

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3861

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3861-“Sure.”

Sienna left without hesitation. She casually waved her hand and opened a passage between the Illuminated World and the Dark World with her great power. A mystical portal formed before them.

James and Sienna walked through the passage briskly. The two disappeared from the area along with the imaginary portal. In the next moment, they appeared outside the Dark World.

James had been to the Dark World several times before this but mostly only explored its periphery. Only once did he head slightly further inside.

The Dark World's outer bounds were filled with black mist that contained potent Dark Power. The deeper one traveled, the more dreadful the Dark Power grew. Dark Power was inherently deleterious for beings from the Illuminated World. Moreover, Paths from the Illuminated World were drastically weakened and hindered by the Dark World's Heavenly Path.

Although the atmosphere in the Dark World was anomalous, James was proficient in the Dark Path, and Dark Power had no effect on him.

The two moved through the black mist.

James asked Sienna. “You've lived in the Dark World for so long, Sienna. How much do you know about it? What kind of place is the Dark World and how is it related to the twelve universes?”

Sienna's brows furrowed. She did not have the questions to his answer. After carefully considering her answer, she asked, “As the strongest powerhouse of the Twelfth Universe, how much do you really know about it?”

Sienna's question caught James by surprise. James had reached great heights in cultivation. He understood the essence of Paths, and his comprehension had spanned its furthest limits. However, he still did not wholly understand everything behind the twelve universes.

He only knew that a universe was formed using a Macrocosm Core and these cores came from the Chaos itself. However, he did not know why Macrocosm

Cores were formed in the Chaos nor did he know what kind of mysterious powers were hidden in the Chaos that contributed to their formation.

A tiny Macrocosm Core contained the most rudimentary inscriptions of all Paths. These inscriptions would constantly shift and eventually birth a mighty universe.

Sienna continued, "Just as you don't understand everything governing the twelve universes, I don't know everything about the Dark World either. I, too, have no idea how the twelve universes and Dark World are related. However..."

She stopped herself for a moment.

James asked, "What is it?"

Sienna chose her words carefully and said, "From what I've learned, the Dark World is much more obscure and complicated than the twelve universes. It seems that unknown secrets are buried in the depths of the Dark World.

"I also learned that there is a strange place in the depths of the Dark World. Rumor has it that this place holds the answers to the essence of the Dark World and how Dark Matter is formed."

"Dark Matter?" James was taken aback by the unfamiliar term.

Sienna explained "Dark Matter is the hallmark of the Dark World. Every evil spirit needs Dark Matter to become stronger. Since the Illuminated World's Paths do not exist in the Dark World, evil spirits can only become stronger by absorbing enough Dark Matter."

James frowned. "Are there really no Paths here?"

According to what he knew, the Dark World also housed a Dark Heavenly Path. Curse Inscriptions originated from the Dark World and after they appeared in the Eleventh Universe, it led to the development of Curse Magic.

If there were no Paths in the Dark World, how could Curse Magic have originated from here? James felt even more troubled by the Dark World. Since he was fortunate enough to have a Dark Lord accompanying him, he voiced out the doubts that nagged at him.

“If there are no Paths in the Dark World, how do evil spirits cultivate Macrocosm Powers? Do they just absorb Dark Matter, and automatically convert it into Macrocosm Power?”

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3862

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3862-James cultivated the Dark Path, which had potential to develop further. The power of his Dark Path could not be strengthened just by improving his Dark Power. Thus, he was slightly puzzled.

Sienna paused for a moment to think and said, “Let me explain it to you like this. The Dark World is different from the twelve universes that we came from. Paths do not exist here. However, anything originating from the Dark World can become a Path.”

“Oh?” James listened attentively.

“I’ve seen your Curse Magic before. You only succeeded in cultivating Dark Power because of Curse Magic. In fact, Curse Magic is simply a Supernatural Power from the Dark World. It evolved into the Curse Path after reaching the Illuminated World,” explained Sienna.

