

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3741

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3741-“Huff.” Sadness clouded James’ expression.

Who would have thought a mere woman could trouble a peerless powerhouse so?

After James let out a despondent sigh, he tried to sense Thea in the deepest part of his soul. A portion of Thea’s soul was used to formulate the Ancestral God Rank Elixir. After he consumed it, a trace of her soul had been melded with his.

James could sense a Path Sigil embedded within his soul.

“Thea...Thea...”

However, the Path Sigil had no consciousness. No matter how much James called out to it, the Path Sigil stayed silent. Back when he was on the brink of death, the Path Sigil awakened, and Thea’s voice called out to him.

“I’ll try to extrapolate this Path Sigil.”

James tried to track down his beloved again, relying on the Path Sigil. Unfortunately, he was still unable to divine Thea’s whereabouts. After a few attempts, James finally gave up.

He was unable to find Thea despite his great strength. Perhaps, this had been decided by fate. For now, he could only wait. Despite that, he firmly believed Thea would turn up sooner or later.

James turned around and left. The next moment, he arrived back at the Divine Dimension in the Human Realm.

The Human Realm’s Divine Dimension was the cornerstone of the Twelfth Universe. Now that the Twelfth Universe had developed into one of the strongest universes, many prodigies were drawn in and they settled within the Human Realm’s Divine Dimension.

The Elysian Seal had already been lifted for some time, but the Twelfth Universe’s inhabitants were still very weak.

Despite the fact that some successfully became Ancestral Gods, they had only one Path Seal.

Meanwhile, the new generation of prodigies that had risen during the Apocalypse Age chose not to progress more slowly and focused on acquiring more Path Seals.

On the other hand, most of the foreign beings that came to the Twelfth Universe were at the Divine Rank, and a few were still at the Sage Rank. They had come for the Twelfth Universe's luck so that they could acquire more Path Seals.

Naturally, several powerhouses had also made their way to the Twelfth Universe to look for an opportunity to become Macrocosm Ancestral Gods.

The Twelfth Universe had become the most popular universe, and many powerhouses had come to broaden their horizons. When the foreign powerhouses came to the Twelfth Universe, they would also bring luck from their own universe.

As a result, the Twelfth Universe accumulated a significant amount of luck.

The Heavenly Path was aware of the overall benefits this resulted in and permitted others to enter into the Twelfth Universe.

James appeared in the Divine Dimension and spread his Divine Sense throughout the area to determine the Callahan family's whereabouts.

Jacopo was the Human Race's Lord and controlled the Human Realm. Since Jacopo's mother was Thea, he was also related to the Callahans. Therefore, the Callahans relied on Jacopo's status to highlight their family's influence.

On the other hand, the Caden family was the strongest force in the Human Realm.

James immediately sensed many familiar auras.

"I'm glad they're still around."

James was relieved.

Although he successfully located them, he did not intend to meet them. He wanted to meet up with Henrik beforehand. Henrik was not within the Divine Dimension. James expanded his senses to span the universe and found Henrik in the Demon Realm. With a thought, he disappeared from the Human Realm. The next moment, he had arrived in the Demon Realm's Divine Dimension.

Henrik stood atop a mountain in the Demon Realm's Divine Dimension. He wore a white robe and his face was contorted in fury.

"I didn't think that you'd been resurrected, Yermolai."

A man wearing a blue robe stood on a mountain opposite Henrik. He looked at Henrik with a menacing expression.

“You b*stard! You fought me with everything you had in the new universe. You obliterated my soul, and my master went through hell and back to resurrect me.”

“Let’s settle everything today. Right here.” Henrik’s expression darkened.

After their brief exchange, a powerful aura erupted from Henrik’s body.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3742

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3742-Henrik grieved over James’ death and felt responsible over it.

Ever since James died, he had stayed in seclusion. He easily avoided the Dark Strife during the Primeval Age and survived until this point because Yukia was his master.

The Twelfth Universe was in a prosperous age and attracted countless prodigies from the other universes. He never expected Yermolai, who had supposedly died under his sword, to still be alive. Yermolai was James’ murderer.

Henrik’s heart burned with a desire for revenge when he saw Yermolai.

