The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3451-James looked over the map.

It had various routes marked out as well as dangerous regions..

However, the map only displayed the edges of Mount Nothingness'.

The central region of the mountain was left blank because the Londyns had yet to explore the depths of the mountain range.

James looked pensively at the paths drawn on the map.

Standing beside him, Mia said, "According to the phantom beast, the closest route will only have three checkpoints. Therefore, it can only be this one."

While speaking, she pointed at a route marked out on the map. Only one dangerous region was marked along its path.

"It should be this route. One of our ancestors traveled deep into this region, but he never returned. As for the other routes, they've already been explored by other family members."

James looked at a marked area with a frown and asked, "What's in this region?"

Mia shook her head, expressing her uncertainty.

"Let's go check it out."

James was not afraid of the unknown regions within Mount Nothingness.

Handling the hazards in Mount Nothingness would be easier than facing his deadly pursuers.

After James ascertained their travel direction, he stepped forward and advanced a thousand meters away.

Hadrian, Herbert, and Mia followed after him.

James was careful not to proceed too hastily since Mount Nothingness had too many unknown dangers. Therefore, he slowly traversed the area instead of opening up a spatial passage.

The four quickly disappeared from the area and traveled into the depths of Mount Nothingness.

After Zenaida left Mount Nothingness, she quickly made her way to Mount Heavenly Path.

Herschel sat at the highest seat in the main hall of Mount Herschel. He looked into the distance with his deep-set eyes. His face displayed an assertive expression.

Swoosh!

A shadow flickered in front of him, slowly taking the form of a graceful woman.

It was Zenaida who had rushed back from Mount Nothingness.

She greeted Herschel, "Young Master."

Herschel's mind to the present. He nodded lightly, and replied. "Zenaida. Why are you back so soon? What's the situation on Mount Nothingness?"

A Caelum Ancestral God was capable of sensing every corner of the universe.

However, Herschel had not yet reached that rank and was not yet omniscient. Thus, he was unaware of the exact situation on Mount Nothingness.

Zenaida shook her head and replied. "James is too powerful, and I couldn't take him down. I even relied on Reincarnation Power, but it was useless."

"What?!" Herschel stood up in shock.

"You couldn't win against James and failed to kill him?"

Zenaida nodded and said, "Yes, Sir. I attempted to use Reincarnation Power to destroy his soul and physical body so that I could transport him into another age. However, he broke free from my grasp and displayed a new kind of power. I chose to flee since I would've been defeated if I continued to fight."

Herschel took a sharp breath and slowly sat down.

"Also..." Zenaida parted her lips and continued her report. "James has already formed a Sword Path Seal, and his physical strength has reached the peak of the Grand Emperor Rank's Seventh Heaven. He's very close to reaching the Eighth Heaven."

Surprised, Herschel said, "That brat sure is impressive. He improved so much in such a short period. If he really survives the ten thousand-year deadline I gave him, he'll most likely become an Ancestral God."

Zenaida did not express her opinion on the matter and turned to leave.

After she disappeared, her voice echoed in the hall.

“Young Master, I will be going into seclusion. I hope to become an Ancestral God before the next Grand Tournament of the Universe.

Zenaida’s voice gradually became softer and eventually faded away.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3452-After Zenaide’s fight with James, she learned that James’ physical strength had grown and reached the peak of the Grand Emperor Rank’s Seventh Heaven.

Upon returning to Mount Heavenly Path, she relayed the newly obtained information to Herschel.

Herschel was slightly taken aback by the news.

Improvements in physical strength were a product of hard work over time. Cultivation, on the other hand, could be raised rapidly through gaining insight or great comprehension.

“He’s already raised his physical strength to the peak of the Grand Emperor Rank’s Seventh Heaven, huh? You’re quite the interesting man, James. I’d like to see how much longer you can continue to run from me.”

Herschel smiled faintly.

Now that James’ cultivation rank increased, Herschel could send stronger cultivators after him. He stayed true to his word and only deployed powerhouses whose cultivation ranks were a maximum of two ranks higher than James’ own. The highest-ranked men he could send after James were Ninth Heaven Grand Emperors.

However, James had already journeyed deep into Mount Nothingness.

The Londyns were a prominent family from the Realm of Nothingness’ Divine Dimension. Since ancient times, many powerful family members traveled to Mount Nothingness in search of rare boons.

Therefore, the Londyns were quite familiar with its topography.

The path James had chosen was one that even the Londyn elders would not dare to travel because of the disappearance of one of their more powerful members during their expedition on this very path. They never heard from him again, and it was evident that the path was perilous.

Black mist blanketed the inner regions of Mount Nothingness.

Terrifying Demonic Energy was contained in the black mist. It had properties somewhat similar to Dark Power. The power was capable of corroding a living being's physical body and soul.

Hadrian, Herbert, and Mia used their powers to protect their bodies and soul while advancing deeper into the terrain of Mount Nothingness.

James, however, did not share the same concerns.

His physical body was immune to Demonic Energy.

James walked ahead of the three and effortlessly crossed the mountains.

After passing through many mountains, a plain appeared in sight.

