The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3092-The Oscars had researched the mysterious characters on the ancient scroll for many Great Eons only to fail. That was why they eventually sold it. As for Emperor Jabari who had always immersed himself in heritage and ruins, he could understand the script naturally. However, this did not mean that the Emperor was an expert, for he could only identify the scripts and their most superficial meaning. The rest was unbeknownst to him.

James was not worried. As long as the Emperor was around, the scripts on the Ancient Scroll would eventually be deciphered. As he gazed at the abandoned planets in front of him, he asked, "Grand Emperor, where should I head to now?"

The Emperor's voice spread from the Celestial Abode, "It's up to you. This is the Desolateness Ruins after all. The Ruins isn't a planet, it's this night sky. The reason you are here is to cultivate. Going anywhere else doesn't change that."

"Indeed." James nodded as he looked at his surroundings, an abandoned world after an attack. This world had been sliced into two halves. One half dissipated as time went by, while the other floated in the night sky. He was surprised to find out that the slice was executed very neatly. In the Primeval Age, this must have been a busy place. However, as the world ascended its ranks and space became more and more stable, it became very hard to destroy space. This world now had been cut into pieces. What forces allowed this to happen? After recovering from his shock, James walked forward.

As he was about to step on a piece of abandoned earth, he sensed extremely violent energy coming at him in waves. This caused his body to be rotated outwards into the infinite space. The force was so huge and frightening that even though his physical strength was at the Divine Rank, his skin was being ripped apart. A few wounds appeared, and from them, fresh blood continuously oozed.

"That was scary." James was worried. No wonder even a Grand Emperor would not want to step into this place. It was so easy to get hurt here. He took a deep breath. His body was uncanny as it recovered at a speed that was visible to the naked eye. He stepped forward again. This time, with more caution.

As he neared the broken world and stood on the abandoned earth, the frightening force came at him once again. This time, he took care not to be drawn into it. However, that alone was not enough to resist the violent energies in the abandoned world. He had to unsheath the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword. Summoning the sword, some mystical forces emerged, shielding James from the violent forces around him.

He moved forward slowly into the abandoned world. There were no plants. No signs of life. Just the sound of wind rustling through the air. The wind was strong as it hit the ground, moving along lines of dust.

Thunder and lightning seized the sky as unrecognized power materialized. The void was ripped apart consecutively, and cracks disappeared and reappeared. Uncanny forces were at work, incessantly destroying the abandoned world. This was a terrible place to be in, even for someone at the Divine Rank.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3093-Since James' physical energy had merely reached the Divine Rank, he was unable to withstand the power of this abandoned world by relying on only his physical strength. He barely managed to resist even with the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword at hand.

"James," Emperor Jabari said from the Celestial Abode, "Although the environment here is dire, it encapsulates violent energies. As the Elemental Inversion Formation can absorb all forms of power, this is a good place for cultivation. You should look for a place to start your cultivation."

"Right." James nodded. He continued forward. After a short while, he reached the peak of a mountain that was so solid that even the most violent of energies was not its worthy opponent. He crossed his legs and started focusing his mind. Elemental Sage Energy materialized in his body, followed by the Five Elements of Genesis. As the Five Elements of Genesis gathered at the top of his head, he summoned them into the Elemental Inversion Formation, in which elements coincided and collided with one another. In the next instant, the formation started moving in a circular motion. As it spun and rotated, it absorbed the violent energies around it, transforming them into the purest form of power possible.

James had not cultivated seriously for a long time. Once he commenced his cultivation, he could sense his Sage Energy growing rapidly due to the violent energies in this world.

Emperor Jabari knew that all James needed now was time. With a wave of the hand, he set up a Time Formation so James could cultivate. The Emperor was wise and knew many things, especially with regard to the Path of Time. His formation was so well built that the Time Chamber of the Celestial Abode paled in comparison. It allowed time to flow ever slower. One day in the outer world was equal to a year in the formation.

