The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3813-Mirabel stared at him. This Dark Power that tortured her for such a long time was easily absorbed by James. Yet, James seemed to be fine. This shocked her. This gave her a false impression of James' strength, which she mistakenly believed to be so overwhelming that even Dark Power could be suppressed.

James' strength far surpassed hers.

"What Path have you cultivated, Forty-nine?"

Mirabelle asked, "Can the Omniscience Path truly cultivate such a mysterious power?"

James shook his head and smiled.

Puzzled, Mirabelle awaited his response.

James said while smiling, "There's a unique and mysterious Path in this world that doesn't belong to any universe but rather that of Chaos beyond the universes. This Path is called the Chaos Path, which is the one I'm cultivating. Meanwhile, the power I'm cultivating is the Chaos Power, a power that surpasses all other powers. When cultivated to perfection, you will surpass the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank and reach a brand-new realm called the..."

James paused. That was because he had no idea what the rank beyond the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank was.

Intrigued, Mirabelle asked, "Called what?"

James contemplated how best to trick Mirabelle. After all, as an Eight-Power Macrocosm God, she would not be easily duped.

After some contemplation, he said calmly, "This rank is called the Chaos Rank."

James, who could not care less about naming a new rank, simply gave it a name. In any case, Chaos was so profound that not even a Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God could comprehend it. Since even the borders of Chaos could not be determined, this was the perfect name.

“The Chaos Rank?”

Pensive, Mirabelle simply repeated the same words over and over again.

After some time, she asked, “How does one cultivate the Chaos Path?”

She looked at James in anticipation. Even though she was an Eight-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God, she was interested in the unknown Chaos Path. At the rank she was currently at, no treasure or Supernatural Power could pique her interest. Only Chaos and its cultivation method could attract her attention.

James acted mysteriously and said, “This is my signature cultivation method, and I will not simply teach anyone nor accept any disciples. Apart from my disciples, no one else has the right to learn the Chaos Path.”

James’ words piqued Mirabelle’s interest. Her eyes were cloudy, seemingly deeply conflicted inside. After some time, she suddenly stood up and knelt on the ground, “Master, please accept me as your disciple.”

“What are you doing?”

James was stunned. He only tried to dupe Mirabelle because he had no cultivation methods to cultivate the Chaos Path. He did not expect her to kneel on the ground and request to be admitted as his disciple.

Mirabelle knelt on the ground and said with a serious look on his face, “I am interested in the Chaos Path. I hope you will admit me as your disciple and teach me the cultivation method.”

James said reluctantly, “You misunderstand. When my master taught me the Chaos Oath, he explicitly told me that I shouldn’t easily admit anyone as my disciple, nor should I teach the Chaos Path’s cultivation method. I need time to test my disciples’ personality and potential before I will consider teaching the Chaos Path.”

Mirabelle immediately said, “I will not let you down. Please admit me as your disciple.”

James sighed and said, “Fine, I will accept you as my disciple. Please stand.”

“Thank you, Master.” Mirabelle was overjoyed. This meant that she would have the opportunity to cultivate the Chaos Path and surpass the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank and reach the unprecedented Chaos Rank.

James never expected he would be able to dupe Mirabelle just like that. This was simply too easy. Deep inside, he secretly rejoiced. Who said that gaining the support of an Eight-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God would be difficult? He had proved them wrong.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3814-Mirabelle requested to be James’ disciple solely because of the Chaos Path. She was a human of the First Universe and one of the first to ever exist. As she had experienced everything there was, only the unknown, mysterious Chaos could pique her interest.

“Master, can you tell me more about the Chaos Path?”

Mirabelle looked at James in anticipation. At that moment, her adorable expression was unlike that of a powerful figure.

“Uhm...”

James was at a loss.

“Even if you’re now my disciple, I don’t know much about you. The sect prohibits me from teaching the Chaos Path easily. Once I know more about you, I’ll teach you the Chaos Path.”

James began to dupe her. That was because he did not know what to explain to her. He only cultivated to this step only because of Yukia’s guidance, and he only acquired such strength by absorbing the Macrocosm Core.