“Why is that so?” asked James.

Shaking her head, Sienna responded exasperatedly “How would I know? Maybe the twelve universes don’t exist and are simply formed by laws and inscriptions. Perhaps the Dark World is our true reality.”

James was slightly taken aback by her suggestion. Sienna’s words seemed to turn the cogs in James’ mind. He suddenly remembered something Yukia had said before.

“One becomes two, two becomes three, and eventually, the three will evolve into a myriad of things. However, nothing lies at the end of cultivation...” murmured James cryptically.

These were Yukia’s words. She appeared in the Silent City of Death and left a message for him. She also mentioned that her messages were meant to guide him. If he could understand her words properly, he could follow in her footsteps and discover the truth.

“The truth? What’s the truth?”

“Could the Dark World really be our actual reality? Are the twelve universes simply phemeral, and non-existent? Is everything in the twelve universes simply formed by laws and inscriptions?”

“Are our souls the only thing that’s genuine?”

James’ mind raced with thoughts.

When he reached the Omniscience Path’s Third Stage, his eyes were able to see the laws that formed them and he could manipulate these laws at will. The only things that laws could not construct were the souls of living beings.

“What are you muttering about? What kind of nonsense are you spouting? Nothing lies at the end of cultivation?” Sienna questioned him with a frown.

“It’s nothing.” James lightly shook his head.

James dismissed his thoughts. However, he felt he was getting close to deciphering the meaning behind Yukia’s words. He was close to reaching the pinnacle of cultivation and understanding the twelve universes’ true nature.

When that time comes, he would follow in Yukia’s footsteps and uncover the truth Yukia had left behind for him.

James cleared his head and the two quickly traveled through the black mist. They traversed through the mist almost instantly, reaching further within the Dark World. They had not reached the Dark World’s depths yet and merely passed through its outermost layer.

The black mist comprised the outermost part of the Dark World. After passing through the dark mist, what they saw was no different from the twelve universes. There were plants, rocks, mountains, lands, and rivers.

Everything that existed in the twelve universes also existed in the Dark World.

After passing through the black mist, James stood atop a mountain.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3863

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3863-James looked ahead of him and unleashed his Divine Sense. As he perceived his surroundings, he discovered that things in the Dark World could not be disintegrated into Heaven's law or law fragments.

He turned to Sienna beside him. James was unable to perceive Sienna's law sequences and read their changes to understand her life experiences. However, everything in the Twelfth Universe was supposed to be reducible into their fundamental laws.

After realizing this, James pursed his lips.

Sienna piped up from behind him. "What's the matter? What's got you worried?"

"It's nothing."

James shook his head and did not explain anything as his thoughts were too complicated.

Sienna pointed at the scenery ahead and said, "That's the real Dark World. The black mist only covers the outermost part of the Dark World. Only evil spirits that haven't cultivated a new physical body lurk there. They are not considered real inhabitants of the Dark World. Only after entering this region will they be considered proper inhabitants of the Dark World."

James asked, "So the evil spirits are the souls of dead beings from the twelve universes and are only considered creatures of the Dark World after they cultivate a physical body here?"

"Not exactly."

Sienna explained, "That's only one way that Dark Beings come to life. Creatures in the Dark World can also reproduce naturally. Powerful Dark Beings can also reincarnate and can choose to be reborn in the Dark World or in the Illuminated World."

James suddenly thought of something and asked, "Then can living beings from the twelve universes be reincarnated into the Dark World?"

Sienna shook her head. She did not know about these things since she had never been reincarnated.

After thinking about it, she said, “I know you’re thinking about Thea again. You can’t sense her in the Illuminated World, so you suspect she has been reincarnated in the Dark World. It’s not an impossible concept.”

James said, “I hope Thea has been reincarnated in the Dark World so that I can find her. I should be able to find her with my capabilities at my cultivation rank.”