In the Primeval Age, Henrik was already at the Terra Ancestral God Rank. He lived through the Ancient Heavenly Court Age and the Primordial Age. During this time, he reached the peak of the Caelum Ancestral God Rank. He had also been pursuing ultimate strength and had successfully cultivated ten Paths.

In the current age, he was one of the best Caelum Ancestral Gods. Ordinary Caelum Ancestral Gods could not compare to him.

Yermolai looked at Henrik with a calm expression.

“James was indeed a genius. I was greatly inspired by him when we fought. If I hadn’t fought him back then, I wouldn’t have ever accomplished what I have today.

“It’s unfortunate he had to die. It was his fate since he was born in the Twelfth Universe. If he were to be born in the First Universe, he would’ve become one of the greatest powerhouses to ever live.”

Yermolai voiced his opinions about James. Afterward, he grinned. “You’re quite impressive as well to have broken through the limits of heaven and earth. You’re already a Caelum Ancestral God with ten Paths. You’re very close to becoming a Macrocosm Ancestral God. Unfortunately, you’re still slightly weaker than me. I’m already a Macrocosm Ancestral God.”

Henrik retorted. “So what?”

“Even if you’re a Macrocosm Ancestral God, I’ll make sure you suffer. Don’t think of leaving alive since you’ve shown your face here.”

Henrik oozed murderous intent toward Yermolai.

Yermolai reminded him, “You have to consider the situation carefully, Henrik. We’re in the Twelfth Universe and it’s not the most stable universe. If we fight here, the Demon Realm will definitely collapse.

Henrik glared at him and said, “Do you dare to fight me in the Chaos?”

“Since you insist, I’ll use this chance to show you the difference between a Caelum Ancestral God and Macrocosm Ancestral God.”

Yermolai was fearless.

After speaking, he immediately dashed into the sky. He traveled through the mesmerizing universe and appeared in the Chaos. Henrik followed closely behind him. When the two entered the Chaos, Henrik immediately attacked Yermolai using his full strength.

A fierce battle unfolded in the Chaos.

Meanwhile, James had rushed over to the Demon Realm after sensing Henrik’s presence. However, he could no longer trace his aura the moment he arrived in the Demon Realm.

“He was here just a while ago. Where did he disappear to?” James frowned.

He stood where he previously sensed Henrik, waved his hand, and gathered a few law fragments. Immediately afterward, a vision of what recently happened in the area replayed before his eyes.

His brows furrowed tighter after seeing Yermolai.

James quickly left the Demon Realm and rushed toward the Chaos without hesitation. He sensed alarming fluctuations in the Chaos as soon as he entered it. Fortunately, he was unscathed by the resultant shockwaves from Henrik and Yermolai’s battle.

James did not immediately announce his presence but watched the battle in hiding.

Henrik was very powerful. He had broken through the limits of heaven and earth and was a Caelum Ancestral God with ten Paths. The Chaos itself was affected by Henrik using his full strength in battle.

However, Yermolai had also cultivated ten Paths. On top of that, he was already a Macrocosm Ancestral God. No matter how strong Henrik was, he could not beat Yermolai. Moreover, Yermolai even had a Chaotic Treasure.

Henrik was overpowered and quickly sustained injuries right after the battle began.

“I had no intention of killing you at the start. However, since we’re in the Chaos, I’ll make this place your grave.”

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3743

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3743-Yermolai planned to kill Henrik.

Henrik was a Caelum Ancestral God that mastered ten Paths. Now that the Twelfth Universe was blessed with great luck, Henrik would surely be able to learn Macrocosm Power soon since he was so talented. Once he became a Macrocosm Ancestral God, he would definitely be a formidable powerhouse.

As a powerhouse from the First Universe, Yermolai would never allow living beings of the Twelfth Universe to surpass him.

Yermolai’s Chaotic Treasure was an iron chain. At both ends of the chain were spiked iron balls.

“Prepare to die.” Yermolai swung his weapon with herculean force. Henrik was already wounded. As he watched the attack draw closer, his expression became solemn.

