The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3661-Henrik being ranked eighth was very impressive.

The difference in strength between the Soaring Dragon Ranking's top 100 cultivators was not very wide. Their treasures and Supernatural Powers were the things that gave them an extra edge. In a real battle to the end, it would be hard to predict who among the top 100 would emerge victorious.

The new universe was thrown into complete chaos. Prodigies from different universes were fighting for dominance and to carve heroic legacies for themselves.

While the battles raged on, James had set up a Time Formation on a spiritual mountain in a certain world and devoted himself to cultivating.

After the first Chaotic Treasure appeared, another 100,000 years passed in a flash.

No other Chaotic Treasure had popped up in the new universe during this time. However, countless miraculous Ancestral Herbs and Macrocosm Herbs emerged all over. novelebook.com These were also highly contested by the powerhouses in the Thirteenth Universe.

A 100,00 years passed outside, but James spent even longer in the Time Formation.

In the past years, many primitive beings were born on the planet that James was on. These primitive beings also established their own sects.

"Master, what's in the mountain ahead? Why have we restricted entry into the area?"

On a spiritual mountain, there were many buildings constructed on the peak.

An old man and a young woman stood in front of the buildings.

The old man looked about 70 to 80 years old. He wore a purple robe and had a thick beard. Hearing the young woman's words, he looked toward the spiritual mountain in the distance.

Then, he replied solemnly, "I'm not sure either. That spiritual mountain has existed since our sect's conception. There's a powerful formation around the mountain. Our founder was suspicious of it and declared it a restricted area, preventing disciples from wandering there.

The young woman looked at the spiritual mountain in the distance with curiosity.

Swoosh!

Suddenly, the mountain split open, and a blinding white light shot into the sky.

At the same time, a compelling force shook the land.

Something shot out from deep underground. Then, it slowly descended and stopped before the young woman.

The young woman's eyes widened in shock and disbelief. She was wearing a white dress and looked about 18 or 19 years old. Her face was youthful, and she had a lovely figure.

The young woman looked innocent and ethereal. She stared at the item that appeared before her.

It was a white scarf.

The scarf fluttered before her. It had mysterious inscriptions coursing the cloth and also emitted faint white light.

The young woman reached out and draped it over her shoulders.

The scarf automatically wrapped itself around her shoulders, further enhancing her beauty.

"Master."

She beamed with a bright smile.

The old man beside her had a solemn expression. He sighed and said, "I never expected a Chaotic Treasure to appear in our sect. Chaotic Treasures are filled with magic. It chose you as its owner as soon as it was created. This spells a terrible fate for you."

The old man was a relatively strong Quasi Ancestral God.

He knew about the current state of their universe.

Many outsiders had entered the Thirteenth Universe to claim the Chaotic Treasures that appeared there.

Since a Chaotic Treasure surfaced in their sect, he had a bad suspicion that it would turn their once peaceful land into a battlefield.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3662-The woman's name was Quanesha Samara.

Quanesha's cultivation rank was not particularly high, and she had only just entered the Divine Rank.

Despite that, she was aware of their universe's situation. She looked at the old man before her and asked eagerly, "What should I do, Master?"

The old man looked at the scarf around her shoulders. He was a Quasi Ancestral God and could sense the magical power coming from the scarf.

The old man knew it was a Chaotic Treasure formed from the powers of heaven and earth, and that it could allow their sect to prosper for ages to come.

"Let's go see our founder."

After speaking, the old man pulled Quanesha away.

In the distant spiritual mountain, James had awakened from his cultivation.

Feeling a magical power, he looked into the distance and murmured, "I wasn't expecting a Chaotic Treasure to form here. It seems to be specifically intended for that woman. The scarf fits her perfectly."

James gazed into the distance. Although he sensed a Chaotic Treasure, he did not attempt to seize it. He could tell it was destined for Quanesha. novelebook.com James did not think much about it.

He quickly checked his cultivation rank.

