The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3241-Although the Labhrann Clan was a powerful faction in the Demon Realm, Brielle was only a First Heaven Grand Emperor.

On the other hand, the Fallen Angel Clan had a Third Heaven Grand Emperor.

If the Fallen Angel Clan was determined to kill James, Brielle knew she could not stop them.

“What should I do?” Brielle was distraught.

She walked over to James.

James saw Brielle walking over with an unusual expression and asked. “What’s wrong?”

Brielle replied, “I just got news that the Fallen Angel Clan has left for Earth using the Hadean Clan’s passage.”

He was startled for a bit, but then said with a smile, “There’s nothing to worry about. We’re on Earth right now. We’ll wipe them out if they mess around on our territory.”

Henrik gave a thumbs up and said approvingly, “You’re the man, James! You might be the only one who would even consider wiping out the Fallen Angel Clan.”

Brielle stomped her feet and said furiously, “Do you understand the situation you’re in right now? How can you act so nonchalantly? You’re about to deal with a life-threatening matter!”

“Everything is under control.”

James was not worried since powerhouses from the Boundless Realm had also come to Earth.

The Earth was supposed to be sealed, preventing powerful cultivators from visiting it. The only known passage that connected to Earth was the one in the Hadean Clan.

James had no idea how the powerhouses from the Boundless Realm managed to bypass the Earth’s seal, but they had somehow done so and were already on Earth.

He did not bother dwelling on how they came to Earth and reassured Brielle. “Don’t worry.”

Since James was not fazed, Brielle decided to drop the issue.

“James.”

Suddenly, someone called his name.

James turned toward the sound and saw a beautiful woman approaching him.

The gorgeous woman was about 180 centimeters tall and had long black hair.

It was Marcello from the Azurean Clan.

Marcello wore a lovely smile as she walked over. “I rushed over when I heard that you’re here. Where have you been for the past thousand years?”

She leaped into James’ arms worriedly, completely ignoring the other people around her.

“...”

James was startled and thought, ‘She sure is bold.’

“Stop it. There’s a lot of people here.” James pushed Marcello away.

Marcello returned to her senses and blushed slightly.

“I...”

As she was about to say something, dark clouds suddenly blanketed the clear sky.

A large army of Avians descended from the sky and quickly surrounded Bane City.

Brielle’s expression changed drastically upon seeing the Avians.

Henrik watched with a slight frown and murmured, “The Fallen Angel Clan are really going all out, huh? Should I ask my teacher for backup?”

Qusai also began contemplating whether to ask his father, the Supreme Fiend Lord, for help.

“Which one of you is James Caden?”

A furious voice resounded throughout the skies of the Bane City, spreading out to the Bane City.

James raised his head to the sky. He appeared in front of the massive Avian in the sky and said nonchalantly, “That’s me.”

The Fallen Angel King roared, "You, b*stard! Were you the one that killed my son?"

His voice was deafening, and James' felt his eardrums go numb.

James said indifferently, "Who's your son? Oh, I did kill a bird-like man before. I think his name was Sabrathan? Is that your son?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3242-The Fallen Angel King was enraged by James' words.

He erupted with fury, and terrifying energy filled the air. James felt as if his body was being forcefully shredded apart.

James knew he was in trouble.

At his current strength, he was no match for the Fallen Angel King.

He silently activated a Secret Art and requested Nico's help.

"Nico, I've got a problem right now and need your help."

"Understood. I'll be right there, James."

"Don't immediately show yourself when you arrive. Only make a move when I'm in danger."

"Alright."

Nico immediately began sensing James' surroundings upon establishing contact. Although the Earth had grown bigger, its energy was still much inferior to the Boundless Realm's warriors.

After Nico located James, he immediately appeared in Mount Bane. However, he did not reveal himself and hid in the shadows.

At that moment, Brielle rushed into the air as well. She looked at the angered Fallen Angel King and tried to ease the situation. "There's a misunderstanding, Fallen Angel King. It wasn't James' intention to kill Sabrathan."

The Fallen Angel King replied coldly. "Are you trying to protect him, Brielle? Is the Labhrann Clan trying to make an enemy of us?"

