The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3327-He immediately pulled out some paper currency from the Celestial ABode and drew a picture of Thea before handing it over to Letitia. He asked, "Have you seen her before?"

Letitia accepted the picture and scrutinized it.

Immediately, she had the shock of her life.

"Isn't this Bria Callahan?"

"Bria Callahan?" James froze and asked, "Do you know her?"

Letitia returned the picture to James and said, "I know her, but she doesn't know me."

James asked, "Who is this... Bria Callahan?"

Letitia explained, "There are many powerful families in the universe, and among them are the Calalhans, who are some of the most distinguished families in this world. Bria Callahan is truly a powerful figure. As a Caelum Ancestral God, she's only a step away from becoming a Macrocosm Ancestral God. According to the strength ranking, she's in the top ten in this universe."

James listened intently. Hearing this, he was now sure that Bria Callahan was Thea's past and original self.

"Top ten of this universe? Sounds impressive," James murmured.

If he went to the Callahans and claimed to be Bria's husband, he would probably be beaten to a pulp. Now, he should not be hasty. Now that he knew about Thea's whereabouts, everything was much easier now.

"Which realm are the Callahans located in?" James asked.

Letitia said, "Dunnetsk in the Divine Dimension of the Human Realm."

"Oh," James said.

"Why?" Letitia looked at him and asked, "You know her?"

"How should I put this?" After some thought, James said, "Just like you, I know her. But she probably doesn't know about me."

"James." Letitia said with a serious look on her face, "Bria Callahan is a stunning beauty well-renowned throughout the world. Not only that, she possesses unparalleled strength. As such, she has many suitors asking for her hand in marriage. You don't stand a chance."

Letitia could tell that James had a crush on Bria.

James remained silent as he contemplated his next course of action. He was contemplating a way to approach Bria and tell her that he was her husband. Not only that, they even had two daughters and a son.

After a whole day, he had no idea what to do. He sighed in frustration and stored the picture away. He believed that he would need to gain a strength that was equal to Bria before she would accept him.

"Caelum Ancestral God..."

James clenched his fists and murmured with firm determination, "I will do my very best. One day, I will cross into the Ancestral God Rank and become a Caelum Ancestral God."

Letitia had no idea what James was murmuring about. She did not ask.

James sat on the chair. After a deep contemplation for a whole day, he took a deep breath and looked at Letitia, asking smilingly, "Letitia, what's your purpose of cultivation?"

Letitia froze and said, "Me? To become a well-renowned figure, of course!"

"Just that?"

"What else?" Letitia returned the question, "What about you, James?"

"Me..." After some contemplation, he said, "At the beginning, it was to protect my homeland. Then, I wanted to ensure that my family stayed safe. Now, I just want to find my loved one."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3328-Now, James had nothing else he wished for. He only hoped to find Thea and to save Winnie who was trapped by the Heavenly Path. First, however, he needed to cross into the Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank or become the controller of the Heavenly Path. No matter which path he took, it would be extremely difficult.

James' words made Letitia freeze. She never expected him to be a man with a story. Then, the two remained in the courtyard and waited. James continued to use Dark Power to suppress and rejuvenate the Heavenly Path's injuries inside his body.

In the blink of an eye, the day of the Sacred Blossom's blossoming had arrived.

Knock! Knock! Knock!

A knock came on the door.

Letitia hurriedly stood up and rushed to the door.

Outside stood a disciple of the Path Sect who said respectfully, "The Sacred Blossom is about to blossom. The Sect Elder sent me here to inform you that the admission has begun."

Those who were able to spectate the Sacred Blossom were the elites of the elites. So, the disciple acted extremely respectfully toward Letitia.

"Alright, a minute please."

Then, Letitia turned around and called out to James, "James, today's the day!"

James stopped cultivating and stood up. After making a stretch, he walked toward them. Under the guidance of the disciple, the two left the mountain and headed into the depths of the mountain. When they arrived at the end of the mountain, a mist appeared out of nowhere. This was a Superformation. The disciple guided the two across the mist.

After traversing through the mist, a magical scenery appeared before them. A bizarre phenomenon was occurring before their eyes in mid-air. A bud was rooted in the sky, radiating a colorful light and exuding immense power. The bud was about to bloom. Meanwhile, there were many seats available at the venue.

