The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3713-As the lightning bolts descended, they were blocked by James' formation and could not harm him.

At a simple glance, James immediately understood the changes of the lightning. As his mind stirred, the Curse Script summoned these lightning bolts and struck the seven powerful individuals. However, the lightning was unable to damage them as well. They casually waved the Chaotic Treasures in their hands and blocked the lightning attacks.

At that moment, Shiloh launched an attack. His body flickered, and he appeared above James, the golden rod in his hand increasing in size before he struck him with full force. As the golden rod struck James' formation, the pagoda showed signs of disintegration, and James plummeted from the sky. That was because the power of the strike was too powerful, so much so that even with the protection of the formation, some of the residual power crushed James, causing him to plummet from the sky. Before he crashed to the ground, however, he managed to regain control of his body.

Swoosh!

An iron ball with blades struck the formation. Then, a beautiful umbrella appeared in the sky. As the umbrella opened, tens of thousands of blinding light poured down from above, each carrying destructive power. All seven of them attacked at the same time. From the initial strategy of ambushing to the current one, James was taken aback all of a sudden and could only passively defend himself against the attacks. His aura soared, and his expression darkened. His Karma Power reached the pinnacle, and as he performed One for All, he gradually dissolved the surrounding attacks. However, the attackers were all powerful figures who had higher ranks than him. Even if One for All, which was based on Karma Power, was mysterious, it could only dissolve part of the enemy's attacks.

"Damn it!"

Blood trickled down James' lips, and veins bulged on his face. He knew his energy would be slowly depleted if this continued. Now, the only way to emerge victorious was to first annihilate Thoth Digy who controlled the formation. Once Thoth was dead, the formation would lose control, and James would be able to break the formation.

While James was under constant suppression, he sensed his surroundings. Then, he detected Thoth's presence. At that moment, using all his strength, he sealed the space and all those who were trying to attack him. He summoned the Time Path, the Space Path, the Karma Path, the Death Path, the Curse Path, and many more at the same time.

As James launched his counterattack, the surrounding powerful figures hurriedly dodged. James seized the opportunity and charged toward Thoth and appeared before him in an instant. However, as the formation was set up by Thoth, he was one with the formation. The moment James appeared, he concealed himself within it and disappeared from James' view.

"Think you can run?"

James' expression was dark. Immediately, he summoned the Time Capsule and controlled the time of this region. As time reversed, Thoth who had concealed himself returned to his original spot. At that moment, the Time Capsule flew toward Thoth and attacked him. However, there was a powerful formation engraved on his robes, which deflected the Time Capsule's attack.

James was stunned.

The Time Capsule was a powerful Chaotic Treasure. So, he was surprised that the formation on Thoth's robe could deflect the Time Capsule's attack.

At that moment, the other powerful figures collected themselves. They knew that they could not afford to let the formation break. Otherwise, James' strength would increase drastically. By then, they would not be able to annihilate him even if they banded together. Then, they attacked James once more.

As the Chaotic Treasures struck James, the formation protecting James immediately shattered. James was severely injured.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3714-At that moment, James suffered the attack of many Chaotic Treasures. His body was gravely injured, and some of his flesh was gone, only to reveal his bones. Besides that, there were many injuries to his bones. Some of them were shattered and turned to dust.

Who in this world could possibly resist a Chaotic Treasure? Not even a Caelum Ancestral God, perhaps. However, James managed to withstand the attacks. That was because he had catalyzed the Elemental Body in advance. Besides, as his physical strength had reached the Ancestral God Rank, he managed to survive. However, even so, he was at his limit. Knowing that James was unable to continue the battle, Yermolai and the others seized the opportunity and attacked him once more.

James used the Time Path to the pinnacle to reverse time. However, being inside the Superformation, the Time Path's effects had been nullified. Only by using a combination of the Time Path and the Time Capsule could James barely reverse time back to when they were just about to attack him.

"That guy..." Yermolai cursed, "He has mastered the Time Path, so he can keep reversing time. We can't kill him this way!"

"So what?" Yaiza said coldly, "He's not the only one who controls the Time Path."