At the last second, a figure suddenly appeared before Henrik. The person raised his hand, unleashed powerful force from his palm, and stopped the spiked balls. The force prevented the spiked ball from moving forward.

“How...?” Yermolai’s expression changed to one of shock. He attempted to pull back the chains, but a powerful force had bound it tightly. No matter how much he tried, he was unable to retrieve his weapon.

“Who might you be, sir?” Yermolai said, “I’m a Macrocosm Ancestral God from the First Universe. My master is the First Universe’s Lord.”

Yermolai introduced himself.

James wore a black robe and had a mask made out of mysterious law fragments covering his face. He did not want to reveal his identity or be recognized by Yermolai. Otherwise, powerhouses from the First Universe would definitely pursue him if they found out he was still alive.

His existence was enough to pose a threat to the First Universe.

With his current strength, James knew he was not a match for the Omnipotent Lord yet.

James used his force to hold onto Yermolai's Chaotic Treasure. He looked at the startled Yermolai and said coldly, "Don't try to kick up a commotion in the Twelfth Universe. I'll let you off the hook today, but I won't go easy on you if you try something like this again."

After speaking, he immediately took action. He tossed the Chaotic Treasure back to Yermolai, causing the spiked ball to hit him. The weapon caved in Yermolai's chest, causing him to vomit out a mouthful of blood. His body was also blasted away upon impact.

James was terrifyingly strong. Even Henrik, a Caelum Ancestral God that mastered ten Paths, and Yermolai, a Macrocosm Ancestral God with a Chaotic Treasure, was helpless against him.

Yermolai was shocked to have been defeated in one move.

He wondered, 'When did such a terrifying powerhouse exist in the Twelfth Universe?'

It took a long time for Yermolai to collect himself after his initial shock.

'This is bad. I must report this to Master,' thought Yermolai and he quickly fled the area in a wounded state.

Henrik looked at the mysterious person who protected him. As soon as Yermolai left, he said embarrassedly, "Thank you for helping me, Sir."

James turned around.

Henrik looked at the masked man before him. He wanted to see the face of his sudden saviour but could not see through the mask, which was composed of law fragments.

James' scattered the law inscriptions, and the mask slowly faded away to reveal his face.

"Huh?!" Henrik exclaimed, and his jaw dropped open in disbelief.

"J-James! It's... you?"

Henrik babbled incoherently.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3744

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3744-Henrik was flabbergasted.

He witnessed James' death with his own eyes. He brought James' body back to the Twelfth Universe and personally buried him.

How was it possible for James to come back to life after such a long time had passed?

After James died, Henrik wandered around aimlessly. He even followed his master to other universes to train. When the Apocalypse Age began, he had heard about a cultivator called James Caden, who played a considerable part in resolving the Four Calamities.

Back in the Primeval Age, he had no idea James was from the future. It was only until the Apocalypse Age did he realize that James was destined to travel back in time to the Primeval Age.

Henrik knew he could not interfere with the matter.

If he were to stop James from time traveling, the Primeval Age's events would be changed forever and that would lead to a cascade of grave consequences. The Primeval Age intended history would cease to exist, and so would everything of the present. Henrik was not able to bear the Karma and consequences.

Even though he knew James would die in the Primeval Age, he held his tongue.

However, James had returned in the flesh. He was shocked but also delighted to see him again.

"Is it really you, James? I'm not hallucinating, right?" stammered Henrik in disbelief.

"Let's head back first before we catch up."

James did not stay in the Chaos for long and quickly returned to the Twelfth Universe.

Henrik followed closely behind him.

The two returned to the Twelfth Universe and headed to a restaurant in some city within the Demon Realm's Divine Dimension. They sat by a window, and James began to recount everything that happened over drinks.

"Truthfully, I'm still confused by everything that transpired up to this point. I don't even know how I was resurrected. A few dozen Epochs after my death, I suddenly came back to life. Then, I used the Time Capsule to travel through the River of Time and arrived at the current era."

Shocked, Henrik asked. "How about your strength? How did you get so powerful? Yermolai is a Macrocosm Ancestral God with ten Paths. He's terrifyingly strong yet he couldn't even withstand one blow from you."