The grass in the area was a variety that James had never seen before. Not only were they a strange black color, but they also grew to a height of about twenty centimeters high and had a faint, dark glow.

A huge stone tablet stood not far ahead and it had some mysterious and ancient inscriptions engraved on it.

James walked over to the stone tablet and inspected the engravings.

His three companions also began to examine the inscriptions.

Hadrian turned to Mia and asked. "Princess Mia, you have a lot more experience than us. Do you recognize these words?"

Mia shook her head in response.

She indeed knew many ancient scripts but could not identify the script that was engraved on the stone tablet.

James had been studying Karma Script recently. It was one of the most mysterious scripts in the universe. It surpassed even the Elysian characters and the Ancestral Script.

Through his studies of the Karma Script, it enabled James to recognize virtually any script he encountered.

James parted his lips and said, "It says that the area ahead is a restricted area, and living beings shouldn't proceed beyond this point."

"A restricted area? Why is that so?" asked Herbert.

James continued to read the engravings and said, "There's some more information recorded on the stone tablet. It's about the Holy Master of Nothingness."

The trio immediately showed great interest upon hearing James.

Mia said excitedly, "Please cut to the chase, Mr. Caden."

James replied, "It's about the events that happened while the Holy Master of Nothingness ruled this universe. He reigned in a prosperous era. However, his wicked thoughts left his body and manifested as a living being. As a result, the universe ushered in a dark age."

"This era was called the Age of Destruction.

"During the Age of Destruction, the Holy Master of Nothingness escaped. The Dark Lotus Demonic Ancestral Master rose up and imprisoned the Holy Master of Nothingness in the deepest parts of the Palace of Nothingness. Then, he took over Mount Heavenly Path and inherited the Master of Nothingness' position. He ruthlessly massacred those that refused to submit to him. Therefore, the age he ruled was named the Age of Destruction."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3453-James' brows furrowed deeply after reading the history engraved on the stone tablet.

He had little knowledge of the history of this age. It was only now that he learned a couple of things.

James turned to his three companions and asked. "Do any of you know about this period in history?"

They shook their head in response.

Mia replied. "The only thing I know is how the Holy Master of Nothingness' malicious thoughts took a living form. There are also myths that the Holy Master of Nothingness died alongside this evil incarnate. When the Macrocosm Ancestral God died, his good fortune spread throughout the universe. Eventually, Hadad rose up to become our universe's new Macrocosm Ancestral God."

It was the first time she had heard about the detailed history recorded on the stone tablet. There were no detailed records of the events in ancient books. Only a vague description of what happened was recorded.

James was surprised by Mia's words. He asked. "So that means only one Macrocosm Ancestral God can exist in our universe?"

Mia nodded and said, "That's more or less correct. A Macrocosm Ancestral God embodies the luck of the entire universe. Thus, it's almost impossible for another powerhouse to become a Macrocosm Ancestral God. This is something commonly known throughout the universe."

"Is that so?" James did not take her words seriously.

If that were really true, how could Radomir become Macrocosm Ancestral God while Hadad was still alive?

Radomir rebelled only after becoming a Macrocosm Ancestral God.

James roughly knew why Radomir revolted against Hadad.

Hadad was not a progressive leader and refused to train new powerhouses. Although they lived within the Twelfth Universe, many other universes existed.

To protect themselves against other universes, Radomir overthrew Hadad.

Mia did not continue elaborating, but instead asked. "What else is recorded on the stone tablet?"

James continued to read. "It records how the Age of Destruction came to be and how the Dark Lotus Demonic Ancestral Master imprisoned the Holy Master of Nothingness. It said he took over Mount Nothingness, and usurped the position of Lord of the Universe. Lastly, it..."

James' expression became solemn as he read on.

"What's wrong, Mr. Caden?" asked Hadrian.

James took a deep breath.

"It also has records of the Dark Strife."

The three companions were confused.

Mia asked. "What's the Dark Strife?"

James explained. "The Dark Strife is an event related to the Dark World. In the past, chaos broke out in the Dark World, affecting the entire universe. Ultimately, it led to the collapse of the universe. Only a few powerhouses were fortunate enough to escape death. The Holy Master of Nothingness and Dark Lotus Demonic Ancestral Master died in this turmoil."

"The Dark World?"

The three were startled by his explanation.

As Quasi Ancestral Gods, they knew about the Dark World but only held scant knowledge.

"The Dark Strife? What caused it?"

James shook his head and said, "Not much is described about it. All that's recorded is a chaos would break out after a certain period in the Dark World and this in turn would affect the Illuminated World.

"If the Illuminated World is strong enough, it could avoid the Dark Strife. If not, it'll end up getting destroyed.

"Assumingly, the age where the Dark Lotus Demonic Ancestral Master ruled was too weak, and it led to the destruction of their age."

"Huff!" All three of them gasped in horror.

They never expected so many events to have happened in the distant past.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3454-A lot of information was recorded on the stone tablet, including the history of the Dark Lotus Demonic Ancestral Master and how he took over Mount Nothingness, as well as the Dark World's Dark Strife that led to the destruction of their era.

Mia asked. "Is there anything else? Is there nothing recorded about what is beyond this point? Does it not describe what dangers lie ahead?"

