The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3841-Yekaterina frowned and fell into thought. After a while, she said, "I've heard my father mention her before."

Kallinikos' curiosity was piqued and he turned to Yekaterina. "Oh?"

Yekaterina said, "My father used to be the Tenth Universe's former Lord. When the Tenth Universe was born, the First Universe also interfered and constantly oppressed the Tenth Universe. My father perished because of their tyranny."

"Yukia was also mentioned in some messages left by my father."

James asked, "What did he say?"

Yekaterina replied. "In his messages, Yukia was described as a mysterious senior who was in pursuit of the truth. She seemed to be trying to find out the essence and origin of Paths."

She attempted to explain but only had very little information about Yukia.

Sienna sat aside without saying a word.

James looked at her and asked, "You're a Lord in the Dark World and have resided there for a long time. How much do you know about the Dark Strife in the past?"

Sienna said, "Which one are you asking about? Forces in the Dark World are intricate and it's common for battles to break out between powerful Lords."

"If we consider the time it happened, the Dark Strife should've taken place before the Ninth Universe was formed. I only know when Yukia participated in the Dark Strife, and she severely injured three hundred Nine Stage Lords."

Sienna thought for a while and said, "Oh, that one? I've indeed heard about it. However, that topic seems to be taboo in the Dark World and is rarely talked about, even now. Only a few ancient and influential forces still have records about it."

"Oh!" Sienna suddenly recalled something.

“Xerxes’s ancestors were seemingly involved in the Dark Strife. What if I brought you to the Dark World to see her?”

James nodded and said, “Good idea. We’ll go see her when there is a chance.”

James wanted to know everything about Yukia. However, he could not leave for the Dark World now.

The Macrocosm Ancestral Gods spoke at length about her, but none of them really knew much about Yukia. After chatting for a while, Kallinikos changed the topic and asked about the plans to merge the universes in the future.

“What do you think about the merging of our universes, James?”

“The Omnipotent Lord wants to merge the twelve universes and become the resulting universe’s lord. Now that he hasn’t completely secured the position, he will naturally postpone the union. If no one steps up to take charge of it, it’s not going to proceed smoothly,” responded James.

Yekaterina asked, “Will you step up to oversee the fusion?”

The Eighth Universe and Eleventh Universe were waiting for James’ decision and would defer to his opinions. If James stepped forward to preside over the matter, then the union would continue. If he refused, then it might not proceed.

James slightly waved his hand and said, “The Twelfth Universe is now enjoying an age of prosperity. In consideration of the Twelfth Universe’s denizens, I don’t plan to take the reins for now. I’ll go to the Omnipotent Lord to discuss this matter further before making a decision.”

Yekaterina said, “Regardless of whether our universes merge, the probability of you becoming the new universe’s lord is very high. I’m hoping you will take into consideration inhabitants from other universes as well.”

James nodded and replied, “Of course.”

Then, James continued. “I must consult the Omnipotent Lord right away to hear his opinion. If he doesn’t agree to proceed with the merger, then this matter will be postponed for now and I’ll go to the Dark World to learn more about Yukia.”

Everyone else nodded in approval.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3842-After a brief discussion, James dismissed the other Universe Lords.

Quanesha had been waiting outside the manor for James since he entered the meeting with the other Universe Lords. After James sent them away, he turned to Quanesha, who was waiting outside the manor.

She called out to him excitedly, "Master."

James was her master and had taught her a lot in the past. Without James, she would have died at the beginning of the Thirteenth Universe's formation.

"Let's head inside before we talk," said James as he invited Quanesha into the manor.

Quanesha entered the manor's hall, looked at him affectionately, and said, "Do you understand how much I missed you, Master? I've always wanted to avenge you all these years. However, I'm too weak and could only store my hatred in my heart."

James smiled. "I'm well and alive. I didn't expect you to reach such a high cultivation rank. You're already a Macrocosm Ancestral God."

Standing to the side, Sienna could tell that Quanesha had feelings for James. Taking note of the atmosphere, she stood up, and said, "You guys talk. I'll go outside for a walk."

Just when James was about to say something in protest, she had already left the hall. As soon as Sienna left, Quanesha no longer held back her emotions. She stood up and attempted to throw herself into James' arms.

"Master..." Her voice caught in her throat as she started to cry.

