

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3351

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3351-Everyone was interested in watching the battle, particularly to witness the Callahans' eldest daughter in action.

Rumor had it that the Callahan sisters were exceptionally beautiful. Therefore, everyone was looking forward to getting a glimpse of the eldest young lady.

James touched his chin and murmured, "This sounds interesting. It might be my chance to get close to the Callahans. However, the battle is between Ancestral Gods. With my current strength, I'll probably die if I were to get caught up in the battle."

He wanted to watch the fight and use the opportunity to approach the Callahans. However, he dismissed the idea after remembering how low his cultivation rank was.

A fight between Ancestral Gods was terrifying. Previously, he had consumed the Ancestral God Rank Elixir and temporarily possessed the power of an Ancestral God. Thus, he was well aware of how powerful they were. Their every attack contained destructive force that could destroy planets.

After giving up on the idea, he tried to think of other ways of approaching the Callahans and meeting Thea.

"I heard the Callahans are recruiting guards."

"I'd like to try out for it, but the Callahans are a major family and have stringent requirements for their guards. I don't think I meet those prerequisites."

Once again, James overheard the other customer's conversations.

After learning that the Callahans were looking for new guards, he was immediately intrigued.

He began to ask around about the recruitment process.

After questioning a couple of people, he learned about the requirements to become one of the Callahans' guards.

The Callahans were hiring a large number of guards and servants.

Many rogue cultivators without a sect were trying to enter the Callahan household to become part of a major family.

James felt it was an opportunity for him to enter the Callahans by becoming a servant or guard. He might have a chance to meet Thea.

After a brief thought, James dismissed the idea again.

It was almost impossible for a lowly servant or guard to meet esteemed powerhouses like the Callahan sisters.

However, he did not give up and temporarily remained in Callahan City.

While staying in the city, he began looking for a way to meet Bria.

Three months later, James still had not come up with an idea.

Unexpectedly, a piece of news began circulating the city.

"I heard the Callahans' eldest daughter was defeated and severely injured in the fight against Benji."

"The Callahan's eldest lady lost?"

"Yeah. Benji had been in seclusion for more than an Epoch and was already a Terra Ancestral God. His cultivation rank far surpassed hers. I also heard Benji was trying to fight the second daughter now and has plans to take all her sisters on. Eventually, his last opponent will be Bria.

"The Callahans' eldest daughter was gravely wounded and is in critical condition. Even a Caelum Ancestral God like Bria is unable to treat her wounds. Rumors are that the Callahans have already gone to seek the Ancestral Needle Master's help. However, his whereabouts are unknown. It's unlikely that the eldest daughter will survive before they bring the Ancestral Needle Master to her."

The news spread throughout Callahan City.

After James heard about the news, a thought sprang to his mind.

James felt this was his chance.

They were looking for the Ancestral Needle Master?

He had obtained the Ancestral Needle Master's inheritance and even possessed Crucifier, which could save the Callahans' eldest daughter. If he saved her, he might have a chance to get close to Bria.

James immediately rushed over to the Callahans' residence without any hesitation.

The Callahans lived in a mountain range outside of Callahan City.

The mountain range was extraordinary and had countless Primordial Pulses beneath it. Thus, it was an excellent location for cultivating.

Soon, James appeared outside the Callahans' mountain gates.

In front of the gates was a huge stone tablet with two large words engraved on it—
Callahan Residence.

Recommended Novels

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3352

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3352-The two words were magnificent and contained mysterious Path Energy. It was evidently carved by a powerhouse.

James strode over to the gate.

“Stop!”

A loud shout boomed down at James.

Immediately afterward, several of the Callahans' guards walked out and obstructed his path.

About seven or eight of them stood in his way. One of them glanced at James and said, “The Callahans' residence lies beyond this point. Outsiders aren't permitted to enter.”

Knowing that every family and sect had their own rules, James did not argue with the guards. Besides, he was not strong enough to force his way through.

