The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3321-Upon arriving at the peak, they saw a long queue. Many living beings were in the queue to register their personal information. So, James and Letitia joined the queue as well. After a few days, it was finally their turn. After registering their information, the disciples of the Path Sect gave them a token and informed them to return and await further notice.

So, James and Letitia left the Path Sect temporarily.

Holding the token in her hand, Letitia was filled with consternation. Though she had cultivated three Ousias, only her Sword Path Ousia was considered powerful. With her strength, she might not make it into the top three.

Worried, she looked at James and asked, "Do you think I can enter the top three and secure a spot?"

James shrugged and said, "How would I know? I don't know your strength nor the other cultivators' strengths."

Hearing this, Letitia fell silent.

Soon, they returned to the inn.

Upon returning to the inn, Letitia returned to her room and regulated her condition in preparation for the coming competition.

In the blink of an eye, three months passed, and the day of the competition arrived.

James and Letitia arrived at the Path Sect and waited in the region of the Divine Rank's Third Consolidation.

The place was full of people. Through James' Divine Sense, he realized that there were more than a billion people here. Stunned, he looked at the beautiful woman beside him and said, "There are so many people out there. Billions of people are going to compete for just three spots. The battle will be fierce."

Anxiously, Letitia said, "All of them are confident in their own strength. They only came because they believe they have a chance to secure a spot."

"Are you worried?" James asked.

Letitia nodded and said, "I guess so. If the Sacred Blossom blossoms tens of thousands of years in the future, I would certainly be able to secure a spot after I have accomplished the Third Consolidation for all my Ousias. However, this is how it is. I guess I can only leave the outcome to fate."

Letitia was not confident. Though the spots of the Grand Priests and Priestesses of powerful sects had already been determined behind the scenes, this universe was huge and full of different worlds. There were powerful sects and unrivaled prodigies on every planet of every world. Among them, there would certainly be those who had cultivated two or three Ousias.

“Everyone!”

At that moment, a voice boomed in mid-air.

Everyone turned around and looked at the sky. A green light appeared in mid-air and transformed into an elderly man wearing a green robe. The elderly man exuded a sage-like aura.

“A Quasi Ancestral God?!”

Sensing the cultivation base of the elderly man, James could not help but exclaim. As expected of the Primeval Age, a Quasi Ancestral God would appear out of nowhere. In the Apocalypse Age, they would be unrivaled beings who could sweep through the universe with ease.

“Welcome to the Path Sect. Each of you is at the Divine Rank’s Third Consolidation. Meanwhile, this rank only has three spots. The rules of this competition are simple. You will enter an Interdimensional Realm and fight endlessly until only three remain standing. Upon entering the Interdimensional Realm, crush your token if your life is in danger, and you’ll be automatically transported back here.”

The elderly man’s voice boomed.

Hearing this, many took a deep breath,

Then, the elderly man casually waved, and a light appeared from his sleeves, forming an illusory image. Through the image, some mountains and rivers could be seen.

Swoosh!

Many people soared to the sky and entered the illusory image and the Interdimensional Realm.

The so-called Interdimensional Realm was a realm created by extremely powerful figures. They were the sole rulers of this world.

James glanced at Letitia beside him and said, “Let’s go. Stick close to me and you’ll definitely make it into the top three.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3322-With James' strength, he could help secure a spot for an additional person in this competition easily.

Hearing this, Letitia asked excitedly, "Really?"

"Of course," James replied.

"Thank you, then." Letitia was full of gratitude.

Then, they soared to the sky and entered the Interdimensional Realm, a realm created by extremely powerful figures with rules and order. The realm was normally used by their disciples to train inside.

The Interdimensional Realm was huge.

James appeared on a mountain of the Interdimensional Realm. Though the place was huge, there were billions of cultivators at the Divine Rank's Third Consolidation participating in the competition. So, figures could be seen all over the place.