After he said that, he tried to sense her presence. James was intimately familiar with her aura and knew it very well. His Divine Sense gradually extended to the depths of the Dark World. Every being was scrutinized by his Divine Sense. It reached the deepest part of the Dark World, and found many regions he could not encompass. Some were ancient factions and others were powerful countries. Others were forbidden areas and territories of powerful Lords. There were too many areas that James’ Divine Sense did not detect.

He could not detect a single trace of Thea’s soul in the areas his Divine Senses covered. Crestfallen, he gave up for the time being.

Sienna knew that James had spread out his Divine Sense, and said, “The Dark World is mystifying. From what I know, it’s existed for a long time and predates the First Universe. Throughout this time, the Dark World has seen the rise of countless powerhouses and many unknown regions. Your Divine Senses can’t completely encapsulate every region at your current level.”

James responded helplessly. “I have no choice but to slowly search for her. Before Thea reincarnated, she told me that as long as we were fated to be together, we would meet again. I’ve practiced the Karma Path and have a great understanding of Karma. Thea and I have been connected through Karma, so I’m sure we’ll meet sooner or later.

“Alright, let’s put this aside for now. Let’s head to my domain.”

Sienna held James’ hand and they both vanished from the area. The two headed toward the deepest part of the Dark World at a blinding pace.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3864

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3864-Soon, they appeared in Sienna’s territory. Sienna had spent countless years in the Dark World and together with Xerxes, overthrew countless Dark Lords.

“This is my domain, James. It’s located in the Malevolent Land of the Dark World.”

“The Malevolent Land?” James gasped at the name.

Sienna explained with a smile. “You probably haven’t been to the deepest part of the Dark World and are still unfamiliar. I’ll go through the Dark World’s layout briefly.”

“Sure.” James nodded lightly and listened carefully to her.

“The Dark World is divided into many regions, specifically the Nine Heavens and Ten Earths. Every region is headed by powerful Lords, who manage the Dark Beings in the Dark World.

“The Malevolent Land is one of the Ten Earths.

“There are many Dark Beings in the Malevolent Land, including many powerful Lords. I haven’t got detailed numbers, but all of the creatures in the Malevolent Land are under my and Xerxes’ jurisdiction. We spent many Epochs trying to conquer the Malevolent Land and become its main rulers.

“Xerxes and I are the strongest in the Malevolent Land.”

James listened carefully.

He only had surface-level knowledge of the Dark World before this. He learned that the Dark World was massive and approximately as big as the entirety of the twelve universes. If a new universe were born in the Illuminated World, the Dark World’s area would also increase proportionally.

He also knew there were many strong cultivators in the Dark World. Before the Ninth Universe existed, a Dark Strife shook in the Dark World. Yukia participated in the conflict and injured 300 Nine Stage Lords.

From this fact alone, he knew how terrifying the powerhouses in the Dark World were. The Omnipotent Lord was the only Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God within the twelve universes. The Dark World had 300 Nine Stage Lords that were highly formidable. That was a fearsome number of powerhouses.

“How many powerhouses are there in the Nine Heavens and Ten Earths?” asked James.

He wanted to figure out how many powerhouses were in the Dark World now.

Sienna replied, “The powerhouses in the Ten Earths have about the same strength and are mostly around the Lord Rank’s Eighth Stage. There are also possibly Ninth Stage Lords that have hidden themselves unbeknownst to me.

“The Nine Heavens, on the other hand, are home to extremely powerful powerhouses.

“There are Ninth Stage Lords in a number of regions in the Nine Heavens. However, as far as I know, not many Ninth Stage Lords exist now, according to the ancient scrolls. There are only about four to five of them. They’re the main administrators of the Dark World and control the Nine Heavens and Ten Earths.

“As for the overseers of the Malevolent Land, we’re required to offer valuable tributes from our region to the Nine Heavens. If we don’t hand in these tributes, it’ll raise a huge fuss.”

James listened carefully.

