The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3251-The Heaven's Adjudicators all wielded identical weapons. In their hands were black sickles that contained destructive power.

James looked at the Heaven's Adjudicators surrounding him and said softly, "Make your move."

At that moment, one of Heaven's Adjudicators stepped forward.

He looked to be in his 30s and wore a black robe. Looking at James, he said, "James Caden, do you insist on defying the Heavenly Path? Are you resolved to protect humanity?"

"Why else would I be doing this?"

The Heaven's Adjudicator attempted to dissuade him. "Standing against a Macrocosm Ancestral God will only end in tragedy. You've got great potential and are an exceptional prodigy that's only ever appeared once throughout the ages. If you concede to us and comply with the Heavenly Path, you'll acquire the protection of a Macrocosm Ancestral God. If you join us, your strength will only be second to a Macrocosm Ancestral God."

Although these Heaven's Adjudicators were formed by shards of the Heavenly Path, they were not arbitrary existences. When the Heaven's Adjudicators of the Primeval Age died, their soul sigils were collected by the Heavenly Path and fused them to itself. The Heavenly Path did so to resurrect them during the human race's Fourth Calamity and deploy them to exterminate humanity.

All of them retained the memories from their previous lives.

All of them were fiercely loyal to only one master—the Macrocosm Ancestral God, Radomir Theophanes.

Naturally, they were also aware the human Ancestral Gods of the Primeval Age had refined an Ancestral God Rank Elixir to counter Heaven's Adjudicators.

"The the Macrocosm Ancestral God, Radomir? Haha."

James sneered and said, "He's a degenerate that killed his master and usurped the position to control the universe. To eliminate dissidents, he created Heaven's Adjudicators that cannot distinguish between right or wrong."

One of the Heaven's Adjudicators retorted. "What do you know, brat? You've never been in such a position before. If you have the chance to, you'll understand that it's necessary to make sacrifices for the greater good."

James smiled faintly in response. He refused to quarrel with the Heaven's Adjudicators. He telepathically summoned the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword.

He gripped the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, which emitted a dazzling purple glow. The Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword lit up the surrounding space.

James could sense the immense power within the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, which matched his current strength.

"Is this the true power of an Ancestral God Weapon?"

James held the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword and sensed its potential. As he did, he became more assured of his victory.

"Go ahead."

James pointed his sword at his opponents, and Sword Energy erupted from the blade, causing ripples in his surroundings. His Sword Energy caused cracks to form within the space around them.

"Since you're so ready to die, we'll just help you fulfill your wish, James."

"Get into position, men!"

As one of the Heaven's Adjudicators' barked an order, the others quickly began to organize themselves.

James looked around him and noticed the strange position of the Heaven's Adjudicators' legion. They constantly shifted in various directions.

Despite reaching the Ancestral God Rank, he could still not determine the precise location of each of the Heaven's Adjudicators.

He realized it was due to their advanced spatial techniques.

Although his Ousias had evolved into Path Seals and reached their maximum potential, he could only do so by relying on the Ancestral God Rank Elixir.

He still could not comprehend Path Energy.

"Huff."

James took a deep breath.

He gripped his sword tightly and prepared to fight with all his strength. Even if this battle were to result in him pushing his absolute limits or even dying, he was still determined to kill them.

James roared, “Ahh!!!”

His voice shook the silent outer space. It contained great energy and caused powerful sound waves to spread across the universe. Some uninhabited planets in the distance were destroyed upon being struck by the sound waves.

As these planets exploded, meteorites were cast about the surroundings.

Melinda watched solemnly from afar.

“Will you succeed, James?”

“If the past is right, and my experiences weren’t simply imaginary, you’re definitely going to win. You’ll wipe out these Heaven’s Adjudicators and give humanity a chance to prosper.”

Melinda murmured to herself.

She had reincarnated from the Primeval Age.

She knew James from back then.

James used to be an outstanding powerhouse during the Primeval Age. The Ancestral Sword Master, Ancestral Talisman Master, and even the Five Great Races were nothing when compared to James.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3252-In the deepest part of the universe, James floated in the starry space surrounded by more than a hundred of Heaven’s Adjudicators.