James immersed himself fully in the cultivation of his power. Without him realizing it, he had arrived at the peak of the Sage Rank's Twenty-Fifth Stage. Since the energies that he was absorbing were too violent, the energy he released was very pure. There was no need for him to suppress his rank. He chose to break through the Sage Rank's Twenty-Fifth Stage.

Without delay, the seal within his body appeared. It sealed off all the meridians of his body as well as his entire body's strength. The available energy at James' disposal was but a little. He summoned this drop of energy to attack the seal within his body. It felt like water to stone, but he persevered. Once the first seal was broken, the amount of energy that he could summon increased.

Time passed without a sound. In the blink of an eye, James had stayed in the formation for more than three hundred years. Yet, not even a year had passed in the outer world. These three hundred years of rigorous cultivation allowed him to break through his rank and arrive at the Sage Rank's Twenty-Sixth Stage. As he broke through once again, he could sense the realm barrier which was surrounding him thinning. He knew that once the barriers were broken, he would be able to understand the true Path and reach the Divine Rank. However, even at the Divine Rank, he could barely pass as a powerful figure.

After the breakthrough, he took a deep breath. As he stared at the Elemental Inversion Formation above his head, he could not help but speak in awe, "The Elemental Inversion Formation is so amazing. Elemental Inversion absorbs all powers between heaven and earth, allowing me to ascend ranks at a much greater speed. But this wouldn't be possible without the Time Formation by Emperor Jabari. Otherwise, even if I had the Elemental Inversion Formation, attaining the Divine Rank before the commencement of the Elixir Gathering would be near impossible."

Being one step away from attaining the Divine Rank, James' desire to build up his strength merely grew.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3094-James continued his cultivation. The extent of the violent energies in this place suited him well.

Hiss! A cold wind blew toward him. Following an uncanny growl, James stood up immediately and left the Time Formation. He looked toward the distance from the peak of the mountain he was on. A cloud of black mist could be seen. The mist transformed into different shapes, first resembling that of a human and then followed by an animal.

James was slightly taken aback. "What's that?" Emperor Jabari from the Celestial Abode answered him, "It's a fiend."

"A fiend?"

"Yes". Emperor Jabari confirmed and elaborated on his answer, "This place was once a huge realm inhabited by many living beings. When they died, they left their soul sigils.

These sigils continuously merged with one another, forming a fiend as time passed. In other words, what you see in front of you is an evil spirit.”

James understood upon hearing the Emperor’s elaboration. Prior to this, the reason why the Sanctuary headed to Mount Baidi was to collect soul sigils. They wanted to use Curse Magic to merge the sigils to create a powerful evil spirit.

“James, be careful.” Emperor Jabari reminded him, “Once they merge, these soul sigils will become an evil spirit. This spirit before us isn’t powerful, but mind you, there must be a more menacing one in a world as abandoned as this.”

James was a little too enthusiastic to listen to Emperor Jabari’s words carefully. He could sense that the evil spirit in front of him was at the Divine Rank. An opponent as such would make a good practice target.

When this thought came into mind, the black mist from afar materialized into a dark shadow that clawed toward him. It came at a speed so fast that it exceeded James’ own limits. Before he realized it, the evil spirit was already before him. Its illusory hands snatched at him, and its frightening energy tore the void apart, releasing a hissing sound.

James’ chest was penetrated in a split second. His body was tossed away by the immense reverberation of the energy. He had to keep his distance to be able to handle the extent of the spirit’s strength.

He summoned his mind. As the Elemental Inversion Formation returned to his body and the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword materialized in his hand, he charged toward the evil spirit. As he held up his arm, frightening sword energy emanated from it, slashing the void apart and heading for the evil spirit.

The spirit’s afterimage was uncanny as it split into two, avoiding the attack from the sword. It merged immediately after and continued advancing toward James.

“Seems like someone’s prepared.” He attempted to avoid the spirit as quickly as he could. However, he was not fast enough. The spirit got to his arm, and a piece of his skin was torn away, exposing his bloody bones. Even though his physical strength was at the Divine Rank’s First Stage, he was still vulnerable to the attack of the evil spirit.