Only having four or five Ninth Stage Lords was not very impressive, considering they were in the Dark World. He was more concerned about where the powerhouses that fought in the Dark Strife had gone.

The Unmatched Emperor mentioned that Yukia severely injured 300 Nine Stage Lords. However, he did not say she killed them. That meant that they were still alive, but where were they now and why have they gone into hiding? Why do the Dark World’s living beings not know about them?

As they traversed the Malevolent Land, Sienna explained some of the Dark World’s happenings to him.

The Malevolent Land was huge and as strong as the universes from the Illuminated World. Unknowingly, they had arrived at the Malevolent Land’s central region, Mount Malevolent Moon. Mount Malevolent Moon used to be home to a mighty Lord but was now occupied by Sienna and Xerxes.

“Lord Sienna.”

“Welcome back, Lord Sienna.”

Along the way, many powerhouses on Mount Malevolent Moon knelt on one knee and welcomed Sienna’s return.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3865

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3865-As soon as they arrived at Mount Malevolent Moon’s gate, Xerxes appeared. Xerxes wore a black robe. He glanced at James, and his brows furrowed slightly. However, he did not say anything and turned to Sienna with a smile.

“You’re back, Sienna.”

“Yeah.” Sienna nodded.

Xerxes glanced at James again, then looked at Sienna, asking, “Why did you bring him to the Dark World?”

Sienna said, “Your ancestor participated in the Dark Strife back then. You should know some details about it, right? According to reliable sources, three hundred Ninth Stage Lords fought in the Dark Strife and besieged a powerful person. She ended up severely injuring them.”

Xerxes’s smile was immediately replaced by a grim expression.

“I heard from others that this mysterious powerhouse was named Yukia. I brought James here to learn more about her,” continued Sienna.

Xerxes’ frown deepened and he said, “I don’t know much about this. I’ll need to reference my family’s ancient books. Perhaps I can find some records of her.”

Beaming gratefully, Sienna replied. “Thank you, Xerxes. I’m counting on you. It’s very important to me.”

Xerxes nodded lightly and said, “I’ll return to my family home to check on it right away.”

Sienna nodded in assent. Xerxes did not say anything more and disappeared in a flash.

Sienna invited James to Mount Malevolent Moon.

“Let’s go. You can stay here for now. Xerxes will return shortly.”

James said, “It’s fine, I’m not planning to stay here for now. I came to the Dark World to inquire about Yukia and to look for a friend of mine. When I was inexperienced, he helped me a lot.”

“You mean Jabari, right?”

“Yeah.” James nodded.

“I’ll come with you.”

James shook his head and said, “I can go myself. The Celestial Abode I have contains traces of his soul’s aura. As long as he is in the Dark World, I’ll be able to find him from the vestiges he left in the Celestial Abode.”

Jabari and James had a teacher-student relationship but were also friends. James learned a lot from Jabari. To him, Jabari was like his mentor. They experienced a lot together and were on friendly terms.

Jabari’s death deeply affected him. However, he was relieved after Jabari said he would head to the Dark World. As long as Jabari was here, James was confident they would meet sooner or later.

Now, it was high time they reunited. James had been waiting for this day for a long time.

“I won’t be sending you off.”

Sienna looked at James and said, “I’ll await your return. However, I must warn you about the many restricted areas in the Dark World’s Nine Heavens and Ten Earths. Not even Nine Stage Lords can enter some of these areas. While searching for Jabari, you must tread carefully and avoid trespassing into other Lords’ territory. If you do so, it’d be considered a hostile gesture in the Dark World.”

James nodded and said, “Alright, I understand. I’ll be careful.”

After speaking, he disappeared and embarked on his journey to find Jabari.

James was looking forward to meeting with his old friend.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3866

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3866-The Dark World was expansive and divided into Nine Heavens and Ten Earths.

Before James had a deeper understanding of the Dark World, he heard it was the size of the twelve universes combined. However, it was only a rough guess of the Dark World's size. In actual fact, the Dark World was much larger than the entirety of the Illuminated World. There were many unknown regions in the Dark World and the Malevolent Land alone was equivalent to the size of a universe back where he came from.