These Heaven’s Adjudicators mastered one of the Five Great Paths—the Space Path.

Their bodies constantly shifted through space, and James could not pinpoint their locations despite possessing the strength of an Ancestral God.

James frowned.

Suddenly, he felt a spatial fluctuation in front of him. James immediately reacted and thrust the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword forward. Terrifying power erupted with just one move.

The space before him split open, and a Heaven's Adjudicator emerged.

The Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword struck against a Scythe of Judgment.

Boom!!!

A powerful force erupted from weapons colliding.

As a result, a massive black hole appeared in the area. It was enormous and about the size of a major planet.

James was knocked away by the force.

Although he had the power of an Ancestral God, he had never possessed such extraordinary strength before. Thus, he had a hard time handling it properly.

James was blasted away, and the Blood Energy in his body gurgled violently.

The Heaven's Adjudicator that struck him also was blasted away.

Unlike James, he was unscathed after the confrontation.

He was a Quasi Ancestral God and was not so easily injured.

"What strength!"

James was unable to resist the force and stumbled backward. Cracks formed beneath his feet.

After finding his footing, James took a deep breath. One Heaven's Adjudicator was already a challenging opponent. Fighting against a hundred of them at once was going to be arduous.

This was the toughest fight in his entire cultivation journey.

Nonetheless, he was fearless in spite of the odds.

The fighting spirit in his heart blazed proudly.

At that moment, the space around him suddenly tore open, and dozens of Heaven's Adjudicators emerged, each launching fierce attacks at him.

James sensed their presence and quickly channeled all his strength. At that moment, his aura jumped to its highest point.

Powerful energy burst out from his body and formed an invisible magnetic field.

However, a Scythe of Judgment struck the magnetic field and shattered it instantly.

As soon as the magnetic field was broken, James felt a terrifying force rush toward him. Unable to withstand it, James was cast down.

Suddenly, another Heaven's Adjudicator appeared below him and swung his Scythe of Judgement, unleashing an abnormal light.

James teleported away and dodged the attack.

The battle between James and the Heaven's Adjudicators broke out in the deepest part of the universe.

James was struggling against his many opponents as he could not fully wield the power in his body. In just a short moment, he was overwhelmed and forced to rely on defensive manoeuvres. During this period, he had no choice but to keep retreating.

The Heaven's Adjudicators formed a bizarre formation around him.

They flitted all around the space, and easily avoided James' attacks. Despite having battled for a while, the Heaven's Adjudicators were still unscathed. Meanwhile, James was in a tough spot.

His hair was messed up, and blood trickled down his lips.

His Blood Energy roiled violently after being struck by such powerful force, and it caused blood to gush out of his mouth.

Far away, the human powerhouses watched the battle happening in the universe's depths. They all had grim expressions after seeing that James being cornered by his opponents.

Powerful creatures all over the universe also watched the fight closely.

Although they were separated by an extremely long distance, they could still sense the powerful aftermath jolting the universe.

The battle continued fervently.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3253-While fighting, James gradually gained control of strength in his body.

After half a day, he was finally able to wield it properly.

Every move he made after that contained the explosive power of an Ancestral God and was incredibly destructive.

Slowly, he turned the tides.

Although there were over a hundred Heaven's Adjudicators, they were afraid to attack James head-on and launched sneak attacks while moving around the surrounding space.

"The Space Path is really unpleasant to fight against."

James was getting frustrated by his opponents.

Suddenly, he felt a mysterious force seep into the air.

Shortly after, he was immobilized.

It felt like time had stopped, or more precisely, someone had specifically stopped his time.

As soon as he was immobilized, about eight Heaven's Adjudicators teleported in front of him and swung their Scythe of Judgments at James in unison.

Even though James' physical strength was at the Ancestral God Rank, the Heaven's Adjudicators were Quasi Ancestral Gods formed by Heaven's Law and possessed terrifying power.

The scythes slashed at James, cutting into his physical body.

His skin split where he was cut.

"Dispell!!!"

James roared furiously and urged the power in his body, dispeling the time confinement skill placed on him.

