The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3511-Thea nodded slightly.

“Anyway, I’m glad that you’re back. Make yourself at home here. As for your matter, I will personally go to Mount Heavenly Path and resolve the grudge between the both of you.”

Thea said. However, her expression remained ice-cold and distant.

She glanced at Sienna before looking at James and said, “I can tell Sienna has a crush on you. If you choose to remain in the Callahans, I will allow her to marry you. Once you become a member of the Callahans, the grudge between you and Mount Heavenly Path will be removed.”

“What are you talking about, Thea?” Sienna blushed.

Even though she was a powerful figure who had cultivated for many Epochs, she could not help but blush when it came to romantic affairs. This was a natural instinct of a woman and had nothing to do with her strength.

“Thea,” James blurted.

He came here to search for Thea. Now, she was going to make Sienna marry him.

“What is it? Are you displeased?’ Thea glanced at him and said coldly, “Sienna’s unrivaled in both her looks and potential.novelebook.com If her progress wasn’t delayed due to the Energy Deviation, she would have reached the Caelum Ancestral God Rank long ago. Putting her rank aside, are you trying to say that her appearance is not worthy of you?”

“No.”

James hurriedly explained, “Sienna’s a great girl. But...”

“Not buts. The decision is final.”

Then, she turned to leave.

James was at a loss.

Sienna walked toward him and apologized, “I’m really sorry, James. That’s how Thea is. She has always been decisive and assertive. Please don’t take it to heart.”

James could only smile bitterly.

Then, he remained in the Callahans.

He wanted to look for Thea and set things straight with her. Perhaps he would even confess his love to her. However, he could not find her anywhere.

At the same time, Thea was already at Mount Heavenly Path.

In the palace where Herschel was located, he was sitting on the throne while glancing downward at Thea. Though he was head over heels for her, this was Mount Heavenly Path — his territory. As such, he did not act in a subservient manner.

“What a rare guest!”

Herschel laughed.

Thea, who was wearing a black dress, looked at Herschel and said, “I came here for James.”

“James Caden?” Displeased, Herschel said, “Are you trying to tell me that you’ve got the hots for him?”

Thea shook her head and said, “No. As he will be marrying my sister Sienna soon, he’ll be a Callahan in the future. I believe it is perfectly reasonable for me as a Callahan to urge you to put the grudge between you and him in the past.”

Thea simply cut to the chase.

“Hahaha...” Herschel laughed and said, “Well, if I turn your request, I would appear to be a bully, won’t I? James is still in the Callahans, isn’t he? How about this? Ask him to come to Mount Heavenly Path and admit his wrongdoings. Along the way, I will send cultivators who are two ranks higher than his to block his path. Besides, I’ll be setting up some Formations.”

“I have just a few conditions. One, he has to travel from the Callahans to Mount Heavenly Path on foot. Two, the time limit for this challenge is five hundred years. Within five hundred years, he has to defeat the cultivators I sent to block his way and cross the Formations I have set up. If he arrives at Mount Heavenly Path, I will put our grudge behind me. He can even join Mount Heavenly Path and obtain unlimited cultivation resources.”

Hearing this, Thea furrowed her eyebrows.

What was the difference between this and the 10,000-year agreement? The only difference was that James now had a shorter time period and a higher difficulty level.

Herschel continued, "Since James is going to marry Sienna, have her wear her wedding gown and wait here at Mount Heavenly Path for James to arrive."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3512-Herschel was of the opinion that James had to die. However, since his crush Thea had come personally to make a request, he could not simply turn her down. So, he came up with other plans to get rid of James. Since James' physical strength was at the peak of the Seventh Heaven Grand Emperor Rank, he would send Grand Emperors at the peak of the Ninth Heaven to stop him. Not only that, but he would also set up terrifying Formations to annihilate James.

Meanwhile, James was lost in contemplation. Herschel had made a compromise. If James could successfully reach Mount Heavenly Path, all grudges would be set aside. However, she was worried that James would fail.

"Just send your disciples to block his way. There'll be no need for Formations. If you agree, I will return to the Callahans at once and inform James about this." After some contemplation, Thea said.

Herschel contemplated.

After considering the strength of the prodigies at the Ninth Heaven Grand Emperor Rank in the previous Grand Tournament, he nodded and said, "Sure, it's a deal then."

Then, he casually waved his hand, and a map appeared before Thea.

He said, "This is the route from the Callahans to Mount Heavenly Path. James must proceed according to the routes."

Upon accepting the map, Thea simply turned to leave without uttering a single word.

When she reappeared, she was already at the Callahans.

For the past few days, James had been searching for Thea, hoping to converse with her. However, she was nowhere to be seen.

At that moment, he was sitting on a wall in the courtyard while nibbling a nip of grass as he stared blankly into the distance. novelebook.com When Thea appeared before him all of a sudden, he immediately leaped down from the wall and said with a bright smile, "You're back, Thea."

"Mhm."

Thea nodded slightly.

As she entered the courtyard, she took a seat in a seating area in the courtyard. Then, she tugged at her dress to prevent her underwear from being seen.

James walked toward her and sat beside her.

"I've just returned from Mount Heavenly Path."

Thea said, "I pleaded for clemency for you. Herschel has agreed to stop pursuing you. However, he has a demand."

Then, she simply narrated Herschel's request to James.

James remained silent.

Thea continued, "Sienna will be waiting for you at Mount Heavenly Path in a wedding gown. If you reach Mount Heavenly Path, not only will you resolve the grudge between you and Mount Heavenly Path, but you will also marry Sienna. Whether or not you can benefit from such a great deal depends on your strength."

James said, "I have no problem heading to Mount Heavenly Path. No matter what prodigies stand in my way, I will defeat them all. However, don't you think we are rushing the marriage thing?"

Thea glanced at him.

James sighed and said, "Thea, can't you tell I have a crush on you? I came here to the Callahans for you. I love you."

James confessed.

Thea, on the other hand, only said coldly, "There's no way you and I will be together. So give up on that thought. Sienna's a fine girl. Her smile is better than my ice-cold expression anyway."

James, however, said with firm determination, "Even if you don't like me now, you definitely will in the future."

Thea stood up and said, "We'll talk about the future some other time. Now, you will first need to marry Sienna. If you make me fall for you in the future, I don't have anything against polygamy. Go and prepare. You'll depart for Mount Heavenly Path in three months."

Then, Thea turned to leave without giving James the chance to retort.

James sighed.

Sienna was right. Thea was too assertive.

“Polygamy?”

James laughed bitterly.