“No, that’s not what I meant. Please let me explain…”

The Fallen Angel King roared, “Get out of the way! I’ll slaughter James’ entire family for killing my son!”

James hovered in the air and was barely withstanding the terrifying force of a Third Heaven Grand Emperor. However, he did not have the slightest concern.

He looked at the Fallen Angel King and said calmly, “You’re on Earth now. This is the humans’ territory. You’d better leave immediately, or I’ll show you no mercy.”

James gave the Fallen Angel Clan an ultimatum.

“Haha!!!”

The Fallen Angel King laughed derisively.

“I’d like to see what you can do to me.”

His laughter resounded throughout the area.

As he cackled, the huge wings on his back began to flap rapidly, and a powerful force swept the surroundings. The force sent James reeling.

Suddenly, a thuggish man appeared before James. Flicking his hand effortlessly, he pushed away the Fallen Angel King whose wings could not counter Nico’s power.

James parted his lips and ordered. “Wipe them out. Don’t let anyone of them survive.”

On Earth, all other creatures were outsiders.

James did not show any mercy toward these outsiders.

“Sure thing.”

Nico rubbed his hands and said, “I haven’t got a chance to stretch my muscles in a while.”

After speaking, Nico immediately unleashed the aura of a Fifth Heaven Grand Emperor.

His aura was unspeakably oppressive.

The Fallen Angel King was appalled.

“Th-this…”

His expression changed, and he quickly backed away.

However, Nico had already leaped into action. He thrust his palm forward, and powerful force swept toward the Fallen Angel Clan's army.

Almost everyone died instantly, except for the Fallen Angel King.

The Fallen Angel King quickly fled for his life, but Nico gave chase to him.

All the powerful cultivators from various sects were dumbfounded by the scene.

James left the fight to Nico and slowly descended from the sky, landing in the Labhranns' residence.

Curious, Henrik asked, "Who's that, James? He has such terrifying energy and is even stronger than my teacher."

James smiled lightly and said, "He's a good friend of mine."

The Fallen Angel King escaped and fled to the Demon Realm through the Hadean Passage.

Nico gave up on the chase and hurried back to James. He appeared before James and said, "He got away, James."

James replied casually. "It's fine. Leave him be."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3243-The powerhouses present stared warily at Nico, the rowdy-looking man who easily wiped out the Fallen Angel Clan's army with a single move.

He was so fearsome that even the Fallen Angel King immediately fled for his life.

Nico was frightfully strong, and everyone was afraid of him.

Brielle rushed over to James, looked at him, and said, "It's no wonder you were fearless. You have a peerless powerhouse with you. "

James replied casually. "He's just a Fifth Heaven Grand Emperor. It's nothing impressive. I also have an Eighth Heaven Grand Emperor with me."

"Gasp!"

People who overheard him gasped in shock.

“If that’s all you need, then I’ll withdraw first, James. Earth is quite interesting, and I’m having a blast so far. Contact me if you need me for anything else.”

Nico did not stay long and left after exchanging a few words with James.

After witnessing the incident, many of the people present looked at James in a new light.

Marcello asked, “What exactly have you experienced in the past thousand years, James?”

James did not explain much to her.

After that, he stayed in the Labhranns’ residence for a day.

Then, he caught up with a few friends.

During this period, Thea had kept herself busy.

She met up with Quincy and explained everything. Afterward, she used the passage on Earth to head to the Demon Realm.

As soon as Thea appeared out of the Hadean Clan’s passage, she was immediately confronted by the guards.

After the guards sensed Thea’s strength, they did not dare meddle in her affairs and quickly released her.

Thea decisively headed into the Azurean Clan.

She was a Second Heaven Grand Emperor and was respected regardless of where she went.

The Azurean Clan warmly welcomed Thea.

Thea had come to the Azurean Clan to look for a specific person—Maxine.

“This is Maxine’s seclusion sanctuary, Ms. Thea.”

An elder of the Azurean Clan personally led Thea to where Maxine had secluded herself.

Thea looked ahead, nodded, and replied. “Thanks. I’ll leave after I speak with her.”