"After I regained consciousness, I felt a new kind of power within my body," said James.

James recalled past events and continued telling his story. "During the great battle in the Primeval Age, all the Path Seals in my body were shattered, and their power began to flow throughout my body.

"I had also consumed a Macrocosm Core, refined the Dark Wellspring, and eaten the Macrocosm Herbs you gave me.

"All these powers fused and formed a new kind of power. However, I can't seem to discern my cultivation rank."

...

James did not hide anything from Henrik and told him everything that happened in the past.

Hearing this, Henrik fell into thought.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3745

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3745-After a while, Henrik said, "My Grandmaster, Yukia, had already predicted the birth of the new universe and handed my master a pouch in advance.

"She instructed him to send me to the new universe to join you. I was also asked to collect powerful herbs. However, my master never explained its purpose to me.

"When you were injured and consumed the Macrocosm Core, I suddenly realized why I was tasked to collect those herbs. Perhaps my Grandmaster knew you would be in distress and wanted me to collect those herbs to save you."

Hearing this, James asked puzzledly. "So you're saying everything I've gone through was according to Yukia's plan? Did she also predict I'd develop a new power in my body?"

Henrik shook his head. "Maybe it's a power that can only be generated under specific conditions. My Grandmaster must've been secretly pulling the strings and guiding you toward this outcome."

James was now extremely intrigued by this enigmatic figure.

What kind of person was Yukia? Why was everything to do with him related to her?

James waved his hand and said, "Forget it. I don't want to fill my head with complicated thoughts now. Let's enjoy our drinks."

He picked up his wine glass, toasted to Henrik, and drank everything in one gulp.

“By the way...”

Henrik asked. “Why did you let Yermolai go? He’s a Macrocosm Ancestral God from the First Universe. Moreover, he was the one that sent many powerhouses after you back in the Primeval Age.”

James thought about it and said, “It’s easy to kill him, but he’s from the First Universe. His master is the First Universe’s Lord and the Omnipotent Lord is extremely powerful. If I were to kill him, the First Universe’s powerhouses would be enraged and would target the Twelfth Universe. It would be a disaster for the Twelfth Universe if I killed him.

“I don’t know the Omnipotent Lord’s strength, but he’s the Lord of the First Universe. Their universe has existed the longest, and I can’t underestimate him. Before I’m absolutely assured I can best him, I’ll try to avoid inciting him.”

The Twelfth Universe was at peace.

Foreign powerhouses had come to the Twelfth Universe, which meant that the universe was celebrating a prosperous era.

Earning the ire of the First Universe would bring disaster to the Twelfth Universe.

James did not want to kill Yermolai over a personal conflict and cause the suffering of the inhabitants in the Twelfth Universe.

Henrik nodded lightly and said, “You’re right. The Twelfth Universe had been oppressed for so long and is now finally growing stronger. It’s best not to invite such trouble at this critical period.

“I’m so glad you’re still alive, James. We can continue fighting together again.”

Henrik was in a good mood and chattered on cheerily. He finally had the chance to vent out the emotions that he had bottled up all these years.

“What are you planning to do next, James?” asked Henrik.

James sighed lightly at his question.

“I traveled to the Primeval Age to look for Thea. Although I found her, she reincarnated. I have no idea where she was reborn and I don’t know where I should go to find her.”

Henrik comforted him, “Since she’s been reincarnated, I’m sure she’ll appear sooner or later. The Twelfth Universe is currently the most prosperous and is highly desired by other universes. I’m sure Thea will be reincarnated into this age. You just need to patiently wait for her. By the way, many other powerhouses have been acting very arrogantly in the Twelfth Universe. Our Elysian Seal has only just been lifted, and our people haven't grown strong enough to take on the other universe's powerhouses. Since you've returned, let's teach them their place together."

James shook his head lightly.

Henry asked, "What's wrong? Was that too excessive?"

James replied. "Our universes seem to be harmoniously co-existing at the moment, but a lot is brewing beneath the surface. If I suddenly show up, it'll cause needless uproar. I'm not planning to reveal myself."

Henrik smiled and said, "That's fine. You can just disguise yourself and use a completely different identity."

