The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3921-A hundred million years later...

James' body flashed, and he appeared above the ancient battlefield.

"He's moving."

"Is he heading to the sixteenth floor?"

"How terrifying... He was only here for 100 million years!"

The surrounding powerful individuals gathered and conversed. All of them were shocked by James' comprehension.

James glanced at the spatial barrier above him and raised his hand as a mysterious power gathered in his palm. Then, his body became illusory and divided into thousands upon thousands of shadows in an instant. These shadows performed different cultivation methods and attacked the spatial barrier in the air all at once.

Boom!

A crack appeared on the spatial barrier.

The surrounding shadows merged into one, and James' body flashed as he entered the void, leaving the fifteenth floor and heading to the sixteenth.

The sixteenth floor's environment was the same as the previous one with the sole exception of the spatial pressure. There were even fewer living beings here. There were about a hundred living beings on the fifteenth floor and about twenty on the sixteenth. These living beings' mastery of cultivation was even more advanced and profound than the ones on the fifteenth floor.

Upon James' arrival, he attracted the attention of the living beings on the sixteenth floor. Twenty gazes were fixed on him, hoping to see through his strength. However, they could not see through James.

James scanned his surroundings. Under his sensation, he realized that this floor was full of Seventh Stage Lords. With such strength, they would be able to wipe out whole universes with ease. They would be top-notch fighters even in the First and Second Universes. James did not expect that there would be so many powerful individuals hidden in the Ecclesiastical Restricted Zone.

James did not greet them but instead went straight toward the ancient battlefield and began annihilating the shadows to obtain the mysterious cultivation methods and Supernatural Powers. In a single breath, he annihilated thousands upon thousands of shadows and obtained their cultivation methods. Then, he would head to a pavilion and enter a closed-door meditation.

The other powerful individuals paid no heed to him and concentrated on their cultivation. That was because they were already on the sixteenth floor, and they wanted to reach the seventeenth as soon as possible or even the eighteenth so that they could leave this place once and for all.

The cultivation methods of the seventeenth floor were even more mysterious. James only managed to gain the right to break the spatial barrier after cultivating for a whole two hundred million years.

He entered the seventeenth floor, on which there were only three people—two men and one woman. Their cultivation bases were extremely high. Two of them were Eighth Stage Lords and one of them was a Ninth Stage Lord.

“Finally, someone.”

“I wonder what has happened in the outside world. Let’s ask him.”

When James arrived, the three powerful individuals on the seventeenth floor appeared before him.

James looked at them.

One of the men was a sagelike elderly man wearing a gray robe. He clasped his fists and said with a warm smile, “My name is Yahveh Zvonimir. I come from the First Universe, and I was abducted here shortly after the First Universe was created.”

The other man was a young man wearing a black robe. He was not handsome-looking and only had an ordinary appearance.

He looked at James and smiled, “Jehudi Driscoll comes from the First Universe as well. Just like Yahveh, I was forcibly abducted here and have been trapped here since.”

The woman was glamorous-looking, and she wore a white dress that accentuated her slender and enticing figure. She smiled bashfully and said, “My name is Yehosheva Bernadette. I come from the Primordial Realm.”

The three were rather friendly to James, considering that they bothered to introduce themselves.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3922-There were only three living beings in the seventeenth space. Yahveh and Jehudi came from the First Universe, and they were abducted here shortly after the creation of the First Universe. They were both Eight-Power Macrocosm Ancestral Gods. The woman’s name was Yehosheva, and she came from the Primordial Realm. Her rank was higher, reaching the Ninth Stage Lord. They were all friendly to James because they knew that no ordinary people would arrive at this place. After all, no ordinary man would be able to defeat the shadows on the sixteenth floor.

James clasped his fists and said, “My name’s James Caden. It’s a pleasure to meet you.”

Yehosheva smiled and said, “No need for the formalities. We will be friends from today onward. We will be spending a lot of time together.”

“By the way, where do you come from?” Yahveh asked.

James answered truthfully, “The Twelfth Universe.”