Hearing this, Mirabelle was slightly disappointed. However, she did not inquire further. Since James was now her master, she would have plenty of opportunities to learn in the future.

“Oh, yeah...” Upon being reminded of something, she asked, “Why have you come and visit me?”

“I...”

James was at a loss for words. Surely he could not come clean with her.

Now that Mirabelle had become his disciple, he only needed to reveal his intentions of becoming the Lord of the new universe, and she would immediately proclaim her support.

He shifted the subject, asking, "Why are you injured? Did you go into the Dark World? Did you meet a powerful Lord in the depths?"

"Mhm." Mirabelle nodded and said, "I specifically entered the Dark World. There, I encountered a powerful Lord who had only just emerged. She's called Sienna and possesses terrifying strength. Even with my Eight-Power Macrocosm Power, I'm no match for her."

Mirabelle briefly explained. She did not say that she ventured into the Dark World to investigate Yukia Dearnaley. Besides, she was not interested in that at all. Now, she only wanted to know more about the Chaos Path and the sect James was in. She was curious to know what role James' sect played in the twelve universes.

"Master, what's your master like?" She asked curiously.

James said with a stern look on his face, "That's none of your concern for now. When the time comes, everything will be revealed."

Mirabelle got the hint and stopped asking questions.

James sat beside her and gently tapped on the table. He looked at Mirabelle and asked, "By the way, what do you think about the Consolidation Conference just around the corner?"

Mirabelle said, "The consolidation will bring about many benefits to the twelve universes. The Heavenly Path will become stronger, and this means that the limitations of Heaven and Earth will be broken. By then, living beings will be able to cultivate more Paths, and the restrictions on the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank will be lifted. When that comes to pass, crossing into the Chaos Rank will not be an impossible feat."

James said, "Actually, I was asking about your opinion on the Lord of the new universe."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3815-Mirabelle answered with a serious look on her face, "The Omnipotent Lord has long wished to consolidate the universe. However, he failed numerous times in the past. This time, he is determined to accomplish the feat. As a Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God, he can only obtain sufficient providence to make a breakthrough by consolidating the universe and becoming the Lord of the new universe. This is why he's determined to become the Lord."

Pensive, James asked, "What sort of person is he?"

Hearing this, Mirabelle was lost in contemplation. She found it hard to answer that question.

"Am I putting you in an uncomfortable position?" James asked.

Mirabelle shook her head and answered, "No, it's just that I don't know what to say."

James looked at her.

Mirabelle said, "He's certainly a qualified Lord who has contributed immensely to the interest of the First Universe. However, from the perspective of the other universes, he's just an invader who has robbed the resources of other universes for the good of the First Universe. Besides, he even annexed the Thirteenth Universe.

James understood this. There was no right or wrong in this world, only different perspectives.

"Is the Omnipotent Lord only trying to obtain providence and cross into a higher rank by going to such lengths to consolidate the universe?" James asked.

Mirabelle said, "Not entirely. He's also an ambitious man. Without the existence of the Dark World, he would have become the most powerful man in the world. However, with the threat of the Dark World looking above his head, he cannot rest in peace. So, he wants to reach a higher rank and destroy or even control the Dark World. Only by controlling everything can he feel secure."

As a powerful figure of the First Universe, Mirabelle knew the Omnipotent Lord well.

“In that case, who else apart from the Omnipotent Lord has the right to become the Lord of the new universe?”

Mirabelle froze momentarily before smiling brightly. “I think you are the most suitable candidate to become Lord of the new universe. I don’t care what other people think, but I support you, Master.”

Hearing this, James smiled. This was what he was waiting for. With Mirabelle’s support, everything else would be much simpler.

He smiled and said, “You’re second only to the Omnipotent Lord in the First Universe. By supporting me, aren’t you worried that he will turn against you? I thought you guys had a thing for each other. Heck, some people might even think of you two as a couple.”

Mirabelle immediately explained, “Indeed, I have a relationship with the Omnipotent Lord. But we’re not a couple. Now that I have you as my master, I will support you wholeheartedly. I promise to be absolutely loyal to you. When you become the Lord of the new universe, I hope you can teach me the Chaos Path.”