As Demonic Energy circulated in his body, he attacked again, even though his injuries had yet to recover. As if it was afraid of the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword in James’ hand, the spirit quickly avoided James before resuming an offensive position. The spirit moved at a speed so quick that James could not process it. Every time the spirit attempted an attack, he would get injured.

James was infuriated. He catalyzed an unparalleled sword technique and charged at the evil spirit with his sword, but he missed every time.

James' mind stirred, and his body became illusory. Within a split second, the entire sky was filled with his afterimage. Innumerable afterimages surrounded the void, standing in the spirit's way. All of them charged at the evil spirit at the same time. However, as the spirit had no body and was a product of merged black mist, it had no pain points. James' attack had no bearing on it.

Suddenly, all of these afterimages merged, creating an immensely powerful Sword Energy and piercing through the evil spirit.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3095-It turned into black gasses that floated in the air. James stared at these floating gasses. They gathered again and transformed back into the evil spirit.

"How eerie." James furrowed his eyebrows. This evil spirit was much harder to get rid of than he had thought. It was not destroyed even after being penetrated with such a complex sword technique. Staring at the spirit, he fell into deep thought.

At this moment, the newly formed spirit charged at James. Its speed was so fast that it exceeded James'. Without a flaw, each attack inflicted new injuries upon James. Fortunately, his body was strong, otherwise, he would have given up long ago.

He started thinking of ways to deal with the evil spirit. "Nothing I've tried is powerful enough to harm the evil spirit. Perhaps what I need to use is power without form."

An idea came to James. He held up the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword and summoned the Elemental Sage Energy within his body. The Energy embedded itself into the Divine Sword, materializing into Elemental Sword Intent. Once five forms of energy were unleashed in the form of ripples, they collectively attacked the evil spirit. The spirit's body dissipated once again, only to reassemble after.

'If I can't beat you, then I might as well make full use of you for my cultivation,' James thought to himself. Cultivation was what drove him here in the first place after all. With how unsettling and unbeatable the spirit was, he knew that his energy would continuously be exhausted, allowing him to ascend rank by rank, breakthrough by breakthrough. This was the best cultivation method of all time.

He took a deep breath. Then, he summoned all his might to absorb all of the power of the outside world while also fighting against the spirit. At the same time, he was also comprehending the sword. Holding the Divine Sword, he started to gain insight into the Sword Moves recorded within the sword. He sensed the Sword Energy emanating from his sword. The Energy circulated him, forming shadow upon shadow. These shadows surrounded him while performing a sword dance. Every move and every step encapsulated eminent Principles of the Path.

However, James could only comprehend the Sword Moves for the time being. He started learning the Sword Moves and making sure that he fully understood them. This allowed him to accumulate his power. Without him realizing it, the entire world shook with every thrust he made. Time and space both solidified as he lunged forward.

Back in the Celestial Abode, Emperor Jabari was cultivating the power of the Tribulation Liquid. At the same time, he was observing James. Extremely pleased, he mumbled to himself, "James' Sword Techniques are now near the existence of the Path. It's frightening that he can reach such a rank with only Sword Moves."

The Path was mysterious yet omnipresent; it was the threshold of the Heavenly Path. Using only Sword Moves, James had arrived at the threshold and the margins of the Path. This essentially meant that he was now able to fight against the powerful figures who had newly attained the Divine Rank. James was only a Twenty-Sixth Stage Sage. There was still a huge difference between the Divine Rank and the Sage Rank.

He continued to focus on the fight. The more he fought, the stronger he became. As his sword techniques improved, so did the speed of his slashes.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3096-James cultivated as he fought. His Sage Energy increased spontaneously. He could soon fully comprehend the Sword Moves from the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword and even merge all of the Moves into one ultimate Move. Then, he realized he could no longer upgrade his sword techniques because he had reached the limit. Prior to this, the more Sword Moves he internalized, the stronger the power of his Moves. However, now that the power of the Moves was stagnant, he felt no difference even if he internalized more Moves.