The Azurean Clan's elder said, "Go ahead."

Thea looked at the bamboo forest in front of her. She made her way through it and found a bamboo house after traversing the bamboo forest.

The house was surrounded by an Accumulation Formation meant to gather energy. As such, the Primordial Energy around the house was not only abundant but also concentrated.

Walking over to the little hut, Thea activated her Divine Sense. She could sense Maxine cultivating within the bamboo house. After confirming that Maxine was indeed inside, Thea pushed open the door and walked into the house.

Maxine immediately noticed an intruder and shouted, "Who's there?"

She stopped cultivating and immediately sprang up warily.

Maxine wore a black dress, and terrifying Demonic Energy was emitting from her body.

"It's you, Thea. What brings you here?"

Maxine was startled to see Thea. She immediately withdrew her energy, and the Demonic Energy around her gradually dispersed.

Thea sat down in the house, pointed toward a chair beside her, and said, "Shall we sit and chat?"

Maxine sat beside her. "The last time we saw each other was about a thousand years ago, right?"

Thea murmured, "A thousand years, huh?"

To Maxine, it had only been a thousand years. However, it was already a hundred thousand years since they last met.

Maxine asked her. "What brings you to the Azurean Clan and why are you in the Demon Realm? How could a human like you come here?"

Thea smiled at her questions. She was a Second Heaven Grand Emperor and could go anywhere she wanted in the universe.

Dodging the question, Thea said, "I came to tell you something important."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3244-Maxine never expected Thea to come all the way to the Azurean Clan to see her.

“Cut to the chase, and tell me what you came to see me for.”

“James...”

Maxine recalled the past.

She had been focusing on cultivating in the Demon Realm for the past thousand years, and James’ name had almost become unfamiliar to her.

Hearing his name, she was immediately reminded of the things she had done in the past.

“What happened to James?” asked Maxine.

Thea described their journey to the Boundless Realm to find the Ancestral God Rank Elixir.

Hearing this, Maxine was shocked. She was surprised to find out that Thea had spent hundreds of thousands of years in the Boundless Realm while only a thousand years had passed for her.

However, the most important part of her story was the Ancestral God Rank Elixir, which was crucial for the survival of the Earth’s humans.

“So the last part of the Ancestral God Rank Elixir is missing?” asked Maxine.

Thea replied, “Actually, I’ve already found it. I’m the last part of the Ancestral God Rank Elixir. To activate the power of the Ancestral God Rank Elixir, I’ll have to sacrifice myself. Once the Ancestral God Rank Elixir is completed, I’ll die and disappear from this world.”

“What?” Maxine stood up in shock.

“It’s not a big deal.”

Thea had already accepted her fate.

Maxine sat down and asked solemnly. “What exactly is going on, Thea?”

Thea shook her head and said, “Honestly, I don’t really understand everything either. I only know that the Ancestral Gods in the Primeval Age added a trace of my soul to refine the Ancestral God Rank Elixir. I'm currently the materialization of those traces and part of the Ancestral God Rank Elixir."

"Then what did you come to me for?"

Maxine was still puzzled by Thea's intention.

Thea replied, "You've always been helping James from behind the scene back when James was still weak and had not become a true cultivator yet. You know him very well, so I was hoping you'd continue to assist him after I'm gone. I'll rest easy if I know you'll be there for him in the future."

Maxine frowned at her words.

Thea continued speaking, "James is a very outstanding man and has a tendency of attracting females wherever he goes."

Thea turned to Maxine and asked. "Do you still have lingering feelings for him? Are you still in love with him?"

After hesitating briefly, Maxine nodded slowly.

Thea smiled at her answer and said, "I'm reassured that James will have you and Quincy looking out for him in the future."

"Before the Fourth Calamity strikes, James will still belong to me. After that's over, you're free to seek him out."

Thea stood up after she finished speaking and left.

Maxine sat in place pensively and was silent for a long time.

After speaking with Maxine, Thea left the Demon Realm and returned to Earth.

James stayed in Mount Bane for the next few days. Then, he returned to Wrymstead.