James left Mount Malevolent Moon.

Jabari fought a fierce battle with Heaven's Adjudicator before the Forth Calamity. He sacrificed his life to perform the Forbidden Art, Blossoming. More than an Epoch had passed since that incident. An Epoch was 4.9 billion years. Although it seemed like a long time, it would pass in a flash for peerless powerhouses.

It has been more than one Epoch since Jabari went to the Dark World. However, he arrived at the Dark World as an evil spirit and his limits were unbound. With his potential, it was possible he was already a powerhouse.

James used his Divine Sense to find Jabari's soul. His Divine Sense spread throughout the Malevolent Land, sensing every corner.

Unfortunately, there were a few regions that his Divine Sense could not penetrate. He ignored these unknown regions and focused on searching the places his Divine Senses had scanned.

After scouring for a while, James could not sense Jabari in the Malevolent Land. His brows furrowed and he immediately sat in a lotus position on a mountaintop. A fragment of Jabari's soul emerged from the Celestial Abode, and James began using it to locate him.

Although the Paths of the Illuminated World were suppressed in the Dark World, James was very powerful and could still extrapolate based on vague information. An Extrapolation Formation appeared before him and rotated non-stop. Dazzling light emerged and turned into magical power.

Boom!

The Extrapolation Formation in front of James suddenly fell apart. James frowned at the cracked formation and murmured, "What's going on? Why can't I find him? Did Jabari acquire a powerful treasure in the Dark World? Could he have already become an unmatched being, making it impossible for me to divine his location?"

James was slightly confused. With his current strength, he could locate a Macrocosm Ancestral God or even a Dark Lord. Yet, he failed to find Jabari's whereabouts.

His mind went through the possibilities why his search ended up fruitless.

After thinking for a while, he suspected that Jabari and Yukia must have had an elaborate relationship. The two were connected by Karma, which prevented him from divining Jabari's whereabouts.

His only solution to find Jabari was to wander around the Nine Heavens and Ten Earths of the Dark World. He would have to slowly travel to these places and use his Divine Sense to scan the area for Jabari's aura.

As long as Jabari had passed through, he would leave his traces of his aura behind, and that would be picked up by James' Divine Sense

Jabari's aura was not in the Malevolent Land which meant that he had never been to this place before. Therefore, James did not linger in the Malevolent Land and quickly headed to a new location.

He headed toward the Ten Earth's Despair Land.

While traveling, James continuously utilized his Divine Sense to locate Jabari. However, he was unsuccessful. James concluded Jabari had not appeared in these places either.

He wandered through the different regions one by one. James did not rush and meticulously traveled through these places, not wanting to overlook even an inch.

300 years passed in the blink of an eye.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3867

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3867-The Dark World was huge. It was divided into Nine Heavens and Ten Earths, which were each immensely vast. Even though James' had an impressive cultivation base, he only managed to journey through the Ten Earths during these 300 years. He had not ventured into the Nine Heavens yet.

Since Jabari was not within the Ten Earths, James had no choice but to look for him in the Nine Heavens.

James' current strength allowed him to expand his Divine Sense throughout the entire Dark World. However, his Divine Sense grew less accurate the further it spread out. To find Jabari, he chose to carefully search each and every area.

James left the last region of the Ten Earths and entered the Nine Heavens' territory. His first stop was Boundless Welkin, one of the Nine Heavens. James appeared in the Boundless Welkin and scanned it with his Divine Sense. The results immediately made him shout in joy. He sensed a trace of Jabari's aura in a particular city within the Boundless Welkin.

The aura was very weak and seemed to have been left there for a long time. Had James come any later, it might have completely faded away. Even if he were much more powerful than he was currently, it would be impossible to detect the aura had he missed it.

James vanished and reappeared outside the city where he sensed Jabari's aura.