The rules of this competition were cruel. Billions of participants would fight to the end to secure a spot to observe the blossoming of the Sacred Blossom.

Concealing oneself in the Interdimensional Realm was futile. That was because there was no time limit in the Interdimensional Realm, and the control of time rested in the hands of the creators. Since they created the rules, they naturally controlled the flow of time. Even if tens of thousands of years passed here, only a few months would have passed in the outside world.

The moment James and Letitia appeared, they were attacked.

Swish!

A materialized Sword Energy swept toward them.

"Watch out!"

Letitia reacted in time and yelled. Then, a sword appeared in her hand, and she slashed, creating a wave of Sword Energy.

The Sword Energies collided.

Boom!

Immediately, the earth shook.

As the Sword Energy's power permeated the air, the surrounding mountains began to disintegrate. The one who attacked was a Sword Cultivator. Seeing that Letitia was able to block his attack easily, he realized that she was a troublesome character. So, he did not linger for long and hurriedly fled.

Holding the sword in her hand, Letitia looked at James and asked, "Are you alright?"

James smiled faintly and asked, "What do you think?"

Realization dawned on Letitia's face, and she said with an awkward look on her face, "I forgot that you possess strength even greater than mine. In that case, let's hurry and wipe everyone out."

James had not shown his strength for a very long time now. Stretching, he said smilingly, "Let me borrow your sword."

Letitia handed him her sword.

This was a pink sword, on which mysterious sword-fighting inscriptions were inscribed. This was an Imperial Weapon. Imperial Weapons were considered extremely rare in the Apocalypse Age. However, in the Primeval Age, Imperial Weapons could be found anywhere.

"Your Sword Path is at the Third Consolidation. I wonder what's your comprehension of the Five Great Sword Realms?" James asked while holding the sword.

"Not too shabby, I suppose." Letitia was proud of herself.

After learning countless sword techniques, she merged them all and accomplished three Consolidations. As such, her comprehension of the Sword Path was extremely high. James had no idea what level was Letitia's Sword Path. Though he wanted to test things out, he gave up on the thought.

Swoosh!

At that moment, an extremely powerful force came rushing toward them.

James lifted his head to see a huge palmprint sigil in the air. As huge as a mountain, the palmprint sigil came crashing down, carrying destructive power.

He glanced at the palmprint sigil and smiled faintly. Then, a wave of Sword Energy materialized and collided against the palmprint sigil. Immediately, the palmprint sigil shattered.

In the distance, a man hurriedly made his escape after spurring out a mouthful of blood.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3323-James' body flickered. He chased after the man. The next moment, he appeared behind the man, the pink sword that he held now hung over his back. Facing this living being, James was disinterested in resorting to violence. If he was, the person would no longer be standing in front of him.

"Leave while you still can," he ordered coldly.

A chill ran down the man's spine. James was too fast. Way too fast for him to react. How was this speed possible for someone of the Divine Rank? He wiped off the cold sweat on his forehead. Then he shattered his token, disappearing from the Interdimensional Realm.

Letitia rushed towards James. The shock on her beautiful face was unconcealable, as she said, "That was so fast. If you attacked me, I probably would have died before I could even come out with my next move."

James let out a faint smile. A living being of the Divine Rank fighting against him was nothing short of provocative. Putting his physical strength aside, with the ten Ousias alone, there was no opponent among those of the Divine Rank that merited James' attention.

Many living beings inhabited this mountain range. Every encounter between them led to violence without a word spoken. James observed his surroundings and sensed that there were at least a thousand beings who were in battle.

James returned the sword to Letitia. Subsequently, he summoned his mind to make a flash of Sword Energy appear before him. This materializing Sword Energy expanded continuously, transforming immediately into a sword as long as a hundred meters.