During this period of cultivation, his mental fortitude improved again. Before he knew it, he was already at the Quasi Ancestral God's Second Rank.

The Theosophical Rank was quite remarkable. After one's mental fortitude reached the Theosophical Rank, merging one's Path Seals and mental fortitude to form Supernatural Powers was possible. From ancient times, powerful Supernatural Powers and Secret Arts came from this stage.

James closed his eyes, and his 16 Path Seals emerged. Although they were separate Path Seals, he could sense they all were slightly connected.

His aura skyrocketed instantly.

James saw a starry sky gradually destroyed by his 16 Path Seals' Power.

He murmured, "Grand Destruction."

It was a new Supernatural Power born from the linking of his 16 Path Seals, called Grand Destruction.

It was a Supernatural Power that could destroy a world or reduce half of a universe into nothingness.

James summoned the 108 Infinity Steles in front of him.

During this cultivation period, he had been improving his mental fortitude and also trying to comprehend the Infinity Steles.

Mysterious inscriptions were recorded on each Infinity Stele and were quite complex. James could not understand them in the past, and he only learned whatever Sophie taught him.

Sophie understood the basics of the inscriptions and made a formation.

Now, James was capable of quickly understanding any kind of text.

During this period, he thoroughly understood the inscriptions on the Infinity Steles and could unleash their full potential.

With a thought, the 108 Infinity Steles revolving around him began to disintegrate and gathered together to form a tower.

It was a black tower with nine floors, exuding a mysterious and terrifying power.

James murmured, "So this is the Infinity Steles."

After comprehending the Infinity Stele's inscriptions, he could unform the Infinity Steles and assemble them into the Boundless Pagoda.

With a thought, James disassembled the tower, which crumbled into rubble. Then, the rubble gathered together to form the 108 Infinity Steles again.

The Infinity Steles flew over to James and revolved around him, forming a powerful formation.

The formation looked like a tower, and had James standing inside it.

"This weapon is great, whether it's used offensively or defensively. Using the Infinity Steles, only a handful of people in the Thirteenth can defeat me."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3663-James felt confident in his strength.

To be precise, he was assured by the Chaotic Treasures he had on him.

Apart from the Boundless Pagoda, the Infinity Steles could also form a Boundless Stele.

Using his mind, James commanded the Infinite Steles around his body to spread out and gather in the distance. The 108 Infinity Steles merged to form a gargantuan Boundless Stele.

The Boundless Stele was extremely strong and seemed as if it could crush an entire universe.

James looked at the Infinity Steles in the distance with satisfaction. Immediately afterward, James put them away.

“I’ve been in seclusion for so long. It’s time I went out for a stroll.”

James stood up and stretched his body.

He was already a Quasi Ancestral God at the Theosophical Rank. Moreover, he mastered a new Supernatural Power, the Grand Destruction.
novelebook.com Compared to when he first came to the Thirteenth Universe, he was much stronger now.

As James was about to leave, he suddenly sensed many people rushing to the planet.

The powerful individuals charged toward the spiritual mountain James was at and immediately fell upon the mountain range.

Boom!

Dreadful power swept through the air and struck the mountain range, immediately obliterating it into rubble.

Fortunately, James had set up a formation around the spiritual mountain, sparing the mountain from destruction. Meanwhile, the sect around the mountain range was destroyed, and many people died tragically from the assault.

“Hand over the Chaotic Treasure, and I’ll spare your lives!”

“You guys are not worthy of the Chaotic Treasure.”

Angry demands came from the sky.

Many people gathered in front of a ruined hall.

Quanesha was among them. The white scarf fluttered around her shoulders, making her look refined and ethereal.

“Master, Grand Patriarch, what should we do?” Quanesha trembled in fear.

“The Chaotic Treasure belongs to you, Quanesha, which means it belongs to Mount Snow Sect. We’ll give our lives to protect it. You have to escape immediately. Leave from the back mountains. Go into the restricted area and ask the powerhouse cultivating there for help.”

The Grand Patriarch of the Snow Mountain Sect shouted and charged toward the sky.