He looked ahead at the ancient-looking city. The city looked very old and was large. The city gate alone was hundreds of thousands of meters high. There were not many buildings in the city, only some majestic spiritual mountains that towered into the sky and radiated exceptionally strong energy.

On the tall city gate were a few mysterious inscriptions engraved—Boundless Holy Land.

The Boundless Welkin's cornerstone was the Boundless Holy Land. Many of Boundless Welkin's powerhouses settled around the area. Even the ruler of the Boundless Welkin stayed within the city.

On the ancient road outside the city, a young man appeared. He was a relatively dashing man dressed in a black robe with a well-defined face and sharp eyes. Although he did not release any aura, he seemed rather intimidating. Most people made way for him.

That man was none other than James. He appeared outside the city gate. After a quick glance, he walked toward the Boundless Holy Land.

As he entered the city, he could see numerous spiritual mountains. Atop these mountains were some buildings, forming cities for the Dark Beings to live in.

James surveyed the surroundings, then quickly walked toward a spiritual mountain in his path. Soon, he appeared where a wisp of Jabari's soul aura remained. He stood outside the spiritual mountain. It was about a million meters high and stretched for billions of kilometers.

In front of the mountain gate was a giant stone tablet with three words engraved—the Xaadsan family.

“The Xaadsan family?”

James looked at the huge stone tablet. “The Boundless Welkin is part of the Nine Heavens and this city is their holy land. For a family to settle and establish themselves on a spiritual mountain here, they must be very influential. I wonder what relationship they have with Jabari. Why was his aura left here?”

After muttering to himself, James strode toward the stone tablet. He felt a magical formation in front of him. James looked at the formation, attempting to scrutinize it. However, nothing in the Dark World could be broken down into laws. All James saw was a very cryptic and ever-changing formation. He could not use the Illuminated World's Paths to simplify the formation to deduce the changes. This made it impossible for James to break through the formation.

His brows furrowed slightly.

Since there was no way to solve the formation, he would have to enter by force.

James stepped forward and touched the formation. The formation reacted immediately, and a powerful force blasted him away. He did not resist the force, nor did he attack the formation.

James simply wanted to trigger the formation to attract the attention of the Xaadsans. He was sure a powerful family member would appear, and he could explain his intentions to them.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3868

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3868-The Boundless Welkin was one of the Nine Heavens and the Boundless Holy Land was the Boundless Welkin's core region. Families that had a base on a spiritual mountain in the holy land were families who had strong Lords.

Although the Xaadsans were not considered one of the top families in the Boundless Welkin, they were relatively formidable and had a Third Stage Lord in the family.

The Dark World had countless powerhouses, but a Third Stage Lord was looked upon favorably. A powerhouse at the Lord Rank's Third Stage had many troops under his control. If they were to wage war with the Illuminated World, the twelve universes would not be able to withstand the onslaught.

As soon as James touched the formation, the Xaadsans were alerted to the attempted intrusion.

Swoosh!

At that moment, tens of thousands of blurry spectres appeared and turned into fully-armed soldiers. Each of them wielded a long sword and all of them surrounded James.

Their commander shouted furiously, "How dare you break into the Xaadsands' territory? Take him down!!!"

At that moment, tens of thousands of guards lunged at James and launched an attack. James felt a huge range of powers close in on him. However, he remained in place and deflected the attacks.

The commander immediately recognized that James was a powerful person that could not be subdued.

The division of influential forces in the Dark World was very distinct. They never set foot in other's territory, let alone trespass on another force's spiritual mountain. Entering another's domain without permission would be tantamount to declaring their hostilities.

"Who are you? Did you think you could mess with the Xaadsans and get away with it?" barked the commander.

James looked at him calmly. He could sense that the other party was strong as a Caelum Ancestral God. However, his strength was nothing to James.

James said calmly, "I came here to look for someone. Bring me one of your higher ups, and tell him that James Caden has come to visit."