The disciple brought James and Letitia to a region far away from the bud—the outer perimeter of the seats—and reminded them, "These will be your seats. The Sacred Blossom will completely bloom in three months. From the blossoming to the withering, please do not make a ruckus to avoid interrupting the others."

"Got it," Letitia said excitedly before taking a seat. James followed suit. Meanwhile, the disciple turned to leave.

In the meantime, many people were brought to their respective seats.

James scanned his surroundings. There were many people in the area, and their seats were divided into regions. The area at the front was where the Sacred Blossom could be most clearly viewed. Meanwhile, he could not completely see the Sacred Blossom from his seat. James had a profound interest in gazing upon the Sacred Blossom. He was curious to know if the Sacred Blossom would perform the various Paths the moment it blossomed. What a shame that he could have the full view of the Sacred Blossom.

“This seat sure isn’t the best, huh.” James was displeased.

Letitia said, “Be grateful, James. The Sacred Blossom only blossoms once every Epoch. Each time, the seats would be limited. Be thankful you still have a seat.”

She pointed at the core region in front of them and said, “The region at the front is predecided by the powerful figures of the universe. Even if they are preoccupied with other matters and couldn’t come, the seats won’t be open for anyone else.”

James whispered, “Since there are so many vacant seats, why won’t they open them to the public? This is so confusing.”

Letitia said, “That’s because those seats belong to the powerful figures such as the Ancestral Sword Master and the Ancestral Talisman Master by default. Even if they are absent, they won’t give the seats to others. They are signs of authority and power, after all.”

“Alright, then.”

James sighed.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3329-Since rules were rules, he had no plans to disrupt order. Besides, he did not possess the strength to do so anyway.

As he sensed the region, he realized there was an immensely powerful energy here. Besides that, there were mysterious sigil shards in the air appearing and disappearing.

Letitia explained, “When the Sacred Blossom blossoms, various Paths will be performed. The power of the Paths will remain in this space and form unique sigil shards. This is the perfect place to comprehend the Paths. Even when the Sacred Blossom isn’t going to blossom, many powerful figures will gather here to comprehend the Paths. So you have much to lose by turning down the offer to join the Path Sect.

“Is that so?”

James scratched his nose.

“Yes.” Letitia nodded.

There was still time before the Sacred Blossom blossomed. So, James sat in a lotus position at his seat and conversed with Letitia.

Letitia pointed to an elderly man in a core seat in mid-air and whispered, "That's the Ancestral Talisman Master. He's one of the most powerful figures in the universe. His strength should be in the top five."

"The Ancestral Talisman Master?"

James froze.

He had seen the Ancestral Talisman Master before. Back then when he obtained the Imperial Jade Seal of Sangria, he opened the Space-Time Portal and conversed with him. James had no idea whether that was a message from the Ancestral Talisman Master from the past or that he had traveled to the Primeval Age. Back then, the more he tried to discern the Ancestral Talisman Master's appearance, the more blurry his appearance was.

Now, he stared at the Ancestral Talisman Master, who was wearing a black robe, from behind. Though he wanted to use Divine Sense to discern his appearance, the space here was bizarre. Since his Divine Sense could not be used, he could not see the Ancestral Talisman Master's looks.

Letitia whispered, "In this universe, Hadad Theophanes is the number-one figure. As for the numbers two to five, that's up to debate. That is because they have never truly fought against each other before. However, some analysts were able to evaluate their ranking based on their battle outcomes. One of the most distinguished is Radomir Theophanes, an Inner Disciple of Hadad. As a Caelum Ancestral God, he controls the Heavenly Path and possesses immense power. Then, there is the Ancestral Talisman Master."

She glanced at the Ancestral Talisman Master and said in excitement, "I guess my journey here was not in vain."

"Next on the list is the Ancestral Sword Master, who controls Mount Sword God, the place we will be heading to. Let's not forget about the Ancestral Elixir Master, the primogenitor of all alchemists, and the Ancestral Needle Master, who are both in the top five. These powerful figures are all at the peak of the Caelum Ancestral God Rank. The ranking I provided just now is not in any order, by the way."

James nodded slightly.

These figures were definitely in the top five. After all, there would be more than five people on the list if there was an official ranking.

“Besides that, there are the Five Ancestral Masters of Heaven and Earth who control the Five Elements of Genesis. They should be in the top ten. Also, Bria Callahan is also among the top ten contenders. In any case, all of them are at the peak of the Caelum Ancestral God Rank and are only a step away from becoming a Macrocosm Ancestral God.