"Go, now," Waving his hand, James made the hundred-meter sword float into the air. Once the sword flew into the atmosphere, it expanded incessantly, forming an enormous sword that was ten thousand meters long. This ten thousand-meter sword crossed the void, emanating a power that made flesh crawl. As a result, all living beings in the area sensed the unsettling power. They froze in place under its oppressive nature, as if any movement would result in them being slashed apart by this long sword materialized from Divine Energy.

Letitia was stupefied, and asked, "J-James, it can't be true that you've just attained the Divine Rank's Second Stage. She simply could not believe it. How could someone of this level produce such petrifying power? Using merely the power of one sword, he has exceeded the upper limits of the Divine Rank. Even someone of the Quasi Emperor Rank's First Tribulation might not be able to withstand this attack of his.

“Everyone, leave now if you don’t have a death wish,” his voice roared into the horizon, inciting fear in all living beings within the area. They sensibly shattered their tokens, disappearing from the Interdimensional Realm. Once there were no longer any living beings within the area, James stored the long sword that materialized from Sword Energy.

Gesturing a thumbs-up, Letitia said in awe, “T-that’s amazing.”

James responded with a mere faint upturn of his lips. This was but the tip of the iceberg of the Swordsmanship he understood. If it were not because he had concerns of his own, the number of tricks he had up his sleeve could wipe out all living beings in the Realm in a split second.

That, however, required the use of Curse Magic. When he was in the cemetery, he researched Curse Magic for countless years. His comprehension of Curse Magic expanded. He even cultivated Dark Ousia by completing the Dark Scripture using Curse Magic.

He must not casually execute Swordsmanship, for all Sword Cultivators of the current era knew Swordsmanship. That was not the case for Curse Magic, since the secret art of the Ancestral Talisman Master was generally not taught to outsiders.

“Let’s go,” James said with a faint smile. This challenge was like a vacation to him. No living beings in the Realm could harm him.

Letitia was glad. James’s display of his appalling power meant that she would be able to get into the top three and watch the Sacred Blossom, the most mystical thing in the world. Each time there was a Sacred Blossom, a powerful figure would master a signature martial art skill. She earnestly hoped that this time it would be her turn. If she succeeded, acquiring world fame would be indefinite.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3324-The more Letitia thought about it, the more excited she became. She has always believed that she had potential. The only thing she was lacking was an opportunity. Now that her chance had appeared, she was determined to become a cultivator whose name would spread far and wide.

Her heart fluttered as she thought about this.

James was not pressured at all by the battle among the Divine Ranks this time. Throughout this journey within the Interdimensional Realm with Letitia, he produced an aura so strong that each living being he encountered would obediently leave the Realm.

In the outer realm, an Elder of the Path Sect was intensely observing every happenstance within the Realm. He was a Quasi Ancestral God who was in charge of the fights among the Divine Rank's Third Consolidation. His attention was focused on James.

'This youngster is quite amazing. I wonder whose disciple he is,' the elder, called Xbalanque Darby, thought to himself. James' success led him to be interested in the youngster. In his view, he must be a disciple of an extremely powerful figure, as he would not be able to emanate such a strong aura. This however conflicted with the cultivation base he examined before during the registration stage. There could not be someone who had exceeded the Divine Rank's Third Stage attending a fight of that level.

He observed James intensely. He realized that James merely exerted his aura each time instead of displaying his true abilities in order to scare other living beings away.

"Interesting," he spoke as he caressed his white beard. "This youngster should be fighting the Grand Priests and Priestesses of the powerful sects instead."

James had no idea that he was being observed, not that it would have mattered much to him. He journeyed through the realm, chasing people away using his aura.

Time passed by silently, and James found himself in the realm for a decade. Ten years within the Realm was not equivalent to ten years in the outer realm, for time here was controlled. Only one month had passed in the outer realm.

Throughout this decade, innumerable living beings were eliminated. Only a few hundred remained from the initial pool of one billion. They were scattered in each corner of the realm, all of them being opponents who have reached the Divine Rank's Third Stage. Nevertheless, they did not actively expose themselves but rather hid in the dark. They were waiting for other living beings to massacre others so that they could benefit from the final win.