James replied. "That's precisely what I'm planning to do. James Caden has already died in the Primeval Age. If word got out that I'm still alive, it'd definitely cause the other universes' Macrocosm Ancestral Gods to panic."

Henrik said smilingly, "True. You've cultivated too many Paths and have several Macrocosm Powers. If you were to become a Macrocosm Ancestral God, they wouldn't stand a chance against you. If they find out you're still alive, they will try to get rid of you as soon as possible."

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3746

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3746-The Twelfth Universe ushered a new and prosperous era.

Other universes envied their affluence and sent many of their prodigies over in hopes some of the Twelfth Universe's luck would rub off on them so they could make great strides in their cultivation.

Unfortunately, these outsiders began to oppress the Twelfth Universe's denizens. The Twelfth Universe's own prodigies were persecuted and bullied with the influx of new visitors.

Henrik wanted to avenge them. Now that James had returned, he wanted to use their combined might to teach the other universes' prodigies a lesson.

However, James was uninterested in dealing with these matters.

His main concern was Yukia.

James looked at Henrik and changed the topic. "Did you ever see Yukia again after leaving the Thirteenth Universe?"

Henrik said, "I did."

"Oh?"

Intrigued, James said, "Tell me more."

Henrik said, "Every time I see my Grandmaster, I've only seen her from behind. I've never seen her true appearance before. Truthfully, I don't even really know that much about her. If you want to know about her, I'm sure my mentor will know more than me. Would you like to go visit him?"

"Who's your mentor?" asked James. He knew Henrik had a powerful master. During the Primeval Age, his mentor brought Henrik across the Chaos and into the new universe. Taking that into consideration, he must be at least a Caelum Ancestral God.

Moreover, he even managed to escape the scrutiny of the Macrocosm Ancestral Gods, which meant he was definitely an extremely capable person.

James was curious about Henrik's master who also was Yukia's disciple.

Henrik explained. "My master is from the Twelfth Universe. He was also a basic individual from the Twelfth Universe and was born in the same period as the Five Ancestral Masters. My master isn't interested in fame and fortune. Thus, he rarely comes out in public, and very few know of him.

"My master is called the Unmatched Emperor. He was born an Ancestral God. Yukia took him on as her disciple shortly after his birth. At the time of the conflict during the Primeval Age, my master left the Twelfth Universe and avoided the catastrophe.

Later, he returned to the Twelfth Universe in the Primordial Age and lived in the Demon Realm."

James asked. "What's the Unmatched Emperor's cultivation rank?"

Henrik shook his head slightly and said, "Actually, I don't know his current cultivation rank. When I became his disciple, he mentioned that he was at the peak of the Caelum Ancestral God Rank. It's already been so long, and he has traveled to many other universes. It's possible he might already be a Macrocosm Ancestral God.

"However, the Twelfth Universe's strength was restricted to the Grand Emperor Rank's Ninth Heaven during the Primordial Age. On top of that, he never disclosed his true strength to others. That's why others assume he's still a Grand Emperor."

Henrik briefly spoke of the Unmatched Emperor's background.

James grew interested in the Unmatched Emperor. He stood up and said, "Well, what are we waiting for? Let's go see him."

Henrik stood up without hesitation and said, "Alright. Let's go."

James left the restaurant and followed Henrik to a spiritual mountain protected by a mysterious formation in the Demon Realm.

As soon as they arrived, James detected the powerful formation.

Although it was a complicated formation, James was now very knowledgeable in formations and could disable it with ease.

Meanwhile, Henrik entered the formation freely. He led James through the formation and up the spiritual mountain. On top of the mountain were some ordinary-looking buildings. Henrik brought James to a wooden house.

As he stood outside the door, Henrik called out, "Master."

Creak.

The door slowly opened, and out came an old man.

Surprisingly, the old man had a head of black hair along with a black beard. He wore a black robe and looked spry and full of energy.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3747

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3747-Henrik greeted him respectfully. "Greetings, Master."

The old man nodded lightly, then turned to James. He smiled and said, "I finally got to see you in person, James."

Knowing the old man had existed since the early days of the Twelfth Universe, James also addressed him respectfully. "It's a pleasure to meet you, Sir."