Just as he flew into the sky, he was struck down. Before his body could fall to the ground, it completely disintegrated into nothingness.

“Attack!!!”

Many of the Mount Snow Sect’s powerhouses were outraged and immediately rushed to the sky with their weapons.

Although Mount Snow Sect was a powerful sect on this planet, they were not on par with the visiting powerhouses. The Mount Snow Sect’s powerhouses charged to their deaths one after another.

Half of the Mount Snow Sect’s members were wiped out instantly. Seeing them sacrifice their lives, Quanesha quickly rushed toward the back mountains without hesitation. There was a spiritual mountain behind their sect, which has existed since their sect’s establishment. However, no one was ever permitted entry. Quanesha arrived at the spiritual mountain but was blocked by the formation around it.

“Help, Sir! Please save Mount Snow Sect!” She knelt on the ground and begged desperately for help.

In the distance, the powerhouses of Mount Snow Sect charged toward their enemies but were ruthlessly killed. In just a short moment, they were completely wiped out.

James stood atop the spiritual mountain and looked at the other universes’ prodigies in the distance with a solemn expression.

With his current strength, he was confident he could take them on. However, he was hesitant about getting involved in this matter. If he were to interfere in Mount Snow Sect’s affairs, he would basically be sticking a target on his head.

James murmured, "I came to this mountain, and these people settled here after some time. Strictly speaking, they can be considered my disciples."

Coming to that realization, he had already decided to step in this matter.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3664-Mount Snow Sect had developed for 100,000 years and was considered a powerful sect with tens of millions of disciples on this planet.

However, chaos struck and individuals from other universes sensed a Chaotic Treasure appearing in the vicinity and quickly rushed over to obtain it. To seize the Chaotic Treasure, they destroyed the Mount Snow Sect.

At that moment, Quanesha was the only survivor.

Swoosh!

The foreign powerhouses descended from the sky and appeared outside the ruins.

They did not proceed recklessly, as they could sense a magical formation ahead of them.

After James witnessed everything, he decided to take matters into his own hands.

He practiced the Karma Path. Before the Mount Snow Sect was established, he cultivated on a nearby spiritual mountain. Therefore, he considered them his disciples.

At that moment, James disbanded the formation.

James walked out of the formation in a white robe. He looked at Quanesha kneeling outside the formation, walked over, and attempted to help her to her feet.

Before he could touch Quanesha, the scarf wrapped around her shoulders released a strong force and blasted him away.

"Wow, impressive." James was knocked a hundred meters away and gasped in shock.

The prodigies watching from the distance were immediately intrigued.

They could tell the scarf was definitely a powerful Chaotic Treasure.

At that moment, some of them refused to wait any longer and charged at Quanesha.

“Fellow cultivators, do you really have to go this far?”

James walked over, and his voice resounded through the area.

His voice was commanding and gave the impression that he was declaring an absolute law. As soon as he spoke, the powerhouses rushing toward Quanesha stopped in their tracks.

A powerhouse shouted, “Mind your own business, James.”

A few also murmured curiously, “James disappeared for a hundred thousand years. I wonder how strong he’s gotten?”

“He seems much stronger than when he was in the Fire Realm.”

A few prodigies whispered, discussing James’ progress.

James walked over to Quanesha and stood before her, as if to shield her.

Quanesha also quickly backed away, hiding behind him.

James looked at the ruins before him, gently shook his head, then waved his hand. A mysterious inscription appeared from his palm and cycled between many different forms rapidly.

As the inscription changed endlessly, magical power suffused the area. The destroyed buildings in the area and mountains were reconstructed. Even the disciples of Mount Snow Sect that were mercilessly slaughtered were miraculously resurrected.

“Huh?”

The powerhouses were stunned as they watched everything unfold.

The revived members of the Mount Snow Sect looked around, confused about what had happened.

“Haha! You’re full of surprises, James.”