James waved his hands and unleashed a force to prevent her from getting closer. Dealing with Sienna was already a big enough problem, so he wanted to avoid involving himself too much with Quanesha.

James reminded her. "I'm your master, Quanesha."

Quanesha stood back, and her eyes began to glisten. Gradually, crystalline tears rolled down her face. She quickly raised her hand and wiped them off her face. She said apologetically, "I'm sorry, Master. I couldn't suppress my emotions."

James slightly waved his hand and said, "It's not a big deal. You should leave first. I'll go to see the Omnipotent Lord to discuss the merging of the twelve universes."

"Hehe."

A chuckle resounded in the hall. James raised his head and looked at Sienna who had appeared before him. She smiled playfully and said, "Your disciple seems also to be interested in you."

James groaned helplessly. "Alright, that's enough. Stop making fun of me. I'm troubled enough about how to explain the situation regarding you to Thea in the future. If I got involved with another woman, things would be even more complicated."

"You're worried about explaining it to Thea?" Sienna stopped teasing him, and said matter-of-factly, "It's not even that unusual, nor is it that big of a deal. The age you came from is such a pain."

Sienna knew about the Apocalypse and felt that their expectations were flawed. To her, monogamy was simply nonsensical.

"I'll go consult the Omnipotent Lord."

James did not want to dwell on these troublesome issues. No matter how complicated the Paths were, he could always comprehend it. Yet, he was always troubled by relationships.

"I'll come with you." Sienna took James' hand and led him outside the hall.

Meanwhile, the Omnipotent Lord was livid as he sat in Mount Ancestre's main hall. Standing below him were the powerhouses from the Ancestral Holy Site along with some of the First Universe's Macrocosm Ancestral Gods.

"This is infuriating!" The Omnipotent Lord cursed and said, "I've spent so much effort to get kickstart my plans, yet James has to meddle in them once again! I should've taken his corpse to the First Universe back then!"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3843-The Omnipotent Lord was furious.

James was supposed to be dead, yet he was resurrected. A man who had died long ago was alive once more and causing him a lot of problems.

"Who are you talking about?" A voice came from inside the hall. The Omnipotent Lord immediately swallowed his anger, stood up, and smiled brightly. "What brings you here, James?"

After speaking, the Omnipotent Lord waved his hand to dismiss the other powerhouses gathered in the hall. The Ancestral Holy Site's powerhouses and the First Universe's Macrocosm Ancestral Gods read his intent and quickly left.

James walked into the main hall and sat down. Sienna also found herself a seat beside him.

The Omnipotent Lord did not dare to be discourteous to James and Sienna. He did not even dare to continue sitting in the highest seat of the hall and immediately walked down the platform to sit beside James.

James jumped straight to the point, saying, "I came to see you to discuss the merging of the twelve universes."

The Omnipotent Lord responded gravely. "I think this matter requires more planning. Many issues will arise after the twelve universes are fused together. We should settle these issues first. The harm of merging the universes outweighs the benefits. For the sake of all our inhabitants, I don't recommend this course of action anymore.

"What do you think, James?" The Omnipotent Lord looked at James expectantly.

"I also think it's better for our universes to stay separate," James replied with a light smile. He wanted to buy more time for the Twelfth Universe.

The Twelfth Universe could grow much stronger in three to five Epochs. It would be better to propose the union then. With his and Sienna's strength combined, it would not be difficult to bring together the twelve universes. Perhaps, he might even completely understand the Chaos Path by that time.

The Omnipotent Lord replied expressionlessly. "Indeed. I support your decision. Previously, I acted a bit too rashly. Now that I've reconsidered it, the consequences of merging can't be glossed over. I'll immediately announce that the union of the twelve universes will be canceled."

The Omnipotent Lord had changed his opinion on merging of the twelve universes. He would not agree with it unless he was confident he could rule over it all.

"Then, I'll leave that announcement to you. I'll head back to the Twelfth Universe first." James stood up, and Sienna followed suit. The two left the hall as the Omnipotent Lord looked on.

As soon as they left, the Omnipotent Lord's smile disappeared and was replaced with a furious scowl. He clenched his fists and said coldly, "Hmph. Just you wait."

After leaving Mount Ancestre's main hall, Sienna asked, "Are you really heading back to the Twelfth Universe?"

James nodded and said, "Yeah. The main purpose of coming here is to delay the merging of the twelve universes. I wanted to buy enough time for the Twelfth Universe to develop properly. Now that I've achieved what I came for, the merging of the universes can wait until the Twelfth Universe has grown stronger."