He parted his lips and said, “I heard the Callahans' eldest daughter had been injured. I came to treat her wounds. Quickly report my visit. If you are found delaying her treatment, you won't be able to bear the consequences.”

The guards were not members of the Callahans and were mere guards recruited into the family.

Although very few dared to act against the Callahans, these guards handled many trivial and troublesome issues.

The Callahans' guards were at relatively high cultivation ranks and could immediately sense James' cultivation rank with a glance. One of the guards immediately sneered at him, saying, “You want to treat the eldest daughter? Are you insane, young man? Hurry up and get lost.”

The eldest young lady was injured by a Terra Ancestral God, and even Bria was unable to treat her wounds. How could a low-ranked cultivator like James save her?

These guards did not believe him.

To them, James was here to bother them.

James was sensible and understood they would not believe him.

Therefore, he began devising a plan to cause a commotion to attract one of the Callahans' attention.

"I'm telling the truth."

James said earnestly, "I really came to treat the eldest young lady. I heard the Callahans have sent people to find the Ancestral Needle Master. To tell you the truth, I'm a direct disciple of the Ancestral Needle Master. I'm fully capable of treating her wounds."

"You're a disciple of the Ancestral Needle Master?"

The guards looked at James doubtfully.

James replied. "Yeah. My teacher is in seclusion and won't be leaving any time soon. He specifically sent me here to treat her. Hurry and announce my arrival. Also, get someone with more authority here."

James made up some nonsense.

He planned to lie his way through as much as he could. If it did not work, he would have no choice but to fight.

Since the matter was related to the Callahans' eldest daughter, the guards did not dare to act rashly either. One of the guards replied. "Wait here. I'll go report your visit immediately."

James waited patiently outside the Callahan Residence's mountain gate.

After patiently waiting for a while, the guard returned with a beautiful young woman.

The woman wore a pink dress and looked to be in her 20s.

She had a slender figure and a dainty face. She exuded an innocent demeanor.

The guard addressed her respectfully. "Ms. Lanathia, this man claims to be a direct disciple of the Ancestral Needle Master."

The woman was none other than Lana Callahan, the sixth sister among the Callahan daughters.

The Callahans called her Lanathia. Outside, she went by the name Lana Callahan. As for her real name, she never revealed it to others.

Lana's beautiful eyes scanned James. She asked doubtfully, "Are you a disciple of the Ancestral Needle Master?"

"Yeah." James knew the woman was most likely one of the Callahan sisters.

Their eldest sister was a Mystical Ancestral God. Rumors were that the Callahan sisters were beautiful and talented. Thus, he was sure the woman before him was also an Ancestral God.

Lana stared at James and said, "I don't have time to waste with your nonsense, brat. Did you think I'd believe you just because you claim to be the Ancestral Needle Master's disciple?"

Recommended Novels

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3353

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3353-James summoned Crucifier using his mind, and it floated before him.

James was worried that summoning it would cause Karma Power to strike him. Thus, he quickly put it away after showing it to Lana.

Then, he looked at Lana and asked with a smile. "Do you believe me now?"

Lana nodded lightly and said, "That's indeed the Ancestral Needle Master's Crucifier. It's the weapon he used to make a name for himself. Please come inside."

Lana made a welcoming gesture and invited James into the Callahan Residence.

James followed her and walked through the winding mountain paths.

During this period, James looked at Lana intently.

Lana had a perfect figure, and her long black hair fluttered behind her as she walked. James could also smell a faint fragrance coming from her body.

James looked away and asked. "I heard the guards calling you Lanathia just now. Are you the sixth Callahan daughter?"

"Yes, I am. What's the matter?" Lana did not turn around to answer him.

James asked. "How would you like me to address you? Should I call you Lanathia, Lana, or do you prefer Ms. Lanathia?"

"Suit yourself."

Lana did not care about these formalities.

"Okay. Then I'll call you, Lanathia."