A loud chuckle rang out, then a chubby cultivator flew over to James and patted him on the shoulder. He praised James, “Damn! It’s only been over a hundred thousand years, but you’ve already grown so strong. By the way, what kind of Path did you use just now? The dead aren’t supposed to come back to life. It’s been an immutable law of the universe since ancient times. Even a Macrocosm Ancestral God wouldn’t dare to resurrect the dead as it would attract great Karma to themselves. How did you manage to pull it off?”

James smiled faintly in response.

It was because he had cultivated the Omniscience Path. Laws formed everything that exists, and alterations to these laws could create new beings. Therefore, it was not difficult to resurrect these people by forming a special law.

As for Karma Power, James was unafraid since he had cultivated the Karma Path.

James looked at the astonished powerhouses and shouted, "Leave this place. The Chaotic Treasure has found its rightful owner. They were destined together."

A cold voice retorted to him, "That's not up to you to decide!"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3665-A figure immediately charged toward James.

He appeared in front of James in a flash, raised his hand, and thrust it toward James with all his strength.

James raised his palm and blocked the attack.

Boom!

Two explosive forces slammed into each other, causing an explosion in the void. The area that was restored moments ago was wrecked again. Some weaker disciples of Mount Snow Sect were struck by the resulting force and died instantly.

Quanesha stood behind James and could feel the aftershock sweep toward her. Although the Chaotic Treasure protected her, she was still pushed back by it.

James, on the other hand, was still planted firmly in his spot.

However, his opponent was sent flying and spat out a mouthful of blood.

The person who attacked him was Stanley, the person he fought in the Fire Realm.

Stanley was shocked.

"H-How is this possible?" He was speechless in disbelief.

How could James have improved so much in just a hundred thousand years?

James could barely resist his attacks with the Elemental Path Seals of Genesis back then. Now, he was easily able to counter him and was strong enough to cause him to spit out blood with a simple attack.

James looked around and flicked his hand. Law of Inscriptions appeared from his palms again, novelebook.com reviving the disciples killed by the impact.

Immediately afterward, James summoned the 108 Infinity Steles.

The Infinity Steles spread out and formed a tower.

The tower surrounded the entire Mount Snow Sect.

James walked out of the barricade and looked at all the enemies that had gathered.

"I'll protect this place and this young lady's Chaotic Treasure." James declared.

Henrik clicked his tongue and murmured, "Impressive. He improved so quickly. However, the fight for the last Chaotic Treasure lasted for about three thousand years. I'm afraid it'll be hard for him to safeguard this one."

"Haha!"

Haughty laughter filled the air and a man appeared out of a void.

"I'm afraid you're not strong enough to protect them."

As soon as Henrik saw the man approaching, his expression darkened. He quickly walked next to James and whispered, "You must be careful of this guy, James. He's ranked tenth on the Soaring Dragon Ranking."

"The Soaring Dragon Ranking?" This was the first James had heard the term.

Henrik nodded and explained, "The fight for the Chaotic Treasure that appeared in the Fire Realm lasted for three thousand years. During this time, Macrocosm Ancestral Gods from various universes created a ranking for the prodigies in the Thirteenth Universe. The ranking list is called the Soaring Dragon Ranking."

"Huff." James took a deep breath.

The Soaring Dragon Ranking showcased the strength of the prodigies that had come to the new universe. For that person to be in the top ten, meant that he possessed amazing strength.

James turned around to the tower. Inside, many expectant and pleading gazes met his eyes.

James casually waved his hand. Powerful energy flowed out and enveloped the members of Mount Snow Sect, teleporting them into the Celestial Abode. Afterward, James put away the Infinity Steles.

James' actions were met with immediate disapproval. Countless people dashed toward him, besieging him instantly.

"You're on your own, James. I won't be able to help you."

Henrik immediately backed away, saying, "I'm not involved with him. Do with him as you please."

In fact, Henrik knew James had already improved significantly and was stronger than when he was in the Fire Realm. He wanted to test James' strength and see whether he could take on these powerhouses.