Although the limitations of Heaven and Earth could be broken after the universes merged, and one could surpass the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank, this was not guaranteed, for one required also providence and good luck. Compared to this, obtaining the cultivation method of the Chaos Path was far more appropriate.

James said smilingly, “But of course. As an Eight-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God, you have the right to inherit the Chaos Path.”

Hearing this, Mirabelle was relieved.

She said, “I swear to be eternally loyal to you.”

James stood up and said, “I’m going back now. Though the Dark Power inside your body has disappeared, your injuries have not yet recovered. Prioritize your injuries. I have a feeling that the coming conference will not be a peaceful one.”

“Understood,” Mirabelle immediately said, “Allow me to escort you back.”

James waved slightly and said, “No need. I’ll be back on my own.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3816-James left Mount Nine-Saints. He came here to persuade Mirabelle to support him. Initially, he expected it to be a difficult endeavor. However, he did not expect this to be so easy.

He was in a good mood. He returned to the Ancestral Holy Site and his accommodation. Now that he had Mirabelle’s support, he was one step closer to becoming the Lord of the new universe.

However, Mirabelle alone was not enough. If he was a Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God, he could accomplish his ambitions easily. However, he was not a Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God. Though. He could deal with ordinary Macrocosm Ancestral Gods, he could not fight against more powerful figures.

“Looks like I need to gain the support of Longinus, the Lord of the Second Universe.”

James sat on the wall of his courtyard and gazed into the picturesque scenery in the distance. At that moment, he was contemplating how best to gain the support of Longinus. Should he use the same trick on him just like what he did with Mirabelle? No, it would not work. That was because Longinus did not know anything about Yukia. Naturally, he would not be intimidated at all.

“I wonder if he has paid the Omnipotent Lord a visit...” James murmured.

Even though he was at his wit’s end, he had to go find Longinus. He activated his Divine Sense and immediately discovered Longinus’ accommodation. He leaped down from the wall and landed on the ground before heading toward Longinus’ accommodation.

Before he could leave his manor, however, an elderly man appeared before him. Wearing a black robe, the man had a long black beard. His appearance did not seem to be too old, and there was an immense vitality circulating throughout his body.

“The Unmatched Emperor?”

James froze.

The man before him was none other than the Unmatched Emperor, the disciple of Yukia Dearnaley, the master of Henrik Declan, and a hidden powerful figure of the Twelfth Universe. He had also cultivated a mysterious power. However, his power was not above James'. James estimated that his strength was at the Four-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank.

"Why are you here?" James walked toward him and asked.

The Unmatched Emperor said smilingly, "How can I possibly miss the conference of the twelve universes? Seeing that you are leaving immediately after returning from Mount Nine-Saints, are you planning to pay the Lord of the Second Universe a visit?"

James looked at him, puzzled.

"You seem to know my movements well."

The Unmatched Emperor said, smiling, "Since you are about to look for Longinus, I assume that you have successfully convinced Mirabelle?"

James said smilingly, "Since you are here, I assume you have a way to help me convince Longinus?"

"Let's go," the Unmatched Emperor said.

James never thought that the Unmatched Emperor would appear in the First Universe. Now that he was here, he had a helping hand. If the Unmatched Emperor could really convince Longinus, things would proceed much more smoothly.

The two soon arrived at Longinus' accommodation.

At that moment, Longinus was sitting on a plot of grass in the courtyard.

He had met with the Omnipotent Lord and obtained some pieces of information. Though the authenticity could not be verified, he now knew that James was a terrifying person. Now, he was thinking about how exactly he could become the Lord of the new universe.

At that moment, two figures appeared outside the courtyard.

He immediately sensed their presence. As he waved his hand, the gates opened, and James and the Unmatched Emperor walked in.

Upon seeing James, Longinus immediately stood up, and a smile crept up on his grim face. Then, he walked toward James and said with a grin, "I was wondering who it was. Turns out it's my friend, Forty-nine. Is something the matter?"