James shook his head lightly and said, "Nothing of that sort seems to be recorded. We'll have to find out on our own it seems."

Hadrian said solemnly, "Since this stone tablet details the Dark Strife, it's likely the region ahead is related to the Dark Strife."

Herbert shook his head and said, "That might not be the case. We're within Mount Nothingness right now. The Holy Master of Nothingness' inheritance must be hidden in the depths of this mountain range. No matter what's recorded on the stone tablet, I'm sure whatever is in the region ahead has something to do with him. Perhaps he left behind a few trials before he died."

Standing to the side, Mia said, "We should stop guessing and start moving. We'll find out after seeing for ourselves."

After speaking, she turned to James and said, "Please lead the way, Mr. Caden."

James looked at the trio. Although they knew the path ahead was fraught with danger, they insisted on accompanying him. It seemed like they had little regard for their lives.

Since they were determined, James did not dissuade them.

He looked ahead but could not discern anything since the black mist obscured the entire area. It was impossible to clearly identify what was hidden in the plains ahead.

Without any hesitation, James strode forward.

He appeared a few kilometers away with one step but maintained a steady pace as he advanced.

The group walked through the dangerous path along Mount Nothingness for a few days. Despite this, they had not yet left the plains.

The grass got even more bizarre as they traveled deeper into the plains.

Their shape grew increasingly bizarre, and their leaves emitted black and poisonous mist. James tried to test the poison, but his Demonic Body also showed signs of corroding after coming in contact with the mist.

Fortunately, the Demonic Energy in his body nullified the poisonous mist.

The other three proceeded more cautiously and took care not to do anything reckless. They used their energy to form a protective barrier around their bodies to avoid coming in contact with the poisonous mist.

"There's something ahead."

James suddenly stopped in his tracks.

The three people following him also stopped abruptly and looked ahead of them.

At the end of the black mist was an ancient-looking black city.

It was a massive city with towering palaces that were 10,000 meters high.

James made his way there and arrived at the open field outside the city gate.

The city wall was tall, and a few ancient words were engraved onto it.

“Dead City.”

James read the words.

After seeing the words, James was slightly taken aback.

The name was familiar to him.

He immediately recalled seeing a city on Earth in the distant future. It was before the Apocalypse Age and before the seal on Earth was opened.

The city was carried on the back of a colossal turtle and disappeared into the void.

Back then, he wanted to chase after it but could not catch up. Jace told him it was called the Silent City of Death.

However, Jace was clueless about the Dead City’s origin.

Standing behind him, Mia asked. “Why did you stop? Is something wrong?”

“N-No, it’s nothing.” James lightly shook his head.

He had no idea if the two cities were related nor had he any clue what was within the Dead City.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3455-Mia reminded them all. “Watch your step. There’s something unusual about this city.”

James scanned the Dead City’s surroundings.

The city was completely still, and not a single sound could be heard. The city was shrouded in black fog, adding to its mysterious air.

James was undaunted as he was strong and had a Demonic Body that was formed by the Demonic Lotus. The Demonic Lotus came from the same source as the power that surrounded the area, so he had nothing to worry about.

He boldly walked toward the city gate.

Soon, he reached the city gate.

James inspected the closed city gate, and attempted to push it open.

However, the gate did not budge.

He put more force into his action, but the gate remained shut.

James raised his head and leaped into the air. He planned to jump over gate.

His body soared high into the sky. Just as he tried to cross the gate, a terrifying force swept inside the city and struck him.

Unable to withstand the blow, James plummeted from the sky and crashed into the ground.

Boom!

His fall made a loud sound.

The ground was extremely sturdy. It was undamaged, even though James crashed into it with great force.

James staggered back up from the ground.

Mia rushed over and asked. "What happened, Mr. Caden?"

James raised his head and said solemnly, "I tried to fly over the gate but a terrifying force from within the city struck me down."

Herbert immediately stood up and volunteered. "I'll give it a go."

He flew into the sky but was also struck down by the crushing force.

Hadrian also attempted to do the same but likewise also failed.

Mia said solemnly, "It seems we can only enter through the city gate."

After speaking, Mia walked toward the gate and tried to push it open.

She was a Quasi Ancestral God at the Theosophical Rank but she could not get the gate to budge an inch even when she used all her strength.

Mia gave up and said, "It's not working. There seems to be some kind of condition placed on the city gate. I couldn't get it to move even after unleashing all my strength. Perhaps, only an Ancestral God can open it."

Hadrian looked at James and asked. "What should we do, Mr. Caden?"

James shrugged at his question. It was his first time in Dead City, so he likewise had no idea how to proceed.

The trio looked at him in anticipation.

James had no choice but to reassure them, saying, "Let me try something else."

Afterward, he used his Space Path's Power to open a void through the city gate.

However, the space around them was unusual, and he could not create a passage.

Helpless, James said, "How about we make a detour and see if we can go around the city instead to reach the depths of Mount Nothingness? Or maybe we can follow the city wall to see if there is another entrance."

All three of them nodded in unison. Then, they began to walk along the city wall.

However, they simply found themselves back at the city gate.