James chuckled and said, "You and your sisters are very talented. Apparently, the strongest among you is Bria. I heard she became an Ancestral God in merely one Epoch and is one of the universe's top ten powerhouses."

"That's right." Lana nodded.

James asked. "What is Bria's real name? Is it perhaps Thea?"

Hearing this, Lana turned around and looked at James in astonishment. She asked, "Her name is supposed to be a secret. Only a few core members of the Callahans know it. How did you find out?"

Her response made James confident that Bria's actual name was Thea.

James was unsure of how to answer Lana's question. After a brief thought, he replied lightly. "It was a lucky guess."

Lana cast a suspicious glance at James but did not pursue the topic further. She turned around and continued to lead the way.

James caught up with her and asked, "Is Thea home right now?"

Lana turned around and said coldly, "Her name isn't for you to use as you please. You can address her as Bria or Briana. That's what outsiders call her. Never speak her real name. Its use is exclusive to only one person."

James' face darkened, and he asked. "Who might that be?"

Unfortunately, Lana refused to answer.

James frowned.

Exclusive to one person?

Had Thea already found herself a man?

Thinking of the possibility, he clenched his fists. He caught up with Lana and asked, "Does Briana already have a partner?"

Lana simply replied. "No."

"Then why can only one person use her real name? Who's this special person?"

Lana remained silent. After a while, she said, "It has nothing to do with you. You're here to treat my elder sister, aren't you? You should refrain from poking your nose into our family affairs. It won't do you any good."

Seeing that Lana was unwilling to disclose much, James refrained from prying any further.

James followed Lana deep into the mountain range where the Callahan Residence was located.

Finally, they arrived on a mountain that was abundant in Empyrean Spiritual Energy. A grand manor was situated atop the mountain and was surrounded by flowers.

James could smell the pleasant aroma of the flowers as he got close.

All sorts of exotic flowers and herbs were planted around the manor. Some Spiritual Butterflies danced around the flowers, which was a lovely sight.

Lana pointed to the manor ahead and said, "That's where my eldest sister stays. If you can't treat her, I'll turn you into mincemeat."

Recommended Novels

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3354

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3354-Lana showed James no mercy.

She would never have personally gone out to meet James if not because her eldest sister was severely injured and desperately needed treatment.

James gritted his teeth and said, "Let's put that aside for now. Bring me to her so I can check on her condition."

"Follow me."

Lana walked ahead into the courtyard. She pushed open the gate and walked toward a room within the manor.

James followed behind her.

Lana pushed open the door.

The room layout was homely, but the view was interrupted by a curtain in the center of the room, obscuring a bed behind it.

A woman was seated in a lotus position on the bed.

Lana pulled the curtain open, walked to the bed, and called, "Danielle."

James followed and felt slightly embarrassed to see her clad in a sheer, white outfit.

The woman's face was pallid. She slowly opened her eyes and looked at Lana.

"It's you, Lanathia."

Then, the woman looked at James and asked. "Who might this be?"

Lana immediately said, "He's a disciple of the Ancestral Needle Master and came to treat your injuries."

After the introduction, Lana turned to James and said, "I still don't know how to address you."

James parted his lips and replied. "My name is James Caden."

Lana pointed to her sister and said, "This is my eldest sister. Hurry up and examine her."

James walked over to the bedside and said, "Please allow me to first examine your condition."

The Callahans' eldest daughter nodded lightly, then stretched out her hand. Her white and slender arm appeared before James.

James immediately checked on her pulse and his True Energy flowed through her veins. In just a short moment, James confirmed the severity of her injuries and frowned.

Standing to the side, Lana said, "Danielle was injured by Benji Lowther. He is also a prodigy born in the same generation as us. Despite being a talented cultivator, he had always been overpowered by me and my sisters.

"He has constantly fought against us.

"Benji uses a terrifying power called Destructive Power, and he walks the Path of Destruction.