James glanced at the Unmatched Emperor. However, the Unmatched Emperor simply remained silent.

He was confused.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3817-What the hell was this guy up to? Since he had ways to convince Longinus, why was he remaining silent?

He smiled and said, "Can't I have a chat with an old friend of mine?"

"Of course you may. Please enter."

Longinus made a welcoming gesture and brought James and the Unmatched Emperor into the foyer.

As Longinus took a seat, he glanced at the Unmatched Emperor. Realizing he could not see through him, he froze.

'What's going on? Why are there so many powerful figures emerging out of nowhere all of a sudden?'

Though puzzled, he smiled and asked, "Who is this, Forty-nine?"

James introduced the Unmatched Emperor with a smile, "This is the Unmatched Emperor. He's also a living being of the Twelfth Universe."

"The Twelfth Universe as well?"

Longinus was stunned.

His gaze was fixed on the Unmatched Emperor as he said with a sigh, "What's with the Twelfth Universe? Why are there suddenly so many powerful figures appearing out of nowhere?"

As an Eight-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God, individuals whom he could not see through must certainly be stronger than him. The Unmatched Emperor must have crossed into the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank. Two Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral Gods appearing in such a short period of time was certainly shocking. This was simply too terrifying.

Longinus took a deep breath and clasped his fists as a sign of greeting toward the Unmatched Emperor. He knew that James must have come here for a reason. Perhaps he was here to court him. At that moment, he was thinking of ways to deal with someone as powerful as James. As he was already an arch-rival of the Omnipotent Lord, the Second Universe would be in dire straits if he offended the Twelfth Universe as well.

Though he was filled with consternation, he still wore a grim expression as he asked, "Forty-nine, don't tell me you came here all the way just to have a chat with me."

James asked smilingly, "What's your opinion on the consolidation of the twelve universes?"

Longinus laughed and said, "Consolidation is good for everyone. I have no opinion on the matter."

"What about the Lord of the new universe? Who do you think should hold the position?" James asked.

This placed great pressure on Longinus' shoulders. If he had not understood James' opinion, he would have proclaimed himself to be the most suitable candidate for the Lord of the new universe. However, he could not say such a thing.

He said smilingly, "I think the Lord should come from the First or Twelfth Universe. Strength would be the primary factor in this competition."

Then, he glanced at James.

"You should be at the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank, the same rank as the Omnipotent Lord. Since both of your strengths are similar, the outcome will be determined by the number of Macrocosm Ancestral Gods on your side. If the numbers are about the same, you two may have to fight it out and see who's stronger."

"But..."

He looked at the Unmatched Emperor and said, "With the Unmatched Emperor, your victory is all but certain. The Lord of the new universe will surely come from the Twelfth Universe."

Before the Unmatched Emperor had even spoken, Longinus had already conceded that the Lord should come from the Twelfth Universe. After all, which universe could stand against two Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral Gods? Not even the First Universe, perhaps.

Now, Longinus has begun making preparations. Since he could no longer be the Lord of the new universe, he would strive to profit from this.

He asked, "Forty-nine, do you still remember your promise? Will you make me your deputy if I support you as the Lord of the new universe?"

Longinus asked straight away.

That was because there were many living beings in the Twelfth Universe. If James became the Lord of the new universe, new rules that benefited the Twelfth Universe would be set.

Seeing that Longinus was already trying to get something out of his support, James smiled faintly. It meant that Longinus was now on his side.

At that moment, he finally understood what the Unmatched Emperor was up to. Being an individual whose rank could not be seen through was a form of pressure.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3818-James never expected Longinus would support him before he could even say anything. So, he had accomplished his objective. He gave his assurance, "Don't worry. If you publicly back me, I will give me enormous benefits when I become the Lord of the new universe."

Hearing this, Longinus was relieved. He said smilingly, "In that case, allow me to congratulate the Lord of the new universe in advance."

James waved slightly. Then, he conversed with Longinus for some time before turning to leave.

After leaving Longinus' accommodation, James said smilingly, "Thank you. If not for you applying pressure on Longinus, he would not have supported me."