James looked at the powerhouses around him, and his determination grew.

"Bring it on!" James yelled at them.

Immediately afterward, 16 of his Path Seals activated. The Path Seals' Powers surged through his body, raising his aura tremendously.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3666-Among James 16 Path Seals, only a few of them were linked to each other. This included the Elemental Path Seals, the Ying and Yang Path Seals, and Five Great Paths. The rest functioned independently of each other.

Despite that, James' Path Seals seemed to have developed inextricable connections with each other after he reached Theosophical Rank as a Quasi Ancestral God. Although they could not completely fuse with each other, they could stack atop one another and generate an incredible force.

Now that his 16 Path Seals' Powers were combined, James now became as strong as the other powerhouses. He was only slightly less strong than an Ancestral God.

James stood firmly in place and radiated an oppressive aura.

Many people attacked him at once. Some of them were ranked relatively high on the Soaring Dragon Ranking.

Dozens of people stood around him, and many powerhouses watched from afar. At the same time, many other powerhouses continued to enter the planet.novelebook.com At the current rate, it would not take long before all the universe's powerhouses had gathered on this particular planet.

The draw of a Chaotic Treasure was too strong. It took 3,000 years for the battle for the first Chaotic Treasure to end. Therefore, settling the fight over the second Chaotic Treasure would be troublesome. Everyone had to bring their full might to bear.

Henrik retreated to a distance and watched from afar. He touched his chin and murmured, "His aura is pretty scary. He's only at the Theosophical Rank as a Quasi Ancestral God but can unleash such powerful energy. This is very interesting."

James was surrounded in the battlefield. His aura was incredible, and his long, black hair danced in the air.

James said, "Do you guys want to fight me one-on-one or would you all rather attack at once? I'd say you guys come at me all at once. Otherwise, none of you will stand a chance against me."

The tenth-ranked powerhouse on the Soaring Dragon Ranking bellowed arrogantly, "This brat is mine! Whoever touches him will be dead meat."

His words immediately offended everyone present.

As someone in tenth place, he was fearless. He had countless Supernatural Powers and treasures. He was almost unbeatable in a one-on-one battle.

James looked at the man who spoke. Henrik had warned him that this man was tenth on the Soaring Dragon Ranking.

The man wore a gray robe and had a ruddy face. He looked relatively young and healthy. James could sense the man was a Quasi Ancestral God at the Path Integration Rank.

James was only one rank lower than him.

He also knew his opponent came from the First Universe, which was the strongest among the universes. However, James had cultivated 16 Path Seals and could easily close their gap in strength.

With one hand behind him, James beckoned his opponent and said, "Make your move."

Sadryn Peterson was the name of James' challenger. Since he called dibs in fighting James, the other powerhouses purposefully gave them a wide berth and did not interfere with their fight. After all, the person that obtained the Chaotic Treasure was sent to James' Celestial Abode. As long as James was still alive, they would still have a chance to obtain the Chaotic Treasure later.

James was a very perplexing opponent, and everyone was naturally cautious about him. They wanted to use Sadryn to gauge James' capabilities.

A powerful aura erupted from Sadryn's body and formed a magnetic field. Everything within the magnetic field was destroyed. The surrounding mountains, rivers, land, and space around him were reduced to nothing.

James murmured calmly, "He's going to be a tough one to fight."

"Since you insist on dying, I'll just send you on your way." Sadryn parted his lips and spoke. Then, he charged at James with lightning speed. He appeared before James in a flash, and a dreadful fist attack shot toward James.

The surrounding space destabilized as the force loomed toward James. The ground under James' feet also split open and the cracks widened rapidly.

Boom!

A massive explosion occurred, destroying the planet in an instant.

The strength of a Quasi Ancestral God at the peak of the Path Integration Rank was indeed exceptional. A fist attack alone was enough to destroy an entire planet.

James' brows furrowed in anger. At that moment, a mighty fist zoomed toward him. He raised his hand and swung his fist to resist the blow.

Boom!