"Alright. I, too, would like to head home," said Sienna as she fell into a wistful daze.

"I've been in the Dark World for so many Epochs, and haven't returned home during this period."

"By the way," James remembered something and asked, "Have you heard of a person named Emperor Jabari in the Dark World?"

Sienna shook her head and said, "No, unfortunately. The Dark World is quite expansive, and is as big as the twelve universes combined. There are too many evil spirits there, and not many are capable of cultivating physical bodies that can survive conditions in the Dark World. Unless it's a peerless powerhouse, it'll be hard for me to have heard of some insignificant evil spirit."

James sighed and said, "Emperor Jabari is a very important person to me. During the Human Race's Four Calamities, he sacrificed himself to heavily wound a Heaven's Adjudicator. Later, he went to the Dark World and I've not heard anything about him ever since."

"You can come with me to the Dark World, and I'll help you inquire about him. As long as he's still alive, we'll definitely be able to learn something about him."

"Alright. Let's return to the Twelfth Universe first. After I have settled everything there, we'll leave for the Dark World to look for Emperor Jabari and clues about Yukia."

The two quickly left, and left the First Universe. Then, they entered the Chaos and traveled back to the Twelfth Universe.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3844-A man and woman appeared in the Chaos.

They were still some distance from the Twelfth Universe. In just the blink of an eye, they arrived directly outside of it. A glowing region appeared in their vision and gradually enlarged before them. Gradually, it became a starry space. James and Sienna passed through the cosmic barrier and entered the Twelfth Universe.

"I'm finally back," James heaved a sigh of relief and said, "I thought I'd have to fight an intense battle when we were discussing postponing the plans to unite all the universes in the First Universe. I wasn't expecting to return home so easily."

Sienna said proudly, "What were you expecting with me by your side? My current strength is on par with the Omnipotent Lord. Although I'm an Eighth Stage Lord, I cultivate in the Dark Path. Dark Power is the nemesis of the Illuminated World's cultivators."

James could not help but cast a glance at Sienna. She had become terrifyingly competent. As she had been cultivating since the Primeval Age, she had become an Eighth Stage Lord.

“By the way!” Sienna appeared to remember something and exclaimed suddenly. “You lied to me, James.”

Startled, James blurted out. “Huh? When have I ever done that?”

Sienna said, “Previously, you promised to marry me after the twelve universes were merged. Now that the merging of the universes has been canceled, there’s no telling when it will happen. Does that mean you’ll never marry me?”

James explained earnestly. “You’ve misunderstood my intentions, Sienna. I honestly didn’t intend for this outcome. I simply thought merging now wouldn’t be beneficial for the Twelfth Universe’s residents, and it would be better to do so in the future. As for our marriage, how about we ask for Thea’s opinion when we find her?”

James suggested tentatively. He was worried Sienna would be enraged. It was possible for her to return to the Dark World in a fit of anger and launch an attack on the Twelfth Universe using the Dark Army. How would he defend against her attacks if that were to happen?

James was unsure of his feelings toward Sienna. He could not tell whether he truly had feelings for her, and if he really loved her. Having reached his cultivation rank, he could predict the future using several methods.

Previously, he sensed a strong Karma Connection between him and Sienna. If he were to reject Sienna, this would have affected his future. Sienna might perhaps return to the Dark World and oppose the Illuminated World out of spite.

However, James could not reveal these thoughts to her.

“Look at me,” Sienna said seriously.

James turned to face her. He could clearly see Sienna’s trembling eyelashes. Her eyes were bright and clear, but he could sense something unsettling beneath it all; a slight murkiness. She might have stayed in the Dark World for too long, causing Dark Power to have a slight influence on her soul.

“Do you like me or do you love me? Are you just leading me on? After we find Thea, and she gives us her blessing, will you really marry me?” Sienna bombarded him with questions.

“I will,” James looked at her and said earnestly, “After we find Thea, I promise to marry you. I give you my word. As for my feelings for you...”

James hesitated briefly, but said truthfully, “I don’t think I truly love you, but I definitely feel guilt and gratitude towards you.”

“You’ve done a lot for me. For my sake, you showed up with the Dark Army in the First Universe to resist the twelve universes. I didn’t want you to be injured for my sake, and revealed my identity.” James answered her very sincerely.