“The Twelfth Universe?” Yahveh and Jehudi were shocked. Yehosheva, on the other hand, was puzzled. When she arrived at this palace, the Primordial Realm had just been invaded by malevolent energy and had yet to become the Dark World.

James knew they had been trapped here for many Epochs and knew nothing about the outside world. So, James narrated the chain of events that occurred and the creation of the twelve universes in the outside world.

Hearing this, realization dawned on their faces.

James only told them what was necessary. As for the turbulence in the Primordial Realm and the annihilation of all the powerful figures in the Primordial Realm, he kept it a secret for the time being.

Upon telling them the truth, James could not wait to fight against the shadows on the ancient battlefield. He had obtained countless cultivation methods in the previous spaces and comprehended them all. Now, he was looking forward to the ones on the seventeenth floor. He wanted to know just how terrifying they were.

His body flashed, and he appeared on the battlefield. Immediately, many shadows appeared in his surroundings. Their aura was strong, and they were all at least at the Lord Rank's Eighth Stage. Faced with these terrifying shadows, James did not hold back. The Demon-Slayer Sword materialized in his hand, and he summoned all his strength. As he waved the Demon-Slayer Sword, countless Sword Energies materialized from within.

Back then, James had obtained countless secret Supernatural Arts, and he had obtained many top-notch Sword Path cultivation methods. He had also comprehended them all. Now, his Sword Path had reached an even greater height.

As he casually swung his sword, a wave of Sword Energy containing a Nine-Power Macrocosm Power materialized and attacked the surrounding shadows. Though the shadows possessed the strength of an Eighth Stage Lord, their defenses were weak. The moment they were struck, they instantly perished and disintegrated into nothingness. After they disappeared, some secret art dropped on the ground.

James annihilated these shadows one after the other and obtained many cultivation methods. The three individuals on the seventeenth floor were dumbfounded upon witnessing his moves.

Yahveh stroked his beard and said, "He's strong."

Jehudi nodded slightly and said, "Mhm... I can sense many Paths in a single move. Besides, every Path exudes a Nine-Power Macrocosm Power. I really don't know how many Paths he has cultivated exactly."

Both of them came from the First Universe. To their understanding, living beings in the outside world can only cultivate nine Paths at most. However, James was able to perform many Paths, and each of them was at the Nine-Power Macrocosm Power.

Before coming to the island, James' comprehension and mastery of the Paths were only at the Three-Power Macrocosm Power. However, upon arriving on the island, he obtained many mysterious cultivation methods and Supernatural Powers.

Even though they were left behind in the Primordial Realm's age and were different from the Paths James cultivated...

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3923-However, after James comprehended a lot of cultivation methods, he found similarities between the two different worlds' cultivation methods. He merged all that he comprehended with his own Chaos Path. This allowed both the power of his Chaos Path and his power to rise.

After he acquired many cultivation methods, he arrived at a pavilion located within the mountains. Then, he sat on the topmost floor of the pavilion.

His arrival was followed by Yahveh, Jehudi, and Yehosheva.

"You're quite something," said Jehudi as he gave James a thumbs up.

Yahveh could not suppress his complements as well as he said, "Although I can't guess your rank, since you could casually unleash a Nine-Power Macrocosm Power, your capabilities can defeat that of the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God and the Ninth Stage Lord Rank."

James only replied softly, "There's no end to cultivation. The Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God and the Ninth Stage Lord Rank are not the final stages of cultivation. During the Primordial Realm, Acmeans existed in this world. Compared with them, my current capabilities still have a long way to go."

The higher one's cultivation base, the more one understood. James wanted to grow stronger and meet Yukia Dearnaley as soon as possible.

Although Yukia left some messages which were passed to him by Emperor Jabari, there were still many things that he did not know about, such as the Chaos Path. What exactly is this Path? How far can one go in cultivating the Chaos Path to be considered an Acmean?

As such, James was stressed. He did not say more than that but merely sat down in a lotus position. With a wave of his hand, some sparkling jade pieces appeared in front of him. His Divine Sense entered the jade pieces, causing them to sparkle immediately, producing some mysterious words.