The Time Path was one of the Five Great Paths. Only a handful in the Twelfth Universe had mastered the Five Great Paths, and even if they do, none of them were able to cross into the Ancestral God Rank. However, not only did Yaiza master the Time Path, but she had even reached the Terra Ancestral God Rank. As James used the Time Path to reverse time, Yaiza also used her Time Path to accelerate the passing of time back to the point when James was injured.

"Damn it!" James cursed.

The powerful figures of the First Universe were too terrifying. The Paths he mastered gained him no advantage at all.

"Die, James!" Yermolai roared and slammed the chains to James.

As James' mind stirred, he summoned the Sacred Blossom. The beautiful Sacred Blossom blossomed, carrying destructive power. Knowing how terrifying the Sacred Blossom was, Yermolai hurriedly retreated to the rear.

At that moment, a black lotus surreptitiously appeared, and threads of black aura materialized from within. Shredding through the air, the black aura swept toward the powerful figures. Sensing the terrifying power of the lotus, the powerful figures did not dare let their guard down and hurriedly retreated.

It gave James some breathing room. So, he summoned the Life Path to its maximum, and the injuries on his body rejuvenated at a rapid pace. However, this was only superficial. His Path Seal was damaged, and this could not be healed by the Life Path.

Now, James understood the strength of his opponents. However, it would be nigh impossible for him to leave this place unscathed. The Juda Realm was sealed away by a formation. As he could not break it, he could only leave upon emerging victorious, but how would he win? James was at a loss.

As the dark lotus materialized, the surrounding enemies did not fight head-on. Even if they were attacked by the dark aura, they could easily resolve the dark lotus' power easily with their strength and Chaotic Treasures.

James' attacks were negated once more.

At that moment, James' mind stirred, and a staff appeared before him.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3715-He held the Staff of Destruction in his hand on one hand and the Demon-Slayer Sword in the other. At that moment, his aura soared.

When he saw the Staff of Destruction, veins bulged on Yermolai's face as he roared in fury, "Crush him!"

Holding the golden rod in his hand, Shiloh swung the rod, and countless shadows swept toward James.

James hurriedly dodged in time. The moment he left, the space he was in a moment ago was instantly shattered.

As he dodged, Yaiza was already on his heels. Rotating the umbrella in her hand, thousands of waves of light shone, each of them equivalent to a Path, and crashed toward James. James imbued his power into the Staff of Destruction, and the Macrocosm Core on which began to glimmer. Then, a powerful force burst forth and blocked Yaiza's attack. As Yaiza came from the First Universe, she knew just how terrifying the Staff of Destruction was. Hence, she did not dare let her guard down and hurriedly dodged. In the blink of an eye, Quasimodo was already swinging his hammer while charging toward James.

At the same time, Troth catalyzed the Formation once more and sealed off James' movements. At that moment, an overwhelming pressure caused James' speed to slow down. Though he wanted to dodge the attack, he could not do so in time. So, he could only raise the Demon-Slayer Sword in his hand to block the hammer.

Boom!

The sword and the hammer collided. Instantly, a massive black hole appeared in the void. However, the black hole did not spread and was gone very soon. During the collision, the power of the Dark Wellspring inside James' body surged forth and entered the Demon-Slayer Sword. Quasimodo was sent flying and spurted out a mouthful of blood. At the same time, he was contaminated by Dark Power. Under the corrosion of Dark Power, cracks began to appear on his body even though he was a Terra Ancestral God. Upon seeing this, Yermolai made his move. He gathered the power of ten Paths to form a powerful energy storm.

As the energy storm charged toward James, James was immediately pulled into the storm. Even with the Elemental Body, he was immediately injured. He hurriedly catalyzed Karma Power and performed One for All to remove the storm's power. Then, gradually, the storm's power disappeared. At the same time, James charged toward Yermolai at extraordinary speed while catalyzing everything at his disposal—Space, Time, Life, Death, Karma, and Reincarnation, the Macrocosm Powers of the Five Great Paths, Yin and Yang Transformation, and Elemental Inversion. Everything came crashing toward Yermolai all at once.

Being overwhelmed by so many powers at once, the space in Yermolai's surroundings was sealed, and his speed ground to a halt. In an instant, Yermolai was struck. Unable to withstand the power, his physical body was destroyed, and his soul hurriedly made his escape.