Sienna was disappointed by his answer. However, she quickly shook off her disappointment. James’ words affirmed that she did not fall for the wrong person. Sienna pouted and said angrily, “I knew it. You never loved me, and haven’t truly accepted me. You were simply indebted toward me.”

She pounded her hands on James’ chest in frustration. James allowed her to hit him.

After Sienna vented her anger, she took a deep breath. Then, she looked at James with a smile and said, “Alright, thank you for telling me the truth. I still believe you’ll fall for me before we find Thea. I’m not inferior to her. You didn’t like Thea in the beginning either and simply married into the Callahans to repay her kindness because she saved your life. You only fell in love with her later on.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3845-Sienna was familiar with James’ personality. She was confident that James would gradually fall in love with her after they shared physical relations with each other. Her eyes twinkled as she thought about how to get James to sleep with her.

“What are you thinking about?” Seeing Sienna’s enraptured expression, James felt a chill run down his spine and knew that she was scheming something.

Sienna snapped out of her thoughts, pulled on James' hand, and said, "Let's head to the Human Realm to see your and Thea's children."

The two quickly departed. In the next moment, had already arrived at the Human Realm. High up in the Divine Dimension's sky, there was a magnificent palace built in the Heavenly Court. The palace was the residence of the Heavenly Court's Lord, and it was called the Cumulus Palace.

Jacopo was seated in a lotus position in the Cumulus Palace's backyard garden and a mysterious aura emanated from his body. A beautiful woman stood close by. She was lovely and seemed almost ethereal.

Swoosh!

Suddenly, a man and woman appeared. As soon as they showed up, Jacopo sensed their presence. He immediately stopped cultivating, stood up, and turned around. He was stunned when he saw the man in the garden.

After a few seconds, he parted his lips and called out tentatively, "Dad?"

He was uncertain if it really was the person he was thinking of. Melinda told them that James had died in a battle during the Primeval Age.

Yet here his father was, alive and well. He was quite perplexed.

"Jacopo," James walked over with a smile, patted the confused man's shoulders, and smiled approvingly. "Not bad. You've already gotten so strong."

Jacopo exclaimed in surprise. "Is it really you, Dad?"

"You're already an adult, yet I see you're as insolent as ever," chided James.

"Huff!" Jacopo took a deep breath.

"Melinda told us you died in a battle during the Primeval Age. I thought you..."

"It's a very long story. We'll discuss this further later on." James did not want to talk about these matters now.

"Who is this?" Jacopo looked at Sienna.

Sienna smiled and said, “I’m also your mother’s sister.”

Jacopo was taken aback.

James said, “As I said, there’s a long reason for this. All will be explained later.”

At that moment, the beautiful woman standing nearby walked over. She stood beside Jacopo and looked puzzledly at the two strangers in the garden. “Who are these two, Jacopo?”

James also looked at the beautiful lady and also asked, “Who might this be, Jacopo?”

“Dad, this is my wife, Carla Yancey.”

“Carla, this is my dad.”

Jacopo introduced them to each other.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3846

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3846-Although Carla had never met James, she had heard legendary stories about him. James was the person responsible for bringing about the current era of prosperity for the Human Race. Without him, the Human Race would have stayed the weakest race in the universe.

However, as far as she knew, James was supposed to be dead. Why was he still alive now?

“Why are you just zoning out? Quickly greet my Dad,” said Jacopo.

Carla returned to her senses and courteously addressed him. “How do you do, Dad?”

James nodded lightly and responded. “I’m fine.”

Puzzled, Jacopo asked, "What's going on, Dad? Melinda said you died in the Primeval Age, and that she buried you herself. How are you still alive?"

"What's wrong? Did you really want me dead?"

Jacopo quickly explained, "Of course not! I'm just curious."

"The explanation will take ages. I'll slowly tell you everything in the future," said James.

"Okay. I'll inform Winnie and Xainte right away."

Jacopo immediately sent a voice transmission to Winnie and Xainte. The two made their way over post-haste and met up with them in the palace hall.

"Dad!" Xainte was ecstatic after seeing James and immediately said, "Melinda said you died in battle. I thought you were gone. I'm so glad you're still alive! Thank goodness! By the way, did you find Mom?"

On the other hand, Winnie remained relatively calm as she already knew James was alive. She smiled lightly and greeted him, "Dad."