He attempted to use his power to heal himself. However, the injuries he sustained were not just ordinary lacerations. The injuries inflicted by the Scythe of Judgements contained the Heavenly Path's power. Although he gained the power of an Ancestral God, he could not treat his injuries.

“Damn it.”

James’ face darkened.

Suddenly, the 108 Infinity Steles hidden within his body materialized.

The Infinity Steles darted out at Heaven’s Adjudicators.

Infinity Steles were treasures that had existed since the beginning of heaven and earth.

The power of the Infinity Steles depended on the user’s strength. Now that James was an Ancestral God, the Infinity Steles could unleash devastating strength equivalent to an Ancestral God’s.

The Infinity Steles bombarded the surrounding area and shattered the space around them, making it impossible for the Heaven’s Adjudicators to conceal themselves.

Immediately afterward, James summoned the Five Elements of Genesis.

The Elemental Power within his body flowed out and merged with the Five Elements of Genesis to form an Elemental Wheel.

James controlled the Elemental Wheel with his consciousness and enlarged it to the size of a planet.

The Elemental Wheel dashed through the area, cutting the space in half.

Terrified of the Infinity Steles and Elemental Wheel, the Heaven’s Adjudicators dodged James onslaught continuously.

Boom!!!

The Elemental Wheel whirled around and continuously split open the space. One of Heaven’s Adjudicators failed to dodge in time and was struck by the Elemental Wheel.

He perished instantly and dispersed into the shards of the Law of Heaven, which drifted to the distance.

The shards gathered together and reformed the Heaven’s Adjudicator’s body.

In the distance, the human powerhouses smiled upon seeing James unleashing his hidden treasures.

“The Five Elements of Genesis is truly destructive.”

“Yeah. Although Heaven’s Adjudicator is a Quasi Ancestral God, his body was immediately destroyed.”

“Even though he can resurrect himself from the Law of Heaven’s shards, nove.lebook his power will be significantly weakened.”

“The Infinity Steles are also powerful. If the Heaven’s Adjudicators were to be struck by it, they would definitely sustain substantial damage.”

The humans eventually became more hopeful as they saw James’ counterattacks.

They were looking forward to James vanquishing the Heaven’s Adjudicators. After the fight, humanity would have overcome the Fourth Calamity and finally be safe.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3254-James was forced to use the Infinity Steles and Five Elements of Genesis when he was cornered.

Finally, he gained the upper hand against the Heaven’s Adjudicators.

None of his opponents dared to challenge him and were forced to temporarily step back.

James finally had an opportunity to take a breath.

The Infinity Steles flew back to James and whirled around his body.

James sat in a lotus position, using his power to treat his wounds.

However, the Heavenly Path’s might was terrifying, and his powers could not heal much of the injuries. It would take him a long time to recuperate and heal himself.

Right now, he did not have the luxury of time.

Suddenly, James felt a fluctuation in the space around him. Shortly after, a Heaven’s Adjudicator charged at him.

An Infinity Stele immediately came crashing in his assailant’s direction.

The Heaven’s Adjudicator held onto a Scythe of Judgment, and a gleaming, black Sword Light emerged. It slashed down at the Infinity Stele.

The Infinity Stele was knocked sideways and blasted away, the force causing the space around it to distort.

Swoosh!

A Sword Light burst out and headed straight toward James as it passed through the gaps between the Infinity Steles revolving around him.

James raised the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, and summoned Sword Energy to rush forth.

The Sword Energy shot out and smashed into the Sword Light, causing an explosion that released highly damaging aftershocks.

“Damn it!”

James was enraged.

The Heaven’s Adjudicators had a very high comprehension of cultivation and had mastered various Paths.<sup>novelebook</sup> In contrast, James knew very little of Paths and was practically just getting started.

Despite having tremendous power in his body, he could not use it efficiently.

With a thought, James summoned countless blades of Sword Energies in the surrounding space.

The Sword Energies raced at the Heaven’s Adjudicators.

However, the Heaven’s Adjudicators already had knowledge of the Ancestral God Rank Elixir and knew that its effect would not last long.