Swoosh!

The Time Capsule flew toward Yermolai's soul in an attempt to finish him off once and for all. However, at the pivotal moment, Yaiza used her umbrella to block the Time Capsule's attack.

The two Chaotic Treasures collided.

As Yaiza's umbrella rotated, the Time Capsule radiated a blinding light that forced Yaiza to retreat.

At that moment, the other powerful figures attacked.

Unable to pursue Yermolai's soul any further, James had no choice but to defend himself against the continuous attacks. Yermolai was saved. Though his physical body was destroyed, his soul survived.

Yaiza hurriedly catalyzed the Time Path to reverse time. However, her Time Path only targeted Yermolai and could not control James' time.

James was caught up in a fierce fight and was not affected by the reversal of time. Yermolai, meanwhile, returned to his original form.

At that moment, his expression was grim. Looking at Yaiza, he said with a surly expression on his face, "This can't go on. He has too many Chaotic Treasures, and he has mastered too many Supernatural Powers. If we don't annihilate him soon, there will only be trouble ahead of us."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3716-At this stage, not even Yermolai was confident they could defeat James. Though they were nine of the most powerful figures of the First Universe, two of them were now dead, and the remaining ones were injured. James, on the other hand, was still demonstrating incredible battle prowess. If this continued, their chances of winning would be non-existent.

Meanwhile, after performing the Time Path to forcibly reverse time and restore Yermolai's body, Yaiza was struck by Karma. Yermolai was an extremely powerful figure who cultivated ten Paths and had reached the peak of the Terra Ancestral God Rank. As his physical body was destroyed, Yaiza was contaminated by heavy Karma by reversing time to restore his body. Even someone like Yaiza could not endure the Karma. Enveloped by Karma, her physical body began to suffer injuries. However, as a Terra Ancestral God, she could still able to resist Karma.

She summoned all her strength to resist Karma and said at the same time, "By forcibly reversing time and restoring your body, I have been contaminated by Karma. I can't continue the fight. I have to retreat to the rear and remove the Karma for now."

Karma was terrifying, even for a Macrocosm Ancestral God. Yermolai understood this as well. He reminded her, "Hurry. We will be one person short if you leave. We will have a much harder time dealing with James."

"I'll remove the Karma as soon as possible, find a place, and set up a Time Formation to remove the Karma."

Then, she disappeared from Yermolai's view.

Meanwhile, James was attacked from all sides. The powerful figures attacked consecutively by summoning their full strength, performing every cultivation method they knew, and using the Chaotic Treasures.

James kept using Blossoming, the dark lotus, and the Grand Destruction. Only then could he barely resist the attacks.

Outside the universe...

All Macrocosm Ancestral Gods of each universe were watching the battle in the Juda Realm. Seeing that the powerful figures of the First Universe banded together and attacked James, the Macrocosm Ancestral Gods of the other universes remained silent. After all, every universe is independent, and banding together with other individuals in one's own universe was permitted by the rules. As long as the other Macrocosm Ancestral Gods were not involved, fights like this were allowed. In the beginning, no one expected James to survive. However, who would have thought that James would possess such immense power? He annihilated two powerful figures and even injured the others. The outcome of the battle was not determined yet.

Meanwhile, the other powerful figures outside the Juda Realm were appalled.

"How terrifying..."

"I never expected James to be so powerful. He singlehandedly fought against nine powerful figures of the First Universe. Apart from the two who were killed, the rest all possess a Chaotic Treasure."

"What a show, man!"

The others conversed with each other, hoping to learn from this battle.

Henrik, on the other hand, focused on healing himself. After he was captured, he was beaten up constantly. As such, he needed to rejuvenate himself as soon as possible. Once he had recovered, he wanted to help James out. With his strength, he should be able to fight against two powerful figures. Even that would greatly alleviate James' pressure. He set up a Time Formation and healed inside. Though he did not cultivate the Time Ousia, a cultivator at his rank had a certain degree of comprehension of the Time Path. So, setting up a Time Formation was not too difficult,

The fierce battle continued in the Juda Realm.