"The Destruction Path is very powerful. My sister was afflicted with Destructive Power, and even Bria is unable to remove it from her body. The Destruction Power is slowly eating away at her physical body and soul. Fortunately, our elder sister is formidable. Otherwise, she would've died long ago."

James nodded.

He had also sensed the power in her body.

Although his cultivation rank was low, he could clearly sense the Destructive Power in Danielle's body.

Lana was right about her sister surviving purely due to her strength. Had she not been an Ancestral God, Danille would not have been able to suppress the Destructive Power.

Danielle interjected and said, "The Destructive Power in my body is akin to maggots, stubbornly clinging to my flesh. No matter what method I use, I can't rid myself of it. Even if I were to abandon my current body and construct a new one, it wouldn't be effective as the Destructive Power has also tainted my soul."

Lana said, "The only person I can think of that can save Danielle is the Ancestral Needle Master. Crucifier is a powerful weapon that has existed since the beginning of the universe. Such a transcendental weapon must be able to dispel the Destructive Power in Danielle's body."

James was unsure of whether he could treat Danielle.

Although Crucifier could treat her condition, treatment had to be administered by a powerful individual. The Destructive Power in Danielle's body was terrifyingly strong. Meanwhile, James had a very low cultivation rank and the treatment could rebound if he were not careful.

At his cultivation rank, he would die if he withstood the rebound during the treatment.

"I can use Crucifier to try to treat her, but I have one request."

James glanced at Lana and Danielle.

Recommended Novels

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3355

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3355-James replied, "I'd like to see Thea, I mean, Bria. Please ask her to come in person to perform the treatment with Crucifier. Danielle was injured by a Terra Ancestral God. My cultivation rank is too low to perform the procedure. If I'm not careful, I'll die if it backfires. I don't want to take any risks."

Danielle's eyes widened in surprise. "You want to see Briana?"

Lana replied, "Not a chance. Briana is currently in seclusion and isn't able to come here. Pass Crucifier to me, and teach me how to use it. I'll perform the treatment."

"That's not possible."

James refused her instantly.

Since it was an opportunity to meet Thea, James did not want to give up so easily.

He traveled to the Primeval Age just to find her.

Although he was confident Bria was Thea, he wanted to confirm it with his own eyes.

Lana silently considered his proposal. After a while, she said, "Briana really has secluded herself at the moment. Please wait here. I'll go look for her and see if I can get her to leave seclusion."

James made a gesture for her to proceed.

Lana did not say anything more and left the room.

James casually waved his hand, and a nearby chair flew over. He sat down and looked at Danielle sitting in a lotus position on the bed.

He scanned her frail figure.

Danielle wore a sheer dress that accentuated her perfect figure. She also had a gorgeous face.

"You like what you see?"

Danielle looked at James and smiled teasingly.

At the sound of her comment, James returned to his senses. Then, he said earnestly, "Nice to meet you, Danielle. Let me introduce myself. My name is James Caden."

Danielle nodded lightly and said, "I never expected that the Ancestral Needle God had a successor. He even passed Crucifier to you."

James was not interested in what she was saying.

He could tell Danielle was easier to talk to compared to Lana.

"I heard from Lana that the use of Thea's name is restricted, and only one man can speak her real name."

"Yeah." Danielle looked at James and asked with a smile. "How did you know her name is Thea? Did Lana tell you?"

James did not reply to her question and asked. "Who's this man? Is he Thea's lover?"

Danielle looked at James and laughed. "You're lucky there aren't outsiders here. If word got out that you're addressing her as Thea, you'll probably end up a corpse in some barren mountain very soon."

With slightly furrowed brows, James asked. "Is it that bad? Could you tell me more?"

Danielle was very easygoing and did not intend to hide the truth. She asked. "Do you know about Ancestral God Herschel?"

"Ancestral God Herschel?"

James was taken aback.

He had only been in the Primeval Age briefly and knew a few famous powerhouses in this age. The name Danielle uttered was one he had not heard before.

"Who's that? Is he powerful?"