James was stupefied and decided to ask for an explanation from Emperor Jabari in the Celestial Abode. Emperor Jabari explained, "That's because the power of your sword techniques is almost near the existence of the Path and can no longer increase. If you want to push your limits, then you have to first understand the power of the Path."

James understood immediately. Since the First Sword Realm had been completely exhausted, he had to go for the Second Sword Realm. However, since the two were inherently linked, completing the first one would mean completing both.

Now, James unleashed the Second Sword Realm, materializing more and more shadows. The entire world was filled with his shadows and those of the Sword. The power of the Second Sword Realm was also near the existence of the Path.

As for the Sword Heart of the Third Sword Realm, reaching the Path was more difficult.

The evil spirit was otherworldly. It had been many years since James started fighting it, yet he had not succeeded in exterminating it, even though his sword techniques were near the existence of the Path.

However, this pursuit was not in vain, for James had increased his power rapidly throughout the years. He had now arrived at the peak of the Sage Rank's Twenty-Sixth stage. His plan was to first destroy the spirit before starting his breakthrough.

This time, he performed Sacrilegious Ascension. Using the power of the dragon's bone, paired with that of the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, he was able to battle against powerful figures of the Divine Rank.

To his dismay, he was still unable to destroy the evil spirit, so he gave up and fled. He had to run for a very long time to successfully escape from the spirit's sight. Once again, he found a safe spot to start his breakthrough.

When James stopped, Emperor Jabari helped him set up a Time Formation, allowing him to make a breakthrough within the Formation. James only managed to break the seal after five hundred years, arriving at the Sage Rank's Twenty-Seventh Stage. At that moment, he heard Emperor Jabari's voice from the Celestial Abode. "James, I discovered some new insights from the Ancient Scroll."

"Oh? What did you discover?"

The Emperor replied, "This scroll left by the Ancestral God records a mystical place. I deciphered the Ancestral Script and found that the place is called the Forsaken Land. The scroll's purpose is to map the entrance of the Forsaken Land and record information regarding it."

"So, do we know where the entrance is now?" James asked.

"Yes, we have an estimation of where it is. If I'm not wrong, the entrance of the Forsaken Land is in the Desolateness Sanctuary."

"Where's that?" James was dumbfounded. He knew that where they were was called the Desolateness, but the Desolateness Sanctuary? He was clueless.

The Emperor continued to speak, "This, I'm not so sure myself. You'll have to find it yourself. However, this so-called 'Desolateness' is definitely the place we're in. Try searching from planet to planet. You'll find it eventually. And don't worry about time. I've inserted a Time Formation within your body. The Formation will follow you as you move."

James felt relieved upon hearing this. With the Emperor's help, he was sure he would attain the Divine Rank in time before the Elixir Pavilion's event.

Now, he had to focus on finding the Desolateness Sanctuary among the planets. As he searched, he made sure to cultivate as well.

On his way, he met many more evil spirits. Some pestered him, but some were so strong he could only flee upon seeing them.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3097-Many a time, he was almost destroyed by evil spirits. Fortunately, he had Emperor Jabari on his side, allowing him to avoid such calamities.

He started his journey in searching for the Desolateness among the planets. He stepped into many dangerous spots on his way, almost falling prey to dangerous formations. At times, some formations were so dangerous that even Emperor Jabari had to spend some time breaking them.

In this eerily silent world, he moved forward, step by step.

A thousand years had passed in the outside world. All this while, James had ascended through his ranks from the initial Sage Rank's Twenty-Fifth Stage to the Thirty-Third Stage. He was now very close to attaining the Divine Rank and paralleling with the powerful figures of the rank. However, he had no luck in finding the Desolateness that Emperor Jabari told him about.

Amid the bald massifs, he stopped to take a break and sat on a black rock.