Holding the Demon-Slayer Sword in one hand and the Staff of Destruction in the other, James was protected by a Formation formed by the Infinity Steles. Below him was a dark lotus, and he would summon the Time Capsule to ambush his enemies from behind constantly.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3717-This world underwent constant destruction. The Sword Path, the Grand Destruction, the Blossoming, and all sorts of Macrocosm Power and Power of the Paths were performed. The other powerful figures also used all sorts of cultivation methods.

Such a fierce battle was rare. As they fought, both sides suffered many injuries.

At that moment, James' Path Seal had been greatly damaged. It was only with his strong will that the Path Seal had not shattered yet. He knew that death awaited him if he did not get rid of his enemies as soon as possible. Even so, the powerful figures of the First Universe had all suffered varying degrees of injuries. Besides, James had catalyzed the Heavenly Path of this universe to suppress them. However, though the Heavenly Path was terrifying, it could not annihilate them. That was because they possessed Chaotic Treasures that could withstand the new universe's Heavenly Path's power.

Three months later, James was nearing his limit. At that moment, his energy was close to being depleted, and he had no choice but to absorb the power of Heaven and Earth to replenish the Path Seals' power as he fought. Three months of fierce fighting had gravely injured the powerful figures of the First Universe. If they were not determined to annihilate James, they would not have continued the battle and would instead flee already.

"Die!"

James' body was covered in injuries, and his expression was horrifying and ferocious. As he roared, countless mysterious inscriptions appeared before him. These inscriptions changed ever so rapidly and transformed into the new universe's Heavenly Path Power in the form of a blade. The blade also contained many Macrocosm Powers, which included Death, Reincarnation, and even Dark Power.

Countless blades shredded through the air into the surroundings from James' location.

Yaiza had temporarily stopped suppressing Karma and rejoined the battle. Upon seeing terrifying blades flying toward them, she immediately raised her umbrella and resisted the attacks. The other powerful figures also used their Chaotic Treasures to deflect the attack.

However, this was James' full force. Even though their ranks were high, and they possessed Chaotic Treasures, they were overwhelmed. At the same time, they staggered backward. As they staggered backward, the void behind them shattered, and cracks began to spread. At that moment, seven gorgeous Sacred Blossoms surreptitiously blossomed above them. In an instant, James catalyzed seven Blossomings.

Catalyzing a single Blossoming would greatly deplete his energy. At that moment, unable to continue any further, his Sword Path's Path Seal shattered upon performing seven Blossomings. They materialized into unparalleled Sword Energy and wandered about his body, frantically wreaking havoc within. However, he held on and did not collapse.

As the powerful blades combined with the Blossomings, the powerful figures were unable to withstand the combined attack with their Chaotic Treasures.

The moment the Sacred Blossoms appeared, they exploded. The explosion was equivalent to an explosion of various Paths, and as such, produced immense power. Seven massive black holes appeared in the sky, and all seven powerful figures had their physical bodies corroded and destroyed.

The black holes soon disappeared.

Meanwhile, seven individuals covered in blood stood in mid-air. Their hair was disheveled, and no parts of their bodies were unscathed. As blood trickled down their wounds, each blood that carried destructive power greatly damaged the earth below.

It seemed to be a lose-lose situation.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3718-James was unable to continue the battle. His Sword Path's Path Seal had shattered, and countless Sword Energies were attacking his insides frantically. However, he did not collapse and simply stood in mid-air. Holding the Demon-Slayer Sword in one hand and the Staff of Destruction in the other, his aura was still as domineering as ever.

The powerful figures of the First Universe were covered in injuries all over their bodies as blood trickled down their wounds. Besides, they had been contaminated by the powers of the Death Path, Dark Power, Karma Power, and many more. As their strength had been depleted, they could not remove these powers and could only hang in there. Their energy was completely depleted as well. However, as long as James still lived, they could not collapse.

"James," Yermolai spoke, "Hand over the Chaotic Treasure and destroy your own Path Seal, and we might consider letting you go."

Yermolai made a compromise. As long as James handed over the Chaotic Treasure and destroy his Path Seal, he would spare his life.

"What a joke," James said coldly.