Thus, they planned to prolong the fight as much as they could.

If they could drag it out until the Ancestral God Rank Elixir’s power was exhausted, they could easily kill James.

After getting rid of James, there would be no human that could stand in their way, and they could expediently wipe out the human race.

James also understood the dilemma he was in and was getting frantic.

He kept smashing the Infinity Steles into the space around him, causing black holes to form.

A few Heaven's Adjudicators dodged, while some used their Scythe of Judgements to repel the Infinity Steeles' onslaught.

James kept using the Infinity Steles and Elemental Wheel to bombard the Heaven's Adjudicators.

Although his weapons were powerful, the Heaven's Adjudicators were also strong and had mastered the Space Path. Thus, they could easily move through space and dodge the attacks.

Moreover, the Heaven's Adjudicators also mastered the Time Path. In critical situations, they could manipulate time to avoid lethal blows.

After fighting for a while, James' injuries became more numerous. Meanwhile, the Heaven's Adjudicators were still unhurt.

Seeing this, Melinda pursed her lips tightly together.

She knew James would lose if the fight continued the way it did.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3255-Suddenly, Melinda disappeared into thin air.

The next moment, she appeared in the Aqua Realm.

Melinda stood before a black palace somewhere in the Aqua Realm.

"Heaven's Adjudicators have descended, and humans are now facing the Fourth Calamity. James has consumed the Ancestral God Rank Elixir and gained the power of an Ancestral God. He is currently fighting against Heaven's Adjudicators.

"Despite possessing the power of an Ancestral God, James still lacks a deeper understanding of Cultivation Paths. If he continues fighting like this, he'll die.

"Are you really not going to show yourself?"

Melinda's voice echoed in the desolate area.

However, no response came from the black palace.

Melinda waited in place.

After a while, the black palace's gates creaked open. A woman about 180 centimeters tall with jet-black hair walked out in a black dress.

She had beautiful facial features and gave off an extraordinary impression.

The woman stood at the palace gates and looked at Melinda.

Melinda said, "You refused to participate in the war back then and chose to seal yourself away here. I know you did so in anticipation of this day. Without your help, no.vele.book James will die, and the entire human race will be wiped out.

"Although you're one of Heaven's Adjudicators, you're also a human. Moreover, you're James' daughter. No matter what it is, shouldn't you help him?"

The beautiful woman who walked out of the palace was Winnie.

Years ago, Winnie chose to leave Earth and left on a journey to train herself.

Although it had only been a thousand years since she left, her experience amounted to much more than that. Coincidentally, she also time-traveled back to the Primeval Age.

In the Primeval Age, she improved herself spectacularly and became a true Heaven's Adjudicator.

She was stronger than other Heaven's Adjudicator, as she was an Ancestral God.

Winnie looked at Melinda and said, "As a Heaven's Adjudicator, my duty is to fight injustice. It's the fate of the human race to go through this calamity."

Melinda scoffed. "That's ridiculous. All this talk about fate is nonsense. Radomir changed the rules of the Heavenly Path. If not because he secretly made changes to how the Heavenly Path operates, humans would've never had to go through the Four Calamities!"

Hearing this, Winnie could only keep silent.

"Do you know your mother has already sacrificed herself to transform into the Ancestral God Rank Elixir?" asked Melinda.

Winnie nodded. "I'm aware. From the moment a portion of my mother's soul was taken away from her, I knew such a day would come. However, this does not affect her true self. Besides, even if I don't act, my father will resolve everything himself. He still has to look for my mother.

"Are you really going to watch him die?" asked Melinda.

Winnie sighed and said solemnly, "I've already made an oath to the Heavenly Path not to interfere with the human race's calamities. Even if I hadn't made that oath, there's nothing I can do either."

Melinda questioned her. "Why not?"

Winnie replied, "You used to be an Ancestral God as well. You should understand that everything has been planned by Radomir. Do you really think Radomir is that ruthless and wants to get rid of humans to stabilize his position?"

"What else could it be for?" Melinda said coldly.