The Unmatched Emperor responded with a smile, "There are many benefits to being the Lord of the new universe. I hope you will be able to cultivate Chaos and surpass all limitations. Now that the outcome is determined, I'll be taking my leave. I plan to have a walk around here."

"Sure," James said.

The Unmatched Emperor said goodbye to James and left.

Over the next period of time, James did not wander about but instead remained inside his own accommodation and waited for the conference's commencement.

As days passed, the conference was just around the corner. More and more Macrocosm Ancestral Gods appeared in the Ancestral Holy Site to spectate the conference.

In the blink of an eye, the day arrived.

At Mount Ancetre of the Ancestral Holy Site...

Mount Ancetre was the core of the Ancestral Holy Site and was millions of meters in height. Enveloped in a thin mist, it seemed illusory when viewed from a distance.

A single flight of stairs leads to the peak where a golden-robed man who exuded a commanding aura stood. He was the Omnipotent Lord.

At that moment, many mountains appeared below the mountain. They came from all twelve universes.

James was also among them. As he scanned his surroundings, he noticed the Macrocosm Ancestral Gods and could not help but exclaim, "I never thought that Macrocosm Ancestral Gods, people who could rarely be found in the Twelfth Universe, would be commonplace across all universes.”

To his understanding, each universe can only have nine Macrocosm Ancestral Gods at the maximum.

The First and Second Universes long had nine Macrocosm Ancestral Gods. It was only the lower-ranked universes that did not have nine.

Under James’ perception, about fifty Macrocosm Ancestral Gods were here at the Ancestral Holy Site. Apart from them, there were a few Caelum Ancestral Gods at the Ninth Path. There were about 5000 of them, an incredible amount.

James took a deep breath.

The gathering of all the powerful figures of the twelve universes was simply too frightening.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3819

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3819-With such strength, surely they could take on the Dark World, thought James. Though he had been to the Dark World before, he only reached the outer perimeters and did not venture into the depths. He only knew that the Dark World was powerful, and that there were many powerful figures residing in the depths. However, he could not put his finger on the exact strength of the Dark World. He was merely stunned by the power of the powerful figures gathered here and thought that they would be able to fight against the Dark World.

“Welcome to the Ancestral Holy Site.”

The Omnipotent Lord’s voice boomed.

“I, the Omnipotent Lord, welcome you on behalf of the First Universe. Here, we shall discuss the consolidation of the twelve universes. This is the most glorious gathering in the history of the twelve universes. After this gathering, the twelve universes will merge into one. This is a pivotal moment in history that will go down in the annals.”

The Omnipotent Lord’s voice reverberated throughout the area.

“Please ascend.”

The Omnipotent Lord pointed to the sky. At that moment, an illusory illustration appeared in the sky, in which there were many grids enveloped in a mysterious power.

“The Chessboard of Heaven and Earth!”

“The unparalleled treasure of the First Universe.”

“What’s going on? Aren’t we going to discuss the consolidation of the twelve universes? Why did he summon the Chessboard of Heaven and Earth? Are we going to discuss the Path?”

Many Macrocosm Ancestral Gods exclaimed.

James’ gaze was fixed on the mysterious chessboard in the air as his expression turned grim.

Beside him, Quanesha explained, “This is the Chessboard of Heaven and Earth of the First Universe.”

James asked, “What’s it for?”

Quanesha said, “It’s for discussing the Path. Once you reach the Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank, a single attack of yours could potentially destroy the universe. So, if you wish to settle a feud, you will fight against your opponent on the Chessboard of Heaven and Earth based on your mastery of the Paths.”

James looked at the chessboard in the sky.

The chessboard was bizarre, and every grid was connected to the other.

Quanesha continued, “The Chessboard of Heaven and Earth renders Heaven and Earth as a battlefield. Each grid is a battlefield, and to get to the center of the region, you need to have a high compression of the Paths.”

She pointed at a bizarre-looking red line.

“Do you see that red line? Only those who have cultivated Macrocosm Power may enter. Otherwise, you will be barred from entry.”