He had no grievances with the Xaadsans, so there was no need for a pointless fight. Moreover, these soldiers were not the bother to deal with.

"Wait right here." The commander knew that James was powerful, and they could not afford to offend him. Thus, he quickly went to report James' visit to his masters.

Soon, an old man appeared outside the spiritual mountain. He looked to be in his 60s. He wore a golden robe and held a golden cane. He looked at James, trying to gauge his strength. However, he could not discern anything and made an unnerved expression.

Unable to sense James' strength, the old man did not dare to act recklessly. He put away his cane, clasped his fists, and said, "I'm Xenon Xaadsan, an elder of the Xaadsan family. Who are you here for?"

James responded calmly. "I'm here to find a man named Jabari."

A strange look flashed across Xenon's face. However, he quickly hid his emotions and regained his composure, saying, "Everyone in my family goes by the surname of Xaadsan. We do not take on any other names. The person you're looking for isn't here. Please leave."

Xaadsans made a gesture for James to leave.

James kept his cool. From his inference based on the aura Jabari left behind, he could tell Jabari had traveled to the Xaadsans' spiritual mountain about half an Epoch ago. James assumed he must've left some information to the family.

“I can help refresh your memory. He appeared in your spiritual mountain about half an Epoch ago, and this is what he looks like.”

James casually waved his hand, and a white light shone from his palm and gradually transformed into a portrait of Jabari.

Xenon stared at the portrait, shook his head, and said, “I haven’t seen him before.”

James’ expression darkened. “Are you sure?”

Xenon nodded seriously and said, “I speak the truth. You should take your search elsewhere. There’s no such person in our family.”

After Xenon finished speaking, he left with his soldiers, giving James no chance to retort. James stood outside the spiritual mountain with his lips drawn into a frown. Jabari’s aura still remained at the Xaadsans’ base, so he must have passed through this place sometime before.

Moreover, James noticed the change in Xenon’s expression, and was sure that Jabari must have been here before. He was confused as to why Xenon would lie about knowing Jabari.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3869

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3869-“I’ll just have to force my way into their base and find out for myself.”

James raised his hand, and a powerful force flowed out his palm. At his current strength, one attack would have been enough to destroy the Xaadsans’ protective formation.

He would have to coerce them into revealing their information.

Swoosh!

James’ waved his hand, and the powerful force slammed into the Xaadsans’ protective formation.

Boom!

The formation trembled for a while after the impact. The ground in the area began to shake, and made it feel akin to a doomsday. The huge formation began to fall apart.

James made a powerful attack, and it attracted the attention of many Xaadsan powerhouses. Dozens of figures immediately appeared before James.

Other beings on the other spiritual mountains of the Boundless Holy Land also sensed the tremors and expressed their confusion.

Who would dare to start a fight in the Boundless Holy Land? Was this person not afraid of the Boundless Welkin's Lord?

A few powerhouses could not help their curiosity and began to inform themselves of the situation in the Xaadsans' base, wanting to know what had happened.

Many were paying attention to the Xaadsans' base, watching everything happening in real time.

James broke the Xaadsans' protective formation with one move and this attracted many of the Xaadsans' powerhouses. Dozens of powerful family members appeared. However, James was not cowed and remained very calm.

"Who are you?"

A middle-aged man stood up. He looked about 40 years old and wore an ornate robe. He had a stern expression with veins bulging from his face. It was evident that he was getting angry. However, he was suppressing the feeling.

An opponent that could break their family's formation with one move must be someone fearsome. Even though their formation was broken, the middle-aged man did not attack immediately and he asked for James' intentions.

James asked calmly, "I'm here looking for a man named Jabari."

After he spoke, James took out the portrait of Jabari once more.

"Don't try to tell me you've never seen him before. I can sense his aura in your family. It suggests he's been to your house about half an Epoch ago. I'll give you one more chance to answer me truthfully. Otherwise, there will be no reason for your family to continue existing in the Boundless Holy Land.”