James looked at his three children with satisfaction. Unbeknownst to him, his children had acquired tremendous strength and were existences that stood at the pinnacle of the Twelfth Universe. Winnie was especially impressive. She was a Heaven's Adjudicator and had control over Heavenly Path Power.

Winnie glanced at Sienna standing beside James, and her brows furrowed. She was aware of the relationship between James and Sienna.

During the Primeval Age, Herschel wanted to chase James down and kill him. It was an incident that caused a lot of commotion. In particular, James' series of battles from the Callahans' Residence all the way to Mount Heavenly Path shocked the entire universe.

"Why are you here, Sienna?" Winnie gave Sienna a disgruntled look.

Sienna rolled her eyes and reproached Winnie, "Where are your manners? I'm your mother's sister, so you should address me as Auntie. Based on my relationship with James, you can also call me Mom if you prefer."

"Mom?" Winnie was rendered speechless and turned to James for an explanation.

James responded awkwardly. “It’s complicated. I’m not sure how to explain everything.”

Xainte also fixed her eyes on Sienna and asked suspiciously, “What’s your relationship with her, Dad?”

Before James could explain, Winnie interjected, saying, “Our mother’s main body appeared in the Primeval Age. She’s the elder sister of our Mom’s main body. During the Primeval Age, Dad was made to fight his way from the Callahans’ Residence to Mount Heavenly Path. If he succeeded, Mount Heavenly Path agreed to stop persecuting him, and they also allowed him to marry Sienna...”

Winnie spoke softly, explaining the events of the Primeval Age. This gave Jacopo and Xainte a clearer picture of their relationship.

Jacopo asked, “Then what about Mom?”

James sighed helplessly and said, “Thea was reincarnated. I’m unsure which age she was reborn into, but she’s most likely in the current age.”

Confused, Xainte asked, “What happened?”

“Calm down. I’ll get to it.”

James fell into thought. After a while, she parted his lips and said, “Back then, I used the Time Capsule to travel to the Primeval Age...”

James spoke of his entire journey traveling to the Primeval Age.

After hearing his stories, Jacopo and Xainte were as pale as a sheet. They never expected James to have gone through so much in the Primeval Age. His stories about the battle in the Thirteenth Universe were even more thrilling.

“James! James! Is that really you, James?!”

A loud cry came from outside.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3847-Immediately afterward, a tan-looking man in black armor rushed into the hall. He immediately burst into tears upon seeing James.

“You’re finally back, James! I thought you died in the Primeval Age! I’ve missed you so much!

Henry hurried over after receiving the news.

He was overjoyed. Seeing that James was hale and healthy, his excitement made it hard for him to speak coherently.

“Henry.”

James stood up, lightly punched Henry’s chest, and said, “Long time no see.”

Henry looked at James with reddened eyes. “James.”

Patting him on the back, James cajoled Henry. “That’s enough. Do you really need to make a big fuss out of this? I’m completely fine.”

Henry swallowed his emotions and took a deep breath. “I’m so glad you’re back. It felt like something was missing in my life without you around.”

“Sit down. It’ll be easier to talk.” James pointed to a chair beside him.

After Henry sat down, many more familiar faces appeared outside the hall. Seeing these people, James was slightly taken aback and looked at Jacopo for an explanation.

Jacopo smiled and said, “I informed them about your return.”

Nico walked into the hall and grinned. “Haha! You’re back, James! I knew you were alright!”

“James, you...” Melinda was shocked after entering the hall.

“You’re finally back, James! I knew you wouldn’t have died so easily.” Thomas laughed.

Many people came into the hall.

Delainey hurried over and called out to him with a sweet voice, “James.”

“James!” Quincy looked at James with tearful eyes. Unable to suppress her emotions, tears poured out of her eyes and washed down her cheeks.

Maxine was also among the crowd but quietly looked at him with conflicted emotions. She wanted to greet him but was unsure what to say. A few of James’ friends from the past were also present, including Tiara and Cynthia. His grandfather, Langston, and his uncle, Tyrus, also came to see him.

The Omniscient Deity, the former number-one powerhouse on Earth before Spiritual Energy was restored, was also among the crowd. After such a long time, the Omniscient Deity had also grown into a capable powerhouse and was one of the Heavenly Court’s strongest members.

Some people whom James became acquainted with as martial artists had also arrived.

Tens of thousands of people had gathered inside the hall, celebrating and talking happily amongst themselves.