Their fists crashed into each other, and tore open a spatial rift in the void. It continued to enlarge into an expansive black hole in mere moments.

James stood at the edge of the black hole motionlessly.

Sadryn, on the other hand, was sent flying by the force. He felt potent energy creep into his body, and a tiny crack formed on his Path Seal.

James was much stronger than Sadryn.

Many powerhouses were watching their fight and trembled with fear after seeing James' strength.

"He's so powerful!"

"James is from the Twelfth Universe. His strength is supposed to be the weakest amongst all the cultivators. Despite that, Sadryn, novelebook.com who is ranked tenth on the Soaring Dragon Ranking, ended up being weaker than him."

"Yeah. James is completely overwhelming him."

"He's crazy."

Many people exclaimed in shock.

After a brief confrontation, Sadryn sustained injuries from James' attack. He retreated away and wiped the blood from his lips with a furious expression.

Sadryn screeched, "Now you've done it, Fool!"

Immediately afterward, he soared high into space and looked down at James. Suddenly, mysterious inscriptions emerged from his body and merged to form a giant sword. The sword was tens of thousands of meters long and emitted a bizarre energy.

As soon as the sword appeared, the surrounding space distorted around it

"Tear him apart."

Sadryn pointed forward, and the giant sword slashed down toward James with fearsome strength. The space it moved past exploded and split apart.

James stood firmly in place and stood up to the attack with a calm expression.

The giant sword was formed from mysterious inscriptions belonging to the Paths that Sadryn had cultivated. As such, it wielded the power of all those paths.

No one in the same cultivation rank as him would dare to parry the attack head-on.

However, this was child's play to James. James understood the essence of Paths and the permutations of all kinds of laws.

He raised his hand, and mysterious power rushed out from his palm. The force headed toward the giant sword that threatened to rend him in twain. James' mysterious power engulfed the giant sword, reducing it down to inscriptions. Shortly after, the inscriptions vanished into space.

Everyone including Sadryn was shocked by James' counterattack. He never expected James to be able to overpower him and easily deflect his attack. At that moment, Sadryn knew it would be impossible to kill James without using a Chaotic Treasure. He had no choice but to use the Chaotic Treasure bestowed by his sect's elders.

"I didn't want to use a Chaotic Treasure against you, but you leave me no choice. You should know it's an honor to force me to kill you like this."

Sadryn's voice resounded throughout the area.

James said lightly, "A Chaotic Treasure?"

His opponent having one was no surprise to James. For someone to have ranked so high in the Soaring Dragon Ranking, it was only obvious that he possessed Chaotic Treasure.

James wanted to see how strong a Chaotic Treasure from the First Universe was. He stood his ground and taunted Sadryn. "Use whatever means you have."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3668-Chaotic Treasures were scarce. Only Macrocosm Ancestral Gods could unleash the full potential of a Chaotic Treasure. However, it could also greatly improve a Quasi Ancestral God's strength.

The First Universe existed for the longest time, and powerhouses from their universe fought in every event Chaotic Treasures emerged in subsequent new universes.

Almost every Macrocosm Ancestral God from the First Universe had one or two Chaotic Treasures. Even a few Caelum Ancestral Gods possessed Chaotic Treasures.

Meanwhile, the Twelfth Universe lacked Chaotic Treasures. Even Hadad, the Twelfth Universe's Macrocosm Ancestral God lacked one.

Only the Five Ancestral Gods had Chaotic Treasures. Unfortunately, theirs were the lowest grade that existed. novelebook.com The Ancestral Needle Master also had the incomplete half of a Chaotic Treasure.

In contrast, James held almost all the Chaotic Treasures from the Twelfth Universe.

"Is Sadryn going to use his Chaotic Treasure?"

“James also has a few Chaotic Treasures of his own.”

“This battle is getting interesting. If Sadryn were to lose, the tenth spot on the Soaring Dragon Ranking would change.”

Many powerhouses gathered in the distance and discussed in hushed tones.