At this point in time, he had already gone all-out. Either he dies or his enemies perish.

As they were in a deadlock, no one acted recklessly.

Meanwhile, Troth who had concealed himself in the shadows all this while was the only one who was not injured. He had been lurking in the shadows, constantly searching for opportunities to create trouble for James.

At that moment, a bizarre dark cloud appeared in the void and hovered above James' head surreptitiously. Countless blades materialized from the black clouds and struck James all of a sudden.

At that moment, all six of them attacked at the same time. As they appeared around James, they summoned their Chaotic Treasures and launched a fatal blow. Together with the blades descending from the sky, the Formation formed by the Infinity Steles immediately shattered.

Yaiza's umbrella summoned countless powers, which pierced through James' body.

Yermolai's iron balls slammed toward James.

Makara's sword pierced through James' body.

At that moment, James was struck by many Chaotic Treasures.

Boom!

An explosion occurred inside his body. Unable to withstand any longer, the Path Seal inside his body shattered. However, seizing the opportunity, James stabbed Makara who was closest to him with the Demon-Slayer Sword.

Though Makara tried to flee, it was too late. Besides, since he had been target-locked, his speed slowed down to a halt.

The Demon-Slayer Sword pierced through Makara's body. At the same time, the Dark Wellspring's power surged forward and entered his body. As Makara was already gravely injured, he could not withstand the attack. His physical body was destroyed, and not even his soul remained.

In the meantime, the other powerful figures attacked James with everything at their disposal.

James was sent flying and plummeted from the sky before crashing heavily to the ground. After the full-force attack, the powerful figures of the First Universe could no longer continue the battle as well. Plummeting from the sky, they crashed to the ground. Immediately, they crawled up and used their Holy Potions to heal themselves.

James, on the other hand, remained motionless after crashing into the pile of rubble below.

After many months of fierce fighting, the outcome of the battle seemed to be determined at long last.

"Is James dead?"

"Is he dead?"

"I don't know. But after such a long battle, his energy must be depleted. He only managed to hang in there through his willpower alone. Now that he was struck by so many Chaotic Treasures, his chances of surviving are slim."

Many conversed outside the Juda Realm.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3719-However, none of them dared enter the Juda Realm recklessly.

Sweat trickled down Henrik's forehead as he sat in the Time Formation. Though he wished to join the battle, he was still in a weakened state and could not do so. Seeing that James had collapsed, he cried out, "Hang in there, James!"

James had collapsed onto a pile of rubble in the Juda Realm's Divine Dimension. He was struck by many Chaotic Treasures at the same time, and all the Path Seals inside his body had shattered. The powers ran amok inside him. In combination with the destruction of his physical body, his soul was weak. At that moment, his head was spinning, and his eyelids were drowsy. Though he tried his best to open his eyes, his consciousness began to blur.

'Am I going to die?'

A thought flashed through his mind.

'Thea hasn't even accepted me yet. How can I die just like that? Forgive me, Thea.'

James' vision blurred.

'James, you must not die.'

At that moment, a feeble voice came from the depths of his soul and reverberated in his mind. It was Thea's voice. Upon hearing her voice, James' consciousness returned slightly.

'Thea, is that you?'

'It's me, James,' Thea's voice came, 'A fragment of my soul has been transformed into the Ancestral God Rank Elixir. Upon consuming the elixir, there is a fragment of my soul sigil deep inside your soul. Find me and insert this soul sigil into my reincarnated body. Only then my memory can be restored. I have always been by your side all this while. That's why you have to hang in there. You cannot die.'

Her voice echoed in his mind.

Thea's voice gave James the strength he needed to survive. Though he tried to stand, all the Path Seals in his body had shattered. Since the Path Seals' power destroyed his body, it was beyond recovery. Though he wanted to live on, his body could no longer sustain life.

'The Macrocosm Core,' Thea's voice came once more, 'There's a Macrocosm Core on the Staff of Destruction. That's probably the only chance for you to survive.'

Thea's voice grew weaker and weaker until it completely disappeared.

James suddenly remembered that the Staff of Destruction was just beside him. However, he could not move a single muscle. Though he wanted to grab the Staff of Destruction and consume the Macrocosm Power, he did not even have the strength to raise his arm.