Danielle rolled her eyes and said, "Are you really the Ancestral Needle Master's disciple? How can you not know about Ancestral God Herschel?"

James said embarrassedly, "I've never heard of him before. Please do enlighten me."

Danielle smiled and said, "You're lucky you're so handsome. I'll tell you since you're curious."

James immediately perked up.

He wanted to know more about Ancestral God Herschel, sensing that he might be his rival in love.

Recommended Novels

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3356

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3356-"Ancestral God Herschel's real name is Herschel Theophanes. He's from Mount Heavenly Path. I won't go into detail about his identity, or else I might scare you."

Danielle began to share a bit of information about the Ancestral God Herschel.

James caught onto some crucial information and asked. "He's from Mount Heavenly Path, and his surname is Theophanes. He must be related to the Macrocosm Ancestral God, Hadad Theophanes, right? Is he Hadad's son?"

Danielle smiled in response.

James frowned impatiently and said, "Don't tease me. Answer the question."

Danielle chuckled. "You sure are hot-headed. Herschel is a powerhouse that has been well-known for many Epochs. He has reached the true pinnacle of every cultivation rank and is incredibly powerful."

"The pinnacle of every cultivation rank? That's quite the feat."

"Although he is only a Terra Ancestral God, he is extremely strong and can even take on a Caelum Ancestral God.

"Briana and Herschel's relationship goes way back. I won't be able to explain everything to you, but, in short, Herschel likes Briana. However, she doesn't return his feelings."

James heaved a relieved sigh.

Danielle said, "No man in this world dares to court Briana because of Herschel."

Her words reassured James.

He was not worried actually worried about Herschel.

While James spoke with Danielle, Lana finally arrived at Thea's seclusion sanctuary.

Inside a courtyard house on a mountain, a woman wearing a blue dress sat on a mat as powerful energy emerged from her body.

It was none other than Thea. To be precise, it was Thea's main body. The Ancestral God Rank Elixir was made with a trace of her soul extracted from her main body.

At that moment, Thea's eyes were slightly shut.

Suddenly, a figure appeared in her mind.

The figure was facing away from her. No matter how hard she tried to see his face, his facial features were always obscured.

Thea abruptly snapped back to reality.

Her chest heaved upon snapping out of the thought.

She murmured, "It's him again."

The figure would occasionally pop into her mind since she was a child. In the past Epochs, the man's figure had appeared several times.

However, she could never clearly see the man's appearance.

"It has already been about an Epoch since he last appeared in my mind. I thought he would never appear again, but he did.

"Who exactly is this man? Why has he shown up in my thoughts ever since I was a child? Every time I'm about to forget about his existence, his image pops up again."

Thea frowned.

The man in her thoughts had been a mystery to her for ages.

Even after she became a Caelum Ancestral God and one of the strongest people in the universe, she still could not figure out his identity.

"Briana!"

A voice came from outside the room.

Thea got up, opened the door, and walked outside.

Lana immediately walked over and said, "You're already out of seclusion? Great! Come with me! We need to save Daniel"

Taken aback, Thea asked, "What happened?"

"I'll tell you on the way."

...

James chatted with Danielle for a while.

Although Danielle was an Ancestral God, she was not conceited. James had fun talking with her.

Recommended Novels

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3357

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3357-Soon, Lana returned accompanied by a beautiful woman.

Knock, knock, knock.

The sound of knocks resounded, then the door swung open. Two women walked into the room. James immediately stood up and turned to the two women.

His gaze was drawn to the woman standing behind Lana.

James felt as if his heart had stopped beating upon catching glimpse of her.

'It's her! It's really, Thea!'

James was ecstatic.

Immediately afterward, his heart began to race. Suddenly, his emotions overwhelmed him. He walked over and called out. "Thea."

Before he could get close to Thea, he was knocked away by a mysterious force. His body slammed on the ground, and he spat out a mouthful of blood.

Thea wore a blue dress. She was tall and slender. Her gorgeous face, however, was cold. She looked at James, who was coughing up blood on the ground.

