, while the other was the swordsmanship’s sigil on his mind. However, as the Ancestral Sword Master’s swordsmanship was beyond profound, James only managed to learn the fundamentals.

Now, his Yogacara Sword Energy was terrifying. His presence was now similar to that of an Ancestral God Weapon that sent chills down people’s spines.

This closed-door meditation gained him many benefits. Not only did his sub-rank increase, but his comprehension of swordsmanship had reached an unprecedented rank. However, he had not reached the realm of Consolidation.

The Spirit Tool looked at James. He could clearly sense an immense Sword Energy inside James’ body. There was even Sword Energy pulsing inside his blood and cells. Once he catalyzed all the Sword Energy inside his body, he would become extraordinarily powerful.

“We’re almost there.” The Spirit Tool looked at James and said, “We will reach the Holy Realm in three months.”

James clasped his fists.

Then, he did not linger for long inside the Celestial Abode and chose to leave. When he appeared, he was in the Saucer.

Yevpraksiya had been controlling the Saucer for close to two centuries now. Over the past two hundred years, she had been hoping that James would appear.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3017-At that moment, a figure suddenly appeared.

"Mhm." James nodded slightly.

Yevpraksiya looked at James, who had been in closed-door meditation for two hundred years now. Then, she realized that James had changed. When he entered the closed-door meditation two centuries ago, he was full of malevolent power inside his power. This time, however, she felt she was facing a razor-sharp divine sword that could tear apart her physical body at will.

James' aura subsided.

Yevpraksiya could feel the intimidating aura dissipating until it completely vanished.

She smiled and said, "So what did you cultivate this time, Mr. Caden?"

James smiled and said nothing. Instead, he shifted the subject and asked, "How long more till we reach the Holy Realm?"

All these years, Yevpraksiya had been paying close attention. That was because she knew that James would leave his closed-door meditation once they arrived at the Holy Realm. As such, she knew very well how long they needed to arrive at their destination. Without any hesitation, she said, "In about three months."

"Mhm." James nodded slightly.

He was bored after spending such a long time in the Time Chamber. Now that he was out, he wanted to seize the opportunity and rest well. So, he did not return to the Time Chamber but instead remained in the Saucer.

Yevpraksiya was now more proactive in asking James questions. Sometimes, she would seek his advice on cultivation. At times, she would inquire about his past, including how he met Thea and how Xainte Callahan came to be his daughter. Posed with these questions, James only answered selectively.

In the blink of an eye, three months passed.

A sea of stars appeared on the screen of the Saucer's control room. Pointing at the screen, Yevpraksiya said, "Mr. Caden, this is the Holy Realm, a world made up of eight galaxies. Each galaxy has a core world. The Holy Realm goes by many names, which include the Boundless Holy Realm and the Eight Saints Realm. Our destination is the Elixir Realm, the core world of the Holy Realm, which is controlled by the Elixir Pavilion. Rumors say that countless years ago, this place was not called the Elixir Realm. It was only with the rise of the Elixir Pavilion that it was named as such."

James listened to the history intently.

He thought that the Holy Realm was a single planet. He never thought that it was a gigantic world made up of eight galaxies, and each galaxy was countless times bigger than the Milky Way.

Yevpraksiya explained, "The Holy Realm is the core of this world. No one, not even Divine Rank cultivators, can enter this region. You need the invitation or recommendation letter of the various sects and families of the Holy Realm to gain the right to enter."

"Mhm."

James nodded slightly.

He knew about this. However, as he had the token of the Elixir Pavilion, he was unconcerned. With the token, he could enter the Holy Realm easily.

Yevpraksiya continued, "There are intergalactic passageways between each of the core worlds in the eight galaxies of the Holy Realm. So, there's no need to use intergalactic travel. With the intergalactic passageways, we can travel to the galaxies of the Holy Realm freely. We first need to go to the Spiritual Realm, the outermost world, and borrow its Intergalactic Transporation Formation to head to the Elixir Realm."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3018-The Elixir Realm was located in the core region of this galaxy.

There were other galaxies outside the Elixir Realm. To enter the Elixir Realm, one would first need to travel to the other galaxies and their core planets to borrow the intergalactic passageway.

Before them was a space station heavily guarded by powerful soldiers. All of them were armor-clad, and they wielded a long sword. Their aura was intimidating, and even the weakest were at least at the Divine Rank.