After returning to Wrymstead, he immediately met up with Thea.

Thea acted as usual, and James did not notice anything odd.

In Wrymstead Palace's backyard, Thea suggested to James, "Darling, let's go live in isolation while it's still peaceful. Let's spend some alone time together where we last secluded ourselves."

Thea wanted to use this opportunity to have a son with James to ensure the Cadens' legacy would not end.

“Sure.” James agreed with hesitation.

James had been traveling around a lot in search of the Ancestral God Rank Elixir and was also exhausted. Thus, he wanted to use this opportunity to rest well.

“Alright, let’s go!”

Thea tugged James and left.

The two left without informing anyone.

James and Thea arrived at a mountain range somewhere within Sol. There was an uninhabited mountain village at the foot of the mountain. A few buildings had been destroyed and were already buried in the soil.

The couple held hands as they reached the place.

Thea held tightly onto James’ hand and said, “Honey, our old home is gone. Could you get some wood from the forest and build a new house?”

“Of course.”

James immediately got to work.

With his current strength, building a house was a piece of cake.

A courtyard house was built on an empty plot of land in less than half a day.

Thea sat on a chair inside the courtyard and snuggled into James’ arms. Then, she summoned Exalter and handed it over to James.

“Why are you giving it to me?”

James was taken aback.

Thea smiled gently at him. "Exalter is useless to me, so I'm giving it to you. You've already mastered Demonic Transformation and cultivated Demonic Power. nov.el.ebook You can fuse Crucifier and Exalter to form the Time Capsule."

"Okay."

James reluctantly put it away.

Thea said softly, "Honey, I'd like to have a son with you."

Then, she planted a kiss on James' lips.

James responded to the kiss enthusiastically.

In that period, James and Thea lived together in the isolated village and fervently spent most of their time trying for a child.

Three months passed in the blink of an eye.

Thea finally ended up pregnant.

Since she was a Grand Emperor, she could easily sense her body's condition and sensed that the child in her stomach was a boy.

Originally, she wanted to accelerate his growth.

However, the Fourth Calamity had not yet come to pass, and she still had some time. Thus, she wanted her child to stay in her womb for ten months.

Meanwhile, James was tilling some land in their yard with a hoe.

In the distance, some poultry, like chickens and ducks, roamed the area.

Thea stood at the door and watched James in his worn-out clothes, working the ground in the distance. She was filled with happiness and smiled blissfully.

Soon, James walked over to her with his hoe.

"I'm back, Darling."

"Welcome home."

Thea nodded lightly, walked over, and wiped the dirt off James' face with a handkerchief.novelebook Then, she said tenderly, "I've got some good news, Honey."

"What is it?"

“I’m pregnant.”

“Are you serious?!”

After processing her words, James immediately let out a delighted cry. He squatted down and pressed his head against Thea’s stomach. With a smile, he asked. “Is it a boy or a girl?”

James used his senses and could feel the little life within Thea’s body.

“Honey, you should go find some exceptional provisions for our son. I want him to be outstanding from the moment he is born.”

“W-Where do I look for them?” asked James.

Thea said teasingly, “It’s up to you. You can simply snatch them from someone else if you can’t find any.”

“Sure, no problem!” James replied with a smile. Then he activated a Secret Art to contact Nico.

Nico appeared instantly and asked. “How may I help, James?”

James said, “Get ready for the heist of your life!”

“Huh?” Startled, Thea said alarmedly, “I was just kidding! Are you seriously thinking of snatching something from someone else?”

James said smilingly, “The human race has lived under oppression this whole time. It’s time for us to fight back. Rest assured, Darling. I’ll come back full of bounties to nourish our child with!”

“Okay, go on then. Do come back soon.”

Thea lightly waved her hand, not knowing this would be their last farewell.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3246-Thea was pregnant and needed medicinal substances to nourish the child.

James was simply joking about stealing these from others.

He planned to make a trip to the Elixir Pavilion in the Boundless Realm.

The Elixir Pavilion was a powerful sect in the Boundless Realm. Although the seal around the Boundless Realm had disappeared, it was no exaggeration to call them the greatest sect in the universe.