"Emperor, I've searched for so many years, but have still not found the so-called Desolateness. Did you decipher the scroll accurately?" James was now doubting Emperor Jabari's interpretations of the scroll. Or perhaps, there was no Forsaken Land from the beginning and the scroll was merely a ploy by an Ancestral God.

"There is no mistake." Emperor Jabari's voice came, "These years have given me more time to better understand the ancient scroll. I'm much more confident about my interpretation now. The Forsaken Land and the Desolateness definitely exist."

"Oh, right." James asked, "How many years have I been here?" Since he stayed within the Time Formation, he only knew that a long time had passed but was clueless about the exact amount in the outside world.

"Around one thousand and five hundred years," Emperor Jabari replied.

“One thousand and five hundred years?” James was astonished and let out a long sigh. “That means I only have about a thousand years left before the Elixir Gathering commences. Yet, after such a long time of cultivating, I still have yet to ascend into the Divine Rank.” James envied Thea a little. With how fast she cultivated, she had attained the Ninth Heaven of the Grand Emperor Rank despite only having just arrived in this world tens of thousands of years ago. He, on the other hand, was still at the Sage Rank.

“There’s a powerful figure nearby. Be careful. I’ll keep silent for now,” Emperor Jabari spoke suddenly, followed by complete silence.

He stood up immediately and scanned his surroundings. However, there were only ruins around him, paired with thunderstorms and lightning. No one could be seen.

Out of the blue, a shadow appeared in the distance. He could see the figure better now. It was a woman in her early twenties. Wearing a pink dress, her facial features were sharp and stunning. Her curvaceous figure made her all the more alluring. She was perfect.

“What is she doing here?” James was slightly shocked. The woman was none other than Melinda Yisroel whom he met at the Stardust Realm, the baby that the Lord of the Stardust Realm picked up from the Reincarnation Pond.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3098-Melinda Yisroel, a powerful figure from the Reincarnation Pond and a prodigy. James came into contact with her once. However, this time, it seemed as though Melinda had a memory of her being picked up by the Lord of the Stardust Realm from the Pond. It was very likely that she remembered her past life, in which she was one of the most famous figures in the Primeval Age.

This was all in James’ head though. As to whether it was true, James could not vouch for his thoughts.

Melinda sensed James’ presence from the first second she stepped onto this abandoned planet. Now that they met, her gaze remained on him for a very long time. She was unable to hide her astonishment.

After a few seconds, she collected herself and appeared right in front of James in a flash.

“Why are you here?” She enquired provocatively.

James stood up and looked at Melinda. This world was filled with so many violent energies that could not be resisted by common cultivators of the Divine Rank. Yet, here stood Melinda, who was ignoring all the violent energies around her as if they did not exist. James was confident that her power exceeded that of the Divine Rank. He tried to see through her superficial appearance but was to no avail. It was a shame that Emperor Jabari could not offer him advice at this moment. Since Emperor Jabari said that she was a very powerful figure, her power must have been greater than James could imagine.

“Well, why did you come all the way here to this abandoned land of the Holy Realm? Why not remain in the Stardust Realm?” James returned her provocative question with equally provocative answers.

Lips pursed, she let out a chuckle. Her smile uncovered two dimples on the corners of her lips.

“You’ve improved quite fast, I have to say. It hasn’t been long, but you’re already at the peak of the Sage Rank’s Thirty-Third Stage. You’re incredibly near to attaining the Divine Rank.”

“And you as well, you did a great job at concealing your rank,” James spoke coldly. “Your power must have reached a rank beyond comprehension to be able to easily navigate this place and to be here in the Desolateness Ruins alone. Which rank have you actually acquired?”

Melinda did not answer James’ questions directly, instead, she responded, “I’m here to retrieve a weapon.”

“A weapon?” James was confused.

“Yes,” Melinda continued, “I left it in the Forsaken Land last time. It’s time I take it back.”

“Last time?” He was dumbfounded. When was her last time here? He tried to make a guess. Was it the Primeval Age?

“Who the heck are you?” he asked.