Sadryn floated in space and unleashed a dreadful aura. A golden light shone brightly before him and transformed into a golden hand fan. The hand fan was relatively small at only one meter long. It was golden in color and had complex inscriptions engraved on its surface.

Sadryn held the hand fan, and its power transferred into his body, causing his aura to skyrocket. In the next moment, he felt unstoppable.

“Prepare to die, James!” After speaking, he violently swung the hand fan.

As the hand fan swept across space, the inscriptions engraved on it activated and strengthened. A powerful force transfused the air. It formed into a ball of flame that hurtled toward James.

The golden hand fan was a Chaotic Treasure, capable of producing Macrocosm Power, the strongest power known in the universe. No other kind of power could compare to Macrocosm Power.

James immediately sensed the destructive aura. However, he stoutly stood his ground against the approaching ball of flames.

He stood in place and watched the flames close in on him.

The flames razed everything in its path. Even the void was burned into nothingness, and spatial rifts formed where it passed through.

James summoned all his strength to his body’s surface to form a protective barrier. The barrier resisted the flames that swept toward him.

The strength of James’ 16 Path Seals working in tandem was terrifying and able to withstand the onslaught of a Chaotic Treasure.

Fwoosh!

The flames continued to crackle around him. However, James was unfazed by it.

Unfortunately, Chaotic Treasures were immensely powerful. Sadryn continuously swung the hand fan, unleashing a barrage of flames toward James. Soon, a crack appeared on the protective barrier on James’ body.

James knew the barrier would not last much longer in this circumstance.

Despite that, he stood in the void and smirked. "Your Chaotic Treasure is useless."

"Damn it." Sadryn was enraged.

The hand fan's aura seemed to change instantly. He flapped the hand fan at James again, and tidal waves formed. Using the energy of both fire and water, the strength of Sadryn's attacks increased significantly.

Crack!

The protective barrier on the surface of James' body split open.

"Wow. James is amazing."

"He's resisting the onslaught of a Chaotic Treasure. I'm afraid no one else in the Thirteenth Universe can do this."

"That's the Elemental Fan of the Holy Master of Elements. It's an exceptional weapon."

"Indeed. It's the Chaotic Treasure of a Macrocosm Ancestral God from the First Universe. His name is the Holy Master of Elements. The Elemental Fan can produce the power of the Five Elements, each of which is as strong as Macrocosm Power."

"It's just the beginning. Sadryn is only displaying a portion of the Elemental Fan's Power."

Many powerhouses spoke of the battle.

Sadryn kept swinging his Elemental Fan through space. The Power of Fire, Wood, Metal, Water, and Earth emerged and surrounded James.

The power that came from the Elemental Fan differed from the Five Elements of Genesis. Unlike Elemental Inversion that could combine Elemental Powers, novelebook.comthe Elemental Fan's various elements could not be fused with one another.

Despite that, they could still produce fearsome power.

When Sadryn unleashed all five Elemental Powers, James could not resist them using his strength alone. His protective barrier shattered instantly, and the Elemental Power struck him. The Elemental Fan's power coursed his body and injured him from within.

James disappeared and retreated to the distance. He mustered the Life Path's Power to quickly heal his wounds.

Boom!

As soon as his injuries closed, the Elemental Fan's Power swept toward him once more. James reflexively evaded the attacks. After he dodged, the space he had previously stood at was immediately destroyed.

The power of a Chaotic Treasure was devastating.

Before Sadryn used the Elemental Fan, he was clearly at a disadvantage. With his Chaotic Treasure, he turned the odds against James. James knew he had to rely on his emergency measures and Supernatural Powers to deal with the Elemental Fan.

Sadryn chased after James relentlessly and hounded him using the Elemental Fan's various powers. Every area the Elemental Power passed was destroyed. The surrounding space was already shattered into pieces.

James continued to dodge the series of lethal attacks.

At that moment, the powerhouses watching noticed that James was continuously pushed back. This was the perfect opportunity for them to enter the fray and subdue James in order to obtain the Chaotic Treasure.