Upon seeing so many Divine Rank soldiers in one place, James knew just how weak he was. He was nothing but an insignificant creature at his rank.

James' Saucer was intercepted, and he and Yevpraksiya got off the Saucer. A man wearing golden armor and wielding a sword walked toward them. He was the general guarding the Holy Realm.

There were many space stations outside the eight galaxies of the Holy Realm, and each of them was guarded by millions of powerful soldiers. Meanwhile, there was a general in each space station.

As the general glanced at James, he immediately knew his cultivation base. With a scornful look on his face, he said, "Insignificant creatures are forbidden from approaching the Holy Realm. You should leave at once."

Upon seeing that the token was indeed issued by the Elixir Pavilion, the general's attitude had a one-eighty. As he returned the token to James, he smiled and said, "So you're an alchemist. The Elixir Pavilion has instructed us to make way for alchemists who have this token in their possession. Please enter."

The general beckoned.

James put away the token with a bright smile on his face. He never thought that the Elixir Pavilion's token would be so effective.

He put away the Saucer and passed through the space station alongside Yevpraksiya. Then, they entered the sphere of influence of the Spiritual Realm. Soon, they arrived at their destination.

The Spiritual Realm was one of the Eight Core Worlds of the Holy Realm. This world was advanced, and the Spiritual Energy here was at least at Primordial Energies.

Upon arriving at the Spiritual Realm, James could sense an immense Primordial Energy in the air. Through the Primordial Energy's stimulation, his pores opened up, and the Primordial Energy entered and circulated throughout his body. It felt comfortable.

“As expected of the Holy Realm.”

James opened his arms wide and breathed in the immense Primordial Energy, exclaiming, “The Primordial Energy here is unbelievable. No wonder the living beings of the outside world go to great lengths to come here.”

Yevpraksiya had never been to the Holy Realm. As someone who lived in such a small world as the Stardust Realm, the Holy Realm was simply a legend to her. Now that she was here, she could not help but look around at her surroundings with inquisitive eyes.

As the Spiritual Realm was an advanced world, not to mention that there was an abundance of Primordial Energy, the space here was rather stable.

“Where are we heading next, Mr. Caden? Do we remain here in the Spiritual Realm for a while or do we go straight to the Elixir Realm and wait for the discipleship examination to commence?”

Since there were 2000 more years before the examination, James still had ample time.

He thought about it and said, “Let’s not rush things.”

Since he had ample time, he began asking Emperor Jabari who was inside the Celestial Abode.

“Emperor Jabari, I have nothing to do now. Could you scry whether there’s any material that you need for your resurrection in the vicinity of the Spiritual Realm?”

Emperor Jabari’s resurrection had been on James’ mind all this while. Though he had 100,000 years to search for them, he nevertheless wished to find the materials needed as soon as possible.

Emperor Jabari had once reached the peak of the Grand Emperor Rank’s Ninth Heaven and was infinitely close to becoming an Ancestral God. Since even Sophie, a Quasi-Emperor at the Ninth Tribulation, was well-versed in the Extrapolation Path, surely Emperor Jabari could do so as well.

“Sure,” Emperor Jabari’s voice came.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3019-“Since you’re free now, I’ll extrapolate for you.”

In a courtyard in the depths of a city inside the Celestia Abode, Emperor Jabari's status came to life and materialized into a man. However, his body was illusory and dim, seemingly on the verge of disappearing.

Emperor Jabari sat in a lotus position on the ground and raised his hands. Then, mysterious characters materialized in his palms, gathering to form an extrapolation pattern. Meanwhile, mysterious auras and characters kept materializing from within him.

It lasted for about ten minutes.

"There is, James," he answered.

Hearing this, James asked in excitement, "Which one?"

Emperor Jabari said, "The Mystic Piece, used for creating blood."

"Mystic Piece?"

James froze. There was no such thing called the Mystic Piece in the list given to him by Emperor Jabari.

Emperor Jabari hurriedly explained, "The Mystic Piece is more advanced than the ingredients on the list. The one I scried was materialized from the Blood Essence of a powerful individual of the Primeval Age that perished. This powerful figure was at least at the Grand Emperor Rank's Ninth Heaven. As he met his doom, his Blood Essence dropped on a divine object. Upon absorption, the Mystic Piece was born."

James asked once more, "Where is the Mystic Piece?"