"Who's he?"

Thea asked coldly, evidently repulsed by James' impulsive behavior.

Lana immediately replied. "He's a disciple of the Ancestral Needle Master. His name is James Caden. He's here to treat Danielle's injuries."

Thea already knew about how her eldest sister had gotten injured.

She ignored James and walked over to check on Danielle's condition. Her brows furrowed as she said, "It's indeed the power of the Destruction Path. The only thing that can expel the Destructive Power is Crucifier."

James got back to his feet.

Although he had been wounded, he was not bothered.

James looked at Thea with a bright smile.

He finally found her! His effort to travel from the future to the Primeval Age was not in vain.

James was relieved to see that Thea was well and alive.

Thea looked at James, stretched her hand, and said, "Hand it over."

Startled, James asked. "What do you mean?"

Thea said coldly, "Crucifier. Give it to me."

James took out Crucifier without hesitation and handed it over to Thea. After passing it over, he suddenly remembered something and hurriedly said, "Wait, Thea. I think it's best you return it to me."

"Who are you to call my name?" Thea glared at James icily.

James immediately felt imprisoned by a mysterious force and was immobilized.

His body felt as if it was being torn apart.

"Briana, don't be rude." Danielle promptly reminded her.

Only then did Thea back off.

James was relieved.

Thea held Crucifier and ordered him. "Tell me how to use it."

At that moment, a powerful force struck her.

The sudden crushing force startled Thea.

A mysterious halo suddenly appeared around her body to resist the force. Then, she quickly threw Crucifier back to James.

As soon as Thea tossed Crucifier back to James, the Karma Power immediately shot at James.

James was injured by the force and spat out blood, falling back to the ground. He quickly put away Crucifier and sat in a lotus position to heal his wounds.

The Karma Power caused the Heavenly Path's injuries to resurface. James was in excruciating pain, and his forehead was slick with sweat.

"Karma Power." Danielle and Lana uttered simultaneously and turned to Thea, asking. "What's going on?"

Thea shook her head and replied. "I don't know either. However, I can tell that the Karma Power struck because of Crucifier."

Recommended Novels

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3358

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3358-James had predicted Crucifier would invoke karmic wrath.

One Crucifier already existed in this Primeval Age. The one James possessed was from the future.

The Karma Power caused the Heavenly Path's wounds in his body to open up again. James immediately felt excruciating pain rack his body. His face was distorted from the pain, and his forehead was drenched in sweat.

"Injuries from the Heavenly Path?"

The three people present were startled when they sensed the injuries in James' body.

The sisters were Ancestral Gods and were very familiar with injuries caused by the Heavenly Path.

They were considered the most potent powerhouses at their rank. Moreover, they were no longer bound by the Heavenly Path. However, they would not dare defy the Heavenly Path.

To their knowledge, only a few people could cause injuries using the Heavenly Path's Power.

One was a Macrocosm Ancestral God.

Second was Radomir, who controlled the Heavenly Path.

Third was the Heaven's Adjudicators.

The three sisters exchanged glances.

James sat on the floor in a lotus position, urging his Dark Power to suppress the Heavenly Path's injuries. After a while, the pain subsided significantly after he barely managed to suppress the injuries.

He got up from the floor and wiped the sweat off his forehead.

Thea stared at him and asked. "What happened? What called down the Karma Power? Also, why do you have injuries dealt by the Heavenly Path?"

Lana and Danielle also stared at James curiously.

James' main purpose was to see Thea. He never planned on saving Danielle from the beginning. Now, he had confirmed that Thea was safe and sound.

He scratched his head embarrassedly, not knowing how to explain himself.

"Many things happened in the past... You probably won't believe me even if I explained myself, so forget it. Since there's nothing else to discuss, I'll take my leave first."

After speaking, James turned around and attempted to leave.

Thea immediately moved in front of James and blocked his path, saying coldly, "Why are you leaving without an explanation?"