Many Empyrean herbs, including Emperor Rank Herbs, were stored in the Elixir Pavilion.

“Thea, Nico, and I will travel to the Elixir Pavilion.”

After James informed Thea of his destination, he left with Nico.

Nico easily opened up spatial passage and led James to the Boundless Realm.

Thea sent James off with a smile. As soon as he left, her expression darkened.

Swoosh!

A blurry shadow appeared and gradually coalesced into the silhouette of a man.

It was the Human Realm’s Lord, Xandros.

Thea greeted him, “Sir Tegan.”

Xandros said, “It’s almost time. I can sense that Heaven’s Adjudicators are about to descend into the universe. They might arrive in three to five days. It’s also possible that they might even show up today.”

Thea asked calmly, “What do I need to do?”

Xandros waved his hand, and a jade piece appeared before him. He explained, “This jade piece has records of a Secret Art left behind by the Ancestral Gods from the Primeval Age. After you use the Secret Art, you’ll transform into the last portion of the Ancestral God Rank Elixir.”

Thea accepted the jade piece and stored it away. Then, she caressed her stomach.

She wanted to carry the child for ten months until the time was right to birth him, but her wishes were unfeasible according to the current circumstances.

“Don’t tell James about what happened to me until the Fourth Calamity passes. Also, help me take care of my child and bring him to James after the calamity has concluded.

“I already have a name for our child, Jacopo Caden.

“I hope he’ll achieve great things in the future and live a free and troubleless life.”

Thea spoke very softly.

Xandros nodded in response.

Thea returned to the house.

She lay on the bed and mobilized her energy to stimulate the growth of the fetus, accelerating her own gestation.

Thea’s belly swelled as the fetus steadily developed.

Shortly after, a baby’s cries filled the room.

After a while, Thea walked out of the house with the child in her arms.

She approached Xandros.

The baby in her arms was chubby, and his dark eyes twinkled brightly. His eyes were opened wide, and he was staring right at Thea.

“I’m sorry, my son.”

Thea stared tenderly at Jacopo.

She was reluctant to look away because it was her last moment with him.

Xandros could not help but comfort her. “You don’t have to worry, Thea. Right now, you’re merely the portion your soul that the Ancestral Gods extracted from you in the Primeval Age. The true version of you might still be alive somewhere.”

“Is that so?”

Thea looked at Xandros and said, “...But will that person still be me? Even though I’m merely a soul fragment, I have my own consciousness. Will the real version be like myself?”

“I don’t know...”

Xandros was at a loss for words.

Thea pressed her lips together and handed Jacopo to Xandros.

“Take good care of him.”

Xandros took Jacopo in his arms.

At that moment, Jacopo suddenly burst into tears. As if feeling like something was amiss, he cried out. "M-Mama..."

Thea was a Second Heaven Grand Emperor, so the child enriched with her supreme strength was born extraordinary.

Thea returned to the house.

She took out the jade piece Xandros gave her and began to learn the Secret Art recorded in it.

The Secret Art was fairly simple, and Thea grasped it quickly.

Then, she activated the Secret Art.

A dazzling golden light burst out from her body, and her body gradually became translucent.

He knew that Thea had already transformed into the last piece of the Ancestral God Rank Elixir.

Xandros walked into the room and looked at the Ancestral God Rank Elixir floating in the room. He approached and stood before it for a few minutes before finally reaching out to it.

The Ancestral God Rank Elixir floated toward him.

Xandros held onto the Ancestral God Rank Elixir. He did not stay for long and left with Jacopo in his arms.

At that moment, James had already arrived in the Elixir Realm.

Boom!!!

He heard a massive explosion in outer space as he arrived outside the Elixir Realm.

The explosion was deafening, and a huge shock wave swept through space.

“What happened?”

James was bewildered.

Nico was also shocked and shook his head uncertainly.

“James, come back immediately!”

At that moment, a telepathic voice rang in his mind.

Hearing Xandros’ voice, James knew something had happened and suspected that Heaven’s Adjudicators had arrived on Earth.

James hurriedly ordered. “Nico, we need to head back now.”