One by one, James comprehended each of these words and the cultivation methods and Supernatural Powers within. Then, he used the Path he cultivated to materialize them into his own. His comprehension of all Paths had reached the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank, so he could materialize Nine-Power Macrocosm Power with any Path.

At this stage, he could no longer increase the power of his Chaos Path.

He must learn more secret Supernatural Arts and understand more cultivation methods to see whether he can materialize at the base of the Nine-Power Macrocosm Power.

He strongly believed that this attempt would bring him to the Acme Rank. But James still had no idea how to enter that rank. Perhaps one can only attain the Acme Rank through the Omniscience Path, yet his option was no longer available, as all of the living beings' potential were destroyed.

The way to cultivate it was initiated by Yukia. Perhaps at Yukia's rank, she could only create the cultivation way for those with the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank. The rest were not created by Yukia, nor does Yukia know how to reach the Acme Rank after attaining the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank.

Therefore, James must create a Path. He closed his eyes, trying hard to comprehend.

The three people standing beside him exchanged glances.

Yehosheva said smilingly, "Let him cultivate and comprehend for now. When he can no longer find any way forward, he'll stop naturally."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3924-For all cultivators, time is probably the most worthless thing, especially the powerful figures at the Lord Rank.

The three powerful figures from the seventeenth space have arrived here for a long time already. Their time here can only be calculated by Epochs.

They knew that James was in a rush to leave. However, they could never break through the seventeenth space to achieve the eighteenth, despite their long time here.

“Let him try.”

“Okay.”

The three powerful figures left temporarily to head to another pavilion and started their game of chess to pass the time. This was because cultivation was out of the question. Yahveh and Jehudi were both Eight-Power Macrocosm Ancestral Gods who could no longer upgrade their ranks to reach that of the Nine-Power. For Yehosheva, this could not be more true as he had reached the Lord Rank’s Ninth Stage.

While the three of them were playing chess to pass the time, James was concentrating on his closed-door meditation. At his stage, even though the cultivation methods of the place were mysterious, he could still easily understand them. Very quickly, he could understand enough methods to merge them together, so he could break through the barrier.

Yet, his efforts were to no avail.

“Save your energy, James. It’s useless,” a voice appeared from afar.

James tidied up his energies and appeared in front of the three of them with a flicker. He looked at them and asked, “Why?”

Jehudi said, “Because the way to cultivation was blocked long ago. The Omniscience Path was cut off, and all of the potentials of living beings were cut off as well. To get into the eighteenth space, one does not only require enough cultivation methods but must also reach the Sixth Stage of the Omniscience Path.”

“Indeed,” Yahveh nodded and added, “But the current potential of living beings can only support the Third Stage of the Omniscience Path. After the Third Stage, all potential would be fully exploited and one can venture no further.”

Yehosheva also looked at James and said, “It is what it is. You’ve mediated for long enough, take a break.”

Upon hearing this, James’ eyebrows shaped into a frown. The eighteenth space can only be reached via the Sixth Stage of the Omniscience Path? Was this a joke? Since the battle in the Primordial Realm, this possibility had been cut off. One could only reach the Third Stage at most. Under Yukia’s arrangement, he managed to reach the Fourth Stage, and this was a feat in itself already. Now how could he venture into the Fifth Stage, let alone the Sixth?

“What should I do now?” James looked extraordinarily tense. He could not be trapped here. That was not an option. There were so many other things for him to do in the outer realm. He still wanted to search for the Universe Seed in the Chaos, summon the birth of the universe, and let these new universes merge into a world that was no weaker than the Primordial Realm.

That way, Yukia could appear, as well as Thea.

Seeing how tense James looked, Yehosheva opened up and said, “Since you’re already here, you can’t leave anytime soon, so stay here in peace. Perhaps after an infinite amount of time, a powerful figure will arrive here and open up the spatial barrier of the place, setting us free.”

Yahveh said encouragingly, “Don’t ruminate over useless thoughts. At least there are a few of us here to keep you company. If you’re too bored, go into a deep sleep. Perhaps when you wake up, you’ll be able to leave.”