Winnie replied, "The root of everything is your father. He wasn't a progressive thinker. Although there were many Ancestral Gods in the Primeval Age, novelebook it was the limit that one could reach, and none could become a Macrocosm Ancestral God."

"If the living beings in this universe aren't allowed to become Macrocosm Ancestral Gods, we won't stand a chance against other universes.

"Once other universes strike at us, the Twelfth Universe will be destroyed. When a time like that comes, it won't end at the extinction of human beings, but our entire universe will cease to exist. The Twelfth Universe will be destroyed.

"I trust that my father will survive this disaster.

"If he can't survive, then everything in the Primeval Age was just an illusion. The Primeval Age shouldn't have existed, our universe's Heavenly Path would've collapsed, destroyiing our universe itself."

Melinda said, "That's why you must take action to prevent all these from happening. You need to intervene so James doesn't die. Otherwise, all our efforts would've been for naught."

Hearing this, Winnie fell into deep thought.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3256-Winnie was an Ancestral God and had insight into many future events.

She knew James would not die and would surely win the fight.

However, Melinda's words made her doubt herself.

Melinda mentioned that James would die if she did not take action. If that came to pass, the humans would fail to survive the Fourth Calamity, novelebook and everything would cease to exist.

The Heavenly Path would collapse, the Twelfth Universe would fall, and everything that happened would be just like a dream.

However, Winnie would face severe consequences if she were to intervene, and it would not just be as simple as death.

Melinda looked at Winnie silently.

After a while, she said, "Whether you help him or not is up to you."

Melinda turned around and disappeared from the palace gates in a flash.

At that moment, the fight between James and the Heaven's Adjudicators was still ongoing in the deepest part of the universe.

James had unleashed all his secret weapons.

The nine Path Seals in his body exuded powerful strength. The Infinity Stele and Elemental Wheel's bombardment forced the Heaven's Adjudicators to keep retreating.

However, none of the Heaven's Adjudicators died during the lengthy battle.

If the fight were to drag out, the Ancestral God Rank Elixir's power would wear off and James would definitely be killed. If he were to perish, humanity would be doomed to the Fourth Calamity.

During the battle, James understood the seriousness of the situation.

He already knew the Heaven's Adjudicators would be strong, but their powers had far exceeded his expectation. Despite fighting for so long, he still had not managed to kill any of them.

"It's going to be bad if the fight continues like this."

James was anxious and momentarily distracted.

Taking advantage of this, the Heaven's Adjudicators confined him.

James easily broke free using his strength. Unfortunately, he had been struck by a few dozen Scythe of Judgements when he was bound.

His body was covered with more and more wounds.

Since they contained the power of the Heavenly Path, he could not immediately treat them, and it would take him a long period of recovery to heal himself.

James cursed furiously, "Damn it."

He stared at one of the Heaven's Adjudicators, and lobbed an Infinity Stele at him.

The Heaven's Adjudicator had great speed and could disappear between spaces since he had mastered the Space Path.

James continued to use the Infinity Steles to demolish the surrounding space. The space around him was immediately shattered, and the Heaven's Adjudicator was exposed.

The moment James saw him, he used all the Infinity Steles to strike him.

Each piece of the Infinity Steles contained powerful strength.

The Heaven's Adjudicator continuously dodged the attacks.

Suddenly, the Elemental Wheel struck at him.

The Heaven's Adjudicator raised the Scythe of Judgement, and a dazzling Sword Light burst out to deflect the Elemental Wheel.

At that moment, James acted.

Holding the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, he appeared before the Heaven's Adjudicator with a flash.

The Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword impaled the Heaven's Adjudicator's body.

A powerful Sword Energy exploded within the Heaven's Adjudicator, destroying his body.

The Heaven's Adjudicator dispersed into shards of Heaven's Law.

James roared defiantly, "Die!!!"

The Elemental Wheel spun out and crushed the shards of Heaven's Law.

Struck by the crushing force of the Elemental Wheel, the shards of Heaven's Law disappeared without a trace.

James finally killed one of his numerous opponents.

While this happened, the other Heaven's Adjudicators were still constantly attacking James.

They unleashed all kinds of Supernatural Powers, and launched consecutive attacks at James.