Melinda stared at James with a stern expression and said, “Who I am isn’t important. What’s important is I’ve no intention to harm you. Otherwise, you would’ve died back in the Stardust Realm. My existence here is to help you.”

“Help me?” James was bewildered. “How?”

However, Melinda did not explain further and asked instead, “Now, tell me, why are you here? This place is extremely dangerous. Even powerful figures who have attained the Grand Emperor Rank wouldn't dare to simply show up here. Unless there's some powerful figure on your side helping you."

Melinda wanted to know who James was as well. However, after staring at him for quite some time, she still could not figure anything out.

As for James, he was very interested in who Melinda was. Yet, he let it slide since she did not want to disclose that piece of information. Facing her question, he did not conceal much and answered truthfully, "When I was in Elixir City, I participated in a bid, from which I got an ancient scroll. Since the scroll came from the Desolateness Ruins, I wanted to come here and see what it was like."

As he spoke, he made sure to take a good glance at Melinda.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3099-Then, he continued, "I have deciphered this ancient scroll and obtained clues about the Forsaken Land. To enter the Forsaken Land, we first need to find the entrance of the Desolateness."

"Haha..."

Melinda laughed and said, "Not bad... The only records of the Forsaken Land are in Ancestral Script. I never thought you'd able to decipher the script even though you have yet to reach the Divine Rank. Incredible, indeed."

James never thought that Melinda would know about Ancestral Script. Based on the conversation, Melinda should know about the Forsaken Land and the entrance of the Desolateness.

"Since you're going to the Forsaken Land to acquire a weapon, you should know the entrance of the Desolateness. Can you show me the way?" James asked for he was rather intrigued by the Forsaken Land, a place where the Heavenly Path was absent. Since the Forsaken Land was a place that even the Heavenly Path of this universe could not administer, he was curious to see what it looked like.

"You don't have the right to do so."

Melinda said, "Your rank is too low. We'll talk more about this once you've reached the Grand Emperor Rank."

As the only pure land in this universe, the Forsaken Land was too crucial a place. That was because every nook and cranny of the world was administered by the Heavenly Path. Thus, the Forsaken Land was the key to destroying the Heavenly Path, and she would not show James the way unless absolutely necessary.

“Farewell.”

Melinda waved at James and mysteriously vanished without a trace. No matter how hard James tried, he could not sense her presence.

James sat on a rock on the ground and stroked his chin, thinking back to Melinda’s words.

‘Who is she?’

‘Where did she come from?’

‘Is she a backup of the Ancestral God of the human race in the Primeval Age?’

‘Could it be that the Ancestral God of the human race long knew that the Heavenly Path would have a backup? That’s why she especially walked out of the Reincarnation Pond to help me obtain the Ancestral God Rank Elixir and resolve the Fourth Calamity of mankind?’

Thoughts emerged in James’ mind. Then, he asked Emperor Jabari inside the Celestial Abode, “Emperor, did you sense her rank?”

Emperor Jabari’s voice came, “She’s only at the Divine Rank. However, her Soul Power is extraordinarily powerful, surpassing even me at my peak strength.”

“What?!”

James exclaimed.

“She surpasses even you at your peak strength?”

James knew just how terrifying Emperor Jabari was at his peak strength. He was at the peak of the Grand Emperor Rank’s Ninth Heaven and was only a step away from reaching the Ancestral God Rank. However, when he was undergoing the Ancestral God Tribulation, he was annihilated by the Heavenly Path. Since her strength surpassed that of Emperor Jabari, that would mean she was an Ancestral God.

James took a deep breath.

Since Melinda had a soul at the Ancestral God Rank, that meant she was an Ancestral God before she was reincarnated. Her rank was only weak because she obtained a new physical body and had to recultivate everything.

“Is she really here to help me out?” James asked.

Emperor Jabari said, “I don’t know. However, these are exceptional times. The Ancestral God Rank Elixir determines the fate of all of humankind. Do not let your guard down, and do not trust anyone at such a pivotal moment.”

Emperor Jabari cautioned.