Hearing this, James scratched his nose. These figures seemed to be related to him in some ways. He obtained the inheritance of the Ancestral Sword God and the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword. Then, he obtained the Jade Seal that recorded Curse Magic from the Ancestral Talisman Master. Followed by that, he obtained the Ancestral Elixir Master's Crucifier and Exalter. Last but not least, he obtained the Five Elements of Genesis from the Five Ancestral Masters.

Thinking about this, James was feeling rather confident about himself. He murmured, “Who would have thought that I would have such an intimate relationship with these powerful figures?”

At that moment, a disciple brought a woman to the central region.

Upon seeing the woman, James froze.

“Melinda...” he called out.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3330-A disciple was leading a woman to her seat at the passageway before James. The woman was young, about twenty years of age. Wearing a pink dress, she exuded the aura of a pure and innocent young lady.

James immediately recognized her. She was Melinda Theophanes.

Seeing that James had a faux pas, Letitia glanced at him and asked, “You know her?”

Upon hearing someone calling out to her, Melinda turned around and met James' gaze. She paused for a brief moment and contemplated. Realizing that it was an unknown person, she paid no heed to James and continued on her way. Under the guidance of the disciple, Melinda arrived at the central region, where she could have a full view of the Sacred Blossom.

James took a deep breath. He never thought he would be able to encounter Melinda here. This was not the first time he saw Melinda. In fact, he was well-acquainted with her. However, apparently, this was Melinda's first time seeing him.

Upon being reminded of Melinda's weird actions, James scratched his nose and murmured, “Could it be that there'll be something between the two of us?”

Then, he laughed out loud.

“What’s wrong, James?’ Letitia asked.

“It’s nothing.” James collected himself and said smilingly, “Do you see that woman in the pink dress?”

“Yeah, is something the matter?’ Letitia asked.

James said, “She’s no ordinary woman. Her name’s Melinda Theophanes. She’s the only daughter of Hadad Theophanes, the ruler of the universe. As the princess of Mount Heavenly Path, she’s a person of high status.”

“Is that so?”

Letitia looked at James strangely.

Since when did the Macrocosm Ancestral God have a daughter? Why had she not heard of rumors before? Besides, how did James know that she was the daughter of the Macrocosm Ancestral God? Were they acquainted?

“You know her?” She looked at James in confusion.

James smiled.

How should he explain this? He met Melinda not at this age but rather in the distant future. However, the Melinda of this age did not recognize him. Back then, he asked her about the events that occurred in the Primeval Age, but she refused to answer him. What relationship would he have with Melinda at this age? What role would he play?

James tried sensing Melinda’s rank. Since Melinda did not intentionally conceal her rank, James realized that she was merely a Quasi Emperor at the Ninth Tribulation. She had yet to cross into the Grand Emperor Rank. To his understanding, Melinda had crossed into the Ancestral God Rank in the Primeval Age. It appeared that he had arrived at a time period quite far from her reincarnation. At this point in time, Radomir had yet to become the Macrocosm Ancestral God, betray Mount Heavenly Path, and mass-produce Heaven’s Adjudicators to remove his political opponents. The Ancestral Gods of the Human Race had yet to rise up in arms. There should be some time left before the demise of this age.

Since Melinda was here, James wanted to go and greet her. However, Melinda did not recognize him. If he acted recklessly, he would be treated as a madman. Besides, as the daughter of the Macrocosm Ancestral God, she must have had powerful guards near her. If he approached her without any warning, he could be annihilated by the bodyguards hidden in the shadows.

He fell into deep thought.

“James?” Letitia’s voice came.

James collected himself and asked, “What’s wrong?”

Letitia looked at him and asked, “Who are you? Where are you from? You seem to have many stories to tell.”

“Ahem.” James scratched his head awkwardly. “You misunderstand, I’m just an ordinary guy.”

Then, he stood up and headed to the central region.

“What are you doing, James?” Letitia tried to stop him.

“Stay put.” After speaking, James walked straight ahead.

Well, Letitia would not dare move about recklessly even without James’ instructions. Only prodigies were able to arrive at this place. Apart from that, there were many Grand Priests and Priestesses of some extremely powerful sects here. She could not afford to offend them.