James was slightly bored now that he has been in the realm for ten years.

"Let's end this," he murmured. With a flicker, his body appeared in the Realm's sky. He exerted Soul Power, letting the Power disseminate across the entire realm. Since his physical strength reached the Grand Emperor Rank's Fifth Heaven, his soul that merged with his body raised his Soul's power to that of his body.

Using the Soul Power he currently had, covering the entire Interdimensional Realm was an easy job done. With his soul, he could clearly calculate how many living beings remained in the realm.

At this moment in time, all the living beings hiding in the realm sensed this alarming power heading their way, oppressing each of them. They felt so sick that even breathing became difficult.

“Leave while you can,” James’ voice reverberated next to the ears of these living beings. Obediently, they all shattered their tokens, disappearing from the realm.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3325-Very quickly, only James and Letitia remained in the Interdimensional Realm. James’ body descended from the sky. As he landed on the ground, he smilingly looked at Letitia, “All done. Now that there are only the two of us left here, we’ll be able to watch the Sacred Blossom should there be no mishaps.”

Gratitude showered Letitia’s beautiful face.

James’ display of power was getting stronger. She was very thankful that she did not take heed of her father’s words. Otherwise, she could have lost much providence and fortune.

Shish! A flash of light materialized, followed by an Elder appearing before James.

James recognized the man as the Quasi Ancestral God from before. Facing the Elder, James respectfully greeted him.

Xbalanque Darby caressed his white beard while looking at James. With a simple glance, he said, “Very impressive. While your rank isn’t high, your physical strength and Soul Power are striking.”

James humbly thanked Xbalanque, “That’s very kind of you to say.”

“I mean my compliment,” Xbalanque asked further, “I’d like to ask, if I may, who is your mentor?” Xbalanque believed that only an extremely powerful figure could produce such a disciple whose physical strength and Soul Power were comparable to that of the Grand Emperor’s Fifth Heaven despite having only reached the Divine Rank. James was indeed a force to be reckoned with, a figure that one only meets every ten thousand years. Generally, a person’s rank and physical strength were equivalent to each other. Even if a person’s physical strength was slightly stronger, there would not be too big of a difference as compared to a person’s own rank.

However, James defied this pattern, and that compelled Xbalanque to enquire further.

James answered sheepishly, "I don't belong to any sects or Paths. I'm merely a rogue cultivator."

Upon hearing this, Xbalanque's eyes flickered with excitement as he walked towards him and asked enthusiastically, "Really?"

"Yes." James nodded.

Xbalanque could no longer hide his wide smile. But he immediately realized that he was acting too casually and returned to his stern face. He said with a serious tone, "The Path Sect, while not being the top sect in the universe, is still number one in the Katun Realm. We also own the most mystical Sacred Blossoms in the universe. Have you thought of joining my Path Sect?"

"Hmm..." James hesitated slightly.

Seeing his hesitation, Xbalanque resumed his persuasion as he said, "I promise you that once you join us, you can choose anyone as your teacher."

Letitia, who was standing beside him, was so excited that her entire body was shivering. While not the top sect in the universe, the Path Sect was one of the most powerful networks of all. Thanks to the Sacred Blossom, the Path Sect had many ties to the other sects. Once they joined, there could only be exponential success ahead of them.

She tugged James' sleeve, signaling to him to accept the invitation so he would not miss this rare opportunity.

James was cognizant that the Path Sect was very powerful, but he had no plans to join any sects. With the foundation he had, he did not need to join any sects. He just needed time to become a reputable powerful figure.

"Thank you so much for your invitation, but I have no plans to join any sects for the time being," he rejected politely.