Lana also interjected, saying, "Only Crucifier can dispel the Destructive Power in Danielle's body. If you leave now, what will we do about Danielle's condition?"

James said helplessly, "Actually, I'm from the future and I obtained my Crucifer at some point there. When I traveled here, I brought it with me. There is already a Crucifier in this age. Thus, when I took mine out, it lured Karma Power here."

"You..."

Thea looked at James in disbelief.

From the future?

How could he be from the future?

Thea could sense that James' cultivation rank was relatively low and that was only in the Divine Rank. He was not even a Quasi Ancestral God, so how would a weakling like him be able to travel through time to this age?

James shrugged and said, "I already said you wouldn't believe me, but you insisted on an explanation."

Danielle said, "Since he wants to leave, let him go. There's no need to force him. Life and death are written in the stars. With my strength, I can still suppress the Destructive Power for now. Suppressing it for a few more Epochs shouldn't be a problem."

James looked at Danielle gratefully.

Thea asked. "Then what's with the injuries dealt by the Heavenly Path in your body?"

James looked at Thea. A portion of this woman's soul used to be his wife. He wanted to address her lovingly, but he knew this Thea would surely rip him apart for that.

He replied honestly. "Would you believe me if I said I was injured by the Heavenly Path while traveling through the River of Time to come to this age?"

"That's ludicrous."

Thea did not believe him and said, "Your cultivation rank is so low. How can survive being injured by the Heavenly Path?"

Recommended Novels

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3359

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3359-James said helplessly, "There's nothing I can do if you don't believe me. I've already told you everything I can. Are you still planning on keeping me here?"

Thea looked at him coldly and asked. "If you didn't come here to save Danielle, then what's your purpose for coming to the Callahan Residence?"

James looked at Thea. After a brief thought, he said, "I came to see you."

"Pfft!"

Lana immediately laughed and said, "You better stop with the nonsense, James. No one can save you if you get on Briana's nerves."

James could sense the hostility coming from Thea, so he naturally stopped talking.

"Let him go, Briana." Danielle suggested once more.

Thea replied firmly. "No. How can we let a suspicious man with an unknown background leave after he intrudes our home? I'll lock him up for now. I'm going to find the Ancestral Needle Master and bring him here to ask how they know each other."

Danielle could not change Thea's mind.

Lana glanced at James. Her expression conveyed she could not help him either.

James turned to Danielle, but she also had a helpless expression.

Thea shouted, "Guards!"

The door immediately swung open, and a few guards entered the room. They said respectfully, "What are your orders, Ms. Briana?"

Thea ordered them. "Lock him up in the dungeon."

Danielle could not stand her behavior and said, "You don't have to lock him in the dungeon. Let him live in a separate house for now. As long as he doesn't leave the Callahan Residence, we can deal with him after finding the Ancestral Needle Master."

After a brief thought, Thea said, "Alright, then."

After that, James was taken away from the room.

Initially, he was going to be imprisoned in the dungeon. However, Danielle pleaded for him to be detained in a separate manor within the Callahan Residence. A powerful formation was set up outside the courtyard, and he could not escape with his current strength.

Therefore, James had no choice but to temporarily stay in the Callahan Residence.

Although Thea locked him up, he was not angry. His goal for traveling to the Primeval Age was to find Thea anyway.

Now that he got to see her, everything was worth it.

After being locked up inside the courtyard house, James was at ease.

On the other hand, Thea left the Callahan Residence after James was locked up. She planned to find the Ancestral Needle Master herself and request for him to save Danielle.

The other Callahan members were curious about James' identity, so they used their vast intelligence networks to inquire about James.

Previously, James made a name for himself in the Katun Realm.

The Katun Realm was relatively far from the Human Realm, and the news about him had not yet reached the Human Realm. Despite that, the Callahans learned about his deeds in the Katun Realm after digging around.

In the courtyard where James was detained, he sat in a lotus position and stared into the distance pensively.