Emperor Jabari explained, "The Extrapolation Path is a Path that goes against Heaven. The Heavenly Path is supreme, and everything should depend on luck. However, with the appearance of extrapolation, the will of the Heavenly Path had been violated. So, under normal circumstances, no powerful individual who is well-versed in the Extrapolation Path would do so easily. I'm currently in a soul state. To the Heavenly Path, I'm already dead. Since I should no longer exist, I wouldn't dare scry recklessly. I only managed to acquire some clues."

James listened intently.

"What clues?"

Emperor Jabari said, "To obtain the Mystic Piece, you need to head to Mount Baidi."

Emperor Jabari only managed to extrapolate that the Mystic Piece was at Mount Baidi. As for the specifics, he would not dare search too brazenly. If he continued, the Heavenly Path might sense his remaining existence and simply annihilate him. Though the chances were negligible, he did not dare make such a gamble.

"Mount Baidi."

James etched the name of this location in his mind.

Then, he looked at Yevpraksiya and said, "We'll stay in the Spiritual Realm for some time. Let's find accommodation in a city. Wait for me there while I deal with my matters."

Hearing this, tears brimmed in Yevpraksiya's eyes.

"Are you going to abandon me again, Mr. Caden? Will you be gone for another few hundred years?"

James said with a serious expression on his face, "What I'm about to do is extremely dangerous. You won't be safe by my side. I do not have the energy nor strength to protect you."

"In that case, I want to enter the Celestial Abode."

Yevpraksiya did not want to keep waiting.

After brief contemplation, James nodded and said, "That works. Let's find a city for now while I ask around about the location of Mount Baidi."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3020-The Boundless Realm had existed since the Primeval Age. This world had never been through a dark age, whereas the outside world had experienced the Ancient Heavenly Court Age and the Primordial Age. Thus, anything could happen inside the Boundless Realm.

The Mystic Piece that Emperor Jabari extrapolated was the fusion of a divine object and the Blood Essence of a dead powerful figure, which materialized after countless years. The fluid of the Mystic Piece was the perfect item to create blood. So, Emperor Jabari instructed time and again for James to search for the Mystic Piece. That was because the rarer the ingredient for reshaping his physical body, the stronger he would be post-resurrection. If every ingredient were some of the rarest and highest calibers, he would be at least at the Grand Emperor Rank's Second Heaven upon resurrection. After having a physical body, it would be much easier for his soul to be recovered.

James and Yevpraksiya left the mountain range and soon arrived at a city. Though this city was not considered huge in the Spiritual Realm, it was nonetheless more bustling than the most prosperous city in the Stardust Realm.

They entered the city together.

In the meantime, Yevpraksiya looked for information regarding Mount Baidi through the communicator. However, there were no records of Mount Baidi on the communicator's network.

"There isn't any Mount Baidi here, Mr. Caden."

After entering the city, Yevpraksiya asked, "What sort of place is Mount Baidi? If it truly exists, there must be records of this location on the communicator."

"Are you sure?" James froze.

"Yes." Yevpraksiya said, "I have checked. There's no such place as Mount Baidi in the Spiritual Realm."

James fell silent.

Emperor Jabari was the one who extrapolated this information. With his strength, there was no way he could get this wrong. Since there were no records, this could only mean that Mount Baidi was a mysterious place. Since there was no publicly available information, perhaps only those who stood at the top of the power pyramid would know of its existence.

To confirm his thoughts, James began asking around. However, even after asking many living beings at the Divine Rank, none of them had heard of Mount Baidi.

James was at a loss.

"What should I do?"

James stood in the middle of a bustling street. After asking so many powerful individuals, none of them had heard of Mount Baidi.

After brief contemplation, he asked Emperor Jabari once more.

"Alright, let me extrapolate a little bit more information."

After answering James, Emperor Jabari began to extrapolate. This time, he extrapolated the way to find Mount Baidi. As there was much information, not to mention that he did this effortlessly, the chances of him being spotted by the Heavenly Path were negligible.

Soon, he was done.

“James, go to a place called World Pavilion in the Spiritual Realm. Based on my extrapolation, the Lord of the World Pavilion has been to Mount Baidi and was injured by a very powerful beast. At the moment, his life is hanging by a thread.”

Then, an elixir appeared in James’ hand.

“This is a healing elixir. Take the elixir and head to World Pavilion. After healing the World Pavilion’s Lord, you should be able to learn about the whereabouts of Mount Baidi.”

Then, he began asking around about the whereabouts of the World Pavilion.