The Unmatched Emperor waved his hand, and a table and some chairs appeared outside the wooden house. He gestured to his guests and said, "Sit."

James sat himself down on one of the chairs.

His eyes were glued on the Unmatched Emperor as he tried to discern his cultivation rank. However, he could not sense anything from the Unmatched Emperor, and it was like there was a void in the man's body.

The Unmatched Emperor smiled lightly and said, "I've already transcended cultivation ranks and embarked on a different path."

Hearing this, James was startled.

'He's transcended the way of cultivation and embarked on a different path?' thought James.

The Unmatched Emperor smiled politely. "If you have any questions, ask away."

James inquired, "Before the creation of the Thirteenth Universe in the Primeval Age, Yukia handed you a pouch, didn't she? What did it contain?"

"The Primeval Age? That's a very long time ago."

The Unmatched Emperor pondered deeply about his answer. After a while, he said, "She did pass me a pouch, but it didn't have much inside it. There was only a message saying that you'd go to the new universe on behalf of the Twelfth Universe and that you'd go through a horrible ordeal. She mentioned it'd be tough for you to overcome the event and survive. I was also instructed to send someone to the new universe to gather a great number of herbs."

The Unmatched Emperor spoke offhandedly as if he were talking about something insignificant. However, his words made James' blood race. His suspicion that Yukia had been secretly guiding him forward was true.

"Who exactly is Yukia?" James wondered aloud.

A pensive look flashed across the Unmatched Emperor's face. "My master..."

After thinking for a long time, he replied. "I don't know much about her either. However, she did mention a bit of her past. Back when there were only eight universes, great turmoil erupted in the Dark World and the Dark World went through a power shuffle. My master severely injured three hundred Ninth Stage Lords in the Dark World.

"Oh, that's right. You must be unfamiliar with the Lord Rank.

"The Lord Rank is the Dark World's equivalent to the Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank in the Illuminated World.

"Being at the Lord Rank's Ninth Stage is akin to a Macrocosm Ancestral God who had cultivated nine Macrocosm Powers."

James exclaimed in awe. "She's that powerful?!"

What kind of strength did Yukia wield to severely injure 300 Ninth Stage Lords?

The Unmatched Emperor said, "That's all I know about her. I know nothing about her background nor do I know her cultivation rank."

"Huff."

James took a deep breath to calm himself down.

After a while, he asked again, "Then why did Yukia appear in the Twelfth Universe? What was she planning to do? What is her goal?"

"What is her goal, huh?" The Unmatched Emperor mumbled, repeating James' words in a daze.

He looked at James and said, "I remember her mentioning that there was an opportunity to completely dismantle something the Twelfth Universe. However, a brand new power would be needed for that, and she planned to create it."

"She called it Chaos Power."

"Chaos Power?" James looked at him puzzledly and asked. "Could the power that formed in my body be Chaos Power?"

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3748

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3748-Yukia had come up with an elaborate plan to concoct a new power that could devastate everything. Hearing this, James immediately thought about the power that arose in his body.

He knew his whole life had been progressing according to Yukia's plans. Thus, he concluded that she must have had something to do with the powers in his body.

The Unmatched Emperor looked at James.

"I'm not sure whether it's Chaos Power that resides in your body. However, I learned from my master that Chaos Power is an outstanding power that can transcend everything. It's a completely new type of power."

He looked at James and asked, "Do you know about the Omniscience Path?"

James nodded and asked, "Yeah. What about it? Does it have something to do with Chaos Power?"

The Unmatched Emperor nodded lightly and said, "Indeed."

James' eyes lit up curiously.

The Omniscience Path was another branch of cultivation, but passing the Third Stage was unprecedented. Many have entered the Omniscience Path since the beginning of the Primeval Age, but all encountered a dead end at the Third Stage. After reaching the Third Stage, their full potential was supposed to be unlocked, and there was no further progress to be made."

The Unmatched Emperor said, "My master theorized that all beings have infinite potential. However, this potential had been tampered with. As a result, every living being's potential was inadvertently limited and could progress no further than the Omniscience Path's Third Stage."