“Alright.”

Nico followed James hastily.

The two quickly left the Boundless Realm.

The next moment, they appeared somewhere within the Three Thousand Worlds on Earth.

There were many buildings on one of the mountains among a mountain range.

Many people were gathered in the main hall of one of the buildings.

The person heading the meeting was the Human Realm’s Lord, Xandros.

James appeared in the main hall and asked. “What happened, Sir Tegan?”

Xandros replied, “Heaven’s Adjudicators have arrived. The Fourth Calamity is happening right now.”

“Huh? So suddenly?”

James was startled by the news. Although he knew the Fourth Calamity would happen soon, he never expected it arrive so quickly.

“Have you found the last Ancestral God Rank Elixir?” asked James.

Xandros nodded lightly and casually waved his hand. The Ancestral God Rank Elixir appeared before him and floated toward James.

James grabbed the Ancestral God Rank Elixir and felt a slight warmth.

Xandros said solemnly, "During the Primeval Age, the Ancestral Gods left a prophecy that many Heaven's Adjudicators will appear throughout the universe during the Fourth Calamity. nov.el.ebook These Heaven's Adjudicators are formed through the shards of the Heavenly Path. "Now that we've gathered all five parts, we can fuse them into the completed Ancestral God Rank Elixir.

"Understood." James nodded lightly.

Then, he took out the other four parts he had collected.

The five parts floated before him and began to merge. Under everyone's intent stare, they gradually formed the complete Ancestral God Rank Elixir.

"James, only you can consume the Ancestral God Rank Elixir," said Xandros.

"Huh?"

James was slightly taken aback and asked. "Why me?"

"There's no time for questions. You'll understand if you manage to survive the battle."

James said solemnly, "Are you saying I might die in this battle?"

Xandros nodded and said, "There's a possibility. You're still not strong enough to completely control the Ancestral God Rank Elixir's power. Once the Ancestral God Rank Elixir's power is exhausted, your body and soul might disappear."

James pondered over Xandros' words. After a long while, he said, "I'm willing to risk my life to save humanity, but don't tell Thea about this. Only inform her after the Fourth Calamity is over."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3248-An intense explosion shook the universe.

The shock waves from the explosion swept across the entire universe, and powerful beings all over the universe noticed the energy fluctuations.

In the Fiend Realm, the Supreme Fiend Lord immediately issued an order.

“The Fourth Calamity of the human race has struck. The Fiend Realm shall now be sealed, and no one is permitted to leave until the Fourth Calamity is over.”

In the Demon Realm, all major clans and families requested their members to leave Earth and return home.

“This is the human race’s calamity. There’s no need for us to get involved.”

“We’ll wait for the Fourth Calamity to be over. Then, we’ll seize the providence.”

Prodigies and powerhouses from other worlds all immediately left the Earth.

After the loud explosion, a vast black void appeared in outer space.

The Law of Heaven and inscription shards emerged from the void. They slowly gathered together and formed several beings.

These entities took the form of male humans.

They emitted an imposing aura.

A total of about a hundred of them came into being.

These human-like beings were Heaven’s Adjudicators, created by Heaven’s Law.

During the Primeval Age, some human Ancestral Gods were defeated when they challenged the Heavenly Path. After that battle, the force behind the Heavenly Path made a few changes to Heaven’s Law. The human race’s Four Calamities were a result of these changes.

Heaven’s Law formed the Heaven’s Adjudicators.

They existed for one sole purpose—annihilating every last human throughout the universe.

After the Heaven’s Adjudicators appeared, they dispersed to different parts of the universe in search of powerful humans to kill.

These Heaven’s Adjudicators were emotionless and programmed to kill humans.

They executed their objective in an orderly manner. Their initial targets were powerful humans that had reached high cultivation ranks. They would wipe out the remaining humans after getting rid of the stronger ones.

A human who survived the Primeval Age was hidden within a powerful formation in the Fiend Realm. He was a fairly well-known cultivator from the Primeval Age and wielded great strength. He had already reached the Ninth Heaven as a Grand Emperor.