At that moment, the courtyard gate opened, and a beautiful woman wearing a green dress walked inside the courtyard. She elegantly approached James with a beautiful smile.

"I didn't expect you to be a disciple of the Ancestral Sword God."

James looked at the woman standing in front of him. It was none other than Lana.

He touched his nose and smiled at her. "I didn't expect the news to spread so quickly."

"Where's the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword? Let me have a look."

The Callahans had inquired about James' deeds in the Katun Realm and learned that he had publicly brandished the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword. Moreover, he had comprehended the Five Great Paths from the Sacred Blossom and cultivated their respective Ousias.

Although they were just rumors, Lana believed in them.

Recommended Novels

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3360

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3360-Lana had to come and verify the rumors for herself.

She wanted to see the Crepe Myrtle Divine Rumors with her own eyes to confirm if James really was the Ancestral Sword Master's disciple.

James was not bothered and summoned the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword. He handed it to her and said, "Here, go ahead."

Lana took the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword in her hand.

The moment she touched it, a powerful force emerged from it. Fortunately, she was an Ancestral God and was able to reign it in.

Sensing the power from the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword, she was shocked.

"Is this really the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sowrd?"

James replied, "Of course. I guarantee it's the real deal."

She returned the Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword to James and questioned him. "You said you're from the future, but why are there rumours about you being the Ancestral Sword Master's disciple?"

"Uhh, about that..."

James was slightly taken aback by her question. After a while, he replied with a smile. "The Crepe Myrtle Divine Sword I have is also from the future. I don't have any relatives or friends in this age, so it's a little tough to get by here. I had no choice but to pretend to be the Ancestral Sword Master's disciple."

Lana chuckled and said, "Haha. You're quite interesting."

"I'm not joking. Everything I'm telling you is the truth," James said earnestly.

Lana eventually changed topics. She remembered the information gathered by their intelligence network, claiming that James had comprehended the Five Great Paths after inspecting the Sacred Blossom. Moreover, he even cultivated the Five Great Paths' Ousias.

"By the way, have you cultivated the Five Great Paths' Ousias?"

Lana looked at James in disbelief.

The Five Great Paths were incredibly mysterious.

Throughout the ages, few have cultivated the Five Great Paths. Such people were considered true prodigies and powerhouses. However, these cultivators only managed to master one of the Five Great Paths.

Yet, James had learned all of the Five Great Paths.

James immediately summoned the Five Great Paths' Ousias in front of Lana.

"What the f*ck? So it was true after all?"

Surprised, Lana accidentally swore as she exclaimed.

On the other hand, James calmly put away the Ousias and asked, "Is there anything else you'd like to ask, Lanathia?"

Lana looked at James with her bright eyes. Then, she said, "You said you've no relatives or friends here, right? How about becoming my disciple? I'll take you under my wing from now! With me as your teacher, no one would dare to touch you!"

"Pfft!"

James immediately burst out laughing.

"What's so funny?"

James replied sincerely. "I can't have you as my teacher. It'd make our relationship quite convoluted."

"..."

Lana looked at him puzzledly.

James did not explain and awkwardly coughed a few times. He immediately changed the subject, saying, "Can't you let me go, Lanathia? I must rush to Mount Sword God for the Ancestral Sword Master's lecture."

"You're also a Sword Cultivator?" Lana looked at James curiously.

James replied casually. "I'm cultivating many Paths."

Lana's curiosity was piqued. She looked at James. "Is that so? Then what other Paths are you cultivating?"

James said with a smile. "I have quite the variety. There's the Elemental Paths, Yin and Yang Path, Curse Path, Sword Path, and Dark Path."

"Pfft!" Lana burst out laughing.

"So you have more than ten? Don't you know the limit permitted by the Heavenly Path is nine? Even so, I haven't seen any cultivator capable of cultivating nine Ousias..."

Lana swallowed her words in shock.

At that moment, more than ten Ousias were floating before James.

Recommended Novels