"It was tampered with? What are you talking about?" James was intrigued and asked, "How was it altered and who's responsible for it?"

The Unmatched Emperor shook his head and said, "I don't know these things. Perhaps your answers lie with only my master. I've already told you everything I learned from her.

"She said that crossing further into the Omniscience Path would give one unspeakable strength. When you reach the pinnacle of the Omniscience Path, you will be connected to the Chaos and can absorb Chaos Power. When you reach that level, you can create universes in the Chaos with just a snap of the finger."

"Huff." James took a deep breath.

The thought of creating a new universe with the snap of a finger was terrifying. The mere concept of being connected to the Chaos was unfathomable, let alone absorbing its power.

James knew the Chaos was boundless. Even a Macrocosm Ancestral God could not grasp the vastness of the Chaos nor be able to absorb Chaos Power. Everything he just heard sounded incredibly farfetched.

After James took a deep, steady breath, he soon calmed down.

"The Omniscience Path's zenith is supposed to be limited to the Third Stage. Nevertheless, I've entered the Fourth Stage. Does that mean one can cultivate Chaos Power after entering the Fourth Stage?" asked James.

The Unmatched Emperor chuckled lightly and said, "Haha. It'd be nice if it were that simple. My master wouldn't have to dedicate so much time seeing her plans to fruition if it were."

"If the product of cultivating the Omniscience Path is Chaos Power, then why should I continue if I already have Chaos Power in my body? Aren't I already invincible at my current strength?" James asked tentatively.

The Unmatched Emperor shook his head lightly.

"No, James. You still don't understand Chaos Power. It's a terrifying power, an existence that transcends all other powers. Even if all the Macrocosm Powers in the universe were to combine together, it wouldn't compare to Chaos Power.

"There is indeed a new kind of power within your body. It's very special, but it's not Chaos Power. Your power might be similar to mine. Chaos Power is but a mere hypothesis of my master, and there's no telling whether it exists or not."

"Y-You?" James looked at the Unmatched Emperor and asked. "Did you also cultivate sixteen Paths and endure a grueling battle?"

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3749

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3749-"Ha," The Unmatched Emperor chuckled lightly.

"Why are you laughing, Sir?" James was confused.

The Unmatched Emperor effortlessly moved his hand, and a painting appeared before him. The painting consisted of countless lines, each of which originated from the same point but branched out into different tracks. Eventually, all these lines would meet up at the end.

When he looked at the painting, James immediately understood the point the Unmatched Emperor tried to make.

The Unmatched Emperor put away the painting with a flourish of his hand and explained. "No matter what road you walk or what you encounter along the way, the endpoint is the same. Both your power and mine will eventually become Chaos Power."

"So you're saying my current power isn't Chaos Power yet?" asked James.

The Unmatched Emperor nodded and said, "Yes, you think of it that way. Although it can't be called Chaos Power yet, your power has progressed much further than mine. Your power consists of several Macrocosm Powers bound together, whereas mine doesn't contain any power equivalent to Macrocosm Power."

Perplexed, James asked, "Then what exactly does it take to cultivate Chaos Power?"

The Unmatched Emperor shook his head and said, "I would like to know the answer too, and my master even more so. If she knew how to cultivate Chaos Power, she wouldn't have to go through so much trouble."

James thought for a while and said, "Since cultivating normally isn't going to work, then wouldn't the only option be to proceed down the Omniscience Path? What stage must I reach in the Omniscience Path to develop Chaos Power?"

The Unmatched Emperor shook his head again.

"I don't know either.

"Master has secretly guided you into cultivating myriads of Paths. Eventually, they were destroyed, and from their ashes awoke as a new power. If you continue to look into it, it might evolve into Chaos Power.

"Moreover, you've already entered the Fourth Stage, which is beyond the supposed limit.

"You can keep improving on both fronts. While exploring the path to Chaos Power, you must also continue to study the Omniscience Path. Although the Omniscience Path is said to be a dead-end, nothing is truly absolute. Under my master's direction, you managed to enter the Fourth Stage."

James rubbed his temples and said, "That is to say, I'm on my own from here onward?"