A Heaven's Adjudicator came for him as soon as the Fourth Calamity befell the universe.

They immediately engaged in a fierce battle.

At the same time, another hidden human powerhouse also set up a powerful formation in the Demon Realm. He was well-prepared for the calamity and thought he could survive the catastrophe. However, one of Heaven's Adjudicators still tracked him down.

All around the universe, several other human powerhouses were tracked down by the Heaven's Adjudicators.

James looked at the Ancestral God Rank Elixir before him.

It was the size of a basketball and was a luxurious, golden color. A few mysterious inscriptions could be seen on the surface of the Ancestral God Rank Elixir.

He stared at the Ancestral God Rank Elixir and fell into a trance. Suddenly, a figure appeared within the Ancestral God Rank Elixir.

It was none other than Thea.

James was startled to see his wife. "Thea?"

Unfortunately, Thea's face disappeared almost instantly.

"James."

In the highest seat of the main hall, Xandros said, "According to the information handed down from the Primeval Age, the Heaven's Adjudicators will seek out every powerful human scattered throughout the universe and kill them one by one.

"Now that they've already appeared, you should consume..."

Before he could finish speaking, darkness gradually enveloped the outside of the hall.

Everyone quickly rushed outside.

Black clouds loomed in the distant sky and rapidly moved toward them.

The clouds appeared above the mountain range at the next moment, and a few Heaven's Adjudicators emerged.

"Attack!"

Xandros shouted and immediately summoned his weapon. Then, he charged at the Heaven's Adjudicators.

He appeared in front of a Heaven's Adjudicator in the next moment.

The Heaven's Adjudicator let out a cold snort. Then, he raised his hand, and a powerful force burst out from his palm, knocking Xandros away.

Xandros was a powerful cultivator that had survived since the Primeval Age. He was an Eighth Heaven Grand Emperor and was considered a peerless powerhouse. However, even he could not withstand one blow from a Heaven's Adjudicator.

"Hurry up, James!"

Xandros was wounded and spat out blood. He turned to James and hurriedly said, "It'll be destroyed if a battle were to break out here in the Human Realm."

"Consume the Ancestral God Rank Elixir immediately and lure the Heaven's Adjudicators to the deepest parts of the universe. Even a second's hesitation might result in the destruction of the Human Realm."

Xandros' voice rang clearly through the sky.

James looked at the Ancestral God Rank Elixir before him. He opened his mouth and swallowed it without hesitation.

The Ancestral God Rank Elixir was huge and about the size of a basketball. A warmth immediately spread in James' mouth and permeated his body.

The warm current flowed throughout his body, giving him tremendous power.

James felt his physical body rapidly being enhanced.

His physical strength immediately reached its greatest potential, and his power increased explosively.

The Sword Path Ousia in his body also became significantly stronger and transformed into a Path Seal.

His Curse Ousia, Elemental Ousias, Yin, and Yang Ousias all went through similar changes.

James' cultivation skyrocketed to a higher rank.

In an instant, nine Path Seals appeared in James' body, boosting him into the Grand Emperor Rank.

However, it was just the beginning the elixir's miraculous effects, and his cultivation rank continued to improve.

Sensing the growing power in his body, James' eyes widened in wonder. The effects of the Ancestral God Rank Elixir created by the countless Ancestral Gods with painstaking effort in the Primeval Age were just as marvelous as he expected.

Meanwhile, the Heaven's Adjudicators started executing their tasks.

Many powerful humans were gathered in this world.

However, they were effortlessly overpowered by the Heaven's Adjudicators.

After a brief fight, Xandros, Silvester, Helvius, and Nico sustained injuries. On the other hand, the weaker Grand Emperors were killed instantly.

"Hurry up, James! We can't hold them off much longer."

Xandros was wounded all over, and his body was covered in blood.

After James consumed the Ancestral God Rank Elixir, his cultivation rank was exponentially raised. At that moment, he had already broken through the Grand Emperor Rank's Ninth Heaven and stepped into the Quasi Ancestral God Rank. He had already surpassed the highest cultivation rank permitted for humans by the Heavenly Path.