"Don't you want to give it more thought?" Xbalanque was determined and persuaded further, "As long as you join the Path Sect and become our disciple, you'll be able to watch the Sacred Blossom from now on. Even during the withering of the Sacred Blossom, you'll be allowed to watch. The maturing of the Sacred Blossom will produce tens of thousands of Paths. Their marks would be left in the surroundings, thereby becoming the best site to comprehend the Path."

"Thank you so much for your kindness," James rejected the offer once more.

With regret, Xbalanque said, "Since you insist, then never mind. But if you change your mind in the future, the Path Sect will always welcome your arrival."

Xbalanque knew that James was a genius, a true genius. It would not take long for James' name to spread throughout the universe as the most appalling and talented powerful figure of them all.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3326-Although James refused to join the Path Sect, Letitia's eyes were still directed at Xbalanque, full of hope. The three Ousias she had cultivated were enough to qualify her for any sect in the universe and to become the disciple of the Superorthodox faction. However, the selection process to become the Inner Disciples of powerful figures was much more difficult. Since their energy is limited, they were very strict with the criteria of their disciples.

She looked at Xbalanque and asked hopefully, "Would I do? I'm a person who cultivated three Ousias. Since I'm also a force to be reckoned with, can I join the Path Sect?" She was clearly eager to be a part of the sect.

Xbalanque took a look at her and asked, "You've cultivated three Ousias?"

"Yes," Letitia answered earnestly.

Xbalanque caressed his white beard while he spoke, saying, "Impressive... However, our next disciple recruitment date is in another thirty thousand years. If you really want to join the Path Sect, do come. You will be able to be admitted by any Elder in the Sect now that you've cultivated three Ousias."

"Thirty thousand years?" Her disappointment could not be hidden from her eyes.

She thought with the three Ousias she had acquired, the sect would exempt her from the entire recruitment procedure. She did not want to wait for that long.

But since Xbalanque said so, she did not push further, but rather replied with a smile, "Alright, then I'll come in another thirty thousand years."

Xbalanque nodded gently. While looking at the two, he said, "Now that there are only the two of you remaining in the Interdimensional Realm, based on the rules, both of you are qualified to watch the Sacred Blossom."

"Thank you so much," Letitia said with gratitude.

Xbalanque said, "Let's leave."

Subsequently, with a wave of his hand, Letitia and James left the Realm. The two stood out among the millions upon millions of living beings, thus being awarded the seat to watch the Sacred Blossom.

After they left the Realm, the two were arranged to live in the Path Sect temporarily until the Blossoms bloom. The Path Sect was a hill. On the peak of the hill, there are many independent buildings built specifically by the Sect to observe the figures that come to watch the Blossom each year.

James and Letitia also earned themselves a chateau with a garden. While James was sitting on a chair in the garden, Letitia's ecstasy was so overwhelming that she danced around.

"James, thank you so much. If it weren't for you, I wouldn't have the opportunity to watch the Sacred Blossom. I will definitely cherish the opportunity and seize the chance to understand more cultivation methods, building my reputation far and wide."

This was what Letitia has been waiting for all this while. She had worked very hard for this day to come.

James, who was sitting next to her said with a smile, "Then I must congratulate you first."

Letitia sat beside him, her adorable face as red as a tomato.

"Right," James recalled something and asked, "Is there someone called Thea Callahan in this world?"

James came to the Primeval Age to look for Thea. It was the Ancestral Gods of this Age who took away some of Thea's soul and used it to make the Ancestral God Rank Elixir. This meant that Thea Callahan must have been an extremely powerful figure. Otherwise, the remnants of her soul would not have qualified to become a part of the Elixir.

"Thea Callahan... No, I've never heard of her," Letitia contemplated and said, "This world is too big, there's always a possibility that there's a powerful figure that I don't know of."

"Maybe she's not even called Thea Callahan," James said.

Thea Callahan was only the reincarnation of a soul. Thea's past life, or her original self, may not even be called as such. James had no idea what it was called now.

He was sure that if he had a drawing of Thea, perhaps Letitia would recognize her immediately.