“Mhm, I know.” James nodded.

Then, he sat on a rock and contemplated.

He thought about Melinda and where she came from.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3100-After contemplating for some time, he still could not figure anything out. To get the answers he wanted, he could only increase his strength and reach the Grand Emperor Rank. However, that was too difficult. Even the greatest prodigies could only reach such a rank after tens of thousands of years. Meanwhile, the time needed for ordinary cultivators was counted using the measurement unit of ‘Epoch’.

An Epoch was approximately 4.9 billion years, and a cultivator that could reach the Grand Emperor Rank in an Epoch was already considered a demon.

“Grand Emperor, are we still going to search for the Desolateness and the entrance of the Forsaken Land?’ James asked.

After brief contemplation, Emperor Jabari said, “You heard Melinda. Even if you find the Desolateness, you might not be able to enter the Forsaken Land. Our priority now is to comprehend the Path and cross into the Divine Rank as soon as possible. After reaching the Divine Rank, your training will finally come to a close.”

Hearing this, a fire burned in James’ eyes.

“The Divine Rank...”

He had been dreaming of reaching this rank for some time now. That was because he would only be considered a powerful figure upon reaching this rank. Besides, that was the only way for him to cultivate some secret Supernatural Arts he had acquired previously.

James calmed his mind and put those thoughts aside.

Emperor Jabari continued, "After reaching the Sage Rank's Thirty-Third Stage, you'll need to consider your future path. You may choose a single Path to cultivate, anything you like.

"Your comprehension of the Sword Path is extremely high. If you cultivate the Sword Path, you should be able to accomplish Consolidation easily. Upon accomplishing Consolidation, you'll be able to cultivate your own Ousia. Besides, you possess an Elemental Holy Body, which possesses the Five Elements of Genesis that have existed since the dawn of time. If you cultivate the Elemental Path, you'll be able to swiftly coalesce Elemental Ousia. With Elemental Inversion, you can merge the Five Elements and create an unprecedented Ousia. Not only that, but you also possess Heavenly and Demonic Powers. If you work hard and gain insight into them, you'll be able to cultivate Yin and Yang Ousia. Your choice."

Hearing this, James contemplated for a while before asking, "Can't I cultivate at the same time?"

"Haha..."

Emperor Jabari laughed and said, "Of course you can. However, a cultivator has limited energy. It will be difficult cultivating many Paths at the same time. Only those at the Grand Emperor Rank who have unlimited time can accomplish such a feat. Upon reaching the Grand Emperor Rank and cultivating a Path Seal, you'll be able to cultivate other Paths. The more profound your comprehension of the Paths, and as the power of the Paths merges with the Path Seal, the Path Seal's power will grow. The stronger the Path Seal, the greater the mastery of the Grand Emperor Rank. Under normal circumstances, cultivators would only cultivate a single Path and Ousia upon reaching the Divine Rank. Of course, some prodigies who aren't satisfied with just a few would opt to cultivate more. The more Ousias one can cultivate, the greater one's strength in the Divine Rank. However, the Heavenly Tribulation you would have to undergo will be equally terrifying. With the permission of the Heavenly Path, a cultivator can only cultivate nine Ousias and gather nine Path Seals at most."

Emperor Jabari began sharing some knowledge with James.

Hearing this, James finally understood.

Then, he fell into deep thought.

'Which Path should I cultivate?'

He hesitated.

He would not give up on the Sword Path. Besides that, he did not wish to forfeit the Elemental Path. That was because he possessed the Elemental Holy Body and the Five Elements of Genesis. With Elemental Inversion, he would be able to forge new Paths by cultivating the Elemental Path. This was a Path forged by the Five Ancestral Masters in the Primeval Age, and James only needed to follow the proper cultivation instructions.

Meanwhile, Heavenly Power and Demonic Power were two immense powers that were related to Crucifier. James did not wish to give that up as well.

Emperor Jabari said that a cultivator could cultivate nine Ousias with the permission of the Heavenly Path.