As James reached the Quasi Ancestral God Rank, many of the Heaven's Adjudicators turned their sights on him.

The Heaven's Adjudicators of the Fourth Calamity were programmed to kill the stronger humans first.

Thus, they targeted whoever was stronger and would sequentially move on to the weaker ones.

The Heaven's Adjudicators stopped chasing after the others and changed their target to James.

James knew that the Human Realm might collapse if their fight continued in this place. Using his mind, he quickly summoned a spatial passage and a void in the space before him.

He leaped into the void and disappeared from the place.

After James' vanished, the Heaven's Adjudicators present immediately chased after him.

At that moment, the Heaven's Adjudicators from all over the universe also sensed the birth of an extremely powerful human cultivator. All of them withdrew from their respective battles. After locating James, they all went after him.

James appeared in the deepest part of the universe, which lay uninhabited.

The place was dark and deathly silent, giving it an eerie atmosphere.

James floated in the cosmos and turned to the Heaven's Adjudicators chasing after him with a solemn expression.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3250-The Heaven's Adjudicators appeared one after another. Eventually, about one hundred of them appeared before him.

After James reached the deepest part of the universe, more than one hundred Heaven's Adjudicators surrounded him.

His expression became solemn upon seeing so many of them.

There was only one rank difference between a Quasi God Rank and an Ancestral God, and the strength gap between the two was not huge. However, James had to fight all of them on his own.

Moreover, the Ancestral God Rank Elixir's strength enhancements were only temporary.

Although he was unsure of how long the effect would last, James knew it would not be long.

He had to kill over a hundred of these Heaven's Adjudicators within a limited time period.

If even one of Heaven's Adjudicators were to survive, it would pose a huge threat to humanity, and the possibility of human extinction would still remain.

Suddenly, a question emerged in James' mind.

'Am I going to die here?'

James was not afraid of death. He was ready to die for his country when he joined the army.

Now, he was also prepared to sacrifice himself for the sake of humanity.

However, he was sad to have to part with Thea.

Moreover, he had yet to meet his unborn son.

The Heaven's Adjudicators surrounded James and were on their guard, choosing not to act rashly.

With a thought, James summoned the four keys he had been keeping in the Celestial Abode.

These were the keys to undoing the seal on Earth.

Rumor was that whoever unraveled the seal would obtain the ultimate providence.

James murmured, "It seems I won't get to use these after all."

He was worried the four keys would be lost after his death.

James looked into the distance and noticed powerful humans had arrived. They did not interfere and simply watched from afar.

James casually waved his hand, and a void appeared in the space. The four keys floated into the void and appeared before Xandros, novelebook who was observing from the distance.

Then, James shouted, "I don't have much to leave to my unborn son, so please pass these keys to him. Also..."

James took off the ring on his finger.

The ring was the Celestial Abode left behind by Emperor Jabari.

The Celestial Abode had been with him throughout a good part of his life. He had obtained his current accomplishments and avoided many dangers with the aid of the Celestial Abode.

The ring also floated through the void.

“Pass the Celestial Abode to Thea, and tell her it’s for our son.”

James parted his lips and his resolute voice resounded through the deepest parts of the universe.

He still had no idea that Thea had sacrificed herself to form the last part of the Ancestral God Rank Elixir. She had already merged with Ancestral God Rank Elixir he had swallowed.

At that moment, James’ strength was still steadily climbing.

He flexed his muscles and sensed the potent power flowing through his body. Then, he murmured, “So this is the strength of an Ancestral God? It’s definitely impressive. I feel like I could destroy a huge planet with a single blow.”

James’ physical strength had already reached its limit.

He had already surpassed the Demonic Lotus’ defensive power and was way beyond the Grand Emperor Rank’s Ninth Heaven. His physical strength was the Quasi Ancestral God Rank and finally surpassed the Ancestral God Rank.

The nine Ousias in his body had gone through a complete transformation and formed Path Seals. His Path Seals also reached the highest potential.

James had become an Ancestral God.

At that moment, James’ physical strength and power had reached the Ancestral God Rank.

He was surrounded by about a hundred Heaven’s Adjudicators.