Suddenly, a group of powerhouses charged at James.

While James was dodging Sadryn's attacks, he sensed a few individuals closing in on him. All of them had very powerful auras, not inferior to Sadryn.

These were powerhouses that had also made it into the Soaring Dragon Ranking.

The difference in strength between the tenth spot and hundredth spot was minimal. The only thing that distinguished them was their mastery of Supernatural Powers.

"Haha."

James smiled faintly after sensing the powerful auras approaching him.

“If I don’t teach them a lesson, they’ll keep presuming I’m a pushover.”

James did not counter Sadryn’s attack because he was trying to figure out the Elemental Fan’s Powers. He was trying to reduce them down to the most rudimentary laws. If he managed to do this, he could use Curse Magic to recreate the Elemental Fan’s Power.

Although he could not fully grasp Sadryn’s powers, he could roughly understand it. James turned abruptly, waved his hand, and a ball of flames identical to the one released by the Elemental Fan emerged from his palm. The flames swept toward a powerhouse threatening to burn him down.

Before the powerhouse could react, four other types of Elemental Power charged toward him.

“What the...?!” The powerhouse attempting to ambush James immediately went pale. He did not dare to act carelessly and quickly dodged the attacks.

“H-How is that possible?”

“Is there another Elemental Fan?”

“That’s impossible.”

“If that’s true, then how is James also wielding the Elemental Fan’s Power?”

The powerhouses were puzzled.

Even the current owner of the Elemental Fan, Sadryn, was shocked.

He floated among the stars, holding the Elemental Fan in disbelief and asked, “H-How are you doing that?”

James smiled faintly and said, "Our worlds are full of mystery and uncertainty. Nothing is impossible."

At that moment, dozens of powerhouses surrounded James.

Sadryn no longer insisted on fighting alone. He recognized it was impossible to kill James while relying on his own strength. He had no choice but to cooperate with the others.

"Today will be the day you die."

"Let's attack together and kill him. We'll decide who gets the Chaotic Treasure after killing him!"

The powerhouses around James attempted to rally support amongst each other. James immediately replicated another of the Elemental Fan's Power and forced them to defend themselves.

Even though they were Quasi Ancestral Gods that had acquired nine Path Seals, they were cautious against the power of a Chaotic Treasure. If they were to get hit, they might be severely injured or even die from it.

James looked at the powerhouses fleeing left and right and said with a smile. "The Elemental Fan's Power is pretty decent. It's quite useful in battle."

"You..."

Sadryn was enraged by James' taunts.

James stretched his body and said nonchalantly, "Alright, it's time to end this. I'm done warming, so let's get this over with."

Immediately, a black light appeared before him and turned into a long black sword.

As soon as the sword showed up, the powerhouses gasped in horror.

"Is that a Chaotic Treasure?"

"Did this come from the Dark World?"

"I can sense very sinister Dark Power coming from it."

...

James looked at the powerhouses around him that had terrified expressions. He smiled faintly and said, "That's right. It's a Chaotic Treasure from the Dark World. You'll be able to test out Dark Power's strength yourselves."

James laughed out loud.

Immediately afterward, his Dark Path Seals' Power emerged into the Demon-Slayer Sword. Dreadful energy from the Dark Wellspring in his body also poured into the sword.

At that moment, James' aura changed drastically. He looked like a demon from the deepest parts of the Dark World. His body emitted terrifying Demonic Energy.

The Dark World was a taboo place for everyone. Even Macrocosm Ancestral Gods were wary of entering the depths of the Dark World.

James held the Demon-Slayer Sword, looked around him, and suddenly drew his sword.

Using his body as the center, the black sword swung around him in a circle and rapidly moved outward in all directions, destroying everything in its path.

Even though James seemed exceptionally terrifying, the other powerhouses were not weaklings either. They immediately mustered their strength to resist the Dark Sword's Energy.

While resisting James' Dark Sword Energy, he was also beset by everyone.