Quanesha briefly explained.

“In any case, once you ascend the Chessboard of Heaven and Earth, you will be engaged in a fierce fight based on the comprehension of your Path. However, this fight will not have any bearing on the real world.”

Hearing this, James’ expression turned grim. He never thought that the Omnipotent Lord would do such a thing. Once James ascended the chessboard, his true strength would be exposed, and all his efforts would be for naught.

“Please ascend the Chessboard of Heaven and Earth.”

The Omnipotent Lord’s voice boomed once more.

“The twelve universes have never discussed the Path before. Now that every powerful figure has gathered here, this is only natural. By conversing and interacting with each other, we will reach even greater heights. So, we will discuss the consolidation of the universe once we have discussed the Path.”

Hearing this, many soared to the sky and landed on the Chessboard.

Some Caelum Ancestral Gods appeared on the outer perimeters of the chessboard, whereas the Macrocosm Ancestral Gods arrived somewhere closer to the center.

James’ expression grew increasingly grim. However, now that things had come to this, he had no other choice but to ascend.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3820

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3820-Swoosh!

Many soared to the sky and landed on the chessboard.

As the First Universe was the most ancient universe, the powerful figures of other universes knew what the Chessboard of Heaven and Earth was like. There was no danger on the chessboard, and they were only there to discuss the Path.

After some contemplation, James leaped into the air. He landed somewhere close to the center. At that moment, the grid he was on transformed into a huge city. Immediately, he could sense an overwhelming pressure on his shoulders which came from the chessboard itself. Though he found it hard to endure the pressure, he soon got used to it after regulating the power inside his body.

He did not head to the center of the region for he knew that the closer he was, the greater the pressure. That meant that only those with a high cultivation base could approach the center.

He scanned his surroundings and saw that the grids in his surroundings had also transformed into various cities. Each city had four gates, and there were paths that led to all directions.

Then, he realized that there were only Macrocosm Ancestral Gods in his surroundings.

All powerful figures of the twelve universes had appeared on the chessboard.

Standing in the middle of the city, James sensed his surroundings, intrigued by the chessboard. He wondered how exactly they would discuss the Path.

“Hahaha, come!”

Laughter boomed.

The laughter came from the Omnipotent Lord who was standing in the middle of the region. As his mind stirred, mysterious runes materialized and transformed into a powerful army that appeared outside the city gates and attacked the other cities.

Meanwhile, the other Macrocosm Ancestral Gods also used their mastery of the Path and transformed their comprehension of the Path into runes, which in turn transformed into soldiers that attacked other cities.

James was paying close attention. Before he could even react, countless soldiers had appeared outside his city gates and attacked his city. The city gates trembled and showed signs of disintegration.

At that moment, Quanesha’s voice came, “Master, once your city falls, you will be expelled from the chessboard. As long as you are on the chessboard, you must use everything at your disposal—Paths, Supernatural Powers, Powers, and even your Chaotic Treasures—to transform them into soldiers.

Theoretically speaking, the stronger you are, the stronger you will be on the chessboard.”

Hearing this, James exclaimed, "What a treasure!"

He knew that his true strength would be exposed the moment he acted. Knowing that his true strength was not at the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank, the other Macrocosm Ancestral Gods whom he had convinced would no longer support him. That way, he would lose the right to compete to be the Lord of the new universe. However, he also wanted to fight against the other Macrocosm Gods.

Under his sensation, James could clearly sense that the soldiers attacking his city were only rules materialized from Paths. These rules and Paths were extremely powerful.

At that moment, James stirred his mind and catalyzed the Elemental Path. As the rules of the Elemental Lath materialized, runes appeared and transformed into soldiers. These soldiers were devoid of life.

As the Elemental Path transformed into soldiers, they appeared around the gates and defended against the opponents' attacks. This was akin to a fight between two Macrocosm Ancestral Gods.

Though the Elemental Path was mysterious, James was surrounded by a bunch of Macrocosm Ancestral Gods who mastered varying Paths. James' Elemental Path stood no chance against them and was gradually destroyed.

"How strong..."

James was shocked.