'I cannot die. I must find Thea.'

A strong conviction emerged within him.

Then, he catalyzed a cultivation method to forcibly control the violent power produced by the destruction of the Path Seals. Controlling them, however, caused excruciating pain to spread throughout his body, and he could not help but groan in pain. His groan made the others realize that he was still alive.

Yermolai immediately ordered, "What are you standing there for, Thoth? He's nearing his end. He can't continue the battle. End him, quickly!"

Now, only Thoth could continue to fight. He appeared and looked and his injured allies before taking a deep breath. Fortunately, he had been concealed in the shadows. Otherwise, he would have suffered the same fate as them.

He did not hesitate at all and immediately catalyzed the Formation's power and bombarded the area where James was at.

James was blown away by the bombardment. However, even though he was gravely injured, the Formation's power could not annihilate him. After forcibly controlling the violent energies in his body, he grabbed the Staff of Destruction and consumed the Macrocosm Core.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3720-A Macrocosm Core was the foundation of a universe, and the destruction of a Macrocosm Core meant the obliteration of a universe. The Macrocosm Core on the Staff of Destruction was found by the Lord of the First Universe in Chaos, who seized it before the Macrocosm Core transformed into a universe. A single core was sufficient for a Macrocosm Ancestral God to cultivate a new Macrocosm Power.

Now, James consumed the Macrocosm Core. As the power of a Macrocosm Core was violent and turbulent, they ran amok inside James' body. James tried to cultivate the Macrocosm Core but to no avail. Since his Path Seals were destroyed and his Paths annihilated, he could not summon any power and could watch as the power of the Macrocosm Core ran amok inside him.

Meanwhile, outside the Juda Realm...

Upon sensing that James was still alive and had consumed the Macrocosm Core, realization dawned on Henrik's face. He seemed to understand why his master instructed him to find powerful spiritual herbs of Heaven and Earth after arriving in this universe. At that moment, disregarding the injuries on his body, he charged into the Juda Realm. Immediately, a terrifying formation of pressure overwhelmed him, and cracks began to appear on his body as he plummeted from the sky. However, he held on and rushed toward James' location.

Upon sensing an intruder and realizing that the intruder was Henrik, Thoth grew fearful and hurriedly retreated into the Formation.

Henrik arrived at the pile of rubble James was located in. Sensing that James was still alive, he immediately took every spiritual herb out and tossed them to James.

"Here!"

Henrik's voice made James open his eyes. The moment he opened his eyes, there were countless mysterious spiritual herbs before him. In fact, there was even a Macrocosm Elixir before him. Without giving them much thought, James immediately swallowed them whole.

"Quick, Thoth!" Yermolai yelled.

Thoth observed in the shadows for some time. When he realized that Henrik was injured and could not put up a fight, he breathed a sigh of relief and continued using the Formation's power to annihilate James and Henrik.

James knew that Henrik's power would not be able to resist the Formation. Summoning all his strength, he picked up the Staff of Destruction on the ground and tossed it to Henrik. Holding the Staff of Destruction in his hand, Henrik used the staff to resist the Formation's power.

James, on the other hand, came under attack once more. However, these bombardments could not annihilate him and only served to help him refine the swallowed herbs. The power materialized from the spiritual herbs gradually merged with the power that was produced after the Path Seals shattered before merging with the Macrocosm Core. Under the bombardment of the Formation, they gradually merged.

Soon, the Macrocosm Core was destroyed. Immediately, mysterious power materialized. However, the power did not restore James' body but caused him great damage instead. At that moment, his vitality seeped away and his life came to an end.

He closed his eyes.

"James."

Sensing that James was dead, Henrik roared in fury.

"Argh!"

Disregarding his injuries, he stood up and grabbed the Staff of Destruction and Demon-Slayer Sword on the ground, exuding a terrifying aura. At that moment, he seemed to be the devil. Looking at the powerful figures of the First Universe, he spat, "You shall pay for this!"

Upon seeing this, Yermolai and the others shivered in fear. That was because they could no longer put up a fight.

"Thoth, kill him, quick!"