James’ tone was very calm but oozed with venom. When they saw James’ appearance, the Xaadsans’ powerhouses were startled. James could tell from their expressions that Jabari was definitely connected with the Xaadsans somehow.

“What’s your relationship with him?” asked the middle-aged man.

Before he figured out their relationship, he was unwilling to talk about Jabari.

“That’s none of your concern.”

James suddenly appeared in front of the middle-aged man at the next moment.

The middle-aged man was the current head of the Xaadsan family. He was a Forth Stage Lord, and was considerably strong. When James appeared before him, he was pushed back by the force of his teleportation.

A violent storm raged inside. He thought, ‘When did such a powerful man appear in the Boundless Welkin? Why wasn’t I informed about him?’

Shocked, sweat covered on his face.

He was unsure of the relationship between himself and Jabari and was worried his family would not survive if James were here for revenge.

“What’s wrong? Aren’t you going to answer me?”

James’ face darkened, and he raised his hand. The Miraculous Chaos Path appeared from his palm and caused the Heavenly Path of the Boundless Welkin to act abnormally.

Powerhouses throughout the entire Boundless Welkin were alerted to this change.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3870

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3870-The Boundless Welkin's powerhouses felt an abnormal change in the Dark Heavenly Path, making their faces pale in fear.

The last time an abnormality emerged at the Dark Heavenly Path was countless years ago during the Dark Strife. The Xaadsan family's head had sensed James' overwhelming and impressive power, and was gasping for air due to the pressure.

The other Xaadsans were also similarly terrified.

"It's your last chance." James' voice boomed threateningly.

Laethis Xaadsan, the Xaadsan family head, said frantically, "I'll speak! I'll tell you everything. Please come inside. It's a very long story. I'll slowly go through everything with you."

Laethis made a welcoming gesture, inviting Xaadsan into the house. James withdrew his Chaos Power and walked into the Xaadsan's spiritual mountain. He sat down in the hall of a manor atop the spiritual mountain. Rare spiritual fruits were served to him. However, he had no intention of eating them. James simply wanted to find out about Jabari's whereabouts.

Looking at Laethis, he said, "Speak."

"Alright."

Laethis went silent for a while, thinking about how to explain the situation to James. James did not rush him, waited patiently for the Xaadsans' head to speak. After a long silence, he finally said, "You're right. Jabari has indeed appeared in our house before."

He looked at James and asked humbly, "Sir, I hope you don't mind me asking, but who are you? There are many powerful Lords in the Dark World. Even if we haven't met, I should at least have heard about you before this. Why do I know nothing about you? Also, what is your relationship with Jabari and why are you looking for him?"

James looked at him and remarked. "Do you think you're fit to ask me these questions?"

"O-Of course not."

Laethis shook his head vigorously. He could not discern the relationship between James and Jabari, and it gave him quite the dilemma. After he took a deep breath, he said slowly, "Jabari had indeed visited us before this. He was brought here by the former family head's daughter and our family's former princess."

"Oh." James suddenly looked on interestedly. He looked at Laethis and said, "You had better tell me everything you know. If you dare mislead me, I'll show you the full consequences of your insolence."

"Y-Yes, of course."

Laethis nodded and said, "Xulia Xaadsan is the daughter of our family's former head. She was a rare prodigy in the Boundless Welkin. Despite the plentiful fearsome powerhouses in the Dark World, she was someone fully capable of ruling the era.

"She was so talented that it was a matter of time before she would have become a mighty Dark Lord.

"About an Epoch ago, she left to train outside of the Boundless Welkin. After some time, she returned with a powerful man. It was Jabari, the person you're looking for.

"He came to our family and stayed with us for a while. However, he was a very ambitious man. He deceived Xulia, killed our former family head, and attempted to usurp his position. When he failed, he took Xulia hostage and fled."

Laethis explained the events related to Jabari.

Hearing this, James made a complicated face.