Many familiar people surrounded James and surrounded him with their warmth. He felt delighted with their company. His only regret was that Thea was not here. Everything would be perfect if she were around.

Everyone surrounded James, questioning him about everything he experienced after leaving for the Primeval Age. James did not hide anything from them and gave an honest recollection of what happened. He told his stories in a calm voice, but its contents left his audience mortified. They never expected him to have endured so many hardships during the Primeval Age.

James talked for a very long time before Melinda finally found an opportunity to interject. She asked, “I buried you back then. I was sure you had lost all signs of life. How are you still alive?”

James glanced at Melinda.

Before he traveled to the Primeval Age, he had no idea about their relationship. It was only after he was in the Primeval Age, he realized their inextricable connection with each other.

"I cultivate in the Chaos Path, which no one has ever cultivated before. It's the reason I was resurrected."

James parted his lips and explained in detail, not hiding anything from them.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3848-"An unheard of Path?"

"Chaos?"

"An existence beyond everything?"

Everyone murmured curiously, wanting to know what the Chaos Path was like.

However, James was unable to explain it properly.

James said, "How about this? Everyone here can spread this message. Five hundred years from now, I will give a lecture on Mount Bane. Anyone from the Twelfth Universe that has reached the Ancestral God Rank can come for my lecture."

He had gained some wisdom when he visited the First Universe's Chessboard of Heaven and Earth. James did not intend to keep this to himself and wanted to share the knowledge. If those that attended his lecture adhered to his teachings, it would not be difficult for them to become Caelum Ancestral Gods. They might possibly even become Macrocosm Ancestral Gods.

Once the twelve universes merged, heaven and earth's restrictions would be overwritten, and all living beings would have the opportunity to become Macrocosm Ancestral Gods.

James wanted to do all these things to improve the overall strength of the Twelfth Universe. Then after the union of the universe, the Twelfth Universe's Caelum Ancestral Gods could also progress into Macrocosm Ancestral Gods, and could wield incredible strength.

When that time comes, becoming a Macrocosm Ancestral God would no longer be the penultimate goal of cultivators. Macrocosm Ancestral Gods would instead become commonplace as many Macrocosm Ancestral Gods would rise throughout the universe.

It would usher in the most brilliant era of cultivation.

As soon as James said these words, everyone present trembled excitedly.

Someone who had not stepped into the Ancestral God Rank asked, “Can those who aren’t Ancestral Gods attend your lecture?”

James said smilingly, “Haha, of course. There’s no restriction for members of the Heavenly Court. However, whether you can comprehend anything will be up to your own capabilities.”

“Swoosh!”

At that moment, a ray of light shone outside the hall.

The light rays gathered to form a handsome, young man in a white robe that gave off an impressive aura. As soon as he appeared, the noisy hall fell silent. The tens of thousands of people in the hall watched him reverently.

The visitor was Radomir, a One-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God, and the Twelfth Universe’s Lord.

Before the Elysian Seal was lifted, the Twelfth Universe’s living beings had no idea that a Universe Lord existed. However, the news quickly spread throughout the universe when the seal vanished.

Radomir had also appeared on many occasions.

The Twelfth Universe’s powerhouses knew a terrifying cultivator who controlled the Heavenly Path existed somewhere in the universe.

Almost all the Human Race’s powerhouses in the hall knew of Radomir. None of them dared to even breathe in his presence. Their cultivation ranks were still relatively low, and they felt like ants in the face of a Macrocosm Ancestral God.

Radomir strode into the hall, and everyone deliberately cleared a path for him. The Human Race’s powerhouses that were seated also immediately stood up.

Only a few people remained seated—James, Sienna, Melinda, and Winnie.

Radomir walked over, looked at James, and took a deep breath. Even though he did not personally go to the First Universe, he was a Macrocosm Ancestral

God, and it was easy for him to obtain information about what happened there.

Seeing James, he said, "I never expected to see you here."

James looked at him and said, "Yeah, it's me. Is there a problem?"

Radomir shook his head lightly and said, "It's nothing. To accomplish the Holy Master of Nothingness' will, I've burdened myself with so much since the Primeval Age. I brought about its ruin and became a heinous sinner."

James said, "You didn't do anything wrong. Although you destroyed the Primeval Age, it eventually brought about a more brilliant era. If you hadn't done these things, I would've done them myself."