The Unmatched Emperor nodded and said, "Of course, you'll have to slowly make your way forward. From now on, no one will be able to help you in your cultivation journey because no one else has walked the current path you're on. Not even my master. She's only ever run simulations of it.

"Master had to test countless experiments and permutations to enable you to reach your current stage. There's nothing else she can do for you in the future. There must be a reason she chose you. Perhaps you are inextricably linked to her."

Yukia had repeatedly run experiments and tested various permutations of the Chaos Path.

However, the further she was able to make it was where James stood at the moment. Yet, she had not arrived on the actual Chaos Path and was far from it. James had to walk the rest of the journey alone.

His brain whirled with questions.

Who tempered with the Omniscience Path?

James asked, "Did Yukia ever say who tempered with the Omniscience Path and restricted everyone's infinite potential?"

The Unmatched Emperor shook his head and replied. "How would I know? My master is not omnipotent. She simply guessed that a mysterious powerhouse tempered with it. Perhaps, the Omniscience Path truly only has three stages, and everyone was born with limited potential."

No one could say for sure. Even the Unmatched Emperor, who had accompanied Yukia for countless years, did not have the answer.

"I have one more question. What does Yukia look like?" asked James.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3750

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3750-James was deeply interested in Yukia.

Yukia was also Emperor Jabari's master and taught him during the Primordial Age. However, he had never seen her appearance and only ever viewed her from behind.

Henrik also had never seen her before.

Meanwhile, the Unmatched Emperor followed Yukia for a very long time, so James concluded he must have seen her face before.

"Ahem...Ahem..." The Unmatched Emperor coughed a few times and made an embarrassed expression. "James, about that... How should I put this..."

"Just tell me the truth," James asked for a direct answer.

The Unmatched Emperor sighed and said, "I'd also like to have seen her for myself, but like the others, I don't know what her face looks like."

"..."

James was shocked. Even the Unmatched Emperor had never glimpsed her face before. He was one of her earliest disciples and had followed her footsteps for such a long time. Yet, even he did not know what she looked like.

"My master is rather enigmatic. Although she never deliberately turned her back toward me, she obscured her face and I could never see her appearance clearly."

James did not ask any more questions.

Next, James spoke with the Unmatched Emperor for a while about the current situation of the Twelfth Universe.

“What’s your opinion about how the Twelfth Universe is doing?” asked James.

The Unmatched Emperor shook his head lightly and said, “The current prosperity was a result of being stifled for so many ages. It’s a luminous era for the Twelfth Universe. Many great powerhouses will be born in this age. Perhaps a few Macrocosm Ancestral Gods will also rise in this age. However...”

The Unmatched Emperor paused and hesitated to continue.

James asked, “What’s wrong?”

After contemplating his words, the Unmatched Emperor replied. “The Twelfth Universe’s development itself doesn’t really matter. What’s more important is its connection to other universes.

“Oh?”

James’ curiosity was piqued. He immediately asked, “What connection can the universes have with each other? Shouldn’t the twelve universes be independent of each other?”

The Unmatched Emperor sighed and said, “The twelve universes are indeed independent existences. However, from what I know, the First Universe has repeatedly suggested merging with other universes to have a better chance against fighting the Dark World when they cause trouble again.”

“Merge the twelve universes?” James was startled.

The Unmatched Emperor said, “The First Universe has proposed many times to unite the universes and summoned Macrocosm Ancestral Gods from various universes to discuss the matter in the First Universe. However, they never managed to obtain the others’ approval. I’m sure the First Universe won’t back down so easily and will try to push for it again soon.”

James asked puzzled, “Does merging the twelve universes mean he wants to work in unison or to completely fuse the twelve universes to form a completely new universe?”

“Of course, he intends for the latter.”

“Who is even capable of fusing the twelve universes?”

“You underestimate the First Universe, James. They’ve existed far longer than the others and their time had already come to an end ages ago. If not for the emergence of the Thirteenth Universe, they wouldn’t have a chance to fuse it with theirs and extend their lifespan. They might’ve even already ceased to exist without the Thirteenth Universe. Since they could fuse two universes, they're probably also able to fuse the twelve universes."

After hearing this, James' face darkened.